(1) The said orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the aforesaid marketing areas, and the minimum prices specified in the orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) The said orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the marketing agreements upon which hearings have been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the aforesaid marketing areas shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid orders, as amended, are hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend each of the orders specified in this paragraph by incorporating therein, in the manner indicated, the following provision:

"The price for Class I milk otherwise computed pursuant to this section shall be increased 46 cents from the effective date hereof through June 1956 and 26 cents for the month of July 1956."

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND TO ORDERS AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a joint public hearing was held at Minneapolis, Minnesota, on April 25, 1956, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on April 18, 1956 (21 F. R. 2604), upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreements and to the orders, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the following marketing areas:

Black Hills, S. Dak.
Cedar Rapids-Iowa City, Iowa.
Eastern South Dakota.
Detroit, Mich.
Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn.
Upstate Michigan.
Muskegon, Mich.
Omaha-Lincoln-Council Bluffs (Nebr.-Iowa).
Sioux City, Iowa.
Sioux Falls-Mitchell, S. Dak.

The material issues of record related to:

1. Increases in the price for Class I milk for a limited period of time; and

2. The existence of an emergency requiring expedited procedures.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions are made upon the record of the hearing:

1. In order that disorderly marketing conditions may be avoided Class I price increases through July 1956 should be made as specified below.

In order to maintain orderly marketing conditions in important milksheds located in the center of the largest milk production region of the nation, action has been effected to nullify seasonal reductions in price which would otherwise have affected returns to producers. The Department acted on April 13 to issue suspension orders modifying the price provisions of the milk orders for the Chicago, Milwaukee, South Bend-La-Porte, and Rockford-Freeport markets for the period April 16–July 31, 1956. The result of these suspension actions, official notice of which is taken, is to increase the Class I price to producers by 46 cents per hundredweight for the period April 16–June 30 and by 26 cents per hundredweight for the month of July. This action also affected prices in the Quad Cities and Dubuque markets. These price actions affecting the Chicago and certain other mid-West markets as referred to have changed the customary relationships of prices between the major markets in the heavy producing regions and those affected by this decision, causing differences in price which add to an already difficult marketing situation.

Price levels in the markets covered by this decision vary in accordance with local conditions and distances from the major producing areas. Under usual circumstances, local market supply and demand influences are primary factors in bringing about price changes in such markets. Any significant maladjustment in price alignment with the major milk producing areas at this time, however, would result in widespread disparities in returns for milk among producers generally, and in view of unsettled conditions, could cause uneconomic marketing responses and disturbances affecting producers and markets over widespread areas. As indicated by the record even short-run disparities in price at this time would magnify the price level problems of producers in such markets. For these reasons immediate action to reestablish previous price alignments is imperative to restore orderly marketing conditions. This necessitates increases of 46 cents per hundredweight through June and 26 cents per hundredweight through July of this year in each of such markets. It is concluded that such increases should be made.

The hearing also gave similar consideration to the pricing of Class I milk in the Cedar Rapids-Iowa City, Iowa, and Minneapolis, Minnesota marketing areas. However, appropriate alignment of the prices in such markets with the Chicago level can be best accomplished through suspension action which is being taken in light of the hearing evidence. Thus, no amendments to such orders are included as part of this decision.

2. The need for emergency action. The due and timely execution of the function of the Secretary under the Act imperatively and unavoidably requires omission of a recommended decision by the Deputy Administrator of the Agricultural Marketing Service and exceptions thereto. As indicated elsewhere in this decision the purpose of the proposed amendments is to preserve through July 1956 alignment of prices in the respective marketing areas with the price of the Chicago marketing area, and thus to avoid disorderly marketing conditions. Immediate action must be taken if such amendments are to be effective in meeting the present emergency situation. The delay necessarily involved in the preparation, filing, and publication of the recommended decision and exceptions thereto would defeat the purpose of the amendment. Request was made on the record for omission of the recommended decision and opportunity for exceptions.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreements and the order amending the orders, as amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices for milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing areas, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreements and the order amending the orders, as amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order amending the orders, as amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in marketing agreements upon which hearings have been held.

Determination of representative period. The month of February 1956 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of the order amending the orders, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in certain marketing areas in the manner set forth in the attached order is approved or favored by producers who during such period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in each of the marketing areas specified in the said order.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Written arguments and proposed findings and conclusions in the briefs submitted on behalf of interested persons were considered, along with the evidence in the record, in making the findings and reaching the conclusions herein set forth. To the extent that the proposed findings and conclusions differ from the findings and conclusions contained herein, the specific or implied requests to make such findings are denied because of the reasons stated in support of the findings and conclusions in this decision.

Marketing agreements and order amending the orders, as amended. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the _____ Area" and "Order Amending the Orders, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in Certain Marketing Areas," which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the aforegoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective as to any marketing area specified therein unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met with respect to such marketing areas.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision except the marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the respective orders, as amended, and as proposed to be hereby further amended.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of April 1956.

[SEAL] EARL L. BUTZ,
Assistant Secretary.

Order[1] Amending the Orders, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in Certain Marketing Areas

Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the orders and of the previously issued amendments thereto regulating the handling of milk in the following marketing areas:

Black Hills (South Dakota).
Detroit, Mich.
Eastern South Dakota.
Muskegon, Mich.
Omaha-Lincoln-Council Bluffs (Nebr.-Iowa).
Sioux City, Iowa.
Sioux Falls-Mitchell, S. Dak.
Upstate Michigan.

And all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act") (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900) a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreements and to the orders, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the aforesaid marketing areas. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the aforesaid marketing areas, and the minimum prices specified in the orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, the marketing agreements upon which hearings have been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the aforesaid marketing areas shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid orders, as amended, are hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend each of the orders specified in this paragraph by incorporating therein in the manner indicated, the following provision:

"The price for Class I milk otherwise computed pursuant to this section shall be increased 46 cents from the effective date hereof through June 1956 and 26 cents for the month of July 1956."

Part 917, Milk in the Black Hills, South Dakota, Marketing Area, as the last sentence in § 917.51 (a).

Part 924, Milk in the Detroit, Michigan, Marketing Area, as § 924.51 (c).

Part 929, Milk in the Eastern South Dakota Marketing Area, as the last sentence in § 929.51 (a).

Part 985, Milk in the Muskegon, Michigan, Marketing Area, as the last sentence in § 985.51.

Part 956, Milk in the Sioux Falls-Mitchell, South Dakota, Marketing Area, as the last sentence in § 956.50 (a).

Part 916, Milk in the Upstate Michigan Marketing Area, as the last sentence in § 916.51.

2. Amend Part 935, Milk in the Omaha-Lincoln-Council Bluffs Marketing Area, by incorporating the following as a proviso in § 935.51 (a) immediately preceding subparagraph (1) of such paragraph: "Provided, That such price for Class I milk containing 3.8 percent butterfat shall be increased 46 cents from the effective date hereof through June 1956 and 26 cents for the month of July 1956."

3. Amend Part 948, Milk in the Sioux City, Iowa, Marketing Area, by incorporating the following as a proviso in § 948.51 (a) immediately preceding subparagraph (1) of such paragraph: "Provided, That such price for Class I milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat shall be increased 46 cents from the effective date hereof through June 1956 and 26 cents for the month of July 1956."

[F. R. Doc. 56-3416; Filed, Apr. 27, 1956; 2:40 p. m.]

[1] This order shall not become effective as to any marketing area specified herein unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met with respect to such marketing area.

DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON QUARANTINING FLORIDA ON ACCOUNT OF MEDITERRANEAN FRUIT FLY AND NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING RELATING TO SUCH QUARANTINE AND SUPPLEMENTAL REGULATIONS

The Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service has information that an incipient infestation of the Mediterranean fruit fly (Ceratitis capitata Wied.), a dangerous insect not heretofore widely prevalent or distributed within and throughout the United States, has recently been discovered in a localized area of Dade County, Florida.

It is therefore proposed under the authority of said section 8 of the Plant

Quarantine Act to quarantine the State of Florida, and to restrict or prohibit the movement from said State, or from any locations therein designated as regulated, of (a) live Mediterranean fruit flies; (b) fruits and vegetables, and other garden and orchard products of all kinds, and cotton bolls and seed cotton; (c) sand, soil, earth, peat, compost, and manure; and (d) other products and articles that present a hazard of spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly, as is hereinafter more specifically stated.

Notice is hereby given in accordance with section 8 of the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912, as amended (37 Stat. 318, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 161), that a public hearing will be held before a representative of the Agricultural Research Service in the Jefferson Auditorium of the South Building, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Fourteenth Street and Independence Avenue, Washington, D. C., at 10 a. m., May 9, 1956, at which hearing any interested person may appear and be heard, either in person or by attorney, on the proposals.

Notice is hereby given under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that if it is determined, after hearing, that the State of Florida should be quarantined as proposed, the Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service is considering issuing a notice of quarantine and supplemental regulations to read substantially as follows:

QUARANTINE

§ 301.78 Notice of quarantine. Under the authority conferred by section 8 of the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161), and after the public hearing required thereby, the State of Florida is hereby quarantined to prevent the spread of infestation of the Mediterranean fruit fly, a dangerous insect notoriously injurious to fruits and vegetables and not heretofore widely prevalent or distributed within and throughout the United States, and under the authority conferred by the Plant Quarantine Act and the Insect Pest Act of March 3, 1905 (7 U. S. C. 141 et seq.), regulations are hereinafter prescribed governing the movement of the Mediterranean fruit fly and carriers thereof. Hereafter the following shall not be shipped, offered for shipment to a common carrier, received for transportation or transported by a common carrier, or carried, transported, moved, or allowed to be moved from said quarantined State into or through any other State, Territory, or District of the United States in manner or method or under conditions other than those prescribed in the regulations supplemental hereto, as from time to time amended: (a) Live Mediterranean fruit flies in any stage of development; (b) fruits and vegetables, and other garden and orchard products of all kinds, and cotton bolls and seed cotton; (c) sand, soil, earth, peat, compost, and manure; and (d) fruit-picking equipment; trucks, wagons, cars, aircraft, boats, and other means of conveyance and containers which have been or are being used in conveying fruits or vegetables; other products and articles, including nursery stock, which have been associated with the production of, or commerce in, fruits and vegetables, or have been or are contaminated with sand, soil, earth, peat, compost, or manure; and, unlimited by the foregoing, any other products and articles of any character whatsoever; when it is determined in accordance with the regulations supplemental hereto that they present a hazard of spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly. However, the requirements of this quarantine and of the regulations supplemental hereto, except as otherwise provided in such regulations, are hereby limited to the areas in the quarantined State which may be designated as regulated areas as provided in such regulations, as long as, in the judgment of the Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service, the enforcement of said regulations as to such regulated areas will be adequate to prevent the spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly, except that such limitation is further conditioned upon the State's providing for and enforcing control of the movement within such State of the regulated articles under the same conditions as those which apply to their interstate movement under the provisions of currently existing Federal quarantine regulations, and upon its enforcing such control and sanitation measures with respect to such areas or portions thereof as, in the judgment of said Administrator, shall be deemed adequate to prevent the spread therefrom within such State of the said insect infestation: Moreover, whenever the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch shall find that facts exist as to the pest risk involved in the movement of one or more of the products or articles to which the regulations supplemental hereto apply, except live Mediterranean fruit flies in any stage of development, making it safe to modify, by making less stringent, the requirements contained in such supplemental regulations, he shall set forth and publish such finding in administrative instructions, specifying the manner in which the applicable regulations should be made less stringent, whereupon such modification shall become effective for such period and for such regulated area or portion thereof and for such products or articles as shall be specified in said administrative instructions, and every reasonable effort shall be made to give publicity to such administrative instructions throughout the affected areas.

REGULATIONS

§ 301.78–1 Definitions. For the purpose of the regulations in this subpart the following terms shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

(a) Mediterranean fruit fly. The insect known as the Mediterranean fruit fly (Ceratitis capitata Wied.), in any stage of development.

(b) Infestation. The presence of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

(c) Regulated areas. The counties, precincts, cities, and other minor civil divisions, or parts thereof, designated in administrative instructions under § 301.78–2 as regulated areas.

(d) Regulated articles. Mediterranean fruit flies and other products and articles regulated under this subpart.

(e) Inspector. An inspector of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(f) "Moved" ("movement," "move"). Shipped, offered for shipment to a common carrier, received for transportation or transported by a common carrier, or carried, transported, moved, or allowed to be moved, interstate, directly or indirectly. "Movement" and "move" shall be construed accordingly.

(g) Certificate. A valid document evidencing compliance with the requirements of this subpart.

(h) Limited permit. A valid document authorizing the movement of regulated articles to a restricted destination for limited handling, utilization, or processing.

(i) Interstate. From one State, Territory, or District of the United States into or through another.

(j) Administrative instructions. Published documents, relating to the enforcement of the provisions in this subpart, issued under authority of such provisions by the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, Agricultural Research Service.

§ 301.78–2 Designation of regulated areas. The Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch shall, from time to time, in administrative instructions promulgated by him, list the counties, cities, precincts, and other minor civil divisions, or parts thereof, in the quarantined State, in which infestation of the Mediterranean fruit fly has been determined to exist, or in which it has been determined such infestation is likely to exist, or which it is deemed necessary to regulate because of their proximity to infestation or their inseparability for quarantine enforcement purposes from infested localities, and shall designate such counties, precincts, and other civil divisions, or parts thereof, as constituting the regulated areas. Any civil division, or part thereof, so designated shall continue in a regulated status until the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch shall have determined that adequate eradication measures have been practiced for a sufficient length of time to eradicate the Mediterranean fruit fly therein and that regulations of such area is not otherwise necessary under this section, and shall have issued administrative instructions revoking the designation of such civil division, or part thereof, as a regulated area.

§ 301.78–3 Regulated articles—(a) Mediterranean fruit flies; removal prohibited, exception. The removal from any State or Territory to any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or from said District to any State or Territory, of live Mediterranean fruit flies, except for scientific purposes, is prohibited by the Insect Pest Act (7 U. S. C. 141). Provisions for the removal of live Mediterranean fruit flies, for scientific purposes, are set forth in § 301.78–9.

(b) Other regulated articles; movement regulated. Unless exempted by administrative instructions issued by the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, the movement from any regulated area of any of the following is permitted only under the conditions provided in the regulations in this subpart: Fruits and vegetables, and other garden and orchard products of all kinds, and cotton bolls and seed cotton; sand, soil, earth, peat, compost, and manure; and products and articles determined by an inspector to present a hazard of spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly under § 301.78 (d).

§ 301.78–4 Conditions governing movement of regulated articles—(a) Garden and orchard products; cotton bolls and seed cotton; sand, soil, etc. (1) Fruits and vegetables, and other garden and orchard products of all kinds; cotton bolls and seed cotton; and sand, earth, peat, compost, and manure; which originate in a regulated area, may be moved from any regulated area into or through any point outside thereof if a certificate or limited permit has been issued therefor in compliance with § 301.78–5 and if the applicable requirements of subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph are also met.

(2) Every container of regulated articles designated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, or, if there is no container, the articles themselves, shall be plainly marked with the name and address of the consignor and the name and address of the consignee, when offered for shipment under said subparagraph, and shall have securely attached to the outside thereof the certificate or limited permit covering the shipment, except that in the case of less-than-carlot freight or express shipments a certificate or limited permit attached to one of the containers and another certificate or limited permit attached to the waybill will be sufficient; in the case of carlot freight or express shipments, either in containers or in bulk, a certificate or limited permit attached to the waybill will be sufficient; and in the case of shipments by road vehicle, the certificate or limited permit shall accompany the shipment and shall be surrendered to the consignee upon delivery of the shipment.

(3) Subsequent to certification as provided in § 301.78–5, regulated articles designated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph must be loaded, handled, and shipped only under such protection and safeguards against infestation as are required by the inspector.

(4) Regulated articles of kinds designated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, which originate outside any regulated area and are moving through or are being reshipped from any regulated area, may be moved from any regulated area without compliance with the provisions of subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph when the point of origin is clearly indicated, when the identity has been maintained, and when the articles have been safeguarded against infestation while in the regulated area in a manner satisfactory to an inspector. Otherwise such regulated articles shall be subject to all of the requirements of subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph.

(b) Products and articles determined to present hazards. When it is determined by an inspector that a hazard of spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly is presented by any fruit-picking equipment; any trucks, wagons, cars, aircraft, boats, other means of conveyance or containers which have been or are being used in conveying fruits or vegetables; other products or articles, including nursery stock, which have been associated with the production of, or commerce in, fruits or vegetables, or have been or are contaminated with sand, soil, earth, peat, compost, or manure; or, unlimited by the foregoing, any other products or articles of any character whatsoever, such equipment, means of conveyance, containers, products or articles may be moved from any regulated area into or through any point outside thereof after they have been thoroughly cleaned, disinfested, or otherwise treated under the observation of an inspector and in accordance with methods selected by him from administratively authorized procedures known to be effective under the conditions in which applied, or they may be so moved under limited permit. Notice of the application of such requirements to particular means of conveyance, containers, and other products and articles under this paragraph shall be given to the person in charge thereof.

§ 301.78–5 Conditions governing the issuance of certificates and limited permits—(a) Certificates. Certificates may be issued for the movement from a regulated area of the regulated articles designated in § 301.78–4 (a) under any one of the following conditions:

(1) When, in the judgment of the inspector, they have not been exposed to infestation.

(2) When they have been examined by an inspector and found to be free of infestation.

(3) When they have been treated under the observation of an inspector and in accordance with methods selected by him from administratively authorized procedures known to be effective under the conditions in which applied.

(b) Limited permits. Limited permits may be issued by the inspector for the movement from a regulated area of noncertified regulated articles designated in § 301.78–4 (a) or (b) to specified destinations for limited handling, utilization, or processing. Persons shipping, transporting, or receiving such articles may be required by the inspector to enter into written agreements with the Plant Pest Control Branch to maintain such safeguards against the establishment and spread of infestation and to comply with such conditions as to the maintenance of identity, handling, or subsequent movement of such articles and to the cleaning or treatment of trucks, wagons, cars, aircraft, boats, and other means of conveyance and containers used in transportation of such articles as may be required by the inspector.

§ 301.78–6 Assembly of articles for inspection. Persons intending to move any of the regulated articles under § 301.78–4 (a) shall make application for inspection as far in advance as possible, shall so handle such articles as to safeguard them from infestation and shall assemble them at such points and in such manner as the inspector shall designate to facilitate inspection.

§ 301.78–7 Cancellation of certificates or limited permits. Certificates or limited permits for any regulated articles issued under the regulations in this subpart may be withdrawn or canceled and further certificates or permits for such articles may be refused by the inspector whenever he determines that the further use of such certificates or permits might result in the spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

§ 301.78–8 Inspection and disposition. Any truck, wagon, car, aircraft, boat, or other means of conveyance, or container, which is moving interstate and which an inspector has probable cause to believe carries or contains any Mediterranean fruit fly or other regulated article the movement of which is prohibited or restricted by the quarantine or regulations in this subpart shall be subject to inspection by the inspector. When regulated articles are found to be moving or to have been moved in violation of the provisions in this subpart, the inspector may seize, destroy, or otherwise dispose of such articles as he deems necessary to eliminate the danger of spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

§ 301.78–9 Shipments for scientific purposes. Live Mediterranean fruit flies may be removed from any State or Territory into any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or from said District into any State or Territory, and other articles subject to the requirements of the regulations in this subpart may be moved from any regulated area, for experimental or other scientific purposes, on such conditions and under such safeguards as may be required by the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch. The container or, if there is none, the article itself shall bear, securely attached to the outside thereof, an identifying tag from the Plant Pest Control Branch.

§ 301.78–10 Nonliability of Department. The United States Department of Agriculture disclaims liability for any cost incident to inspection or treatment required under the provisions in this subpart, other than for the services of the inspector.

The purpose of the proposed quarantine and supplemental regulations is to prevent the spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly from Florida, where it is known to occur, to other parts of the United States. The proposed regulations would provide methods whereby host material may be inspected and treated or otherwise made eligible for interstate movement from regulated areas. The regulations would also govern the interstate movement of live Mediterranean fruit flies for scientific purposes.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the proposed quarantine and supplemental regulations should file the same with the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., on or before May 9, 1956, or with the presiding officer at the hearing provided for above.

(Sec. 3, 33 Stat. 1270; secs. 8 and 9, 37 Stat. 318, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 143, 161, 162)

FOREIGN QUARANTINE NOTICES

MANGOES FROM CUBA

Notice is hereby given under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that the Chief of the Plant Quarantine Branch, pursuant to § 319.56–2 of the regulations supplemental to the Fruit and Vegetable Quarantine (Notice of Quarantine No. 56, 7 CFR and 1954 Supp. 319.56–2) under sections 5 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912 (7 U. S. C. 159, 162), is considering the revision of administrative instructions now appearing as § 319.56–2i in Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations, 1954 Supp., to read as follows:

§ 319.56–2i Administrative instructions prescribing method of treatment of mangoes from the West Indies—(a) Fumigation upon arrival. Approved fumigation with ethylene dibromide at normal atmospheric pressure, in accordance with the following procedure, upon arrival, is hereby prescribed as a condition of entry under permit under § 319.56–2 for all shipments of mangoes from the West Indies other than those entered in accordance with the alternate procedure authorized in paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) West Indies. As used in this paragraph, the term "West Indies" means the foreign islands lying between North and South America, the Caribbean Sea, and the Atlantic Ocean, including, among others, Cuba, Jamaica, Dominican Republic, and the Bahama, Leeward and Windward Islands, but excluding the chain of islands adjacent and parallel to the north coast of South America (the largest of which are Aruba, Curacao, Bonaire, Tortuga, Margarita, Trinidad, and Tobago).

(2) Ports of entry. Mangoes to be offered for entry must be shipped direct from the country of origin to New York or such other North Atlantic ports as may be named in the permit.

(3) Precooling of fruit. Mangoes to be offered for entry must be cooled to a maximum temperature of 50° F. prior to unloading from the ship. The fruit may not be removed from the vessel until an inspector of the Plant Quarantine Branch has satisfied himself that this requirement has been complied with and that the fruit can be moved promptly to the fumigation chamber.

(4) Approved fumigation. (i) The approved fumigation shall consist of fumigation with ethylene dibromide at normal atmospheric pressure, in a fumigation chamber which has been approved for that purpose by the Plant Quarantine Branch. The dosage shall be applied at the following rates:.

6 ounces of ethylene dibromide per 1,000 cubic feet of space for 2 hours at 80° F.
8 ounces of ethylene dibromide per 1,000 cubic feet of space for 2 hours at 70° F.

Cubic feet of space shall include the load. The 2-hour period of exposure shall begin when all of the fumigant has been introduced into the chamber. The required temperatures apply to both air and fruit. The ethylene dibromide must be applied in the liquid state and volatilized within the sealed fumigation chamber by direct contact with a highly heated metal surface over an electric hot plate or other suitable heating medium. The gas shall be circulated within the chamber continuously for the 2-hour period by an electric fan or blower.

(ii) Mangoes to be fumigated may be packed in crates with shredded packing material. When fruits are individually wrapped in paper the wrappings must be removed before fumigation. When loaded in the fumigation chamber the crates or other containers shall be separated at least 2 inches on all sides by wooden strips or other means. The chamber shall not be loaded to more than 50 percent of capacity.

(5) Other conditions. The unloading of fruit from the vessel, its delivery to an approved fumigation plant, and the fumigation procedure will be under the supervision of an inspector of the Plant Quarantine Branch. The unloading and delivery shall be conducted in accordance with such safeguard requirements as the inspector may impose to prevent the dissemination of injurious insects. Final release of the fruit for entry into the United States will be conditioned upon compliance with such safeguard requirements and the prescribed regulations.

(6) Costs. All costs of treatment and required safeguards and supervision, other than the services of the supervising inspector during regularly assigned hours of duty and at the usual place of duty, shall be borne by the owner of the mangoes, or his representative.

(7) Department not responsible for damage. The treatment prescribed in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph is judged from experimental tests to be safe for use with mangoes. However, the Department assumes no responsibility for any damage sustained through or in the course of treatment, or compliance with requirements under subparagraph (5) of this paragraph or in the precooling of fruit required prior to unloading from the vessel.

(b) Alternate procedure. Mangoes grown and produced in Cuba if satisfactorily treated in Cuba and otherwise handled and certified as provided in this paragraph will be eligible for entry under permit under § 319.56–2.

(1) Approved fumigation. The mangoes shall be fumigated at approved plants in Cuba in accordance with paragraph (a) (4) of this section.

(2) Approval of fumigation plants; costs of supervision. Fumigation in Cuba will be contingent upon the availability of a fumigation plant approved by the Chief of the Plant Quarantine Branch to apply the treatment prescribed in paragraph (a) (4) of this section and upon the availability of qualified personnel for assignment to approve the plant and to supervise the treatment and post-treatment handling of the mangoes in Cuba. Those in interest must make advance arrangements for approval of the fumigation plant and for supervision, and furnish the Chief of the Plant Quarantine Branch with acceptable assurances that they will provide, without cost to the United States Department of Agriculture, all transportation, per diem, and other incidental expenses of such personnel and compensation for such personnel for their services in excess of 40 hours weekly, in connection with such approvel and supervision, according to the rates established for the payment of inspectors of the Plant Quarantine Branch.

(3) Supervision of fumigation and subsequent handling. The fumigation prescribed in this paragraph and the subsequent handling of the mangoes so fumigated must be under the supervision of a representative of the Plant Quarantine Branch. The treated fruit must be safeguarded against reinfestation during the period prior to shipment from Cuba, in a manner required by such representative.

(4) Certification. Mangoes will be certified by a representative of the Plant Quarantine Branch in Cuba for entry into the United States upon the basis of treatment under this paragraph and compliance with the post-treatment safeguard requirements imposed by such representative. The final release of the fruit for entry into the United States will be conditioned upon compliance with such requirements and upon satisfactory inspection on arrival to determine efficacy of treatment.

(5) Costs. All costs incident to fumigation, including those for constructing, equipping, maintaining and operating fumigation plants and facilities, and carrying out requirements of post-treatment safeguards, and all costs as indicated in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph incident to plant approval and supervision of treatment and subsequent handling of the mangoes in Cuba shall be borne by the owner of the fruit or his representative.

(6) Department not responsible for damage. The treatment prescribed in paragraph (a) (4) of this section is judged from experimental tests to be safe for use with mangoes. However, the Department assumes no responsibility for any damage sustained through or in the course of treatment, or because of post-treatment safeguards.

(7) Ports of entry. Mangoes to be offered for entry in accordance with the alternate procedure provided for in this paragraph (b) may be entered under permit at any United States port where an inspector is stationed.

(8) Ineligible shipments. Any shipments of mangoes grown and produced in Cuba that are not eligible for certification under the alternate procedure provided for in this paragraph may enter only upon compliance with paragraph (a) of this section.

This revision would authorize an alternate procedure for the fumigation of mangoes grown in Cuba and their entry into the United States when they have been certified by a representative of the Plant Quarantine Branch as having been fumigated and safeguarded at point of origin under his supervision. Final release of the fruit for entry would be conditioned upon compliance with specified safeguards. All transportation, per diem, and other incidental expenses and overtime salaries of the inspectors in connection with the proposed procedure would be borne by the owners or shippers of the mangoes.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this matter should file the same with the Chief of the Plant Quarantine Branch, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 20 days after the date of the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Secs. 5 and 9, 37 Stat. 316, 318; 7 U. S. C. 159, 162; 7 CFR and 1954 Supp. 319.56–2)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of April 1956.

Acting Chief,

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[ 49 CFR Part 10 ]

[No. 30920]

UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS FOR RAILROAD COMPANIES

AMORTIZATION ACCOUNTING FOR EMERGENCY CARRIER FACILITIES; ASSIGNMENT FOR ORAL ARGUMENT

At a general session of the Interstate Commerce Commission held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of April A. D. 1956.

The Commission having under consideration (1) the record in the above-entitled proceeding (report of the Commission adopted December 21, 1951, 284 I. C. C. 9), (2) petition filed August 17, 1955 by Arthur Andersen & Company that the Commission reconsider its finding in said report which rejected income tax equalization, a special accounting rule briefly described in that report, (3) the replies to the petition, and (4) the data, views, arguments, and other evidence filed by interested parties as provided in the Commission's notice dated November 8, 1955; and

It appearing that such petition of Arthur Andersen & Company recommends adoption of an accounting rule which would require all carriers subject to prescribed accounting regulations (1) to record in their accounts as a current expense the amount by which Federal income taxes are reduced due to the excess of amortization allowances for emergency facilities over normal depreciation charges, (2) to record amounts so charged in a deferred liability account to off-set increased income taxes after amortization allowances are exhausted and depreciation allowances for emergency facilities are restricted for income tax purposes to their unamortized cost, and (3) to transfer to the deferred liability account from earned surplus amounts equal to income taxes deferred due to similar amortization allowances in prior years.

It is ordered, That the above proposed rule be, and it is hereby, assigned for oral argument thereon before the Commission on June 5, 1956, at 9 o'clock a. m., e. s. t. (10:00 o'clock a. m., District of Columbia, d. s. t.) at the office of the Commission in Washington D. C., and

It is further ordered, That in addition to counsel of record and respondents to the notice of November 8, 1955, all carriers subject to prescribed accounting regulations shall be served with a copy of this order and that notice of the oral argument shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy of the order in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director of the Division of the Federal Register.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] HAROLD D. MCCOY,
Secretary.

M. NEWMARK & CO., LTD.

ORDER EXTENDING A TEMPORARY ORDER DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES AND MAKING THE TERM OF SUCH DENIAL INDEFINITE

In the matter of M. Newmark & Company, Ltd., 5 & 7 Watling Court, Cannon Street, London, E. C. 4, England, respondent.

M. Newmark & Company, Ltd., having been denied export privileges for a period of thirty days commencing March 26, 1956, by order dated on that day and duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 29, 1956 (21 F. R. 1941), said respondent having been denied export privileges by reason of its failure to respond to interrogatories duly propounded to it in an investigation of a possible violation of the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended;

And, following the making of said order a new regulation, Section 382.15 of the export control regulations having been promulgated (21 F. R. 1416), which new regulation provides that a person failing or refusing to answer or furnish written information in response to interrogatories may be denied export privileges until such person shall respond to the interrogatories or shall give adequate reasons for his failure or refusal to respond;

And notice of such regulation having been duly served on the respondent M. Newmark & Company Ltd.;

And said respondent having been given an opportunity to respond to the interrogatories theretofore propounded but having failed and omitted to make such response or to give adequate reasons for its failure to respond;

It is now, for the purpose of achieving effective enforcement of the law, hereby ordered:

That the order of March 26, 1956, be, and the same hereby is amended so that decretal Part (4) thereof provides that the respondent M. Newmark & Company Ltd. be, and it hereby is denied all export privileges, as in the said order more particularly set forth, until such time as it shall respond to the interrogatories heretofore propounded to it or shall give adequate reasons to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for its failure or refusal to respond; and, except as so amended and extended, said order be and remain and continue in full force and effect.

Dated: April 26, 1956.

[Case No. 206A]

METALIMPORT TRUST ET AL.

ORDER REVOKING EXPORT LICENSES AND DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of Metalimport Trust, Vaduz, Liechtenstein and Dreikonigstrasse 21, Zurich, Switzerland; Metalimport, S. A. R. L., 26, rue de la Pepiniere, Paris, France; Alexander Abel (now deceased) Friedrich Abel, 50, rue de Bassano, Paris, France; Rudolph Abel, 14, avenue Pierre Ier de Serbie, Paris, France; Ephraim Leibowitz, Stauffacherquai 58, Zurich, Switzerland; Trans Trust, Ltd., S. P. R. L., Georges Wilhelm, 3, rue d'Assaut, Brussels, Belgium; Gaston Delattre, 148 avenue d'Auderghem, Brussels, Belgium; respondents; Case No. 206A.

The respondents above named, having been charged (together with others with respect to whom the charges have been dismissed or severed), with having violated the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, duly appeared herein and denied the charges. Metalimport, S. A. R. L., Alexander Abel, Friedrich Abel and Rudolph Abel were represented by counsel and the remaining respondents appeared in personam. The case was referred to the Compliance Commissioner who has held a hearing at which all evidence, arguments and answers submitted on behalf of the respondents were received and made part of the record. The respondents Alexander Abel, Friedrich Abel, Rudolph Abel and Metalimport S. A. R. L. were represented at the hearing by counsel but neither they nor any of the other respondents were present. Since the commencement of this proceeding, Alexander Abel has died.

The Compliance Commissioner has submitted his report and his recommendation.

Now, after considering the entire record consisting of the charges, the anwers, motions and arguments submitted by the respondents, the evidence in support of and in opposition to the charges, and the report and recommendation of the Compliance Commissioner, I hereby make the following findings of fact:

1. At all times hereinafter mentioned, Alexander Abel, who is now deceased, Rudolph Abel, and Friedrich Abel, hereinafter referred to as the Abel brothers, were engaged in international trade and resided or made their headquarters in Paris, France, in which city they maintained a family corporation or organization known as Metalimport, S. A. R. L.

2. That at the same times, Friedrich Abal and Alexander Abel had investments in Metalimport Trust, Vaduz, Liechtenstein, and Zurich, Switzerland (hereinafter referred to as Metalimport Trust, Vaduz). The said Abel brothers, together with Rudolph Abel, engaged in transactions involving the sales of commodities in international trade, which transactions they directed or caused to be consummated in the name of Metalimport Trust, Vaduz.

3. That Ephraim Leibowitz was a manager or legal agent or representative of Metalimport Trust, Vaduz, during all said times.

4. That the said Alexander Abel, Rudolph Abel, Friedrich Abel, Ephraim Leibowitz, Metalimport, S. A. R. L. (together with another respondent with respect to whom no action is being taken at this time), hereinafter referred to as the Metalimport respondents, participated together in the transactions and acts hereinafter set forth, unless any such acts are specifically assigned to particular individuals or firms, and that for the purpose of accomplishing the transactions involved they utilized the firm name or entity of Metalimport Trust, Vaduz.

5. That at all such times Trans Trust, Ltd., S. P. R. L., was a firm doing business in Brussels, Belgium, and its transactions hereinafter set forth were handled and directed by Georges Wilhelm and Gaston Delattre, all of these respondents being referred to hereinafter as Trans Trust.

6. That all the respondents well knew that the exportation of mineral oils such as those involved in the transactions were subject to U. S. export controls and that when an export license for the exportation of any such oils was grouted, it was granted upon the condition that the person therein named as the ultimate consignee was the actual ultimate consignee and that the country of ultimate destination was the country therein named as such.

7. That early in 1951 the Abel brothers entered upon a venture wherein they acquired and disposed of, as hereinafter set forth, contracts aggregating 1,200 tons of mineral oils.

8. That for the purpose of acquiring said oils, the Metalimport respondents arranged with a purchasing firm in Paris, France, to purchase said oils from vendors in the United States and sell them to Trans Trust, the ostensible ultimate consignee in Belgium, but in fact only the nominee or straw party for the Metal-Import Trust respondents.

9. That in order to obtain the said oils from vendors in the United States, the Metalimport respondents caused and induced the Trans Trust respondents and the purchasing firm in France to execute ultimate consignee statements for submission to the Office of International Trade, now the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, in which the firms executing such ultimate consignee statements did represent and warrant that the oils being purchased from the American vendors by the purchasing firm were to be received by Trans Trust as ultimate consignee in Belgium for resale in Belgium.

10. That they caused such ultimate consignee statements to be submitted by the American vendors to the OIT in support of applications for export licenses.

11. That the American vendors when submitting their applications for export licenses incorporated in their applications the factual statements contained in said ultimate consignee statements and attached the said statements to such applications.

12. That in reliance on such applications and the ultimate consignee statements annexed thereto, the OIT issued four export licenses authorizing the exportation of the oils hereinafter mentioned to Trans Trust as the ultimate consignee for resale in Belgium, the country of ultimate destination.

13. That under one of such export licenses, two shipments of oil were made by an American vendor to the Trans Trust respondents, one of them being 1,054 drums (56,916 gallons) and the other 554 drums (29,376 gallons). On their arrival at Antwerp, the Metalimport respondents and Trans Trust caused both said shipments of oil to be transshipped to Gdynia, Poland.

14. That under a second of said export licenses, another shipment of oil was made by the same American vendor to the Trans Trust respondents, this shipment consisting of 1,611 drums (86,994 gallons). On its arrival at Antwerp, the Metalimport respondents and Trans Trust caused this second shipment of oil to be transshipped to Gdynia, Poland.

15. That under a third of such export licenses, two shipments of oil were made by another American vendor to the Trans Trust respondents, one of them being 537 drums (28,998 gallons) and the other 797 drums (43,038 gallons). On their arrival at Antwerp, the Metalimport respondents and Trans Trust caused both said shipments of oil to be transshipped to Goteborg, Sweden and from there the Abel brothers caused the 537 drums of oil to be transshipped to Gdynia, Poland.

16. Under the last of such export licenses, an American vendor made one shipment of 1,900 drums (102,600 gallons) of oils to the Trans Trust respondents at Antwerp, Belgium, which the Metalimport Trust and Trans Trust respondents caused to be transshipped to Goteborg, Sweden.

17. That the Abel brothers, Metalimport S. A. R. L. and Metalimport Trust, Vaduz, at all times knew and intended that all the oils were to be transshipped to Gdynia, Poland or Communist China; the Metalimport Trust respondents knew, or should have known, that all the oils were to be transshipped from Belgium and that all the respondents at all times knew, or should have known, that Trans Trust was not the ultimate purchaser and consignee in Antwerp, Belgium, and that the oils were to be transshipped out of Belgium.

18. That the oils to which reference is made in Findings 13 and 14 were sold by Metalimport Trust, Vaduz, to a purchasing agent for the Government of Communist China.

19. That on all bills of lading issued in connection with the shipments from the United States to which reference is made in Findings 15 and 16, there was endorsed a clause warning that the exportation of the oils shipped thereunder was licensed by the United States for ultimate destination in Belgium and that diversion contrary thereto was in violation of U. S. law and the Metalimport Trust respondents, as well as the Trans Trust respondents, by reason of the receipt by them or by their agents of said documents had due and sufficient notice and knowledge thereof.

And, by reason of the foregoing, the following are my conclusions:

A. The Metalimport Trust respondents knowingly caused false representations and certifications to be made to and material facts to be concealed from the Office of International Trade, in violation of § 381.1 (b) of the export control regulations then in effect, and knowingly diverted the oils to which reference has been made to unauthorized consignees and countries, in violation of the provisions and conditions contained in validated export licenses, shipper's export declarations, and bills of lading, contrary to the provisions of §§ 381.1 (b) (3) and 381.4 (b)-(e) of the export control regulations then in effect; and

B. The Trans Trust respondents knowingly made and caused to be made false representations to and concealed material facts from the Office of International Trade, stated in writing that they had commitments to purchase and import commodities from the United States for use in Belgium, when such was not their purpose and, without authorization, caused to be diverted to unauthorized consignees and countries, contrary to the provisions of export control documents, oils shipped from the United States;—all in violations of §§ 381.1 (b), 381.3 (b), and 381.4 of the export control regulations then in effect.

The Compliance Commissioner has recommended that an order be entered against the respondents as hereinafter provided and, having concluded that such recommended action is fair, just, and necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law:

It is hereby ordered:

I. All outstanding validated export licenses in which the respondents or any of them appear or participate as purchaser, intermediate or ultimate consignee, or otherwise, are hereby revoked and shall be returned forthwith to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for cancellation.

II. Each of the respondents (except Alexander Abel) be and he or it hereby is suspended from and denied all privileges of participating, directly or indirectly in any manner or capacity, in an exportation of any commodity or technical data from the United States to any foreign destination, including Canada, whether such exportation has heretofore or hereafter been completed. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing denial of export privileges, participation in an exportation is deemed to include and prohibit participation by any of the respondents, directly or indirectly in any manner or capacity, (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application, (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control documents, (c) in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, using, or disposing in any foreign country of any commodities in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States, and (d) in storing, financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of such exports from the United States.

III. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to each of the said respondents, but also to any person, firm, corporation, or business organization with which any of them may be now or hereafter related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade in which may be involved exports from the United States or services connected therewith.

IV. The denial of license privileges as set forth in decretal Part II hereof shall continue, (a) as respects the respondents Metalimport Trust, Metalimport, S. A. R. L., Friedrich Abel, and Rudolph Abel, so long as export controls shall remain in effect; (b) as respects the respondent Ephraim Leibowitz, for three years from the date hereof; and (c) as respects the respondents Trans Trust, Ltd., S. P. R. L., Georges Wilhelm, and Gaston Delattre, for a period of three years from the date hereof.

V. Upon condition that they comply in all respects with this order, and with all other requirements of the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, and all regulations promulgated thereunder, the respondents Trans Trust, Wilhelm and Delattre, commencing two years after the date hereof, and the respondent Leibowitz, commencing two years after the date hereof, may engage in and enjoy all export privileges permitted by United States laws and regulations.

VI. The privileges conditionally restored to any respondent, under Part V hereof may be revoked summarily and without notice upon a finding by the Director of the Office of Export Supply, or such other official as may at that time be exercising the duties now exercised by him, that such respondent has, at any time following the date hereof, knowingly failed to comply with any of the conditions or provisions upon which or whereby, by Part V hereof, he or it has been permitted to engage in any phase of the export business otherwise denied to him under Parts II and IV hereof, without prejudice to any other action which may be taken by reason of any such new or additional violation. In the event that it be so determined that a respondent has breached the conditions of Part V hereof, the suspension and denial of respondent's export privileges shall be deemed to commence on the day of such determination and shall continue thereafter until such respondent has been denied export privileges for a time equivalent to the time specified for him or it in Part IV hereof.

VII. No person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, during any time when any respondent is prohibited under the terms hereof from engaging in any activity within the scope of Part II hereof, shall, without prior disclosure to, and specific authorization from, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, directly or indirectly in any manner or capacity (a) apply for, obtain, or use any license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any such prohibited activity, (b) order, receive, buy, use, dispose of, finance, transport or forward, any commodity on behalf of or in any association with such respondent, or (c) do any of the foregoing acts with respect to any commodity or exportation in which such respondent may have any interest of any kind or nature, direct or indirect.

Dated: April 25, 1956.

Office of the Secretary

D. LIJNZAAD, N. V., ET AL.

APPEALS BOARD DECISION

In the matter of D. Lijnzaad, N. V., Transport en Handelmaatschappij, 58 Coolsingel, Boursgebouw, Rotterdam, Netherlands; Dirk Lijnzaad, 7 Duinweg, Wassenaar, Netherlands; Nedimtrans, N. V., Exchange Buildings, Rotterdam, Netherlands; Appeals Board Docket FC-29; B. F. C. Case No. 200.

Following oral hearing on this appeal, at which appellants were represented by counsel, and careful examination of the documents of record, the Appeals Board finds that the Conditional Order Denying Export Privileges, dated October 27, 1955, by the Director of Export Supply, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, was an appropriate action and sustains that order in full.

The Board has carefully considered whether Dirk Lijnzaad, as an individual, is properly included in the order. The Board has given weight to the evidence of record as to his personal good character, the assistance he has given to the U. S. Government in this and other matters, statements in his personal favor made by the Compliance Commissioner before whom he appeared, and unrefuted representations made in his behalf by his counsel at the Appeals Board hearing. On the basis of this evidence the Board believes that no question of Mr. Lijnzaad's personal integrity is involved in this matter. However, his responsibility to assure that the operations of the other appellants controlled by him complied at all times with U. S. Export Control regulations cannot be ignored, and therefore he is properly included in the order.

Now, therefore it is ordered, That the appeal be, and hereby is denied.

FREDERIC W. OLMSTEAD,
Chairman,
Appeals Board.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 7158 et al.]

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS, INC. AND TRANS WORLD AIRLINES, INC.; WEST COAST-EUROPE CASE

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the applications of Pan American World Airways, Inc., and Trans World Airlines, Inc., for the designation of Los Angeles, San Francisco/Oakland, Portland and Seattle as additional coterminals for transatlantic services.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 205 (a) and 401 of said Act, and the applicable regulations thereunder, that hearing in the above-entitled proceeding is assigned to be held May 22, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., P. s. t., in the chambers of the Board of Supervisors in the City Hall, San Francisco, California, before Examiner William J. Madden.

Without limiting the precise scope of the issues, particular attention will be directed to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the public convenience and necessity require the amendment of the existing certificates of Pan American World Airways, Inc., and Trans World Airlines, Inc., for transatlantic service so as to designate Los Angeles, San Francisco/Oakland, Portland, and Seattle as additional coterminals for such services.

(2) Whether the applicants are fit, willing and able to conduct the proposed air transportation and to conform to the provisions of the Act and the regulations of the Board thereunder.

For further details regarding this proceeding interested parties are referred to the report of the prehearing conference in this matter served January 31, 1956, a supplemental conference report served February 16, 1956, Board order No. E-10109, and the Docket in this proceeding on file in the Docket Section of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Notice is further given that any person not a party of record desiring to be heard in support or opposition to questions involved in this proceeding must file with the Board on or before May 22, 1956, a statement setting forth the matters of law or fact which he desires to advance. Any person filing such a statement may appear at the hearing in accordance with § 302.14 of the rules of practice in Economic Proceedings.

Dated at Washington, D. C., April 24, 1956.

SOUTHERN PRODUCTION CO., INC.

ORDER GRANTING REQUEST FOR RECONSIDERATION AND POSTPONING HEARING

By order issued April 20, 1956, the Commission denied the request filed on April 17, 1956, by Southern Production Company, Inc. (Southern), for a continuance of 60 days of the hearing scheduled to commence on May 3, 1956, in this proceeding.

Thereupon Southern requested the Commission to reconsider the application filed on April 17, 1956, for the continuance of the hearing.

The Commission finds: Southern has shown good cause in its request for reconsideration of the order issued April 20, 1956, for postponing the hearing as requested.

The Commission orders: The hearing in this proceeding now scheduled to commence on May 3, 1956, be and it is hereby postponed to July 2, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C.

Issued: April 25, 1956.

[Docket No. G-9547]

UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER FIXING DATE FOR ORAL ARGUMENT

On September 30, 1955, United Gas Pipe Line Company (United) filed 31 tariff sheets to become effective November 1, 1955, proposing, among other things, an increase in rates of approximately $9,978,000 annually. The Commission by order issued October 26, 1955, suspended until April 1, 1956, all the tariff sheets except those covering the sale of gas for resale for industrial use only.

On March 20, 1956, United filed a motion pursuant to Section 4 (e) of the Natural Gas Act to place in effect on April 1, 1956, the tariff sheets suspended by the Commission order of October 26, 1955.

Mississippi Valley Gas Company, Memphis Light, Gas and Water Division jointly with the City of Memphis, Tennessee (Memphis), and the City of Jackson, Mississippi, have filed motions to (a) prohibit United's rate increase from becoming effective April 1, 1956, (b) reject part of such rate increase and (c) order refunds under United's increased industrial use rates which were not subject to suspension and therefore became effective November 1, 1956.[1] Such motions are based on the allegation that United's tariff filings were a unilateral change in "contractual rate" which is prohibited under the rule of the decision promulgated in United Gas Pipe Line Co. v. Mobile Gas Service Corp. et al., 350 U. S. 332.

United filed answers to the motions filed by Mississippi Valley and Memphis alleging that (a) the service agreements grant either party the right to seek changes in accordance with the Natural Gas Act and (b) the tariff including the form of service agreement is ex parte and may be changed unilatorally. Texas Gas Transmission Corporation filed answers in support of United's position as to "mutual consent" being contained in the service agreement. Southern Natural Gas Company filed a similar answer.

Mississippi Valley Gas Company and City of Memphis, Memphis Light, Gas and Water Division, filed similar answers to the "Motion of United Gas Pipe Line Company to Dismiss Motion of Mississippi Valley Gas Company to Reject, Cancel and Dismiss Rate Filings in Part." United filed a "Reply of United Gas Pipe Line Company to the 'Answer' of Mississippi Valley Gas Company and City of Memphis, et al., to United's Answer to Mississippi Valley's Motion to Dismiss."

Willmut Gas and Oil Company, on the basis of the Mobile Case, and Federal Power Commission v. Sierra Pacific Power Co., 350 U. S. 348, filed a "Motion to Reject, Cancel and Dismiss Rate Filings Insofar as they purport to Increase the Rates for Sales of Gas to Willmut Gas and Oil Company to Prohibit Said Increased Rates From Becoming Effective, and to Require Refund of Increases Paid". Mobile Service Corporation, which had heretofore filed its Petition of Intervention and Answer to the Application for increased rates filed by United to take effect on November 1, 1955, filed an Amendment to said Petition of Intervention and Answer, reinforcing, in effect, its previous position by the decision in the Mobile Case.

The proposed motions to reject the increased rate filings and to cancel and dismiss the rate increase proceedings in the light of the recent Mobile and Sierra Pacific decisions raise questions which are not answered conclusively by the responses to such motions.

The Commission finds: It is appropriate for the proper administration of the Natural Gas Act that oral argument be had before the Commission concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by the motions to reject the increased rate filings and to cancel and dismiss the rate proceedings filed herein.

The Commission orders:

(A) Oral argument be had before the Commission on May 25, 1956 at 10:00

[1] Mississippi Valley's motion is limited to United's increased rates insofar as they apply to its own purchase and those of the other suppliers, Texas Gas Transmission Corporation and Southern Natural Gas Company. Memphis' motion is limited to the increased rates to its supplier, Texas Gas and that of the City of Jackson to the increased rates to its supplier, Mississippi Valley.

a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by the said motions to reject the increased rate filings and to cancel and dismiss the rate proceedings.

(B) Parties to this proceeding who intend to participate in the oral argument shall notify the Secretary of the Commission on or before May 14, 1956, of such intention and of the time requested for presentation of their arguments.

Issued: April 25, 1956.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G-9890]

HOPE NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 25, 1956.

Hope Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a West Virginia corporation with principal place of business at 445 West Main Street, Clarksburg, West Virginia, filed, on January 23, 1956, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Applicant to render service as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate, as an integral part of its existing natural-gas system, certain natural-gas facilities as hereinafter described which are necessary to the delivery and sale of natural gas in interstate commerce by Applicant.

The facilities proposed to be constructed and operated by Applicant consist of one 1,200 horsepower engine and compressor unit for standby purposes at its L. L. Tonkin Station (formerly known as Middle Island Station) in Doddridge County, West Virginia, on its main pipeline system.

The estimated cost of construction of the proposed facilities is $220,000, which will be financed from cash on hand.

The application states that the five presently authorized engines at the Tonkin Station have operated greater than 85 percent of the time in order to handle the increased deliveries from Tennessee Gas Transmission Company (Tennessee) which has prevented Applicant from performing the necessary periodic maintenance to said engines. Applicant states that without proper maintenance the engines may be subject to breakdown, in which event Applicant would be unable to maintain full operation of the station.

Tonkin Station receives gas from Tennessee, via the Cornwell Station, at 650 psi and pumps this gas northward to the Hastings Station during the winter heating season at 1,100 psia, and eastward to storage during the off-peak seasons at 1,000 psi. Tonkin Station was constructed to aid in handling 165,000 Mcf of gas per day and now handles 225,000 Mcf per day.

Applicant shows a design day operation requiring 6,375 horsepower at Tonkin Station during the winter season, and operation requiring 5,225 horsepower during the summer. With the additional horsepower sought, Applicant will have 7,200 horsepower installed at the station.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations, and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Thursday, May 31, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 10, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[Docket No. G-9953]

EAST TENNESSEE NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 25, 1956.

East Tennessee Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Tennessee corporation with principal place of business at P. O. Box 831, Knoxville, Tennessee, filed on February 6, 1956, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Applicant to render service as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate, as an integral part of its existing natural-gas system, certain natural-gas facilities as hereinafter described which are necessary to the delivery and sale of natural gas in interstate commerce by Applicant, and to sell and deliver up to a daily maximum of 1,000 Mcf of natural gas at 100 psia in interstate commerce on a firm basis, pursuant to a 14-year requirements contract dated January 9, 1956, to the municipality of Rockwood, Tennessee, for resale and distribution by said municipality via its proposed distribution system within Rockwood, Tennessee and its environs for residential, commercial and industrial use.

The facilities proposed to be constructed and operated by Applicant consist of a physical connection and necessary metering and regulating equipment to be located at the downstream terminus of Applicant's existing Harriman lateral near the corporate limits of Harriman, Tennessee. The Harriman lateral is fed from Applicant's main 22-inch Greenbrier-Knoxville pipeline.

The estimated cost of construction of the proposed facilities is $12,246, which will be financed out of current working funds.

The estimated gas requirements in Mcf for the entire Rockwood system are as follows:

| | First year | Second year | Third year |
|---|---|---|---|
| Annual requirements | 81,781 | 88,608 | 92,125 |
| Maximum daily demand | 930 | 1,024 | 1,071 |

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations, and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Thursday, May 31, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 10, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 25, 1956.

Take notice that East Tennessee Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Tennessee corporation with principal place of business at P. O. Box 831, Knoxville 1, Tennessee, filed, on February 6, 1956, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Applicant to render service as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate, as an integral part of its existing natural gas system, certain natural gas facilities as hereinafter described which are necessary to the delivery and sale of natural gas in interstate commerce by Applicant, and, to sell and deliver up to a daily maximum of 1,531 Mcf of natural gas at 100 psia in interstate commerce on a firm basis pursuant to a 14 year requirements contract dated January 3, 1956, to the municipality of South Pittsburg, Tennessee, for resale and distribution by said municipality via its proposed distribution system in the towns of Sequatchie, Jasper, South Pittsburg and Richard City, Tennessee, and their environs for residential, commercial and industrial use.

The facilities proposed to be constructed and operated by Applicant consist of a physical connection and necessary metering and regulating equipment to be located on Applicant's existing 12¾ inch Lobelville-Chattanooga main pipeline, approximately one mile north of the community of Sequatchie, Tennessee at or near the point of intersection between Applicant's 12¾ inch pipeline with State Highway 27 in Marion County, Tennessee.

The estimated cost of construction of the proposed facilities is $12,626 which will be financed out of current working funds.

The estimated gas requirements in Mcf for the entire South Pittsburg system are as follows:

| | First year | Second year | Third year |
|---|---|---|---|
| Maximum daily demand | 1,208 | 1,419 | 1,531 |

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Thursday, May 31, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 10, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[Docket No. G-10014]

KANSAS-NEBRASKA NATURAL GAS CO., INC.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 25, 1956.

Take notice that Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Company, Inc. (Applicant), a Kansas Corporation with its principal place of business at Phillipsburg, Kansas, filed an application on February 28, 1956, as supplemented on April 11, 1956, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of natural gas facilities as hereinafter described subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant proposes to:

(1) Install an additional 550 h. p. compressor with auxiliary equipment at its Albion, Nebraska, Compressor Station;

(2) Construct 10 miles of 10 inch gas pipeline to replace an equal quantity of existing 8 inch pipeline between Grand Island and Albion, Nebraska, and reinstall the salvaged 8 inch pipe to parallel the next 10 miles of existing 8 inch pipeline;

(3) Install an additional 550 h. p. compressor with auxiliary equipment at its Grand Island, Nebraska, Compressor Station;

(4) Install 1,100 h. p. compressor with auxiliary equipment and reclaim the existing three 125 h. p. units at its Cozad, Nebraska, Compressor Station;

(5) Install an additional 500 h. p. compressor with auxiliary equipment at its Colby, Kansas, Compressor Station;

(6) Construct 11.5 miles of 12 inch gas pipeline to replace an equal quantity of existing 8 inch line between Scott City and Oakley, Kansas;

(7) Install 375 h. p. of compressors with auxiliary equipment at its Clay Center, Nebraska, Station; and

(8) Construct 1.2 miles of 6 inch gas pipeline between its Clay center, Compressor Station and Exeter-Geneva branch line.

Applicant, by its first supplement to the application further requests that it be authorized to construct and operate such facilities; subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission as are required in its Denver-Julesburg Basin operation.

Applicant states that the additional facilities proposed herein are necessary to provide service to the increased firm demands of existing markets. No new communities or mainline industrial services are contemplated.

The total estimated cost of construction proposed herein is approximately $4,192,715 including certain non-jurisdictional facilities for which a certificate is not requested. Applicant proposes to finance its entire project by the sale of securities in the amount of $4,000,000.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 10, 1956.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-3445]

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP. AND JERSEY CENTRAL POWER & LIGHT CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION REGARDING ISSUE AND SALE OF COMMON STOCK BY SUBSIDIARY AND ACQUISITION THEREOF BY PARENT

APRIL 25, 1956.

General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, and Jersey Central Power & Light Company ("Jersey Central"), a public-utility subsidiary company of GPU, have jointly filed an application and amendment thereto with this Commission, pursuant to sections 6 (b), 9 (a), and 10 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") regarding certain proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

Jersey Central proposes to issue and sell to GPU, and GPU proposes to purchase from Jersey Central, 475,000 additional shares of Jersey Central's common stock for cash at the par value thereof, namely $10 per share, or an aggregate purchase price of $4,750,000. Such shares will be issued and sold by Jersey Central, and purchased by GPU, from time to time, but not later than the issuance and sale by Jersey Central during 1956 of additional first mortgage bonds. The proceeds of such additional shares of common stock thus issued and sold by Jersey Central will be applied by it to the cost of construction of additions and betterments or to repay bank loans the proceeds of which have been applied to such purpose or to reimburse its treasury for expenditures directly or indirectly therefrom for such purpose.

The issuance and sale by Jersey Central of the additional shares of its common stock have been expressly authorized by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey, which is the regulatory commission of the State in which Jersey Central is organized and doing business. No other State commission, and no Federal commission other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

It is estimated that GPU's expenses in connection with the proposed transactions will not exceed $500 and that the fees and expenses of Jersey Central will be as follows:

|---|---|
| Filing fee—Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey | $500 |
| Federal issue tax | 5,225 |
| Legal fees: | |
| Autenrieth & Rochester | 1,250 |
| Berlack, Israels & Liberman | 1,000 |
| Miscellaneous | 500 |
| Total | 8,475 |

Due notice of the filing of said application having been given in the manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated under said act, and no hearing having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and of the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, that the fees and expenses set forth above are not unreasonable, and that the application, as amended, should be granted forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act that said application, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

PART 3—STATEMENTS OF GENERAL POLICY OR INTERPRETATION

PESTICIDE CHEMICALS; FURTHER EXTENDED DATES ON WHICH STATUTE SHALL BECOME FULLY EFFECTIVE

Requests have been received for further extensions of the date when the amendment to section 402 (a) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (68 Stat. 511 et seq.; 21 U. S. C. 342, 346a) shall become effective for certain pesticide chemicals.

One request is for extension to permit use of octamethyl pyrophosphoramide on walnut trees during the month of May 1956. Data were submitted with the request about the pharmacology of the pesticide chemical and about the residues that may remain from the use proposed for it. The United States Department of Agriculture has recommended that the effective date of the statute be extended to permit the proposed use of octamethyl pyrophosphoramide on walnuts.

One request is for extension to permit the use of trichloroethane as a grain fumigant. This involves nonseasonal use of the chemical.

These extensions are necessary.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 402 (a) (2), 408, 68 Stat. 511, 517 (Ch. 559, Secs. 2, 5); 21 U. S. C. 342 (a) (2) and note 1 under section 342; 246a) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (20 F. R. 1996), the following order is promulgated:

Section 3.44 Pesticide chemicals; further extended dates on which statute shall become fully effective, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER December 20, 1955 (21 CFR 3.44; 20 F. R. 9553), as amended (20 F. R. 9884; 21 F. R. 445, 1172, 1463, 2326, 2591) is further amended as follows:

1. Paragraph (a) (4) is changed to read as follows:

(4) Effective date June 15, 1956:
Ethylene oxide: In copra.
Octamethyl pyrophosphoramide: In or on walnuts.

2. Paragraph (a) is further amended by inserting in subparagraph (6) Effective date July 22, 1956, in proper alphabetical order, a new item as follows:

Trichloroethane: As a grain fumigant. (Extended from March 1, 1956. See subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.)

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 371. Interpret or apply sec. 402, 52 Stat. 1046, as amended, sec. 408, 68 Stat. 511; 21 U. S. C. 342, 346a)

Dated: April 25, 1956.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 524—EMPLOYMENT OF HANDICAPPED PERSONS

On March 2, 1956, notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (21 F. R. 1388) that the Administrator proposed to amend Part 524 (29 CFR Part 524) entitled Employment of Handicapped Persons. The purpose of this amendment is to provide a greater degree of flexibility in providing for the employment of handicapped workers under section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act. It is based upon those elements which have been proven necessary by experience to the uniform administration of this tolerance. Interested persons were given until March 17, 1956, to submit in writing for consideration any data, views, or arguments pertaining to the proposed amendments.

One submittal in response to the notice has been received in which it is contended (1) that the provision for representatives of state vocational rehabilitation agencies and the Veterans Administration to issue temporary certificates is an improper delegation of authority, (2) that the omission of certain data from the application form deprives the Administrator of necessary information.

The delegation of authority to state vocational rehabilitation agencies and the Veterans Administration is to facilitate on-the-job training for disabled persons under their supervision. This extension of the existing regulations to include non-veterans, as well as veterans, is considered both necessary and appropriate. The authority delegated is specifically defined and limited and safeguards have been provided against its misuse. Having also considered the fact that a disabled trainee's chances of being accepted for employment are greatly enhanced if the certificate is available at the time the employment agreement is entered into and the fact that such a delegation has been exercised by the Veterans Administration since 1944 without any showing of misuse, the objection to the delegation of authority to issue temporary certificates is overruled. The objection to the failure to require certain information in the application for a handicapped workers certificate is also overruled since the data thus omitted have been proven by experience to be of little assistance in the administration of this provision of the act.

Accordingly, pursuant to authority contained in section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 1068, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 214), Reorganization Plan No. 6 of 1950 (64 Stat. 1263), and General Order No. 45–A (15 F. R. 3290), and after giving full consideration to all relevant matter presented, Part 524 (29 CFR Part 524) is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec.
524.1 Applicability of this part.
524.2 Definitions, as used in this part.
524.3 Application for a certificate.
524.4 Special provisions applicable to handicapped trainees.
524.5 Conditions for granting a certificate.
524.6 Additional data when required.
524.7 Issuance of a certificate.
524.8 Terms of a certificate.
524.9 Renewal of a certificate.
524.10 Records to be kept.
524.11 Review.
524.12 Issuance of certificates for experimental purposes.
524.13 Amendment of this part.

AUTHORITY: §§ 524.1 to 524.13 issued under sec. 14, 52 Stat. 1068; 29 U. S. C. 214. Interpret or apply sec. 11, 52 Stat. 1066; 29 U. S. C. 211.

§ 524.1 Applicability of this part. The regulations contained in this part are issued pursuant to section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938. Under section 14 the Administrator or his representative is authorized, to the extent necessary in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, to issue special certificates for the employment or employment-training of handicapped workers or handicapped trainees at wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under section 6 of the act. Such certificates shall be subject to the conditions prescribed in this part.

§ 524.2 Definitions, as used in this part. (a) "Handicapped worker" or "worker" means an individual whose earning capacity is impaired by age or physical or mental deficiency or injury for the work he is to perform.

(b) "Handicapped trainee" or "trainee" means an individual whose earning capacity is impaired by age or physical or mental deficiency or injury, and who is receiving or is scheduled to receive on-the-job training in industry under any vocational rehabilitation program administered by the Veterans Administration or an authorized vocational rehabilitation agency operating pursuant to the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, as amended.

§ 524.3 Application for a certificate. (a) Application shall be made to the Regional Director of the administrative region of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, in which the handicapped worker or handicapped trainee is to be employed. Application forms may be obtained from the appropriate Regional Director.

(b) The application shall set forth, among other things, the nature of the disability, a description of the occupation at which the worker is to be employed, and the wage the firm proposes to guarantee the worker per hour. The nature of the disability must be set out in detail. Vague statements such as "nervous condition", "physically incapacitated", "slow worker", etc., are not sufficient.

(c) The application shall be signed jointly by the employer and worker and be returned to the Regional Director by the employer.

(d) No application is required for a temporary certificate for a subminimum wage for a handicapped trainee being trained under any authorized vocational rehabilitation program. Such temporary certificates are issued in accordance with procedures set out in § 524.4.

§ 524.4 Special provisions applicable to handicapped trainees. (a) Employment of a trainee (pursuant to the Vocational Rehabilitation Act or to a vocational rehabilitation program of the Veterans' Administration for veterans with a service-incurred disability) under a temporary certificate or a special certificate shall be governed by this part as modified by this section.

(b) Temporary certificates authorizing the employment of such trainees at wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under section 6 of the act may be issued whenever employment at a lower rate is necessary in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment. Such temporary certificates are to be issued by duly designated representatives of state vocational rehabilitation agencies and of the Veterans Administration.

(c) A temporary certificate will designate the employer, the trainee, and the subminimum wage rate. It shall be valid for a period not to exceed 90 days from the date of issuance.

(d) Within 10 days after issuance of a temporary certificate, the supervising rehabilitation agency will forward a copy of the certificate, together with a recommendation covering the subminimum rate(s) for the balance of the training period, to the appropriate Regional Director of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor. The Regional Director, pursuant to this part, may then issue a special certificate effective upon the expiration of the temporary certificate, or may terminate the temporary certificate prior to its expiration date, with or without issuing a superseding special certificate. If a temporary certificate is terminated prior to its expiration date without the issuance of a superseding special certificate, written notice of such termination shall be given the employer, the trainee, and the supervising rehabilitation agency.

(e) Money paid to the trainee by a State vocational rehabilitation agency or the Veterans Administration for maintenance or other expenses shall not be considered as off-setting any part of the wage or other remuneration due the trainee by the employer.

(f) A temporary certificate shall not be issued for a trainee if a satisfactory training opportunity for the desired training is available in the community at the minimum wage applicable under section 6 of the act or above.

§ 524.5 Conditions for granting a certificate. If the application is in proper form and sets forth facts showing: (a) A subminimum wage is necessary to prevent curtailment of the worker's or trainee's opportunities for employment; and (b) the handicap impairs the earning capacity of the worker for the work he is to perform, a certificate may be issued.

§ 524.6 Additional data when required. To determine whether the facts justify the issuance of a certificate, the Administrator or his authorized representative may require the submission of additional information and may require the worker to take a medical examination.

§ 524.7 Issuance of a certificate. (a) If the application and other available information indicate that the requirements of this part are satisfied, the Administrator or his authorized representative shall issue a certificate. Otherwise, he shall deny a certificate.

(b) If issued, copies of the certificate shall be transmitted to the employer and the worker or trainee, and, in the case of a certificate for a trainee, to the appropriate vocational rehabilitation agency. If a certificate is denied, the same parties shall be given written notice of the denial.

§ 524.8 Terms of a certificate. (a) A certificate shall specify, among other things, the name of the worker or trainee, the occupation in which he is to be employed, the subminimum wage rate(s), and the period(s) of time during which such rate(s) may be paid.

(b) A certificate shall be effective for a period to be designated by the Administrator or his authorized representative. Workers or trainees may be paid subminimum wages only during the effective period of the certificate.

(c) The wage rate(s) set in the certificate shall be fixed at a figure designed to reflect adequately the individual worker's or trainee's earning capacity. No wage rate shall be fixed at less than 75 percent of the applicable minimum wage under section 6 of the act unless after investigation a lower rate appears to be clearly justified.

(d) In establishments where nonhandicapped employees are employed at piece rates in the same occupation, the handicapped worker or trainee shall be paid at least the same piece rates. The worker or trainee must be paid his full piece rate earnings or the earnings at the hourly rate specified in the certificate, whichever is the greater.

(e) The worker or trainee shall be paid not less than one and one-half times his regular rate for all hours worked over forty in the workweek, as provided in section 7 of the act.

(f) No provision of this part, or of any certificate issued under this part, shall excuse non-compliance with any other Federal or State law or municipal ordinance establishing higher standards.

(g) The terms of any certificate, including the wage rate(s) specified therein, may be amended by the Administrator or his authorized representative upon written notice to the parties concerned, if the facts justify such amendment.

§ 524.9 Renewal of a certificate. (a) Application for renewal of any certificate shall be filed in the same manner as an original application.

(b) If an application for renewal has been properly and timely filed prior to the expiration date of a certificate, the certificate shall remain in effect until the application for renewal has been granted or denied.

§ 524.10 Records to be kept. Every employer who employs a handicapped worker or handicapped trainee pursuant to these regulations shall keep, maintain, and have available for inspection by the Administrator or his authorized representative a copy of the certificate and all other records required under the applicable provisions of Part 516 (record keeping regulations) of this chapter.

§ 524.11 Review. Any person aggrieved by any action of an authorized representative of the Administrator taken pursuant to this part may, within 15 days after such action, file with the Administrator a petition for review of the action complained of, setting forth grounds for seeking review. Such review, if granted, shall be made either by the Administrator or by an authorized representative who took no part in the action under review and all interested parties shall be afforded an opportunity to present their views.

§ 524.12 Issuance of certificates for experimental purposes. In addition to the issuance of certificates as provided in §§ 524.1 to 524.11, the Administrator may authorize the issuance of certificates to permit employment of handicapped workers at less than the applicable minimum wage under section 6 of the act as part of experimental programs to increase employment opportunities for such workers. Such certificates shall be issued in such types of cases and on such terms and conditions within the scope of section 14 of the act as the Administrator shall determine will best further any such experimental programs.

§ 524.13 Amendment of this part. The Administrator may at any time upon his own motion or upon written request of any interested person setting forth reasonable ground therefor, and after opportunity has been given to interested persons to present their views, amend or revoke any of the terms of this part.

This amendment shall become effective May 2d, 1956.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of April 1956.

NEWELL BROWN,

PART 783—SEAMAN EXEMPTION

Pursuant to General Order No. 45-A (15 F. R. 3290) and under its authority,

Part 783 of Title 29, Code of Federal Regulations is amended to read as follows:

Sec.
783.0 Introductory statement.
783.1 Statutory provisions considered.
783.2 Who is "employed as a seaman", for purposes of exemption.
783.3 Related exemptions.
783.4 Enforcement policy concerning performance of nonexempt work.

AUTHORITY: §§ 783.0 to 783.4 issued under 52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201 et seq.

§ 783.0 Introductory statement. (a) The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 [1] requires an employer to pay each of his employees who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, including any closely related process or occupation directly essential to such production, a minimum wage of not less than $1.00 an hour and overtime compensation of not less than time and one-half of his regular rate for hours in excess of 40 in a week. Section 13 (a) (14) of the act, however, specifically exempts from the minimum wage and overtime requirements "any employee employed as a seaman".

(b) This part contains the interpretations of the Department of Labor [2] as to the scope and meaning of the seaman exemption. Its purpose is to provide a "practical guide for employers and employees as to how the office representing the public interest in its enforcement will seek to apply it".[3]

(c) The interpretations contained in this part will remain in effect until they are rescinded, modified, or withdrawn. This will be done when and if the Administrator concludes upon reexamination, or in the light of judicial decision, that a particular interpretation, ruling, or enforcement policy is incorrect or unwarranted. All other rulings, interpretations, or enforcement policies inconsistent with any portion of this part are superseded by it.

(d) As provided in section 10 of the Portal-to-Portal Act,[4] reliance may be placed on these interpretations so long as they remain effective.

§ 783.1 Statutory provisions considered. (a) Section 13 (a) (14) of the act provides an exemption from the minimum wage provisions of section 6 and the maximum hours provisions of section 7, as follows: "The provisions of sections 6 and 7 shall not apply with respect to * * * any employee employed as a seaman * * *"

(b) The provisions of sections 6 and 7 of the act apply only to "employees * * * engaged in (interstate) commerce or in the production of goods for (interstate) commerce." See Part 776 of this chapter. This part will not deal with the question as to which "seamen" are so engaged, but will be directed solely to the scope of the exemption in section 13 (a) (14).

(c) Like other exemptions from the act, the section 13 (a) (14) exemption is narrowly construed and is applied only to those clearly and unmistakably within its terms and spirit.[5]

§ 783.2 Who is "employed as a seaman," for purposes of exemption. (a) An employee will ordinarily be regarded as "employed as a seaman" if he performs, as master or subject to the authority, direction, and control of the master aboard a vessel, service which is rendered primarily as an aid in the operation of such vessel as a means of transportation, provided he performs no substantial amount of work of a different character. In our opinion, this exemption extends to employees performing such service on vessels navigating inland waters as well as on ocean-going and coastwise vessels.

(b) The exemption extends to members of the crew such as sailors, engineers, radio operators, firemen, pursers, surgeons, cooks, and stewards if, as is the usual case, their service is of the type described in paragraph (a) of this section. However, concessionaires and their employees aboard a vessel ordinarily do not perform service subject to the authority, direction, and control of the master of the vessel except incidentally and do not come within the exemption under discussion.

(c) The exemption does not extend to employees working aboard vessels whose service is not rendered primarily as an aid in the operation of the vessel as a means of transportation. Thus employees on floating equipment who are engaged in the construction of docks, levees, revetments, or other structures, and employees engaged in dredging operations or in the digging or processing of sand, gravel, or other materials are not employed as "seamen". For the same and other reasons, stevedores and longshoremen are not regarded as "seamen". Similarly, stevedores or roustabouts traveling aboard a vessel from port to port whose principal duties require them to load and unload the vessel in port would not themselves come within the exemption even though during the voyage they may perform from time to time certain services of the same type as those rendered by other employees who would be regarded as seamen under the act. However, an employee employed as a seaman would not be outside the exemption simply because, as an incident to that employment, he performs an insubstantial amount of nonexempt work such as assisting in the loading or unloading of baggage or freight at the beginning or end of a voyage.

(d) Barge tenders on non-self-propelled barges who perform the normal duties of their occupation, such as attending to the lines and anchors, putting out running and mooring lines, pumping out bilge water, and other similar activities necessary and usual to the navigation of barges, are considered seamen within this exemption unless they do a substantial amount of nonexempt work. Loading and unloading and activities relative thereto will be considered nonexempt work. Employees on seagoing barges would also seem to be employed as seamen if their services are of the type described in paragraph (a) of this section.

(e) Various situations are presented with respect to employees rendering watchman or similar service aboard a vessel in port. Where such services are rendered by members of the crew during a temporary stay in port or during a brief lay-up for minor repairs, such employees would be within the exemption. Where the vessel is laid up for a considerable period, members of the crew rendering watchman or similar service aboard the vessel would not appear to be within the exemption because their services are not rendered primarily as an aid in the operation of the vessel as a means of transportation. Furthermore, employees who are furnished by independent contractors to perform watchman or similar services aboard a vessel while in port would not be employed as "seamen" regardless of the period of time the vessel is in port, since their services are not of the type described in paragraph (a) of this section. The same considerations would apply in the case of a temporary or skeleton crew hired to maintain the vessel while in port so that the regular crew may be granted shore leave.

§ 783.3 Related exemptions. Section 13 (a) (5) which provides an exemption from both the wage and hours provisions for employees engaged in certain operations in the seafood and fishery industry (other than canning) is discussed in Part 784 of this chapter. In addition, attention is directed to section 13 (b) (2) of the act, which provides an exemption from the maximum hours provisions for "any employee of an employer subject to the provisions of Part I of the Interstate Commerce Act."

§ 783.4 Enforcement policy concerning performance of nonexempt work. The Department has taken the position that the exemption provided by section 13 (a) (14) of the Fair Labor Standards Act will be deemed applicable even though some nonexempt work (that is, work of a nature other than that which characterizes the exemption) is performed by the employee during the workweek, unless the amount of such nonexempt work is substantial. (See § 783.2 (c).) For enforcement purposes, the amount of nonexempt work will be considered substantial if it occupies more than 20 percent of the time worked by the employee during the workweek.

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of April 1956.

[Rules Amdt. 15–1]

PART 15—INCIDENTAL AND RESTRICTED RADIATION DEVICES

EXTENSION OF EFFECTIVE DATE

In the matter of amendment of § 15.68 (a) of the Commission's rules.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1956;

The Commission having under consideration several requests from manufacturers of communications receivers and FM broadcast receivers to extend the time within which such receivers must comply with the requirements of Part 15 of the rules governing incidental and restricted radiation devices; and

It appearing that § 15.68 of the rules provides that all receivers that operate in the range 30 to 890 Mc manufactured after May 1, 1956, except specified UHF television broadcast receivers and certain pocket type superregenerative receivers, must comply with the provisions of Part 15 of the rules; and

It further appearing that some manufacturers of communications receivers and FM broadcast receivers have been unable, in the time allowed, to obtain all of the radiation data necessary for the certification of various types of communication receivers, and that some difficulty has been encountered in complying with the Commission's power line interference limits where the source of interference is the intermediate frequency amplifiers of FM broadcast receivers; and

It further appearing that, the manufacturers have been making reasonable efforts to meet the certification requirements of Part 15; and

It further appearing that, the public interest would be served by granting an extension of time as requested; and

It further appearing that, in view of the time element involved compliance with the notice provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable, and that, because the amendment relieves a restriction, it may be made effective immediately;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to the authority of section 4 (i), 301 and 303 (f), § 15.68 (a) is amended as set forth below, effective immediately.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies secs. 301, 303, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303)

Released: April 26, 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

The provisions of § 15.68 (a) are amended to revise the effective date of the rules with respect to certain radio receivers.

As amended § 15.68 (a) reads as follows:

(a) Except as provided in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this section television broadcast receivers manufactured after May 1, 1956, and all other radio receivers that tune in the range 30–890 Mc (including FM broadcast receivers) manufactured after October 1, 1956, shall comply with the requirements of this part.

1.683–1 Applicability of provisions.

ESTATES, TRUSTS, AND BENEFICIARIES DECEDENTS

§ 1.641–1 Scope of subchapter J. Subchapter J (sections 641 to 692, inclusive), chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, deals with the taxation of income of estates and trusts and their beneficiaries, and of income in respect of decedents. Part I of subchapter J contains the general rules for taxation of estates and trusts (subpart A) and the specific rules relating to trusts which distribute current income only (subpart B), estates and trusts which may accumulate income or which distribute corpus (subpart C), treatment of excess distributions by trusts (subpart D), grantors and other persons treated as substantial owners (subpart E), and the miscellaneous provisions relating to the limitation on charitable deductions, income of an estate or trust in case of divorce, and applicability of provisions (subpart F). Part II of subchapter J relates to the treatment of income in respect of decedents. However, the provisions of subchapter J do not apply to employees' trusts subject to subchapters D and F and common trust funds subject to subchapter H of chapter 1, Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

ESTATES, TRUSTS, AND BENEFICIARIES

§ 1.641–2 Scope of subparts A, B, C and D. Subparts A, B, C, and D (sections 641 to 668, inclusive) of subchapter J, chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, relate to the taxation of estates and trusts and their beneficiaries. These subparts have no application to any portion of the corpus or income of a trust which is to be regarded, within the meaning of the Internal Revenue Code, as that of the grantor or others treated as its substantial owners. See subpart E (sections 671 to 678, inclusive) of subchapter J, chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and regulations thereunder for rules for the treatment of any portion of a trust where the grantor (or another person) is treated as the substantial owner. So-called alimony trusts are treated under subparts A, B, C, and D except to the extent otherwise provided in section 71 or section 682. These subparts have no application to beneficiaries of nonexempt employees' trusts. See section 402 (b) and the regulations thereunder.

GENERAL RULES FOR TAXATION OF ESTATES AND TRUSTS

§ 1.641 (a) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; imposition of tax.

SEC. 641. Imposition of tax—(a) Application of tax. The taxes imposed by this chapter on individuals shall apply to the taxable income of estates or of any kind of property held in trust, including—

(1) Income accumulated in trust for the benefit of unborn or unascertained persons or persons with contingent interests, and income accumulated or held for future distribution under the terms of the will or trust;

(2) Income which is to be distributed currently by the fiduciary to the beneficiaries, and income collected by a guardian of an infant which is to be held or distributed as the court may direct;

(3) Income received by estates of deceased persons during the period of administration or settlement of the estate; and

(4) Income which, in the discretion of the fiduciary, may be either distributed to the beneficiaries or accumulated.

§ 1.641 (a)–1 Imposition of tax—(a) Application of tax. Section 641 prescribes that the taxes imposed upon individuals by chapter 1 shall apply to the income of estate or of any kind of property held in trust. The rates of tax, the statutory provisions respecting gross income, and, with certain exceptions, the deductions and credits allowed to individuals apply also to estates and trusts.

(b) Gross income of estates and trusts. The gross income of an estate or trust is determined in the same manner as that of an individual. Thus, the gross income of an estate or trust consists of all items of gross income received during the taxable year, including—

(1) All income accumulated in trust for the benefit of unborn or unascertained persons or persons with contingent interests;

(2) All income accumulated or held for future distribution under the terms of the will or trust;

(3) All income which is to be distributed currently by the fiduciary to the beneficiaries, and all income collected by a guardian of an infant which is to be held or distributed as the court may direct;

(4) All income received by estates of deceased persons during the period of administration or settlement of the estate; and

(5) All income which, in the discretion of the fiduciary, may be either distributed to the beneficiaries or accumulated.

The several classes of income enumerated in this paragraph do not exclude others which also may come within the general purposes of section 641.

§ 1.641 (b) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; computation and payment of tax.

SEC. 641. Imposition of tax. • • •

(b) Computation and payment. The taxable income of an estate or trust shall be computed in the same manner as in the case of an individual, except as otherwise provided in this part. The tax shall be computed on such taxable income and shall be paid by the fiduciary.

§ 1.641 (b)–1 Computation and payment of tax—(a) Deductions and credits of estates and trusts. Generally, the deductions and credits allowed to individuals are also allowed to estates and trusts. However, there are special rules for the computation of certain deductions and for the allocation between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries of certain credits and deductions. See section 642 and the regulations thereunder. In addition, an estate or trust is allowed to deduct, in computing its taxable income, the deductions provided by sections 651 and 661 and regulations thereunder, relating to distributions to beneficiaries.

(b) Filing of returns and payment of the tax. (1) The fiduciary is required to make and file the return and pay the tax on the taxable income of an estate or of a trust. Liability for the payment of the tax on the taxable income of an estate attaches to the person of the executor or administrator up to and after his discharge if, prior to distribution and discharge, he had notice of his tax obligations or failed to exercise due diligence in ascertaining whether or not such obligations existed. For the extent of such liability, see section 3467 of the Revised Statutes, as amended by section 518 of the Revenue Act of 1934 (31 U. S. C. 192). Liability for the tax also follows the assets of the estate distributed to heirs, devisees, legatees, and distributees, who may be required to discharge the amount of the tax due and unpaid to the extent of the distributive shares received by them. See section 6901. The same considerations apply to trusts.

(2) The estate of an infant, incompetent, or other person under a disability, is not a separate taxable entity, in that respect differing from the estate of a deceased person or of a trust. See section 6012 (b) (2) for provisions relating to the obligation of the fiduciary with respect to returns of such persons.

(c) Termination of estates and trusts. (1) The income of an estate of a deceased person is that which is received by the estate during the period of administration or settlement. The period of administration or settlement is the period actually required by the administrator or executor to perform the ordinary duties of administration, such as the collection of assets and the payment of debts, legacies, and bequests, whether the period required is longer or shorter than the period specified under the applicable local law for the settlement of estates. For example, where an executor who is also named as trustee under a will fails to obtain his discharge as executor, the period of administration continues only until the duties of administration are complete and he actually assumes his duties as trustee, whether or not pursuant to a court order. However, the period of administration of an estate cannot be indefinitely prolonged. If the administration of an estate is unreasonably prolonged, the estate is considered terminated for Federal income tax purposes after the expiration of a reasonable period within which the executor could have performed all the duties of administration. Further, an estate will be considered as terminated when all the assets have been distributed except for a reasonable amount which is set aside in good faith for the payment of unascertained or contingent liabilities and expenses (not including a claim by a beneficiary in the capacity of beneficiary).

(2) Generally, the determination of whether a trust has terminated depends upon whether the property held in trust has been distributed to the persons entitled to succeed to the property upon termination of the trust rather than upon the technicality of whether or not the trustee has rendered his final accounting. A trust does not automatically terminate upon the happening of the event by which the duration of the trust is measured. A reasonable time is permitted after such event for the trustee to perform the duties necessary to complete the administration of the trust. Thus, if under the terms of the governing instrument, the trust is to terminate upon the death of the life beneficiary and the corpus is to be distributed to the remainderman, the trust continues after the death of the life beneficiary for a period reasonably necessary to a proper winding up of the affairs of the trust. However, the winding up of a trust cannot be indefinitely postponed and if the distribution of the trust corpus is unreasonably delayed, the trust is considered terminated for Federal income tax purposes after the expiration of a reasonable period necessary for the trustee to complete the administration of the trust. Further, a trust will be considered as terminated when all the assets have been distributed except for a reasonable amount which is set aside in good faith for the payment of unascertained or contingent liabilities and expenses (not including a claim by a beneficiary in the capacity of beneficiary).

(3) If a trust or the administration or settlement of an estate is considered terminated under this paragraph for Federal income tax purposes, the gross income, deductions, and credits of such estate or trust shall, subsequent to the termination, be considered the gross income, deductions, and credits of the person or persons succeeding to the property of the estate or trust.

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions—(a) Credits against tax—(1) Partially tax-exempt interest. An estate or trust shall be allowed the credit against tax for partially tax-exempt interest provided by section 35 only in respect of so much of such interest as is not properly allocable to any beneficiary under section 652 or 662. If the estate or trust elects under section 171 to treat as amortizable the premium on bonds with respect to the interest on which the credit is allowable under section 35, such credit (whether allowable to the estate or trust or to the beneficiary) shall be reduced under section 171 (a) (3).

§ 1.642 (a) (1)–1 Partially tax-exempt interest. An estate or trust shall be allowed the credit against tax for partially tax-exempt interest provided by section 35 only in respect of so much of such interest as is not properly allocable to a beneficiary under section 652 or 662 and the regulations thereunder. An estate or trust shall not be allowed the credit against tax for any partially tax-exempt interest which is allocable to an amount of gross income, paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c). A beneficiary of an estate or trust shall be allowed the credit against tax for partially tax-exempt interest provided by section 35 only in respect of so much of such interest as is properly allocable to him under section 652 or 662 and the regulations thereunder. If an estate or trust elects under section 171 to treat as amortizable the premium on bonds with respect to the interest on which a credit is allowable under section 35, such credit (whether allowable to the estate or trust or to the beneficiary) shall be reduced under section 171 (a) (3) by the portion of the amortization deduction attributable to the shares of such interest allocable, respectively, to the estate or trust and its beneficiary.

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions—(a) Credits against tax. • • •

(2) Foreign taxes. An estate or trust shall be allowed the credit against tax for taxes imposed by foreign countries and possessions of the United States, to the extent allowed by section 901, only in respect of so much of the taxes described in such section as is not properly allocable under such section to the beneficiaries.

§ 1.642 (a) (2)–1 Foreign taxes. An estate or trust shall be allowed the credit against tax for taxes imposed by foreign countries and possessions of the United States to the extent allowed by section 901 only in respect of so much of these taxes as are not properly allocable under that section to the beneficiaries. See section 901 (b) (4).

(3) Dividends received by individuals. An estate or trust shall be allowed the credit against tax for dividends received provided by section 34 only in respect of so much of such dividends as is not properly allocable to any beneficiary under section 652 or 662. For purposes of determining the time of receipt of dividends under section 34 and section 116, the amount of dividends properly allocable to a beneficiary under section 652 or 662 shall be deemed to have been received by the beneficiary ratably on the same dates that the dividends were received by the estate or trust.

§ 1.642 (a) (3)–1 Dividends—(a) Dividends received by an estate or trust. An estate or trust shall be allowed a credit against tax for dividends received (see section 34) only in respect of so much of the dividends as are not properly allocable to any beneficiary under section 652 or 662. An estate or trust shall not be allowed the credit against tax for any dividends which are allocable to an amount of gross income, paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c).

(b) Time of receipt of dividends by beneficiary. In general, dividends shall be deemed received by a beneficiary in the taxable year in which they are includible in his gross income under section 652 or 662. For example, a simple trust, reporting on the basis of a fiscal year ending October 30, receives quarterly dividends on November 3, 1954, and February 3, May 3, and September 3, 1955. These dividends are all allocable to beneficiary A, reporting on a calendar year basis, under section 652 and are deemed received by A in 1955. See section 652 (c). Accordingly, A may take all these dividends into account in determining his credit for dividends received under section 34, and his dividends exclusion under section 116. However, solely for purposes of determining whether dividends deemed received by individuals from trusts or estates qualify under the time limitations of section 34 (a) or section 116 (a), the time of receipt of the dividends by the trust or estate shall also be the time of receipt by the beneficiary. For example, a simple trust reporting on the basis of a fiscal year ending October 30 receives quarterly dividends on November 3, 1953, and February 3, May 3, and September 3, 1954. These dividends are all allocable to beneficiary A, reporting on the calendar year basis, under section 652 and are includible in his income for 1954. However, for purposes of section 34 (a) or section 116 (a), these dividends are deemed received by A on the same dates that the trust received them. See section 642 (a) (3). Accordingly, A may take into account in determining the credit under section 34 only those dividends received by the trust on September 3, 1954, since the dividend received credit is not allowed under section 34 for dividends received before August 1, 1954.

(c) Cross reference. See § 1.683–1 (b) (3) for examples relating to the treatment of dividends received by an estate or trust during a fiscal year beginning in 1953 and ending in 1954.

§ 1.642 (b) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; special rules for credits and deductions; personal exemption.

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions. • • •

(b) Deduction for personal exemption. An estate shall be allowed a deduction of $600. A trust which, under its governing instrument, is required to distribute all of its income currently shall be allowed a deduction of $300. All other trusts shall be allowed a deduction of $100. The deductions allowed by this subsection shall be in lieu of the deductions allowed under section 151 (relating to deduction for personal exemption).

§ 1.642 (b)–1 Deduction for personal exemption. In lieu of the deduction for personal exemptions provided by section 151—

(a) An estate shall be allowed a deduction of $600,

(b) A trust which, under its governing instrument, is required to distribute all of its income currently shall be allowed a deduction of $300, and

(c) All other trusts shall be allowed a deduction of $100.

A trust which, under its governing instrument, is required to distribute all of its income currently shall be allowed a deduction of $300, even though it also distributes amounts other than income in the taxable year. For the meaning of the term "income required to be distributed currently", see § 1.651 (a)–1 (b).

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions. • • •

(c) Deduction for amounts paid or permanently set aside for a charitable purpose. In the case of an estate or trust (other than a trust meeting the specifications of subpart B) there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing its taxable income (in lieu of the deductions allowed by section 170 (a), relating to deduction for charitable, etc., contributions and gifts) any amount of the gross income, without limitation, which pursuant to the terms of the governing instrument is, during the taxable year, paid or permanently set aside for a purpose specified in section 170 (c), or is to be used exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, or for the establishment, acquisition, maintenance or operation of a public cemetery not operated for profit. For this purpose, to the extent that such amount consists of gain from the sale or exchange of capital assets held for more than 6 months, proper adjustment of the deduction otherwise allowable under this subsection shall be made for any deduction allowable to the estate or trust under section 1202 (relating to deduction for excess of capital gains over capital losses). In the case of a trust, the deduction allowed by this subsection shall be subject to section 681 (relating to unrelated business income and prohibited transactions).

§ 1.642 (c)–1 Charitable contributions deduction. (a) Any part of the gross income of an estate or trust which, by the terms of the will or of the instrument creating the trust—

(1) Is, during the taxable year, paid or permanently set aside for a purpose specified in section 170 (c), relating to charitable contributions, or shall be allowed as a deduction to the estate or trust in lieu of that authorized by section 170 (a). For this purpose, an amount received by an estate or trust which is includible in its gross income as income in respect of a decedent under section 691 (a) (1) shall be deemed "gross income" of the estate or trust. In the case of a trust, the deduction otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) and this section is subject to the limitations of section 681 (relating to unrelated business income and prohibited transactions). See section 681 and the regulations thereunder.

(2) Is to be used exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, or for the establishment, acquisition, maintenance or operation of a public cemetery not operated for profit,

(b) If an estate or trust pays, permanently sets aside, or uses any amount of its income for the purposes specified in paragraph (a) of this section and that amount includes any items of estate or trust income not entering into the gross income of the estate or trust, the deduction under this section is limited to the gross income so paid, permanently set aside, or used. In determining whether such amounts include items of income of an estate or trust which are not included in gross income, if the governing instrument specifically provides as to the source out of which amounts shall be paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for such purposes, such specific provision shall control. In the absence of specific provisions in the governing instrument, an amount to which section 642 (c) applies shall be deemed to consist of the same proportion of each class of the items of income of the estate or trust as the total of each class bears to the total of all classes. For the purpose of this paragraph, the provisions of section 116 (relating to exclusion of dividends) shall not be taken into account. For an example showing the determination of the character of an amount deductible under section 642 (c), see paragraph (e) of § 1.662 (Example):

(c) Where any amount of the income so paid, permanently set aside, or used for the purposes specified in paragraph (a) of this section is attributable to gain from the sale or exchange of capital assets held for more than six months, the amount of the deduction allowable under section 642 (c) must be adjusted for any deduction provided in section 1202 of 50 percent of the excess, if any, of the net long-term capital gain over the net short-term capital loss. For determination of the extent to which the charitable, etc., contribution referred to in section 642 (c) is deemed to consist of long-term capital gains, see paragraph (b) of this section. For example: Under the terms of the trust instrument, the income of the trust is currently distributable to A during his life and capital gains are allocable to corpus. No provision is made in the trust instrument for the invasion of corpus for the benefit of A. Upon A's death the corpus of the trust is to be distributed to M University, an organization exempt from taxation under section 501 (c) (3). During the taxable year 1954, the trust has long-term capital gains of $100,000 which, although allocable to corpus, are permanently set aside for charitable purposes. The trust includes $100,000 in gross income but is allowed a deduction of $50,000 under section 1202 with respect to such gains and a charitable contributions deduction of $50,000 under section 642 (c) ($100,000 permanently set aside for charitable purposes less $50,000 allowed as a deduction under section 1202 with respect to such $100,000).

(d) See section 6034 and the regulations thereunder regarding the annual information return that must be filed by certain trusts claiming charitable, etc., deductions under section 642 (c) for the taxable year.

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions. • • •

(d) Net operating loss deduction. The benefit of the deduction for net operating losses provided by section 172 shall be allowed to estates and trusts under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate.

§ 1.642 (d)–1 Net operating loss deduction. The net operating loss deduction allowed by section 172 shall be available to estates and trusts generally, with the following exceptions and limitations:

(a) In computing gross income and deductions for the purposes of section 172, a trust shall exclude that portion of the income and deductions attributable to the grantor or another person under sections 671 through 678 (relating to grantors and others treated as substantial owners).

(b) An estate or trust shall not, for the purposes of section 172, avail itself of the deductions allowed by section 642 (c), section 651, and section 661.

§ 1.642 (e) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; special rules for credits and deductions; deduction for depreciation and depletion.

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions. • • •

(e) Deduction for depreciation and depletion. An estate or trust shall be allowed the deduction for depreciation and depletion only to the extent not allowable to beneficiaries under sections 167 (g) and 611 (b).

§ 1.642 (e)–1 Depreciation and depletion. An estate or trust shall be allowed the deduction for depreciation and depletion, but only to the extent the deductions are not allowable to a beneficiary under sections 167 (g) and 611 (b). See the regulations under such sections.

§ 1.642 (f) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; special rules for credits and deductions; amortization of emergency or grain storage facilities.

SEC. 642 (f). Special rules for credits and deductions. • • •

(f) Amortization of emergency or grain storage facilities. The benefit of the deductions for amortization of emergency and grain storage facilities provided by sections 168 and 169 shall be allowed to estates and trusts in the same manner as in the case of an individual. The allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the fiduciary under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate.

§ 1.642 (f)–1 Amortization of emergency or grain storage facilities. An estate or trust shall be allowed amortization deductions with respect to an emergency facility as defined in section 168 (d) and with respect to a grain storage facility as defined in section 169 (d) in the same manner and to the same extent as in the case of an individual. However, the principles governing the apportionment of the deductions for the depreciation and depletion between the fiduciaries and the beneficiaries of an estate or trust (see sections 167 (g) and 611 (b) and the regulations thereunder) shall be applicable with respect to such amortization deductions.

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions. • • •

(g) Disallowance of double deductions. Amounts allowable under section 2053 or 2054 as a deduction in computing the taxable estate of a decedent shall not be allowed as a deduction in computing the taxable income of the estate, unless there is filed, within the time and in the manner and form prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate, a statement that the amounts have not been allowed as deductions under section 2053 or 2054 and a waiver of the right to have such amounts allowed at any time as deductions under section 2053 or 2054. This subsection shall not apply with respect to deductions allowed under part II (relating to income in respect of decedents).

§ 1.642 (g)–1 Disallowance of double deductions. (a) Amounts allowable under section 2053 or 2054 as a deduction in computing the taxable estate of a decedent are not allowed as a deduction in computing the taxable income of the estate unless there is filed a statement, in duplicate, to the effect that the items have not been allowed as deductions from the gross estate of the decedent under section 2053 or 2054 and that all rights to have such items allowed at any time as a deduction under section 2053 or 2054 are waived. The statement should be filed with the return for the year for which the item is claimed as a deduction, or with the district director of internal revenue for the internal revenue district in which the return was filed, for association with the return. This paragraph shall not apply to deductions in respect of decedents which are allowable under section 691 (b).

(b) Although deductible under section 2053 in determining the value of the taxable estate of a decedent, medical, dental, etc., expenses of a decedent which are paid by the estate of the decedent are not deductible in computing the taxable income of the estate. See section 213 (d) and the regulations thereunder for rules relating to the deductibility of such expenses in computing the taxable income of the decedent.

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions. • • •

(h) Unused loss carryovers and excess deductions on termination available to beneficiaries. If on the termination of an estate or trust, the estate or trust has—

(1) A net operating loss carryover under section 172 or a capital loss carryover under section 1212, or

(2) For the last taxable year of the estate or trust deductions (other than the deductions allowed under subsections (b) or (c)) in excess of gross income for such year, then such carryover or such excess shall be allowed as a deduction, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate, to the beneficiaries succeeding to the property of the estate or trust.

§ 1.642 (h)–1 Unused loss carryovers and excess deductions on termination of an estate or trust—(a) Unused loss carryovers. (1) If, on the termination of an estate or trust, a net operating loss carryover under section 172 or a capital loss carryover under section 1212 would be allowable to the estate or trust in a taxable year subsequent to the taxable year of termination but for the termination, the carryover or carryovers shall be allowed to the beneficiaries succeeding to the property of the estate or trust.

(2) The net operating loss carryover and the capital loss carryover shall be the same in the hands of a beneficiary as in the estate or trust. The first taxable year of the beneficiary to which the loss may be carried over is the taxable year of the beneficiary in which or with which the estate or trust terminates. However, the last taxable year of the estate or trust (whether or not a short taxable year) and the first taxable year of the beneficiary to which a loss is carried over shall each constitute a taxable year for purposes of determining the number of years to which a loss may be carried over. For example: A trust distributes all of its assets to A, the sole remainderman, and terminates on December 31, 1954, when it has a capital loss carryover of $10,000 attributable to transactions during the taxable year 1952. A, who reports on the calendar-year basis, otherwise has ordinary income of $10,000 and capital gains of $4,000 for the taxable year 1954. A would offset his capital gains of $4,000 against the capital loss of the trust and, in addition, deduct under section 1211 (b) $1,000 on his return for the taxable year 1954. The balance of the capital loss carryover of $5,000 may be carried over only to the years 1955 and 1956. For the treatment of the net operating loss carryover when the last taxable year of the estate or trust is the last taxable year to which such loss can be carried over, see paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Excess deductions. (1) If, on the termination of an estate or trust, the estate or trust has for its last taxable year deductions (other than the deductions allowed under section 642 (b) (relating to personal exemption) or section 642 (c) (relating to charitable contributions)), the excess shall be allowed as a deduction to the beneficiaries succeeding to the property of the estate or trust. The excess of deductions over the gross income of the estate or trust shall be allowable only in the taxable year of the beneficiary in which or with which the estate or trust terminates, whether or not the year of termination of the estate or trust is of normal duration or is a short taxable year. For example: Assume that a trust distributes all of its assets to B and terminates on December 31, 1954. As of that date it had excess deductions, for example, because of corpus commissions on termination, of $18,000. B, who reported on the calendar year basis, could claim the $18,000 as a deduction for the taxable year 1954. However, if the deduction (when added to his other deductions) exceeds his gross income, the excess may not be carried over to the year 1955 or subsequent years.

(2) A deduction based upon a net operating loss carryover will never be allowed to beneficiaries under both paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 642 (h). Accordingly, a net operating loss deduction which is allowable to beneficiaries succeeding to the property of the estate or trust under the provisions of paragraph (1) of section 642 (h) shall not also be considered a deduction for purposes of paragraph (2) of section 642 (h) and subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. However, if the last taxable year of the estate or trust is the last year in which a deduction on account of a net operating loss may be taken, the deduction, to the extent not absorbed in that taxable year by the estate or trust, shall be considered an "excess deduction" under section 642 (h) (2) and subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(3) Any item of income or deduction, or any part thereof, which is taken into account in determining the net operating loss or capital loss carryover of the estate or trust for its last taxable year shall not be taken into account again in determining excess deductions on termination of the trust or estate within the meaning of section 642 (h) (2) and subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (see example in paragraph (e) of this section).

(c) Meaning of "beneficiaries succeeding to the property of the estate or trust." (1) The phrase "beneficiaries succeeding to the property of the estate or trust" shall include only those persons receiving amounts from an estate or trust which are not excluded under section 663 (a) (1) and the regulations thereunder (relating to gifts and bequests of a specific sum of money or of a specific property payable all at once or in not more than three installments). However, the phrase will not include the recipient of a widow's support allowance or dower.

(2) With reference to an intestate estate, the phrase will include the heirs and next of kin to whom the estate is distributed. In the case of a testate estate, it will include the residuary beneficiaries but not the specific legatees or devisees, the pecuniary or demonstrative legatees, or other nonresiduary beneficiaries. A residuary beneficiary normally receives all or a fractional share of the residue of the estate. Accordingly, the recipient of a specific sum of money or of specific property, even though payable out of the residue of the estate, will not be considered a residuary beneficiary for purposes of this subparagraph. The recipient of a fractional share of an estate under a statutory right of election will be considered a residuary beneficiary.

(3) An income beneficiary will not be considered in that capacity as a beneficiary succeeding to the property of an estate. A person who is named in a will as a beneficiary but who in fact receives no property in a capacity qualifying under this paragraph will not be considered as a beneficiary succeeding to the estate property.

(4) A person who qualifies as a beneficiary (as defined in subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph) with respect to one amount and does not so qualify with respect to another amount shall be deemed a beneficiary for purposes of this section as to the amount with respect to which he qualified.

(5) The principles discussed in this paragraph are equally applicable to trust beneficiaries. A remainderman of a trust who receives all or a fractional share of a trust residue as a result of the termination of a trust will be considered to be a beneficiary succeeding to the property of the trust. For example, if property is transferred to a trust to pay the income to A for life and then pay $10,000 to B and distribute the balance of the trust corpus to C, C and not B will be considered to be the succeeding beneficiary.

(d) Allocation. In the case of an estate, the carryovers and excess deductions shall be allocated among the beneficiaries succeeding to the property of the estate (see paragraph (c) of this section) proportionately according to the share of each in the property of the estate. For this purpose, property in the estate shall include only that property which would enable a person receiving it to qualify as a beneficiary under paragraph (c) of this section.

(e) Example. The application of this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. (1) A decedent dies January 31, 1954, leaving a will which provides for distributing all her estate equally to A and B. The period of administration of the estate terminates on December 31, 1954, at which time all the property of the estate is distributed to A and B. A reports his income for tax purposes on a calendar year basis, and B reports his income on the basis of a fiscal year ending August 31. During the period of the administration, the estate has the following items of income and deductions:

| Dividends | $2,000 |
| Interest | 500 |
| Business income | 3,000 |
| | 5,500 |
| Business expenses | 5,000 |
| Administrative expenses and corpus commissions | 9,800 |
| Total deductions | 14,800 |

It also has a capital loss of $5,000.

(2) Under section 642 (h) (1), an unused net operating loss carryover of the estate on termination of $2,000 will be allowable to: A to the extent of $1,000 for his taxable year 1954 and the next four taxable years in accordance with section 172; and to B to the extent of $1,000 for his taxable year ending August 31, 1955, and his next four taxable years. The amount of the net operating loss carryover is computed as follows:

| Deductions of estate for 1954 | $14,800 |
| Less adjustment under section 172 (d) (4) (deductions not attributable to a trade or business ($9,800) allowable only to extent of gross income not derived from such trade or business ($2,500)) | 7,300 |
| Deductions as adjusted | 7,500 |
| Gross income of estate for 1954 | 5,500 |
| Net operating loss of estate for 1954 (No deduction for capital loss of $5,000 under section 172 (d) (2).) | 2,000 |

Neither A nor B will be allowed to carry back any part of the net operating loss made available to them under this section.

(3) Under section 642 (h) (2), excess deductions of the estate of $7,300 will be allowed as a deduction to A to the extent of $3,650 for the calendar year 1954 and to B to the extent of $3,650 for the taxable year ending August 31, 1955. The deduction of $7,300 for administrative expenses and corpus commissions is the only amount which was not taken into account in determining the net operating loss of the estate ($9,800 of such expenses less $2,500 taken into account).

(4) Under section 642 (h) (1), there will be allowable to A a capital loss carryover of $2,500 for his taxable year 1955 and for his next four taxable years in accordance with section 1212. There will be allowable to B a similar capital loss carryover of $2,500 for his taxable year ending August 31, 1955, and his next four taxable years.

SEC. 642. Special rules for credits and deductions. * * *

(i) Cross reference. For disallowance of standard deduction in case of estates and trusts see section 142 (b) (4).

§ 1.642 (i)–1 Cross reference. See section 142 (b) (4) and regulations thereunder for disallowance of standard deduction in case of estates and trusts.

SEC. 643. Definitions applicable to subparts A, B, C, and D—(a) Distributable net income. For purposes of this part, the term "distributable net income" means, with respect to any taxable year, the taxable income of the estate or trust computed with the following modifications—

(1) Deduction for distributions. No deduction shall be taken under sections 651 and 661 (relating to additional deductions).

(2) Deduction for personal exemption. No deduction shall be taken under section 642 (b) (relating to deduction for personal exemptions).

(3) Capital gains and losses. Gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets shall be excluded to the extent that such gains are allocated to corpus and are not (A) paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year, or (B) paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c). Losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets shall be excluded, except to the extent such losses are taken into account in determining the amount of gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets which are paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year. The deduction under section 1202 (relating to deduction for excess of capital gains over capital losses) shall not be taken into account.

(4) Extraordinary dividends and taxable stock dividends. For purposes only of subpart B (relating to trusts which distribute current income only), there shall be excluded those items of gross income constituting extraordinary dividends or taxable stock dividends which the fiduciary, acting in good faith, does not pay or credit to any beneficiary by reason of his determination that such dividends are allocable to corpus under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law.

(5) Tax-exempt interest. There shall be included any tax-exempt interest to which section 103 appplies, reduced by any amounts which would be deductible in respect of disbursements allocable to such interest but for the provisions of section 265 (relating to disallowance of certain deductions).

(6) Foreign income. In the case of a foreign trust, there shall be included the amounts of gross income from sources without the United States, reduced by any amounts which would be deductible in respect of disbursements allocable to such income but for the provisions of section 265 (1) (relating to disallowance of certain deductions).

(7) Dividends. There shall be included the amount of any dividends excluded from gross income pursuant to section 116 (relating to partial exclusion of dividends received).

If the estate of trust is allowed a deduction under section 642 (c), the amount of the modifications specified in paragraphs (5) and (6) shall be reduced to the extent that the amount of income which is paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c) is deemed to consist of items specified in those paragraphs. For this purpose, such amount shall (in the absence of specific provisions in the governing instrument) be deemed to consist of the same proportion of each class of items of income of the estate or trust as the total of each class bears to the total of all classes.

§ 1.643 (a)–1 Distributable net income. The term "distributable net income" has no application except in the taxation of estates and trusts and their beneficiaries. It limits the deductions allowable to estates and trusts for amounts paid, credited, or required to be distributed to beneficiaries and is used to determine how much of an amount paid, credited, or required to be distributed to a beneficiary will be includible in his gross income. It is also used to determine the character of the distributions to the beneficiaries. Distributable net income means, with respect to any taxable year, the taxable income (as defined in section 63) of the estate or trust, computed with modifications set forth in §§ 1.643 (a)–2 through 1.643 (a)–7.

§ 1.643 (a)–2 Deduction for distributions. The deduction allowable to a trust under section 651 and to an estate or trust under section 661 for amounts paid, credited, or required to be distributed to beneficiaries shall not be allowed.

§ 1.643 (a)–3 Deduction for personal exemption. The deduction for personal exemption provided in section 642 (b) shall not be allowed.

§ 1.643 (a)–4 Capital gains and losses. (a) Gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets shall be excluded to the extent that such gains are allocated to corpus and are not—

(1) Paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year, or

(2) Paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c) (relating to charitable contributions deduction).

Thus, capital gains are not ordinarily considered as paid, credited, or required to be distributed unless they are—

(3) Allocated to income,

(4) Allocated to corpus and actually distributed to beneficiaries during the taxable year, or

(5) Utilized (pursuant to the terms of the governing instrument or the practice followed by the fiduciary) in determining the amount which is distributed or required to be distributed.

However, capital gains are not included in distributable net income if they are added to principal and are not paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year. If capital gains are paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c), so that a charitable deduction is allowed under that section in respect of the gains, they must be included in the computation of distributable net income.

(b) Losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets are excluded in computing distributable net income except to the extent that they enter into the determination of any capital gains that are paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year.

(c) The deduction under section 1202 shall be taken into account in computing distributable net income to the extent that it is allocable to capital gains which are paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c). See § 1.642 (c)–1 (b) to determine the extent to which the amount so paid, permanently set aside, or to be used consists of capital gains. The deduction for capital gains provided in section 1202 insofar as it is allocable to the remainder of the capital gains is not taken into account.

(d) The application of this section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). A trust is created to pay the income to A for life, with a discretionary power in the trustee to invade principal for A's benefit. In the taxable year, $10,000 is realized from the sale of securities at a profit, and $10,000 in excess of income is distributed to A. The capital gain will not ordinarily be included in distributable net income. However, if the trustee follows a regular practice of distributing the exact net proceeds of the sale of trust property, capital gains will be included in distributable net income.

Example (2). The trustee of a trust containing Blackacre and other property is directed to hold Blackacre for ten years, and then sell it and distribute its proceeds to A. Any capital gain realized from the sale of Blackacre will be included in distributable net income.

Example (3). A trust instrument directs that the income shall be paid to A, and that the principal shall be distributed to A when he reaches age 35. All capital gains realized in the year of final distribution will be included in distributable net income. (See § 1.641 (b)–1 (c) for the determination of the year of final distribution.)

§ 1.643 (a)–5 Extraordinary dividends and taxable stock dividends. In the case solely of a trust which qualifies under subpart B as a trust which distributes current income only, there shall be excluded such items of gross income as constitute extraordinary dividends (whether paid in cash or in kind) or taxable stock dividends as are not distributed or credited to a beneficiary because the fiduciary in good faith determines that under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law such dividends are allocable to corpus. See section 665 (d) and the regulations thereunder for the treatment of such dividends upon subsequent distribution.

§ 1.643 (a)–6 Tax-exempt interest and foreign income. (a) There shall be included any tax-exempt interest excluded from gross income under section 103, reduced by disbursements allocable to such interest which would have been deductible but for the provisions of section 265 (relating to disallowance of deductions allocable to tax-exempt income).

(b) In the case of a foreign trust, there shall be included gross income from sources without the United States, reduced by disbursements allocable to such foreign income which would have been deductible but for the provisions of section 265 (relating to disallowance of deductions allocable to tax-exempt income).

(c) If the estate or trust is allowed a charitable contributions deduction under section 642 (c), the amounts specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall be reduced by the portion deemed to be included in income paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c). If the governing instrument specifically provides as to the source out of which amounts are paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for such charitable purposes, such specific provisions shall control. In the absence of specific provisions in the governing instrument, an amount to which section 642 (c) applies shall be deemed to consist of the same proportion of each class of the items of income of the estate or trust as the total of each class bears to the total of all classes. For an illustration showing the determination of the character of an amount deductible under section 642 (c), see paragraph (e) of § 1.662 (Example).

§ 1.643 (a)–7 Dividends. Dividends excluded from gross income under section 116 (relating to partial exclusion of dividends received) shall be included. For this purpose, the adjustments required by § 1.643 (a)–6 with respect to sections 265 and 642 (c) shall not be made. See § 1.642 (c)–1 (b).

§ 1.643 (b) Statutory provisions: estates and trusts; definition of income.

SEC. 643. Definitions applicable to subparts A, B, C, and D. * * *

(b) Income. For purposes of this part and subparts B, C, and D, the term "income", when not preceded by the words "taxable", "distributable net", "undistributed net", or "gross", means the amount of income of the estate or trust for the taxable year determined under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law. Items of gross income constituting extraordinary dividends or taxable stock dividends which the fiduciary, acting in good faith, determines to be allocable to corpus under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law shall not be considered income.

§ 1.643 (b)–1 Definition of "income". (a) For purposes of subparts A, B, C, and D of part I, subchapter J, chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, the term "income", when not preceded by the words "taxable", "distributable net", "undistributed net", or "gross", means the amount of income of an estate or trust for the taxable year determined under the terms of its governing instrument and applicable local law. For example, if, under the terms of the governing instrument of Trust A or the applicable local law, capital gains are properly allocable to corpus, such gains constitute "corpus" and not "income" notwithstanding that they are includible in gross income of the trust for income tax purposes. However, if the trust instrument specifically provides that all capital gains are currently distributable to beneficiaries, such gains constitute "income".

(b) Extraordinary dividends or taxable stock dividends which the fiduciary, acting in good faith, determines to be allocable to corpus under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law shall not be considered "income" for purposes of subparts A, B, C, or D. See section 643 (a) (4), § 1.643 (a)–5, § 1.643 (Example), and section 665 (d) and the regulations thereunder for treatment of such item in the computation of distributable net income.

SEC. 643. Definitions applicable to subparts A, B, C, and D. * * *

(c) Beneficiary. For purposes of this part, the term "beneficiary" includes heir, legatee, devisee.

§ 1.643 (c)–1 Definition of "beneficiary". An heir, legatee, or devisee (including an estate or trust) is a beneficiary. The following persons are treated as beneficiaries:

(a) Any person with respect to an amount used to discharge or satisfy that person's legal obligation as that term is used in § 1.662 (a)–3 (c).

(b) The grantor of a trust with respect to an amount applied or distributed for the purpose specified in section 677 (b) out of corpus or out of other than income for the taxable year of the trust.

(c) The trustee or cotrustee of a trust with respect to an amount applied or distributed for the purpose specified in section 678 (c) out of corpus or out of other than income for the taxable year of the trust.

§ 1.643 (Example) Example. (a) The provisions of section 643 may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. (1) Under the terms of the trust instrument, the income of a trust is required to be currently distributed to W during her life. Capital gains are allocable to corpus and all expenses are charges against corpus. During the taxable year the trust has the following items of income and expenses:

| Dividends from domestic corporations | $30,000 |
| Extraordinary dividends allocated to corpus by the trustee in good faith | 20,000 |
| Taxable interest | 10,000 |
| Tax-exempt interest | 10,000 |
| Long-term capital gains | 10,000 |
| Trustee's commissions and miscellaneous expenses allocable to corpus | 5,000 |

(2) The "income" of the trust determined under section 643 (b) which is currently distributable to W is $50,000 consisting of dividends of $30,000, taxable interest of $10,000 and tax-exempt interest of $10,000. The trustee's commissions and miscellaneous expenses allocable to tax-exempt interest amount to $1,000 (10,000/50,000 × $5,000).

(3) The "distributable net income" determined under section 643 (a) amounts to $45,000, computed as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Dividends from domestic corporations | | $30,000 |
| Taxable interest | | 10,000 |
| Nontaxable interest | $10,000 | |
| Less: Expenses allocable thereto | 1,000 | 9,000 |
| Total | | 49,000 |
| Less: Expenses ($5,000 less $1,000 allocable to tax-exempt interest) | | 4,000 |
| Distributable net income | | 45,000 |

In determining the distributable net income of $45,000, the taxable income of the trust is computed with the following modifications: No deductions are allowed for distributions to W and for personal exemption of the trust (section 643 (a) (1) and (2)); capital gains allocable to corpus are excluded and the deduction allowable under section 1202 is not taken into account (section 643 (a) (3)); the extraordinary dividends allocated to corpus by the trustee in good faith are excluded (sections 643 (a) (4)); and the tax-exempt interest (as adjusted for expenses) and the dividend exclusion of $50 are included (section 643 (a) (5) and (7)).

(b) See § 1.661–1 (Example) (c) for the computation of distributable net income where there is a charitable contributions deduction.

TRUSTS WHICH DISTRIBUTE CURRENT INCOME ONLY

§ 1.651 (a) Statutory provisions; trusts which distribute current income only; deduction for amounts required to be distributed currently.

SEC. 651. Deduction for trusts distributing current income only—(a) Deduction. In the case of any trust the terms of which—

(1) Provide that all of its income is required to be distributed currently, and

(2) Do not provide that any amounts are to be paid, permanently set aside, or used for the purposes specified in section 642 (c) (relating to deduction for charitable, etc., purposes),

there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing the taxable income of the trust the amount of the income for the taxable year which is required to be distributed currently. This section shall not apply in any taxable year in which the trust distributes amounts other than amounts of income described in paragraph (1).

§ 1.651 (a)–1 Simple trusts; deduction for distributions—(a) General. Section 651 is applicable only to a trust which, under the terms of its governing instrument—

(1) Is required to distribute all of its income currently, and

(2) May not pay, permanently set aside, or use any amount for the charitable, etc., purposes specified in section 642 (c).

Section 651 shall not apply in any taxable year in which the trust distributes amounts other than amounts of income described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. A trust to which section 651 is applicable is referred to in this part as a "simple" trust. All trusts subject to section 661 shall be termed "complex" trusts.

(b) Income required to be distributed currently. (1) The determination of whether trust income is required to be distributed currently depends upon the terms of the trust instrument and the applicable local law. For this purpose, if the trust instrument provides that the trustee in determining the distributable income shall first retain a reserve for depreciation or otherwise make due allowance for keeping the trust corpus intact by retaining a reasonable amount of the current income for that purpose, the retention of current income for that purpose will not disqualify the trust from being a "simple" trust. The fiduciary must be under a duty to distribute the income currently even if, as a matter of practical necessity, the income is not distributed until after the close of the trust's taxable year. For example: Under the terms of the trust instrument, all of the income is currently distributable to A. The trust reports on the calendar year basis and as a matter of practical necessity makes distribution to A of each quarter's income on the fifteenth day of the month following the close of the quarter. The distribution made by the trust on January 15, 1955, of the income for the fourth quarter of 1954 does not disqualify the trust for treatment in 1955 under section 651, since the income is required to be distributed currently. For definition of the term "income" see section 643 (b) and § 1.643 (b)–1.

(2) It is immaterial, for purposes of determining whether all the income is required to be distributed currently, that the amount of income allocated to a particular beneficiary is not specified in the instrument. For example, if the fiduciary is required to distribute all the income currently, but has discretion to "sprinkle" the income among a class of beneficiaries, or among named beneficiaries in such amount as he may see fit, all the income is required to be distributed currently, even though the amount distributable to a particular beneficiary is unknown until the fiduciary has exercised his discretion.

(c) Distribution of amounts other than income. (1) A trust does not qualify for treatment under section 651 for any taxable year in which it actually distributes corpus. For example, a trust which is required to distribute all of its income currently would not qualify as a simple trust under section 651 in the year of its termination since in that year actual distributions of corpus would be made.

(2) A trust, otherwise qualifying under section 651, which is required under the terms of its governing instrument to make a distribution of corpus upon the happening of a specified event will be disqualified for treatment under such section only for the taxable year in which an actual distribution of corpus is made. For example: Under the terms of a trust, which is required to distribute all of its income currently, half of the corpus is to be distributed to beneficiary A when he becomes 30 years of age. The trust reports on the calendar year basis. On December 28, 1954, A becomes 30 years of age and the trustee distributes half of the corpus of the trust to him on January 3, 1955. The trust will be disqualified for treatment under section 651 only for the taxable year 1955, the year in which an actual distribution of corpus is made.

(3) See section 661 and the regulations thereunder for the treatment of trusts which distribute corpus or claim the deduction provided by section 642 (c).

(d) Estates. Subpart B has no application to an estate.

§ 1.651 (b) Statutory provisions; trusts which distribute current income only; limitation on deduction for amounts required to be distributed currently.

SEC. 651. Deduction for trusts distributing current income only. • • •

(b) Limitation on deduction. If the amount of income required to be distributed currently exceeds the distributable net income of the trust for the taxable year, the deduction shall be limited to the amount of the distributable net income. For this purpose, the computation of distributable net income shall not include items of income which are not included in the gross income of the trust and the deductions allocable thereto.

§ 1.651 (b)–1 Deduction for distributions to beneficiaries. In computing its taxable income, a simple trust is allowed a deduction for the amount of income which is required under the terms of the trust instrument to be distributed currently to beneficiaries. If the amount of income required to be distributed currently exceeds the distributable net income, the deduction allowable to the trust shall be limited to the amount of the distributable net income. For this purpose the amount of income required to be distributed currently, or distributable net income, whichever is applicable, shall not include items of trust income (and the deductions allocable thereto) which are not included in the gross income of the trust. For determination of the character of the income required to be distributed currently, see § 1.652 (b)–1 (b). Accordingly, for the purposes of determining the deduction allowable to the trust under section 651, distributable net income is computed without the modifications specified in paragraphs (5), (6), and (7) of section 643 (a). For example: Assume that the distributable net income of a trust as computed under section 643 (a) amounts to $99,000 but such amount includes nontaxable income of $9,000. Then distributable net income for the purpose of determining the deduction allowable under section 651 is $90,000 ($99,000 less $9,000 nontaxable income).

§ 1.652 (a) Statutory provisions; trusts which distribute current income only; inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries.

SEC. 652. Inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries of trusts distributing current income only—(a) Inclusion. Subject to subsection (b), the amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently by a trust described in section 651 shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiaries to whom the income is required to be distributed, whether distributed or not. If such amount exceeds the distributable net income, there shall be included in the gross income of each beneficiary an amount which bears the same ratio to distributable net income as the amount of income required to be distributed to such beneficiary bears to the amount of income required to be distributed to all beneficiaries.

§ 1.652 (a)–1 Simple trusts; inclusion of amounts in income of beneficiaries. (a) Subject to the rules in paragraph (b) of this section and in § 1.652 (b)–1, a beneficiary of a simple trust shall include in his gross income for the taxable year the amounts of income required to be distributed to him for such year, whether or not distributed. Thus, the income of a simple trust is includible in the beneficiary's gross income for the taxable year in which the income is required to be distributed currently even though, as a matter of practical necessity, the income is not distributed until after the close of the taxable year of the trust. See § 1.642 (a) (3)–1 (b) with respect to time of receipt of dividends. See § 1.652 (c)–1 for treatment of amounts required to be distributed where a beneficiary and the trust have different taxable years. With respect to amounts used to satisfy a legal obligation, see §§ 1.661 (a)–2 (d) and 1.662 (a)–4.

(b) If the amount of income required to be distributed currently to beneficiaries exceeds the distributable net income of the trust (as defined in section 643 (a)), each beneficiary shall include in his gross income an amount equivalent to his proportionate share of such distributable net income. Thus, if beneficiary A is to receive two-thirds of the trust income and B is to receive one-third, and the income required to be distributed currently is $99,000, A will receive $66,000 and B, $33,000. However, if the distributable net income, as determined under section 643 (a) is only $90,000, A will include two-thirds ($60,000) of that sum in his gross income, and B will include one-third ($30,000) in his gross income. See § 1.652 (b)–1, however, for amounts which are not includible in the gross income of a beneficiary because of their tax-exempt character.

SEC. 652. Inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries of trusts distributing current income only. • • •

(b) Character of amounts. The amounts specified in subsection (a) shall have the same character in the hands of the beneficiary as in the hands of the trust. For this purpose, the amounts shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into the computation of distributable net income of the trust as the total of each class bears to the total distributable net income of the trust, unless the terms of the trust specifically allocate different classes of income to different beneficiaries. In the application of the preceding sentence, the items of deduction entering into the computation of distributable net income shall be allocated among the items of distributable net income in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate.

§ 1.652 (b)–1 Character of amounts. (a) In determining the gross income of a beneficiary, the amounts includible under § 1.652 (a)–1 shall have the same character in the hands of the beneficiary as in the hands of the trust. For example, to the extent that the amounts specified in § 1.652 (a)–1 consist of income exempt from tax under section 103, such amounts shall not be included in the beneficiary's gross income. Similarly, dividends distributed to a beneficiary retain their original character in the beneficiary's hands for purposes of determining the availability to the beneficiary of the dividends received credit under section 34 and the dividend exclusion under section 116. The tax treatment of amounts determined under § 1.652 (a)–1 shall depend upon the beneficiary's status with respect to them, not upon the status of the trust. Thus, if a beneficiary is deemed to have received foreign income of a foreign trust, the includibility of such income in his gross income shall depend upon his taxable status with respect to such income.

(b) The amounts specified in § 1.652 (a)–1 which are required to be included in the gross income of the beneficiary shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into distributable net income of the trust (as defined in section 643 (a)) as the total of each class bears to such distributable net income, unless the terms of the trust specifically allocate different classes of income to different beneficiaries. For example: Assume that under the terms of the governing instrument, beneficiary A is to receive currently one-half of the trust income and beneficiaries B and C are each to receive currently one-quarter, and the distributable net income of the trust (after allocation of expenses) consists of dividends of $10,000, taxable interest of $10,000, and tax-exempt interest of $4,000. A will be deemed to have received $5,000 of dividends, $5,000 of taxable interest, and $2,000 of tax-exempt interest; B and C will each be deemed to have received $2,500 of dividends, $2,500 of taxable interest, and $1,000 of tax-exempt interest. However, if the terms of the trust specifically allocate different classes of income to different beneficiaries, each beneficiary will be deemed to have received those items of income specifically allocated to him.

(c) Items of deduction of the trust that enter into the computation of distributable net income are to be allocated among the items of income in accordance with the following principles:

(1) All expenditures directly attributable to one class of income (except dividends excluded under section 116) shall be allocated thereto. For example, repairs, to, taxes on, and other expenses directly attributable to the maintenance of rental property or the collection of rental income shall be allocated to rental income. See § 1.642 (e)–1 for treatment of depreciation of rental property. Similarly, all expenditures indirectly attributable to a business carried on by a trust shall be allocated to the income from such business. If the deductions directly attributable to a particular class of income exceed that income, such excess shall be applied against other classes of income in the manner provided in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph.

(2) The deductions which are not directly attributable to a specific class of income may be allocated to any item of income (including capital gains) included in computing distributable net income, but a proportion thereof must be allocated to nontaxable income (except dividends excluded under section 116) pursuant to section 265 and the regulations thereunder. For example, if the income of a trust is $30,000 (after direct expenses), consisting equally of $10,000 of dividends, tax-exempt interest, and rents, and income commissions amount to $3,000, one-third ($1,000) of such commissions should be allocated to tax-exempt interest, but the balance of $2,000 may be allocated to the rents or dividends in such proportions as the trustee may elect. The fact that the governing instrument or applicable local law treats certain items of deduction as attributable to income or corpus shall not affect allocation thereunder. For instance, if in the example set forth in this subparagraph the trust also had capital gains which are allocable to corpus under the terms of the trust instrument, no part of the deductions would be allocable thereto since the capital gains are excluded from the computation of distributable net income under section 643 (a) (3).

(3) Examples of expenses which are considered as not directly attributable to a specific class of income are trustee's commissions, the rental of safe deposit boxes, and State income and personal property taxes.

(4) To the extent that any items of deduction, which are directly attributable to a class of income, exceed that class of income, they may be allocated to any other class of income (including capital gains) included in distributable net income in the manner provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, except that any excess deductions attributable to tax-exempt income (other than dividends excluded under section 116) may not be offset against any other class of income. See section 265 and the regulations thereunder. Thus, if the trust has rents, taxable interest, dividends, and tax-exempt interest, and the deductions directly attributable to the rents exceed the rental income, the excess may be allocated to the taxable interest or dividends in such proportions as the fiduciary may elect. However, if the excess deductions are attributable to the tax-exempt interest, they may not be allocated to either the rents, taxable interest, or dividends.

SEC. 652. Inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries of trusts distributing current income only. • • •

(c) Different taxable years. If the taxable year of a beneficiary is different from that of the trust, the amount which the beneficiary is required to include in gross income in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be based upon the amount of income of the trust for any taxable year or years of the trust ending within or with his taxable year.

§ 1.652 (c)–1 Different taxable years. (a) If a beneficiary has a different taxable year (as defined in section 441 or 442) from the taxable year of the trust, the amount he is required to include in gross income in accordance with section 652 (a) and (b) shall be based on the income of the trust for any taxable year or years ending with or within his taxable year. This rule shall apply to taxable years of normal duration as well as to so-called short taxable years of the trust. Income of the trust for its taxable year or years shall be determined in accordance with its method of accounting and without regard to that of the beneficiary.

(b) If income is required to be distributed currently to a beneficiary, by a trust for a taxable year which does not end with or within the last taxable year of a beneficiary (because of the beneficiary's death), the extent to which the income shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary for his last taxable year, shall be determined by the computations under section 652 for the taxable year of the trust in which his last taxable year ends. Thus, the distributable net income of the taxable year of the trust shall determine the extent to which the income required to be distributed currently to the beneficiary shall be included in his gross income for his last taxable year. (Section 652 (c) does not apply to such amounts.) If the trust does not qualify as a simple trust for the taxable year of the trust in which the last taxable year of the beneficiary ends, see section 662 (c) and § 1.662–1 (c)–1.

(c) If the existence of a beneficiary which is not an individual terminates, the amount to be included under section 652 (a) in its gross income for its last taxable year shall be computed with reference to paragraphs (a) and (b) as if the beneficiary were a deceased individual.

§ 1.652 (Example). Example. The rules applicable to a trust required to distribute all of its income currently and to its beneficiaries may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. (a) Under the terms of a simple trust all of the income is to be distributed equally to beneficiaries A and B and capital gains are to be allocated to corpus. The trust and both beneficiaries file returns on the calendar year basis. No provision is made in the governing instrument with respect to depreciation. During the taxable year 1955, the trust had the following items of income and expense:

| Rents | $25,000 |
| Dividends of domestic corporations | 50,000 |
| Tax-exempt interest on municipal bonds | 25,000 |
| Long-term capital gains | 15,000 |
| Taxes and expenses directly attributable to rents | 5,000 |
| Trustee's commissions allocable to income account | 2,600 |
| Trustee's commissions allocable to principal account | 1,300 |
| Depreciation | 5,000 |

(b) The income of the trust for fiduciary accounting purposes is $92,400, computed as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Rents | | $25,000 |
| Dividends | | 50,000 |
| Tax-exempt interest | | 25,000 |
| Total | | 100,000 |
| Less: | | |
| Expenses directly attributable to rental income | $5,000 | |
| Trustee's commissions allocable to income account | 2,600 | |
| | | 7,600 |
| Income computed under section 643 (b) | | 92,400 |

One-half ($46,200) of the income of $92,400 is currently distributable to each beneficiary.

(c) The distributable net income of the trust computed under section 643 (a) is $91,100, determined as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Rents | | $25,000 |
| Dividends | | 50,000 |
| Tax-exempt interest | $25,000 | |
| Less: Expenses allocable thereto (25,000/100,000 × $3,900) | 975 | |
| | | 24,025 |
| Total | | 99,025 |
| Deductions: | | |
| Expenses directly attributable to rental income | $5,000 | |
| Trustee's commissions ($3,900 less $975 allocable to tax-exempt interest) | 2,925 | |
| | | 7,925 |
| Distributable net income | | 91,100 |

In computing the distributable net income of $91,100, the taxable income of the trust was computed with the following modifications: No deductions were allowed for distributions to the beneficiaries and for personal exemption of the trust (section 643 (a) (1) and (2)); capital gains were excluded and no deduction under section 1202 (relating to the 50 percent deduction for long-term capital gains) was taken into account (section 643 (a) (3)); the tax-exempt interest (as adjusted for expenses) and the dividend exclusion of $50 were included (section 643 (a) (5) and (7)). Since all of the income of the trust is required to be currently distributed, no deduction is allowable for depreciation in the absence of specific provisions in the governing instrument providing for the keeping of the trust corpus intact. See section 167 (g) and the regulations thereunder.

(d) The deduction allowable to the trust under section 651 (a) for distributions to the beneficiaries is $67,025, computed as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Distributable net income computed under section 643 (a) (see paragraph (c)) | | $91,100 |
| Less: | | |
| Tax-exempt interest as adjusted | $24,025 | |
| Dividend exclusion | 50 | |
| | | 24,075 |
| Distributable net income as determined under section 651 (b) | | 67,025 |

Since the amount of the income ($92,400) required to be distributed currently by the trust exceeds the distributable net income ($67,025) as computed under section 651 (b), the deduction allowable under section 651 (a) is limited to the distributable net income of $67,025.

(e) The taxable income of the trust is $7,200 computed as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Dividends ($50,000 less $50 exclusion) | | 49,950 |
| Long-term capital gains | | 15,000 |
| Gross income | | 89,950 |
| Deductions: | | |
| Rental expenses | $5,000 | |
| Trustee's commissions | 2,925 | |
| Capital gain deduction | 7,500 | |
| Distributions to beneficiaries | 67,025 | |
| Personal exemption | 300 | |
| | | 82,750 |
| Taxable income | | 7,200 |

The trust is not allowed a deduction for the portion ($975) of the trustee's commissions allocable to tax-exempt interest in computing its taxable income.

(f) In determining the character of the amounts includible in the gross income of A and B, it is assumed that the trustee elects to allocate to rents the expenses not directly attributable to a specific item of income other than the portion ($975) of such expenses allocated to tax-exempt interest. The allocation of expenses among the items of income is shown below:

| | Rents | Dividends | Tax-exempt interest | Total |
| Income for trust accounting purposes | $25,000 | $50,000 | $25,000 | $100,000 |
| Less: | | | | |
| Rental expenses | 5,000 | | | 5,000 |
| Trustee's commissions | 2,925 | | 975 | 3,900 |
| Total deductions | 7,925 | 0 | 975 | 8,900 |
| Character of amounts in the hands of the beneficiaries | 17,075 | 50,000 | 24,025 | [1] 91,100 |

[1] Distributable net income.

Inasmuch as the income of the trust is to be distributed equally to A and B, each is deemed to have received one-half of each item of income; that is, rents of $8,537.50, dividends of $25,000, and tax-exempt interest of $12,012.50. The dividends of $25,000 allocated to each beneficiary are to be commingled with his other dividends (if any) for purposes of the dividend exclusion provided by section 116 and the dividend received credit allowed under section 34. Also, each beneficiary is allowed a deduction of $2,500 for depreciation of rental property attributable to the portion (one-half) of the income of the trust distributed to him.

ESTATES AND TRUSTS WHICH MAY ACCUMULATE INCOME OR WHICH DISTRIBUTE CORPUS

§ 1.661 (a) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts accumulating income or distributing corpus; deduction for amounts required to be distributed currently and other amounts distributed.

SEC. 661. Deduction for estates and trusts accumulating income or distributing corpus—(a) Deduction. In any taxable year there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing the taxable income of an estate or trust (other than a trust to which subpart B applies), the sum of—

(1) Any amount of income for such taxable year required to be distributed currently (including any amount required to be distributed which may be paid out of income or corpus to the extent such amount is paid out of income for such taxable year); and

(2) Any other amounts properly paid or credited or required to be distributed for such taxable year;

but such deduction shall not exceed the distributable net income of the estate or trust.

§ 1.661 (a)–1 Estates and trusts accumulating income or distributing corpus; general. Subpart C of part I, subchapter J, chapter 1, of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 is applicable to trusts and their beneficiaries other than those subject to the provisions of subpart B of part I (relating to trusts which distribute current income only) and to estates and their beneficiaries. See § 1.641–1. Thus, subpart C (and not subpart B), is applicable to a trust which under the trust instrument (a) is not required to distribute all of its income currently; (b) properly pays, permenantly sets aside, or uses any amounts for the charitable, etc., purposes specified in section 642 (c); or (c) pays, credits, or is required to distribute amounts other than income during the taxable year. However, a trust which is required to distribute amounts other than income during the taxable year may be subject to subpart B, and not subpart C, in the absence of an actual distribution of amounts other than income during the taxable year. See § 1.651 (a)–1 (c). A trust to which subpart C is applicable is referred to as a "complex" trust in this part.

§ 1.661 (a)–2 Deduction for distributions to beneficiaries. (a) In computing the taxable income of an estate or trust there shall be allowed under section 661 (a) as a deduction for distributions to beneficiaries the sum of—

(1) The amount of income for the taxable year which is required to be distributed currently, and

(2) Any other amounts properly paid or credited or required to be distributed for such taxable year.

However, the total amount deductible under section 661 (a) shall not exceed the distributable net income as computed under section 643 (a) and as modified by section 661 (c). See § 1.661 (c)–1.

(b) The term "income required to be distributed currently" includes any amount required to be distributed which may be paid out of income or corpus (such as an annuity), to the extent such amount is paid out of income for the taxable year. See § 1.651 (a)–1 (b) which sets forth additional rules which are applicable in determining whether income of an estate or trust is required to be distributed currently.

(c) The term "any other amounts properly paid or credited or required to be distributed" includes all amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed by an estate or trust during the taxable year other than income required to be distributed currently. Thus, the term includes the payment of a widow's allowance, the payment of an annuity to the extent it is not paid out of income for the taxable year, and a distribution of property in kind. See section 663 (a) and regulations thereunder for distributions which are not included. Where the income of an estate or trust may be accumulated or distributed in the discretion of the fiduciary, or where the fiduciary has a power to distribute corpus to the beneficiary, any such discretionary distribution would qualify under section 661 (a) (2). The term also includes an amount applied or distributed for the purpose specified in section 677 (b) or section 678 (c) out of corpus or out of other than income for the taxable year.

(d) The terms "income required to be distributed currently" and "any other amounts properly paid or credited or required to be distributed" also include any amount used to discharge or satisfy any person's legal obligation as that term is used in § 1.662 (a)–4.

SEC. 661. Deduction for estates and trusts accumulating income or distributing corpus. • • •

(b) Character of amounts distributed. The amount determined under subsection (a) shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into the computation of distributable net income of the estate or trust as the total of each class bears to the total distributable net income of the estate or trust in the absence of the allocation of different classes of income under the specific terms of the governing instrument. In the application of the preceding sentence, the items of deduction entering into the computation of distributable net income (including the deduction allowed under section 642 (c)) shall be allocated among the items of distributable net income in accordance with the regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate.

§ 1.661 (b)–1 Character of amounts distributed. (a) In the absence of specific provisions in the governing instrument for the allocation of different classes of income, the amount deductible for distributions to beneficiaries under section 661 (a) shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into the computation of distributable net income as the total of each class bears to the total distributable net income. For example, if a trust has distributable net income of $20,000, consisting of $10,000 each of taxable interest and royalties and distributes $10,000 to beneficiary A, the deduction of $10,000 allowable under section 661 (a) will be deemed to consist of $5,000 each of taxable interest and royalties, unless the trust instrument specifically provides for the distribution or accumulation of different classes of income. See also § 1.661 (c)–1.

(b) In the application of the rule stated in paragraph (a), the items of deduction which enter into the computation of distributable net income shall be allocated among the items of distributable net income in accordance with the rules set forth in § 1.652 (b)–1 (c), except that, in the absence of specific provisions in the governing instrument, amounts paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the charitable, etc., purposes specified in section 642 (c) shall first be ratably apportioned among each class of items of income entering into the computation of the distributable net income of the estate or trust, in accordance with the rules set out in § 1.643 (a)–6 (c).

SEC. 661. Deduction for estates and trusts accumulating income or distributing corpus. • • •

(c) Limitation on deduction. No deduction shall be allowed under subsection (a) in respect of any portion of the amount allowed as a deduction under that subsection (without regard to this subsection) which is treated under subsection (b) as consisting of any item of distributable net income which is not included in the gross income of the estate or trust.

§ 1.661 (c)–1 Limitation on deduction. An estate or trust is not allowed a deduction under section 661 (a) for any amount which is treated under section 661 (b) as consisting of any item of distributable net income which is not included in the gross income of the estate or trust. For example, if a trust has distributable net income of $20,000, which is deemed to consist of $10,000 of dividends and $10,000 of tax-exempt interest, and distributes $10,000 to beneficiary A, the deduction allowable under section 661 (a) (computed without regard to section 661 (c)) would amount to $10,000 consisting of $5,000 of dividends and $5,000 of tax-exempt interest. The deduction actually allowable under section 661 (a) as limited by section 661 (c) is $4,975, since no deduction is allowable for the $5,000 of tax-exempt interest and the $25 deemed distributed out of the $50 of dividends excluded under section 116, items of distributable net income which are not included in the gross income of the estate or trust.

§ 1.661 (Example) Example. The provisions of section 661 may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. (a) Under the terms of a trust, which reports on the calendar year basis, $10,000 a year is required to be paid out of income to a designated charity. The balance of the income may, in the trustee's discretion, be accumulated or distributed to beneficiary A. Expenses are allocable against income and the trust instrument provides for the keeping of the trust corpus intact. During the taxable year 1955 the trustee contributes $10,000 to charity and in his discretion distributes $15,000 of income to A. The trust has the following items of income and expense for the taxable year 1955:

| Dividends | $10,000 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest | 10,000 |
| Fully tax-exempt interest | 10,000 |
| Rents | 20,000 |
| Rental expenses | 2,000 |
| Depreciation of rental property | 3,000 |
| Trustee's commissions | 5,000 |

(b) The income of the trust for fiduciary accounting purposes is $40,000, computed as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Dividends | | $10,000 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest | | 10,000 |
| Fully tax-exempt interest | | 10,000 |
| Rents | | 20,000 |
| Total | | 50,000 |
| Less: | | |
| Rental expenses | $2,000 | |
| Depreciation | 3,000 | |
| Trustee's commissions | 5,000 | |
| | | 10,000 |
| Income as computed under section 643 (b) | | 40,000 |

(c) The distributable net income of the trust as computed under section 643 (a) is $30,000, determined as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Rents | | $20,000 |
| Dividends | | 10,000 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest | | 10,000 |
| Fully tax-exempt interest | $10,000 | |
| Less: | | |
| Expenses allocable thereto (5,000/50,000 × $10,000) | $1,000 | |
| Charitable contributions allocable thereto (10,000/50,000 × $10,000) | 2,000 | |
| | 3,000 | |
| | | 7,000 |
| Total | | 47,000 |
| Deductions: | | |
| Rental expenses | $2,000 | |
| Depreciation of rental property | 3,000 | |
| Trustee's commissions ($5,000 less $1,000 allocated to tax-exempt interest) | 4,000 | |
| Charitable contributions ($10,000 less $2,000 allocated to tax-exempt interest) | 8,000 | |
| | | 17,000 |
| Distributable net income (section 643 (a)) | | 30,000 |

(d) The character of the amounts distributed under section 661 (a), determined in accordance with the rules prescribed in § 1.661 (b)-1, is shown by the following table (for the purpose of this allocation, it is assumed that the trustee elected to allocate the trustee's commissions to rental income except for the amount required to be allocated to tax-exempt interest):

| | Rental income | Taxable dividends | Excluded dividends | Partially tax-exempt interest | Tax-exempt interest |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Trust income | $20,000 | $9,950 | $50 | $10,000 | $10,000 |
| Less: | | | | | |
| Charitable contributions | 4,000 | 2,000 | | 2,000 | 2,000 |
| Rental expenses | 2,000 | | | | |
| Depreciation | 3,000 | | | | |
| Trustee's commissions | 4,000 | | | | 1,000 |
| Total deductions | 13,000 | 2,000 | 0 | 2,000 | 3,000 |
| Amounts deemed distributed under section 661 (a) | 3,500 | 3,975 | 25 | 4,000 | 3,500 |

In the absence of specific provisions in the trust instrument for the allocation of different classes of income, the charitable contribution is deemed to consist of a pro rata portion of the gross amount of each item of income of the trust, except the dividends excluded under section 116, and the trust is deemed to have distributed to A a pro rata portion (one-half) of each item of income included in distributable net income.

(e) The taxable income of the trust is $11,375 computed as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Rental income | | $20,000 |
| Dividends ($10,000 less $50 exclusion) | | 9,950 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest | | 10,000 |
| Gross income | | 39,950 |
| Deductions: | | |
| Rental expenses | $2,000 | |
| Depreciation of rental property | 3,000 | |
| Trustee's commissions | 4,000 | |
| Charitable contributions | 8,000 | |
| Distributions to A | 11,475 | |
| Personal exemption | 100 | |
| | | 28,575 |
| Taxable income | | 11,375 |

In computing the taxable income of the trust no deduction is allowable for the portions of the charitable contributions deduction ($2,000) and trustee's commissions ($1,000) which are treated under section 661 (b) as attributable to the tax-exempt interest excludable from gross income. Also, of the dividends of $4,000 deemed to have been distributed to A under section 661 (a), $25 (25/50ths of $50) is deemed to have been distributed from the excluded dividends and is not an allowable deduction to the trust. Accordingly, the deduction allowable under section 661 is deemed to be composed of $3,500 rental income, $3,975 of dividends, and $4,000 partially tax-exempt interest. No deduction is allowable for the portion of tax-exempt interest or for the portion of the excluded dividends deemed to have been distributed to the beneficiary.

(f) The trust is entitled to the credit allowed by section 34 with respect to dividends of $3,975 ($9,950 less $2,000 deemed contributed to charity and $3,975 distributed to A) included in gross income. Also, the trust is allowed the credit provided by section 35 with respect to partially tax-exempt interest of $4,000 ($10,000 less $2,000 deemed contributed to charity and $4,000 deemed distributed to A) included in gross income.

§ 1.662 (a) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts which may accumulate income or which distribute corpus; inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries.

SEC. 662. Inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries of estates and trusts accumulating income or distributing corpus—(a) Inclusion. Subject to subsection (b), there shall be included in the gross income of a beneficiary to whom an amount specified in section 661 (a) is paid, credited, or required to be distributed (by an estate or trust described in section 661), the sum of the following amounts:

(1) Amounts required to be distributed currently. The amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently to such beneficiary, whether distributed or not. If the amount of income required to be distributed currently to all beneficiaries exceeds the distributable net income (computed without the deduction allowed by section 642 (c), relating to deduction for charitable, etc., purposes) of the estate or trust, then, in lieu of the amount provided in the preceding sentence, there shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary an amount which bears the same ratio to distributable net income (as so computed) as the amount of income required to be distributed currently to such beneficiary bears to the amount required to be distributed currently to all beneficiaries. For purposes of this section, the phrase "the amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently" includes any amount required to be paid out of income or corpus to the extent such amount is paid out of income for such taxable year.

(2) Other amounts distributed. All other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to such beneficiary for the taxable year. If the sum of—

(A) The amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently to all beneficiaries, and

(B) All other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to all beneficiaries exceeds the distributable net income of the estate or trust, then, in lieu of the amount provided in the preceding sentence, there shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary an amount which bears the same ratio to distributable net income (reduced by the amounts specified in (A)) as the other amounts properly paid, credited or required to be distributed to the beneficiary bear to the other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to all beneficiaries.

§ 1.662 (a)-1 Inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries of estates and complex trusts; general. There shall be included in the gross income of a beneficiary of an estate or complex trust the sum of—

(a) Amounts of income required to be distributed currently to him, and by the estate or trust. The preceding sentence is subject to the rules contained in § 1.662 (a)-2 (relating to currently distributable income), § 1.662 (a)-3 (relating to other amounts distributed), and § 1.662 (b)-1 (relating to character of amounts).

(b) All other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to him.

§ 1.662 (a)-2 Currently distributable income. (a) There shall first be included in the gross income of each beneficiary under section 662 (a) (1) the amount of income for the taxable year of the estate or trust required to be distributed currently to him, subject to the provisions of paragraph (b). Such amount shall be included in the beneficiary's gross income, whether or not it is actually distributed.

(b) If the amount of income required to be distributed currently to all beneficiaries exceeds the distributable net income (as defined in section 643 (a) but computed without taking into account the payment, crediting, or setting aside of an amount for which a charitable contributions deduction is allowable under section 642 (c)) to the estate or trust, then there shall be included in the gross income of each beneficiary an amount which bears the same ratio to distributable net income (as so computed) as the amount of income required to be distributed currently to the beneficiary bears to the amount required to be distributed currently to all beneficiaries.

(c) The phrase "the amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently" includes any amount required to be paid out of income or corpus to the extent the amount is satisfied out of income for the taxable year. Thus, an annuity required to be paid in all events (either out of income or corpus) would qualify as income required to be distributd currently to the extent it is paid out of income (as defined in section 643 (b)) for the taxable year. If an annuity or a portion of an annuity is deemed under this paragraph to be income required to be distributed currently, it shall be treated in all respects in the same manner as an amount of income actually required to be distributed currently.

(d) If an annuity is paid, credited, or required to be distributed tax free, that is, under a provision whereby the executor or trustee will pay the income tax of the annuitant resulting from the recipt of the annuity, the payment of or for the tax by the executor or trustee will be income to the annuitant to the extent it is made out of income.

(e) The application of the rules stated in this section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). (1) Assume that under the terms of the trust instrument $5,000 is to be paid to X charity out of income each year; that $20,000 of income is currently distributable to A; and that an annuity of $12,000 is to be paid to B out of income or corpus. All expenses are charges against income and capital gains are allocable to corpus. During the taxable year the trust had income of $30,000 (after the payment of expenses) derived from taxable interest and made the payments to X charity and distributions to A and B as required by the governing instrument.

(2) The amounts treated as distributed currently under section 662 (a) (1) total $25,000 ($20,000 to A and $5,000 to B). Since the charitable contribution is out of income, the amount of income available for B's annuity is only $5,000. The distributable net income of the trust computed under section 643 (a) without taking into consideration the charitable contributions deduction of $5,000 as provided by section 661 (a) (1), is $30,000. Since the amounts treated as distributed currently of $25,000 do not exceed the distributable net income (as modified) of $30,000, A is required to include $20,000 in his gross income and B is required to include $5,000 in his gross income under section 662 (a) (1).

Example (2). Assume the same facts as in paragraph (1) of example (1), above, except that the trust has, in addition, $10,000 of administration expenses, commissions, etc., chargeable to corpus. The amounts treated as distributed currently under section 662 (a) (1) total $25,000 ($20,000 to A and $5,000 to B), since trust income under section 643 (b) remains the same as in example (1). Distributable net income of the trust computed under section 643 (a) but without taking into account the charitable contributions deduction of $5,000 as provided by section 662 (a) (1) is only $20,000. Since the amounts treated as distributed currently of $25,000 exceed the distributable net income (as so computed) of $20,000, A is required to include $16,000 (20,000/25,000 of $20,000) in his gross income and B is required to include $4,000 (5,000/25,000 of $20,000) in his gross income under section 662 (a) (1).

§ 1.662 (a)-3 Other amounts distributed. (a) There shall be included in the gross income of a beneficiary under section 662 (a) (2) any amount (other than income required to be distributed currently, as determined under § 1.662 (a)-2 and other than amounts excluded under section 663 (a) and the regulations thereunder) properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to such beneficiary for the taxable year, subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section. An amount which is credited or required to be distributed, shall be included in the gross income of a beneficiary whether or not it is actually distributed. Some of the payments included in this category are: (1) A distribution made to a beneficiary in the discretion of the fiduciary; (2) a distribution required by the terms of the governing instrument upon the happening of a specified event; (3) an annuity which is required to be paid in all events but which is payable only out of corpus; (4) a widow's allowance; (5) a distribution of property in kind; and (6) an amount applied or distributed for the purpose specified in section 677 (b) or section 678 (c) out of corpus or out of other than income for the taxable year.

(b) If the sum of the amounts of income required to be distributed currently (as determined under § 1.662 (a)-2) and other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed (as determined under paragraphs (a) and (e)) exceeds distributable net income (as defined in section 643 (a)), then such other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed shall be included in gross income of the beneficiary but only to the extent of the excess of such distributable net income over the amounts of income required to be distributed currently. If the other amounts are paid, credited, or required to be distributed to more than one beneficiary, each beneficiary shall include in gross income his proportionate share of the amount includible in gross income pursuant to the preceding sentence. The proportionate share shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to distributable net income (reduced by amounts of income required to be distributed currently) as the other amounts (as determined under paragraphs (a) and (c) of this section) distributed to the beneficiary bear to the other amounts distributed to all beneficiaries. For treatment of excess distributions by trusts, see sections 665 to 668, inclusive, and the regulations thereunder.

(c) The application of the rules stated in this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. The terms of a trust require the distribution annually of $10,000 of income to A. If any income remains, it may be accumulated or distributed to B, C, and D in amounts in the trustee's discretion. He may also invade corpus for the benefit of A, B, C, or D. In the taxable year, the trust has $20,000 of income after the deduction of all expenses. Distributable net income is $20,000. The trustee distributes $10,000 of income to A. Of the remaining $10,000 of income, he distributes $3,000 each to B, C, and D, and also distributes an additional $5,000 to A. A includes $10,000 in income under section 662 (a) (1). The "other amounts distributed" amount to $14,000, includible in the income of the recipients to the extent of $10,000, distributable net income less the income currently distributable to A. A will include an additional $3,571 (5,000/14,000×$10,000) in income under this section, and B, C, and D will each include $2,143 (3,000/14,000×$10,000).

§ 1.662 (a)-4 Amounts used in discharge of a legal obligation. Any amount which, pursuant to the terms of a will or trust instrument, may be used in full or partial discharge or satisfaction of a legal obligation of any person shall, to the extent so used, be included in the gross income of such person under section 662 (a) (1) or (2), whichever is applicable as though directly distributed to him as a beneficiary, except in cases to which section 215 or section 682 applies. The term "legal obligation" includes a legal obligation to support another person if, and only if, the obligation is not affected by the adequacy of the dependent's own resources. For example, a parent has a "legal obligation" within the meaning of the preceding sentence to support his minor child if under local law property or income from property owned by the child cannot be used for his support so long as his parent is able to support him. On the other hand, if under local law a mother may use the resources of a child for the child's support in lieu of supporting him herself, no obligation of support exists within the meaning of this paragraph, whether or not income is actually used for support. Similarly, if under local law a child is obligated to support his parent only if the parent's earnings and resources are insufficient for the purpose, no obligation exists. In any event, the amount of trust income which is included in the gross income of a person obligated to support a dependent is limited by the extent of his legal obligation under local law. Normally, in the case of a parent's obligation to support his child, the extent of the parent's legal obligation of support, including education, will be determined by the family's station in life and by the means of the parent without consideration of the trust income in question.

§ 1.662 (b) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts which may accumulate income or which distribute corpus; character of amounts in the hands of beneficiaries.

SEC. 662. Inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries of estates and trusts accumulating income or distributing corpus. • • •

(b) Character of amounts. The amounts determined under subsection (a) shall have the same character in the hands of the beneficiary as in the hands of the estate or trust. For this purpose, the amounts shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into the computation of distributable net income as the total of each class bears to the total distributable net income of the estate or trust unless the terms of the governing instrument specifically allocate different classes of income to different beneficiaries. In the application of the preceding sentence, the items of deduction entering into the computation of distributable net income (including the deduction allowed under section 642 (c)) shall be allocated among the items of distributable net income in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate. In the application of this subsection to the amount determined under paragraph (1) of subsection (a), distributable net income shall be computed without regard to any portion of the deduction under section 642 (c) which is not attributable to income of the taxable year.

§ 1.662 (b)-1 Character of amounts—(a) Where no charitable contributions are made. In determining the amount includible in the gross income of a beneficiary, the amounts which are determined under section 662 (a) and §§ 1.662 (a)-1 through 1.662 (a)-3 shall have the same character in the hands of the beneficiary as in the hands of the estate or trust. The amounts shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into the computation of distributable net income as the total of each class bears to the total distributable net income of the estate or trust unless the terms of the governing instrument specifically allocate different classes of income to different beneficiaries. For this purpose the principles contained in § 1.652 (b)-1 shall apply.

(b) Where charitable contributions are made. Where a charitable contribution is made, the principles contained in § 1.652 (b)-1 and paragraph (a) of this section shall generally apply. However, prior to the allocation of deductions among the items of distributable net income, the charitable contributions deduction allowed under section 642 (c) shall (in the absence of specific allocation under the terms of the governing instrument) be allocated among the classes of income entering into the computation of estate or trust income in accordance with the rules set forth in § 1.643 (a)-6 (c). Allocations made in accordance with this section shall not be affected by the fact that for purposes only of section 662 (a) (1) distributable net income is computed without regard to the charitable contributions deduction; such an adjustment shall not be made for purposes of this section. For purposes of this section, however, distributable net income shall be computed without regard to any portion of the allowable charitable contributions deduction which is not attributable to income or gain of the taxable year.

§ 1.662 (c) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts which may accumulate income or which distribute corpus; different taxable years.

SEC. 662. Inclusion of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries of estates and trusts accumulating income or distributing corpus. • • •

(c) Different taxable years. If the taxable year of a beneficiary is different from that of the estate or trust, the amount to be included in the gross income of the beneficiary shall be based on the distributable net income of the estate or trust and the amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to the beneficiary during any taxable year or years of the estate or trust ending within or with his taxable year.

§ 1.662 (c)–1 Different taxable years. (a) If a beneficiary has a different taxable year (as defined in section 441 or 442) from the taxable year of an estate or trust, the amount he is required to include in gross income in accordance with section 662 (a) and (b) shall be based upon the distributable net income of the estate or trust and the amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to the beneficiary for any taxable year or years of the estate or trust ending with or within his taxable year. This rule shall apply as to taxable years of normal duration as well as so-called short taxable years of an estate or trust. Income of an estate or trust for its taxable year or years shall be determined in accordance with its method of accounting and without regard to that of the beneficiary.

(b) If an amount specified in section 662 (a) (1) or (2) is paid, credited, or required to be distributed by a trust or estate for a taxable year which does not end with or within the last taxable year of a beneficiary (because of the beneficiary's death), the extent to which the amount shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary for his last taxable year shall be determined by the computations under section 662 for the taxable year of the trust or estate in which his last taxable year ends. Thus, the distributable net income (and the amounts paid, credited, or required to be distributed) for the taxable year of the trust or estate, shall determine the extent to which the amounts paid, credited, or required to be distributed to the beneficiary shall be included in his gross income for his last taxable year. (Section 662 (c) does not apply to such amounts.)

(c) If the existence of a beneficiary which is not an individual terminates, the amount to be included under section 662 (a) in its gross income for the last taxable year shall be computed with reference to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section as if the beneficiary were a deceased individual.

§ 1.662 (Example) Example. The provisions of sections 661 and 662 may be illustrated in general by the following example:

Example. (a) Under the terms of a testamentary trust one-half of the trust income is to be distributed currently to W, the decedent's wife, for her life. The remaining trust income may, in the trustee's discretion, either be paid to D, the grantor's daughter, paid to designated charities, or accumulated. The trust is to terminate at the death of W and the principal will then be payable to D. No provision is made in the trust instrument with respect to depreciation of rental property. Capital gains are allocable to the principal account under the applicable local law. The trust and both beneficiaries file returns on the calendar year basis. The records of the fiduciary show the following items of income and deduction for the taxable year 1955:

|---|---|
| Rents | $50,000 |
| Dividends of domestic corporations | 50,000 |
| Tax-exempt interest | 20,000 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest | 10,000 |
| Capital gains (long term) | 20,000 |
| Depreciation of rental property | 10,000 |
| Expenses attributable to rental income | 15,400 |
| Trustee's commissions allocable to income account | $2,800 |
| Trustee's commissions allocable to principal account | 1,100 |

(b) The income for trust accounting purposes is $111,800, and the trustee distributes one-half ($55,900) to W and in his discretion makes a contribution of one-quarter ($27,950) to charity X and distributes the remaining one-quarter ($27,950) to D. The total of the distributions to beneficiaries is $83,850, consisting of (1) income required to be distributed currently to W of $55,900 and (2) other amounts properly paid or credited to D of $27,950. The income for trust account purposes of $111,800 is determined as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Rents | | $50,000 |
| Dividends | | 50,000 |
| Tax-exempt interest | | 20,000 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest | | 10,000 |
| Total | | 130,000 |
| Less: | | |
| Rental expenses | $15,400 | |
| Trustee's commissions allocable to income account | 2,800 | |
| | | 18,200 |
| Income as computed under section 643 (b) | | 111,800 |

(c) The distributable net income of the trust as computed under section 643 (a) is $82,750, determined as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Rents | | $50,000 |
| Dividends | | 50,000 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest | | 10,000 |
| Tax-exempt interest | | $20,000 |
| Less: | | |
| Trustee's commissions allocable thereto (20,000/130,000 of $3,900) | $600 | |
| Charitable contributions allocable thereto (20,000/130,000 of $27,950) | 4,300 | |
| | 4,900 | |
| | | 15,100 |
| Total | | 125,100 |
| Deductions: | | |
| Rental expenses | | $15,400 |
| Trustee's commissions ($3,900 less $600 allocated to tax-exempt interest) | | 3,300 |
| Charitable deduction ($27,950 less $4,300 attributable to tax-exempt interest) | | 23,650 |
| Distributable net income | | 82,750 |

In computing the distributable net income of $82,750, the taxable income of the trust was computed with the following modifications: No deductions were allowed for distributions to beneficiaries and for personal exemption of the trust (section 643 (a) (1) and (2)); capital gains were excluded and no deduction under section 1202 (relating to the 50 percent deduction for long-term capital gains) was taken into account (section 643 (a) (3)); and the tax-exempt interest (as adjusted for expenses and charitable contributions) and the dividend exclusion of $50 were included (section 643 (a) (5) and (7)).

(d) Inasmuch as the distributable net income of $82,750 as determined under section 643(a) is less than the sum of the amounts distributed to W and D of $83,850, the deduction allowable to the trust under section 661 (a) is such distributable net income as modified under section 661 (c) to exclude therefrom the items of income not included in the gross income of the trust, as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Distributable net income | | $82,750 |
| Less: | | |
| Tax-exempt interest (as adjusted for expenses and the charitable contributions) | $15,100 | |
| Dividend exclusion allowable under section 116 | 50 | |
| | | 15,150 |
| Deduction allowable under section 661 (a) | | 67,600 |

(e) For the purpose of determining the character of the amounts deductible under section 642 (c) and section 661 (a), the trustee elected to offset the trustee's commissions (other than the portion required to be allocated to tax-exempt interest) against the rental income. The following table shows the determination of the character of the amounts deemed distributed to beneficiaries and contributed to charity:

| | Rents | Taxable dividends | Excluded dividends | Tax-exempt interest | Partially tax-exempt interest | Total |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Trust income | $50,000 | $49,950 | $50 | $20,000 | $10,000 | $130,000 |
| Less: | | | | | | |
| Charitable contribution | 10,750 | 10,750 | | 4,300 | 2,150 | 27,950 |
| Rental expenses | 15,400 | | | | | 15,400 |
| Trustee's commissions | 3,300 | | | 600 | | 3,900 |
| Total deductions | 29,450 | 10,750 | 0 | 4,900 | 2,150 | 47,250 |
| Amounts distributable to beneficiaries | 20,550 | 39,200 | 50 | 15,100 | 7,850 | 82,750 |

The character of the charitable contribution is determined by multiplying the total charitable contribution ($27,950) by a fraction consisting of each item of trust income, respectively, over the total trust income. For example, the charitable contribution is deemed to consist of rents of $10,750 (50,000/130,000 of $27,950).

(f) The taxable income of the trust is $9,900 determined as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Rental income | | $50,000 |
| Dividends ($50,000 less $50 exclusion) | | 49,950 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest | | 10,000 |
| Capital gains | | 20,000 |
| Gross income | | 129,950 |
| Deductions: | | |
| Rental expenses | $15,400 | |
| Trustees' commissions | 3,300 | |
| Charitable contributions | 23,650 | |
| Capital gain deduction | 10,000 | |
| Distributions to beneficiaries | 67,600 | |
| Personal exemption | 100 | |
| | | 120,050 |
| Taxable income | | 9,900 |

(g) In computing the amount includible in W's gross income under section 662 (a) (1), the $55,900 distribution to her is deemed to be composed of the following proportions of the items of income deemed to have been distributed to the beneficiaries by the trust (see paragraph (e) of this example):

|---|---|
| Rents (20,550/82,750×$55,900) | $13,882 |
| Dividends (39,250/82,750×$55,900) | 26,515 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest (7,850/82,750×$55,900) | 5,303 |
| Tax-exempt interest (15,100/82,750×$55,900) | 10,200 |
| Total | 55,900 |

Accordingly, W will exclude $10,200 of tax-exempt interest from gross income and will receive the credits and exclusion for dividends received and for partially tax-exempt interest provided in sections 34, 116, and 35, respectively, with respect to the dividends and partially tax-exempt interest deemed to have been distributed to her. In addition, she may deduct a share of the depreciation deduction proportionate to the trust income allocable to her; that is, one-half of the total depreciation deduction, or $5,000.

(h) Inasmuch as the sum of the amount of income required to be distributed currently to W ($55,900) and the other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to D ($27,950) exceeds the distributable net income ($82,750) of the trust as determined under section 643 (a), D is deemed to have received $26,850 ($82,750 less $55,900) for income tax purposes. The character of the amounts deemed distributed to her are determined as follows:

|---|---|
| Rents (20,550/82,750×$26,850) | $6,668 |
| Dividends (39,250/82,750×$26,850) | 12,735 |
| Partially tax-exempt interest (7,850/82,750×$26,850) | 2,548 |
| Tax-exempt interest (15,100/82,750×$26,850) | 4,899 |
| Total | 26,850 |

Accordingly, D will exclude $4,899 of tax-exempt interest from gross income and will receive the credits and exclusion for dividends received and for partially tax-exempt interest provided in sections 34, 116, and 35, respectively, with respect to the dividends and partially tax-exempt interest deemed to have been distributed to her. In addition, she may deduct a share of the depreciation deduction proportionate to the trust income allocable to her; that is, one-fourth of the total depreciation deduction, or $2,500.

§ 1.663 (a) Statutory provisions; estates and complex trusts; special rules applicable to sections 661 and 662; exclusions.

SEC. 663. Special rules applicable to sections 661 and 662—(a) Exclusions. There shall not be included as amounts falling within section 661 (a) or 662 (a)—

(1) Gifts, bequests, etc. Any amount which, under the terms of the governing instrument, is properly paid or credited as a gift or bequest of a specific sum of money or of specific property and which is paid or credited all at once or in not more than 3 installments. For this purpose an amount which can be paid or credited only from the income of the estate or trust shall not be considered as a gift or bequest of a specific sum of money.

(2) Charitable, etc., distributions. Any amount paid or permanently set aside or otherwise qualifying for the deduction provided in section 642 (c) (computed without regard to section 681).

(3) Denial of double deduction. Any amount paid, credited, or distributed in the taxable year, if section 651 or section 661 applied to such amount for a preceding taxable year of an estate or trust because credited or required to be distributed in such preceding taxable year.

§ 1.663 (a)–1 Special rules applicable to sections 661 and 662; exclusions—(a) Gifts, bequests, etc. A gift or bequest of a specific sum of money or of specific property, which is properly paid or credited to a beneficiary, shall not be allowed as a deduction to an estate or trust under section 661 nor be included in the gross income of a beneficiary under section 662, provided: The gift or bequest is required by the specific terms of the will or trust instrument; and under the terms of the will or trust instrument, the gift or bequest is to be paid or credited to the recipient either all at once or in not more than three installments. The date when the estate came into existence or the date when the trust was created is immaterial.

(b) Effect of paragraph (a) of this section. The following amounts shall not be considered as gifts or bequests of a sum of money or of specific property within the meaning of paragraph (a) of this section:

(1) An amount which can be paid or credited only from the income of an estate or trust whether from the income for the year of payment or crediting, or from the income accumulated from a prior year;

(2) An annuity, or periodic gifts of specific property in lieu of or having the effect of an annuity;

(3) A residuary estate or the corpus of a trust;

(4) A gift or bequest paid in a lump sum or in not more than three installments, if the gift or bequest is required to be paid in more than three installments under the terms of the governing instrument; or

(5) A widow's support allowance which is provided under applicable local law.

(c) Installment payments. (1) For the purpose of determining whether an amount is properly paid or credited as a gift or bequest of a specific sum of money or of specific property, to be paid or credited in not more than three installments, all the gifts or bequests of specific sums of money or of specific property (other than gifts of articles for personal use, such as personal and household effects, jewelry, pictures, books, automobiles, and the like) which are payable to a particular beneficiary under the terms of the governing instrument shall be aggregated and shall constitute an amount properly payable as a specific sum of money or of specific property; and each gift or bequest of a specific sum of money or of specific property which is payable or creditable to such beneficiary at a different time shall constitute an installment. Thus, a bequest by a deceased husband to his wife of $100,000, his house, furnishings, and silver shall constitute a gift of an amount payable as a specific sum of money or of specific property, payable all at once, and hence excluded from section 661 (a) or section 662 (a). But a devise of ten houses to his daughter, one each year for ten years, would not qualify as an excluded distribution under section 663 (a) (1).

(2) A gift or bequest of a specific sum of money or of specific property shall not be disqualified under this paragraph solely because its payment is subject to a condition. For example, provision for a payment by a trust to beneficiary A of $10,000 when he reaches age 25, and $10,000 when he reaches age 31, with payment over to B of any amount not paid to A because of his death, will be deemed a gift to A of a specific sum of money payable in two installments, within the meaning of this paragraph, even though the exact amount payable to A cannot be ascertained with certainty under the terms of the trust instrument.

(d) Examples. The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). Under the terms of the will, a legacy of $5,000 was left to A, the personal residence of the decedent was left to W, and the balance of the estate was to be divided equally between W and X. No provision was made in the will for the disposition of income of the estate during the period of administration. The estate had income of $25,000 during the taxable year 1954, which was accumulated and added to corpus for estate accounting purposes. During the taxable year, the executor paid the legacy of $5,000 in a lump sum to A and transferred the personal residence to W. No other distributions to beneficiaries were made during the taxable year. The distributions to A and W qualify as exclusions within the meaning of section 663 (a) (1).

Example (2) Under the terms of the will, the estate was to be divided equally between A and B. No provision was made in the will for the disposition of income of the estate during the period of administration. The estate had income of $50,000 for the taxable year 1954. In accordance with an agreement among the beneficiaries that part of the assets of the estate would be distributed in kind to the beneficiaries, the personal residence of the decedent, which was valued at $40,000, was distributed to A during 1954. No other distribution was made during the year. The distribution does not qualify as an exclusion within the meaning of section 663 (a) (1), since it is not a specific gift to A required by the terms of the will. Accordingly, the value of the property ($40,000) represents a distribution within the meaning of section 661 (a) and section 662 (a).

Example (3). Under the terms of a trust instrument, income is to be accumulated during the minority of A. Upon A's attaining the age of 21, $10,000 is to be distributed to B out of income or corpus. Also at that time, $10,000 is to be distributed to C out of the accumulated income and the remainder of the accumulations are to be paid to A. A is then to receive all the income until he is 25, when the trust is to terminate. Only the distribution to B would qualify for exclusion under section 663 (a) (1).

Example (4). A trust instrument provides that A and B are each to receive $75,000 in installments of $25,000, to be paid in alternate years. The trustees distributes $25,000 to A in 1954, 1956, and 1958, and to B in 1955, 1957, and 1959. The gifts to A and B qualify for exclusion under section 663 (a) (1), although a total of six payments is made. The gifts of $75,000 to each beneficiary are to be separately treated.

§ 1.663 (a)–2 Charitable, etc., distributions. Any amount paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the charitable, etc., purposes specified in section 642 (c) and which is allowable as a deduction under that section shall not be allowed as a deduction to an estate or trust under section 661 or treated as an amount distributed for purposes of determining the amounts includible in gross income of beneficiaries under section 662. Amounts paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for charitable, etc., purposes are deductible by estates or trusts only as provided in section 642 (c). For purposes of this section the deduction provided in section 642 (c) is computed without regard to the limitation provided by section 681 (concerning unrelated business income and prohibited transactions).

§ 1.663 (a)–3 Denial of double deduction. Any amount deemed to have been distributed to a beneficiary in a preceding year under section 651 or 661 shall not be included as amounts falling within section 661 (a) or 662 (a). For example, assume that all of the income of a trust is required to be distributed currently to beneficiary A and both the trust and A report on the calendar year basis. For administrative convenience, the trustee distributes in January and February 1956 a portion of the income of the trust required to be distributed in 1955. The portion of the income for 1955 which was distributed by the trust in 1956 may not be claimed as a deduction by the trust for 1956 since such amount is deductible by the trust and includible in A's gross income for the taxable year 1955.

§ 1.663 (b) Statutory provisions; estates and complex trusts; special rules applicable to sections 661 and 662; distributions in first sixty-five days of taxable year.

SEC. 663. Special rules applicable to sections 661 and 662. * * *

(b) Distributions in first sixty-five days of taxable year—(1) General rule. If within the first 65 days of any taxable year of a trust, an amount is properly paid or credited, such amount shall be considered paid or credited on the last day of the preceding taxable year.

(2) Limitation. This subsection shall apply only to a trust—

(A) Which was in existence prior to January 1, 1954,

(B) Which under the terms of its governing instrument, may not distribute in any taxable year amounts in excess of the income of the preceding taxable year, and

(C) On behalf of which the fiduciary elects to have this subsection apply.

The election authorized by subparagraph (C) shall be made for the first taxable year to which this part is applicable in accordance with such regulations as the Secretary or his delegate shall prescribe and shall be made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such year (including extensions thereof). If such election is made with respect to a taxable year, this subsection shall apply to all amounts properly paid or credited within the first 65 days of all subsequent taxable years of such trust.

§ 1.663 (b)–1 Distributions in first sixty-five days of taxable year—(a) Scope. The fiduciary of a trust may elect under section 663 (b) to treat distributions within the first 65 days of the taxable year of the trust as amounts which were paid or credited on the last day of the preceding taxable year, if—

(1) The trust was in existence prior to January 1, 1954;

(2) An amount in excess of the income of the immediately preceding taxable year may not (under the terms of the governing instrument) be distributed in any taxable year; and

(3) The fiduciary elects (as provided in paragraph (b) of this section) to have section 663 (b) apply.

(b) Election. (1) The election shall be made in a statement attached to the return for the first taxable year of the trust subject to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The election must be made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such taxable year (including extensions thereof).

(2) If an election is made by a fiduciary, such election shall be irrevocable for the taxable year for which the election is made and for all future taxable years.

(3) If an election is made with respect to a taxable year, this paragraph shall apply to all amounts properly paid or credited within the first 65 days of such year and all subsequent taxable years of the trust.

§ 1.663 (c) Statutory provisions; estates and complex trusts; special rules applicable to sections 661 and 662; separate shares treated as separate trusts.

SEC. 663. Special rules applicable to sections 661 and 662. * * *

(c) Separate shares treated as separate trusts. For the sole purpose of determining the amount of distributable net income in the application of sections 661 and 662, in the case of a single trust having more than one beneficiary, substantially separate and independent shares of different beneficiaries in the trust shall be treated as separate trusts. The existence of such substantially separate and independent shares and the manner of treatment as separate trusts, including the application of subpart D, shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate.

§ 1.663 (c)–1 Separate shares treated as separate trust—(a) In general. (1) If a single trust has more than one beneficiary, and if different beneficiaries have substantially separate and independent shares, their shares shall be treated as separate trusts for the sole purpose of determining the amount of distributable net income applicable to the respective beneficiaries under sections 661 and 662. Application of this rule will be significant in situations in which income is accumulated for beneficiary A but a distribution is made to beneficiary B of both income and corpus in an amount exceeding the share of income that would be distributable to B had there been separate trusts. In the absence of a separate share rule B would be taxed on income which is accumulated for A. The division of distributable net income into separate shares will limit the tax liability of B. This section does not affect the principles of applicable law in situations in which a single trust instrument creates not one but several separate trusts, as opposed to separate shares in the same trust within the meaning of this paragraph.

(2) The separate share rule does not permit the treatment of separate shares as separate trusts for any purpose other than the application of distributable net income. It does not, for instance, permit the treatment of separate shares as separate trusts for purposes of—

(i) The filing of returns and payment of tax,

(ii) The exclusion of dividends under section 116,

(iii) The deduction of personal exemption under section 642 (b), and

(iv) The allowance to beneficiaries succeeding to the trust property of excess deductions and unused net operating loss and capital loss carryovers on termination of the trust under section 642 (h).

(3) The separate share rule may be applicable even though separate and independent accounts are not maintained and are not required to be maintained for each share on the books of account of the trust, and even though no physical segregation of assets is made or required.

(4) Separate share treatment is not elective. Thus, if a trust is properly treated as having separate and independent shares, such treatment shall prevail in all taxable years of the trust unless an event occurs as a result of which the terms of the trust instrument and the requirements of proper administration require different treatment.

(b) Computation of distributable net income. The amount of distributable net income for any share under this section shall be computed for each share as if each share constituted a separate trust. Accordingly, any deduction or any loss which is applicable solely to one separate share of the trust shall not be available to any other share of the same trust.

(c) Applicability of separate share rule. (1) The applicability of the separate share rule provided by section 663 (c) and this section will generally depend upon whether distributions of the trust are to be made in substantially the same manner as if separate trusts had been created. Thus, if an instrument directs a trustee to divide the testator's residuary estate into separate shares (which under applicable law do not constitute separate trusts) for each of the testator's children and the trustee is given discretion, with respect to each share, to distribute or accumulate income or to distribute principal or accumulated income, or to do both, separate shares will exist under section 663 (c). In determining whether separate shares exist, it is immaterial whether the principal and any accumulated income of each share is ultimately distributable to the beneficiary of such share, to his descendants, to his appointees under a general or special power of appointment, or to any other beneficiaries (including a charitale organization) designated to receive his share of the trust and accumulated income upon termination of the beneficiary's interest in the share. Thus, a separate share may exist if the instrument provides that upon the death of the beneficiary of the share, the share will be added to the shares of the other beneficiaries of the trust.

(2) Separate share treatment will not be applied to a trust or portion of a trust subject to a power to—

(i) Distribute, apportion, or accumulate income, or to or for one or more beneficiaries within a group or class of beneficiaries, unless payment of income, accumulated income, or corpus of a share of one beneficiary cannot affect the proportionate share of income, accumulated income, or corpus of any shares of the other beneficiaries, or unless proper adjustment must thereafter be made (under the governing instrument) so that substantially separate and independent shares exist.

(ii) Pay out corpus.

(3) A share may be considered as separate even though more than one beneficiary has an interest in it. For example, two beneficiaries may have equal, disproportionate, or undeterminate interests in one share which is separate and independent from another share in which one or more beneficiaries have an interest. Likewise, the same person may be a beneficiary of more than one separate share.

(4) Separate share treatment may be given to a trust or portion of a trust otherwise qualifying under this section if the trust or portion of a trust is subject to a power to pay out to a beneficiary of a share (of such trust or portion) an amount of corpus in excess of his proportionate share of the corpus of the trust if the possibility of exercise of the power is remote. For example, if such trust is subject to a power to invade the entire corpus for the health, education, support, or maintenance of A, separate share treatment shall be applied if exercise of such power requires consideration of A's other income which is so substantial as to make the possibility of exercise of the power remote. If instead it appears that A and B have separate shares in a trust, subject to a power to invade the entire corpus for the comfort, pleasure, desire, or happiness of A, separate share treatment shall not be applied.

(5) The separate share rule may also be applicable to successive interests in point of time, as for instance in the case of a trust providing for a life estate to A and a second life estate or remainder to B.

(6) Separate share treatment is not applicable in the case of an estate.

(d) Example. This section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. (1) A trust was created in 1940 for the benefit of A, B, and C, who were aged 6, 4, and 2, respectively. Under the terms of the instrument, the trust estate is required to be divided into three equal shares. The income from each beneficiary's share of the trust estate is to be accumulated until he becomes 21 years of age. When a beneficiary reaches the age of 21, the income of his share of the trust estate may be either accumulated or distributed to him in the discretion of the trustee. The trustee also has discretion to invade corpus for the benefit of any beneficiary to the extent of his share of the trust estate. When each beneficiary reaches 35 years of age, his share of the trust estate shall be paid over to him. The interest in the trust estate of any beneficiary dying without issue and before he has attained the age of 35 is to be equally divided between the other beneficiaries of the trust. All expenses of the trust are allocable to income under the terms of the trust instrument.

(2) No distributions of income or corpus were made by the trustee prior to 1955, although A became 21 years of age on June 30, 1954. During the taxable year 1955, the trust has income from royalties of $20,000 and expenses of $5,000. The trustee in his discretion distributes $12,000 to A. Both A and the trust report on the calendar year basis.

(3) The trust qualifies for the separate shares treatment under section 663 (c) and the distributable net income must be divided into three parts for the purpose of determining the amount deductible by the trust under section 661 and the amount includible in A's gross income under section 662.

(4) The distributable net income of each share of the trust is $5,000 ($6,667 less $1,667). Since the amount ($12,000) distributed to A during 1955 exceeds the distributable net income of $5,000 allocated to his share, the trust is deemed to have distributed to him $5,000 of 1955 income and $7,000 of amounts other than 1955 income. Accordingly, the trust is allowed a deduction of $5,000 under section 661. The taxable income of the trust for 1955 is $9,900, computed as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Royalties | | $20,000 |
| Deductions: | | |
| Expenses | $5,000 | |
| Distribution to A | 5,000 | |
| Personal exemption | 100 | |
| | | 10,100 |
| Taxable income | | 9,900 |

(5) In accordance with section 662, A must include in his gross income for 1955 an amount equal to the portion ($5,000) of the distributable net income of the trust allocated to his share. Also, the excess distribution of $7,000 made by the trust is subject to the throwback provisions of sections 665 through 668 and the regulations thereunder.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 1.683 Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; applicability of provisions.

SEC. 683. Applicability of provisions—(a) General rule. This part shall apply only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after the date of the enactment of this title.

(b) Exceptions. In the case of any beneficiary of an estate or trust—

(1) This part shall not apply to any amount paid, credited, or to be distributed by the estate or trust in any taxable year of such estate or trust to which this part does not apply, and

(2) The Internal Revenue Code of 1939 shall apply for purposes of determining the amount includible in the gross income of the beneficiary.

To the extent that any amount paid, credited, or to be distributed by an estate or trust in the first taxable year of such estate or trust to which this part applies would be treated, if the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 were applicable, as paid, credited, or to be distributed on the last day of the preceding taxable year, such amount shall not be taken into account for purposes of this part but shall be taken into account as provided in the Internal Revenue Code of 1939.

§ 1.683–1 Applicability of provisions—(a) General rule. Sections 641 through 683 shall apply to estates and trusts and to beneficiaries only with respect to taxable years which begin after December 31, 1953, and end after August 16, 1954, the date of enactment of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. In the case of an estate or trust, the date on which a trust is created or amended or on which an estate commences, and the taxable years of beneficiaries, grantors, or decedents concerned are immaterial. This provision applies equally to taxable years of normal as well as abbreviated length.

(b) Exceptions. (1) In the case of any beneficiary of an estate or trust, sections 641 through 682 shall not apply to any amount paid, credited, or to be distributed by an estate or trust in any taxable year of the estate or trust which begins before January 1, 1954, or which ends before August 17, 1954. Whether an amount so paid, credited, or to be distributed is to be included in the gross income of a beneficiary shall be determined with reference to the Internal Revenue Code of 1939. Thus, if a trust in its fiscal year ending June 30, 1954, distributed its current income to a beneficiary on June 30, 1954, the extent to which the distribution is includible in the beneficiary's gross income for his taxable year (the calendar year 1954) and the character of such income will be determined under the Internal Revenue Code of 1939. The Internal Revenue Code of 1954, however, shall determine the beneficiary's tax liability for a taxable year of the beneficiary to which such Code applies, with respect even to gross income of the beneficiary determined under the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 in accordance with this paragraph. Accordingly, the beneficiary shall be allowed credits and deductions pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 for a taxable year governed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. See subdivision

(ii) of example (1) in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(2) For purposes of determining the time of receipt of dividends under sections 34 and 116, the dividends paid, credited, or to be distributed to a beneficiary shall be deemed to have been received by the beneficiary ratably on the same dates that the dividends were received by the estate or trust.

(3) The application of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). (i) A trust, reporting on the fiscal year basis, receives in its taxable year ending November 30, 1954, dividends on December 3, 1953, and April 3, July 5, and October 4, 1954. It distributes the dividends to A, its sole beneficiary (who reports on the calendar year basis) on November 30, 1954. Since the trust has received dividends in a taxable year ending after July 31, 1954, it will receive a dividend credit under section 34 with respect to dividends received which otherwise qualify under that section, in this case dividends received on October 4, 1954 (i. e., received after July 31, 1954). See section 7851 (a) (1) (C). This credit, however, shall be reduced to the extent the dividends are allocable to the beneficiary as a result of income being paid, credited, or required to be distributed to him. The trust will also be permitted the dividend exclusion under section 116, since it received its dividends in a taxable year ending after July 31, 1954.

(ii) A is entitled to the section 34 credit with respect to the portion of the October 4, 1954, dividends which is distributed to him even though the determination of whether the amount distributed to him is includible in his gross income is made under the 1939 Code. The credit allowable to the trust shall be reduced proportionately to the extent A is deemed to have received the October 4 dividends. A is not entitled to a credit with respect to the dividends received by the trust on December 3, 1953, and April 3, and July 5, 1954, because, although he receives after July 31, 1954, the distribution resulting from the trust's receipt of dividends, he is deemed to have received the dividends ratably with the trust on dates prior to July 31, 1954. He is entitled to the exclusion under section 116 with respect to all the dividends received by the trust in 1954 and distributed to him, since he is deemed to have received such dividends in 1954 and therefore within a taxable year ending after July 31, 1954. He is not, however, entitled to the exclusion for the dividends received by the trust in December 1953.

Example (2). (i) A simple trust reports on the basis of a fiscal year ending July 31. It receives dividends on October 3, 1953, and January 4, April 3, and July 5, 1954. It distributes the dividends to A, its sole beneficiary, on September 1, 1954. The trust, receiving dividends in a taxable year ending prior to August 17, 1954, is entitled neither to the dividend received credit under section 34 nor the dividend exclusion under section 116.

(ii) A (reporting on the calendar year basis) is not entitled to the section 34 credit, because, although he receives after July 31, 1954, the distribution resulting from the trusts' receipt of dividends, he is deemed to have received the dividends ratably with the trust, that is, on October 3, 1953, and January 4, April 3, and July 5, 1954. He is, however, entitled to the section 116 exclusion with respect to the dividends received by the trust in 1954 and distributed to him, since he is deemed to have received such dividends on January 4, April 3, and July 5, 1954, each a date in his taxable year ending after July 31, 1954. He is entitled to no exclusion for the dividends received by the trust on October 3, 1953, since he is deemed to receive the resulting distribution on the same date, which falls within a taxable year of his which ends before August 1, 1954, although he is required to include the October 1953 dividends in his 1954 income. See section 164 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939.

Example (3). A simple trust on a fiscal year ending July 31, 1954, receives dividends August 5 and November 4, 1953. It distributes the dividends to A, its sole beneficiary (who is on a calendar year basis), on September 1, 1954. Neither the trust nor A is entitled to a credit under section 34 or an exclusion under section 116.

(c) Application of the 65-day rule of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939. If an amount is paid, credited, or to be distributed in the first 65 days of the first taxable year of an estate or trust (heretofore subject to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939) to which the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 applies and the amount would be treated, if the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 were applicable, as if paid, credited, or to be distributed on the last day of the preceding taxable year, sections 641 through 682 shall not apply to the amount. The amount so paid, credited, or to be distributed shall be taken into account as provided in the Internal Revenue Code of 1939. See § 39.162–2 (c) and (d) of Regulations 118 (26 CFR (1939) 39.162–2 (c) and (d)).

CANNED CLINGSTONE PEACHES

UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR GRADES [1]

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the revision of the United States Standards for Grades of Canned Yellow Clingstone Peaches, pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087 et seq., as amended, 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.). This revision, if made effective, will be the fourth issue by the Department of grade standards for this product.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed revision should file the same with the Chief, Processed Products Standardization and Inspection Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed revision is as follows:

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND GRADES

Sec.
52.2561 Product description.
52.2562 Styles of canned clingstone peaches.
52.2563 Grades of canned clingstone peaches.
52.2564 Grades of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches.

[1] Compliance with the requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

LIQUID MEDIA, FILL OF CONTAINER, AND DRAINED WEIGHTS

SCORE SHEET

52.2577 Score sheet for canned clingstone peaches.

AUTHORITY: §§ 52.2561 to 52.2577 issued under sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1624.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND GRADES

§ 52.2561 Product description—(a) Canned clingstone peaches. "Canned clingstone peaches" means "canned yellow clingstone peaches" or "canned yellow cling peaches" as such product is defined in the standard of identity for canned peaches (21 CFR 27.0) issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. For the purposes of the standards in this subpart, and unless the text indicates otherwise, the terms "canned peaches" or "canned clingstone peaches" include "canned yellow clingstone peaches" as defined in the aforesaid standard of identity, canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches, canned "dietetic" clingstone peaches, and canned "spiced" yellow clingstone peaches.

(b) Canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches. For the purposes of the standards in this subpart, canned peaches when referred to as "canned 'solid-pack' clingstone peaches" means prepared peaches of the yellow clingstone varietal group packed without a liquid packing medium and sufficiently processed by heat to assure preservation of the product in hermetically-sealed containers.

(c) Canned "dietetic" clingstone peaches. For the purposes of the standards in this subpart, canned peaches when referred to as "canned 'dietetic' clingstone peaches" means canned yellow clingstone peaches without nutritive sweetening ingredient(s) added and declared for dietary use, or with artificial sweetening ingredient(s) added, or with any other ingredient(s) permissible for dietary use under the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

§ 52.2562 Styles of canned clingstone peaches. (a) "Halves" or "Halved" canned peaches are peeled and pitted peaches, cut approximately in half along the suture from stem to apex.

(b) "Quarters" or "Quartered" canned peaches are halved peaches cut into two approximately equal parts.

(c) "Slices" or "Sliced" canned peaches are peeled and pitted peaches cut into sectors smaller than quarters.

(d) "Dice" or "Diced" canned peaches are peeled and pitted peaches cut into approximate cubes.

(e) "Whole" canned peaches are peeled, unpitted, whole peaches with or without stems removed.

(f) "Mixed Pieces of Irregular Sizes and Shapes" are peeled, pitted, and cut units of canned peaches that are predominantly irregular in size and shape which do not conform to a single style of halves, quarters, slices, or dice and which may consist of:

(1) Units (commonly called "salad cuts" or "salad pieces") which may have been prepared originally as peach halves but which are irregular in size and shape in that more than one-fourth of the unit appears to have been removed at the outer curved surface and which have been cut further into pieces;

(2) Units which may have been prepared originally as peach slices but which are irregular in size and shape in that they have been cut further into pieces; or

(3) Mixtures of two or more of the following styles which may or may not be of normal shape: Halves, quarters, slices, or dice.

§ 52.2563 Grades of canned clingstone peaches (a) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, diced, or whole canned clingstone peaches that possess similar varietal characteristics, that possess a normal flavor and odor, that possess a good color, that are practically uniform in size and symmetry for the applicable style, that are practically free from defects, that possess a good character, and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 90 points: Provided, That halves, quarters, slices, diced, or whole canned clingstone peaches may possess a reasonably good color, may be reasonably uniform in size and symmetry, and may possess a reasonably good character, if the total score is not less than 90 points.

(b) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Choice" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that possess similar varietal characteristics, that possess a normal flavor and odor, that possess a reasonably good color, that are reasonably uniform in size and symmetry for the applicable style, that are reasonably free from defects, that possess a reasonably good character, and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 80 points: Provided, That halves, quarters, slices, diced, or whole canned clingstone peaches may be fairly uniform in size and symmetry if the total score is not less than 80 points.

(c) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that possess similar varietal characteristics, that possess a normal flavor and odor, that possess a fairly good color, that are fairly uniform in size and symmetry for the applicable style, that are fairly free from defects, that possess a fairly good character, and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 70 points.

(d) "U. S. Grade D" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that may possess dissimilar varietal characteristics, that possess a normal flavor and odor, that possess a fairly good color, that may vary in size and symmetry for the applicable style; that are fairly free from defects except for crushed and broken units in the styles of halves, quarters, or whole style; that possess a noticeable variability in character, and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 60 points. Canned clingstone peaches of this grade may or may not meet the minimum standard of quality for canned peaches issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(e) "Substandard" is the quality of canned clingstone peaches that fail to meet the applicable requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or of U. S. Grade D and is the quality of canned clingstone peaches that may or may not meet the minimum standard of quality for canned peaches issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

§ 52.2564 Grades of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches. (a) "U. S. Grade C Solid-Pack" or "U. S. Standard Solid-Pack" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that possess a normal flavor and odor; that possess a fairly good color; that are fairly free from defects for canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches; that possess a fairly good character for canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches; and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 70 points.

(b) "U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that possess a normal flavor and odor; that possess a fairly good color; that are fairly free from defects for canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches; that possess a noticeable variability in character for canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches; and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 60 points.

(c) "Substandard Solid-Pack" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that fail to meet the requirements of "U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack".

LIQUID MEDIA, FILL OF CONTAINER, AND DRAINED WEIGHTS

§ 52.2565 Liquid media and Brix measurements for canned clingstone peaches. "Cut-out" requirements for liquid media in canned clingstone peaches are not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since sirup or any other liquid medium, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. The "cut-out" Brix measurement, as applicable, for the respective designations are as follows:

| Designations | Brix measurement |
|---|---|
| "Extra heavy sirup" or "Extra heavy peach juice sirup" | 24° or more but not more than 35°. |
| "Heavy sirup" or "Heavy peach juice sirup" | 19° or more but less than 24°. |
| "Light sirup" or "Light peach juice sirup" | 14° or more but less than 19°. |
| "Slightly sweetened water" or "Slightly sweetened peach juice". | Less than 14°. |
| "In water" | Packed in water. |
| "In peach juice" | Packed in peach juice. |

§ 52.2566 Fill of container for canned clingstone peaches. The standard of fill of container for canned clingstone peaches is the maximum quantity of the peach units which can be sealed in the container and processed by heat to prevent spoilage, without crushing or breaking such ingredient. Canned clingstone peaches that do not meet this requirement are "Below Standard in Fill."

§ 52.2567 Recommended fill of container for canned "dietetic" and "solid-pack" clingstone peaches. The recommended fill of container for canned "dietetic" and "solid-pack" clingstone peaches is not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. It is recommended that each container of "dietetic" or "solid-pack" clingstone peaches be as full of peaches as practicable without impairment of quality and that the product occupy not less than 90 percent of the volume of the container.

§ 52.2568 Recommended minimum drained weights for canned clingstone peaches—(a) General. The minimum drained weight recommendations for the various applicable styles in Table I or Table II are not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since drained weight, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades.

(1) Table I. The recommendations in Table I apply only when the drained weight determination is made immediately after processing. For the purposes of ascertaining compliance with the recommended minimum drained weights in Table I, "immediately after processing" means after the product has been cooled to room temperature and during a period of more than 8 hours to not more than 24 hours after processing.

(2) Table II. The recommendations in Table II apply when the drained weight determination is made at periods other than immediately after processing.

(b) Method for ascertaining drained weight. The drained weight of canned clingstone peaches, canned "dietetic" clingstone peaches, and canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches is determined by emptying the contents of the container, turning the pit cavities down in halves, upon a United States Standard No. 8 circular sieve of proper diameter containing 8 meshes to the inch (0.0937-inch ±3%, square openings) so as to distribute the product evenly, inclining the sieve slightly to facilitate drainage, and allowing to drain for two minutes. The drained weight is the weight of the sieve and peaches less the weight of the dry sieve. A sieve 8 inches in diameter is used for the equivalent of No. 3 size cans (404 x 414) and smaller, and a sieve 12 inches in diameter is used for containers larger than the equivalent of the No. 3 size can.

§ 52.2569 Compliance with recommended drained weights. Compliance with the recommended drained weights for canned clingstone peaches, canned "dietetic" clingstone peaches, and canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches is determined by averaging the drained weights from all the containers which are representative of a specific lot and such lot is considered as meeting the recommendations if the following criteria are met:

(a) The average of the drained weights from all of the containers meets the recommended drained weight;

(b) One-half or more of the containers meet the recommended drained weight; and

(c) The drained weights from the containers which do not meet the recommended drained weight are within the range of variability for good commercial practice.

FACTORS OF QUALITY

§ 52.2570 Ascertaining the grade—(a) General. In addition to considering other requirements outlined in the standards the following quality factors are evaluated:

(1) Factors not rated by score points in canned clingstone peaches other than "solid-pack" clingstone peaches. (i) Varietal characteristics.

(ii) Flavor and odor.

(2) Factors not rated by score points in canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches. (i) Flavor and odor.

(3) Factors rated by score points in canned peaches. The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

| | Points |
|---|---|
| (i) Color | 20 |
| (ii) Uniformity of size and symmetry | 20 |
| (iii) Absence of defects | 30 |
| (iv) Character | 30 |
| Total score | 100 |

(b) Definition of flavor and odor. "Normal flavor and odor" means that the canned peaches are free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

§ 52.2571 Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "18 to 20 points" means "18, 19, or 20 points").

§ 52.2572 Color—(a) General. (1) The color of canned clingstone peaches other than canned "spiced" peaches refers to the predominating and characteristic color on the backs of halved units, on the surface of whole units, and the exterior surface of other units, excluding such portions which were obviously near or part of the pit cavity.

(2) The colors, "Orange-yellow" and "Yellow", in this section mean a color equal to or better in color than "USDA Canned Clingstone Peach, Orange-Yellow" and "USDA Canned Clingstone Peach, Yellow", respectively. Information regarding these color standards may be obtained by writing to the Processed Products Standardization and Inspection Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

(3) The factor of color for canned "spiced" peaches is not based on any detailed requirement and is not scored but the color shall be normal for canned "spiced" peaches; the other three factors (uniformity of size and symmetry, absence of defects, and character as applicable) are scored and the total is multiplied by 100 and divided by 80, dropping any fractions to determine the total score.

(b) (A) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that possess a good color may be given a score of 18 to 20 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that score 18 to 20 points shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Good color" means that the canned clingstone peaches possess a typical orange-yellow color of properly ripened, properly prepared, and properly processed canned clingstone peaches which color is practically uniform and free from brown color due to oxidation; and that none of the units possess a "fairly good color."

(c) (B) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that possess a reasonably good color may be given a score of 16 or 17 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" means that the canned clingstone peaches possess a typical orange-yellow color of properly ripened, properly prepared, and properly processed canned clingstone peaches which color is reasonably uniform; that the units are practically free from any brown color due to oxidation which color may affect no more than slightly the appearance or edibility, or both, of the product; and that no more than the following units possessing "fairly good color" exclusive of slight brown color resulting from oxidation may be present:

(1) In the style of halves, quarters, slices, or whole canned clingstone peaches, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may possess such "fairly good color"; or one unit in a container is permitted to possess such "fairly good color:" Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such units do not exceed an average of 10 percent of the total number of units; and

(2) In the style of diced or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes canned clingstone peaches, not more than 10 percent, by weight, of the drained fruit may possess such "fairly good color."

(d) (C), (D), (C–SP) and (D–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that possess a fairly good color; and halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that possess a fairly good color or better color may be given a score of 14 or 15 points. Canned clingstone peaches or canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade C Solid-Pack or U. S. Standard Solid-Pack, whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that the units of clingstone peaches may vary noticeably in shades of a typical yellow color of fairly well-ripened and properly processed canned clingstone peaches; and that not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be off-color or possess brown color due to oxidation or one unit in a container is permitted to possess such color: Provided, That such unit does not materially affect the appearance of the product.

(e) (SStd) and (SStd–SP) classification. Canned clingstone peaches and canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above Substandard or Substandard Solid-Pack, whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.2573 Uniformity of size and symmetry—(a) General. The factor of uniformity of size and symmetry for mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches and all applicable styles of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches is not based on any detailed requirements and is not scored; the other three factors (color, absence of defects, and character as applicable) are scored and the total is multiplied by 100 and divided by 80, dropping any fractions to determine the total score.

(b) Off-suture cut. "Off-suture cut" in halved or quartered canned clingstone peaches means a halved or quartered unit which has been cut at a distance from the suture greater than 3/8 inch at the widest measurement from the suture.

(c) Partially detached or detached piece. A "partially detached or detached piece" in halved canned clingstone peaches means a unit which has the appearance of a slice resulting from an off-suture cut or from improper cutting and which may or may not be attached to the half from which cut. In determining the applicable allowances in terms of percentage by count, a partially detached piece together with the half to which it is partially attached is considered as one unit or a detached piece with the half from which detached or together with any other half is considered as one unit.

(d) Broken slice. A "broken slice" in the style of slices is a unit that has had the semblance of a slice with respect to thickness and shape but is less than three-fourths of an apparent full slice and that does not bear marks of crushing. In determining the allowances in terms of percentage by count, broken slices aggregating the equivalent of an average size slice shall be considered as one unit.

(e) Sliver. A "sliver" in the style of slices is a sector that is substantially smaller than the general size of slices or that weighs 3 grams or less.

(f) Slab. A "slab" in the style of slices is a portion of a unit which does not conform to the shape of a definite slice due to improper cutting.

(g) (A) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or whole canned clingstone peaches that are practically uniform in size and symmetry may be given a score of 18 to 20 points. "Practically uniform in size and symmetry" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. The units are very symmetrical and the weight of the largest full-size unit does not exceed the weight of the smallest full-size unit by more than 40 percent; the weight of each half is not less than 3/5 ounce; the weight of each quarter is not less than 3/10 ounce; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units in the style of halves or quarters may possess off-suture cuts or partially detached or detached pieces, or any combination thereof. One unit in a container is permitted to possess an off-suture cut or partially detached or detached piece if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such units do not exceed an average of 10 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Slices. Not more than a total of 5 percent, by count, of the units may be broken, slivers, and slabs: Provided, That not more than 2½ percent, by count, are slabs; and excluding broken slices, slivers, and slabs that may be present, the variation in size and symmetry of the other units does not affect more than slightly the appearance of the product.

(3) Diced. Not more than 10 percent, by weight, of all the units are more than 3/4 inch in their greatest edge dimension or are of such size as to pass through a 5/16 inch square opening.

(h) (B) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or whole canned clingstone peaches that are reasonably uniform in size and symmetry may be given a score of 16 or 17 points. "Reasonably uniform in size and symmetry" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. The units are reasonably symmetrical and the weight of the largest full-size unit does not exceed the weight of the smallest full-size unit by more than 60 percent; the weight of each half is not less than 3/5 ounce; the weight of each quarter is not less than 3/10 ounce; and not more than 20 percent, by count, of the units in the style of halves or quarters may possess off-suture cuts or partially detached or detached pieces, or any combination thereof. One unit in a container is permitted to possess an off-suture cut or partially detached or detached piece if such unit exceeds the allowance of 20 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such units do not exceed an average of 20 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Slices. Not more than a total of 10 percent by count, of the units may be broken, slivers, and slabs: Provided, That not more than 5 percent, by count, are slabs; and excluding broken slices, slivers, and slabs that may be present, the variation in size and symmetry of the other units does not affect materially the appearance of the product.

(3) Diced. Not more than 15 percent, by weight, of all the units are more than 3/4 inch in their greatest edge dimension or are of such size as to pass through a 5/16 inch square opening.

(i) (C) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or whole canned cling-stone peaches that are fairly uniform in size and symmetry may be given a score of 14 or 15 points. Canned clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Fairly uniform in size and symmetry" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. The units may vary in size, thickness, and symmetry and the weight of the largest full-size unit may be not more than twice the weight of the smallest full-size unit; the weight of each half is not less than ⅗ ounce; the weight of each quarter is not less than ⅗₀ ounce; and not more than 40 percent, by count, of the units in the style of halves or quarters may possess off-suture cuts or partially detached or detached pieces, or any combination thereof: Provided, That the presence of such units does not give the appearance of canned peaches of "Mixed Pieces of Irregular Sizes and Shapes."

(2) Slices. Not more than a total of 20 percent, by count, of the units may be broken, slivers, and slabs: Provided, That not more than 10 percent, by count, are slabs; and excluding broken slices, slivers, and slabs that may be present, the balance of slices may vary noticeably in size, thickness, and symmetry.

(3) Diced. Not more than 20 percent, by weight, of all the units are more than ¾ inch in their greatest edge dimension or are of such size as to pass through a ⁵⁄₁₆ inch square opening.

(j) (D) and (SStd) classification. Canned clingstone peaches of the applicable styles which fail to meet paragraph (i) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above the following stated grade, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule):

(1) Halves, quarters, or whole canned clingstone peaches in which the weight of the largest full-size unit is more than twice the weight of the smallest full-size unit shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D and are also "Below Standard in Quality—Mixed Sizes."

(2) Halves of canned clingstone peaches in which the weight of any half is less than ⅗ ounce shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D and are also "Below Standard in Quality—Small Halves."

(3) Quarters of canned clingstone peaches in which the weight of any quarter is less than ⅗₀ ounce shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D and are also "Below Standard in Quality—Small Quarters."

(4) Slices and diced canned clingstone peaches shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D.

§ 52.2574 Absence of defects—(a) General. The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from harmless extraneous material (such as stems or leaves and portions thereof), from pit material, from peel, from blemished units, from units that are crushed or broken for the applicable style, and from any other defects which detract from the appearance or edibility of the product.

(1) Blemished. "Blemished" or "blemished units" means units that are blemished with scab, hail injury, discoloration, or other abnormality which affects materially the appearance or edibility, or both, of the unit.

(2) Crushed or broken. "Crushed or broken" means that:

(i) A unit in halves, quarters, or whole style of canned clingstone peaches is "crushed" if the unit has definitely lost its normal shape and bears marks of crushing or is otherwise crushed not due to ripeness; and

(ii) A unit in halves, quarters, or whole style of canned clingstone peaches is "broken" if severed into definite parts; halves of canned clingstone peaches that are slightly or partially split from the edge to the pit cavity are not considered broken. Portions equivalent to a full-size unit that has been broken are considered as one unit in determining the percentage by count.

(3) Pit material. "Pit material" means any whole pit in other than whole style or any portion of a peach pit, regardless of size, except when whole peach pits or peach kernels are permitted as seasoning ingredients in other than whole style.

(b) (A) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that score 27 to 30 points shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Practically free from defects" means that the canned clingstone peaches are practically free from harmless extraneous material, from pit material, and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. Not more than an average of ⅛ square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be crushed or broken; and not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be crushed or broken and one unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if any of such units exceed the respective allowances of 5 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such crushed or broken units do not exceed an average of 5 percent of the total number of units and such blemished units do not exceed an average of 5 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Sliced; diced; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Not more than an average of ⅛ square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; and not more than 3 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if such unit exceeds the allowance of 3 percent by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such blemished units do not exceed an average of 3 percent of the total number of units.

(c) (B) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that are reasonably free from defects may be given a score of 24 to 26 points. Canned clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that the canned clingstone peaches are practically free from pit material, are reasonably free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. Not more than an average of ½ square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be crushed or broken; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be crushed or broken and one unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if any of such units exceed the respective allowances of 5 percent and 10 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such crushed or broken units do not exceed an average of 5 percent of the total number of units and such blemished units do not exceed an average of 10 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Slices; diced; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Not more than an average of ½ square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; and not more than 6 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a single container is permitted to be blemished if such unit exceeds the allowance of 6 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such blemished units do not exceed an average of 6 percent of the total number of units.

(d) (C) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that are fairly free from defects may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Canned clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" means that the canned clingstone peaches are practically free from pit material, are fairly free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. Not more than an average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be crushed or broken; and not more than 20 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be crushed or broken and one unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if any of such units exceed the respective allowances of 5 percent and 20 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such blemished units do not exceed an average of 20 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Slices; diced; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Not more than an average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; and not more than 20 percent by count, of the units may be blemished.

(e) (D) classification. Canned clingstone peaches of any style which fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section but which meet the requirements of this paragraph may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). Halves, quarters, and whole canned clingstone peaches that are thereby U. S. Grade D may also be "Below Standard in Quality"—"Partly Crushed or Broken" or "Unevenly Trimmed," or both. Canned clingstone peaches of U. S. Grade D with respect to "absence of defects" are practically free from pit material, are fairly free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect materially the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition:

(1) Not more than an average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present;

(2) In the style of halves, quarters, or whole, any amount of crushed or broken units may be present; and

(3) Not more than 20 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if such unit exceeds the allowance of 20 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such blemished units do not exceed an average of 20 percent of the total number of units.

(f) (SStd) classification. Canned clingstone peaches that fail to meet the applicable requirements of paragraph (e) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above the following stated grades, as applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(1) Halves, quarters, and whole canned clingstone peaches shall not be graded above Substandard and may also be "Below Standard in Quality" for the applicable reasons:

(i) Not well peeled.

(ii) Partly crushed or broken.

(iii) Unevenly trimmed.

(iv) Blemished.

(2) Slices, diced, and mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches shall not be graded above Substandard and may also be "Below Standard in Quality" for the applicable reasons:

(i) Not well peeled.

(ii) Blemished.

(g) (C–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that are fairly free from defects for canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C Solid-Pack or U. S. Standard Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects for canned 'solid-pack' clingstone peaches" means that the canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches are practically free from pit material, are fairly free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, no more than the following defects may be present:

(1) An average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents; and

(2) 2 blemished units for each pound of contents.

(h) (D–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches which fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (g) of this section but which meet the requirements of this paragraph may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). Canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches of "U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack" with respect to "absence of defects" are practically free from pit material, are fairly free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect materially the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, no more than the following defects may be present:

(1) An average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents; and

(2) 4 blemished units for each pound of contents.

(i) (SStd–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (h) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.2575 Character—(a) General. The factor of character refers to the degree of ripeness, the texture, and tenderness of the product.

(b) (A) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that possess a good character may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that score 27 to 30 points shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Good character" has the following meanings with respect to the various styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; slices; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. The units are pliable and possess a tender, fleshy texture typical of well-ripened, properly prepared, and properly processed canned clingstone peaches; the units are intact and possess reasonably well-defined edges; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may possess a "reasonably good character." One unit in a container is permitted to possess a "reasonably good character" if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That the appearance or eating quality, or both, is not more than slightly affected by the character of such unit.

(2) Diced. The product generally possesses a texture typical of properly and uniformly ripened clingstone peaches that are properly prepared and processed; not more than 3 percent, by weight, of the drained clingstone peaches may be excessively frayed or mushy; and the product is otherwise reasonably free from crushed units.

(3) Whole. The units possess a tender texture typical of well-ripened, properly prepared, and properly processed canned clingstone peaches; the units are uniformly intact and firm; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may possess a "reasonably good character." One unit in a container is permitted to possess a "reasonably good character" if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That the appearance or eating quality, or both, is not more than slightly affected by the character of such unit.

(c) (B) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that possess a reasonably good character may be given a score of 24 to 26 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Reasonably good character" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; slices; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. The units possess a texture typical of properly ripened clingstone peaches that are properly processed; the texture is reasonably fleshy, and the units are reasonably tender or the tenderness may be variable within the unit; the units are reasonably intact with not more than slightly frayed edges and may be slightly firm or slightly soft but are not mushy; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may possess a fairly good character. One unit in a container is permitted to possess such fairly good character if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That the appearance or eating quality, or both, is not affected materially by the character of such unit.

(2) Diced. The product generally possesses a texture typical of properly ripened clingstone peaches that are properly prepared and processed; not more than 5 percent, by weight, or the drained clingstone peaches may be excessively frayed or mushy; and the product is otherwise reasonably free from crushed units.

(3) Whole. The units possess a texture of properly processed clingstone peaches; the units are reasonably tender or the tenderness may be variable within the unit; the units may be slightly firm or slightly soft but are not mushy; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may possess a fairly good character, except for mushy or not tender units. One unit in a container is permitted to possess such fairly good character if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That the appearance or eating quality, or both, is not affected materially by the character of such unit.

(d) (C) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned clingstone peaches that possess a fairly good character may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Canned clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good character" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned clingstone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; slices; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. The units possess a texture of properly processed clingstone peaches which may be variable in fleshiness but the texture is fairly fleshy; the units may be lacking uniformity of tenderness; the units may be frayed but not excessively frayed or may be soft; and not more than 10 percent, by weight, of the drained clingstone peaches may be mushy or units that are not tender.

(2) Diced. The product generally possesses a texture typical of properly prepared clingstone peaches; not more than 10 percent, by weight, of the drained clingstone peaches may be excessively frayed or mushy; and the product is otherwise fairly free from crushed units.

(3) Whole. The units possess a texture of properly processed clingstone peaches which may be variable; the units may be lacking uniformity of tenderness; the units may be markedly firm or markedly ragged or soft; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may be mushy or not tender. One unit in a container is permitted to be mushy or not tender if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample, such units do not exceed an average of 10 percent of the total number of units.

(e) (D) classification. Canned clingstone peaches of any style that meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section with respect to units that are not tender but which otherwise possess a noticeably variable texture with not more than 25 percent, by weight, of the drained canned clingstone peaches that consist of mushy fruit may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(f) (SStd) classification. Canned clingstone peaches of any style that fail to meet the applicable requirements of paragraph (d) or (e) of this section or that are "not tender" may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). Halves, quarters, slices, diced, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes that are "not tender" are also "Below Standard in Quality—Not Tender."

(g) (C–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that possess a fairly good character for canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C Solid-Pack or U. S. Standard Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good character for canned 'solid-pack' clingstone peaches" means the product generally possesses a texture of properly processed clingstone peaches which may be variable in tenderness or may be soft; and not less than 60 percent, by weight, of the drained clingstone peaches are in reasonably intact units and the balance may be mushy or may consist of fairly firm units.

(h) (D–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches which fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (g) of this section but not less than 40 percent, by weight, of the drained clingstone peaches are in reasonably intact units may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(i) (SStd–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, diced, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" clingstone peaches that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (h) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

LOT CERTIFICATION TOLERANCES

§ 52.2576 Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (a) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of canned clingstone peaches the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if (1) such containers meet all of the applicable grade requirements of the factors of quality that are not rated by score points; (2) all containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification; and (3) with respect to those factors which are rated by score points:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers falls to meet the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(ii) None of the containers falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(iii) None of the containers falls more than one grade below the grade indicated by the average of such total scores; and

(iv) The average score of all containers for any factor subject to a limiting rule is within the score range of that factor for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores of the containers comprising the sample.

CANNED FREESTONE PEACHES

UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR GRADES [1]

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the revision of the United States Standards for Grades of Canned Freestone Peaches, pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087 et seq., as amended, 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.). This revision, if made effective, will be the third issue by the Department of grade standards for this product.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed revision should file the same with the Chief, Processed Products Standardization and Inspection Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed revision is as follows:

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND GRADES

Sec.
52.2601 Product description.
52.2602 Styles of canned freestone peaches.
52.2603 Grades of canned freestone peaches.
52.2604 Grades of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches.

LIQUID MEDIA, FILL OF CONTAINER, AND DRAINED WEIGHTS

52.2605 Liquid media and Brix measurements for canned freestone peaches.
52.2606 Fill of container for canned freestone peaches.
52.2607 Recommended fill of container for canned "dietetic" and "solid-pack" freestone peaches.
52.2608 Recommended minimum drained weights for canned freestone peaches.
52.2609 Compliance with recommended drained weights.

FACTORS OF QUALITY

52.2610 Ascertaining the grade.
52.2611 Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored.
52.2612 Color.
52.2613 Uniformity of size and symmetry.
52.2614 Absence of defects.
52.2615 Character.

LOT CERTIFICATION TOLERANCES

52.2616 Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples.

SCORE SHEET

[1] Compliance with the requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

AUTHORITY: §§ 52.2601 to 52.2617 issued under sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1624.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND GRADES

§ 52.2601 Product description—(a) Canned freestone peaches. "Canned freestone peaches" means "canned yellow freestone peaches" or "canned yellow free peaches" as such product is defined in the standards of identity for canned peaches (21 CFR 27.0) issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. For the purposes of the standards in this subpart, and unless the text indicates otherwise, the terms "canned peaches" or "canned freestone peaches" include "canned yellow freestone peaches" as defined in the aforesaid standards of identity, canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches, canned "dietetic" freestone peaches, and canned "spiced" yellow freestone peaches.

(b) Canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches. For the purposes of the standards in this subpart, canned peaches when referred to as "canned 'solid-pack' freestone peaches" means prepared peaches of the yellow freestone varietal group packed without a liquid packing medium and sufficiently processed by heat to assure preservation of the product in hermetically-sealed containers.

(c) Canned "dietetic" freestone peaches. For the purposes of the standards in this subpart, canned peaches when referred to as "canned 'dietetic' freestone peaches" means canned yellow freestone peaches without nutritive sweetening ingredient(s) added and declared for dietary use, or with artificial sweetening ingredient(s) added, or with any other ingredient(s) permissible for dietary use under the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

§ 52.2602 Styles of canned freestone peaches. (a) "Halves" or "Halved" canned peaches are peeled and pitted peaches, cut approximately in half along the suture from stem to apex.

(b) "Quarters" or "Quartered" canned peaches are halved peaches cut into two approximately equal parts.

(c) "Slices" or "Sliced" canned peaches are peeled and pitted peaches cut into sectors smaller than quarters.

(d) "Whole" canned peaches are peeled, unpitted, whole peaches with or without stems removed.

(e) "Mixed Pieces of Irregular Sizes and Shapes" are peeled, pitted, and cut units of canned peaches that are predominantly irregular in size and shape which do not conform to a single style of halves, quarters, or slices and which may consist of:

(1) Units (commonly called "salad cuts" or "salad pieces") which may have been prepared originally as peach halves but which are irregular in size and shape in that more than one-fourth of the unit appears to have been removed at the outer curved surface and which have been cut further into pieces;

(2) Units which may have been prepared originally as peach slices but which are irregular in size and shape in that they have been cut further into pieces; or

(3) Mixtures of two or more of the following styles which may or may not be of normal shape; halves, quarters, or slices.

§ 52.2603 Grades of canned freestone peaches. (a) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, or whole canned freestone peaches that possess similar varietal characteristics, that possess a normal flavor and odor, that possess a good color, that are practically uniform in size and symmetry for the applicable style, that are practically free from defects, that possess a good character and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 90 points: Provided, That halves, quarters, slices, or whole canned freestone peaches may possess a reasonably good color, may be reasonably uniform in size and symmetry, and may possess a reasonably good character, if the total score is not less than 90 points.

(b) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Choice" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess similar varietal characteristics, that possess a normal flavor and odor, that possess a reasonably good color, that are reasonably uniform in size and symmetry for the applicable style, that are reasonably free from defects, that possess a reasonably good character, and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 80 points: Provided, That halves, quarters, slices, or whole canned freestone peaches may be fairly uniform in size and symmetry if the total score is not less than 80 points.

(c) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess similar varietal characteristics, that possess a normal flavor and odor, that possess a fairly good color, that are fairly uniform in size and symmetry for the applicable style, that are fairly free from defects, that possess a fairly good character, and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 70 points.

(d) "U. S. Grade D" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that may possess dissimilar varietal characteristics, that possess a normal flavor and odor, that possess a fairly good color, that may vary in size and symmetry for the applicable style; that are fairly free from defects except for crushed and broken units in the styles of halves, quarters, or whole style; that possess a noticeable variability in character, and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 60 points. Canned freestone peaches of this grade may or may not meet the minimum standard of quality for canned peaches issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(e) "Substandard" is the quality of canned freestone peaches that fail to meet the applicable requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade D and is the quality of canned freestone peaches that may or may not meet the minimum standard of quality for canned peaches issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

§ 52.2604 Grades of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches. (a) "U. S. Grade C Solid-Pack" or "U. S. Standard Solid-Pack" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess a normal flavor and odor; that possess a fairly good color; that are fairly free from defects for canned freestone peaches; and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 70 points.

(b) "U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack" is the quality of halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that fail to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard Solid-Pack.

§ 52.2605 Liquid media and Brix measurements for canned freestone peaches. "Cut-out" requirements for liquid media in canned freestone peaches are not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since drained weight, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. The "cut-out" Brix measurement, as applicable, for the respective designations are as follows:

|---|---|
| "Extra heavy sirup" or "Extra heavy peach juice sirup" | 24° or more but not more than 35°. |
| "Heavy sirup" or "Heavy peach juice sirup" | 19° or more but less than 24°. |
| "Light sirup" or "Light peach juice sirup" | 14° or more but less than 19°. |
| "Slightly sweetened water" or "Slightly sweetened peach juice". | Less than 14°. |
| "In water" | Packed in water. |

§ 52.2606 Fill of container for canned freestone peaches. The standard of fill of container for canned freestone peaches is the maximum quantity of the peach units which can be sealed in the container and processed by heat to prevent spoilage, without crushing or breaking such ingredient. Canned freestone peaches that do not meet this requirement are "Below Standard in Fill."

§ 52.2607 Recommended fill of container for canned "dietetic" and "solid-pack" freestone peaches. The recommended fill of container for canned "dietetic" and "solid-pack" freestone peaches is not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since drained weight, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. It is recommended that each container of "dietetic" or "solid-pack" freestone peaches be as full of peaches as practicable without impairment of quality and that the product occupy not less than 90 percent of the volume of the container.

§ 52.2608 Recommended minimum drained weights for canned freestone peaches—(a) General. The minimum drained weight recommendations for the various applicable styles in Table I or Table II are not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since drained weight, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. The recommendations in Table I apply only when the drained weight determination is made immediately after processing. For the purposes of ascertaining compliance with the recommended minimum drained weights in Table I, "immediately after processing" means after the product has been cooled to room temperature and during a period of more than 8 hours to not more than 24 hours after processing.

(2) Table II. The recommendations in Table II apply when the drained weight determination is made at periods other than immediately after processing.

(b) Method for ascertaining drained weight. The drained weight of canned freestone peaches, canned "dietetic" freestone peaches, and canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches is determined by emptying the contents of the container; turning the pit cavities down in halves, upon a United States Standard No. 8 circular sieve of proper diameter containing 8 meshes to the inch (0.0937-inch ±3 percent, square openings) so as to distribute the product evenly, inclining the sieve slightly to facilitate drainage, and allowing to drain for two minutes. The drained weight is the weight of the sieve and peaches less the weight of the dry sieve. A sieve 8 inches in diameter is used for the equivalent of No. 3 size cans (404×414) and smaller, and a sieve 12 inches in diameter is used for containers larger than the equivalent of the No. 3 size can.

§ 52.2609 Compliance with recommended drained weights. Compliance with the recommended drained weights for canned freestone peaches, canned "dietectic" freestone peaches, and canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches is determined by averaging the drained weights from all of the containers which are representative of a specific lot and such lot is considered as meeting the recommendations if the following criteria are met:

(a) The average of the drained weights from all of the containers meets the recommended drained weight;

(b) One-half or more of the containers meet the recommended drained weight; and

(c) The drained weights from the containers which do not meet the recommended drained weight are within the range of variability for good commercial practice.

FACTORS OF QUALITY

§ 52.2610 Ascertaining the grade— (a) General. In addition to considering other requirements outlined in the standards the following quality factors are evaluated:

(1) Factors not rated by score points in canned freestone peaches other than "solid-pack" freestone peaches. (i) Varietal characteristics.

(ii) Flavor and odor.

(2) Factors not rated by score points in canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches. (i) Flavor and odor.

(3) Factors rated by score points in canned peaches. The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

| | Points |
|---|---|
| (i) Color | 20 |
| (ii) Uniformity of size and symmetry | 20 |
| (iii) Absence of defects | 30 |
| (iv) Character | 30 |

(b) Definition of flavor and odor. "Normal flavor and odor" means that the canned peaches are free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

§ 52.2611 Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "18 to 20 points" means 18, 19, or 20 points).

§ 52.2612 Color—(a) General. (1) The color of canned freestone peaches other than canned "spiced" peaches refers to the predominating and characteristic color on the backs of halved units, on the surface of whole units, and the exterior surface of other units, excluding such portions which were obviously near or part of the pit cavity.

(2) The colors, "Orange-yellow" and "yellow", in this section mean a color equal to or better in color than "USDA Canned Freestone Peach, Orange-Yellow" and "USDA Canned Freestone Peach, Yellow", respectively. Information regarding these color standards may be obtained by writing to the Processed Products Standardization and Inspection Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

(3) The factor of color for canned "spiced" peaches is not based on any detailed requirement and is not scored but the color shall be normal for canned "spiced" peaches; the other three factors (uniformity of size and symmetry, absence of defects, and character as applicable) are scored and the total is multiplied by 100 and divided by 80, dropping any fractions to determine the total score.

(b) (A) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess a good color may be given a score of 18 to 20 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that score 18 to 20 points shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Good color" means that the canned freestone peaches possess a typical orange-yellow color of properly ripened, properly prepared, and properly processed canned freestone peaches which color is practically uniform and free from brown color due to oxidation; and that none of the units possess a "fairly good color."

(c) (B) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess a reasonably good color may be given a score of 16 or 17 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" means that the canned freestone peaches possess a typical orange-yellow color of properly ripened, properly prepared, and properly processed canned freestone peaches which color is reasonably uniform; that the units are practically free from any brown color due to oxidation which color may affect no more than slightly the appearance or edibility, or both, of the product; and that not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may possess "fairly good color," exclusive of slight brown color resulting from oxidation; or one unit in a container is permitted to possess such "fairly good color": Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such units do not exceed an average of 10 percent of the total number of units.

(d) (C), (D), (C–SP) and (D–SP) classifications. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess a fairly good color; and halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that possess a fairly good color or better color may be given a score of 14 or 15 points. Canned freestone peaches or canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade C Solid-Pack or U. S. Standard Solid-Pack, whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that the units of freestone peaches may vary noticeably in shades of a typical yellow color of fairly well-ripened and properly processed canned freestone peaches; and that not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be off-color or possess brown color due to oxidation or one unit in a container is permitted to possess such color: Provided, That such unit does not materially affect the appearance of the product.

(e) (SStd) and (SStd–SP) classification. Canned freestone peaches and canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above Substandard or Substandard Solid-Pack, whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.2613 Uniformity of size and symmetry—(a) General. The factor of uniformity of size and symmetry for mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches and all applicable styles of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches is not based on any detailed requirements and is not scored; the other three factors (color, absence of defects, and character as applicable) are scored and the total is multiplied by 100 and divided by 80, dropping any fractions to determine the total score.

(b) Off-suture cut. "Off-suture cut" in halved or quartered canned freestone peaches means a halved or quartered unit which has been cut at a distance from the suture greater than 3/8 inch at the widest measurement from the suture.

(c) Broken slice. A "broken slice" in the style of slices is a unit that has had the semblance of a slice with respect to thickness and shape but is less than three-fourths of an apparent full slice and that does not bear marks of crushing. In determining the allowances in terms of percentage by count, broken slices aggregating the equivalent of an average size slice shall be considered as one unit.

(d) Sliver. A "sliver" in the style of slices is a sector that is substantially smaller than the general size of slices or that weighs 3 grams or less.

(e) Slab. A "slab" in the style of slices is a portion of a unit which does not conform to the shape of a definite slice due to improper cutting.

(f) (A) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or whole canned freestone peaches that are practically uniform in size and symmetry may be given a score of 18 to 20 points. "Practically uniform in size and symmetry" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. The weight of the largest full-size unit does not exceed the weight of the smallest full-size unit by more than 50 percent; the weight of each half is not less than 3/5 ounce; the weight of each quarter is not less than 3/10 ounce; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units in the style of halves or quarters may possess off-suture cuts. One unit in a container is permitted to possess an off-suture cut if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample, such units do not exceed an average of 10 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Slices. Not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the units may be broken, slivers, and slabs: Provided, That not more than 5 percent, by count, are slabs; and excluding broken slices, slivers, and slabs that may be present, the variation in size of the other units does not affect more than slightly the appearance of the product.

(g) (B) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or whole canned freestone peaches that are reasonably uniform in size and symmetry may be given a score of 16 or 17 points. "Reasonably uniform in size and symmetry" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. The weight of the largest full-size unit does not exceed the weight of the smallest full-size unit by more than 60 percent; the weight of each half is not less than 3/5 ounce; the weight of each quarter is not less than 3/10 ounce; and not more than 20 percent, by count, of the units in the style of halves or quarters may possess off-suture cuts. One unit in a container is permitted to possess an off-suture cut if such unit exceeds the allowance of 20 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such units do not exceed an average of 20 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Slices. Not more than a total of 15 percent, by count, of the units may be broken, slivers, and slabs: Provided, That not more than 7½ percent, by count, are slabs; and excluding broken slices, slivers, and slabs that may be present, the variation in size of the other units does not affect materially the appearance of the product.

(h) (C) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or whole canned freestone peaches that are fairly uniform in size and symmetry may be given a score of 14 or 15 points. Canned freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Fairly uniform in size and symmetry" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. The weight of the largest full-size unit may be not more than twice the weight of the smallest full-size unit; the weight of each half is not less than 3/5 ounce; the weight of each quarter is not less than 3/10 ounce; and not more than 40 percent, by count, of the units in the style of halves or quarters may possess off-suture cuts.

(2) Slices. Not more than a total of 25 percent, by count, of the units may be broken, slivers, and slabs: Provided, That not more than 12½ percent, by count, are slabs.

(i) (D) and (SStd) classification. Canned freestone peaches of the applicable styles which fail to meet paragraph (h) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above the following stated grade, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule):

(1) Halves, quarters, or whole canned freestone peaches in which the weight of the largest full-size unit is more than twice the weight of the smallest full-size unit shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D and are also "Below Standard in Quality—Mixed Sizes."

(2) Halves of canned freestone peaches in which the weight of any half is less than 3/5 ounce shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D and are also "Below Standard in Quality—Small Halves."

(3) Quarters of canned freestone peaches in which the weight of any quarter is less than 3/10 ounce shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D and are also "Below Standard in Quality—Small Quarters."

§ 52.2614. Absence of defects—(a) General. The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from harmless extraneous material (such as stems or leaves and portions thereof), from pit material, from peel, from blemished units, from units that are crushed or broken for the applicable style, and from any other defects which detract from the appearance or edibility of the product.

(1) Blemished. "Blemished" or "blemished units" means units that are blemished with scab, hail injury, discoloration, or other abnormality which affects materially the appearance or edibility, or both, of the unit.

(2) Crushed or broken. "Crushed or broken" means that:

(i) a unit in halves, quarters, or whole style of canned freestone peaches is "crushed" if the unit has definitely lost its normal shape and bears marks of crushing or is otherwise crushed not due to ripeness; and

(ii) a unit in halves, quarters, or whole style of canned freestone peaches is "broken" if severed into definite parts; halves of canned freestone peaches that are slightly or partially split from the edge to the pit cavity are not considered broken. Portions equivalent to a full-size unit that has been broken are considered as one unit in determining the percentage by count.

(3) Pit material. "Pit material" means any whole pit in other than whole style or any portion of a peach pit, regardless of size, except when whole peach pits or peach kernels are permitted as seasoning ingredients in other than whole style.

(b) (A) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that score 27 to 30 points shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Practically free from defects" means that the canned freestone peaches are practically free from pit material, from harmless extraneous material, and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. Not more than an average of ½ square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be crushed or broken; and not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be crushed or broken and one unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if any of such units exceed the respective allowances of 5 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such crushed or broken units do not exceed an average of 5 percent of the total number of units and such blemished units do not exceed an average of 5 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Sliced; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Not more than an average of ½ square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; and not more than 3 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if such unit exceeds the allowance of 3 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such blemished units do not exceed an average of 3 percent of the total number of units.

(c) (B) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that are reasonably free from defects may be given a score of 24 to 26 points. Canned freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that the canned freestone peaches are practically free from pit material, are reasonably free from harmless extraneous material, and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. Not more than an average of ½ square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be crushed or broken; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be crushed or broken and one unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if any of such units exceed the respective allowances of 5 percent and 10 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such crushed or broken units do not exceed an average of 5 percent of the total number of units and such blemished units do not exceed an average of 10 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Slices; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Not more than an average of ½ square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; and not more than 6 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a single container is permitted to be blemished if such unit exceeds the allowance of 6 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such blemished units do not exceed an average of 6 percent of the total number of units.

(d) (C) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that are fairly free from defects may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Canned freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" means that the canned freestone peaches are practically free from pit material, are fairly free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; whole. Not more than an average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be crushed or broken; and not more than 20 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be crushed or broken and one unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if any of such units exceed the respective allowances of 5 percent and 20 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such blemished units do not exceed an average of 20 percent of the total number of units.

(2) Slices; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Not more than an average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present; and not more than 20 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished.

(e) (D) classification. Canned freestone peaches of any style which fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section but which meet the requirements of this paragraph may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). Halves, quarters, and whole canned freestone peaches that are thereby U. S. Grade D may also be "Below Standard in Quality"—"Partly Crushed or Broken" or "Unevenly Trimmed," or both. Canned freestone peaches of U. S. Grade D with respect to "absence of defects" are practically free from pit material, are fairly free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect materially the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition:

(1) Not more than an average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents may be present;

(2) In the style of halves, quarters, or whole, any amount of crushed or broken units may be present; and

(3) Not more than 20 percent, by count, of the units may be blemished. One unit in a container is permitted to be blemished if such unit exceeds the allowance of 20 percent, by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample such blemished units do not exceed an average of 20 percent of the total number of units.

(f) (SStd) classification. Canned freestone peaches that fail to meet the applicable requirements of paragraph (e) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above the following stated grades, as applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(1) Halves, quarters, and whole canned freestone peaches shall not be graded above Substandard and may also be "Below Standard in Quality" for the applicable reasons:

(i) Not well peeled.

(ii) Partly crushed or broken.

(iii) Unevenly trimmed.

(iv) Blemished.

(2) Slices and mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches shall not be graded above Substandard and may also be "Below Standard in Quality" for the applicable reasons:

(i) Not well peeled.

(ii) Blemished.

(g) (C–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that are fairly free from defects for canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C Solid-Pack or U. S. Standard Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects for canned 'solid-pack' freestone peaches" means that the canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches are practically free from pit material, are fairly free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, no more than the following defects may be present:

(1) An average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents; and

(2) 2 blemished units for each pound of contents.

(h) (D–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches which fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (g) of this section but which meet the requirements of this paragraph may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). Canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches of "U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack" with respect to "absence of defects" are practically free from pit material, are fairly free from harmless extraneous material and from any defects not specifically mentioned that affect materially the appearance or edibility of the product, and, in addition, no more than the following defects may be present:

(1) An average of 1 square inch of peel for each pound of contents;

(2) 4 blemished units for each pound of contents.

(i) (SStd–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (h) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.2615 Character—(a) General. The factor of character refers to the degree of ripeness, the texture, and tenderness of the product.

(b) (A) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess a good character may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that score 27 to 30 points shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Good character" has the following meanings with respect to the various styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; slices; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. The units are pliable and possess a tender, fleshy texture typical of well-ripened, properly prepared, and properly processed canned freestone peaches; the units are free from noticeable stringiness or toughness; the units may be soft or slightly frayed but not mushy; the halves of peaches may have a tendency to flatten and may be slightly frayed; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of all the units may possess a "reasonably good character." One unit in a container is permitted to possess a "reasonably good character" if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That the appearance or eating quality, or both, is not more than slightly affected by the character of such unit.

(2) Whole. The units possess a tender texture typical of well-ripened, properly prepared, and properly processed canned freestone peaches; the units are uniformly intact; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of all the units may possess a "reasonably good character." One unit in a container is permitted to possess a "reasonably good character" if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That the appearance or eating quality, or both, is not more than slightly affected by the character of such unit.

(c) (B) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess a reasonably good character may be given a score of 24 to 26 points. Mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Reasonably good character" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters, slices; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. The units possess a texture typical of properly ripened freestone peaches that are properly processed; the texture is reasonably fleshy; the units may be soft or materially frayed but not mushy or may be slightly firm or variable in tenderness within the unit; the halves of peaches may have a decided tendency to flatten and may be materially frayed; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may possess a fairly good character, except for mushy units. One unit in a container is permitted to possess such fairly good character if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That the appearance or eating quality, or both, is not affected materially by the character of such unit.

(2) Whole. The units possess a texture of properly processed freestone peaches; the units are reasonably tender or the tenderness may be variable within the unit; the units may be slightly firm or slightly soft but are not mushy; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may possess a fairly good character, except for mushy or not tender units. One unit in a container is permitted to possess such fairly good character if such unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent, by count: Provided, That the appearance or eating quality, or both, is not affected materially by the character of such unit.

(d) (C) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that possess a fairly good character may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Canned freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good character" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles of canned freestone peaches:

(1) Halves; quarters; slices; mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. The units possess a texture of properly processed freestone peaches which may be variable in fleshiness but the texture is fairly fleshy; the units may be lacking uniformity of tenderness; the units may be very soft but not frayed to the extent that their normal shape is destroyed; and not more than 10 percent, by weight, of the drained freestone peaches may be mushy or units that are not tender.

(2) Whole. The units possess a texture of properly processed freestone peaches which may be variable; the units may be lacking uniformity of tenderness or may be markedly ragged or very soft; and not more than 10 percent, by count, of the units may be mushy or not tender. One unit in a single container is permitted to be mushy or not tender, if one unit exceeds the allowance of 10 percent by count: Provided, That in all containers comprising the sample, such units do not exceed an average of 10 percent of the total number of units.

(e) (D) classification. Canned freestone peaches of any style that meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section with respect to units that are not tender but which otherwise possess a noticeably variable texture with not more than 25 percent, by weight, of the drained canned freestone peaches that consist of mushy fruit may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(f) (SStd) classification. Canned freestone peaches of any style that fail to meet the applicable requirements of paragraph (d) or (e) of this section or that are "not tender" may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). Halves, quarters, slices, whole, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned freestone peaches that are "not tender" are also "Below Standard in Quality—Not Tender."

(g) (C–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that possess a fairly good character for canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C Solid-Pack or U. S. Standard Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good character for canned 'solid-pack' freestone peaches" means the product generally possesses a texture of properly processed freestone peaches which may be variable in tenderness or degree of softness in that reasonably intact units predominate although the balance may be mushy or may consist of fairly firm units.

(h) (D–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches which fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (g) of this section and are extremely variable in tenderness or degree of softness, from mushy to firm but not excessively firm, may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(i) (SStd–SP) classification. Halves, quarters, slices, or mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes of canned "solid-pack" freestone peaches that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (h) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard Solid-Pack, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

LOT CERTIFICATION TOLERANCES

§ 52.2616 Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (a) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of canned freestone peaches the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if, (1) such containers meet all of the applicable grade requirements of the factors of quality that are not rated by score points; (2) all containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification; and (3) with respect to those factors which are rated by score points:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers fails to meet the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(ii) None of the containers falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(iii) None of the containers falls more than one grade below the grade indicated by the average of such total scores; and

(iv) The average score of all containers for any factor subject to a limiting rule is within the score range of that factor for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores of the containers comprising the sample.

[ 7 CFR Part 1001 ]

LIMES GROWN IN FLORIDA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

Notice is hereby given that the Department is considering the proposed amendment, as hereinafter set forth, of the rules and regulations (7 CFR 1001.110 et seq.; Subpart-Rules and Regulations; 20 F. R. 6017) currently in effect pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 101 (7 CFR, Part 1001; 20 F. R. 4179), regulating the handling of limes grown in Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047).

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with such proposed amendment should do so by forwarding the same to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 2077, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the tenth day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed amendment of the rules and regulations, which has been recommended by the Florida Lime Administrative Committee, the agency established under the marketing agreement and order to administer the provisions thereof, is as follows:

1. Amend paragraph (b) of § 1001.120 Handler registration by changing the period at the end thereof to a colon and adding immediately thereafter the following: "Provided, That such applicant shall have been issued for the current season a certificate of registration pursuant to section 601.40 of the Florida Citrus Code covering the packing house in which limes are to be handled."

2. Amend § 1001.130 Limes not subject to regulation by adding thereto immediately following paragraph (a) of such section, a new paragraph reading as follows:

(b) The term "commercial processing into products," as used in paragraph (c) of § 1001.56, means the manufacture of any lime product which has been preserved by any recognized commercial process, including canning, freezing, dehydrating, drying, the addition of chemical substances, or by fermentation. Limes handled for conversion into juice without further processing or preservative treatment, as herein described, shall be deemed fresh limes subject to all regulations under this part.

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD

[ 24 CFR Part 163 ]

[No. 9531]

FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN INSURANCE CORPORATION

PROMOTIONAL OPERATIONS

APRIL 26, 1956.

Resolved that, pursuant to Part 108 of the General Regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (24 CFR Part 108) and § 167.1 of the rules and regulations for Insurance of Accounts (24 CFR 167.1), it is hereby proposed that, pursuant to sections 402, 403, 48 Stat. 1256, 1257 (12 U. S. C. 1725, 1726), Part 163 of the rules and regulations for Insurance of Accounts (24 CFR Part 163) be amended by an amendment the substance of which is as follows:

Section 163.24 (24 CFR 163.24) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following four new sentences: "An insured institution shall not give for the opening of, or increasing the amount of, any account any give-away that has a monetary value in excess of $2.50, and if it gives for the opening of, or increasing the amount of, any account any give-away that has a monetary value not in excess of $2.50 it shall, during the entire period in which the same is made available to any person, make the same give-away available to each person who opens an account of $50 or more. The monetary value of any give-away so given shall be the cost thereof to the insured institution and the insured intsitution shall keep in its records for a period of at least two years suitable evidence of such cost. If the give-away is purchased or obtained by the insured institution together with, in connection with, or at the same time as another item or other items from the same supplier, not identical therewith, such value shall be deemed to be the then current regular selling price or charge of the supplier on separate sales or dispositions thereof in the quantity included, and the insured institution shall in such case obtain, and keep in its records for a period of at least two years, a signed statement by such supplier of such regular selling price or charge. As used in the foregoing provisions of this section, the term 'give' means to give, to sell or dispose of for less than full monetary value as hereinbefore defined, or with any agreement or undertaking, contingent or otherwise, for repurchase or redemption, whether total or partial, or to offer, promise, or agree to do any of the foregoing; the term 'give-away' means any money, property, service, or other thing of value, whether tangible or intangible; and the term 'account' means an account of an insurable type."

Resolved further, that all interested persons are hereby given the opportunity to submit written data, views, or arguments as to whether said proposed amendment should be adopted or shall be modified and adopted as modified.

All such written data, views, or arguments must be received through the mail or otherwise at the office of the Secretary, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Federal Home Loan Bank Board Building, 101 Indiana Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., not later than the close of business on June 1, 1956, to be entitled to be considered, but any received later may be considered in the discretion of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

By the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Sec. 24, lot 4, SW¼SE¼ and S½SW¼;
Sec. 25, lots 1, 2, 3, and 4;
Sec. 26, lot 1.

The areas described total 289.78 acres of public land within the limits of Utah Grazing District No. 8.

2. The public lands lie along or near the right bank of the Green River about 105 river miles above Green River, Utah.

3. No application will be allowed under the homestead, desert land, or other nonmineral public land laws unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

4. Any disposition of the lands shall be also subject to stipulation that if and when the land is required in whole or in part for purposes of power development, and structures or improvements located thereon which shall be found to interfere with such power development shall be removed or relocated as may be necessary to eliminate interference with such power development without expense to the United States, its licensees or permittees.

5. The lands described shall be subject to application by the State of Utah for a period of 90 days from the date of this order for right-of-way for public highways or as a source of material for construction of such highways, in accordance with and subject to provisions of section 24 of the Federal Power Act, as amended; and special stipulation provision in the preceding paragraph.

6. Subject to any existing valid rights, withdrawals, or proposed withdrawals of record, and the requirements of applicable laws, the lands described in paragraph 1, are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and location in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraph:

(1) Application by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the application and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead and Desert Land laws by qualified veterans of World War II or the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; U. S. C. 279-284), as amended, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on May 26, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00-a. m. on August 25, 1956, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on August 25, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

7. Persons claiming veterans' preference rights under paragraph a-(2) above must enclose with their application proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims, must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their applications, setting forth all facts relevant to their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

8. Inquiries concerning the above lands shall be addressed to Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, P. O. Box 777 (Post Office Building) Salt Lake City 10, Utah.

WASHINGTON

DESIGNATION OF AREAS FOR PRODUCTION EMERGENCY LOANS

For the purpose of making production emergency loans pursuant to section 2 (a) of Public Law 38, 81st Congress (12 U. S. C. 1148a-2 (a)), as amended, it has been determined that in the following named counties in the State of Washington a production disaster has caused a need for agricultural credit not readily available from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources:

Washington: Benton, Chelan, Douglas, Okanogan, Yakima.

Accordingly, the above-named counties are hereby designated for making production emergency loans through December 31, 1956. Thereafter, such loans will be made only to applicants who previously received production emergency loans and who can qualify for such loans under established policies and procedures.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of April 1956.

IDAHO

DISASTER ASSISTANCE; DESIGNATION OF AREAS FOR SPECIAL EMERGENCY LOANS

For the purpose of making emergency loans pursuant to Public Law 727, 83d Congress, as amended, it is determined that in the entire State of Idaho there is a need for agricultural credit which cannot be met for a temporary period from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, the Farmers Home Administration under its regular programs, or under Public Law 38, 81st Congress (12 U. S. C. 1148a-2), as amended, or other responsible sources.

Pursuant to the authority set forth above, such loans may be made to new applicants in the State of Idaho through June 30, 1956. Thereafter, such loans may be made in the State of Idaho only to applicants who previously received such assistance and who can qualify under established policies and procedures.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of April 1956.

[Docket Nos. 11632, 11633; FCC 56 M-395]

PACIFIC TELEVISION, INC., AND KOOS, INC.

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re applications of Pacific Television, Inc., Coos Bay, Oregon, Docket No. 11632, File No. BPCT-2046; Koos, Inc., Coos Bay, Oregon, Docket No. 11633, File No. BPCT-2052; for construction permits for new Television Broadcast Stations.

The Hearing Examiner having under consideration a motion (petition) for continuance of hearing filed by Pacific Television, Inc., on April 24, 1956;

It appearing that the hearing in this proceeding is currently scheduled to commence on April 30, 1956; and

It further appearing that Pacific Television, Inc. (petitioner herein) has also filed with the Commission a request for the assignment of another UHF channel to Coos Bay and that pending Commission action on this rule-making proceeding any hearing in the instant case would incur needless expense in time and money for the competing applicants; and

It further appearing that all other parties to this proceeding have consented to a grant of the continuance and to a waiver of the four-day rule;

It is ordered, This 25th day of April 1956, that the motion (petition) of Pacific Television, Inc., for continuance is granted and that the date for commencement of hearing is continued from April 30 to May 31, 1956.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-10060]

UNION PRODUCING CO. AND UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER MODIFYING ORDER INSTITUTING INVESTIGATION AND FIXING DATE OF HEARING

Union Producing Company (hereinafter referred to as Respondent) and United Gas Pipe Line Company (United Gas) filed on March 26, 1956, separate motions for extension of time and for modification of the Commission's order issued in the above-entitled matters, on March 9, 1956.

The Commission on its own motion issued its order of March 9, 1956, in the above-entitled matters instituting an investigation to determine whether Respondent is a natural-gas company within the meaning of the Natural Gas Act and fixing the date for hearing as May 21, 1956. The order further provided that on or before 20 days prior to such hearing Respondent and United Gas shall submit certain specified material to the Commission for consideration in this proceeding.

Upon consideration of certain facts and allegations set forth in the respective motions filed herein by Respondent and United Gas:

The Commission finds: It is in the public interest and it is necessary and appropriate in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act to modify, as hereinafter ordered, the order of the Commission, issued in this proceeding on March 9, 1956, at Docket No. G-10060.

The Commission orders:

(A) The order of the Commission issued March 9, 1956 at Docket No. G-10060 be and is hereby modified and amended to eliminate paragraphs (iv), (v) and (vi) from said order and substitute therefor the following as indicated below:

(iv) A legible geographic map showing the pipeline system of United Gas, the points of delivery of natural gas by United Gas to other natural gas pipeline companies and the facilities of such natural gas pipeline companies from such point of delivery to a point in an adjacent State.

(v) A combination flow diagram and map for each main operating district of United Gas, similar to that submitted by United Gas at Docket Nos. G-2019 and G-2074 (Hearing Exhibits 12, 13 etc.) showing the flow of gas through its main transmission system from points of receipt into the main transmission lines of United Gas to points of delivery by United Gas to others; however, such combination flow diagram and map, which is schematic in character, shall show schematically where any pipe lines of United Gas cross state lines. The volumes received by United Gas should be broken down at each point of receipt between those volumes received from Respondent and those aggregate volumes received from others. The names of the parties receiving gas from United Gas should be stated at each point of delivery together with the volumes received by each party. If convenient, tabulations of gas receipts and deliveries with appropriate key references to map locations may be used. The volumes of gas flowing shall be on a net annual basis for the year ended December 31, 1955 and on the actual system peak day of the 1955-56 winter season.

(vi) A flow chart similar to that submitted by United Gas as hearing Exhibit No. 121 in Docket No. G-1869, showing the flow of gas between the districts of United Gas, thus coordinating the separate district maps mentioned in (v). One flow chart should be submitted for the net annual flow for the year ended December 31, 1955, and one for the 1955-56 system peak day.

(B) Delete from paragraph (B) line 5 of said order "May 21" and substitute therefor "September 15".

Issued: April 26, 1956.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G–9900]

GULF INTERSTATE GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 26, 1956.

Take notice that Gulf Interstate Gas Company, Applicant, a Delaware corporation, having its principal place of business in Houston, Texas, filed on January 23, 1956, an application and on February 27, March 5, and April 6, 1956, supplements thereto, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing it to construct and operate certain additional natural gas facilities as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application, which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

The proposed facilities consist of the addition of one 2,000 horsepower natural gas engine with compressor at each of the Applicant's existing Compressor Stations Nos. 2, 4, 6 and 8 now located on the Applicant's transmission line in Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana.

The purpose of the application is to enable Applicant to increase its delivery at its existing delivery points at Means and Leach, Kentucky to United Fuel Gas Company, its sole customer, of natural gas purchased by United from various fields in Southern Louisiana. United has requested Applicant to install additional facilities which will enable it to increase its design capacity from 375,000 Mcf per day to 401,000 Mcf per day. Annual deliveries will also be increased from about 136,000,000 Mcf to about 148,000,000 Mcf, excluding company use requirements and that lost and unaccounted for.

Gulf indicates that its winter capacity with 20 percent overload will be about 424,000 Mcf per day at 14.73 psia using its existing and proposed facilities.

The total cost of construction is estimated to be $2,070,000 including engineering, inspection, administrative overhead, legal fees, construction interest and contingencies. Applicant intends to finance the proposed facilities from cash on hand.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Thursday, May 24, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (c) (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 11, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made. Under the procedure herein provided for unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Rev. S. O. 562, Taylor's I. C. C. Order No. 69]

DETROIT AND TOLEDO SHORE LINE RAILROAD CO.

DIVERSION OR REROUTING OF TRAFFIC

In the opinion of Charles W. Taylor, Agent, The Detroit and Toledo Shore Line Railroad Company, because of work stoppage, is unable to transport traffic routed over and to points on its lines.

It is ordered, That:

(a) Rerouting traffic: The Detroit and Toledo Shore Line Railroad Company, and its connections, is hereby authorized to divert or reroute such traffic over any available route to expedite the movement, regardless of routing shown on the waybill. The billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained: The railroads desiring to divert or reroute traffic under this order shall confer with the proper transportation officer of the railroad or railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, and shall receive the concurrence of such other railroads before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers: The carriers rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic by said Agent is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipments on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date: This order shall become effective at 2:00 p. m., April 25, 1956.

(g) Expiration date. This order shall expire at 11:59 p. m., May 3, 1956, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., April 25, 1956.

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS

APRIL 27, 1956.

Protests consisting of an original and two copies to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER and a copy of such protest served on the applicant. Each protest must clearly state the name and street number, city and state address of each protestant on behalf of whom the protest is filed (49 CFR 1.240 and 1.241). Failure to seasonably file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding unless an oral hearing is held. In addition to other requirements of Rule 40 of the general rules of practice of the Commission (49 CFR 1.40), protest shall include a request for a public hearing, if one is desired, and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protest containing general allegations may be rejected. Requests for an oral hearing must be supported by an explanation as to why the evidence cannot be submitted in forms of affidavits. Any interested person, not a protestant, desiring to receive notice of the time and place of any hearing, pre-hearing conference, taking of depositions, or other proceeding shall notify the Commission by letter or telegram within 30 days of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Except when circumstances require immediate action, an application for approval, under section 210a (b) of the act, of the temporary operations of Motor Carrier properties sought to be acquired in an application under section 5 (2) will not be disposed of sooner than 10 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. If a protest is received prior to action being taken, it will be considered.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 811-111]

DEPOSITED BANK SHARES, SERIES B-1

NOTICE OF MOTION TO TERMINATE REGISTRATION

APRIL 26, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") on its own motion, is proposing to declare by order, pursuant to section 8 (f) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") that Deposited Bank Shares, Series B-1 (the "Trust"), a registered investment company, has ceased to be an investment company.

The Trust was created as a unit investment trust on December 1, 1928, pursuant to a Trust Agreement between Bank and Insurance Shares, Inc., Depositor, and The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities (now The First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Company), Trustee. In accordance with the terms of the Trust Agreement the Trust was terminated as of January 1, 1954.

Following termination of the Trust its assets were sold by the Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Trust Agreement for a net realization of $45,720, which sum was available for the certificate holders of the Trust.

The Trustee has distributed to certificate holders who surrendered their certificates an aggregate of $40,195.50 as at December 30, 1955, and holds an aggregate of $5,524.50 for distribution to the holders of unsurrendered certificates. The Trustee also holds $956.74 for unpresented coupons.

The Trustee represents that any funds held by the Trustee will be held solely for the respective certificate holders, and if and when such funds become subject to escheat laws, they will be paid to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Section 8 (f) of the act provides, in pertinent part, that whenever the Commission on its own motion finds that a registered investment company has ceased to be an investment company, it shall so declare by order and upon the taking effect of such order the registration of such company shall cease to be in effect.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 10, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the Commission may, acting on its own motion, declare that Deposited Bank Shares, Series B-1, has ceased to be an investment company, by order as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

APRIL 26, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") on its own motion, is proposing to declare by order, pursuant to section 8 (f) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") that Deposited Bank Shares, Series N. Y. (the "Trust"), a registered investment company, has ceased to be an investment company.

The Trust was created as a unit investment trust on September 1, 1929, pursuant to a Trust Agreement between Bank and Insurance Shares, Inc., Depositor, and The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities (now The First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Company), Trustee. In accordance with the terms of the Trust Agreement the Trust was terminated as of October 1, 1954.

Following termination of the Trust its assets were sold by the Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Trust Agreement for a net realization of $16,600, which sum was available for the certificate holders of the Trust.

The Trustee has distributed to certificate holders who surrendered their certificates an aggregate of $8,269.39 as at December 30, 1955, and holds an aggregate of $8,330.61 for distribution to the holders of unsurrendered certificates. The Trustee also holds $104.07 for uncashed dividend checks.

The Trustee represents that any funds held by the Trustee will be held solely for the respective certificate holders and if and when such funds become subject to escheat laws, they will be paid to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Section 8 (f) of the act provides, in pertinent part, that whenever the Commission on its own motion finds that a registered investment company has ceased to be an investment company, it shall so declare by order and upon the taking effect of such order the registration of such company shall cease to be in effect.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 10, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the Commission may, acting on its own motion, declare that Deposited Bank Shares, Series N. Y. has ceased to be an investment company, by order as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

DEPOSITED BANK SHARES, N. Y., SERIES A

NOTICE OF MOTION TO TERMINATE REGISTRATION

APRIL 26, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") on its own motion, is proposing to declare by order, pursuant to section 8 (f) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") that Deposited Bank Shares, N. Y.—Series A (the "Trust"), a registered investment company, has ceased to be an investment company.

The Trust was created as a unit investment trust on September 1, 1930, pursuant to a Trust Agreement between Bank and Insurance Shares, Inc., Depositor, and The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities (now The First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Company), Trustee. In accordance with the terms of the Trust Agreement the Trust was terminated as of October 1, 1955.

Following termination of the Trust its assets were sold by the Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Trust Agreement for a net realization of $109,867.41, which sum was available for the certificate holders of the Trust.

The Trustee has distributed to certificate holders who surrendered their certificates an aggregate of $56,399.96 as at December 30, 1955, and holds an aggregate of $53,467.45 for distribution to the holders of unsurrendered certificates. In addition, the Trustee holds $289.27 for uncashed certificate dividend checks and $3,060.79 for unclaimed dividends on underlying stocks.

The Trustee also, under a Trust Agreement entered into with the same Depositor under date of September 15, 1932 providing for the issuance of Bank Stock Plan Contract Certificates for the purchase of certificates issued under the Trust Agreement dated September 1, 1930, holds $9,033.74 for distribution to the holders of such Contracts.

The Trustee represents that any funds held by the Trustee will be held solely for the respective certificate or contract holders, or stockholders, and if and when such funds become subject to escheat laws, they will be paid to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Section 8 (f) of the act provides, in pertinent part, that whenever the Commission on its own motion finds that a registered investment company has ceased to be an investment company, it shall so declare by order and upon the taking effect of such order the registration of such company shall cease to be in effect.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 10, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the Commission may, acting on its own motion, declare that Deposited Bank Shares, N. Y.—Series A has ceased to be an investment company, by order as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

DEPOSITED INSURANCE SHARES, SERIES A AND INSURANCE STOCK PLAN CONTRACT CERTIFICATES

NOTICE OF MOTION TO TERMINATE REGISTRATION

APRIL 26, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") on its own motion, is proposing to declare by order, pursuant to section 8 (f) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") that Deposited Insurance Shares, Series A (the "Trust") and Insurance Stock Plan Contract Certificates (the "Plan"), registered investment companies, have ceased to be investment companies.

The Trust which provided for the issuance of certificates was created as a unit investment trust on July 1, 1930, pursuant to a Trust Agreement between Bank and Insurance Shares, Inc., Depositor, and The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting of Annuities (now The First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Company), Trustee. The Plan which provided for the issuance of Insurance Stock Plan Contract Certificates to purchase certificates issued pursuant to the Trust Agreement dated July 1, 1930, was created under a Trust Agreement between the same Depositor and the same Trustee dated September 15, 1932. Both the Trust and the Plan, in accordance with the terms of the respective Trust Agreements, were terminated on or after August 1, 1955.

Following termination of the Trust, its assets were sold by the Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Trust Agreement for a net realization of $164,384.78, which sum was available for the certificate holders of the Trust.

The Trustee has distributed to certificate holders who surrendered their certificates $99,164.53 as at December 30, 1955. Of this amount $42,100.17 was received by the Trustee as Trustee under the Plan and is held by the Trustee for distribution to the holders of the Insurance Stock Plan contract certificates. The Trustee also holds an aggregate of $65,220.25 for distribution to the holders of unsurrendered trust certificates and $409.72 for uncashed certificate dividend checks and $3,499.48 for unclaimed dividends on underlying stocks.

The Trustee represents that any funds held by the Trustee will be held for the respective certificate or contract holders, or stockholders, and if and when such funds become subject to escheat laws, they will be paid to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Section 8 (f) of the act provides, in pertinent part, that whenever the Commission on its own motion finds that a registered investment company has ceased to be an investment company, it shall so declare by order and upon the taking effect of such order the registration of such company shall cease to be in effect.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 10, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be noitfied if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date the Commission may, acting on its own motion, declare that Deposited Insurance Shares, Series A and Insurance Stock Plan Contract Certificates have ceased to be investment companies, by order, as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 3134

WOODROW WILSON CENTENNIAL YEAR

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Woodrow Wilson, the twenty-eighth President of the United States, gave to this Nation and to the world a concept of peace based on justice and freedom and supported by the brotherhood of man; and

WHEREAS this scholar, educator, and statesman led the United States successfully through the ordeal of a devastating war, which was fought to preserve those high principles which this Nation cherishes; and

WHEREAS Woodrow Wilson's outstanding character, his devotion to his country's service, his efforts to strengthen the Government and to promote the public welfare, his dependence upon divine guidance, and his unfailing confidence in our system of free government and the ultimate wisdom of the American people, are a lasting inspiration to the Nation: and

WHEREAS the year 1956 marks the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Woodrow Wilson, and the Congress, by a joint resolution approved August 30, 1954, 68 Stat. 964, established the Woodrow Wilson Centennial Celebration Commission to develop plans for commemorating that event; and by a joint resolution approved April 27, 1956, has authorized and requested the President to issue a proclamation inviting the people of the United States to observe the anniversary with appropriate ceremonies:

NOW, THERFFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the people of the United States to observe the centennial of the birth of Woodrow Wilson; and I urge interested individuals and organizations, both private and governmental, to particlpate in appropriate ceremonies during 1956 designed to honor and commemorate his life, his ideals, and his concern for the freedom of peoples throughout the world.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 27th day of April in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-six, [SEAL] and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eightieth.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

By the President:

PROCLAMATION 3135

MOTHER'S DAY, 1956

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the American mother stands as a symbol of those high principles and lofty ideals which sustain and enrich our Nation; and

WHEREAS the Congress, by a joint resolution approved May 8, 1914 (38 Stat. 770), formalized the felicitous custom of commemorating motherhood by designating the second Sunday in May of each year as Mother's Day, and requested the President to issue a proclamation calling for the observance of that day; and

WHEREAS it is fitting that on that day we should acknowledge anew our gratitude, our love, and our reverence for our own mothers and for all mothers of our great Nation:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby request that Sunday, May 13, 1956, be observed as Mother's Day; and I direct the appropriate officials of the Government to arrange for the display of the flag of the United States on all public buildings on that day.

I also call upon the people generally to give public and private expression to the esteem in which our country holds its mothers through the display of the flag at their homes or other suitable places, through prayers at their places of wor-

RULES AND REGULATIONS

TITLE 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter I—Civil Service Commission

PART 24—FORMAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS FOR APPOINTMENT TO CERTAIN SCIENTIFIC, TECHNICAL, AND PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS

STUDENT TRAINEE

Section 24.121 is amended to read as follows:

§ 24.121 Student Trainee, GS–1–4, in the following codes: GS–402, 408, 455, 458, 462, 483, 802, 1311, 1341, 1371, 1521, or other code covering positions of student trainee for any professional field as follows: Any biological science (Group GS–400), any branch of engineering (Group GS–800), any physical science (Group GS–1300) architecture, landscape architecture, mathematics; and GS–2–4 in economics, statistics, and accounting. — (a) Educational requirements. (1) For Student Trainee, GS–1: Applicants must have been graduated from an accredited high school upon the successful completion of all the high school courses required for admission to an accredited college or university in a curriculum leading to the bachelors' degree in one of the specialized fields shown in the headnote of this section, and they must have the intention of enrolling in such institution and curriculum within 4 months of the date of entrance on duty in the Student Trainee positions.

(2) Applicants for grades GS–2, 3, and 4 must have successfully completed the number of academic years of study specified below, a full academic year of study being defined as a period or combination of periods of study at college (in either cooperative or noncooperative curricula) equal in length to two semesters or three quarters:

For student trainee, GS–2: One full academic year of study.

For student trainee, GS–3: Two full academic years of study.

For student trainee, GS–4: Three full academic years of study.

(3) The college study specified must have been at an accredited college or university in a full 4-year or longer professional curriculum leading to a bachelor's degree with specialization in one of the fields listed in the headnote of this section. The specialized field applied for, which is the field in which the applicant will receive training on the job if appointed, must correspond to the course which the applicant is pursuing in college and to the specialization in which he expects to complete the requirements of major study. The required specialization must be such that at time of graduation the specific course requirements which are specified for eligibility in the U. S. Civil Service Commission examination for the corresponding GS–5 professional positions can be met.

(4) College study at an accredited junior college will be accepted if the credits are acceptable in full by a 4-year accredited college toward completion of its own curriculum in the field concerned.

(b) Duties. The duties of a Student Trainee consist of a combination of (1) on-the-job training in a Federal agency, and (2) scholastic training in a college or university. While on the job in a Federal agency, appointees participate in research or other scientific or engineering work such as development, design, surveys, investigations, computations, laboratory or full experimentation or studies, construction, testing, standardization; or appointees participate in technical or research work in compiling, analyzing, summarizing and interpreting of statistical, economic or accounting data.

(c) Knowledge and training requisite for performance of duties. Student Trainees are employed for the purpose of training them for advancement to professional positions in the employing agency upon completion of the training program. Since the duties of the position involve, in addition to actual scientific, engineering, or technical work while in training, the pursuance of academic studies of the first, second, third, or fourth year of a specified undergraduate college curriculum in order to perform successfully duties at the professional level, applicants must have the specified education in order to enroll in the required year of a standard college curriculum in an accredited college or university.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter IV—Commodity Stabilization Service and Commodity Credit Corporation, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Loans, Purchases and Other Operations

[1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supp. 2, Oats]

PART 421—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

SUBPART—1955 CROP OATS RESEAL LOAN PROGRAM

A reseal loan program has been announced for 1955-crop oats. The 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (20 F. R. 3017 and 4563), issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and containing the general requirements with respect to price support operations for grains and related commodities produced in 1955, supplemented by Supplement 1, Oats (20 F. R. 3590), containing the specific requirements for the 1955-crop oats price support program, is hereby further supplemented as follows:

Sec.
421.1286 Applicable sections of 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, and Supplement 1, Oats.
421.1287 Availability.
421.1288 Eligible producer.
421.1289 Eligible oats.
421.1290 Approved storage.
421.1291 Approved forms.
421.1292 Quantity eligible for resealing.
421.1293 Additional service charges.
421.1294 Transfer of producer's equity.
421.1295 Setoffs.
421.1296 Storage and track-loading payments.
421.1297 Maturity and satisfaction.
421.1298 Support rates.

AUTHORITY: §§ 421.1286 to 421.1298 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1072, secs. 301, 401, 63 Stat. 1054; 15 U. S. C. 714c, 7 U. S. C. 1421, 1447.

§ 421.1286 Applicable sections of 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 and Supplement 1, Oats. The following sections of the 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, as amended, and Supplement 1, Oats, published in 20 F. R. 3017, 4563 and 3590, shall be applicable to the 1955 Oats Reseal Loan Program: § 421.1001 Administration; § 421.1005 Approved lending agencies; § 421.1008 Liens; § 421.1011 Interest rate; § 421.1013 Safeguarding the commodity; § 421.1014 Insurance on farm-storage loans; § 421.1015 Loss or damage to the commodity; § 421.1016 Personal liability of the producer; § 421.1017 Release of the commodity under loan; § 421.1019 Foreclosure; § 421.1020 Purchase of notes; § 421.1280 Determination of quantity. Other sections of the 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, as amended, and Supplement 1, Oats, shall be applicable to the extent indicated in this subpart.

§ 421.1287 Availability—(a) Area and scope. The reseal program will be available in areas in the following five States where ASC State Committees determine that there may be a shortage of storage space and that oats can be safely stored on farms for the period of the reseal loan: Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota. This program provides, under certain circumstances, for the extension of 1955-crop farm-storage loans and the making of farm-storage loans on 1955-crop oats covered by purchase agreements. Neither warehouse-storage loans nor purchase agreements will be available to producers under this program.

(b) Time. (1) The producer who desires to participate in the reseal loan program must file an application for a farm-storage reseal loan at the office of the ASC county committee.

(2) In the case of a farm-storage loan, the producer will be required to apply for extension of his loan before the final date for delivery specified in the delivery instructions issued to him by the office of the ACS county committee.

(3) The producer who signed a purchase agreement on farm-stored oats is required under the 1955 Oats Price Support Program to notify the office of the ASC county committee not later than April 30, 1956, in the case of oats stored in any of the States listed in paragraph (a) of this section, if he intends to sell the oats to CCC. If the producer has notified the office of the ASC county committee on or before April 30, 1956, of his intention to sell the oats to CCC or to participate in this program, he may obtain a farm-storage loan on the oats. The loan documents must be executed by the producer on or before the final date for delivery specified in the delivery instructions, or on or before June 30, 1956, if the producer has not requested or received delivery instructions. The loan documents must be presented for disbursement within 15 days after execution. Disbursement of loans will be made to producers by approved lending agencies under an agreement with CCC, or by ASC county offices by means of sight drafts drawn on CCC. Payment in cash, credit to the producer's account, or the drawing of a check or draft shall constitute disbursement. The producer shall not present the loan documents for disbursement unless the oats are in existence and in good condition. If the oats were not in existence and in good condition at the time of disbursement, the total amount disbursed under the loan shall be promptly refunded by the producer. In the event the amount disbursed exceeds the amount authorized under this subpart, the producer shall be personally liable for repayment of the amount of such excess.

(c) Source. A producer desiring to participate in the reseal loan program should make application to the office of the ASC county committee which approved his loan or purchase agreement. Disbursements of loans completed on oats covered by purchase agreements shall be made to producers by ASC county offices by means of sight drafts drawn on CCC or by approved lending agencies under agreements with CCC.

§ 421.1288 Eligible producer. An eligible producer shall be an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, trust, or other business enterprise, or legal entity, and wherever applicable, a State, political subdivision of a State, or any agency thereof producing oats in 1955 as landowner, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper, who either completed a farm-storage loan or signed a purchase agreement covering oats of the 1955 crop.

§ 421.1289 Eligible oats—(a) Requirements of eligibility. The oats (1) must meet the requirements set forth in § 421.1278 (a), (b) and (c), and must not grade Tough, Weevily, Smutty, Ergoty, Garlicky, Bleached or Thin, or otherwise be of low quality; (2) must be under price support loan or purchase agreement; and (3) must, in addition, meet the sanitation requirements set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Sanitation requirements. The oats (1) must be of a quality which meets the sanitation requirements, if any, of the Federal Food and Drug Administration in effect at the time the loan is made or extended, and (2) must not contain mercurial compounds or other substances poisonous to man or animals.

(c) Inspection—(1) Extended farm-storage loans. If a producer makes application to extend his farm-storage loan, the commodity loan inspector shall, with the producer, reinspect the oats and the farm-storage structure in which the oats are stored. If recommended by either the commodity loan inspector or the producer, a sample of the oats shall be taken and submitted for grade analysis.

(2) Oats covered by purchase agreement. If a producer makes application for a farm-storage loan on oats covered by a purchase agreement, the commodity loan inspector shall inspect the oats and storage structure, obtain a sample if the oats and structure appear eligible, and proceed in the regular manner for the inspection of a commodity to be placed under loan.

(c) Determination of quality. Quality determinations shall be made as set forth in § 421.1281: Provided, That determinations, if any, with respect to sanitation requirements specified in paragraph (a) of this section shall be made in accordance with instructions issued by CCC. Such instructions will be available for examination at the ASC county office.

§ 421.1290 Approved storage. Oats covered by any loans extended and any new loans completed must be stored in structures which meet the requirements for farm-storage loans as provided in § 421.1006 (a). Consent for storage for any loans extended or new loans completed must be obtained by the producer for the period ending June 30, 1957, if the structure is owned or controlled by someone other than the producer, or if the lease expires prior to June 30, 1957.

§ 421.1291 Approved forms. (a) The approved forms, which together with the provisions of this subpart govern the rights and responsibilities of the producer, shall consist of a Producer's Note and Supplemental Loan Agreement, Commodity Loan Form A, secured by a Commodity Chattel Mortgage on Commodity Loan Form AA, and such other forms and documents as may be prescribed by CCC. Notes and chattel mortgages must have State and documentary revenue stamps affixed thereto where required by law. Loan documents executed by an administrator, executor or trustee will be acceptable only where legally valid.

(b) Where required by State law, a new producer's note and chattel mortgage shall be completed when a farm-storage loan is extended.

§ 421.1292 Quantity eligible for resealing. (a) The quantity of oats eligible for reseal on an extended farm-storage loan will be the quantity shown on the original note and the chattel mortgage, less any quantity delivered or redeemed.

(b) A producer may obtain a loan on not in excess of the quantity of oats specified in the purchase agreement, minus any quantity of the oats under such purchase agreement (1) which has been previously placed under a loan or (2) on which he exercises his option to sell to CCC.

§ 421.1293 Additional service charges. (a) When a farm-storage loan is extended, the producer will not be required to pay an additional service charge.

(b) At the time a farm-storage loan is made to the producer on oats covered by a purchase agreement, the producer shall pay an additional service charge of ½ cent per bushel on the number of bushels placed under loan, or $1.50, whichever is greater. No refund of service charges will be made.

§ 421.1294 Transfer of producer's equity. The producer shall not transfer either his remaining interest in or his right to redeem the oats mortgaged as security for a loan under this program. A producer who wishes to liquidate all or part of his loan by contracting for the sale of the oats must obtain written prior approval of the county committee on Commodity Loan Form 12 to remove the oats from storage when the proceeds of the sale are needed to repay all or any part of the loan. Any such approval shall be subject to the terms and conditions set out in Commodity Loan Form 12, copies of which may be obtained by producers or prospective purchasers at the office of the ASC county committee.

§ 421.1295 Set-offs. If the producer is indebted to CCC on any accrued obligation, or if any installment or installments on any loan made available by CCC on farm-storage facilities or mobile drying equipment are past due, or are payable under the provisions of the note evidencing such loan out of the proceeds of the price support loan, he must designate CCC or the lending agency holding such note as the payee of the proceeds of the price support loan to the extent of such indebtedness or installments, but not to exceed that portion of the proceeds remaining after deduction of loan service charges and amounts due prior lienholders. If the producer is indebted to any other agency of the United States and such indebtedness is listed on the county debt register, he must designate such agency as the payee of the proceeds as provided in this section. Indebtedness owing to CCC or to a lending agency as provided in this section shall be given first consideration after claims of prior lienholders. Where the producer has an outstanding loan(s), made under the Farm Storage Facility Loan Program or the Mobile Drying Equipment Loan Program, any storage payment due the producer for storage of the oats in farm-storage structures shall be applied (a) to any delinquent amount(s), (b) to the borrower's storage facility loan installment or mobile drying equipment loan installment which is due and payable when the storage payment is due and (c) to any extended installment(s), each including interest. Any amount of such storage payment not so applied, together with all other payments for services due the producer, shall be subject to set-off in the same manner as provided in this section for loan proceeds. Compliance with the provisions of this section shall not constitute a waiver of any right of the producer to contest the justness of the indebtedness involved either by administrative appeal or by legal action.

§ 421.1296 Storage and track-loading payments—(a) Storage payment. A reseal storage payment will be made as follows:

(1) Storage payment for full reseal period. A storage payment computed at the rate of 12 cents per bushel will be made to the producer on the quantity involved if he (i) redeems the oats from the loan on or after April 30, 1957, (ii) delivers the oats to CCC on or after April 30, 1957, or (iii) delivers the oats to CCC prior to April 30, 1957, pursuant to demand by CCC for repayment of the loan solely for the convenience of CCC if the oats were not damaged or otherwise impaired due to negligence on the part of the producer.

(2) Prorated storage payment. (i) A storage payment computed at the rate of 0.00039 per bushel a day (but not to exceed 12 cents per bushel) according to the length of time the quantity of oats involved was in store after June 30, 1956, will be made to the producer; (a) in the case of loss assumed by CCC under the provisions of the loan program; (b) in the case of oats redeemed from the loan prior to April 30, 1957, and (c) in the case of oats delivered to CCC pursuant to its demand and not solely for the convenience of CCC, or upon request of the producer and with the approval of CCC, prior to April 30, 1957: Provided, however, That no storage payment will be made where the delivered oats are damaged or otherwise impaired due to negligence on the part of the producer. In the case of losses assumed by CCC, the period for computing the storage payment shall end on the date of the loss; and in the case of redemptions, on the date of repayment.

(ii) In no case will any storage payment be made where the producer has made any false representation in the loan documents or in obtaining the loan, or where the oats have been abandoned or where there has been conversion on the part of the producer.

(b) Track-loading payment. A track-loading payment of 3 cents per bushel will be made to the producer on oats delivered to CCC, in accordance with instructions of the county committee, on track at a country point.

§ 421.1297 Maturity and satisfaction. (a) Loans will mature on demand but not later than April 30, 1957. The producer must pay off his loan, plus interest, on or before maturity or deliver the mortgaged oats in accordance with the instructions of the county committee. Credit will be given at the applicable settlement value according to grade and quality for the total quantity eligible for delivery. Delivery of oats will be accepted only from bin(s) in which the oats under reseal loan are stored. The provisions of § 421.1018 (a), (c), (f) and (g) and of § 421.1285 (a) (1) shall be applicable thereto: Provided, That, if upon delivery, the oats are of a quality which do not meet sanitation requirements (§ 421.1289 (b)) in effect at the time the loan was extended or at the time the loan was made on oats covered by a purchase agreement, the oats, in the event of failure to meet the requirements of § 421.1289 (b) (1), shall be sold for feed, or for industrial uses other than food and beverages, and, in the event of failure to meet the requirements of § 421.1289 (b) (2), shall be sold for seed (in accordance with applicable State seed laws and regulations), fuel, or industrial uses where the end product will not be consumed by man or animals, and in each instance covered by this proviso, the settlement value shall be the same as the sales price: Provided further, That if CCC is unable to sell such oats for the use specified above, the settlement value shall be the market value, if any, as determined by CCC, as of the date of delivery.

§ 421.1298 Support rates. The support rate for an extended farm-storage loan shall remain the same as for the original loan. The support rate for oats covered by a purchase agreement placed under a farm-storage loan shall be the support rate established for the oats in § 421.1283.

Issued this 27th day of April 1956.

TITLE 20—EMPLOYEES' BENEFITS

Chapter II—Railroad Retirement Board

PART 325—REGISTRATION AND CLAIMS FOR BENEFITS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the general authority contained in section 12 of the act of June 25, 1938 (52 Stat. 1094, 1107; 45 U. S. C. 362) §§ 325.6, 325.8 and 325.14 are rescinded and §§ 325.1, 325.11, 325.12 (a) and (c), 325.15, 325.18 and 325.50 of the regulations under such act (5 F. R. 2111; 5 F. R. 4141; 5 F. R. 4815; 7 F. R. 97; 7 F. R. 3192; 7 F. R. 9225; 11 F. R. 1206; 11 F. R. 6584; 11 F. R. 11768; 12 F. R. 224; 13 F. R. 7239; 14 F. R. 5240; 16 F. R. 6504; 20 F. R. 6767) are amended by Board Order 56–100, dated April 13, 1956, to read as follows:

§ 325.1 Statutory provisions. Section 12 (i) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (as amended) provides that:

* * * The Board shall prescribe a procedure for registration of unemployed employees at employment offices. Such procedure for registration shall be prescribed with a view to such registration affording substantial evidence of the days of unemployment of the employees who register. The Board may, when such registration is made personally by an employee, except such registration as initial proof of unemployment sufficient to certify for payment a claim for benefits.

Section 1 (k) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (as amended) provides that:

* * * a day of unemployment, with respect to any employee, means a calendar day on which he is able to work and is available for work and with respect to which (i) no remuneration is payable or accrues to him, and (ii) he has, in accordance with such regulations as the Board may prescribe, registered at an employment office * * *: Provided, however, That "subsidiary remuneration" as * * * defined * * * shall not be considered remuneration for the purpose of this subsection except with respect to an employee whose base-year compensation, exclusive of earnings from the position or occupation in which he earned such subsidiary remuneration, is less than $400: Provided, further, That remuneration for a working day which includes a part of each of two consecutive calendar days shall be deemed to have been earned on the second of such two days, and any individual who takes work for such working day shall not by reason thereof be deemed not available for work on the first of such calendar days: Provided, further, That any calendar day on which no remuneration is payable to or accrues to an employee solely because of the application to him of mileage or work restrictions agreed upon in schedule agreements between employers and employees or solely because he is standing by for or laying over between regularly assigned trips or tours of duty shall not be considered * * * a day of unemployment * * *.

Section 1 (h) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, as amended, provides that:

(h) The term "registration period" means, with respect to any employee, the period which begins with the first day for which such employee registers at an employment office in accordance with such regulations as the Board may prescribe, and ends with whichever is the earlier of (i) the thirteenth day thereafter, or (ii) the day immediately preceding the day for which he next registers at a different employment office; and thereafter each period which begins with the first day for which he next registers at an employment office after the end of his last preceding registration period which began with a day for which he registered at an employment office and ends with whichever is the earlier of (1) the thirteenth day thereafter, or (ii) the day immediately preceding the day for which he next registers at a different employment office.

§ 325.11 Designation of unemployment claims agents and free employment offices. Each employee of an employer, selected by it under an agreement between such employer and the Board entered into pursuant to section 12 (h) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, to take registrations of unemployed employees, and each other person designated by the Board, or pursuant to authority conferred by the Board, to take registrations of unemployed employees, is an unemployment claims agent. Each office or other facility selected by an unemployment claims agent for the registration of unemployed employees is designated a "free employment office." Each employment service office maintained by a State or by the Federal Government is designated a "free employment office" for the purpose of section 4 (a–2) (ii) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.

§ 325.12 Registration—(a) Method of registration. Registration with respect to any day shall be made by the employee's appearing before an unemployment claims agent at a free employment office during such agent's working hours and claiming the day by signing for it on the registration and claim form provided by the Board: Provided, however, That no registration shall be deemed to have been made with respect to any day which, if registration were made with respect to it, would be the first day of a registration period in a benefit year in which (1) the employee is not a qualified employee under section 3 of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, or (2) benefits have already been payable to him for 130 days of unemployment, or (3) benefits for days of unemployment have already been payable to him in an amount equal to his compensation in the base year: And provided further, That if registration is made with respect to any day, and the claim to such day as a day of unemployment on the basis of such registration is not withdrawn, nothing done subsequent to such registration, except reregistration under § 325.50, shall be deemed registration with respect to such day.

(c) Day of registration. (1) Registration with respect to any day shall be made on such day or on any day not later than the sixth calendar day thereafter, except that, if such sixth calendar day is not a business day, the employee may make his registration on the next following business day. For the purpose of this paragraph the term "business day" means any day which is not a Saturday or Sunday, which is not a day generally observed as a holiday in the locality in which the employee registers for such day, and which is not a holiday at the employment office at which the employee registers for such day.

§ 325.15 Signature of claims agent. Upon taking the registration of an employee for a particular day or days, the unemployment claims agent shall sign as witness to the employee's signature. If the unemployment claims agent has information indicating that an employee's registration for a particular day or days may be invalid, he shall report such information in writing to the Board.

§ 325.18 Registration in Alaska. Nothing provided in § 325.12 shall apply to employees registering in Alaska, but such employee shall register for each day of unemployment with the Alaska Territorial Employment Service, or persons designated by it as agents for this purpose, as required by such Service under arrangements with the Board. (B. O. 40–260, May 23, 1940, effective July 1, 1939).

§ 325.50 Lost or destroyed forms. If it appears that a registration and claim form on which an employee registered for a particular day or days has been lost or destroyed, and if it is established, by clear and convincing evidence, after full and complete investigation, that the employee in fact registered for such days, the employee may reregister for such days at any time within one year of the last of such days.

(Sec. 12, 52 Stat. 1107, as amended; 45 U. S. C. 332)

Dated: April 26, 1956.

By authority of the Board.

MARY B. LINKINS,
Secretary of the Board.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

Subchapter B—Food and Food Products

PART 19—CHEESES; PROCESSED CHEESES; CHEESE FOODS; CHEESE SPREADS, AND RELATED FOODS; DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS OF IDENTITY

ORDER STAYING EFFECTIVENESS OF ORDER ESTABLISHING DEFINITION AND STANDARD OF IDENTITY FOR SAMSOE CHEESE

In the matter of establishing a definition and standard of identity for samsoe cheese:

In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 401, 52 Stat. 1046, 68 Stat. 54, 55; 21 U. S. C. 341), the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, under authority delegated to him by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare (20 F. R. 1996), promulgated an order on March 6, 1956 (21 F. R. 1440), fixing and establishing a definition and standard of identity for samsoe cheese (21 CFR 19.544). A period of 30 days was permitted for the filing of objections to the order. Within that period Kraft Foods Company, Chicago, Illinois, filed a statement showing that it would be adversely affected by such order, stated its objections, and requested a public hearing. The objections were directed primarily at the maximum moisture content prescribed by the standard for samsoe cheese. Since it will serve no good purpose to stay only the provision of the standard fixing a maximum moisture content, the effectiveness of the entire order will be stayed pending a hearing on the objections.

Now, therefore it is ordered, That the order establishing a definition and standard of identity for samsoe cheese (21 F. R. 1440) be stayed in its entirety.

In accordance with the provisions of section 401 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, the Commissioner will, as soon as practicable, announce a public hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence relevant and material to the issues raised by the objections filed.

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 371. Interprets or applies sec. 401, 52 Stat. 1046, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 341)

Dated: April 26, 1956.

[SEAL] GEO. P. LARRICK,
Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

Subchapter C—Drugs

PART 146b—CERTIFICATION OF STREPTOMYCIN (OR DIHYDROSTREPTOMYCIN) AND STREPTOMYCIN- (OR DIHYDROSTREPTOMYCIN-) CONTAINING DRUGS

STREPTOMYCIN- (OR DIHYDROSTREPTOMYCIN-) POLYMYXIN-NEOMYCIN OINTMENT

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 507, 59 Stat. 463, 61 Stat. 11; 21 U. S. C. 357) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (20 F. R. 1996), the regulations for the certification of streptomycin and streptomycin-containing drugs are amended, in § 146b.124 Streptomycin-polymyxin-neomycin ointment * * * by changing the third sentence of paragraph (a) Standards of identity * * * to read as follows: "Its potency is such that when used as directed in its labeling each dose shall contain not less than 250 milligrams of streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin, 100,000 units of polymyxin B, and 150 milligrams of neomycin."

Notice and public procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order, and I so find, since it was drawn in collaboration with interested members of the affected industry and since it would be against public interest to delay providing for the amendment set forth above.

Effective date. This order shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, since both the public and the affected industry will benefit by the earliest effective date, and I so find.

Dated: April 26, 1956.

LIMITATIONS

LIMITATIONS ON ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION

§ 301.6501 (a) Statutory provisions; limitations on assessment and collection; general rule.

SEC. 6501. Limitations on assessment and collection.

(a) General rule. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the amount of any tax imposed by this title shall be assessed within 3 years after the return was filed (whether or not such return was filed on or after the date prescribed) or, if the tax is payable by stamp, within 3 years after such tax became due, and no proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of such tax shall be begun after the expiration of such period.

§ 301.6501 (a)-1 Period of limitations upon assessment and collection. (a) The amount of any tax imposed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (other than a tax collected by means of stamps) shall be assessed within 3 years after the return was filed. For rules applicable in cases where the return is filed prior to the due date thereof, see section 6501 (b). In the case of taxes payable by stamp, assessment must be made within 3 years after the tax became due. For exceptions and additional rules, see subsections (b) to (g) of section 6501, and for cross references to other provisions relating to limitations on assessment and collection, see sections 6501 (h) and 6504.

(b) No proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of any tax shall be begun after the expiration of the applicable period for the assessment of such tax.

§ 301.6501 (b) Statutory provisions; limitations on assessment and collection; time return deemed filed.

SEC. 6501. Limitations on assessment and collection. • • •

(b) Time return deemed filed—(1) Early return. For purposes of this section, a return of tax imposed by this title, except tax imposed by chapter 21 or 24, filed before the last day prescribed by law or by regulations promulgated pursuant to law for the filing thereof, shall be considered as filed on such last day.

(2) Return of certain employment taxes. For purposes of this section, if a return of tax imposed by chapter 21 or 24 for any period ending with or within a calendar year is filed before April 15 of the succeeding calendar year, such return shall be considered filed on April 15 of such calendar year.

(3) Return executed by Secretary. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (2) of section 6020 (b), the execution of a return by the Secretary or his delegate pursuant to the authority conferred by such section shall not start the running of the period of limitations on assessment and collection.

§ 301.6501 (b)-1 Time return deemed filed for purposes of determining limitations—(a) Early return. Any return, other than employment tax returns referred to in paragraph (b) of this section, filed prior to the last day prescribed by law or regulations for the filing thereof (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing) shall be considered as filed on such last day.

(b) Returns of social security tax and of income tax withholding. If a return of tax under chapter 21 (relating to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act) or chapter 24 (relating to the collection of income tax at source on wages) for any period ending with or within a calendar year is filed before April 15 of the succeeding calendar year, such return shall be deemed filed on April 15 of such succeeding calendar year. For example, if quarterly returns are filed for the four quarters of 1955 on April 30, July 31, and October 31, 1955, and on January 31, 1956, the period of limitation for assessment with respect to the tax required to be reported on such returns is measured from April 15, 1956. However, if any of such returns is filed after April 15, 1956, the period of limitation for assessment of the tax required to be reported on that return is measured from the date it is in fact filed.

(c) Returns executed by district directors or other internal revenue officers. The execution of a return by a district director or other authorized internal revenue officer or employee under the authority of section 6020 (b) shall not start the running of the statutory period of limitations on assessment and collection.

§ 301.6501 (c) Statutory provisions; limitations on assessment and collection; exceptions.

SEC. 6501. Limitations on assessment and collection. • • •

(c) Exceptions—(1) False return. In the case of a false or fraudulent return with the intent to evade tax, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time.

(2) Willful attempt to evade tax. In case of a willful attempt in any manner to defeat or evade tax imposed by this title (other than tax imposed by subtitle A or B), the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time.

(3) No return. In the case of failure to file a return, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time.

(4) Extension by agreement. Where, before the expiration of the time prescribed in this section for the assessment of any tax imposed by this title, except the estate tax provided in chapter 11, both the Secretary or his delegate and the taxpayer have consented in writing to its assessment after such time, the tax may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period agreed upon. The period so agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

(5) Tax resulting from changes in certain income tax or estate tax credits. For special rules applicable in cases where the adjustment of certain taxes allowed as a credit against income taxes or estate taxes results in additional tax, see section 905 (c) (relating to the foreign tax credit for income tax purposes) and section 2016 (relating to taxes of foreign countries, States, etc., claimed as credit against estate taxes).

§ 301.6501 (c)-1 Exceptions to general period of limitations on assessment and collection—(a) False return. In the case of a false or fraudulent return with intent to evade any tax, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time after such false or fraudulent return is filed.

(b) Willful attempt to evade tax. In the case of a willful attempt in any manner to defeat or evade any tax imposed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (other than a tax imposed by subtitle A or B, relating to income, estate, or gift taxes), the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time.

(c) No return. In the case of a failure to file a return, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time after the date prescribed for filing the return.

(d) Extension by agreement. The time prescribed by section 6501 for the assessment of any tax (other than the estate tax imposed by chapter 11) may, prior to the expiration of such time, be extended for any period of time agreed upon in writing by the taxpayer and the district director or an assistant regional commissioner. The extension shall become effective when the agreement has been executed by both parties. The period agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

§ 301.6501 (d) Statutory provisions; limitations on assessment and collection; request for prompt assessment.

SEC. 6501. Limitations on assessment and collection. • • •

(d) Request for prompt assessment. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c), in the case of any tax (other than the tax imposed by chapter 11 of subtitle B, relating to estate taxes) for which return is required in the case of a decedent, or by his estate during the period of administration, or by a corporation, the tax shall be assessed, and any proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of such tax shall be begun, within 18 months after written request therefor (filed after the return is made and filed in such manner and such form as may be prescribed by regulations of the Secretary or his delegate) by the executor, administrator, or other fiduciary representing the estate of such decedent, or by the corporation, but not after the expiration of 3 years after the return was filed. This subsection shall not apply in the case of a corporation unless—

(1) Such written request notifies the Secretary or his delegate that the corporation contemplates dissolution at or before the expiration of such 18-month period; and

(2) The dissolution is in good faith begun before the expiration of such 18-month period; and

(3) The dissolution is completed.

§ 301.6501 (d)-1 Request for prompt assessment. (a) Except as otherwise provided in section 6501 (c) or (e), any tax for which a return is required and for which—

(1) A decedent or an estate of a decedent may be liable, other than the estate tax imposed by chapter 11, or

(2) A corporation which either has been dissolved, or is contemplating dissolution, may be liable, shall be assessed, or a proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of such tax shall be begun, within 18 months after the receipt of a written request for prompt assessment thereof.

(b) The executor, administrator, or other fiduciary representing the estate of the decedent, or the corporation, or the fiduciary representing the dissolved corporation, as the case may be, shall, after the return in question has been filed, file the request for prompt assessment in writing with the district director for the internal revenue district in which such return was filed. The request, in order to be effective, must be transmitted separately from any other document, must set forth the classes of tax and the taxable periods for which the prompt assessment is requested, and must clearly indicate that it is a request for prompt assessment under the provisions of section 6501 (d). The effect of such a request is to limit the time in which an assessment of tax may be made, or a proceeding in court without assessment for collection of tax may be begun, to a period of 18 months from the date the request is filed with the proper district director. The request does not extend the time within which an assessment may be made, or a proceeding in court without assessment may be begun, beyond 3 years from the date the return was filed. This special period of limitations will not apply to any return filed after a request for prompt assessment has been made unless an additional request is filed in the manner provided herein.

(c) In the case of a corporation the 18-month period shall not apply unless—

(1) The written request notifies the district director that the corporation either has been dissolved or contemplates dissolution at or before the expiration of such period, and

(2) In the case of a corporation contemplating dissolution—

(i) The dissolution is in good faith begun before the expiration of such 18-month period, and

(ii) The dissolution so begun is completed either before or after the expiration of such period.

§ 301.6501 (e) Statutory provisions; limitations on assessment and collection; omission from gross income.

SEC. 6501. Limitations on assessment and collection. • • •

(e) Omission from gross income. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c)—

(1) Income taxes. In the case of any tax imposed by subtitle A—

(A) General rule. If the taxpayer omits from gross income an amount properly includible therein which is in excess of 25 percent of the amount of gross income stated in the return, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time within 6 years after the return was filed. For purposes of this subparagraph—

(i) In the case of a trade or business, the term "gross income" means the total of the amounts received or accrued from the sale of goods or services (if such amounts are required to be shown on the return) prior to diminution by the cost of such sales or services; and

(ii) In determining the amount omitted from gross income, there shall not be taken into account any amount which is omitted from gross income stated in the return if such amount is disclosed in the return, or in a statement attached to the return, in a manner adequate to apprise the Secretary or his delegate of the nature and amount of such item.

(B) Constructive dividends. If the taxpayer omits from gross income an amount properly includible therein under section 551 (b) (relating to the inclusion in the gross income of United States shareholders of their distributive shares of the undistributed foreign personal holding company income), the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time within 6 years after the return was filed.

(2) Estate and gift taxes. In the case of a return of estate tax under chapter 11 or a return of gift tax under chapter 12, if the taxpayer omits from the gross estate or from the total amount of the gifts made during the year items includible in such gross estate or such total gifts, as the case may be, as exceed in amount 25 percent of the gross estate stated in the return or the total amount of gifts stated in the return, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time within 6 years after the return was filed. In determining the items omitted from the gross estate or the total gifts, there shall not be taken into account any item which is omitted from the gross estate or from the total gifts stated in the return if such item is disclosed in the return, or in a statement attached to the return, in a manner adequate to apprise the Secretary or his delegate of the nature and amount of such item.

§ 301.6501 (e)-1 Omission from return—(a) Income taxes—(1) General rule. (i) If the taxpayer omits from the gross income stated in the return of a tax imposed by subtitle A an amount properly includible therein which is in excess of 25 percent of the gross income so stated, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time within 6 years after the return was filed.

(ii) For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "gross income", as it relates to a trade or business, means the total of the amounts received or accrued from the sale of goods or services, to the extent required to be shown on the return, without reduction for the cost of such sales or services. An item shall not be considered as omitted from gross income if information, sufficient to apprise the district director of the nature and amount of such item, is disclosed in the return or in any schedule or statement attached to the return.

(2) Constructive dividends. If a taxpayer omits from gross income an amount properly includible therein under section 551 (b) as his distributive share of the undistributed foreign personal holding company income, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time within 6 years after the return was filed.

(b) Estate and gift taxes. (1) If the taxpayer omits from the gross estate as stated in the estate tax return, or from the total amount of the gifts made during the year as stated in the gift tax return, an item or items properly includible therein the amount of which is in excess of 25 percent of the gross estate as stated in the return, or 25 percent of the total amount of the gifts as stated in the return, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection thereof may be begun without assessment, at any time within 6 years after the return was filed.

(2) For purposes of this paragraph, an item disclosed in the return or in any schedule or statement attached to the return in a manner sufficient to apprise the district director of the nature and amount thereof shall not be taken into account in determining items omitted from the gross estate or total gifts, as the case may be. Further, there shall not be taken into account in computing the 25 percent omission from the gross estate stated in the estate tax return or from the total gifts stated in the gift tax return, any increases in the valuation of assets disclosed on the return.

(c) Exception. The provisions of this section do not limit the application of section 6501 (c).

§ 301.6501 (f) Statutory provisions; limitations on assessment and collection; personal holding company tax.

SEC. 6501. Limitations on assessment and collection. • • •

(f) Personal holding company tax. If a corporation which is a personal holding company for any taxable year fails to file with its return under chapter 1 for such year a schedule setting forth—

(1) The items of gross income, described in section 543 (a), received by the corporation during such year, and the personal holding company tax for such year may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment, at any time within 6 years after the return for such year was filed.

(2) The names and addresses of the individuals who owned, within the meaning of section 544 (relating to rules for determining stock ownership), at any time during the last half of such year more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding capital stock of the corporation,

§ 301.6501 (f)–1 Personal holding company tax. If a corporation which is a personal holding company for any taxable year fails to file with its income tax return for such year a schedule setting forth the items of gross income described in section 543 (a) received by the corporation during such year, and the names and addresses of the individuals who owned, within the meaning of section 544, at any time during the last half of such taxable year, more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding capital stock of the corporation, the personal holding company tax for such year may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection thereof may be begun without assessment, at any time within 6 years after the return for such year was filed.

SEC. 6501. Limitations on assessment and collection. • • •

(g) Certain income tax returns of corporations—(1) Trusts or partnerships. If a taxpayer determines in good faith that it is a trust or partnership and files a return as such under subtitle A, and if such taxpayer is thereafter held to be a corporation for the taxable year for which the return is filed, such return shall be deemed the return of the corporation for purposes of this section.

(2) Exempt organizations. If a taxpayer determines in good faith that it is an exempt organization and files a return as such under section 6033, and if such taxpayer is thereafter held to be a taxable corporation for the taxable year for which the return is filed, such return shall be deemed the return of the corporation for purposes of this section.

§ 301.6501 (g)–1 Certain income tax returns of corporations—(a) Trusts or partnerships. If a taxpayer determines in good faith that it is a trust or partnership and files a return as such under subtitle A, and if the taxpayer is later held to be a corporation for the taxable year for which the return was filed, such return shall be deemed to be the return of the corporation for the purpose of section 6501.

(b) Exempt organizations. If a taxpayer determines in good faith that it is an exempt organization and files a return as such under section 6033, and if the taxpayer is later held to be a taxable organization for the taxable year for which the return was filed, such return shall be deemed to be the return of the organization for the purpose of section 6501.

SEC. 6501. Limitations on assessment and collection. • • •

(h) Joint income return after separate return. For period of limitations for assessment and collection in the case of a joint income return filed after separate returns have been filed, see section 6013 (b) (3) and (4).

§ 301.6502 Statutory provisions; collection after assessment.

SEC. 6502. Collection after assessment—(a) Length of period. Where the assessment of any tax imposed by this title has been made within the period of limitation properly applicable thereto, such tax may be collected by levy or by a proceeding in court, but only if the levy is made or the proceeding begun—

(1) Within 6 years after the assessment of the tax, or

(2) Prior to the expiration of any period for collection agreed upon in writing by the Secretary or his delegate and the taxpayer before the expiration of such 6-year period (or, if there is a release of levy under section 6343 after such 6-year period, then before such release).

The period so agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

(b) Date when levy is considered made. The date on which a levy on property or rights to property is made shall be the date on which the notice of seizure provided in section 6335 (a) is given.

§ 301.6502–1 Collection after assessment—(a) Length of period—(1) General rule. In any case in which a tax has been assessed within the statutory period of limitation properly applicable thereto, a proceeding in court to collect such tax may be begun, or levy for the collection of such tax may be made, within 6 years after the assessment thereof.

(2) Extension by agreement. (i) The 6-year period of limitation on collection after assessment of any tax may, prior to the expiration thereof, be extended for any period of time agreed upon in writing by the taxpayer and the district director. The extension shall become effective upon execution of the agreement by both the taxpayer and the district director.

(ii) The period of limitation on collection after assessment of any tax (including any extension of such period) may be extended after the expiration thereof if there has been a levy on any part of the taxpayer's property prior to such expiration and if the extension is agreed upon in writing prior to a release of the levy under the provisions of section 6343. An extension under this subdivision has the same effect as an agreement made prior to the expiration of the period of limitation on collection after assessment, and during the period of the extension collection may be enforced as to all property or rights to property owned by the taxpayer whether or not seized under the levy which was released.

(iii) Any period agreed upon under the provisions of this subparagraph may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

(b) Date when levy is considered made. The date on which a levy on property or rights to property is made is the date on which the notice of seizure provided in section 6335 (a) is given.

§ 301.6503 (a) Statutory provisions; suspension of running of period of limitation; issuance of statutory notice of deficiency.

SEC. 6503. Suspension of running of period of limitation—(a) Issuance of statutory notice of deficiency—(1) General rule. The running of the period of limitations provided in section 6501 or 6502 on the making of assessments or the collection by levy or a proceeding in court, in respect of any deficiency as defined in section 6211 (relating to income, estate, and gift taxes), shall (after the mailing of a notice under section 6212 (a)) be suspended for the period during which the Secretary or his delegate is prohibited from making the assessment or from collecting by levy or a proceeding in court (and in any event, if a proceeding in respect of the deficiency is placed on the docket of the Tax Court, until the decision of the Tax Court becomes final), and for 60 days thereafter.

(2) Corporation joining in consolidated income tax return. If a notice under section 6212 (a) in respect of a deficiency in tax imposed by subtitle A for any taxable year is mailed to a corporation, the suspension of the running of the period of limitations provided in paragraph (1) of this subsection shall apply in the case of corporations with which such corporation made a consolidated income tax return for such taxable year.

§ 301.6503 (a)–1 Suspension of running of period of limitation; issuance of statutory notice of deficiency—(a) General rule. Upon the mailing of a notice of deficiency for income, estate, or gift tax under the provisions of section 6212, the period of limitation on assessment and collection of any deficiency is suspended for 90 days if the notice of deficiency is addressed to a person within the States of the Union and the District of Columbia, or 150 days if such notice is addressed to a person outside the States of the Union and the District of Columbia (not counting Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday in the District of Columbia as the 90th or 150th day), plus an additional 60 days thereafter in either case. If a proceeding in respect of the deficiency is placed on the docket of the Tax Court, the period of limitations is suspended until the decision of the Tax Court becomes final, and for an additional 60 days thereafter. If a notice of deficiency is mailed to a taxpayer within the period of limitation and the taxpayer does not appeal therefrom to the Tax Court, the notice of deficiency so given does not suspend the running of the period of limitation with respect to any additional deficiency shown to be due in a subsequent deficiency notice.

Example. A taxpayer filed a return for the calendar year 1954 on April 15, 1955; the notice of deficiency was mailed to him (at an address within the United States) on April 15, 1958; and he filed a petition with the Tax Court on July 14, 1958. The decision of the Tax Court became final on November 6, 1959. The running of the period of limitation for assessment is suspended from April 15, 1958 to January 5, 1960, which date is 60 days after the date (November 6, 1959) on which the decision became final. If in this example the taxpayer had failed to file a petition with the Tax Court, the running of the period of limitation for assessment would then be suspended from April 15, 1958 (the date of notice), to September 12, 1958 (that is, for the 90-day period in which he could file a petition with the Tax Court, and for 60 days thereafter).

(b) Corporations joining in consolidated return. If a notice under section 6212 (a) with respect to a deficiency in tax imposed by subtitle A for any taxable year is mailed to a corporation, the suspension of the running of the period of limitations provided in section 6503 (a) (1) shall apply in the case of corporations with which such corporation made a consolidated income tax return for such taxable year. Under § 1.1502–16 of the Income Tax Regulations (relating to consolidated returns), notices of deficiency are mailed only to the common parent.

§ 301.6503 (b) Statutory provisions; suspension of running of period of limitation; assets of taxpayer in control or custody of court.

SEC. 6503. Suspension of running of period of limitation. • • •

(b) Assets of taxpayer in control or custody of court. The period of limitations on collection after assessment prescribed in section 6502 shall be suspended for the period the assets of the taxpayer (other than the estate of a decedent or of an incompetent) are in the control or custody of the court in any proceeding before any court of the United States or of any State or Territory or of the District of Columbia, and for 6 months thereafter.

§ 301.6503 (b)–1 Suspension of running of period of limitation; assets of taxpayer in control or custody of court. Where the assets of a taxpayer (other than the estate of a decedent or of an incompetent) are in the control or custody of the court in any proceeding before any court of the United States or of any State or Territory of the United States or of the District of Columbia, the period of limitation on collection after assessment prescribed in section 6502 is suspended for the period such assets are in the control or custody of the court, and for 6 months thereafter.

§ 301.6503 (c) Statutory provisions; suspension of running of period of limitation; location of property outside the United States or removal of property from the United States.

SEC. 6503. Suspension of running of period of limitation. • • •

(c) Location of property outside the United States or removal of property from the United States. In case collection is hindered or delayed because property of the taxpayer is situated or held outside the United States or is removed from the United States, the period of limitations on collection after assessment prescribed in section 6502 shall be suspended for the period collection is so hindered or delayed. The total suspension of time under this subsection shall not in the aggregate exceed 6 years.

§ 301.6503 (c)–1 Suspension of running of period of limitation; location of property outside the United States or removal of property from the United States. The running of the period of limitation on collection after assessment prescribed in section 6502 is suspended for the period of time that collection is hindered or delayed because property of the taxpayer is situated or held outside the United States or is removed from the United States. The total suspension of time under this provision shall not in the aggregate exceed 6 years. In any case in which the district director determines that collection is so hindered or delayed, he shall make and retain in the files of his office a written report which shall identify the taxpayer and the tax liability, shall show what steps were taken to collect the tax liability, shall state the grounds for his determination that property of the taxpayer is situated or held outside, or is removed from, the United States, and shall show the date on which it was first determined that collection was so hindered or delayed. The term "property" includes all property or rights to property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, belonging to the taxpayer. The suspension of the running of the period of limitation on collection shall be considered to begin on the date so determined by the district director. A copy of the report shall be mailed to the taxpayer at his last known address.

§ 301.6503 (d) Statutory provisions; suspension of running of period of limitation; extensions of time for payment of estate tax.

SEC. 6503. Suspension of running of period of limitation. • • •

(d) Extensions of time for payment of estate tax. The running of the period of limitations for assessment or collection of any tax imposed by chapter 11 shall be suspended for the period of any extension of time for payment granted under the provisions of section 6161 (a) (2) or (b) (2).

§ 301.6503 (d)–1 Suspension of running of period of limitation; extension of time for payment of estate tax. Where an estate is granted an extension of time as provided in section 6161 (a) (2) or (b) (2) for payment of any estate tax, the running of the period of limitations for assessment or collection of such tax is suspended for the period of time for which the extension is granted.

LIMITATIONS ON CREDIT OR REFUND

§ 301.6511 (a) Statutory provisions; limitations on credit or refund; period of limitation on filing claim.

SEC. 6511. Limitations on credit or refund—(a) Period of limitation on filing claim. Claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of any tax imposed by this title in respect of which tax the taxpayer is required to file a return shall be filed by the taxpayer within 3 years from the time the return was required to be filed (determined without regard to any extension of time) or 2 years from the time the tax was paid, whichever of such periods expires the later, or if no return was filed by the taxpayer, within 2 years from the time the tax was paid. Claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of any tax imposed by this title which is required to be paid by means of a stamp shall be filed by the taxpayer within 3 years from the time the tax was paid.

§ 301.6511 (a)–1 Period of limitation on filing claim. (a) In the case of any tax (other than a tax payable by stamp)—

(1) If a return is filed, a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment must be filed by the taxpayer within 3 years from the last date prescribed for the filing of the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return) or within 2 years from the time the tax was paid, whichever of such periods expires the later.

(2) If no return is filed, the claim for credit or refund of an overpayment must be filed by the taxpayer within 2 years from the time the tax was paid.

(b) In the case of any tax payable by means of a stamp, a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of such tax must be filed by the taxpayer within 3 years from the time the tax was paid. For provisions relating to redemption of unused stamps, see section 6805.

(c) For limitations on allowance of credit or refund, special rules, and exceptions, see subsections (b) through (e) of section 6511. For limitations in the case of a petition to the Tax Court, see section 6512. For rules as to time return is deemed filed and tax considered paid, see section 6513.

§ 301.6511 (b) Statutory provisions; limitations on credit or refund; limitation on allowance of credits and refunds.

SEC. 6511. Limitations on credit or refund. • • •

(b) Limitation on allowance of credits and refunds—(1) Filing of claim within prescribed period. No credit or refund shall be allowed or made after the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed in subsection (a) for the filing of a claim for credit or refund, unless a claim for credit or refund is filed by the taxpayer within such period.

(2) Limit on amount of credit or refund—

(A) Limit to amount paid within 3 years. If the claim was filed by the taxpayer during the 3-year period prescribed in subsection (a), the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the 3 years immediately preceding the filing of the claim. If the tax was required to be paid by means of a stamp, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the 3 years immediately preceding the filing of the claim.

(B) Limit to amount paid within 2 years. If the claim was not filed within such 3-year period, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid during the 2 years immediately preceding the filing of the claim.

(C) Limit if no claim filed. If no claim was filed, the credit or refund shall not exceed the amount which would be allowable under subparagraph (A) or (B), as the case may be, if claim was filed on the date the credit or refund is allowed.

§ 301.6511 (b)–1 Limitations on allowance of credits and refunds—(a) Effect of filing claim. Unless a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment is filed within the period of limitation prescribed in section 6511 (a), no credit or refund shall be allowed or made after the expiration of such period.

(b) Limit on amount to be credited or refunded. (1) In the case of any tax (other than a tax payable by stamp)—

(i) If a return was filed, and a claim is filed within 3 years from the last date prescribed for filing such return (determined without regard to any extension of time for such filing), the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the 3 years immediately preceding the filing of the claim.

(ii) If a return was filed, and a claim is filed after the 3-year period described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph but within 2 years from the time the tax was paid, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the 2 years immediately preceding the filing of the claim.

(iii) If no return was filed, but a claim is filed, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the 2 years immediately preceding the filing of the claim.

(iv) If no claim is filed, the amount of the credit or refund allowed or made by the district director shall not exceed the amount that would have been allowable under the preceding subdivisions of this subparagraph if a claim had been filed on the date the credit or refund is allowed.

(2) In the case of a tax payable by stamp—

(i) If a claim is filed, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the 3 years immediately preceding the filing of the claim.

(ii) If no claim is filed, the amount of the credit or refund allowed or made by the district director shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the 3 years immediately preceding the allowance of the credit or refund.

For provisions relating to redemption of unused stamps, see section 6805.

§ 301.6511 (c) Statutory provisions; limitations on credit or refund; special rules applicable in case of extension of time by agreement.

SEC. 6511. Limitations on credit or refund. • • •

(c) Special rules applicable in case of extension of time by agreement. If an agreement under the provisions of section 6501 (c) (4) extending the period for assessment of a tax imposed by this title is made within the period prescribed in subsection (a) for the filing of a claim for credit or refund—

(1) Time for filing claim. The period for filing claim for credit or refund or for making credit or refund if no claim is filed, provided in subsections (a) and (b) (1), shall not expire prior to 6 months after the expiration of the period within which an assessment may be made pursuant to the agreement or any extension thereof under section 6501 (c) (4).

(2) Limit on amount. If a claim is filed, or a credit or refund is allowed when no claim was filed, after the execution of the agreement and within 6 months after the expiration of the period within which an assessment may be made pursuant to the agreement or any extension thereof, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid after the execution of the agreement and before the filing of the claim or the making of the credit or refund, as the case may be, plus the portion of the tax paid within the period which would be applicable under subsection (b) (2) if a claim had been filed on the date the agreement was executed.

(3) Claims not subject to special rule. This subsection shall not apply in the case of a claim filed, or credit or refund allowed if no claim is filed, either—

(A) Prior to the execution of the agreement or

(B) More than 6 months after the expiration of the period within which an assessment may be made pursuant to the agreement or any extension thereof.

§ 301.6511 (c)–1 Special rules applicable in case of extension of time by agreement—(a) Scope. If, within the period prescribed in section 6511 (a) for the filing of a claim for credit or refund, an agreement extending the period for assessment of a tax has been made in accordance with the provisions of section 6501 (c) (4), the special rules provided in this section become applicable. This section shall not apply to any claim filed, or credit or refund allowed if no claim is filed, either (1) prior to the execution of an agreement extending the period in which assessment may be made, or (2) more than 6 months after the expiration of the period within which an assessment may be made pursuant to the agreement or any extension thereof.

(b) Period in which claim may be filed. Claim for credit or refund of an overpayment may be filed, or credit or refund may be allowed if no claim is filed, at any time within which an assessment may be made pursuant to an agreement, or any extension thereof, under section 6501 (c) (4), and for 6 months thereafter.

(c) Limit on amount to be credited or refunded. (1) If a claim is filed within the time prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section, the amount of the credit or refund allowed or made shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid after the execution of the agreement and before the filing of the claim, plus the amount that could have been properly credited or refunded under the provisions of section 6511 (b) (2) if a claim had been filed on the date of the execution of the agreement.

(2) If no claim is filed, the amount of credit or refund allowed or made within the time prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid after the execution of the agreement and before the making of the credit or refund, plus the amount that could have been properly credited or refunded under the provisions of section 6511 (b) (2) if a claim had been filed on the date of the execution of the agreement.

(d) Effective date of agreement. The agreement referred to in this section shall become effective when signed by the taxpayer and the district director or an assistant regional commissioner.

§ 301.6511 (d) Statutory provisions; limitations on credit or refund; special rules applicable to income taxes.

SEC. 6511. Limitations on credit or refund. • • •

(d) Special rules applicable to income taxes—

(1) Seven-year period of limitation with respect to bad debts and worthless securities. If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment of tax imposed by subtitle A on account of—

(A) The deductibility by the taxpayer, under section 166 or section 832 (c), of a debt as a debt which became worthless, or, under section 165 (g), of a loss from worthlessness of a security, or

(B) The effect that the deductibility of a debt or loss described in subparagraph (A) has on the application to the taxpayer of a carryover, in lieu of the 3-year period of limitation prescribed in subsection (a), the period shall be 7 years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return for the year with respect to which the claim is made. If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment on account of the effect that the deductibility of such a debt or loss has on the application to the taxpayer of a carryback, the period shall be either 7 years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return for the year of the net operating loss which results in such carryback or the period prescribed in paragraph (2) of this subsection, whichever expires the later. In the case of a claim described in this paragraph the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period prescribed in subsection (b) (2) or (c), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the deductibility of items described in this paragraph.

(2) Special period of limitation with respect to net operating loss carrybacks—(A) Period of limitation. If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment attributable to a net operating loss carryback, in lieu of the 3-year period of limitation prescribed in subsection (a), the period shall be that period which ends with the expiration of the 15th day of the 39th month following the end of the taxable year of the net operating loss which results in such carryback, or the period prescribed in subsection (c) in respect of such taxable year, whichever expires later. In the case of such a claim, the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period provided in subsection (b) (2) or (c), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to such carryback.

(B) Applicable rules. If the allowance of a credit or refund of an overpayment of tax attributable to a net operating loss carryback is otherwise prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law other than section 7122, relating to compromises, such credit or refund may be allowed or made, if claim therefor is filed within the period provided in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph. If the allowance of an application, credit, or refund of a decrease in tax determined under section 6411 (b) is otherwise prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law other than section 7122, such application, credit, or refund may be allowed or made if application for a tentative carryback adjustment is made within the period provided in section 6411 (a). In the case of any such claim for credit or refund or any such application for a tentative carryback adjustment, the determination by any court, including the Tax Court, in any proceeding in which the decision of the court has become final, shall be conclusive except with respect to the net operating loss deduction, and the effect of such deduction, to the extent that such deduction is affected by a carryback which was not in issue in such proceeding.

(3) Special rules relating to foreign tax credit—(A) Special period of limitation with respect to foreign taxes paid or accrued. If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment attributable to any taxes paid or accrued to any foreign country or to any possession of the United States for which credit is allowed against the tax imposed by subtitle A in accordance with the provisions of section 901 or the provisions of any treaty to which the United States is a party, in lieu of the 3-year period of limitation prescribed in subsection (a), the period shall be 10 years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return for the year with respect to which the claim is made.

(B) Exception in the case of foreign taxes paid or accrued. In the case of a claim described in subparagraph (A), the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period provided in subsection (b) or (c), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the allowance of a credit for the taxes described in subparagraph (A).

§ 301.6511 (d)–1 Overpayment of income tax on account of bad debts, worthless securities, etc. (a) (1) If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment of income tax on account of—

(i) The deductibility by the taxpayer, under section 166 or section 832 (c), of a debt as a debt which became worthless, or, under section 165 (g), of a loss from the worthlessness of a security, or

(ii) The effect that the deductibility of a debt or loss described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph has on the application to the taxpayer of a carryover, then in lieu of the 3-year period from the last date prescribed for filing the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return), in which claim may be filed or credit or refund allowed, as prescribed in section 6511 (a) or (b), the period shall be 7 years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return) for the taxable year for which the claim is made or the credit or refund allowed or made.

(2) If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment on account of the effect that the deductibility of a debt or loss, described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, has on the application to the taxpayer of a net operating loss carryback provided in section 172 (b), the period in which claim for credit or refund may be filed shall be whichever of the following two periods expires later:

(i) Seven years from the last date prescribed for filing the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return) for the taxable year of the net operating loss which results in such carryback, or

(ii) The period which ends with the expiration of the period prescribed in section 6511 (c) within which a claim for credit or refund may be filed with respect to the taxable year of the net operating loss which resulted in the carryback.

(3) In the case of a claim for credit or refund involving items described in this section, the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period provided in section 6511 (b) (2) or (c), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the deductibility of items described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. If the claim involves an overpayment based not only on the deductibility of items described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph but based also on other items, the credit or refund cannot exceed the sum of the following:

(i) The amount of the overpayment which is attributable to the deductibility of items described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and

(ii) The balance of such overpayment up to a limit of the portion, if any, of the tax paid within the period provided in section 6511 (b) (2) or (c), or within the period provided in any other applicable provision of law.

(4) If the claim involves an overpayment based not only on the deductibility of items described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph but based also on other items, and if the claim with respect to any items is barred by the expiration of any applicable period of limitation, the portion of the overpayment attributable to the items not so barred shall be determined by treating the allowance of such items as the first adjustment to be made in computing such overpayment.

(b) If a claim for credit or refund is not filed within the applicable period described in paragraph (a) of this section, then credit or refund may be allowed or made only if claim therefor is filed or if such credit or refund is allowed within any period prescribed in section 6511 (a), (b), or (c), whichever is applicable, subject to the provisions thereof limiting the amount of credit or refund in the case of a claim filed, or, if no claim was filed, in the case of credit or refund allowed within such applicable period as prescribed in section 6511 (b) or (c).

(c) The provisions of this section and section 6511 (d) (1) do not apply to an overpayment resulting from the deductibility of a debt that became partially worthless during the taxable year, but only to an overpayment resulting from the deductibility of a debt which became entirely worthless during such year.

(d) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section with regard to an overpayment caused by the deductibility of a bad debt under section 166 or section 832 (c), or of a loss from the worthlessness of a security under section 165 (g), are likewise applicable to an overpayment caused by the effect that the deductibility of such bad debt or loss has on the application to the taxpayer of a carryover or of a carryback.

§ 301.6511 (d)–2 Overpayment of income tax on account of net operating loss carrybacks—(a) Special period of limitation. (1) If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment of income tax attributable to a net operating loss carryback, provided in section 172 (b), then in lieu of the 3-year period from the last date prescribed for the filing of the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return) in which the claim may be filed or credit or refund allowed, as prescribed in section 6511 (a) or (b), the period shall be whichever of the following 2 periods expires later:

(i) The period which ends with the expiration of the fifteenth day of the thirty-ninth month following the end of the taxable year of the net operating loss which resulted in the carryback; or

(ii) The period which ends with the expiration of the period prescribed in section 6511 (c) within which a claim for credit or refund may be filed with respect to the taxable year of the net operating loss which resulted in the carryback.

(2) In the case of a claim for credit or refund involving a net operating loss carryback described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period provided in section 6511 (b) (2) or (c), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the carryback. If the claim involves an overpayment based not only on a net operating loss carryback described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph but based also on other items, the credit or refund cannot exceed the sum of the following:

(i) The amount of the overpayment which is attributable to the net operating loss carryback, and

(ii) The balance of such overpayment up to a limit of the portion, if any, of the tax paid within the period provided in section 6511 (b) (2) or (c), or within the period provided in any other applicable provision of law.

(3) If the claim involves an overpayment based not only on a net operating loss carryback described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph but based also on other items, and if the claim with respect to any items is barred by the expiration of any applicable period of limitation, the portion of the overpayment attributable to the items not so barred shall be determined by treating the allowance of such items as the first adjustment to be made in computing such overpayment. If a claim for credit or refund is not filed, and if credit or refund is not allowed, within the period prescribed in this paragraph, then credit or refund may be allowed or made only if claim therefor is filed, or if such credit or refund is allowed, within the period prescribed in section 6511 (a), (b), or (c), whichever is applicable, subject to the provisions thereof limiting the amount of credit or refund in the case of a claim filed, or if no claim was filed, in case of credit or refund allowed, within such applicable period. For the limitations on the allowance of interest for an overpayment where credit or refund is subject to the provisions of this section, see section 6611 (f).

(b) Barred overpayments. If the allowance of a credit or refund of an overpayment of tax attributable to a net operating loss carryback is otherwise prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law (other than section 7122, relating to compromises), such credit or refund may be allowed or made under the provisions of section 6511 (d) (2) (B) if a claim therefor is filed within the period provided by section 6511 (d) (2) (A) and paragraph (a) of this section for filing a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment attributable to a carryback. Similarly, if the allowance of an application, credit, or refund of a decrease in tax determined under section 6411 (b) is otherwise prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law (other than section 7122), such application, credit, or refund may be allowed or made if an application for a tentative carryback adjustment is filed within the period provided in section 6411 (a). Thus, for example, even though the tax liability (not including the net operating loss deduction or the effect of such deduction) for a given taxable year has previously been litigated before the Tax Court, credit or refund of an overpayment may be allowed or made despite the provisions of section 6512 (a), if claim for such credit or refund is filed within the period provided in section 6511 (d) (2) (A) and paragraph (a) of this section. In the case of a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment attributable to a carryback, or in the case of an application for a tentative carryback adjustment, the determination of any court, including the Tax Court, in any proceeding in which the decision of the court has become final, shall be conclusive except with respect to the net operating loss deduction, and the effect of such deduction, to the extent that such deduction is affected by a carryback which was not in issue in such proceeding.

§ 301.6511 (d)–3 Special rules applicable to credit against income tax for foreign taxes—(a) Period in which claim may be filed. In the case of an overpayment of income tax resulting from a credit, allowed under the provisions of section 901 or under the provisions of any treaty to which the United States is a party, for taxes paid or accrued to a foreign country or possession of the United States, a claim for credit or refund must be filed by the taxpayer within 10 years from the last date prescribed for filing the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return) for the taxable year with respect to which the claim is made. Such 10-year period shall be applied in lieu of the 3-year period prescribed in section 6511 (a).

(b) Limit on amount to be credited or refunded. In the case of a claim described in paragraph (a) of this section, the amount of the credit or refund allowed or made may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period prescribed in section 6511 (b) or (c), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the allowance of a credit against income tax referred to in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 301.6511 (e) Statutory provisions; limitations on credit or refund; special rules in case of manufactured sugar.

SEC. 6511. Limitations on credit or refund. • • •

(e) Special rules in case of manufactured sugar—(1) Use as livestock feed or for distillation of alcohol. No payment shall be allowed under section 6418 (a) unless within 2 years after the right to such payment has accrued a claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto.

(2) Exportation. No payment shall be allowed under section 6418 (b) unless within 2 years after the right to such payment has accrued a claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto.

§ 301.6511 (e)–1 Special rules applicable to manufactured sugar—(a) Use as livestock feed and for distillation of alcohol. No payment shall be allowed or made under section 6418 (a) unless within 2 years after the date the right to such payment has accrued a claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto. Such right accrues as of the date the manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, is used for a purpose for which payment is allowable under section 6418 (a).

(b) Exportation. No payment shall be allowed or made under section 6418 (b) unless within 2 years after the date the right to such payment has accrued a claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto. Such right accrues as of the date the articles are exported.

SEC. 6511. Limitations on credit or refund. • • •

(f) Cross references. (1) For time return deemed filed and tax considered paid, see section 6513.

(2) For limitations with respect to certain credits against estate tax, see sections 2011 (c), 2014 (b), and 2015.

(3) For limitations in case of floor stocks refunds, see section 6412.

(4) For a period of limitations for credit or refund in the case of joint income returns after separate returns have been filed, see section 6013 (b) (3).

§ 301.6512 Statutory provisions; limitations in case of petition to Tax Court.

SEC. 6512. Limitations in case of petition to Tax Court—(a) Effect of petition to Tax Court. If the Secretary or his delegate has mailed to the taxpayer a notice of deficiency under section 6212 (a) (relating to deficiencies of income, estate, and gift taxes) and if the taxpayer files a petition with the Tax Court within the time prescribed in section 6213 (a), no credit or refund of income tax for the same taxable year, of gift tax for the same calendar year, or of estate tax in respect of the taxable estate of the same decedent, in respect of which the Secretary or his delegate has determined the deficiency shall be allowed or made and no suit by the taxpayer for the recovery of any part of the tax shall be instituted in any court except—

(1) As to overpayments determined by a decision of the Tax Court which has become final; and

(2) As to any amount collected in excess of an amount computed in accordance with the decision of the Tax Court which has become final; and

(3) As to any amount collected after the period of limitation upon the making of levy or beginning a proceeding in court for collection has expired; but in any such claim for credit or refund or in any such suit for refund the decision of the Tax Court which has become final, as to whether such period has expired before the notice of deficiency was mailed, shall be conclusive.

(b) Overpayment determined by Tax Court—(1) Jurisdiction to determine. If the Tax Court finds that there is no deficiency and further finds that the taxpayer has made an overpayment of income tax for the same taxable year, of gift tax for the same calendar year, or of estate tax in respect of the taxable estate of the same decedent, in respect of which the Secretary or his delegate determined the deficiency, or finds that there is a deficiency but that the taxpayer has made an overpayment of such tax, the Tax Court shall have jurisdiction to determine the amount of such overpayment, and such amount shall, when the decision of the Tax Court has become final, be credited or refunded to the taxpayer.

(2) Limit on amount of credit or refund. No such credit or refund shall be allowed or made of any portion of the tax unless the Tax Court determines as part of its decision that such portion was paid—

(A) After the mailing of the notice of deficiency, or

(B) Within the period which would be applicable under section 6511 (b) (2), (c), or (d), if on the date of the mailing of the notice of deficiency a claim had been filed (whether or not filed) stating the grounds upon which the Tax Court finds that there is an overpayment.

§ 301.6512–1 Limitations in case of petition to Tax Court—(a) Effect of petition to Tax Court—(1) General rule. If a person, having a right to file a petition with the Tax Court with respect to a deficiency in income, estate, or gift tax imposed by subtitle A or B, has filed such petition within the time prescribed in section 6213 (a), no credit or refund of income tax for the same taxable year, or of gift tax for the same calendar year, or of estate tax in respect of the taxable estate of the same decedent, in respect of which a district director (or an assistant regional commissioner, appellate) has determined the deficiency, shall be allowed or made, and no suit in any court for the recovery of any part of such tax shall be instituted by the taxpayer, except as to items set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) Exceptions. The exceptions to the rule stated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph are as follows:

(i) An overpayment determined by a decision of the Tax Court which has become final;

(ii) Any amount collected in excess of an amount computed in accordance with the decision of the Tax Court which has become final; and

(iii) Any amount collected after the expiration of the period of limitation upon levying or beginning a proceeding in court for collection.

(b) Overpayment determined by Tax Court. If the Tax Court finds that there is no deficiency and further finds that the taxpayer has made an overpayment of income tax for the same taxable year, or of gift tax for the same calendar year, or of estate tax in respect of the taxable estate of the same decedent, in respect of which a district director (or an assistant regional commissioner, appellate) has determined the deficiency, or finds that there is a deficiency but that the taxpayer has made an overpayment of such tax, the overpayment determined by the Tax Court shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer when the decision of the Tax Court has become final. (See section 7481, relating to the date when Tax Court decision becomes final.) No such credit or refund shall be allowed or made of any portion of the tax unless the Tax Court determines as part of its decision that such portion was paid—

(1) After the mailing of the notice of deficiency, or

(2) Within the period which would be applicable under section 6511 (b) (2), (c), or (d) (see §§ 301.6511 (b)–1, 301.6511 (c)–1, 301.6511 (d)–1, 301.6511 (d)–2, and 301.6511 (d)–3), if on the date of the mailing of the notice of deficiency a claim had been filed (whether or not filed) stating the grounds upon which the Tax Court finds that there is an overpayment.

(c) Jeopardy assessments. In the case of a jeopardy assessment made under section 6861 (a), if the amount which should have been assessed as determined by a decision of the Tax Court which has become final is less than the amount already collected, the excess payment shall be credited or refunded subject to a determination being made by the Tax Court with respect to the time of payment as stated in paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) Disallowance of deficiency by reviewing court. If the amount of the deficiency determined by the Tax Court (in a case where collection has not been stayed by the filing of a bond) is disallowed in whole or in part by the reviewing court, then the overpayment resulting from such disallowance shall be credited or refunded without the making of claim therefor, subject to a determination being made by the Tax Court with respect to the time of payment as stated in paragraph (b) of this section. (See section 7481, relating to date Tax Court decision becomes final.)

(e) Collection in excess of amount determined by Tax Court. Where the amount collected is in excess of the amount computed in accordance with the decision of the Tax Court which has become final, the excess payment shall be credited or refunded within the period of limitation provided in section 6511.

(f) Collection after expiration of statutory period. Where an amount is collected after the statutory period of limitation upon the beginning of levy or a proceeding in court for collection has expired (see section 6502, relating to collection after assessment), the taxpayer may file a claim for refund of the amount so collected within the period of limitation provided in section 6511. In any such case, the decision of the Tax Court as to whether the statutory period upon collection of the tax expired before notice of the deficiency was mailed shall, when the decision becomes final, be conclusive.

SEC. 6513. Time return deemed filed and tax considered paid—(a) Early return or advance payment of tax. For purposes of section 6511, any return filed before the last day prescribed for the filing thereof shall be considered as filed on such last day. For purposes of section 6511 (b) (2) and (c) and section 6512, payment of any portion of the tax made before the last day prescribed for the payment of the tax shall be considered made on such last day. For purposes of this subsection, the last day prescribed for filing the return or paying the tax shall be determined without regard to any extension of time granted the taxpayer and without regard to any election to pay the tax in installments.

(b) Prepaid income tax. For purposes of section 6511 or 6512, any tax actually deducted and withheld at the source during any calendar year under chapter 24 shall, in respect of the recipient of the income, be deemed to have been paid by him on the 15th day of the fourth month following the close of his taxable year with respect to which such tax is allowable as a credit under section 31. For purposes of section 6511 or 6512, any amount paid as estimated income tax for any taxable year shall be deemed to have been paid on the last day prescribed for filing the return under section 6012 for such taxable year (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return).

(c) Return and payment of social security taxes and income tax withholding. Notwithstanding subsection (a), for purposes of section 6511 with respect to any tax imposed by chapter 21 or 24—

(1) If a return for any period ending with or within a calendar year is filed before April 15 of the succeeding calendar year, such return shall be considered filed on April 15 of such succeeding calendar year; and

(2) If a tax with respect to remuneration paid during any period ending with or within a calendar year is paid before April 15 of the succeeding calendar year, such tax shall be considered paid on April 15 of such succeeding calendar year.

(d) Overpayment of income tax credited to estimated tax. If any overpayment of income tax is, in accordance with section 6402 (b), claimed as a credit against estimated tax for the succeeding taxable year, such amount shall be considered as a payment of the income tax for the succeeding taxable year (whether or not claimed as a credit in the return of estimated tax for such succeeding taxable year), and no claim for credit or refund of such overpayment shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the overpayment arises.

§ 301.6513–1 Time return deemed filed and tax considered paid—(a) Early return or advance payment of tax. For purposes of section 6511, a return (other than the employment tax returns referred to in paragraph (c) of this section) filed before the last day prescribed by law or regulations for the filing thereof shall be considered as filed on such last day. For purposes of section 6511 (b) (2) and (c) and section 6512, payment of any portion of the tax made before the last day prescribed for payment shall be considered made on such last day. An extension of time for filing a return or for paying any tax, or an election to pay any tax in installments, shall not be given any effect in determining under this section the last day prescribed for filing a return or paying any tax.

(b) Prepaid income tax. For purposes of section 6511 (relating to limitations on credit or refund) or section 6512 (relating to limitations in case of petition to Tax Court), any tax actually deducted and withheld at the source during any calendar year under chapter 24 (relating to collection of income tax at source on wages) shall, in respect of the recipient of the income, be deemed to have been paid by him on the 15th day of the fourth month following the close of his taxable year with respect to which such tax is allowable as a credit under section 31 (relating to tax withheld on wages). For purposes of section 6511 or 6512, any amount paid as estimated income tax for any taxable year shall be deemed to have been paid on the last day prescribed for filing the return under section 6012 (relating to persons required to make returns of income) for such taxable year (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return).

(c) Return and payment of social security taxes and income tax withholding. If a return of tax under chapter 21 (relating to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act) or chapter 24 (relating to the collection of income tax at source on wages) for any period ending with or within a calendar year is filed before April 15 of the succeeding calendar year or if a tax with respect to remuneration paid during any period ending with or within a calendar year is paid before such date, for purposes of section 6511 (relating to limitations on credit or refund) the return shall be considered filed, or the tax considered paid, on April 15th of such succeeding calendar year.

(d) Overpayment of income tax credited to estimated tax. If a taxpayer elects under the provisions of section 6402 (b) to credit an overpayment of income tax for a taxable year against estimated tax for the succeeding taxable year, the amount so credited shall be considered a payment of income tax for such succeeding taxable year (whether or not claimed as a credit on the estimated tax return for such succeeding taxable year). If the treatment of such amount as a payment of income tax for the succeeding taxable year results in an overpayment for such succeeding taxable year, the period of limitations applicable to such overpayment is determined by reference to that taxable year. An election so to credit an overpayment of income tax precludes the allowance of a claim for credit or refund of such overpayment for the taxable year in which the overpayment arises.

SEC. 6514. Credits or refunds after period of limitation—(a) Credits or refunds after period of limitation. A refund of any portion of an internal revenue tax shall be considered erroneous and a credit of any such portion shall be considered void—

(1) Expiration of period for filing claim. If made after the expiration of the period of limitation for filing claim therefor, unless within such period claim was filed; or

(2) Disallowance of claim and expiration of period for filing suit. In the case of a claim filed within the proper time and disallowed by the Secretary or his delegate, if the credit or refund was made after the expiration of the period of limitation for filing suit, unless within such period suit was begun by the taxpayer.

(3) Recovery of erroneous refunds. For procedure by the United States to recover erroneous refunds, see sections 6532 (b) and 7405.

§ 301.6514 (a)–1 Credits or refunds after period of limitation. (a) A refund of any portion of any internal revenue tax (or any interest, additional amount, addition to the tax, or assessable penalty) shall be considered erroneous and a credit of any such portion shall be considered void—

(1) If made after the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed by section 6511 for filing claim therefor, unless prior to the expiration of such period claim was filed, or

(2) In the case of a timely claim, if the credit or refund was made after the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed by section 6532 (a) for the filing of suit, unless prior to the expiration of such period suit was begun.

(b) For procedure by the United States to recover erroneous refunds, see sections 6532 (b) and 7405.

§ 301.6514 (b) Statutory provisions; credit after period of limitation.

SEC. 6514. Credits or refunds after period of limitation. * * *

(b) Credit after period of limitation. Any credit against a liability in respect of any taxable year shall be void if any payment in respect to such liability would be considered an overpayment under section 6401 (a).

§ 301.6514 (b)–1 Credit against barred liability. Any credit against a liability in respect of any taxable year shall be void if the collection of such liability would be barred by the applicable statute of limitations at the time such credit is made.

MITIGATION OF EFFECT OF PERIOD OF LIMITATIONS

§ 301.6521 Statutory provisions; mitigation of effect of limitation in case of related taxes under different chapters.

SEC. 6521. Mitigation of effect of limitation in case of related taxes under different chapters—(a) Self-employment tax and tax on wages. In the case of the tax imposed by chapter 2 (relating to tax on self-employment income) and the tax imposed by section 3101 (relating to tax on employees under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act)—

(1) If an amount is erroneously treated as self-employment income, or if an amount is erroneously treated as wages, and

(2) If the correction of the error would require an assessment of one such tax and the refund or credit of the other tax, and then, if the correction authorized is made, the amount of the assessment, or the amount of the credit or refund, as the case may be, authorized as to the one tax shall be reduced by the amount of the credit or refund, or the amount of the assessment, as the case may be, which would be required with respect to such other tax for the correction of the error if such credit or refund, or such assessment, of such other tax were not prevented by any law or rule of law (other than section 7122, relating to compromises).

(3) If at any time the correction of the error is authorized as to one such tax but is prevented as to the other tax by any law or rule of law (other than section 7122, relating to compromises),

(b) Definitions. For purposes of subsection (a), the terms "self-employment income" and "wages" shall have the same meaning as when used in section 1402 (b).

§ 301.6521–1 Mitigation of effect of limitation in case of related employee social security tax and self-employment tax. (a) Section 6521 may be applied in the correction of a certain type of error involving both the tax on self-employment income under section 1401 and the employee tax under section 3101 if the correction of the error as to one tax is, on the date the correction is authorized, prevented in whole or in part by the operation of any law or rule of law other than section 7122, relating to compromises. Examples of such law are section 6212 (c), 6401 (a), 6501, 6511, 6512 (a), 6514, 6532, 6901 (c), (d) and (e), 7121, and 7459 (e).

(b) If the liability for either tax with respect to which the error was made has been compromised under section 7122, the provisions of section 6521 limiting the correction with respect to the other tax do not apply.

(c) Section 6521 is not applicable if, on the date of the authorization, correction of the effect of the error is permissible as to both taxes without recourse to such section.

(d) If, because an amount of wages, as defined in section 3121 (a), is erroneously treated as self-employment income, as defined in section 1402 (b), or an amount of self-employment income is erroneously treated as wages, it is necessary in correcting the error to assess the correct tax and give a credit or refund for the amount of the tax erroneously paid, and if either, but not both, of such adjustments is prevented by any law or rule of law (other than section 7122), the amount of the assessment, or the amount of the credit or refund, authorized shall reflect the adjustment which would be made in respect of the other tax (either the tax on self-employment income under section 1401 or the employee tax under section 3101) but for the operation of such law or rule of law. For example, assume that during 1955 A paid $10 as tax on an amount erroneously treated as "wages", when such amount was actually self-employment income, and that credit or refund of the $10 is not barred. A should have paid a self-employment tax of $15 on the amount. If the assessment of the correct tax, that is, $15, is barred by the statute of limitations, no credit or refund of the $10 shall be made without offsetting against such $10 the $15, assessment of which is barred. Thus, no credit or refund in respect of the $10 can be made.

(e) As another example, assume that during 1955 a taxpayer reports wages of $4,200 and net earnings from self-employment of $900. By reason of the limitations of section 1402 (b) he shows no self-employment income. Assume further that by reason of a final decision by the Tax Court of the United States, further adjustments to the taxpayer's income tax liability are barred. The question of the amount of his wages, as defined in section 3121, was not in issue in the Tax Court litigation, but it is subsequently determined (within the period of limitations applicable under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act) that $700 of the $4,200 reported as wages was not for employment as defined in section 3121 (b). Therefore, the taxpayer is entitled to the allowance of a refund of the $14 tax paid on such remuneration under section 3101. The reduction of his wages from $4,200 to $3,500 would result in the determination of $700 self-employment income, the tax on which is $21 for the year. Under section 6521, the overpayment of $14 would be offset by the barred deficiency of $21, thus eliminating the refund otherwise allowable. If the facts were changed so that the taxpayer erroneously paid tax on self-employment income of $700, having been taxed on only $3,500 as wages, and within the period of limitations applicable under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, it is determined that his wages were $4,200, the tax of $14 under section 3101, otherwise collectible, would be eliminated by offsetting under section 6521 the barred overpayment of $21. The balance of the barred overpayment, $7, cannot be credited or refunded.

(f) Another illustration of the operation of section 6521 is the case of a taxpayer who, for 1955, is erroneously taxed on $2,500 as wages, the tax on which is $50, and who reports no self-employment income. After the period of limitations has run on the refund of the tax under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, it is determined that the amount treated as wages should have been reported as net earnings from self-employment. The taxpayer's self-employment income would then be $2,500 and the tax thereon would be $75. Assume that the period of limitations applicable to subtitle A has not expired, and that a notice of deficiency may properly be issued. Under section 6521, the amount of the deficiency of $75 must be reduced by the barred overpayment of $50.

§ 301.6521–2 Law applicable in determination of error. The question of whether there was an erroneous treatment of self-employment income or of wages is determined under the provisions of law and regulations applicable with respect to the year or other taxable period as to which the error was made. The fact that the error was in pursuance of an interpretation, either judicial or administrative, accorded such provisions of law and regulations at the time the action involved was taken is not necessarily determinative of this question. For example, if a later judicial decision authoritatively alters such interpretation so that such action is contrary to the applicable provisions of the law and regulations as later interpreted, the error comes within the scope of section 6521.

PERIODS OF LIMITATION IN JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS

§ 301.6531 Statutory provisions; periods of limitation on criminal prosecutions.

SEC. 6531. Periods of limitation on criminal prosecutions. No person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any of the various offenses arising under the internal revenue laws unless the indictment is found or the information instituted within 3 years next after the commission of the offense, except that the period of limitation shall be 6 years—

(1) For offenses involving the defrauding or attempting to defraud the United States or any agency thereof, whether by conspiracy or not, and in any manner;

(2) For the offense of willfully attempting in any manner to evade or defeat any tax or the payment thereof;

(3) For the offense of willfully aiding or assisting in, or procuring, counseling, or advising, the preparation or presentation under, or in connection with any matter arising under, the internal revenue laws, of a false or fraudulent return, affidavit, claim, or document (whether or not such falsity or fraud is with the knowledge or consent of the person authorized or required to present such return, affidavit, claim, or document);

(4) For the offense of willfully failing to pay any tax, or make any return (other than a return required under authority of part III of subchapter A of chapter 61) at the time or times required by law or regulations;

(5) For offenses described in sections 7206 (1) and 7207 (relating to false statements and fraudulent documents);

(6) For the offense described in section 7212 (a) (relating to intimidation of officers and employees of the United States);

(7) For offenses described in section 7214 (a) committed by officers and employees of the United States; and

(8) For offenses arising under section 371 of Title 18 of the United States Code, where the object of the conspiracy is to attempt in any manner to evade or defeat any tax or the payment thereof.

The time during which the person committing any of the various offenses arising under the internal revenue laws is outside the United States or is a fugitive from justice within the meaning of section 3290 of Title 18 of the United States Code, shall not be taken as any part of the time limited by law for the commencement of such proceedings. (The preceding sentence shall also be deemed an amendment to section 3748 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939, and shall apply in lieu of the sentence in section 3748 (a) which relates to the time during which a person committing an offense is absent from the district wherein the same is committed, except that such amendment shall apply only if the period of limitations under section 3748 would, without the application of such amendment, expire more than 3 years after the date of enactment of this title, and except that such period shall not, with the application of this amendment, expire prior to the date which is 3 years after the date of enactment of this title.) Where a complaint is instituted before a commissioner of the United States within the period above limited, the time shall be extended until the date which is 9 months after the date of the making of the complaint before the commissioner of the United States. For the purpose of determining the periods of limitation on criminal prosecutions, the rules of section 6513 shall be applicable.

SEC. 6532. Periods of limitation on suits—(a) Suits by taxpayers for refund—(1) General rule. No suit or proceeding under section 7422 (a) for the recovery of any internal revenue tax, penalty, or other sum, shall be begun before the expiration of 6 months from the date of filing the claim required under such section unless the Secretary or his delegate renders a decision thereon within that time, nor after the expiration of 2 years from the date of mailing by registered mail by the Secretary or his delegate to the taxpayer of a notice of the disallowance of the part of the claim to which the suit or proceeding relates.

(2) Extension of time. The 2-year period prescribed in paragraph (1) shall be extended for such period as may be agreed upon in writing between the taxpayer and the Secretary or his delegate.

(3) Waiver of notice of disallowance. If any person files a written waiver of the requirement that he be mailed a notice of disallowance, the 2-year period prescribed in paragraph (1) shall begin on the date such waiver is filed.

(4) Reconsideration after mailing of notice. Any consideration, reconsideration, or action by the Secretary or his delegate with respect to such claim following the mailing of a notice by registered mail of disallowance shall not operate to extend the period within which suit may be begun.

(b) Suits by United States for recovery of erroneous refunds. Recovery of an erroneous refund by suit under section 7405 shall be allowed only if such suit is begun within 2 years after the making of such refund, except that such suit may be brought at any time within 5 years from the making of the refund if it appears that any part of the refund was induced by fraud or misrepresentation of a material fact.

§ 301.6532–1 Periods of limitation on suits by taxpayers. (a) No suit or proceeding under section 7422 (a) for the recovery of any internal revenue tax, penalty, or other sum shall be begun until whichever of the following first occurs:

(1) The expiration of 6 months from the date of the filing of the claim for credit or refund, or

(2) A decision is rendered on such claim prior to the expiration of 6 months after the filing thereof.

Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, no suit or proceeding for the recovery of any internal revenue tax, penalty, or other sum may be brought after the expiration of 2 years from the date of mailing by registered mail by a district director or an assistant regional commissioner to a taxpayer of a notice of disallowance of the part of the claim to which the suit or proceeding relates.

(b) The 2-year period described in paragraph (a) of this section may be extended if an agreement to extend the running of the period of limitations is executed. The agreement must be signed by the taxpayer or by an attorney, agent, trustee, or other fiduciary on behalf of the taxpayer. If the taxpayer is a corporation, the agreement should be signed with the corporate name followed by the signature of a duly authorized officer of the corporation. The agreement will not be effective until signed by a district director or an assistant regional commissioner.

(c) The taxpayer may sign a waiver of the requirement that he be mailed a notice of disallowance. Such waiver is irrevocable and will commence the running of the 2-year period described in paragraph (a) of this section on the date the waiver is filed. The waiver shall set forth:

(1) The type of tax and the taxable period covered by the taxpayer's claim for refund;

(2) The amount of the claim;

(3) The amount of the claim disallowed;

(4) A statement that the taxpayer agrees the filing of the waiver will commence the running of the 2-year period provided for in section 6532 (a) (1) as if a notice of disallowance had been sent the taxpayer by registered mail.

The filing of such a waiver prior to the expiration of 6 months from the date the claim was filed does not permit the filing of a suit for refund prior to the time specified in section 6532 (a) (1) and paragraph (a) of this section.

(d) Any consideration, reconsideration, or other action with respect to a claim after the mailing by registered mail of a notice of disallowance or after the execution of a waiver referred to in paragraph (c) of this section, shall not extend the period for bringing suit or other proceeding under section 7422 (a).

§ 301.6532–2 Periods of limitation on suits by the United States. The United States may not recover any erroneous refund by civil action under section 7405 unless such action is begun within 2 years after the making of such refund. However, if any part of the refund was induced by fraud or misrepresentation of a material fact, the action to recover the erroneous refund may be brought at any time within 5 years from the date the refund was made.

AUTHORITY: 780.0 to 780.23 issued under 52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201–219.

§ 780.0 Introductory statement—(a) Significance of subpart. (1) The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938[1] (hereinafter referred to as the act) applies to employees who are engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce, including occupations closely related and directly essential thereto. It provides for minimum rates of pay for straight time and overtime pay at a rate not less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for overtime hours worked. Section 13 (a) (6) of the act exempts from its minimum wage and overtime provisions "any employee employed in agriculture or in connection with the operation or maintenance of ditches, canals, reservoirs, or waterways, not owned or operated for profit, or operated on a share-crop basis, and which are used exclusively for supply and storing of water for agricultural purposes". The act also contains prohibitions directed against the employment of oppressive child labor. Section 13 (c) provides an exemption from the act's child labor provisions for "any employee employed in agriculture outside of school hours for the school district where such employee is living while he is so employed". The term "agriculture", as used in these exemptions is defined in section 3 (f) of the act.

(2) This subpart contains the interpretations of the Department of Labor[2] as to what constitutes "agriculture" for purposes of sections 13 (a) (6) and 13 (c) and the scope and meaning of the terms used in the section 13 (a) (6) exemption relating to irrigation activities. These interpretations of the law are set forth herein to provide "a practical guide to employers and employees as to how the office representing the public interest in its enforcement will seek to apply it."[3] These interpretations indicate the construction of the law which the Secretary of Labor and the Administrator believe to be correct and which will guide them in the performance of their duties under the act unless and until they are otherwise directed by authoritative decisions of the courts or conclude upon reexamination of an interpretation, that it is incorrect.

(3) The interpretations contained in this subpart are interpretations on which reliance may be placed as provided in section 10 of the Portal-to-Portal Act,[4] so long as they remain effective and are not modified, amended, rescinded, or determined by judicial authority to be incorrect.

(b) Scope of subpart. As indicated, this subpart deals with sections 3 (f) and 13 (a) (6) of the act. To the extent that the term "agriculture" as defined in section 3 (f) is involved in the section 13 (c) child labor exemption, the discussion contained in this subpart is applicable. The meaning and scope of the child labor coverage and exemption provisions are discussed in Subpart G of Part 4 of this title. Included in this subpart is a discussion of that portion of section 3 (f) which refers to forestry or lumbering operations.[5] Also included is a discussion of the application of the definition in section 3 (f) to the employees of farmers' cooperative associations.[6] This subpart, however, does not include a discussion of the exemptions provided by sections 13 (a) (10) 13 (b) (5), 7 (c) and 7 (b) (3) which deal with various operations and practices performed with respect to certain agricultural and farm commodities. These exemptions will be discussed in separate subparts. Neither does this subpart deal with the general coverage of the wage and hour provisions of the act. The problem of general coverage is dealt with in Part 776 of this chapter.

(c) Earlier interpretations superseded. This subpart supersedes all rulings, interpretations, or enforcement policies that are inconsistent with any portion hereof.[7]

§ 780.1 Statutory provisions—(a) Exemptions for agriculture and certain irrigation activities. (1) Section 13 (a) (6) of the act exempts from the minimum wage requirements of section 6 and the maximum hours provisions of section 7 "any employee employed in agriculture or in connection with the operation or maintenance of ditches, canals, reservoirs, or waterways, not owned or operated for profit, or operated on a share-crop basis, and which are used exclusively for supply and storing of water for agricultural purposes".

(2) Section 13 (c) exempts from the child labor requirements of section 12 "any employee employed in agriculture outside of school hours for the school district where such employee is living while he is so employed" (see sec. 4.123 of the interpretative bulletin on child labor, Subpart G of Part 4 of this title).

(b) Definition of "agriculture". Section 3 (f) defines "agriculture" as follows:

"Agriculture" includes farming in all its branches and among other things includes the cultivation and tillage of the soil, dairying, the production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of any agricultural or horticultural commodities (including commodities defined as agricultural commodities in section 15 (g) of the Agricultural Marketing Act, as amended), the raising of livestock, bees, fur-bearing animals, or poultry, and any practices (including any forestry or lumbering operations) performed by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations, including preparation for market, delivery to storage or to market or to carriers for transportation to market.

§ 780.2 Method of construing the 13 (a) (6) exemption. Like other exemptions provided by the act, the section 13 (a) (6) exemption is narrowly construed.[8] Accordingly, an employee is considered an exempt agricultural or irrigation employee if, but only if, his work falls clearly within the specific language of section 3 (f) or section 13 (a) (6).

§ 780.3 Employee basis of exemption under 13 (a) (6). (a) Section 13 (a) (6) exempts "any employee employed in • • •". It is clear from this language that it is the activities of the employee rather than those of his employer which ultimately determine the application of the exemption. Thus the exemption may not apply to some employees of an employer engaged almost exclusively in activities within the exemption, and it may apply to some employees of an employer engaged almost exclusively in other activities. But the burden of effecting segregation between exempt and non-exempt work as between different groups of employees is upon the employer.

(b) Although the activities of the individual employee, as distinguished from those of his employer, constitute the ultimate test for applying the exemption, it is necessary in some instances to examine the activities of the employer. For example, in resolving the status of the employees of an irrigation company for purposes of the agriculture exemption, the United States Supreme Court found it necessary to consider the nature of the employer's activities.[9]

§ 780.4 Workweek standard under 13 (a) (6). The workweek is the unit of time to be taken as the standard in determining the applicability of section 13 (a) (6). An employee's workweek is a fixed and regularly recurring period of 168 hours—seven consecutive 24-hour periods. It need not coincide with the calendar week. If in any workweek an employee does only exempt work he is exempt from the wage and hour provisions of the act during that workweek, irrespective of the nature of his work in any other workweek or workweeks. An employee may thus be exempt in one workweek and not in the next. But the burden of effecting segregation between exempt and nonexempt work as between particular workweeks is upon the employer.

§ 780.5 Exempt, nonexempt and noncovered work during a workweek under 13 (a) (6). (a) The wage and hour requirements of the act do not apply to an employee during any workweek in which a portion of his activities fall within section 13 (a) (6) if all of the remainder of his activities are not covered by the act.

(b) Where exempt and nonexempt work is involved, the general rule is that if in any workweek an employee performs exempt work and other work which is covered and not exempt, the wage and hour requirements do apply to him during that workweek.[10]

(c) The combination ("tacking") of exempt work under section 13 (a) (6) with exempt work under another section is permitted. The wage and hour requirements are not considered applicable to an employee who does work within section 13 (a) (6) for only part of a workweek if all of the covered work done by him during the remainder of the workweek is within one or more equivalent exemptions under other provisions of the act. If the scope of such exemptions is not the same, however, the exemption applicable to the employee is equivalent to that provided by whichever exemption provision is more limited in scope. For instance, an employee who devotes part of a workweek to work within section 13 (a) (6) and the remainder to work exempt under section 7 (c) must receive the minimum wage but is not required to be paid time and one-half for his overtime work during that week. Each activity is tested separately under the applicable exemption as though it were the sole activity of the employee for the whole workweek in question. The availability of a combination exemption depends on whether the employee meets all the requirements of each exemption which it is sought to combine.

The effect of modern specialization on agriculture has been discussed by the United States Supreme Court as follows:

> Whether a particular type of activity is agricultural depends, in large measure, upon the way in which that activity is organized in a particular society. The determination cannot be made in the abstract. In less advanced societies the agricultural function includes many types of activity which, in others, are not agricultural. The fashioning of tools, the provision of fertilizer, the processing of the product, to mention only a few examples, are functions which, in some societies, are performed on the farm by farmers as part of their normal agricultural routine. Economic progress, however, is characterized by a progressive division of labor and separation of function. Tools are made by a tool manufacturer, who specializes in that kind of work and supplies them to the farmer. The compost heap is replaced by factory produced fertilizers. Power is derived from electricity and gasoline rather than supplied by the farmer's mules. Wheat is ground at the mill. In this way functions which are necessary to the total economic process of supplying an agricultural product, become, in the process of economic development and specialization, separate and independent productive functions operated in conjunction with the agricultural function but no longer a part of it. Thus the question as to whether a particular type of activity is agricultural is not determined by the necessity of the activity to agriculture nor by the physical similarity of the activity to that done by farmers in other situations. The question is whether the activity in the particular case is carried on as part of the agricultural function or is separately organized as an independent productive activity. The farmhand who cares for the farmer's mules or prepares his fertilizer is engaged in agriculture. But the maintenance man in a power plant and the packer in a fertilizer factory are not employed in agriculture, even if their activity is necessary to farmers and replaces work previously done by farmers. The production of power and the manufacture of fertilizer are independent productive functions, not agriculture.[11]

§ 780.7 The section 3 (f) definition. (a) Section 3 (f) of the act contains a very comprehensive definition of the term "agriculture." The definition has two distinct branches. First, there is the primary meaning. This includes farming in all its branches. Listed as being included "among other things" in the primary meaning are certain specific farming operations such as cultivation and tillage of the soil, dairying, the production, cultivation, growing and harvesting of any agricultural or horticultural commodities and the raising of livestock, bees, fur-bearing animals or poultry. If an employee is employed in any of these activities, he is exempt regardless of whether he is employed by a farmer or on a farm.

(b) Then there is the secondary meaning of the term. The second branch includes operations other than those which fall within the primary meaning of the term. It includes any practices, whether or not they are themselves farming practices, which are performed either by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with "such" farming operations."[12]

§ 780.8 General statement on primary agriculture. The discussion in §§ 780.8 to 780.13 relates to the activities which exempt an employee who is employed in "agriculture" within its "primary" meaning.[13] Within this meaning of "agriculture," employees employed in the listed activities, generally characterizable as direct farming operations, are exempt without qualification from both the minimum wage and overtime pay provisions. Thus when an employee is engaged in direct farming operations included in the primary definition of "agriculture", the purpose of the employer in performing the operations is immaterial. For example, where an employer owns a factory and a farm and operates the farm only for experimental purposes in connection with the factory, those employees who devote all their time during a particular workweek to the direct farming operations, such as the growing and harvesting of agricultural commodities, are nevertheless exempt from the act's wage and hour requirements during that workweek. It is also immaterial whether the agricultural or horticultural commodities are grown in enclosed houses, as in green houses or mushroom cellars, or in an open field. Similarly, the mere fact that production takes place in a city or on industrial premises, such as in hatcheries, rather than in the country or on premises possessing the normal characteristics of a farm makes no difference.[14]

§ 780.9 Farming in all its branches. The language "farming in all its branches" includes all activities, whether listed in the definition or not, which constitute farming or a branch thereof under the facts and circumstances. Unlike the specifically enumerated operations, the phrase "farming in all its branches" does not clearly indicate its scope. In determining whether an operation constitutes "farming in all its branches", it may be necessary to consider various circumstances such as the nature and purpose of the operations of the employer, the character of the place where the employee performs his duties, the general types of activities there conducted, and the purpose and function of such activities with respect to the operations carried on by the employer. The determination may involve a consideration of the principles contained in § 780.6. For example, based on the facts and circumstances, it is reasonable to regard the raising or cultivation of angleworms or earthworms for sale to farmers for use in improving the physical condition of the soil as within the term "farming in all its branches". On the other hand, the raising of crickets for fish bait is not a branch of "farming", and is not exempt. So-called "bird dog" operations of the citrus fruit industry consisting of the purchase of fruit unsuitable for packing and of the transportation and sale of the fruit to canning plants do not qualify as "farming". Consequently, employees engaged in such operations are not exempt.[15] However, employees gathering the fruit at the groves are exempt because they are engaged in harvesting operations.

§ 780.10 Cultivation and tillage of the soil. "Cultivation and tillage of the soil" includes all the operations necessary to prepare a suitable seedbed, eliminate weed growth and improve the physical condition of the soil. Thus, grading or leveling land or removing rock or other matter to prepare the ground for a proper seed bed, or building terraces on farmland to check soil erosion are included. The application of water,[16] fertilizer or limestone to farmland is also included. Employees engaged in the commercial production and distribution of fertilizer are not exempt.[17]

§ 780.11 Dairying. "Dairying" includes the work of caring for and milking cows or goats. It also includes putting the milk in containers, cooling it, and storing it where done on the farm. The handling of milk and cream at receiving stations is not included. Such operations as separating cream from milk, bottling milk and cream, or making butter and cheese may be exempt when performed by a farmer or on a farm if they are not performed on milk produced by other farmers or produced on other farms.[18]

§ 780.12 Production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of any agricultural or horticultural commodities—(a) Production, cultivation, and growing. (1) The word "production" was added to the definition of "agriculture" in order to take care of a special situation—the production of turpentine and gum rosins by a process involving the tapping of living trees.[19] To insure the inclusion of this process within the definition, the word "production" was added to section 3 (f) in conjunction with the words "including commodities defined as agricultural commodities in section 15 (g) of the Agricultural Marketing Act, as amended."[20] It is clear, therefore, that "production" is not used in section 3 (f) in the artificial and special sense in which it is defined in section 3 (j). It does not exempt an employee merely because he is engaged in a closely related process or occupation directly essential to the production of agricultural or horticultural commodities. To so construe the term would render unnecessary the remainder of what Congress clearly intended to be a very elaborate and comprehensive definition of "agriculture".[21] The words "production, cultivation, growing" describe actual raising operations which are normally intended or expected to produce specific agricultural or horticultural commodities. The raising of such commodities is included even though done for purely experimental purposes. The "growing" may take place in growing media other than soil as in the case of hydroponics.

(2) The words do not include operations performed subsequent to actual harvesting operations. Neither do they include operations undertaken or conducted for purposes not concerned with obtaining any specific agricultural or horticultural commodity. Thus operations which are merely preliminary, preparatory or incidental to the operations whereby such commodities are actually produced are not within the terms "production, cultivation, growing". For example, employees of a processor of vegetables who are engaged in buying vegetable plants and distributing them to farmers with whom their employer has acreage contracts are not engaged in the "production, cultivation, growing" of agricultural or horticultural commodities. The furnishing of mushroom spawn by a canner of mushrooms to growers who supply the canner with mushrooms grown from such spawn does not constitute the "growing" of mushrooms. Similarly, employees of an employer who is engaged in servicing insecticide sprayers in the farmer's orchard and employees engaged in such operations as the testing of soil or genetics research are not included within the terms.[22]

(b) Harvesting. The term "harvesting" as used in section 3 (f) includes all operations customarily performed in connection with the removal of the crops by the farmer from their growing position.[23] Examples include the cutting of grain,[24] the picking of fruit, the stripping of bluegrass seed, and the digging up of shrubs and trees grown in a nursery. "Harvesting" does not extend to operations subsequent to and unconnected with the actual process whereby agricultural or horticultural commodities are severed from their attachment to the soil or otherwise reduced to possession. For example, the processing of sugar cane into raw sugar[25] or the vining of peas[26] are not included. While transportation to a concentration point on the farm may be included, "harvesting" never extends to transportation or other operations off the farm.[27]

(c) Agricultural or horticultural commodities. (1) "Agricultural or horticultural commodities" refers to commodities resulting from the application of agricultural or horticultural techniques. Insofar as the term refers to products of the soil, it means commodities that are planted and cultivated by man. Among such commodities are the following: grains, forage crops, fruits, vegetables, nuts, sugar crops, fibre crops, tobacco, and nursery products. Thus, employees engaged in growing wheat, corn, hay, onions, carrots, sugarcane, seed, or any other agricultural or horti-

[20] The legislative history of this part of the definition was considered by the United States Supreme Court in Farmers Irrigation Co. v. McComb, 337 U. S. 755.

[22] However, see §§ 780.14 to 780.20 for possible exemption on other grounds.

[23] Vives v. Serralles, 145 F. 2d 552, quoted this definition with approval and held that employees engaged on a plantation in gathering sugar cane as soon as it had been cut, loading it, and transporting the cane to a concentration point on the farm are engaged in "harvesting."

[24] The combining of grain is exempt either as harvesting or as practice performed on a farm in conjunction with or as an incident to farming operations. See in this connection, Wyatt v. Holtville Alfalfa Mills, 12 W. H. Cases 635; 28 Labor Cases, par. 69, 437 (C. A. 9).

[26] For a further discussion on the exempt status of vining employees, see § 780.17.

[27] Chapman v. Durkin, 214 F. 2d 360; Fort Mason Fruit Co. v. Durkin, 214 F. 2d 363—off-the-farm transportation can only be "agriculture" when performed by the farmer as an incident to his farming operations. For a further discussion of this point, see §§ 780.19, 780.20 (e) and (f).

cultural commodity are engaged in "agriculture". In addition to such products of the soil, however, the term 'includes domesticated animals and some of their products such as milk, wool, eggs, and honey. The term does not include commodities produced by industrial techniques, by exploitation of mineral wealth or other natural resources, or by uncultivated natural growth. Accordingly, employees engaged in the gathering or harvesting of wild commodities such as mosses, wild rice, burls and laurel plants, the trapping of wild animals, or the appropriation of minerals and other uncultivated products from the soil are not employed in "the production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of agricultural or horticultural commodities". However, the fact that plants or other commodities actually cultivated by man are of a species which ordinarily grows wild without being cultivated does not preclude them from being classed as "agricultural or horticultural commodities". Transplanted branches which were cut from plants growing wild in the field or forest are included within the term. Cultivated blueberries are also included.

(2) Seeds and seedlings of agricultural and horticultural plants are also considered "agricultural or horticultural commodities". Thus, since mushrooms and beans are considered "agricultural or horticultural commodities", the spawn of mushrooms and bean sprouts are also so considered and the production, cultivation, growing and harvesting of mushroom spawn or bean sprouts is within the meaning of section 3 (f).

(3) Trees grown in forests and the lumber derived therefrom are not "agricultural or horticultural commodities". Christmas trees, whether wild or planted, are also not so considered.[28] It follows that employment in the production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of such trees or timber products is not sufficient to bring an employee within section 3 (f) unless the operation is performed by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with farming operations. On the latter point, see § 780.20 (b) which discusses the question of when forestry or lumbering operations are incident to or in conjunction with farming operations so as to constitute "agriculture".

(d) Commodities included by reference to the Agricultural Marketing Act. (1) Section 3 (f) expressly provides that the term "agricultural or horticultural commodities" shall include the commodities defined as agricultural commodities in section 15 (g) of the Agricultural Marketing Act, as amended.[29] Section 15 (g) of that act provides: "As used in this act, the term 'agricultural commodity' includes, in addition to other agricultural commodities, crude gum (oleoresin) from a living tree, and the following products as processed by the original producer of the crude gum (oleoresin) from which derived: Gum spirits of turpentine, and gum resin, as defined in the Naval Stores Act, approved March 3, 1923."[30] As defined in the Naval Stores Act, "'gum spirits of turpentine' means spirits of turpentine made from gum (oleoresin) from a living tree" and "'gum rosin' means rosin remaining after the distillation of gum spirits of turpentine". The production of these commodities is therefore within the definition of "agriculture".

(2) Since the only oleoresin included within section 15 (g) of the Agricultural Marketing Act is that derived from a living tree, the production of oleoresin from stumps or any sources other than living trees is not within section 3 (f). If turpentine or rosin is produced in any manner other than the processing of crude gum from living trees, as by digging up pine stumps and grinding them or by distilling the turpentine with steam from the oleoresin within or extracted from the wood, the production of the turpentine or rosin is not included in section 3 (f). Similarly, the production of gum turpentine or gum rosin is not included when these are produced by anyone other than the original producer of the crude gum from which they are derived. Thus, if a producer of turpentine or rosin from oleoresin from living trees makes such products not only from oleoresin produced by him but also from oleoresin delivered to him by others, he is not producing a product defined as an agricultural commodity and employees engaged in his production operations are not exempt.[31] It is to be noted, however, that the production of gum turpentine and gum rosin from crude gum (oleoresin) derived from a living tree is exempt when performed at a central still for and on account of the producer of the crude gum. But where central stills buy the crude gum they process and are the owners of the gum turpentine and gum rosin that are derived from such crude gum and which they market for their own account, the production of such gum turpentine and gum rosin is not exempt.

§ 780.13 The raising of livestock, bees, fur-bearing animals or poultry—(a) General statement. Employees are employed in the raising of livestock, bees, fur-bearing animals or poultry only if their operations relate to animals of the type named and constitute the "raising" of such animals. If these two requirements are met, it makes no difference for what purpose the animals are raised or where the operations are performed. For example, the fact that the cattle are raised to obtain serum or virus or chicks are hatched in a commercial hatchery does not affect the exempt status of the operations.

(b) Raising of livestock—(1) General. (i) The meaning of the term "livestock" as used in section 3 (f) is confined to the ordinary use of the word and includes only domestic animals ordinarily raised or used on farms.[32] The term includes the following animals, among others: cattle (both dairy and beef cattle), sheep, swine, horses, mules, jackasses, and goats. It does not include such animals as albino and other rats, mice, guinea pigs and hamsters, which are ordinarily used by laboratories for research purposes.

(ii) The term "raising" employed with reference to livestock in section 3 (f) includes such operations as the breeding, fattening, feeding and general care of livestock.[33] Thus, employees exclusively engaged in feeding and fattening livestock in stock pens where the livestock remains for a substantial period of time are engaged in the "raising" of livestock. The fact that the livestock is purchased to be fattened and is not bred on the premises does not characterize the fattening as something other than the "raising" of livestock. The feeding and care of livestock does not necessarily or under all circumstances constitute the "raising" of such livestock, however. It is clear, for example, that animals are not being "raised" in the pens of stockyards or the corrals of meat packing plants where they are confined for a period of a few days while en route to slaughter or pending their sale or shipment. Therefore, employees employed in these places in feeding and caring for the constantly changing group of animals cannot reasonably be regarded as "raising" livestock.[34]

(2) Race horses. Employees engaged in the breeding, raising and training of horses on farms for racing purposes are exempt. Included are such employees as grooms, attendants, exercise boys, and watchmen employed at the breeding or training farm. On the other hand, employees engaged in the racing, training and care of horses and other activities performed off the farm in connection with commercial racing are not exempt. For this purpose, a training track at a race track is not a farm. Where a farmer is engaged in both the raising and commercial racing of race horses, the activities performed off the farm by his employees as an incident to racing, such as the training and care of the horses, are not practices performed by the farmer in his capacity as a farmer or breeder as an incident to his raising operations. Employees engaged in the feeding, care and training of horses which have been used in commercial racing and returned to a breeding or training farm for such care pending entry in subsequent races are exempt.

(c) Raising of bees. The term "raising of • • • bees" refers to all of those activities customarily performed in connection with the handling and keeping of bees, including the treatment of disease and the raising of queens.

[28] See Part 788 (on exemption for forestry or logging operations in which not more than 12 employees are employed).

[29] 12 U. S. C. 1141–1141j.

[30] 7 U. S. C. 91–99.

[31] For an explanation of the inclusion of the word "production" in section 3 (f), see paragraph (a) of this section.

[32] That Congress did not use this term in its generic sense is supported by the specific enumeration of activities, such as the raising of fur-bearing animals, which would be included in the generic meaning of the word.

[33] Employees of a cattle raisers' association engaged in the publication of a magazine about cattle, the detection of cattle thefts, the location of stolen cattle, and apprehension of cattle thieves, are not exempt.

[34] National Labor Relations Board v. Tovrea Packing Co., 111 F. 2d 628 (C. A. 9), cert. denied 311 U. S. 668. Walling v. Friend, 156 F. 2d 429.

(d) Raising of fur-bearing animals. (1) The term "fur-bearing animals" has reference to animals which bear fur of marketable value and includes, among other animals, rabbits, silver foxes, minks, squirrels, and muskrats. Animals whose fur lacks marketable value, such as albino and other rats, mice, guinea pigs, and hamsters, are not "fur-bearing animals" within the meaning of section 3 (f).

(2) The term "raising" of fur-bearing animals includes all those activities customarily performed in connection with breeding, feeding and caring for fur-bearing animals, including the treatment of disease. Such treatment of disease has reference only to disease of the animals being bred and does not refer to the use of such animals or their fur in experimenting with disease or treating diseases in others. The fact that muskrats or other fur-bearing animals are propagated in open water or marsh areas rather than in pens does not prevent the raising of such animals from constituting the "raising of fur-bearing animals". Where wild fur-bearing animals propagate in their native habitat and are not raised as above described, the trapping or hunting of such animals and activities incidental thereto are not exempt.

(e) Raising of poultry—(1) General. (i) The term "poultry" includes domesticated fowl and game birds. Ducks and pigeons are included. Canaries and parakeets are not included.

(ii) The "raising" of poultry includes the breeding, hatching, propagating, feeding and general care of poultry. Slaughtering, which is the antithesis of "raising", is not included. To constitute "agriculture", slaughtering must come within the secondary meaning of the term "agriculture". The temporary feeding and care of chickens and other poultry for a few days pending sale, shipment or slaughter is not the "raising" of poultry. However, feeding, fattening and caring for poultry over a substantial period may constitute the "raising" of poultry.

(2) Feed stores. Feed dealers and processors sometimes enter into contractual arrangements with farmers under which the latter agree to raise to marketable size baby chicks supplied by the former who also undertake to furnish all the required feed and possibly additional items. Typically, the feed dealer or processor retains title to the chickens until they are sold. Under such an arrangement, the activities of the farmers are clearly exempt. The activities of the feed dealer or processor, on the other hand, are not exempt.

(3) Hatcheries. Hatchery operations incident to the breeding of poultry, whether performed in a rural or urban location, are the "raising of poultry".[35] The exemption for employees of hatcheries is further discussed in § 780.23.

§ 780.14 General statement on secondary agriculture. (a) The discussion in §§ 780.8 to 780.13 relates to the direct farming operations which come within the "primary" meaning of the definition of "agriculture". As defined in section 3 (f) "agriculture" includes not only the distinctively farming activities described in the "primary" meaning but also includes, in its "secondary" meaning, "any practices (including any forestry or lumbering operations) performed by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations, including preparation for market, delivery to storage or to market or to carriers for transportation to market."

(b) To come within this secondary meaning, a practice must be performed either by a farmer or on a farm. It must also be performed either in connection with the farmer's own farming operations or in connection with farming operation conducted on the farm where the practice is performed. In addition, the practice must be performed "as an incident to or in conjunction with" the farming operations. No matter how closely related it may be to farming operations, a practice performed neither by a farmer nor on a farm is not within the scope of the "secondary" meaning of "agriculture". Thus, employees employed by commission brokers in the typical activities conducted at their establishments; warehouse employees at the typical tobacco warehouses; shop employees of an employer engaged in the business of servicing machinery and equipment for farmers; plant employees of a company dealing in eggs or poultry produced by others; employees of an irrigation company engaged in the general distribution of water to farmers; and other employees similarly situated do not generally come within the secondary meaning of "agriculture".

§ 780.15 Performance by a farmer. (a) "By a farmer":

(1) Among other things, a practice must be performed by a farmer or on a farm in order to come within the secondary portion of the definition of "agriculture". No precise lines can be drawn which will serve to delimit the term "farmer" in all cases. Essentially, however, the term is an occupational title and the employer must be engaged in activities of a type and to the extent that the person ordinarily regarded as a "farmer" is engaged in order to qualify for the title. If this test is met, it is immaterial for what purpose he engages in farming or whether farming is his sole occupation. Thus, an employer's status as a "farmer" is not altered by the fact that his only purpose is to obtain products useful to him in a non-farming enterprise which he conducts. For example, an employer engaged in raising nursery stock is a "farmer" for purposes of section 3 (f) even though his purpose is to supply goods for a separate enterprise where he engages in the retail distribution of nursery products.

(2) "Farmer" includes the employees of a farmer. It does not include an employer merely because he employs a farmer or appoints a farmer as his agent to do the actual work. Thus, the stripping of tobacco, i. e., removing leaves from the stalk, by the employees of an independent warehouse is not a practice performed "by a farmer" even though the warehouse acts as agent for the tobacco farmer or employs the farmer in the stripping operations. One who engages merely in practices which are incidental to farming is not a "farmer." For example, a company which merely prepares for market, sells, and ships flowers and plants grown and cultivated on farms by affiliated corporations is not a "farmer." The mere fact, however, that one has suspended actual farming operations during a period in which he performs only practices incidental to his past or prospective farming operations does not preclude him from qualifying as a "farmer."

(3) The term "farmer" as used in section 3 (f) is not confined to individual persons. Thus, a farmers' cooperative [36] or a corporation which engages in actual farming operations may be a "farmer." It does not necessarily follow, however, that any employer is a "farmer" simply because he engages in some actual farming operations of the type specified in section 3 (f). Thus, one who merely harvests a crop of agricultural commodities is not a "farmer" although his employees who actually do the harvesting are employed in "agriculture" and are exempt in those weeks when exclusively so engaged.

(4) Generally, an employer must undertake farming operations of such scope and significance as to constitute a distinct activity, for the purpose of yielding a farm product, in order to be regarded as a "farmer". One who merely performs services or supplies materials for farmers in return for compensation in money or farm products is not a "farmer". Thus, a person who provides credit and management services to farmers cannot qualify as a "farmer" on that account. Neither can a repairman who repairs and services farm machinery qualify as a "farmer" on that basis.

(5) As a general rule, a farmer performs his farming operations on land owned, leased, or controlled by him and devoted to his own use.[37] The mere fact, therefore, that an employer harvests a growing crop, even under a partnership agreement pursuant to which he provides credit, advisory or other services, is not generally considered to be sufficient to qualify the employer so engaged as a "farmer". Such an employer would stand, in packing or handling the product, in the same relationship to the produce as if it were from the fields or groves of an independent grower.

(b) Farmers' cooperative as a "farmer":

(1) The phrase "by a farmer" covers practices performed either by the farmer himself or by the farmer through his employees. Employees of a farmers' cooperative association, however, are employed not by the individual farmers who compose its membership or who are its stockholders, but by the cooperative association itself. Cooperative associations, whether in the corporate form or not, are distinct, separate entities from the farmers who own or compose them.

[35] Miller Hatcheries v. Boyer, 131 F. 2d 283.

[37] This does not mean, however, that a cattleman using public lands for grazing is not a farmer.

The work performed by a farmers' cooperative association is not work performed by a farmer but for farmers.[38] Therefore, employees of a farmers' cooperative association are not generally engaged in any practices performed "by a farmer" within the meaning of section 3 (f) and are not ordinarily exempt.[39]

(2) It is possible that some farmers' cooperative associations may themselves engage in actual farming operations to an extent and under circumstances sufficient to qualify as a "farmer". In such case, any of their employees who performs practices as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations are employed in "agriculture".

§ 780.16 Performance on a farm. (a) If a practice is not performed by a farmer, it must, among other things, be performed "on a farm" to come within the secondary meaning of "agriculture" in section 3 (f). Any practice which cannot be performed on a farm, such as "delivery to market", is necessarily excluded, therefore, when performed by someone other than a farmer. Thus, employees of an alfalfa dehydrator engaged in hauling chopped or unchopped alfalfa away from the farms to the dehydrating plant are not employed in a practice performed "on a farm". A "farm" is a tract of land devoted to the actual farming activities included in the first part of section 3 (f). The total area of a tract operated as a unit for farming purposes is included in the "farm", irrespective of the fact that some of this area may not be utilized for actual farming operations. It is immaterial whether a farm is situated in the city or in the country.

(b) Even though an employee may work on several farms during a workweek, he is regarded as employed "on a farm" for the entire workweek if his work on each farm pertains solely to farming operations on that farm. Employees engaged in building terraces or threshing wheat and other grain; employees engaged in the erection of silos and granaries; employees engaged in digging wells or building dams for farm ponds; employees engaged in inspecting and culling flocks of poultry; and pilots and flagmen engaged in the aerial dusting and spraying of crops are examples of the types of employees of independent contractors who may be considered employed in practices performed "on a farm". The fact that a minor and incidental part of the work of such an employee occurs off the farm will not defeat the exemption. Thus, a small amount of time within the workweek spent in transporting necessary equipment for work to be done on farms will not defeat the exemption. Other employees of the above employers employed away from the farm would not come within the exemption. For example, airport employees such as mechanics, loaders, and office workers employed by a crop dusting firm would not be exempt.

(c) The gathering of wild plants in the woods for transplantation in a nursery is not an operation performed "on a farm." [40] Field employees of a canner or processor of farm products who work on farms during the planting and growing season where they supervise the planting operations and consult with the grower on problems of cultivation are employed in practices performed "on a farm" so long as such work is done entirely on farms save for an incidental amount of reporting to their employer's plant.

§ 780.17 Operations of the farmer who performs the practices. (a) "Practices * * * performed by a farmer" must be performed as an incident to or in conjunction with "such farming operations" in order to constitute "agriculture" within the secondary meaning of the term. Practices performed by a farmer in connection with his non-farming operations do not satisfy this requirement. Furthermore, practices performed by a farmer can meet the above requirement only in the event that they are performed in connection with the farming operations of the same farmer who performs the practices. Thus, the requirement is not met with respect to employees engaged in any practices performed by their employer in connection with farming operations that are not his own.[41] Some examples will serve to illustrate the above principle. Employees of a fruit grower who dry or pack fruit not grown by their employer are not exempt. Storage operations conducted by a farmer in connection with products grown by someone other than the farmer are not exempt. Employees of a grower-operator of a sugar cane mill who transport cane from fields to the mill are not exempt where such cane is grown by independent farmers on their land as well as by the mill operator.[42] Employees of a tobacco grower who strip tobacco (i. e. remove the leaves from the stalk) are not exempt when performing this operation on tobacco not grown by their employer. On the other hand, where a farmer rents some space in a warehouse or packing house located off the farm and the farmer's own employees there engage in handling or packing only his own products for market, such operations by the farmer are exempt if performed as an incident to or in conjunction with his farming operations.[43] The fact that a packing shed is conducted by a family partnership, packing products exclusively grown on lands owned and operated by individuals constituting the partnership, does not alter the status of the packing activity.[44] Thus, if in a particular case, an individual farmer is exempt, a family partnership which performs the same operations would also be exempt.

(b) Vining employees of a pea vinery located on a farm, who vine only the peas grown on that particular farm, are exempt. If they also vine peas grown on other farms, the exemption does not apply unless the farmer-employer owns or operates the other farms and vines his own peas exclusively. However, the work of vining station employees in weeks in which the stations vine only peas grown by a canner on farms owned or leased by him is considered part of the canning operations. As such, the cannery operations, including the vining operations, are exempt only if the canner cans crops which he grows himself and if the canning operations are subordinate to the farming operations.

(c) So long as the farming operations to which a farmer's practice pertains are performed by him in his capacity as a farmer, the exempt status of the practice is not necessarily altered by the fact that the farming operations take place on more than one farm or by the fact that some of the operations are performed off his farm. Thus, where the practice is performed with respect to products of farming operations, the controlling consideration is whether the products were produced by the farming operations of the farmer who performs the practice rather than at what place or on whose land he produced them. Ordinarily, a practice performed by a farmer in connection with farming operations conducted on land which he owns or leases will be considered as performed in connection with the farming operations of such farmer in the absence of facts indicating that the farming operations are actually those of someone else. Conversely, a contrary conclusion will ordinarily be justified if such farmer is not the owner or a bona fide lessee of such land during the period when the farming operations take place. The question of whose farming operations are actually being conducted in cases where they are performed pursuant to an agreement or arrangement, not amounting to a bona fide lease, between the farmer who performs the practice and the landowner necessarily involves a careful scrutiny of the facts and circumstances surrounding the arrangement.

§ 780.18 Operations on the farm where the practices are performed. (a) "Practices * * * performed * * * on a farm" must be performed as an incident to or in conjunction with "such farming operations" in order to constitute "agriculture" within the secondary meaning of the term. Practices performed on a farm in connection with nonfarming operations performed on or off such farm do not meet this requirement. For example, if a farmer operates a gravel pit on his farm, none of the practices performed in connection with the operation of such gravel pit would be exempt. Nor is the requirement met with respect to employees engaged in any practices performed on a farm, but not by a farmer, in connection with farming operations that are not conducted on that particular farm. The fact that such a practice pertains to farming operations generally or to those performed on a number of farms rather than to those performed on the same farm only is sufficient to take it outside the scope of the statutory language. Area soil surveys and genetics research activities, results of which are made available to a number of farmers, are typical of the practices to which this principle applies.

[38] The legislative history of the Act supports this interpretation. Statutes usually exempt farmers' cooperative associations in express terms if an exemption is intended. The omission of an express exemption from the Fair Labor Standards Act is significant since many unsuccessful attempts were made on the floor of Congress to secure special treatment for such cooperatives.

[43] Such arrangements are distinguished from those where the employees are not actually employed by the farmer.

[44] Dofflemeyer v. NLRB, 206 F. 2d 813.

(b) In the case of some practices, their connection with farming operations conducted on the farm where they are performed must be determined with reference to the purpose of the farmer for whom the practice is performed. Thus, land clearing operations may or may not be connected with such farming operations depending on whether the farmer intends to devote the cleared land to farm use. The construction by an independent contractor of a granary on a farm is not connected with such farming operations if the farmer for whom it is built intends to use the structure for storing grain produced on other farms.

(c) No practice performed with respect to farm commodities is within the language under discussion by reason of its performance on a farm unless all of such commodities are the products of that farm. Thus, the performance on a farm of any practice, such as packing or storing, which may be incidental to farming operations cannot constitute a basis for exempting employees engaged in such practice if the practice is performed upon any commodities that have been produced elsewhere than on such farm.

(d) The fact that a practice, which is performed on a farm by an employer other than the farmer who operates such farm, is not performed for the farmer is a strong indication that it is not performed in connection with the farming operations there conducted. Thus, if such an employer performs it solely for himself in furtherance of his own enterprise, the practice cannot ordinarily be regarded as performed in connection with farming operations conducted on the farm. For example, it is clear that the work of employees of a utility company in trimming and cutting trees for power and communication lines is part of a non-farming enterprise outside the exemption. When a packer of vegetables or dehydrator of alfalfa buys the standing crop from the farmer, harvests it with his own crew of employees, and transports the harvested crop to his off-the-farm packing or dehydrating plant, the transporting and plant employees are clearly not exempt.[45] Such an employer cannot automatically gain the exemption for the plant employees by merely transferring the operations to the farm so as to meet the "on a farm" requirement. They will continue outside the exemption if the packing or dehydrating is not in reality done for the farmer. The question of for whom the practices are performed is one of fact. In determining the question, however, the fact that prior to the performance of the packing or dehydrating operations, the farmer has relinquished title and divested himself of further responsibility with respect to the product, is highly significant.

§ 780.19 Performance "as an incident to or in conjunction with" farming operations. (a) In order for practices other than actual farming operations to constitute "agriculture" within the meaning of section 3 (f) of the act, it is not enough that they be performed by a farmer or on a farm in connection with the farming operations conducted by such farmer or on such farm.[46] They must also be performed "as an incident to or in conjunction with" the farming operations. The line between practices that are and those that are not performed as an incident to or in conjunction with farming operations is not susceptible of precise definition. Generally, a practice performed in connection with farming operations is within the statutory language only if it constitutes an established part of agriculture, is subordinate to the farming operations involved, and does not amount to an independent enterprise.[47] The factors to be considered, among others, in determining whether a practice may properly be regarded as incidental to or in conjunction with farming operations are the size of the operations and respective sums invested in land, buildings and equipment for the regular farming operations and in plant and equipment for performance of the practice, the amount of the payroll for each type of work, the number of employees and the amount of time they spend in each of the activities, the extent to which the practice is performed by ordinary farm employees and the amount of interchange of employees between the operations, the amount of revenue derived from each activity, the degree of industrialization involved, the degree of separation established between the activities, and what is ordinarily done by farmers with regard to the practice.[48] With respect to practices performed on farm products, it is also necessary to consider the type of product resulting from the practice—as whether the raw or natural state of the commodity has been changed.[49] Consideration should also be given to the value added to the product as a result of the practice and whether a sales organization is maintained for the disposal of the product.

(b) With respect to the practice of transporting farm products from farms to a processing establishment by employees of a person who owns both the farms and the establishment, such practice may or may not be incident to or in conjunction with the employer's farming operations depending on all the pertinent facts. The transportation is clearly incidental to milling operations rather than to farming where the employees engaged in it are hired by the mill, carried on its payroll, do no agricultural work on the farms, and report for and end their daily duties at the mill where the transportation vehicles are kept.[50]

(c) On the other hand, a different result is reached where the facts show that the transportation workers are farm employees whose work is closely integrated with harvesting and other direct farming operations. The method by which the transportation is accomplished is not material.[50]

(d) The character of a practice as a part of the agricultural activity or as a distinct business activity must be determined by examination and evaluation of all the relevant facts and circumstances. The result will not depend on any mechanical application of isolated factors or tests. Rather, the total situation will control. For example, seasonality of canning operations would not be very helpful as a test to distinguish between operations incident to agriculture and operations of commercial canners who handle a similar volume of the same seasonal crop. But the length of the canning period might cast some light on whether the operations are conducted as a part of agriculture or as a separate undertaking when considered together with the amount of investment, payroll, and other factors. Whether the practice was included or omitted from section 13 (a) (10) of the act is also considered a significant factor in resolving the problem.[51] In some cases, the fact that canned goods are sold under the canner's own label rather than under that of the purchaser may furnish an indication that the canning is conducted as a separate business activity rather than as a part of agriculture.

(e) The following are examples of practices which will normally qualify for exemption when done on a farm, whether done by a farmer or by a contractor for the farmer: The operation of a cook camp for the sole purpose of feeding persons engaged exclusively in agriculture on that farm; artificial insemination; custom corn shelling and grinding of feed; the packing of apples by portable packing machines which are moved from farm to farm packing only apples grown on the particular farm where the packing is being performed; the culling, catching, cooping, and loading of poultry; the threshing of wheat; the shearing of sheep; the gathering and baling of straw. When on-the-farm practices are performed for a farmer, they are tested as though performed by the farmer himself in that no practice which would amount to a principal undertaking when performed by him can be incident to or in conjunction with his farming operations when performed for him by someone else.[52]

§ 780.20 Named and other included practices—(a) General statement. Section 3 (f) of the act names certain specific practices which come within the secondary meaning of agriculture if performed by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations. The broad language of the definition clearly includes all practices thus performed and not merely those named.

(b) Forestry or lumbering operations. (1) Employment in forestry or lumbering operations is expressly included in agriculture if the operations are performed "by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations". While "agriculture" is sometimes used in a broad sense as including the science and art of cultivating forests, the language quoted in the preceding sentence is a limitation on the forestry and lumbering operations which will be considered agricultural for purposes of section 3 (f). It follows that employees of an employer engaged exclusively in forestry or lumbering operations are not within the agricultural exemption.

(2) The term "forestry or lumbering operations" refers to the cultivation and management of forests, the felling and trimming of timber, the cutting, hauling, and transportation of timber, logs, pulpwood, cordwood, lumber, and like products, the sawing of logs into lumber or the conversion of logs into ties, posts, and similar products, and similar operations. It also includes the piling, stacking, and storing of all such products. The gathering of wild plants and of wild or planted Christmas trees are included.[53] "Wood working" as such is not included. The manufacture of charcoal under modern methods is neither a "forestry" nor "lumbering" operation and cannot be regarded as "agriculture".

(3) While section 3 (f) speaks of practices performed "in conjunction with" as well as "incident to" farming operations, it would be an unreasonable construction of the act to hold that all practices were to be regarded as agricultural if the person performing the practice did any farming, no matter how little, or resorted to tilling a small acreage for the purpose of qualifying for exemption.[54] To illustrate, where an employer owns several thousand acres of timberland on which he carries on lumbering operations and cultivates about 100 acres of farm land which are contiguous to such timberland, he would not be entitled to the benefit of the exemption so far as his forestry or lumbering operations are concerned. In such case, the forestry or lumbering operations would clearly not be subordinate to the farming operations but rather the principal or a separate business of the "farmer".

(4) Logging or sawmill operations on a farm undertaken on behalf of the farmer or on behalf of the buyer of the logs or the resulting lumber by a contract logger or sawmill owner are not within the exemption, unless it can be shown that these logging or sawmill operations are clearly incidental to farming operations on the farm on which the logging or sawmill operations are being conducted. For example, the clearing of additional land for cultivation by the farmer or the preparation of timber for construction of his farm buildings would appear to constitute operations incidental to "such farming operations".

(5) The fact that the employer employs fewer than a certain number of employees in forestry and lumbering operations does not provide a basis for their exemption as agricultural employees. This exemption is thus to be distinguished from the exemption provided by section 13 (a) (15) (discussed in Part 788 of this chapter) which is limited to employers employing not more than 12 employees in the forestry or logging operations described therein.

(c) Preparation for market. "Preparation for market" is also named as one of the practices which may be included in "agriculture". The term includes the operations normally performed upon farm commodities to prepare them for the farmer's market. The farmer's market normally means the wholesaler, processor, or distributing agency to which the farmer delivers his products. "Preparation for market" clearly has reference to activities which precede "delivery to market". It is not, however, synonymous with "preparation for sale". The term must be treated differently with respect to various commodities. It is emphasized that "preparation for market", like other practices, must be performed "by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations" in order to be exempt. Subject to the rules heretofore discussed, the following activities are, among others, within the exemption:

(1) Grain, seed, and forage crops. Weighing, binning, stacking, drying, cleaning, grading, shelling, sorting, packing, and storing.

(2) Fruits and vegetables. Assembling, ripening, cleaning, grading, sorting, drying, preserving, packing,[55] and storing.

(3) Peanuts and nuts (pecans, walnuts, etc.). Grading, cracking, shelling, cleaning, sorting, packing, and storing.

(4) Eggs. Handling, cooling, grading, candling, and packing.

(5) Wool. Grading and packing.

(6) Dairy products. Separating, cooling, packing, and storing.

(7) Cotton. Weighing, ginning, and storing cotton; hulling, delinting, cleaning, sacking, and storing cottonseed.

(8) Nursery stock. Handling, sorting, grading, trimming, bundling, storing, wrapping, and packaging.[56]

(9) Tobacco. Handling, grading, drying, stripping from stalk, tying, sorting, storing, and loading.

(10) Livestock. Handling and loading.

(11) Poultry. Culling, grading, cooping, and loading.

(12) Honey. Assembling, extracting, heating, ripening, straining, cleaning, grading, weighing, blending, packing, and storing.

(13) Fur. Removing the pelt, scraping, drying, putting on boards, and packing.

(d) Delivery to storage. The term "delivery to storage" includes taking agricultural or horticultural commodities, dairy products, livestock, bees or their honey, fur-bearing animals or their pelts, or poultry to the places where they are to be stored or held pending preparation for or delivery to market. The fact that the commodities have been subjected to some other practice "by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations" does not preclude application of the exemption to "delivery to storage". The same is true with respect to "delivery to market" and "delivery to carriers for transportation to market."

(e) *Delivery * * * to market.* The term "delivery * * * to market" includes taking agricultural or horticultural commodities, dairy products, livestock, bees or their honey, fur-bearing animals or their pelts, or poultry to market. It ordinarily refers to the initial journey of the farmer's products from the farm to the market. The market referred to is the farmer's market which normally means the distributing agency, cooperative marketing agency, wholesaler, or processor to which the farmer delivers his products. When it involves travel off the farm (which would normally be the case) the delivery must be performed by the farmer in order to constitute an exempt practice. Delivery by an independent contractor for the farmer or a group of farmers is not an exempt agricultural practice.

[48] In explaining the inclusion of this test, the United States Supreme Court said that "while the word 'ordinarily' appeared in an earlier version of the exemption and was subsequently stricken, the inquiry is nonetheless a pertinent one". Maneja v. Waialua Agricultural Co., 349 U. S. 254. Such an inquiry would appear to have a direct bearing on whether a practice is an "established" part of agriculture. See also Mitchell v. Budd, (March 26, 1956) 24 Law Week 4144; 12 WH Cases 805, where the United States Supreme Court found that the following two factors tipped the scales so as to take the employees of tobacco bulking plants outside the scope of the agriculture exemption: Tobacco farmers do not ordinarily perform the bulking operation; the bulking operation is a process which changes tobacco leaf in many ways and turns it into an industrial product.

[50] See Maneja v. Waialua Agricultural Co., 349 U. S. 254, where the United States Supreme Court distinguished Waialua's transportation employees from the transportation employees considered by the First Circuit Court of Appeals in the Bowie and Calaf cases.

[51] This was considered highly significant by the United States Supreme Court in deciding that sugar milling is not within section 13 (a) (6) of the act. The Court cited the legislative history of section 13 (a) (10) to show that it was intended to equalize the position of the small farmer who did not have his own processing facilities with that of the large farmer who did, by providing an exemption for independent processors who processed the crop of small farmers. It concluded that "Congress would not have omitted sugar milling from the 'area of production' exemption if it had not concluded that it also fell outside the agricultural exemption". Maneja v. Waialua Agricultural Co., 349 U. S. 254.

(f) *Delivery * * * to carriers for transportation to market.* The term "delivery * * * to carriers for transportation to market" includes taking agricultural or horticultural commodities, dairy products, livestock, bees or their honey, fur-bearing animals or their pelts, and poultry to any carrier (including carriers by truck, rail, water, etc.) for transportation by such carrier to market. The market referred to is the farmer's market which normally means the distributing agency, cooperative marketing agency, wholesaler, or processor to which the farmer delivers his products. As in the case of "delivery to market", when it involves travel off the farm (as would normally be the case) the delivery must be performed by the farmer in order to constitute an exempt practice.

(g) Other practices. As has been noted above, the term "agriculture" includes other practices performed by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with the farming operations conducted by such farmer or on such farm in addition to the practices listed in section 3 (f). The selling (including selling at roadside stands or by mail order and house to house selling) by a farmer and his employees of his agricultural commodities, dairy products, etc., is such a practice provided it does not amount to a separate enterprise. Another is the transportation to the farm by the farmer of materials and supplies for use in his farming operations, such as seed, animal or poultry feed, farm machinery or equipment, etc. Thus, truck drivers employed by a farmer to haul feed to the farm for feeding pigs are engaged in "agriculture". Other such practices are office work and maintenance and protective work. The exemption applies, for example, to secretaries, clerks, bookkeepers, night watchmen, maintenance workers, engineers, and others who are employed by a farmer or on a farm if their work is part of the agricultural activity and is subordinate to the farming operations of such farmer or on such farm.[57] It must be emphasized with respect to all practices performed on products for which exemption is claimed that they must be performed only on the products produced or raised by the particular farmer or on the particular farm.[58] If exempt at all, practices on farm products which fail to qualify under section 13 (a) (6) must qualify under section 13 (a) (10) or other exemptions for certain operations and practices on farm commodities.

§ 780.21 Employees employed in irrigation activities under section 13 (a) (6)—(a) General statement. (1) In addition to exempting employees employed in agriculture, section 13 (a) (6) also exempts from the wage and hour provisions of the act "any employee employed * * * in connection with the operation or maintenance of ditches, canals, reservoirs, or waterways, not owned or operated for profit, or operated on a share-crop basis, and which are used exclusively for supply and storing of water for agricultural purposes".

(2) It should be noted at the outset that this exemption applies only to the minimum wage and overtime provisions of the act and does not affect the child labor, record-keeping and other requirements of the act.

(3) This exemption was added by an amendment to section 13 (a) (6) in 1949 to alter the effect of the decision of the United States Supreme Court in Farmers Reservoir & Irrigation Company v. McComb, 337 U. S. 755, so as to exclude the type of employees involved in that case from certain requirements of the act. Congress chose to accomplish this result, not by expanding the definition of agriculture in section 3 (f), but by adding a further exemption. In view of this approach, it can well be said that Congress agreed with the Supreme Court's holding that such workers are not employed in agriculture, but nevertheless wished to exclude them from the minimum wage and overtime requirements of the act.

(b) Meaning and scope of exemption language. (a) The employer is paid on a share-crop basis when he receives, as his total compensation, a share of the crop of the farmers serviced.

(b) The fact that a small amount of the water furnished for use in his farming operations is in fact used for incidental domestic purposes by the farmer on the farm does not require the conclusion that the water supplied was not exclusively "for agricultural purposes" within the meaning of the irrigation exemption in section 13 (a) (6). Accordingly, if otherwise applicable, the exemption is not defeated merely because the water stored and supplied through the ditches, canals, reservoirs, or waterways of the irrigation company includes a small amount which is used for domestic purposes on the farms to which it is supplied. On the other hand, if the water company should maintain separate facilities for storing and supplying water for domestic use, it is clear that employees employed in connection with the maintenance or operation of such facilities would not be employed in activities to which the exemption applies. Similarly, if the water company supplied water for other than "agricultural purposes," the exemption would not apply. For example, the exemption would not apply where a portion of its water is delivered by the company to a municipality to be used for general, domestic and commercial purposes. Water used for watering livestock raised by a farmer is "for agricultural purposes."

(c) The exemption may apply to employees engaged in insect, rodent, and weed control along the canals and waterways of the irrigation company.

§ 780.22. Nurseries and landscaping activities. (a) The employees of a nursery who are engaged in the following activities are employed in "agriculture":

(1) Sowing seeds and otherwise propagating fruit, nut, shade, vegetable and ornamental plants or trees (but not Christmas trees), and shrubs, vines and flowers;

(2) Handling such plants from propagating frames to the field;

(3) Planting, cultivating, watering, spraying, fertilizing, pruning, bracing, and feeding the growing crop.

(b) The planting of trees and bushes is exempt where it constitutes a step in the production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of agricultural or horticultural commodities, or where it constitutes a practice performed by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with farming operations (as where it is part of the subordinate marketing operations of the grower of such trees or bushes). Thus, employees of the nurseryman who raised such nursery stock are doing exempt work when they plant the stock on private or public property, trim, spray, brace and treat the planted stock, or perform other duties incidental to its care and preservation. Similarly, employees who plant fruit trees and berry stock not raised by their employer would qualify for exemption if the planting is done on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with the farming operation on that farm. On the other hand, the planting of trees and bushes on residential, business or public property is not exempt when it is done by employees of an employer who has not grown the trees and bushes, or who, if he has grown them, engages in the planting operations as an incident, not to his farming operations, but to landscaping operations which include principally the laying of sod and the construction of pools, walks, drives, and the like. The mowing of lawns, except where it can be considered incidental to farming operations, is not exempt work.

(c) Nurseries frequently obtain plants growing wild in the woods or fields which are to be further cultivated by the nursery before they are sold by it. Obtaining such plants is a practice which is incidental to farming operations. It is therefore exempt if performed by a farmer or on a farm. Thus, if performed by employees of the nursery, it is exempt. On the other hand, if performed off the farm by employees of an independent contractor, it is not exempt. The transplanting of such wild plants in the nursery is performed "on a farm" and is exempt whether performed by employees of an independent contractor or by employees of the nursery.

(d) Operations in a forest tree nursery such as seeding new beds and growing and transplanting forest seedlings are not farming operations. The planting, tending, and cutting of Christmas trees do not constitute farming operations. If such operations on forest products are within section 3 (f) they must qualify under the second part of the definition dealing with incidental practices.[59]

(e) Employees of a grower of nursery stock who work in packing and storage sheds sorting the stock, grading and trimming it, racking it in bins, and packing it for shipment are employed in "agriculture" provided they handle only products grown by their employer and their activities constitute an established part of their employer's agricultural activities and are subordinate to his farming operations.[60] The same is true of employees engaged in the balling and storing of shrubs and trees grown in the nursery. Where a grower of nursery stock operates, as a separate enterprise, an establishment for the distribution of such commodities at wholesale or retail, or a processing establishment, the employees in such separate enterprise are not exempt.[61] Although the handling and the sale of nursery commodities by the grower at or near the place where they were grown may be incidental to his farm operations, the character of these operations changes when they are performed in an establishment set up as a marketing point to aid in the distribution of those products.

§ 780.23 Hatcheries. (a) As stated in § 780.13 (c) (3), the typical hatchery is engaged in "agriculture", whether in a rural or city location. Where the hatchery is engaged solely in procuring eggs for hatching, performing the hatching operations and selling the chicks, all the employees including office and maintenance workers are exempt.

(b) It is common practice for hatcherymen to enter into arrangements with farmer poultry raisers for the production of hatching eggs which the hatchery agrees to buy. Ordinarily, the farmer furnishes the facilities, feed and labor and the hatchery furnishes the basic stock of poultry. The farmer undertakes a specialized program of care and improvement of the flock in cooperation with the hatchery. The hatchery may at times have a surplus of eggs, including those suitable for hatching and culled eggs, which it sells. Activities performed by the hatchery employees in connection with the disposal of these eggs, such as grading and packing, are an incident to the breeding of poultry by the hatchery and are exempt. The work of hatchery employees in connection with the maintenance of the quality of the poultry flock on farms is also part of the "raising" operations. This includes testing for disease, culling, weighing, cooping, loading, and transporting the culled birds.

(c) In some instances, hatcheries also engage in the produce business as such and commingle with the culled eggs and chickens other eggs and chickens which they buy for resale. Employees are not exempt in any workweek in which their work relates to both the hatchery and produce types of activities.

(d) In some situations, the hatchery also operates a feed store and furnishes feed to the growers. As in the case of the produce business operated by a hatchery, this is not an exempt activity and employees engaged therein, such as truck drivers hauling feed to growers, are not exempt. Office workers and other employees lose the exemption in any workweek in which their duties relate to both exempt and non-exempt activities. The catching and loading of broilers on farms by hatchery employees for transportation to market are exempt operations.

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter V—Department of the Army

Subchapter C—Military Education

PART 543—PROMOTION OF RIFLE PRACTICE COMPETITION IN SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

Section 543.5 is revised to read as follows:

§ 543.5 Rifle and pistol competitions in schools and colleges. (a) General. Educational institutions maintaining units of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) and other schools and colleges conducting military training under the supervision of the Department of the Army will conduct instruction with the rifle and the pistol in accordance with the prescribed programs of training.

(b) Rifle clubs and local matches. (1) ROTC units and the cadet corps of other schools and colleges should form rifle clubs and affiliate with the National Rifle Association of America (NRA) and enter its competitions.

(2) Competitive rifle and pistol matches will be arranged to inspire a wholesome spirit of rivalry between individuals, organizations, units, and institutions. Local matches should be frequent and so organized as to give them the same standing and recognition accorded athletic competitions.

(3) The allowances of ammunition for schools and colleges are prescribed in tables of allowances. Ammunition for matches other than those approved by the Department of the Army will be provided by the institution.

(c) Annual indoor rifle matches—(1) General. (i) A series of indoor smallbore rifle matches will be conducted each year, so far as practicable, among those institutions conducting military training under the supervision of the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force (ROTC and sec. 55c National Defense Act units) which have the proper facilities and where conditions are otherwise favorable. For this purpose the institutions will be grouped as follows:

(a) Units in universities, colleges, and junior colleges.

(b) Units in essentially military schools (high-school-level students only).

(c) Units in high schools not in the category of (b) of this subdivision.

(ii) For the purpose of this competition, units (Army, Navy, and Air Force) in the Military District of Washington will compete with like units of the Second Army; units (Army, Navy, and Air Force) located in the Territory of Hawaii and in Alaska will compete with like units of the Sixth Army; and the units of Panama and of the University of Puerto Rico will compete with like units of the Third Army.

(2) Intramural and intermural matches. From October 1 to December 31, annually, the institutions will conduct intramural matches to determine the relative standing of individual students, organizations, units, other groups, etc., as the officer-in-charge may deem advisable. The regulations for the matches, the awarding of prizes, etc., will be arranged by the officer-in-charge. Approximately the first two-thirds of the period should be devoted to individual instruction and competitions and the last one-third to team matches. From December 1 to March 1, annually, institutions will be encouraged to fire separate matches with other institutions under such conditions as may be agreed upon.

(3) Other matches. During the period in which the national intercollegiate matches are being held, institutions will be encouraged to fire separate matches with institutions in other sections of the country.

(d) Annual outdoor matches. Outdoor rifle and pistol firing will be conducted at favorable seasons of the year, so far as may be practicable. Army commanders will arrange matches for those institutions having suitable range facilities. Institutions will be encouraged to place such competitions on a par with other athletic competitions and develop individuals for membership in Army area teams selected to compete in the National Matches.

(e) Approved competitions. The Department of the Army has approved and encourages participation in the following annual events by eligible students enrolled in the ROTC, and section 55c National Defense Act school units:

(1) Army Area ROTC Intercollegiate and Interscholastic Indoor Smallbore Rifle Matches.

(2) National ROTC Intercollegiate and Interscholastic Matches.

(3) William Randolph Hearst Army ROTC Rifle Competition.

(4) William Randolph Hearst National Defense Trophy Match.

(5) Warrior of the Pacific Team Competition.

(6) Society of American Military Engineers Rifle Competition.

Chapter XIV—The Renegotiation Board

Subchapter B—Renegotiation Board Regulations Under the 1951 Act

PART 1453—MANDATORY EXEMPTIONS FROM RENEGOTIATION

EXEMPTION OF COMMON CARRIERS BY WATER

Paragraph (d) Common carriers by water of § 1453.3 is amended by deleting paragraph (d) in its entirety and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(d) Common carriers by water—(1) Fiscal years ending before December 31, 1953. With respect to fiscal years ending before December 31, 1953, a contract with a common carrier for transportation by water is exempt only if the sale or furnishing of such transportation is subject to the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission under Part III of the Interstate Commerce Act or subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Maritime Board under the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933. Rates for passenger or cargo transportation to foreign ports are not fixed by these agencies under the statutes referred to in the last sentence of section 106 (a) (4) of the act, and thus contracts for such transportation are not within the exemption.

(2) Fiscal years ending on or after December 31, 1953. (i) With respect to fiscal years ending on or after December 31, 1953, a contract with a common carrier for transportation by water is exempt if it meets the conditions set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph or if the Board finds that the regulatory aspects of rates for the sale or furnishing of such transportation, or the type and nature of the contract for such furnishing or sale, are such as to indicate, in the opinion of the Board, that excessive profits are improbable. Pursuant to the foregoing authority, the Board has exempted from the provisions of the act, to the extent of amounts received or accrued before January 1, 1956, in any fiscal year ending on or after December 31, 1953:

(a) All prime contracts for transportation by common carrier by water at, or at rates below, rates or charges filed with, fixed, approved or regulated by the Federal Maritime Board.

(b) All prime contracts with the Military Sea Transportation Service for transportation of cargo at rates or charges based upon the manifest measurement or manifest weight of the cargo.

(ii) This exemption does not apply to time, voyage or bareboat charters.

(3) Exemption of individual prime contracts. The Board will exempt any individual prime contract with a common carrier for transportation by water when the Board finds, upon application of the contractor, that the regulatory aspects of rates for the sale or furnishing of such transportation, or the type and nature of the contract for such furnishing or sale, are such as to indicate, in the opinion of the Board, that excessive profits are improbable. Any application for such a finding shall be filed with the Board not later than the date when the contractor files the financial statement prescribed in section 105 (e) (1) of the act (see § 1470.3 (a) of this subchapter) for the fiscal year in which the contractor received or accrued the amounts with respect to which the exemption is claimed. In any financial statement so filed, receipts or accruals under any contract with respect to which the Board is requested to make such a finding shall be included initially in computing the aggregate renegotiable receipts or accruals of the contractor for the fiscal year to which such statement relates.

(Sec. 109, 65 Stat. 22; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1219)

Dated: April 30, 1956.

THOMAS COGGESHALL,
Chairman.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter I—Office of Defense Mobilization

[ODM Reg. 3]

ODM REG. 3—PRESERVATION OF WAGE AND SALARY RECORDS UNDER DEFENSE PRODUCTION ACT

By virtue of the authority vested in me pursuant to Executive Order 10494, dated October 14, 1953, and Office of Defense Mobilization General Administrative Order I–2 (Revised), and in accordance with the provisions of section 705 (a) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. Any record relating to compliance with wage and salary regulations issued by the Wage Stabilization Board, the Salary Stabilization Board, the Railroad and Airline Wage Board, and the Construction Industry Stabilization Commission under Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, need not be preserved after April 30, 1955, or an earlier date when previously specified by general regulation.

SEC. 2. This shall not apply to records required to be kept by persons currently in litigation or who are still under investigation for violation of stabilization regulations.

SEC. 3. This order shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Statement of consideration. Under section 705 (a) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, the President is authorized to require the keeping of relevant records for two years after the expiration of that act. In General Overriding Regulation 44, as amended on March 12, 1953, the Office of Price Stabilization established April 30, 1953, as the final cut-off date for the preservation of price control records. With respect to records required to be kept dealing with wages and salaries, the agencies involved established various cut-off dates in different regulations for the maintenance of such records.

It is the judgment of the Office of Defense Mobilization that the cut-off date employed by the Office of Price Stabilization in General Overriding Regulation 44, as amended, also is appropriate with respect to wage and salary regulations issued during the Korean emergency. This does not apply, of course, with respect to records kept by those few employers in litigation or who are still under investigation for violations during that period.

(Sec. 705, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. 2155. E. O. 10494, 18 F. R. 6585, 3 CFR, 1953 Supp.)

OFFICE OF DEFENSE MOBILIZATION,
CHARLES H. KENDALL,
Assistant Director.

O. 10352, 17 F. R. 4607, 3 CFR, 1952 Supp. Interpret or apply: R. S. 4517, as amended, 4518, as amended, sec. 19, 23 Stat. 58, as amended, sec. 2, 23 Stat. 118, as amended, sec. 7, 49 Stat. 1936, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 570, 571, 572, 2, 689.

§ 125.01 Commandant. The term "Commandant" means Commandant of the Coast Guard.

§ 125.03 District Commander. The term "District Commander" means the officer of the Coast Guard designated by the Commandant to command a Coast Guard District.

§ 125.05 Captain of the Port. The term "Captain of the Port" means the officer of the Coast Guard, under the command of a District Commander, so designated by the Commandant for the purpose of giving immediate direction to Coast Guard law enforcement activities within the general proximity of the port in which he is situated.

§ 125.07 Waterfront facility. The term "waterfront facility," as used in this subchapter, means all piers, wharves, docks, and similar structures to which vessels may be secured, buildings on such structures or contiguous to them, and equipment and materials on such structures or in such buildings.

§ 125.09 Identification credentials. The term "Identification credentials," as used in this subchapter, means any of the following:

(a) Coast Guard Port Security Card (Form CG 2514).

(b) Merchant Mariner's Document bearing special validation endorsement for emergency service.

(c) Armed Forces Identification Card.

(d) Identification credentials issued by Federal Law enforcement and intelligence agencies to their officers and employees (e. g., Department of the Treasury, Department of Justice, Federal Communications Commission).

(e) Identification credentials issued to public safety officials (e. g., police, firemen) when acting within the scope of their employment.

(f) Such other identification as may be approved by the Commandant from time to time.

§ 125.11 Form of Coast Guard Port Security Card. The Coast Guard Port Security Card issued by the Coast Guard under the provisions of this subchapter shall be a laminated card bearing photograph, signature, fingerprint, and personal description of the holder, and other pertinent data.

§ 125.13 Captain of the Port Identification Cards. Captain of the Port Identification Cards issued under the form designation "Form CG 2514" prior to the revision of August 1950 were declared invalid by a notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 11, 1946 (11 F. R. 10103), which declaration is hereby reaffirmed.

§ 125.15 Access to waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein. (a) The Commandant will, from time to time, direct Captains of the Port of certain ports to prevent access of persons who do not possess one or more of the identification credentials listed in § 125.09 to those waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, where the following shipping activities are conducted:

(1) Those vital to the Military Defense Assistance Program.

(2) Those pertaining to the support of U. S. military operations.

(3) Those pertaining to loading and unloading explosives and other dangerous cargo.

(b) No person who does not possess one of the identification credentials aforesaid shall enter or remain in such facilities, or port or harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein.

(c) The Captain of the port shall give local public notice of the restriction of access to waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, as far in advance as practicable, and shall cause such facilities and areas to be suitably marked as to such restriction.

§ 125.17 Persons eligible for Coast Guard Port Security Cards. Only the following persons may be issued Coast Guard Port Security Cards:

(a) Persons regularly employed on vessels or on waterfront facilities.

(b) Persons having regular public or private business connected with the operation, maintenance, or administration of vessels, their cargoes, or waterfront facilities.

§ 125.19 Standards. Information concerning an applicant for a Coast Guard Port Security Card, or a holder of such card, which may preclude a determination that his character and habits of life are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, shall relate to the following:

(a) Advocacy of the overthrow or alteration of the Government of the United States by unconstitutional means.

(b) Commission of, or attempts or preparations to commit, an act of espionage, sabotage, sedition or treason, or conspiring with, or aiding or abetting another to commit such an act.

(c) Performing, or attempting to perform, duties or otherwise acting so as to serve the interests of another government to the detriment of the United States.

(d) Deliberate unauthorized disclosure of classified defense information.

(e) Membership in, or affiliation or sympathetic association with, any foreign or domestic organization, association, movement, group, or combination of persons designated by the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450, as amended.

(f) Having been adjudged insane, having been legally committed to an insane asylum, or treated for serious mental or neurological disorder, without evidence of cure.

(g) Having been convicted of any of the following offenses, indicative of a criminal tendency potentially dangerous to the security of such waterfront facilities and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein; arson, unlawful trafficking in drugs, espionage, sabotage, or treason.

(h) Drunkenness on the job or addiction to the use of narcotic drugs, without adequate evidence of rehabilitation.

(i) Illegal presence in the United States, its territories or possessions; having been found finally subject to deportation order by the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service.

§ 125.21 Applications. (a) Applications for a Coast Guard Port Security Card shall be made under oath upon a form prescribed by the Commandant.

(b) In addition to the information required by the form prescribed by the Commandant, the form shall require applicant's complete identification, citizenship record, personal description, military record, if any, and a statement of the applicant's sponsor certifying the applicant's employment or union membership and that applicant's statements are true and correct to the best of sponsor's knowledge.

(c) The application shall be accompanied by two unmounted, dull finish photographs, 1 inch x 1 5/16 inches, of passport type, taken within one year of the date of application. The photograph shall show the full face with the head uncovered and shall be a clear and satisfactory likeness of the applicant. It shall portray the largest image of the head and upper shoulders possible within the dimensions specified.

(d) Fingerprint records on each applicant shall be taken by the Coast Guard at the time application is submitted.

(e) The applicant shall present satisfactory proof of his citizenship.

(f) The applicant shall indicate the address to which his Coast Guard Port Security Card can be delivered to him by mail. Under special circumstances the applicant may arrange to call in person for the Coast Guard Port Security Card.

(g) The applicant shall present his application, in person, to a Coast Guard Port Security Unit designated to receive such applications. Such units will be located in or near each port where Coast Guard Port Security Cards are required. Each Captain of the Port shall forward promptly to the Commandant each application for a Coast Guard Port Security Card received by him.

§ 125.23 United States citizens. Acceptable evidence of United States citizenship is described in this section in the order of its desirability; however, the Coast Guard will reject any evidence not believed to be authentic;

(a) Birth certificate or certified copy thereof.

(b) Certificate of naturalization. This shall be presented by all persons claiming citizenship through naturalization.

(c) Baptismal certificate or parish record recorded within one year after birth.

(d) Statement of a practicing physician certifying that he attended the birth and that he has a record in his possession showing the date and place of birth.

(e) United States passport.

(f) A commission in one of the armed forces of the United States, either regular or reserve; or satisfactory documentary evidence of having been commissioned in one of the armed forces subsequent to January 1, 1936, provided such commission or evidence shows the holder to be a citizen.

(g) A continuous discharge book, or Merchant Mariner's Document issued by the Coast Guard which shows the holder to be a citizen of the United States.

(h) If an applicant claiming to be a citizen of the United States submits a delayed certificate of birth issued under a State's seal, it may be accepted as prima facie evidence of citizenship if no one of the requirements in paragraphs (a) to (g) of this section can be met by the applicant and in the absence of any collateral facts indicating fraud in its procurement.

(i) If no one of the requirements in paragraphs (a) to (h) of this section can be met by the applicant, he should make a statement to that effect, and in an attempt to establish citizenship, he may submit for consideration data of the following character:

(1) Report of the Census Bureau showing the earliest record of age or birth available. Request for such information should be addressed to the Director of the Census, Washington 25, D. C. In making such request, definite information must be furnished the Census Bureau as to the place of residence when the first census was taken after the birth of the applicant, giving the name of the street and the number of the house, or other identification of place where living, etc.; also names of parents or the names of other persons with whom residing on the date specified.

(2) School records, immigration records, or insurance policies (the latter must be at least 10 years old).

§ 125.25 Aliens. Alien registration records together with other papers and documents which indicate the country of which the applicant is a citizen shall be accepted as evidence of citizenship in a foreign nation.

§ 125.27 Sponsorship of applicant. Applications for a Coast Guard Port Security Card shall not be accepted unless sponsored. The applicant shall be sponsored by an authorized official of applicant's employer or by an authorized official of applicant's labor union. Each company and each labor union concerned shall file with the appropriate Captain of the Port a list of officials of the company or union who are authorized to sponsor applicants. Other sponsorship may be accepted where the circumstances warrant.

§ 125.29 Insufficient information. (a) If an application received by the Commandant does not contain replies sufficiently complete in his judgment for a determination whether the character and habits of life of the applicant are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, the Commandant, in an effort to avoid additional proceedings through credible explanation or to confine further inquiry to matters tending to prove or disprove unfavorable information, shall notify the applicant to submit under oath in writing or orally such further information as may be required for such determination.

(b) Upon receipt of a complete application and such further information as the Commandant may have required in those cases where the application as first submitted, was not deemed sufficient, a committee composed of a representative of the Legal Division, of the Merchant Vessel Personnel Division, and of the Intelligence Division, Coast Guard Headquarters, shall prepare an analysis of the information available to the Commandant and make recommendations for action by the Commandant.

§ 125.31 Approval of applicant by Commandant. (a) If the Commandant is satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant are not such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would be inimical to the security of the United States, he will direct that a Coast Guard Port Security Card be issued to the applicant.

(b) If the Commandant is not satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, he will notify the applicant in writing as provided for in § 125.35.

§ 125.33 Holders of Coast Guard Port Security Card. (a) Whenever the Commandant is not satisfied that the character and habits of life of a holder of a Coast Guard Port Security Card are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, he will request from the holder under the procedures provided for in § 125.29 (a), replies under oath to such questions as he deems necessary to reach a determination on this issue.

(b) If the holder does not submit complete replies within 30 days after receipt of the request, the Commandant shall revoke and require the surrender of his Coast Guard Port Security Card.

(c) Upon receipt of complete replies and such other information as the Commandant may have required, the procedure prescribed in § 125.29 (b) shall be followed.

(d) If the Commandant is satisfied that the character and habits of life of the holder are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, he shall notify the holder accordingly.

(e) If the Commandant is not satisfied that the character and habits of life of the holder are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, he shall notify the holder in writing as provided for in § 125.35.

§ 125.35 Notice by Commandant. (a) The notice provided for in §§ 125.31 and 125.33 shall contain a statement of the reasons why the Commandant is not satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant or holder are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States. Such notice shall be as specific and detailed as the interests of national security shall permit and shall include pertinent information such as names, dates, and places in such detail as to permit reasonable answer.

(b) The applicant or holder shall have 20 days from the date of receipt of the notice of reasons to file written answer thereto. Such answer may include statements or affidavits by third parties or such other documents or evidence as the applicant or holder deems pertinent to the matters in question.

(c) Upon receipt of such answer the procedure prescribed in § 125.29 (b) shall be followed.

(d) If the Commandant is satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant or holder are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, he shall, in the case of an applicant, direct that a Coast Guard Port Security Card be issued to the applicant, or, in the case of a holder, notify him accordingly.

(e) If the Commandant is not satisfied that the applicant's or holder's character and habits of life are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, the Commandant shall refer the matter to a Hearing Board for hearing and recommendation in accordance with the provisions of this part.

§ 125.37 Hearing Boards. The Commandant may establish a Hearing Board in each Coast Guard District. The Commandant shall designate for each Hearing Board a Chairman, who shall be, so far as practicable, an officer of the Coast Guard. The Commandant shall designate, so far as practicable, a second member from a panel of persons representing labor named by the Secretary of Labor, and a third member from a panel of persons representing management named by the Secretary of Labor.

§ 125.39 Notice by Hearing Board. Whenever the Commandant refers a matter to a Hearing Board, the Chairman shall:

(a) Fix the time and place of the hearing;

(b) Inform the applicant or holder of the names of the members of the Hearing Board, their occupations, and the businesses or organizations with which they are affiliated, of his privilege of challenge, and of the time and place of the hearing;

(c) Inform the applicant or holder of his privilege to appear before the Hearing Board in person or by counsel or representative of his choice, and to present testimonial and documentary evidence in his behalf, and to cross-examine any witnesses appearing before the Board; and

(d) Inform the applicant or holder that if within 10 days after receipt of the notice he does not request an opportunity to appear before the Hearing Board, either in person or by counsel or representative, the Hearing Board will proceed without further notice to him.

§ 125.41 Challenges. Within five days after receipt of the notice described in § 125.39 the applicant or holder may request disqualification of any member of the Hearing Board on the grounds of personal bias or other cause. The request shall be accompanied by an affidavit setting forth in detail the facts alleged to constitute grounds for disqualification. The affidavit may be supplemented by an oral presentation if desired. If after due consideration the Chairman believes a challenged member is qualified notwithstanding the challenge, he shall notify the person who made the challenge and arrange to proceed with the hearing. If the person who made the challenge takes exception to the ruling of the Chairman, the exception and data relating to the claim of disqualification shall be made a matter of record. If the Chairman finds that there is reasonable ground for disqualification he shall furnish the person who made the challenge with the name of an alternate in lieu of the challenged member and arrange to proceed with the hearing. In the event the Chairman is challenged, he shall forthwith notify the Commandant, furnishing the grounds for the claim of disqualification, and the Commandant shall act upon the challenge in accordance with the foregoing procedure. In addition to the right to challenge for cause, a person who has requested a hearing shall have two peremptory challenges, one challenge for the management member and one challenge for the labor member of the Hearing Board. Should the management member be so challenged, the person who made the challenge may elect to have the management member replaced by another management member or by a member not representing either management or labor; if the member peremptorily challenged represents labor, the person who made the challenge may elect to have the labor member replaced by another labor member or by a member not representing either management or labor.

§ 125.43 Hearing procedure. (a) Hearings shall be conducted in an orderly manner and in a serious, business-like atmosphere of dignity and decorum and shall be expedited as much as possible.

(b) The hearing shall be in open or closed session at the option of the applicant or holder.

(c) Testimony before the Hearing Board shall be given under oath or affirmation.

(d) The Chairman of the Hearing Board shall inform the applicant or holder of his right to:

(1) Participate in the hearing;

(2) Be represented by counsel of his choice;

(3) Present witnesses and offer other evidence in his own behalf and in refutation of the reasons set forth in the Notice of the Commandant; and

(4) Cross-examine any witnesses offered in support of such reasons.

(e) Hearings shall be opened by the reading of the Notice of the Commandant and the answer thereto. Any statement and affidavits filed by the applicant or holder may be incorporated in the record by reference.

(f) The Hearing Board may, in its discretion, invite any person to appear at the hearing and testify. However, the Board shall not be bound by the testimony of such witness by reason of having called him and shall have full right to cross-examine the witness. Every effort shall be made to produce material witnesses to testify in support of the reasons set forth in the Notice of the Commandant, in order that such witnesses may be confronted and cross-examined by the applicant or holder.

(g) The applicant or holder may introduce such evidence as may be relevant and pertinent. Rules of evidence shall not be binding on the Hearing Board, but reasonable restrictions may be imposed as to the relevancy, competency and materiality of matters considered. If the applicant or holder is, or may be, handicapped by the non-disclosure to him of confidential sources, or by the failure of witnesses to appear, the Hearing Board shall take the fact into consideration.

(h) The applicant or holder or his counsel or representative shall have the right to control the sequence of witnesses called by him.

(i) The Hearing Board shall give due consideration to documentary evidence developed by investigation, including membership cards, petitions bearing the applicant's or holder's signature, books, treatises or articles written by the applicant or holder and testimony by the applicant or holder before duly constituted authority.

(j) Complete verbatim stenographic transcription shall be made of the hearing by qualified reporters and the transcript shall constitute a permanent part of the record. Upon request, the applicant or holder or his counsel or representative shall be furnished, without cost, a copy of the transcript of the hearing.

(k) The Board shall reach its conclusion and base its determination on information presented at the hearing, together with such other information as may have been developed through investigation and inquiries or made available by the applicant or holder.

(l) If the applicant or holder fails, without good cause shown to the satisfaction of the chairman, to appear personally or to be represented before the Hearing Board, the Board shall proceed with consideration of the matter.

(m) The recommendation of the Hearing Board shall be in writing and shall be signed by all members of the Board. The Board shall forward to the Commandant, with its recommendation, a memorandum of reasons in support thereof. Should any member be in disagreement with the majority a dissent should be noted setting forth the reasons therefor. The recommendation of the Board, together with the complete record of the case, shall be sent to the Commandant as expeditiously as possible.

§ 125.45 Action by Commandant. (a) If, upon receipt of the Board's recommendation, the Commandant is satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant or holder are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, he shall, in the case of an applicant, direct that a Coast Guard Port Security Card be issued to the applicant, or, in the case of a holder, notify him accordingly.

(b) If, upon receipt of the Board's recommendation, the Commandant is not satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant or holder are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, the Commandant shall:

(1) In the case of an applicant, notify him that a Coast Guard Port Security Card will not be issued to the applicant, or,

(2) In the case of a holder, revoke and require the surrender of his Coast Guard Port Security Card.

(c) Such applicant or holder shall be notified of his right, and shall have 20 days from the receipt of such notice within which, to appeal under this part.

§ 125.47 Appeals. (a) The Commandant shall establish at Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington, D. C., an Appeal Board to hear appeals provided for in this part. The Commandant shall designate for the Appeal Board a Chairman, who shall be, so far as practicable, an officer of the Coast Guard. The Commandant shall designate, so far as practicable, a member from a panel of persons representing management nominated by the Secretary of Labor, and a member from a panel of persons representing labor nominated by the Secretary of Labor. The Commandant shall insure that persons designated as Appeal Board members have suitable security clearance. The Chairman of the Appeal Board shall make all arrangements incident to the business of the Appeal Board.

(b) If an applicant or holder appeals to the Appeal Board within 20 days after receipt of notice of his right to appeal under this part, his appeal shall be handled under the same procedure as that specified in § 125.39, and the privilege of challenge may be exercised through the same procedure as that specified in § 125.41.

(c) Appeal Board proceedings shall be conducted in the same manner as that specified in § 125.43.

§ 125.49 Action by Commandant after appeal. (a) If, upon receipt of the Appeal Board's recommendation, the Commandant is satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant or holder are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, he shall, in the case of an applicant, direct that a Coast Guard Port Security Card be issued to the applicant, or in the case of a holder, notify him accordingly.

(b) If, upon receipt of the Appeal Board's recommendation, the Commandant is not satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant or holder are such as to warrant the belief that his presence on waterfront facilities, and port and harbor areas, including vessels and harbor craft therein, would not be inimical to the security of the United States, the Commandant shall notify the applicant or holder that his appeal is denied.

§ 125.51 Replacement of lost Coast Guard Port Security Card. (a) Any person whose Coast Guard Port Security Card has been stolen, lost or destroyed shall report that fact to a Coast Guard Port Security Unit or Captain of the Port as soon thereafter as possible.

(b) A person who has lost a Coast Guard Port Security Card may apply for a replacement card by submitting "An Application for Replacement of Lost Port Security Card" (Form CG 2685A) to a Coast Guard Port Security Unit. A replacement will be issued only after a full explanation of the loss of the Coast Guard Port Security Card is made in writing to the Coast Guard and after a full check is made and authorization is granted by the Commandant.

(c) Any person to whom a Coast Guard Port Security Card has been issued as a replacement for a lost card, shall immediately surrender the original card to the nearest Coast Guard Port Security Unit or Captain of the Port if the original card should be recovered.

§ 125.53 Requirements for credentials; certain vessels operating on navigable waters of the United States (including the Great Lakes and Western Rivers). (a) Every person desiring access to vessels, except public vessels, falling within any of the categories listed below, as a master, person in charge, or member of the crew thereof, shall be required to be in possession of one of the identification credentials listed in § 125.09.

(1) Towing vessels, barges, and lighters operating in the navigable waters of the continental United States (including the Great Lakes and Western Rivers).

(2) Harbor craft, such as water taxis, junk boats, garbage disposal boats, bum boats, supply boats, repair boats, and ship cleaning boats, which in the course of their normal operations service or contact vessels, foreign or domestic, public or merchant, in the navigable waters of the continental United States (including the Great Lakes and Western Rivers).

(b) The term "master, person in charge, or member of the crew" shall be deemed to include any person who serves on board in any capacity concerned with the operation, maintenance, or administration of the vessel or its cargo.

(c) Where the Coast Guard Port Security Card (Form CG 2514) is to be used as the identification required by paragraph (a) of this section, application for such card may be made immediately by the persons concerned. The issuance of the Coast Guard Port Security Card shall be in the form and manner prescribed by § 125.11.

(d) At the discretion of the District Commander any person desiring access to vessels of the categories named in this section, who may be required by the provisions hereof to possess identification credentials, may be furnished a letter signed by the District Commander or the Captain of the Port and this letter shall serve in lieu of a Coast Guard Port Security Card and will authorize such access for a period not to exceed 60 days, and such a letter issued shall be deemed to be satisfactory identification within the meaning of § 125.09. The issuance of the letter shall be subject to the following conditions:

(1) The services of the person are necessary to avoid delay in the operation of the vessel;

(2) The person does not possess one of the identification credentials listed in § 125.09.

(3) The person has filed his application for a Coast Guard Port Security Card or submits his application before the letter is issued; and,

(4) The person has been screened by the District Commander or Captain of the Port and such officer is satisfied concerning the eligibility of the applicant to receive a temporary letter.

§ 125.55 Outstanding Coast Guard Port Security Cards and applications. (a) Coast Guard Port Security Cards will be accepted as valid until cancelled, revoked, or suspended by proper authority.

(b) A person who has filed an application for a Coast Guard Port Security Card and who has not received such a document prior to May 1, 1956, shall submit a new application in accordance with the requirements of this part.

§ 125.57 Applications previously denied. A person who has been denied a Coast Guard Port Security Card before May 1, 1956, may file a new application for such a document in accordance with the requirements of this part.

It is hereby found that compliance with the notice of proposed rule making, public rule making procedures thereon, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act is contrary to the public interest since this revision of 33 CFR Part 125 is to implement more effectively Executive Order 10173, as amended, and in the public interest should be placed in operation as soon as possible. This amendatory regulation shall become effective May 1, 1956.

Dated: April 27, 1956.

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army

PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

GULF OF MEXICO SOUTH OF APALACHEE BAY, FLORIDA

Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U. S. C. 1) and Chapter XIX of the Army Appropriations Act of July 9, 1918 (40 Stat. 892; 33 U. S. C. 3), § 204.111 is hereby prescribed to govern the use and navigation of a danger zone in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico in the vicinity of Apalachee Bay, Florida, comprising an aerial rocket firing range, as follows:

§ 204.111 Gulf of Mexico south of Apalachee Bay, Fla.; Air Force rocket firing range—(a) The danger zone. An area about 45 statute miles wide and 60 statute miles long, approximately parallel to and about 30 miles off the west coast of Florida, south of Apalachee Bay. The area is bounded as follows: Beginning at latitude 29°42'30", longitude 84°40'00"; thence east along latitude 29°42'30" to longitude 84°00'00"; thence southeast to latitude 28°56'00", longitude 83°31'00"; thence southwest to latitude 28°37'00", longitude 84°11'00"; thence northwest to latitude 29°17'30", longitude 84°40'00"; thence northwest to latitude 29°32'00", longitude 85°00'00"; thence northeast along a line three miles off the meanderings of the shore to the point of beginning.

(b) The regulations. (1) The fact that aerial rocket firing will be conducted over the danger zone will be advertised to the public through the usual media for the dissemination of information. Inasmuch as such firing is likely to be conducted during the day or night throughout the year without regard to season, such advertising of firing will be repeated at intervals not exceeding three months and at more frequent intervals when in the opinion of the enforcing agency, repetition is necessary in the interest of public safety.

(2) Prior to the conduct of rocket firing the area will be patrolled by aircraft to insure that no watercraft are within the danger zone and to warn any such watercraft seen in the vicinity that rocket firing is about to take place in the area. Low flight of aircraft across the bow will be used as a signal or warning.

(3) Any such watercraft shall, upon being so warned, immediately leave the area, and, until the conclusion of the firing, shall remain at such a distance that it will be safe from the fallout resulting from such rocket firing.

(4) The regulations in this section shall not deny access to or egress from harbors contiguous to the danger zone in the case of regular passenger or cargo carrying vessels proceeding to or from such harbors. In the case of the presence of any such vessel in the danger zone the officer in charge shall cause the cessation or postponement of fire until the vessel shall have cleared that part of the area in which it might be endangered by the fallout. The vessel shall proceed on its normal course and shall not delay its progress unnecessarily. Masters are requested to avoid the danger zone whenever possible so that interference with firing training may be minimized.

(c) The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commander, Moody Air Force Base, Valdosta, Georgia, and such agencies as he may designate.

T. 13 N., R. 9 W.,
Secs. 27 and 34.

The areas described aggregate 5,600 acres.

6. The lands covered by Public Land Orders No. 494, No. 745, and No. 1011, are grazing lands within Utah Grazing Districts No. 6 and 9. Vegetation consists of grasses and desert shrubs. The lands covered by Public Land Order No. 964 are located in Valencia and McKinley Counties, New Mexico. The topography ranges from rolling to steep hills and the vegetative cover consists of grasses and desert shrubs. The lands covered by Public Land Orders No. 779, No. 825, and No. 911, are located in Montrose County, Colorado, and are valuable for grazing.

7. No application for the restored lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract or any other nonmineral public-land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

8. Subject to any valid existing rights and the requirements of applicable law, the public lands released from withdrawal by this order, are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following; the unsurveyed lands being opened to such applications, selections, and locations as are allowable on unsurveyed lands.

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications for surveyed lands under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284) as amended, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on June 1, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference-right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on August 31, 1956, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs 8 (a) (1) and 8 (a) (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on August 31, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

b. The lands have been open to applications and offers under the mineral-leasing laws. They will be open to location under the United States mining laws beginning at 10:00 a. m. on August 31, 1956.

9. Persons claiming veterans preference rights under paragraph 8 (a) (2) above, must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

10. Initial exploration of the withdrawn lands was in the nature of a preliminary appraisal by widespaced investigative drilling, which, while not conclusive, has led to a determination that more extensive exploration of the areas is not justified. Over large areas no physical exploration at all has been done due to the negative aspect of the preliminary appraisal.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Salt Lake City, Utah, Denver, Colorado, or Santa Fe, New Mexico, depending upon the State where the lands are located.

WESLEY A. D'EWART,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

S. 13° 14′ W. 450.12 feet (6.82 chs.);
N. 68° 23′ W. 2,900.04 feet (44.00 chs.);
North 1,859.88 feet (28.18 chs.);
East 3,186.48 feet (48.27 chs.);
S. 5° 22′ W. 430.98 feet (6.53 chs.);
S. 22° 48′ E. 413.82 feet (6.27 chs.) to the point of beginning.

The area described contains 155.51 acres.

(b) For use of the United States Coast Guard in connection with the operation and maintenance of a loran transmitting station:

Beginning at a point on the west shore of Rocky Cove from which M. C. No. 4, U. S. Survey No. 406 bears N. 13° 14′ E., 450.12 feet and N. 23° 55′ E., 1,090.98 feet, thence

N. 68° 23′ W. 2,900.04 feet (44.00 chs);
North 1,859.88 feet (28.181 chs);
N. 62° 40′ W. 2,099,988 feet (31,818 chs.);
West to line of mean hide tide on west shore of Biorka Island.
Southerly, easterly, and northerly along line of mean high tide of Biorka Island to point of beginning.

The tract described contains 784 acres.

3. The remaining lands aggregating 692.38 acres, which comprise a part of the Tongass National Forest, subject to any valid existing rights and the requirements of applicable law, shall be opened to such applications, selections, and locations as are permitted on national forest lands effective at 10:00 a. m. on June 2, 1956.

The withdrawals made by paragraph 2 of this order shall take precedence over but not otherwise affect the existing withdrawal of the lands for national forest purposes.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 11550; FCC 56-384]

[Rules Amdt. 2-18]

PART 2—FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS AND RADIO TREATY MATTERS; GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

TABLE OF FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS

In the matter of amendment of a portion of the Commission's Table of Frequency Allocations in § 2.104 of its rules covering the frequencies between 9800 and 13225 Mc.

1. At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its Offices in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1956;

2. The Commission having under consideration its proposal in the above entitled matter; and

3. It appearing that in accordance with the requirements of section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, notice of proposed rule making in this matter which made provision for the submission of written comments by interested parties, was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on November 30, 1955 (20 F. R. 8778), and that the period for the filing of comments has now expired; and

4. It further appearing that none of the six respondents in this proceeding objected to the proposed rule amendment; and

5. It further appearing that the American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T) made certain specific recommendations relating to the manner in which the non-Government space under consideration should be utilized and that the National Committee for Utilities Radio made other though less detailed suggestions, and that such recommendations, regardless of their merit, are considered beyond the scope of the present proceeding, which was limited primarily to the matter of readjustment of certain spectrum space as between Government and non-Government radio services, and therefore such comments are considered more appropriate for submission to the Commission at such time as some readjustment in the allocation or suballocation of the non-Government bands among the several non-Government services is undertaken in a subsequent proceeding as indicated in paragraph 6 of the Notice of Proposed Rule Making; and

6. It further appearing that AT&T also recommended that the Commission's proposed designation of the band 10550–10700 Mc for fixed and mobile services be limited to fixed service, but that adoption of this recommendation at this time would tend to limit the Commission's flexibility in the above mentioned further allocation proceedings involving this part of the spectrum, and that an immediate decision on the point is not necessary; and

7. It further appearing that the public interest, convenience and necessity will be served by the amendments herein ordered, the authority for which is contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (c), (f) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

8. It is ordered, That effective May 31, 1956, Part 2 of the Commission's rules is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 1954. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

1. Amend § 2.104 (a) (5), Table of frequency allocations, to read as follows between 9800 and 10700 Mc.

PART 7—STATIONS ON LAND IN THE MARITIME SERVICES

PART 8—STATIONS ON SHIPBOARD IN THE MARITIME SERVICES

TYPE ACCEPTANCE AND SPECIFIC LIMITATIONS FOR SPURIOUS EMISSIONS

1. On January 28, 1954, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter. Announcement of the proposed rules appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER, February 3, 1954. Comments were to be filed by April 2, 1954, and replies within ten days thereafter.

2. Comments were received from Aero Marine Radio Corporation, Aeronautical Radio, Inc., American Merchant Marine Institute, Inc., The American Waterways Operators, Inc., Applied Electronics Company, Inc., Bludworth Marine, Brunswick Navigation Company, Central Committee on Radio Facilities of the American Petroleum Institute, General Electric Company, The Joint Technical Advisory Committee, Lake Carriers' Association, Lorain County Radio Corporation, Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., Port of San Diego Marine Radio Committee, Radiomarine Corporation of America, Ray Jefferson, Inc., Wm. C. Ryder, Southern California Marine Radio Council, and United States Power Squadrons.

3. One of the principal subjects of comment was with respect to the proposal to establish requirements for suppression of spurious emission in shipboard transmitters operating on frequencies below 30 Mc. The comments were directed generally toward two classes of spurious emission, one class (non-harmonic) relating to the sideband components distributed in the spectrum rather closely to and about the carrier frequency and the other class to the remaining harmonic and non-harmonic emission in the spectrum which for purposes of convenience will be referred to hereinafter as harmonic emission. Foremost among the objections relating to the proposed requirements for suppression of harmonic emission was that which asserted that application of the requirements would unnecessarily obsolete existing equipment. Other objections asserted that there was no reason to apply these requirements to certain categories of transmitters such as high frequency ship telegraph transmitters, medium frequency main and emergency ship telegraph transmitters, high frequency ship telephone transmitters, radiotelephone transmitters of lower power, and radiotelephone transmitters used on certain vessels navigating the Great Lakes. Related to these comments were those which questioned the

Secretary.

Amend Part 2 of the rules in the following particulars:

feasibility or necessity for the specific degree of harmonic suppression which would be required by the proposed rule. It was the consensus that the transmitters now in use should not be required to comply with the proposed rule; rather, interference should be handled on a case-to-case basis.

4. The Commission is of the opinion that it should exercise its regulatory authority so as to encourage and ensure the use of shipboard equipments which reflect the advancement of the radio art. Under this approach the absence at the moment of a specific interference evil requiring a specific remedy is no reason for not establishing and applying higher equipment standards. Section 8.108 of the rules now embodies such an approach by requiring that "• • • spurious emissions • • • be maintained at the lowest practicable level." However, if there is no specific problem requiring drastic measures, it is considered to be unreasonable to force the premature replacement of existing equipment. Since it now appears that the interference to the aviation services from harmonics of ship radiotelephone transmitters operating in the 2 Mc band has been substantially alleviated by the application of the certification requirement of § 8.351 (d) of the rules, and since there is no presently urgent problem concerning other categories of transmitters, the spurious emission requirements set forth in the finalized rule are not made applicable for some time to existing equipment. While under these circumstances it appears reasonable that existing equipment should be continued in service until it is no longer useful, it would appear equally reasonable that at some future date all equipment whether new or old should comply. This "cutoff" date has been set at 1963 or at least 7 years hence.

5. The remaining question as to harmonic suppression is that of determining, with respect to new equipment, what degree of harmonic suppression is practicable and consistent with the current and foreseeable future state of the radio art. Most of the comments adverted to a 40 db suppression value either without regard to the power of the transmitter or for transmitters with power less than certain specified levels. Radiomarine Corporation of America proposed attenuation values which, starting at 40 db for maximum authorized transmitter power of up to 5 watts, increased 3 db with each doubling of power. When expressed as a formula, the table is approximately equal to $35+10 \log_{10}$ (power in watts) db.

6. It is the Commission's view that the formula method of determining the required degree of suppression is preferable to the table method since abrupt changes in suppression between slightly different power values are avoided. The closest expression of the table of attenuation values proposed by the Commission in terms of a formula is the expression $40+10 \log_{10}$ (power in watts) db. On a comparative basis this formula generally requires less attenuation than the table method for powers up to 10 kilowatts. The difference in degree of required suppression, at power values where the formula does exceed the table method, is not regarded as being of practical significance and inasmuch as the maximum transmitter powers authorized under Part 8 of the Commission's rules are considerably less than 10 kilowatts the formula attenuation has not been limited to the 80 db maximum of the table method. The Commission is of the opinion that the suppression of harmonic emissions to the degree expressed by the formula is consistent with the state of the art and that new radiotelephone and radiotelegraph transmitters can be manufactured so as to provide the necessary degree of harmonic suppression. This opinion would appear to be substantiated to a considerable extent by the appearance on the market of multi-channel shipboard radiotelephone transmitters which are represented by the manufacturers to be capable of meeting the harmonic emission limitations adopted herein by the Commission. The development of equipment capable of meeting the proposed emission limitations has apparently been inspired by the availability of target standards and represents the careful application of heretofore available design techniques for the specific purpose of reducing the level of spurious emission. Taking into account the developments in radiotelephone equipment and the similarity of radiotelephone and telegraph transmitters insofar as the application of techniques for reducing harmonic emission is concerned, it is considered that multi-channel radiotelegraph transmitters capable of meeting the harmonic emission limitations will become available for installation in the two-year period before the harmonic emission limitations become applicable. Therefore, § 8.136 is ordered finalized herein in accordance with the foregoing.

7. The American Merchant Marine Institute, Inc., requested a hearing if these rules are to be made applicable to the radiotelegraph service. This request of the American Merchant Marine Institute, Inc., has been given due consideration. Its comments do not, however, show that a hearing would provide any additional relevant information not available for submission in writing; accordingly, the request of American Merchant Marine Institute, Inc., for a hearing is denied. For the same reason, and in consideration of the amortization period allowed for existing equipment in the finalized rules, the request of Aero Marine Radio Corporation for a hearing in these proceedings is denied.

8. With respect to attenuation of sideband components Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company commented in regard to radiotelephone equipments specifically that the emitted bandwidth requirements proposed by the Commission did not seem compatible with the extent of distortion normally encountered in a modulated stage. Radiomarine Corporation of America proposed attenuation levels for sideband components as a function of transmitter power similar to its proposals for harmonic emission. The Commission recognizes the problems associated with the limitations of emissions which are produced in the vicinity of the carrier during modulation. These problems involve not only transmitters operating aboard ship but transmitters operating in other services as well. A separate proceeding (Docket No. 11654) has been instituted for the purpose, among other matters, of establishing suitable attenuation standards for such non-harmonic emissions generally. Therefore, no substantive changes in Part 8 are being made in this respect in the instant proceeding. The limitations for equipment operating on frequencies under 30 Mc do not become applicable until June 1, 1958. The separate rule making proceeding on the general subject of limitation of non-harmonic spurious emissions (Docket No. 11654) is expected to be concluded sufficiently in advance of that date so as to provide appropriate advance notice of such limitations.

9. Various comments were filed regarding the proposed amendment of § 8.137 concerning automatic modulation limiters. Some of the comments concerned the value or necessity of a requirement for such a device. However, Part 8 of the rules of the Commission now contains a requirement that after 1960, all ship station radiotelephone transmitters (except those of 3 watts or less) incorporate such a device (as a result of Docket 9797, 16 F. R. 6037); the instant rule making was solely with respect to a possible change in date. In this regard, there was some objection to moving the 1960 date to an earlier date because of the effect on existing equipment. The existing 1960 date for the application of the requirement for a modulation limiter has, in effect, been moved to a 1963 date for existing equipment, and to an earlier date for new equipment. By making the emission limitations of § 8.136 and requirement for a modulation limiter coincident with the application of type acceptance, administrative procedures are simplified and the possible need for licensees to make successive equipment modifications is avoided.

10. The proposal to apply a type acceptance requirement to radiotelephone transmitters below 30 Mc elicited some support, particularly for application to new equipment. However, there was objection to the requirement apparently based on an apprehension that existing equipment might be prematurely obsoleted. The rules are finalized in this regard so that, as in the case with the harmonic suppression and modulation limiter requirements, type acceptance for existing equipment does not become compulsory until 1963. Radiotelephone transmitters, however, may be type accepted at any time in the interim period provided they are capable of meeting the requirements which become applicable to new radiotelephone installations beginning June 1, 1958. Other objections to the type acceptance requirement were based on expense because of possible fees in connection with securing type acceptance and because the procedure regarding type acceptance had not been finalized. However, since the date of the latter comment, Docket No. 10798 has been finalized by order adopted January 5, 1955, and a definite type acceptance procedure has thus been specified in Part 2 of the rules. The matter of fees in connection with type acceptance is the subject of Docket No. 10869 and the determination as to the reasonableness of such fees will be made in those proceedings.

11. Other miscellaneous matters in connection with these proposed rules are as follows:

(a) There was some question raised as to the dates when the requirements concerning spurious emission limitations, modulation limiters and type acceptance should be applied to new equipment. Radiomarine Corporation of America suggested a date at least 9 months after adoption of the rules for type acceptance if no modulation limiter was required, and at least 18 months if such a device was required. The rules as finalized specify the date of June 1, 1958, for type acceptance of newly licensed equipment. This should permit sufficient time for manufacturers and new users to accommodate themselves to the requirements for modulation limiters and emission limitations which become applicable at the same time as type acceptance.

(b) There was a request that type acceptance procedures rather than type approval procedures be applied to ship radar equipments since they were not compulsory equipment and since minor equipment improvements would allegedly be hampered by type approval procedures. However, type approval is, as a matter of Commission policy, not limited to compulsory equipment (e. g., Citizens Radio equipment). Type approval is considered to be more appropriate than type acceptance for ship radar equipment because of its characteristic interference potentialities due to the use of pulse emission. Accordingly, the rules as finalized provide that radar equipment for ship radar stations must be type approved.

(c) There was a recommendation that § 8.108 of the rules be revised so as to delete the reference to emissions "capable of causing harmful interference." This recommendation was made in view of the fact that the rules proposed "definitive technical standards to determine whether or not a transmitter is capable of harmful interference." However, the rules as finalized herein do not apply these standards to all transmitters until 1963, nor do they define interference capability; hence, it is not considered that § 8.108 should now be changed as suggested. For the same reason the revision of the last sentence of § 8.108 as proposed by the Commission in its notice is not adopted.

(d) With regard to the certification as to harmonic attentuation now required by §§ 8.351 (d) and 8.369 for authorization and operation on 2738 kc and 2830 kc, provision is made in the rules so as to dispense with that certification if the equipment is type accepted.

(e) Certain changes have been incorporated in the rules relating to type acceptance and type approval for purposes of consistency with the procedures and requirements now specified in Part 2 of the rules. In this respect § 8.62 has been modified to allow changes in type accepted and type approved equipment of licensed stations which are made in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 2.

12. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, Under the authority contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (c) (e) (f) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, that Parts 7 and 8 of the Commission's rules are amended, effective June 5, 1956, as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 1954. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: April 26, 1956.

Released: April 30, 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

A. Part 7 is amended as follows:

1. Section 7.8 (e) is amended to read:

(e) Spurious emission. Any emission from a station at a frequency or frequencies outside a frequency band of emission authorized for that station.

2. Section 7.8 (j) is deleted and the following new text substituted:

(j) Frequency band of emission. A frequency band of emission is a frequency band of which the two designated limiting frequencies are established by an emission-bandwidth referred to a particular carrier frequency. For the purpose of this definition, when a carrier is not present, a frequency normally coinciding with the center of the frequency band occupied by the emission is substituted therefor.

B. Part 8 is amended as follows:

1. Section 8.7 (e) is amended to read:

(e) Spurious emission. Any emission from a station at a frequency or frequencies outside a frequency band of emission authorized for that station.

2. Section 8.7 (jj) is deleted and the following new text substituted:

(jj) Frequency band of emission. A frequency band of emission is a frequency band of which the two designated limiting frequencies are established by an emission-bandwidth referred to a particular carrier frequency. For the purpose of this definition, when a carrier is not present, a frequency normally coinciding with the center of the frequency band occupied by the emission is substituted therefor.

3. Section 8.62 is amended to read:

§ 8.62 Changes in equipment of licensed stations. A licensed transmitter on board ship may be modified without making application to the Commission and without specific authorization from the Commission: Provided, (a) the change does not result in operation inconsistent with the rules of the Commission nor with the terms of the outstanding authorization for the station involved; (b) the change does not result in any impairment of the ability of the station licensee or the owner, operating agency, or shipmaster, to comply with any duty or obligation imposed by statute or international treaty or agreement for purposes of safety; (c) a description of the change is incorporated in the next application for renewal or modification of license; and (d) changes in type accepted and type approved equipment are made in accordance with the applicable provisions in Part 2 of these rules.

4. Section 8.136 is deleted and the following new text substituted:

§ 8.136 Spurious emission limitations. (a) With the exception of lifeboat transmitters, any spurious emission that may originate in any transmitter authorized in a ship station license or marine utility station license (other than a developmental station license) shall, when the transmitter is operating on any carrier frequency below 500 Mc, be within the following limitations: (The findings in Docket No. 11654 may modify these limitations.)

(1) Any emission appearing on any frequency removed from the actual carrier frequency by at least 50 percent but not more than 100 percent of the authorized emission bandwith, shall be not less than 25 decibels below the power of the carrier. Provided, that this requirement applies to carrier frequencies above 30 Mc only.

(2) Any emission appearing on a frequency removed from the actual carrier frequency by more than 100 percent of the authorized emission bandwidth shall be not less than $40+10 \log_{10}$ (power in watts) db below the power of the carrier where "power in watts" is the maximum "authorized transmitter power" in watts as such power is specifically defined in Section 8.7 (ii) without applying the power tolerance prescribed in § 8.110 (a).

(b) The requirements of subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of this section shall be applicable as follows:

(1) To any radio transmitter for which type acceptance is requested.

(2) To radio transmitters when operating on any frequency assignment above 30 Mc;

(3) After June 1, 1958, to radio transmitters when operating on any frequency assignment, including any assignment below 30 Mc. However, until requested to be authorized in a new or renewed station license issued in response to an application filed after June 1, 1963, transmitters licensed under this part prior to June 1, 1958, may (insofar as this requirement is concerned) continue to be authorized for operation on any frequency assignment below 30 Mc if so authorized in a station license issued to the same licensee or for a station on board the same vessel.

(c) When an emission outside of the authorized emission bandwidth causes harmful interference to an authorized radio service, the Commission may require more attenuation of such emission than specified in the foregoing paragraphs of this section.

5. Section 8.137 (a) is amended to read:

§ 8.137 Special requirements for radiotelephone transmitters. (a) In order to be type accepted each radiotelephone transmitter shall automatically precent modulation in excess of 100 percent. This requirement, however, shall not apply to transmitters licensed for an authorized transmitter power not exceeding three watts. In the event the operation of any licensed radiotelephone transmitter causes harmful interference to any authorized radio service by reason of excessive modulation, the Commission may, in its discretion, require that the use of such transmitter be discontinued until it will automatically prevent modulation in excess of 100 per cent.

6. Section 8.137 (b) (4) is amended to read:

(4) The transmitter shall automatically prevent modulation in excess of 100 per cent.

7. Section 8.137 (c) is deleted and the following new text substituted therefor:

(c) The frequency deviation of each radiotelephone transmitter authorized in a ship station or marine utility station license (other than transmitters authorized solely for developmental stations) shall, with 100 per cent modulation applied, not exceed 15 kc when the transmitter is radiating class F1, F2 or F3 emission on any marine radiochannel within the frequency band 35 to 44 Mc, or within the frequency band 156.25 to 157.45 Mc.

8. Section 8.138 is amended to read:

§ 8.138 Special requirements for shipradar transmitters. (a) Each radar transmitter authorized in a ship-radar station (other than in a developmental station) must be type-approved by the Commission, pursuant to the type approval procedure set forth in Part 2 of this chapter. In addition to meeting all other applicable requirements such transmitters shall comply with the limitations and conditions set forth in the following paragraphs.

(b) (1) The design and construction of the radar transmitter shall be such that, when properly installed, its use will not produce harmful interference to any other radiolocation service or any maritime mobile service;

(2) The radar transmitter shall not have means available for any external adjustment which can result in a deviation from the terms of the station authorization or any deviation from the applicable technical requirements for ship-radar stations stipulated in this part.

9. A new § 8.139 is added to read:

§ 8.139 Acceptability of radiotelephone transmitters for licensing. (a) Each radiotelephone transmitter authorized in a ship station or marine-utility station license (other than transmitters authorized solely for developmental stations) must be type accepted by the Commission. This requirement shall be applicable as follows:

To transmitters when operating on any frequency assignmnet above 30 Mc;

(2) After June 1, 1958 to transmitters when operating on any frequency assignment, including any assignment below 30 Mc. However, until requested to be authorized in a new or renewal license issued in response to an application filed after June 1, 1963, transmitters licensed under this part prior to June 1, 1958 may (insofar as this requirement is concerned) continue to be authorized for operation on any frequency assignment below 30 Mc if authorized in a station license issued to the same licensee or for a station on board the same vessel.

10. A new § 8.140 is added to read:

§ 8.140 Type acceptance of equipment. (a) Any manufacturer of a radio transmitter intended for use or used in ship stations or marine-utility stations may request type acceptance for such transmitters by following the type of acceptance procedure set forth in Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) Type acceptance of a radio transmitter may be requested also by an applicant for a station authorization by following the type acceptance procedure set forth in Part 2 of this chapter. Such transmitters, if type accepted, are not normally included on the Commission's "Radio Equipment List, Part C", but are individually enumerated on the respective authorization.

NOTE: Additional rules with respect to type acceptance are set forth in Part 2 of this chapter. Those rules include information with respect to withdrawal of type acceptance, modification of type accepted equipment and limitations on the finding upon which type acceptance is based.

(c) From time to time, the Commission will make public a list of equipment entitled "Radio Equipment List, Part C". Copies of this list are available for inspection at the Commission's offices in Washington, D. C. and at each of its field offices. This list will, with the exception set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, include equipment type approved and type accepted under this part.

11. Section 8.351 (d) (2) (i) is amended as follows: The table is amended by deleting the footnote designator 1 and by deleting footnote 1.

12. In § 8.351 (d) insert a new subparagraph (3) immediately following subdivision (ii) of subparagraph (2) of paragraph (d) and renumber the present subparagraphs (3) through (11) as (4) through (12). As amended, subparagraphs (3) through (12) read as follows:

(3) The requirements of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph shall not apply to any transmitter which is type accepted by the Commission for licensing under this part on the frequency or frequencies concerned.

(4) Except in event of distress, use of the frequency 2206 kc in the Great Lakes area by ship stations of the United States is prohibited.

(5) The frequency 2182 kc is authorized for use on a shared basis primarily by ship stations and secondarily by coast stations.

(6) The frequency 2214 kc is authorized for use exclusively at locations at which interference is not caused to the service of any United States Government station.

(7) The frequency 2738 kc is authorized for use on a shared basis with ship stations of other countries, for the purpose hereinafter prescribed in this subpart.

(8) Use of the frequency 4067 kc in the Mississippi River system is authorized upon the express condition that interference shall not be caused to the service of any station which may have priority on the frequency or frequencies used for the service to which interference is caused.

(9) Use of the frequencies 6240 kc and 6455 kc, is authorized in the Mississippi River system upon the express condition that interference shall not be caused to the service of any station which may have priority on the frequency or frequencies used for the service to which interference is caused. In order to avoid such interference, transmission on these frequencies during the period from 8:00 p. m. until 5:00 a. m., c. s. t., is prohibited.

(10) The frequency 4372.4 kc may be used by ship stations on the Mississippi River and connecting inland waters (except the Great Lakes) which are not licensed to transmit on 6240 kc and/or 6455 kc.

(11) The frequencies 4372.4 kc and 8205.5 kc are authorized for use on the Mississippi River and connecting inland waters (except the Great Lakes), upon the express condition that transmission on these frequencies during the period from 8:00 p. m. until 5:00 a. m., c. s. t., is prohibited.

(12) Each carrier frequency which is not to be used prior to a specified beginning date, may be used under appropriate station authorization for test transmission during a period commencing not more than two months in advance of such specified beginning date; solely to determine whether an existing ship station is capable of proper technical operation on that particular radiochannel preparatory to the conduct of a normal service thereon: Provided, That harmful interference is not caused by such test transmission to the service of any other station.

13. Section 8.369 (a) (2) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) For ship-to-ship communication:

2638 kc and 156.3 Mc: For use in all areas;
2738 kc: For use in all areas except the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico; provided that, unless the transmitter is type accepted under this part for licensing on this frequency or a certification in accordance with § 8.351 (d) has been submitted, use of the frequency is limited to test purposes as set forth in § 8.351 (d);
2830 kc: For use in the Gulf of Mexico; provided, that, unless the transmitter is type accepted under this part for licensing on this frequency or a certification in accordance with § 8.351 (d) has been submitted, use of the frequency is limited to test purposes as set forth in § 8.351 (d);
2003 kc: For use in the Great Lakes area, exclusively.

[Docket No. 9892; FCC 56-374]

[Rules Amdt. 13-5]

PART 13—COMMERCIAL RADIO OPERATORS

OPERATING AUTHORITY; AUTHORIZED POWER

In the matter of amendment of § 13.61 of Part 13 of the Commission's rules governing Commercial Radio Operators defining the operating authority of holders of the Restricted Radiotelephone Operator Permit and the Aircraft Radiotelephone Operator Authorization.

1. The Commission, on April 27, 1955, approved a further notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter. The notice was concerned with proposed amendment of Part 13 of the Commission's rules to place a 50-watt limit on the Restricted Radiotelephone Operator Permit and the Aircraft Radiotelephone Operator Authorization, with respect to ship and aircraft radio stations. The principal change introduced in the further notice was a proposal to apply the limitation only to stations having an international impact.

2. Upon considering this matter further, including the comments received, the Commission has decided that the differences in operating conditions between ship stations and aircraft stations are of sufficient significance to warrant separate treatment of the operator requirements heretofore dealt with jointly in this proceeding. Accordingly, it is ordered, That Docket 9892 be divided into two parts and that this Report and Order is concerned only with that part of Docket 9892 which relates to operator requirements for aircraft stations. The part of Docket 9892 relating to operator requirements for ship stations will be made the subject of a second further notice of proposed rule making.

3. The Commission has carefully considered all comments submitted but finds no basis for further modifying the proposal in Docket 9892 with respect to operator requirements for aircraft. There has been ample opportunity to file written comments and exhaustive comments have been received. In these circumstances it does not appear that the opportunity for oral argument requested by one of the respondents would be of material assistance to the Commission upon this matter. Accordingly, the request for permission to make oral presentation is denied. Some of the respondents requested that radio-telephone third-class operator permits that may have to be obtained as a result of this proceeding be granted "automatically" to all flight personnel already holding lower grade authorizations in order to minimize inconvenience and expense. The Commission has carefully considered these requests; however, it finds no sound basis on which it can fairly exempt such personnel from the normal procedure for qualifying for the higher grade permit. The Commission is allowing a period of two years in which to meet the new requirement and will facilitate and expedite the necessary licensing procedures within the means available in order that candidates may obtain the higher grade operator permit with as little inconvenience as possible to all parties concerned. Because of differences in the terms of the Restricted Radiotelephone Operator Permit and the Aircraft Radiotelephone Operator Authorization—the former is issued for the lifetime of the holder, the latter for five years—the Commission, in order to afford the same opportunity for all operators affected, will extend individual aircraft authorizations which expire during the two-year transition period to encompass the remainder of the period.

4. Authority for adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (l) and 303 (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That effective August 1, 1956, Part 13 of the Commission's rules is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 1954. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: April 26, 1956.

Released: April 30, 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

Part 13 of the Commission's rules is amended as shown below:

1. Section 13.61 (h) is amended to read as follows:

(h) Restricted radiotelephone operator permit. Any station except: (1) Stations transmitting television, or

(2) Stations transmitting telegraphy by any type of the Morse code, or

(3) Any of the various classes of broadcast stations other than remote pickup, broadcast STL, and FM intercity relay stations, or

(4) Ship stations licensed to use telephony for communication with Class I coast stations on frequencies between 4000 kc and 30 Mc, or

(5) Radio stations provided on board vessels for safety purposes pursuant to statute or treatry, or

(6) Coast stations other than in the territory of Alaska while employing a frequency below 30 Mc: Provided, That the holder of this class of license may not operate any coast station at which the power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave is authorized to exceed 250 watts; or

(7) Ship stations or aircraft stations other than those at which the installation is used solely for telephony: Provided, That the holder of this class of license may not operate in international service or on any frequency the use of which is shared with a foreign station, any aircraft station at which the authorized power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave exceeds 50 watts;

(8) At a ship radar station the holder of this class of license may not supervise or be responsible for the performance of any adjustments or tests during or coincident with the installation, servicing or maintenance of the radar equipment while it is radiating energy: Provided, That nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to prevent any person holding such a license from making replacements of fuses or of receiving-type tubes.

Provided, That, with respect to any station which the holder of this class of license may operate, (1) such operator is prohibited from making any adjustments that may result in improper transmitter operation, and (2) the equipment is so designed that the stability of the frequencies of the transmitter is maintained by the transmitter itself within the limits of tolerance specified by the station license, and none of the operations necessary to be performed during the course of normal rendition of the service of the station may cause off-frequency operation or result in any unauthorized radiation, and (3) any needed adjustments of the transmitter that may affect the proper operation of the station are regularly made by or under the immediate supervision and responsibility of a person holding a first- or second-class commercial radio operator license, either radiotelephone or radiotelegraph, who shall be responsible for the proper functioning of the station equipment. (The 50-watt limit imposed by subparagraph (7) of this paragraph is applicable to all Restricted Radiotelephone Operator Permits issued on or after August 1, 1956, and to all permits of this class in force beginning two years from that date. "International Service" as used in subparagraph (7) is defined as a telecommunication service between any combination of offices or fixed, land or mobile stations which are in different countries or are subject to different countries.)

2. Section 13.61 is amended by adding new paragraph (i) as follows:

(i) Aircraft radiotelephone operator authorization. Aircraft stations at which the installation is used solely for telephony: Provided, That the holder of this class of license may not operate in international service or on any frequency the use of which is shared with a foreign station, any aircraft station at which the authorized power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave exceeds 50 watts: Provided, That, with respect to any station which the holder of this class of license may operate, (1) such operator is prohibited from making any adjustments that may result in improper transmitter operation and (2) the equipment is so designed that the stability of the frequencies of the transmitter is maintained by the transmitter itself within the limits of tolerance specified by the station license, and none of the operations necessary to be performed during the course of normal rendition of the service of the station may cause off-frequency operation or result in any unauthorized radiation, and (3) any needed adjustments of the transmitter that may affect the proper operation of the station are regularly made by or under the immediate supervision and responsibility of a person holding a first- or second-class commercial radio operator license, either radiotelephone or radiotelegraph, who shall be responsible for the proper functioning of the station equipment. (The 50-watt limit is applicable to all aircraft radiotelephone operator authorizations in force beginning with August 1, 1958. Aircraft radiotelephone authorizations held by persons affected by this Order, expiring within the two-year period immediately prior to that date, may be extended to encompass the remainder of the two-year period upon proper request made to any engineering Field Office of the Commission. "International Service" is defined as a telecommunication service between any combination of offices or fixed, land or mobile stations which are in different countries or are subject to different countries.)

3. New § 13.76 is added as follows:

§ 13.76 Authorized power. The term "authorized power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave" when used in this part to define operating authority under a particular class of operator license with respect to aircraft stations, means rated carrier power, unmodulated, of the transmitter or transmitters authorized in the aircraft station license.

PART 17—CONSTRUCTION, MARKING AND LIGHTING OF ANTENNA STRUCTURES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In the matter of amendment of § 17.14 of the Commission's rules concerning certain antenna structures exempt from special aeronautical study.

1. The Commission has under consideration its notice of proposed rule making issued on March 17, 1955 (FCC 55-333), and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 23, 1955 (20 F. R. 1743), proposing to amend § 17.14 of the Commission's rules insofar as this section exempts from special aeronautical study antenna additions of 20 feet or less to existing man-made structures. This amendment excludes existing antenna structures from the classification existing man-made structures.

2. The time for filing comments in this proceeding expired April 15, 1955. One comment supporting the proposed amendment was filed by the Air Transport Association of America. The single comment opposing the amendment is considered irrelevant since it gave no consideration to the increased aeronautical hazard inherent in any addition of 20 feet or less to an existing antenna structure which has been erected to the height which a regional airspace subcommittee had determined to be the maximum height acceptable to aviation interests.

3. Coincident with the adoption of this amendment to § 17.14, the Commission finds it desirable to make changes in § 17.3 Form to be used to describe proposed antenna structures, consistent with the amendment to § 17.14. Since these changes to § 17.3 are procedural in nature, the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act are inapplicable.

4. To bring into agreement the definition of an "antenna structure" stated in Part 17 with the over-all antenna height including appurtenances which the regional airspace subcommittees consider an integrated obstruction to air navigation, a change in the definition is ordered herein. Since the change is interpretative in nature the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act with respect to notice do not apply.

5. The authority for the adoption of the proposed rule making is contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (q) and (r) and 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934 as amended.

6. In view of the foregoing, It is ordered, That effective May 15, 1956, Part 17 is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 1954. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: April 25, 1956.

Released: April 30, 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

Amendment of Part 17, Construction, Marking and Lighting of Antenna Structures.

1. Section 17.2 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Antenna structures. The term antenna structures includes the radiating system, its supporting structures and any surmounting appurtenances.

2. Section 17.3 is amended to read as follows:

§ 17.3 Form to be used to describe proposed antenna structures. Applications for radio facilities shall be accompanied by FCC Form 401-A (revised) for services other than broadcast[1] when:

(a) The antenna structures proposed to be erected will exceed an over-all height of 170 feet above ground level, except that where the antenna is mounted on top of an existing man-made structure other than an antenna structure and does not increase the over-all height of such man-made structure by more than 20 feet, no Form 401-A need be filed, or

(b) The antenna structures proposed to be erected will exceed an over-all height of 1 foot above the established airport (landing area) elevation for each 200 feet of distance, or fraction thereof, from the nearest boundary of such landing area, except that where the antenna does not exceed 20 feet above the ground or if the antenna is mounted on top of an existing man-made structure, other than an antenna structure, or natural formation and does not increase the over-all height of such man-made structure or natural formation by more than 20 feet, no Form 401-A need be filed.

3. Section 17.14 is amended to read as follows:

§ 17.14 Certain antenna structures exempt from special aeronautical study. Antenna structures 20' or less in height mounted on top of natural formations, and antenna structures increasing by 20' or less the height of existing man-made structures other than an existing antenna structure will not require special aeronautical study.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[ 14 CFR Parts 43, 44, 190 ]

[Civil Air Regs., Draft Release 56-11]

AIRWORTHINESS CERTIFICATION OF FOREIGN AIRCRAFT OPERATED IN UNITED STATES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Civil Aeronautics Board has under consideration the adoption of proposed amendments to Parts 43, 44, and 190 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. In order to insure their consideration by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules, communications must be received by July 2, 1956. Copies of such communications will be available after July 5, 1956, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

Section 43.10 of Part 43 of the Civil Air Regulations permits the Administrator to exempt foreign aircraft, authorized by him to be flown in the United States, from compliance with certain requirements applicable to domestic civil aircraft. The language of this section of Part 43 was originally predicated on the provisions of section 6 (c) of the Air Commerce Act of 1926 (as amended prior to August 8, 1953) which authorized the Administrator to issue special permits for foreign aircraft to be navigated in the United States. Since the amendment of August 8, 1953, divested the Administrator of such authority and vested it in the Board under section 6 (b) of the Air Commerce Act, it appears advisable to delete the obsolete provisions of § 43.10.

Foreign civil aircraft operated in the United States in accordance with Part 190 of the Civil Air Regulations are required to carry on board currently effective certificates of airworthiness issued or rendered valid by the country of registry. If the certificate of airworthiness becomes invalid because of damage to the aircraft, or for other reasons, it may be operated within the United States only upon special authorization of the Board in accordance with § 190.70. Normal processing of such authority may on occasion unduly delay the ferrying of an aircraft.

The Civil Air Regulations presently provide that the Administrator may issue special flight permits for civil aircraft of the United States which do not currently meet airworthiness standards but are found to be capable of safe flight. A special flight permit is intended to authorize the flight of an aircraft to a base where repairs or alterations are to be made, or to permit the delivery or export of the aircraft. The Board believes that the Administrator should be authorized under the same conditions to issue special flight permits to ferry foreign civil aircraft which have been damaged or which have had their certificates of airworthiness invalidated by the country of registry because of a change in nationality. Therefore, it is proposed to amend § 190.20 accordingly.

Recently the United States Air Force declared surplus a number of C-82 airplanes and offered them for sale. The Air Force and the Board gave notice to prospective purchasers that these airplanes could not meet the transport category requirements of Part 4b of the Civil Air Regulations without substantial and costly modifications. The airplane may be certificated under Part 8 of the Civil Air Regulations; however, when certificated under this part, the airplane is restricted to agricultural, industrial, or other special purposes, and cannot be used for the carriage of persons or cargo for compensation or hire.

Presently effective Parts 44 and 190 provide that foreign aircraft shall not be operated in the United States at weights in excess of the weights established by the country of manufacture. To preclude any uncertainty as to the eligibility of certain aircraft to qualify under the maximum weight limitations prescribed under United States airworthiness requirements, it is proposed to amend the language of these parts to relate clearly the weight limitations to categories of use. The effect of this change will be that airplanes, like the C-82, which have been manufactured in the United States but have not been certificated in the transport category and, therefore, for which no maximum weight has been established in that category, may not, although presently registered and certificated in foreign countries, qualify for operation in the United States in the transport category until operating weights have been established in accordance with transport category limitations. This policy is consistent with the resolution on aircraft weights adopted at the Council of the International Civil Aviation Organization Meeting on March 8, 1949, which acknowledged the right of the country of manufacture to set the maximum weights applicable to foreign registered and certificated aircraft which may be flown over such country of manufacture.

In view of the foregoing, notice is hereby given that it is proposed to amend Parts 43, 44, and 190 of the Civil Air Regulations.

1. By amending § 43.10 of Part 43 to read as follows:

§ 43.10 Aircraft requirements. (a) No aircraft shall be operated unless an appropriate and valid airworthiness certificate or special flight permit and a registration certificate issued to the owner of the aircraft are carried in the aircraft.

(b) No aircraft shall be operated except in accordance with the operating limitations prescribed by the certificating authority.

(c) No civil aircraft of the United States shall be operated unless it is identified in accordance with the requirements of Part 1 of this subchapter.

(d) No civil aircraft of the United States shall be operated unless there are available in the aircraft appropriate aircraft operating limitations set forth in a form and manner approved by the Administrator or a current Aircraft Flight Manual approved by the Administrator.

2. By amending § 44.3 of Part 44 to read as follows:

§ 44.3 Aircraft airworthiness. Each air carrier aircraft shall be possessed of a currently effective certificate of airworthiness issued by the country whose nationality it possesses. Foreign aircraft shall not be operated in the United States except in accordance with the restrictions on maximum certificated weights for particular categories of use prescribed or authorized by the country of manufacture of the aircraft type and model involved.

3. By amendng § 190.20 of Part 190 by deleting the period at the end of the section and inserting a comma in lieu thereof, and by adding the following:

§ 190.20 Airworthiness and registration certificates. * * * Provided, however, That in cases where:

(a) The aircraft has been damaged to the extent that the airworthiness certificate is invalidated, or

(b) The aircraft for which the certificate of airworthiness has been invalidated by the country of registry due to a change in nationality when such aircraft is intended to be navigated in the United States in transit to the country of new registry.

a special flight permit issued by the Administrator in accordance with sections 1.75 and 1.76 of Part 1 of this subchapter may be carried on board the aircraft in lieu of such certificate of airworthiness.

4. By amending § 190.23 to read as follows:

§ 190.23 Maximum weights and categories of use. Foreign aircraft shall not be operated in the United States except in accordance with the restrictions on maximum certificated weights for particular categories of use prescribed or authorized by the country of manufacture of the aircraft type and model involved.

These amendments are proposed under the authority of section 6 (b) of the Air Commerce Act of 1926, as amended, and Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in light of comments received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

(Air Commerce Act, 1926, sec. 6 (b) as amended, 52 Stat. 1028, 49 U. S. C. 176; sec. 205 (a), 52 Stat. 984, 49 U. S. C. 425 (a). Interpret or apply secs. 601-610, 52 Stat. 1007-1012, as amended, 49 U. S. C. 551-560)

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[ 47 CFR Part 13 ]

[Docket No. 9892; FCC 56-375]

COMMERCIAL RADIO OPERATORS

SECOND FURTHER NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

In the matter of amendment of § 13.61 of Part 13 of the Commission's rules governing Commercial Radio Operators defining the operating authority of holders of the Restricted Radiotelephone Operator Permit and the Aircraft Radiotelephone Operator Authorization.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. The Commission on April 27, 1955 approved a further notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter. An examination of the various comments received indicated the advisability of processing the part relating to operators of aircraft stations separately from the part relating to operators of ship stations. In accordance with the Commission's concurrent Report and Order in this docket the two matters have been separated and this second further notice of proposed rule making is concerned only with the operating authority of holders of the Restricted Radiotelephone Operator Permit with respect to ship radio stations.

3. The proposal heretofore made with respect to this matter would have limited the operating authority of holders of the restricted permit, in the case of ship radiotelephone stations, to such stations at which the power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier is not authorized to exceed 50 watts. This limitation would have applied only if the stations were operated in international service[1] or on a frequency shared (intermittent time sharing) with a foreign station. In view of the comments received and the

[1] FCC Form 301, Sec. V-G (antenna) shall be submitted with all broadcast applications.

[1] International Service: A telecommunication service between any combination of offices or fixed, land, or mobile stations which are in different countries or are subject to different countries (as defined in Annex 3 to the International Telecommunications Convention, Buenos Aires, 1952).

Commission's own observations of operating conditions, the Commisson has given further consideration to the operator requirements for ship radiotelephone stations.

4. In general, all frequencies made available by the Commission for ship stations are assigned on a shared basis. Many of the frequencies are also assigned to foreign ship stations which use them from time to time, without notice, on a shared basis with U. S. ships. This would present a practical problem in determining the grade of operator license required. While there are limits on the power that may be authorized, no distinction is made, in assigning frequencies, between stations of less than 50 watts, and those over that value. There is extensive radiotelephone communication between ships as well as between ships and shore and in either case the assignment of common frequencies for the purpose, without distinction as to power facilitates and is usually essential to such operations. Standard operating procedures have been established both domestically and internationally to promote equitable use of shared frequencies for commercial and safety purposes and it is important that these be observed by all stations without regard to the amount of power employed.

5. The growth in recent years in the use of ship radiotelephony has been very substantial with many more stations sharing the available frequencies. Also, there has been made available for general use a frequency designated especially for radiotelephone calling and distress, and procedures have been established to protect it against encroachment and misuse. The importance of conducting the operation of ship stations in a proper and orderly manner has increased accordingly. The Commission has noted with growing concern a widespread disregard of established operating procedures and regulations by ship radiotelephone stations utilizing the medium frequency bands and believes that steps should be taken through the licensing process to improve operating conditions on the ship radiotelephone frequencies.

6. It is proposed to discontinue the operating authority for ship stations presently granted under the restricted radiotelephone operator permit. This would have the effect of requiring operators of such stations in normal service to hold, instead, at least a radiotelephone third-class operator permit. The proposed change would apply to all restricted radiotelephone operator permits issued on or after the effective date of the amendment and to all permits of that class in force two years from that date.

7. Additional information received indicates that certain factors in the conversion tables in the proposed new § 13.76 were too high and not representative of actual conditions. Also, it appears that in view of the broadening of the proposal less detail is required and the new Section may be simplified.

8. In view of the foregoing, the proposal in Docket 9892 (adopted April 27, 1955) insofar as it would affect operators of ship radiotelephone stations, is amended as set forth below. Authority to issue this proposal is contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (l), and 303 (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

9. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted or should not be adopted in the form set forth below may file with the Commission on or before June 11, 1956, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. At the same time, any person who favors the rules as set forth may file a written statement in support thereof. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments or briefs may be filed within 15 days from the last day for filing said original comments or briefs. The Commission will consider all comments, briefs and statements presented before taking final action in the matter.

10. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules, an original and fourteen copies of all statements, briefs or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: April 26, 1956.

Released: April 30, 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

It is proposed to amend Part 13 of the Commission's rules as shown below:

1. Section 13.61 (h) would be amended to read as follows:

(h) Restricted radiotelephone operator permit. Any station except:

(1) Stations transmitting television, or

(2) Stations transmitting telegraphy by any type of the Morse code, or

(3) Any of the various classes of broadcast stations other than remote pickup, broadcast STL, and FM intercity relay stations, or

(4) Ship stations, or

(5) Coast stations other than in the territory of Alaska while employing a frequency below 30 Mc: Provided, That the holder of this class of license may not operate any coast station at which the power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave is authorized to exceed 250 watts; or

(6) Aircraft stations other than those at which the installation is used solely for telephony: Provided, That the holder of this class of license may not operate in International Service or on any frequency the use of which is shared with a foreign station, any aircraft station at which the authorized power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave exceeds 50 watts;

(7) At a ship radar station the holder of this class of license may not supervise or be responsible for the performance of any adjustments or tests during or coincident with the installation, servicing or maintenance of the radar equipment while it is radiating energy: Provided, That nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to prevent any person holding such a license from making replacements of fuses or of receiving-type tubes.

Provided, That, with respect to any station which the holder of this class of license may operate, (i) such operator is prohibited from making any adjustments that may result in improper transmitter operation, and (ii) the equipment is so designed that the stability of the frequencies of the transmitter is maintained by the transmitter itself within the limits of tolerance specified by the station license, and none of the operations necessary to be performed during the course of normal rendition of the service of the station may cause off-frequency operation or result in any unauthorized radiation, and (iii) any needed adjustments of the transmitter that may affect the proper operation of the station are regularly made by or under the immediate supervision and responsibility of a person holding a first- or second-class commercial radio operator license, either radio telephone or radiotelegraph, who shall be responsible for the proper functioning of the station equipment. (The 50-watt limit contained in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph is applicable to all restricted radiotelephone operator permits issued on or after August 1, 1956, and to all permits of this class in force beginning two years from that date. The exception with respect to ship stations contained in paragraph (4) would be applicable to all restricted radiotelephone operator permits issued on and after the effective date of this amendment and to all permits of this class in force beginning two years from the effective date. "International Service" as used in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph is defined as a telecommunication service between any combination of offices or fixed, land, or mobile stations which are in different countries or are subject to different countries.)

2. Section 13.76 would be amended to read as follows:

§ 13.76 Authorized power. (a) The term "authorized power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave", when used in this part to define operating authority under a particular class of operator license with respect to aircraft stations, means rated carrier power, unmodulated, of the transmitter or transmitters authorized in the aircraft station license.

(b) The term, "authorized power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave" when used in this part to define operating authority under a particular class of operator license with respect to ship stations, means:

(1) "Maximum operating power", or "operating power", or

(2) "Maximum plate input power to final radio frequency stage" multiplied by an appropriate factor, or

(3) "Authorized transmitter-power" multiplied by an appropriate factor.

The power of a ship station is specified in the station license or in Part 8 of this chapter by one or more of the terms quoted in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph. The factor mentioned in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph depends upon the class of radio frequency amplifier used in the last radio stage of the transmitter and shall be in accordance with the following table:

| Class of radio-frequency amplifier used in last radio stage of transmitter: | Factor |
|---|---|
| Class C, plate, or plate and screen-grid modulated | 0.50 |
| Class C, control, screen, or suppressor-grid modulated | .25 |
| Class C, cathode modulated | .32 |
| Class B, linear | .25 |
| Class BC, high efficiency | .42 |

In the case of a transmitter using frequency modulation or using a radio frequency amplifier in its last stage of a class other than those listed herein an appropriate factor will be supplied.

No applications for the remainder of these lands, namely, Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, S½N½, S½, (All), Sec. 1, Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, S½N½, N½S½, S½SE¼, SW¼SW¼, Sec. 2, and the S½, Sec. 36, T. 3 N., R. 3 W., N½, SW¼, N½SE¼, SW¼SE¼, Sec. 32, T. 3 N., R. 8 W., Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, S½NW¼, SW¼, SW¼NE¼, W½SE¼, (All), Sec. 1, Lots 1, 2, 3, S½N½, S½, Sec. 2, N½N½, S½, SE¼NE¼, and S½NW¼, Sec. 32, T. 2 S., R. 6 W., and the NE¼, and NE¼NW¼, Sec. 36, T. 5 S., R. 8 W., may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert land, or any other non-mineral public land laws, unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified. At the hour and date specified above the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the homestead, desert land, and small tract laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on May 31, 1956 will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on August 30, 1956, will be governed by the time of filing.

All valid applications and selections under the non-mineral public-land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on August 30, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

The lands will be open to location under the United States mining laws beginning at 10:00 a. m. August 30, 1956.

Persons claiming veterans' preference rights must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Phoenix, Arizona.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Commodity Stabilization Service and Commodity Credit Corporation

DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION ACTIVITIES

In order to provide for the performance of certain functions relating to loans and purchase agreement transactions, farm storage facility loans, sales of Commodity Credit Corporation commodities locally, and execution of certain other documents in connection with Commodity Credit Corporation transactions, delegations of authority are provided below pursuant to authority vested in me by the by-laws of Commodity Credit Corporation. The delegations of authority contained herein shall supersede any delegations of authority which are inconsistent therewith.

The authority herein delegated shall be exercised in conformity with the by-laws, regulations, and programs of Commodity Credit Corporation, and the policies adopted by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

Definitions. The term "CCC" shall mean Commodity Credit Corporation.

The term "CSS" shall mean Commodity Stabilization Service.

The term "ASC" shall mean Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation.

The term "chairman" shall refer to the chairman or acting chairman of any ASC county committee.

The term "manager" shall mean the ASC county office manager or acting manager.

The term "other employee" shall mean any employee of an ASC county office other than the manager or acting manager.

General. The manager or other employee designated by him may execute CCC sight drafts or CCC certificates pursuant to any ASC-administered program in which the use of CCC sight drafts or CCC certificates is prescribed.

Loan and purchase program. Upon payment of the obligation involved, the manager or other employee designated by him may execute releases or otherwise obtain the release of record of chattel mortgages made to or assigned to CCC which secure loans on agricultural commodities.

Farm storage facility loan program. (1) The chairman may (a) approve on behalf of CCC the sale or conveyance by the borrower of farm storage facilities or other property securing a loan made pursuant to the regulations issued by CCC and CSS governing the making of loans, and (b) execute on behalf of CCC assumption agreements under which the borrower remains liable for the balance of the indebtedness and the purchaser assumes the balance of the indebtedness with respect to such sale and conveyance.

(2) The chairman may (a) approve on behalf of CCC the sale of mechanical driers securing a loan made pursuant to the regulations issued by CCC and CSS governing the making of loans, and (b) sign on behalf of CCC assumption agreements under which the borrower remains liable for the balance of the indebtedness and the purchaser assumes the balance of the indebtedness with respect to such sale.

(3) The chairman or manager may, upon payment of the obligation involved, execute releases, conveyances or reconveyances, or otherwise obtain the release of record of security instruments made to or assigned to CCC or under which CCC is beneficiary which secure loans made to purchase or construct farm storage facilities or loans made to finance the purchase of mechanical driers for farm commodities.

(4) The chairman or manager may execute a release on behalf of CCC on any Severence Agreement executed in connection with such loan after a farm storage facility loan has been paid in full.

(5) The chairman or manager may execute statements, certificates, affidavits, or other documents as required by any State statute with regard to the status of any mortgage or deed of trust and with regard to any indebtedness.

(6) Where extension affidavits are required by State statute, the chairman or manager may execute sworn statements showing total payments made on the debt and the amount remaining unpaid and the debt or part thereof still due CCC and certify that CCC does thereby extend the lien and the mortgage for a definite period of time.

(7) The chairman or manager may execute any other instruments which may be required by State statute in connection with maintenance of liens relating to real or personal property mortgages or deeds of trust.

(8) The action of any chairman or manager which has been heretofore taken on behalf of CCC to comply with the provisions of any statute requiring the filing of statements, extension affidavits, or other documents relating to real and personal property mortgages or deeds of trust is hereby ratified.

Sales of CCC commodities locally. (1) The chairman or manager may make local sales of agricultural commodities other than seeds owned by CCC, and execute any documents in connection with such sale.

CCC bin storage operations. (1) The chairman may execute real estate leases on behalf of and in the name of CCC as determined by the ASC county committee to be necessary in connection with the CCC storage program.

(2) The chairman may execute leases of CCC-owned storage structures not currently needed for storage of CCC-owned grain.

(3) The chairman may execute contracts on behalf of and in the name of CCC for site preparation and maintenance work, electrical services, repair and operation of property and equipment, handling, transportation and maintenance of commodities, and procurement of supplies and materials in connection with the CCC storage program.

(4) The chairman may, upon receipt of prior written authorization, sell CCC-owned storage structures, equipment, and materials.

(Sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 714b)

Issued this 27th day of April 1956.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 7762; Order No. E-10250]

ANITA HERMAN

ORDER OF INVESTIGATION

In the matter of the complaint filed by Anita Herman.

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of April 1956.

Anita Herman, by complaint, petitions the Board to declare Northwest Airlines, Inc. and Capital Airlines, Inc. Local and Joint Passenger Rules Tariff No. PR–1, C. A. B. No. 4, General Rule 5, Claims, issued by M. F. Redfern, in effect on May 4, 1947, void, ab initio, as superfluous, unlawful, past and future, contrary to the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 and the rules of the CAB and against the public policy of the United States and the States involved. Complainant has alleged that a determination by the Board of unlawfulness of the 30-day notice rule and the one-year limitation rule is a requirement for petitioner to prosecute her claim for relief in the United States courts and that if successful before the Board, she will prosecute her claim in court pursuant to the Rules of Federal Procedure.

The Board, after consideration of the aforementioned complaint, finds such tariff rules may be unlawful for the reasons, among others, that they may be unjust, unreasonable and unjustly discriminatory.

The Board finds that an investigation of the past lawfulness of the aforementioned rules is necessary and appropriate under sections 205 (a) and 1002 in order to carry out the provisions and obligations of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 2, 403 and 404 thereof: It is ordered, That:

1. An investigation be and is hereby instituted to determine whether General Rule 5 of the tariff rules of Northwest Airlines, Inc. and Capital Airlines, Inc., contained in Local and Joint Passenger Rules Tariff No. PR–1, C. A. B. No. 4, issued by M. F. Redfern, agent, in effect on May 4, 1947, was unlawful.

2. The proceeding ordered herein be assigned for hearing before an examiner of the Board at a time and place hereafter to be designated.

3. A copy of this order be served upon Anita Herman, Northwest Airlines, Inc. and Capital Airlines, Inc. who are hereby made parties to this proceeding.

4. This order shall be published as a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[Docket No. 7336]

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS, INC.

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the application of Pan American World Airways, Inc., under section 401 of the Civil Aeronautics Act, as amended, for amendment of its certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing air transportation between the United States, Europe, the Middle East and India, so as to include San Juan, Puerto Rico, as a coterminal, and for amendment of said certificate and of its certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing air transportation between the United States and South Africa so as to authorize service to Madrid, Spain.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 205, 401 and 1001 of said act, that a public hearing in the above-entitled proceeding will be held on June 25, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., in Room E–224, Temporary Building No. 5, Sixteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner Leslie G. Donahue.

Without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the applications in Docket No. 7336, particular attention will be directed to the following matters:

1. Whether the public convenience and necessity require the amendment of paragraph numbered 1 of Part I of the certificate of public convenience and necessity, as amended, of Pan American World Airways, Inc., issued pursuant to Order No. E–8889, dated December 7, 1954, approved by the President of the United States of America, January 13, 1955, so as to authorize service to Madrid, Spain, as an intermediate point on the segment between Lisbon, Portugal, and Rome, Italy.

2. Whether the public convenience and necessity require the amendment of the certificate of public convenience and necessity of Pan American World Airways, Inc., issued pursuant to Order No. E–8664, dated the 3d day of August 1954, and approved by the President of the United States of America on September 27, 1954, so as to authorize service to Madrid, Spain, as an intermediate point beyond Lisbon, Portugal, on Pan American World Airways, Inc., route from New York, N. Y., to Johannesburg, Union of South Africa.

3. Does the public convenience and necessity require the issuance of a certificate of public convenience and necessity, on a permanent or temporary basis, with respect to persons, property and mail, so as to provide air transportation by Riddle Airlines, Inc. between the coterminal points Miami, Florida, and San Juan, Puerto Rico, the intermediate points Lisbon, Portugal, Madrid, Spain, and the terminal point Rome, Italy, without authority to engage in the local air transportation of persons, property and mail between Miami, Florida, and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

4. Does the public convenience and necessity require the issuance of a certificate of public convenience and necessity, on a temporary or permanent basis, with respect to persons, property and either with or without mail, so as to provide air transportation by Trans Caribbean Airways, Inc. between the coterminal points Miami, Florida, and San Juan, Puerto Rico, the intermediate points Lisbon, Portugal, and Madrid, Spain; and the terminal point Rome, Italy, without authority to engage in the local air transportation of persons, property and mail between Miami, Florida, and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

5. Whether each of the applicants is fit, willing and able to perform the air transportation for which it seeks authority and to conform to the provisions of the act and the regulations of the Board thereunder.

Notice is further given that any interested person, other than the parties and intervenors of record, desiring to be heard in support of or in opposition to the granting of the aforesaid applications must file with the Civil Aeronautics Board on or before June 25, 1956, a statement setting forth the matters of fact or law which he desires to advance. Any person filing such a statement may appear at the hearing in accordance with § 302.14 of the Board's rules of practice in Economic Proceedings.

Dated at Washington, D. C., April 27, 1956.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File Nos. 24D-1164, 24D-1392]

COLORADO MINING CORP. ET AL.

ORDER MODIFYING ORDER DATED MARCH 30 1956

APRIL 27, 1956.

In the matter of Colorado Mining Corporation, File No. 24D-1164; Colorado Mining Corporation for John M. Schlesinger, Melville Boyd, Azamat Guirey, George E. Roberts, Robert Reed, L. D. Friedman & Co., Inc., selling stockholders, File No. 24D-1392.

The Commission on March 30, 1956, entered its order pursuant to Rule 223 (a) of the general rules and regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, temporarily suspending exemptions under Regulation A for the offerings by Colorado Mining Corporation and by Colorado Mining Corporation for and on behalf of John M. Schlesinger, Melville Boyd, Azamat Guirey, George E. Roberts, Robert Reed and L. D. Friedman & Co., Inc., selling stockholders, on the grounds that the Commission had been advised that a permanent injunction was issued on December 23, 1955, in the New York Supreme Court, County of New York, against Colorado Mining Corporation permanently enjoining it from directly or indirectly engaging in any business relating to the purchase or sale of securities and that the Commission had reasonable cause to believe that the terms and conditions of Regulation A had not been complied with in that the offering circular filed by and on behalf of the issuer and the notification and offering circular filed by the issuer on behalf of the selling stockholders contained untrue statements of material facts and omitted to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, particularly with respect to (a) the statement in each offering circular that 1,000,000 shares of common stock of the issuer were issued for property, whereas 500,000 of such shares were turned over to promoters and did not represent consideration for the value of the mining claims; (b) the failure to state in the offering circular on behalf of the selling stockholders that on December 23, 1955, the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of New York, appointed a receiver of any and all property derived by the issuer by means of fraudulent practices and permanently enjoined the issuer from engaging in any business relatjng to the purchase or sale of securities within and from the State of New York, and (c) the statement in the notification and offering circular on behalf of the selling stockholders that L. D. Friedman & Co., Inc., was the underwriter of the securities to be offered, whereas L. D. Friedman & Co., Inc., terminated its underwriting agreement with the selling stockholders.

The order of the Commission gave notice that, upon receipt of a written request, the matter would be set down for hearing for the purpose of determining whether the temporary order of suspension should be vacated or made permanent.

It appears from an affidavit filed by Azamat Guirey, one of the selling stockholders, that he has not offered or sold his shares (pursuant to his filing) and in fact has voluntarily returned his shares to the issuer on or about December 23, 1955, without any compensation to him for so doing; that the offering in August 1953 by the issuer was made prior to his association with the issuer; that he had no part in the preparation of the notification or offering circular in connection with the proposed offering by the selling stockholders and had no knowledge that any of the statements therein was false or misleading; and that he never participated in the management of the issuer.

Azamat Guirey having requested a withdrawal of his filing under Regulation A and a vacation of the temporary suspension order as to his filing, based upon said affidavit,

It is ordered, That the filing by Azamat Guirey under Regulation A be withdrawn and that the temporary order of suspension be and is hereby modified to eliminate the name of Azamat Guirey therefrom.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon Colorado Mining Corporation, 424 University Building, Denver 2, Colorado; Baruch & Co., Inc., 44 Wall Street, New York 5, New York; John M. Schlesinger, 400 St. James St., W., Montreal, P. Q., Canada; Melville Boyd, 146 North Grove Street, East Orange, New Jersey; Azamat Guirey, 370 Park Avenue, New York, New York; George E. Roberts, Sherman Plaza Apartments, Denver, Colorado; Robert Reed, 465 St. John Street, Montreal, P. Q., Canada; L. D. Friedman & Co., Inc., 52 Broadway, New York 4, New York; and Registrar and Transfer Company, 15 Exchange Place, Jersey City, New Jersey; personally or by registered mail or confirmed telegraphic notice, and shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

STANDARD GAS AND ELECTRIC CO. AND PHILADELPHIA CO.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDMENTS TO PLAN PROPOSING SUBSTITUTION OF NEW TAX AGREEMENT WITH SUBSIDIARY COMPANY AND DIVESTMENTS OF PORTFOLIO SECURITIES

APRIL 27, 1956.

In the matter of Standard Gas and Electric Company and Philadelphia Company, File No. 54-191; Philadelphia Company and Standard Gas and Electric Company, File No. 54-173.

Notice is hereby given that Standard Gas and Electric Company ("Standard Gas"), a registered holding company, has filed an application and certain amendments to Step IV of its plan, dated February 8, 1951 and previously filed with this Commission under section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act"). Such plan ("Standard Plan") has for its stated purpose the effectuation of compliance by Standard Gas and its registered holding company subsidiary, Philadelphia Company ("Philadelphia"), with the provisions of section 11 of the act. Under the instant filing Standard Gas, in substance, proposes to dispose of all of its system's interest in Pittsburgh Railways Company ("Pittsburgh Railways"), a nonutility subsidiary of Philadelphia, and substantially all of its interest in Duquesne Light Company ("Duqusne"), a public-utility subsidiary of Philadelphia. Consummation of the transactions proposed herein will terminate Duquesne's status under the act as a subsidiary and thereafter neither Standard Gas nor Philadelphia will have a public-utility holding company relationship with any company although they will continue to be subsidiaries of Standard Shares, Inc. ("Standard Shares"), a registered holding company which was formerly named Standard Power and Light Corporation and which is in the process of transformation into an investment company.

Pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act, Standard Gas and Philadelphia have heretofore been ordered by this Commission to liquidate and dissolve. (See Holding Company Act Release Nos. 8242 (June 1, 1948), 8773 (December 31, 1948) and 10717 (August 14, 1951)). In addition to the Standard Plan (File No. 54-191), Standard Gas also filed a plan ("Philadelphia Plan") for the simplification of the corporate structure of the Philadelphia holding company system (File No. 54-173). The two proceedings were consolidated. The Philadelphia Plan has six steps all of which have been approved by the Commission and consummated. The Standard Plan likewise is divided into steps. All of the transactions proposed to be taken by Steps I, IA, II, IIA, III and IIIA of the Standard Plan have been approved by the Commission and consummated. Step IIA is the same as, and also was filed as, Step 6 of the Philadelphia Plan. All of the outstanding securities of Philadelphia except a $1,000,000 bank note are held by Standard Gas. Standard Gas' outstanding securities consist solely of 2,162,607 shares of Common Stock, par value $1 per share, of which Standard Shares owns 986,000 shares or 45.6 percent. Standard Gas owns all of the outstanding Common Stock of Philadelphia and a note of that company in the amount of $2,500,000 due September 10, 1956. In addition to cash and miscellaneous assets, including Government and other bonds, certain real estate, and the capital stock of an inactive subsidiary, the combined assets of Standard Gas and Philadelphia consist of 620,661 shares or 9.4 percent of Duquesne's Common Stock and 24,264 shares of that company's non-voting 4 percent Preferred Stock; 547,678 shares or 50.9 percent of Pittsburgh Railways' Common Stock; 3,576 shares or less than 1 percent of the Common Stock of Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company and 53,525 shares or 2 percent of the Common Stock of Wisconsin Public Service Corporation. Excluding large maximum contingent liabilities for Federal Income Taxes for the years 1942 through 1950, the amount of which is not disclosed in the filing, the only liabilities of Standard Gas and Philadelphia outside the system consist of Philadelphia's $1,000,000 bank loan and miscellaneous liabilities and claims.

Standard Gas and Philadelphia and certain other affiliated companies filed consolidated Federal income tax returns for the years 1942 to 1950, inclusive. At present the Federal income tax liability of Standard Gas and Philadelphia for such years is undetermined. During 1952 Philadelphia on the one hand and Duquesne and its subsidiaries on the other entered into tax agreements ("1952 tax agreements") in respect of the apportionment of Federal income and excess profits taxes, and refunds thereof, if any, for this period in a manner different from that required by this Commission's Rule U-45 (b) (6). The 1952 tax agreements were embodied in Steps I and II of the Standard Plan which were approved by the Commission and approved and ordered enforced by the United States District Court for the District of Delaware and were also embodied in Step 6 of the Philadelphia Plan which was approved by the Commission and ordered enforced by the United States District Court for the District of Western Pennsylvania. The 1952 tax agreements and the situation with respect to the tax liabilities are described by the Commission in its findings on Step I and on Step II of the Standard Plan. (Holding Company Act Release Nos. 11510 and 11765.)

According to the instant filing the 1952 tax agreements, in effect, provide in respect of any additional consolidated Federal taxes based on income which may be assessed for the period 1942 through 1950 that Philadelphia will pay any liabilities of Duquesne and its subsidiaries in excess of approximately $13,334,000 plus the share of Duquesne and its subsidiaries in future refunds, if any, after giving effect to reductions or increases in Federal income and excess profits taxes and any penalties and interest payable thereon for such companies by reason of interest paid or received in respect of such taxes. Philadelphia is entitled to the net refunds and interest resulting if the share of Duquesne and its subsidiaries of the amount finally determined to be payable is less than the amount of such taxes paid by such companies prior to July 3, 1953.

Step IV of the Standard Plan, as now proposed, provides as follows:

(1) The 1952 tax agreements will be cancelled. A new tax agreement is proposed and will become effective upon approval thereof by order of the Commission and the enforcement of such order by the United States District Court for the District of Delaware. Under the new tax agreement Philadelphia's maximum liability would be limited in that Philadelphia would assume to the extent of $1,000,000 and no more, any liabilities of Duquesne and its subsidiaries in excess of $12,334,000 in respect of additional consolidated Federal income and excess profits taxes for the years 1942 through 1950 and any penalties and interest payable thereon. However, under the new tax agreement Philadelphia would not be entitled to any of the refunds payable to Duquesne and its subsidiaries which it would have been entitled to under the 1952 tax agreements.

(2) Philadelphia, in partial liquidation, will distribute to Standard Gas the 547,678 shares of Common Stock of Pittsburgh Railways and 496,000 shares of Common Stock of Duquesne and will renegotiate or pay off its $1,000,000 bank loan. If such loan is renegotiated Standard Gas may guarantee the obligation.

(3) Standard Gas will distribute to its stockholders warrants to purchase 540,651.75 shares of Pittsburgh Railways Common Stock through a rights offering under which each Standard Gas stockholder will be entitled to purchase one share of Pittsburgh Railways Common Stock for each four shares of Standard Gas Common Stock held. The warrants will be transferable and will expire not less than 21 days after their date of issuance. Subject to the approval of the Commission, Standard Shares has agreed to exercise the warrants issued to it and will purchase all the shares of Pittsburgh Railways Common Stock not purchased by other stockholders plus the remaining 7,026.25 shares of such stock held by Standard Gas and not offered to its stockholders. Subject to the Commission's approval and prior to the issuance of the warrants the purchase price of the Pittsburgh Railways Common Stock will be fixed by the Board of Directors of Standard Gas upon the basis of market and other factors. According to the instant filing, it is expected that such purchase price will be about $6. The Chase Manhattan Bank will be appointed Agent in connection with this rights offering, and will have the right to buy and sell warrants for the purpose of eliminating fractional shares. Such buying and selling will be at then current market prices as determined by the Agent and without charge to the Standard Gas stockholders.

(4) After the completion of the proposed sale of the Pittsburgh Railways Common Stock, the Certificate of Incorporation of Standard Gas will be amended so that the par value of the Standard Gas Common Stock will be $0.10 instead of $1 per share. This amendment which will reduce Standard Gas' capital from $2,162,607 to $216,260.70 will become effective without a vote of stockholders but only pursuant to an order of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware as provided in section 245 of the Delaware Corporation Law.

(5) Upon the reduction of its capital as described above, Standard Gas, in partial liquidation, will distribute to its stockholders of record 540,651.75 shares of Duquesne Common Stock on the basis of ¼ of a share of Duquesne Common Stock for each share of Standard Gas Common Stock held but no fractional shares of Duquesne Common Stock will be distributed. Chemical Corn Exchange Bank will be appointed by Standard Gas as the Distribution Agent to distribute the Duquesne Common Stock. Standard Gas will deposit with the Distribution Agent a certificate or certificates in transferable form for the Duquesne Common Stock to be distributed and upon the receipt of such certificate or certificates by the Distribution Agent, Standard Gas will cease to be the holder of, or have any rights or incidents of ownership in respect of, such Duquesne Common Stock and the Distribution Agent will deliver to each known holder of Standard Gas Common Stock a certificate for the full shares of Duquesne

Common Stock to which he is entitled and, in lieu of his fractional interest of a share, an Order Form which without any charge to him will entitle such holder to instruct the Distribution Agent to sell for his account his fractional interest or to buy for his account such additional fractional interest in a share of Duquesne Common Stock as is required to make one full share. Such buying and selling will be at then current market prices as determined by the Distribution Agent. The rights of Standard Gas stockholders in respect of the Order Form will terminate 30 days after the distribution record date fixed in accordance with Step IV of the Standard Plan. Provisions are made for the distribution of such cash as the Standard Gas stockholders may be entitled to under Step IV in respect of any sales by the Distribution Agent in the adjustment of fractional interests and in respect of any dividends declared on the Duquesne Common Stock to be distributed. In addition, Step IV has provisions in respect of the voting rights of such shares and at no time will the Distribution Agent have the power to vote such shares. Step IV also provides for a termination or cut-off date after which all rights of holders of Standard Gas Common Stock in respect of the distribution of the Duquesne Common Stock will cease, become void and be of no value and such termination or cut-off date will be at least five years after the effective date of distribution for said shares of Duquesne Common Stock during which time Standard Gas will make or cause to be made reasonable efforts through letters or otherwise to locate all stockholders who have not exercised their rights in respect of the Duquesne Common Stock to be distributed, will advise such stockholders, if located, of their rights, and will report periodically to the Commission regarding such efforts and the success thereof.

(7) Such fees and expenses as the Commission may award or allow in connection with Step IV of the Standard Plan and any and all transactions and proceedings related thereto will be paid by Standard Gas to the extent that they relate primarily to transactions pertaining to Standard Gas and by Philadelphia to the extent that they relate primarily to the transactions pertaining to Philadelphia.

Step IV of the Standard Plan, as proposed, further provides that the record date (subscription record date) for the determination of holders of Standard Gas Common Stock entitled to receive warrants covering the right to subscribe for shares of Pittsburgh Railways Common Stock and the record date (distribution record date) for the holders of Standard Gas Common Stock entitled to receive Duquesne Common Stock and/or an Order Form in respect of any fractional shares thereof will be as specified in the order or orders of the Commission or an appropriate Federal District Court or, if not so specified, by Standard Gas' Board of Directors.

It is further stated by Standard Gas that to the extent that any transaction to be carried out pursuant to Step IV of the Standard Plan may be inconsistent or in conflict with any order previously entered by the Commission, Standard Gas will take appropriate action for the modification of any such order.

The Commission considering that Standard Gas' application and Step IV of its plan, as amended, raise issues that should not be resolved prior to notice and public hearing with respect thereto:

It is hereby ordered That a hearing in the above-entitled proceeding shall be held on May 23, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., at the offices of the Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. On such date the Hearing Room clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. Any persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in this proceeding shall file with the Secretary of the Commission before the commencement of the hearing a written request relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered That James G. Ewell, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at such hearing. The officer or officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Corporate Regulation of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application and Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended, and that upon the basis thereof the following matters and questions are presented for consideration, without prejudice to its specifying additional matters and questions upon further examination:

(1) Whether any of the transactions to be carried out pursuant to Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended or as it may be further modified, is or may be inconsistent or in conflict with any previous steps of the Standard Plan or the Philadelphia Plan or with any orders of the Commission approving such steps; and in the event any such inconsistency or conflict exists, what, if any, conditions the Commission should impose in respect of any order issued by it regarding said Step IV, as amended, of the Standard Plan;

(2) Whether Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended or as it may be further modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act, or whether any further action should be required by the Commission in order that Standard Gas and Philadelphia shall comply fully with the provision of that section of the act and the Commission's orders thereunder;

(3) Whether Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended or as it may be further modified, is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, and particularly, but not limited to, whether the cancellation of the 1952 tax agreements and the substitution of the new tax agreement therefor are fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, are in accordance with the other applicable standards of the act, and whether such cancellation and substitution are subject to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Western Pennsylvania; whether in the event that Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended or as it may be further modified, is consummated there will be sufficient assets remaining in Standard Gas and Philadelphia to take care of the fixed and contingent liabilities thereof; and whether the proposed dispositions of common stock of Duquesne and Pittsburgh Railways are fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby and are in accordance with the applicable provisions of the act;

(4) Whether, in connection with the transactions proposed under Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended or as it may be further modified, or under any proceedings or proposals related thereto, there will remain any affiliated or interlocking relationship between Duquesne and any company which now is or has been in the holding company system in which Duquesne is or was a member;

(5) Whether the Commission should adopt Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended or as it may be further modified, or whether another plan to achieve compliance by Standard Gas and Philadelphia with the standards of section 11 (b) of the act should be proposed and/or approved by the Commission;

(6) Whether the accounting entries to be made to record the proposed transactions on the books of Standard Gas and Philadelphia are appropriate and in conformity with sound accounting principles;

(7) Whether the fees and expenses and other remuneration which may be claimed or paid in connection with Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended or as it may be further modified, and the transactions incident thereto are for necessary services and are reasonable in amount;

(8) Generally, whether the transactions proposed in Step IV of the Standard Plan, as amended or as it may be further modified, are in all respects in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable standards and requirements of the act and the rules and regulations thereunder; and, if not, what modifications should be required to be made therein, and what terms and conditions, if any, should be imposed to satisfy the applicable statutory standards;

It is further ordered, That at the aforesaid hearing, attention be given to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve a copy of this Notice and Order by registered mail on Standard Shares, Standard Gas, Philadelphia, Duquesne, Pittsburgh Railways, Mellon National Bank and Trust Company, Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, Federal Power Commission, and the United States Treasury Department; that notice of said hearing shall be given to all other persons by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to persons on the mailing list for releases under the act; and that further notice shall be given to all persons by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That Standard Gas shall give notice of this hearing to all participants in the proceedings on Steps I and II of the Standard Plan and Step 6 of the Philadelphia Plan, to all Standard Gas public stockholders and to all of the public common stockholders of Duquesne (insofar as the identity of such public common stockholders is known or available to Standard Gas) by mailing to each of said persons a copy of this Notice and Order to his last known address at least 15 days prior to the date set for said hearing and upon the request of any such person and without charge to such person Standard Gas shall mail to such person a copy of the proposed amendments to Step IV of the Standard Plan.

By the Commission.

Chapter IV—Commodity Stabilization Service and Commodity Credit Corporation, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Loans, Purchases, and Other Operations

[1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supp. 3, Amdt. 1, Wheat]

PART 421—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

SUBPART—1955–CROP WHEAT RESEAL LOAN PROGRAM

STORAGE AND TRACK-LOADING PAYMENTS

The regulations issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and the Commodity Stabilization Service published in 21 F. R. 1691 and containing the specific requirements for the 1955-crop wheat reseal loan program are hereby amended as follows:

Section 421.1061 is amended to include storage payments to be made to producers having 1955-crop wheat under reseal loan, so that the amended section reads as follows:

§ 421.1061 Storage and track-loading payments—(a) Storage payment. A reseal storage payment will be made as follows:

(1) Storage payment for full reseal period. A storage payment will be made to the producer on the quantity involved if he (i) redeems the wheat from the loan on or after March 31, 1957, (ii) delivers the wheat to CCC on or after March 31, 1957, or (iii) delivers the wheat to CCC prior to March 31, 1957, pursuant to demand by CCC for repayment of the loan solely for the convenience of CCC if the wheat was not damaged or otherwise impaired due to negligence on the part of the producer. Such storage payment will be computed at the rate of 16 cents per bushel in the States of Arizona, California, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, and Washington; 17 cents per bushel in the States of Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Texas, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

(2) Prorated storage payment. (i) A storage payment determined by prorating such yearly rate according to the length of time the quantity of wheat involved was in store after May 31, 1956, will be made to the producer; (a) in the case of loss assumed by CCC under the provisions of the loan program; (b) in the case of wheat redeemed from the loan prior to March 31, 1957, and (c) in the case of wheat delivered to CCC pursuant to its demand and not solely for the convenience of CCC, or upon request of the producer and with the approval of CCC, prior to March 31, 1957: Provided, however, That no storage payment will be made where the delivered wheat is damaged or otherwise impaired due to negligence on the part of the producer. The prorated storage payment will be computed at the rate of 0.00053 per bushel a day (but not to exceed 16 cents per bushel) in the States of Arizona, California, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, and Washington; 0.00056 per bushel a day (but not to exceed 17 cents per bushel) in the States of Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Texas, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. In the case of losses assumed by CCC, the period for computing the storage payment shall end on the date of the loss; and in the case of redemptions, on the date of repayment.

(ii) In no case will any storage payment be made where the producer has made any false representation in the loan documents or in obtaining the loan, or where the wheat has been abandoned or where there has been conversion on the part of the producer.

(b) Track-loading payment. A track-loading payment of 3 cents per bushel will be made to the producer on wheat delivered to CCC in accordance with instructions of the county committee, on track at a country point.

Chapter I—Agricultural Marketing Service (Standards, Inspections, Marketing Practices), Department of Agriculture

PART 61—COTTONSEED SOLD OR OFFERED FOR SALE FOR CRUSHING PURPOSES (INSPECTION, SAMPLING AND CERTIFICATION)

PART 64—GRADING HEMP LINE AND HEMP TOW

AMENDMENT OF COTTONSEED REGULATIONS AND TERMINATION OF HEMP REGULATIONS

On April 10, 1956, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (21 F. R. 2300) regarding the proposed amendment of the regulations governing cottonseed sold or offered for sale for crushing purposes (7 CFR Part 61) and the proposed termination of the regulations for grading hemp line and hemp tow (7 CFR Part 64).

After consideration of all relevant matters presented pursuant to the aforesaid notice, said regulations are hereby amended or terminated, as hereinafter set forth, pursuant to authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 as amended (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.).

The amendment of the cottonseed regulations implements Public Law 272, 84th Congress, 1st Session, approved August 9, 1955, amending the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946, by designating the certificates, memoranda, marks, and other identifications and devices for making such marks or identifications, with respect to sampling, inspection, class, grade, quality, or condition, that are official for the purpose of said act. The amendment also makes minor changes in the method of making payment for services but does not involve any changes in fees.

The amendment is as follows:

1. Add new § 61.2a to read as follows:

§ 61.2a Designation of official certificates, memoranda, marks, other identifications, and devices for purpose of the Agricultural Marketing Act. Subsection 203 (h) of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946, as amended by Public Law 272, 84th Congress, provides criminal penalties for various specified offenses relating to official certificates, memoranda, marks, or other identifications, and devices for making such marks or identifications, issued or authorized under section 203 of said act, and certain misrepresentations concerning the inspection or grading of agricultural products under said section. For the purposes of said subsection and the provisions in this part, the terms listed below shall have the respective meanings specified:

(a) "Official certificate" means any form of certification, either written or printed, used under this part to certify with respect to the inspection, sampling, class, grade, quality, quantity, or condition of products (including the compliance of products with applicable specifications).

(b) "Official memorandum" means any initial record of findings made by an authorized person in the process of grading, inspecting, or sampling, pursuant to this part, any processing or plant-operation report made by an authorized person in connection with grading, inspecting, or sampling under this part, and any report made by an authorized person of services performed pursuant to this part.

(c) "Official mark" means the grade mark, inspection mark, and any other mark, approved by the Administrator and authorized to be affixed to any product, or affixed to or printed on the packaging material of any product, stating that the product was graded or inspected or both, or indicating the appropriate U. S. grade or condition of the product, or for the purpose of maintaining the identity of products graded or inspected or both under this part.

(d) "Official identification" means any United States (U. S.) standard designation of class, grade, quality, quantity, or condition specified in this part and §§ 28.401 to 28.404 of this chapter, or any symbol, stamp, label, or seal indicating that the product has been officially graded or inspected and/or indicating the class, grade, quality, quantity, or condition of the product, approved by the Administrator and authorized to be affixed to any product, or affixed to or printed on the packaging material of any product.

(e) "Official device" means a stamping appliance, branding device, stencil, printed label, or any other mechanically or manually operated tool that is approved by the Administrator for the purpose of applying any official mark or other identification to any product or the packaging material thereof.

2. Delete the second sentence in § 61.46 and substitute therefor the following: "Remittance to cover such fee, in the form of a check, draft, or money order payable to the 'Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA,' shall accompany each application for review."

3. Delete Part 64 (7 CFR 64.1–64.11), Grading Hemp Line and Hemp Tow, in its entirety.

(Sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090; 7 U. S. C. 1624)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 1st day of May 1956, to be effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND NATIONALITY

Chapter I—Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS TO CHAPTER

The following amendments to Chapter I of Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations are hereby prescribed:

PART 211—DOCUMENTARY REQUIREMENTS: IMMIGRANTS; WAIVERS

Section 211.3 is amended to read as follows:

§ 211.3 Authority to grant individual waivers. Any alien (including an alien crewman) who has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and who is an applicant for admission to the United States after a temporary absence may be granted a visa and passport waiver or a visa waiver, and any alien (including an alien crewman) who is an applicant for admission to the United States as an immigrant may be granted a passport waiver by the regional commissioner prior to admission, at the time of admission, or after the alien's application for admission to the United States, or the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the port at which the alien applied for admission at the time of the alien's application for admission and prior to the submission of the case to a special inquiry officer, or the special inquiry officer in determining the case referred to him for further inquiry as provided in section 235 of the Act, upon a determination by the respective officers enumerated above that presentation of a visa, or passport, or both, is impracticable because of emergent circumstances over which the alien has no control and that undue hardship would result to such alien if such presentation is required: Provided, That during the time any case is pending before the Board a waiver under this section may be granted only by the Board.

PART 212—DOCUMENTARY REQUIREMENTS FOR NONIMMIGRANTS: ADMISSION OF CERTAIN INADMISSIBLE ALIENS; PAROLE

Section 212.9 Parole of aliens into the United States is amended by deleting the words "or the officer in charge" and "or officer in charge".

PART 213—ADMISSION OF ALIENS ON GIVING BOND OR CASH DEPOSIT

Section 213.1 Authority to admit under bond or cash deposit is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" appearing in the first sentence.

PART 214—ADMISSION OF NONIMMIGRANTS: GENERAL

1. Paragraph (c) of § 214.2 Conditions of nonimmigrant status is amended by deleting the words "or the officer in charge".

2. Section 214.3 Bonds is amended by deleting the words "or the officer in charge" appearing in the first sentence.

3. The introductory material to § 214.4 is amended to read as follows:

PART 221—DISPOSITION OF ENTRY DOCUMENTS OF ALIENS ENTERING OR DEPARTING OTHER THAN AS NONIMMIGRANT CREWMEN

1. The second sentence of paragraph (a) Action at time of entry: preparation and presentation of § 221.3 Form I–94 is amended to read as follows: "A person applying for admission to the United States who is in possession of a set of Forms I–94 shall surrender such forms to the examining immigration officer."

2. Subparagraph (4) of paragraph (b) of § 221.3 Form I–94 is amended so that, when taken with the introductory material, it will read as follows:

(b) When not prepared by immigration officer. Immigration officers shall not prepare a set of Forms I–94 for the following-described classes of aliens:

* * * * *

(4) An alien for whom a set of Forms I–94 was prepared in connection with preexamination and he is admitted upon presentation of those forms.

PART 231—LISTS OF ALIENS AND CITIZEN PASSENGERS ARRIVING OR DEPARTING

Sections 231.6 Ports of entry for aliens arriving by vessel or by land transportation, 231.7 Ports of entry for aliens arriving by aircraft, and 231.8 Immigration stations in Canada are revoked.

PART 232—DETENTION OF ALIENS FOR OBSERVATION AND EXAMINATION

1. Section 232.5 Liability for detention expenses is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" appearing therein.

2. The first sentence of § 232.51 Collection of detention expenses is amended to read as follows: "In all cases in which the Government has initially paid the detention expenses and expenses incident thereto of an alien detained pursuant to section 232 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, bills pertaining to the detention expenses shall be presented monthly or oftener, at the option of the district director, to the responsible transportation line as soon as liability therefor is established to the satisfaction of the district director."

3. Section 232.52 Reimbursement of transportation line for detention expenses in certain cases is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" appearing in the second sentence.

PART 233—TEMPORARY REMOVAL FOR EXAMINATION UPON ARRIVAL

1. Paragraph (a) of § 233.2 Assumption of responsibility is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" appearing therein.

2. Sections 233.5 Liability for detention expenses, 233.31 Collection of removal expenses, 233.51 Collection of detention expenses, and 233.52 Reimbursement of transportation line for detention expenses in certain cases are amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" appearing therein.

PART 235—INSPECTION OF ALIENS APPLYING FOR ADMISSION

1. Section 235.4 Admitted alien assisted is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" and "or the officer in charge".

2. Section 235.12 Referral of certain cases to district director or officer in charge is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" appearing in the headnote and wherever they appear in the text.

3. Subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) Action by district director or officer in charge of § 235.51 Preexamination procedure is amended to read as follows:

(1) Applicant eligible for permanent residence. The district director or officer in charge shall cause such investigation of the applicant to be conducted as he deems necessary. If such officer is satisfied that the person is eligible to apply under § 235.5; that any claim to United States nationality has been established; and that the person is clearly and beyond a doubt admissible for permanent residence without a visa and passport to the place to which destined, he shall cause to be prepared and issued to such person a set of Forms I–94 and shall note on the reverse sides thereof the place and date of the preexamination and the words "Issued under 8 CFR 235.5" followed by the signature of the issuing officer. The names and ages of children under 14 may be included in the Forms I–94 prepared for an accompanying parent or guardian.

4. The third sentence of subparagraph (2) Applicant eligible for temporary admission only of paragraph (a) Action by district director or officer in charge of § 235.51 Preexamination procedure is amended to read as follows: "The Forms I–94 shall be noted as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph."

PART 236—EXCLUSION OF ALIENS

1. Paragraph (b) Written decision of § 236.12 Decision of special inquiry officer is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

2. Paragraph (c) Alien certified for mental condition; right of medical appeal of § 236.13 Advice to alien found excludable is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

3. Paragraph (d) of § 236.13 is amended to read as follows:

(d) Notice of possible appeal by district director. In any case falling within the purview of § 236.16 in which the decision of the special inquiry officer is to admit the alien, the special inquiry officer shall advise the alien at the conclusion of the hearing that the decision is not final and is subject to possible appeal by the district director having administrative jurisdiction over the office in which the hearing was conducted, and that such appeal may be taken within a period of 5 days after a transcript of the record is made available to such district director.

4. Paragraph (c) of § 236.14 Finality of decision is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

5. Paragraph (a) From oral decision of § 236.15 Appeal by alien is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" wherever they appear.

6. Section 236.16 Appeal by district director or officer in charge is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" appearing in the headnote and in the text, and by deleting the words "officer in charge," appearing in the last sentence.

7. Section 236.17 Fingerprinting of excluded aliens; photographs is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

PART 237—DEPORTATION OF EXCLUDED ALIENS

Section 237.13 Notice to district director of proposed departure is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" wherever they appear.

PART 238—ENTRY THROUGH OR FROM FOREIGN CONTIGUOUS TERRITORY AND ADJACENT ISLANDS

1. Section 238.2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 238.2 Contracts with transportation lines. The contracts with transportation lines including bonding agreements, referred to in section 238 of the act, shall be made by the regional commissioner in behalf of the government, and shall be in such form as prescribed.

2. Paragraph (b) of § 238.11 Preexamination outside the United States is amended to read as follows:

(b) Preparation of Form I–94. A full set of Forms I–94 shall be prepared by an immigration officer for an alien presenting himself for preexamination if such set of forms would be required to be prepared under the provisions of § 221.3 of this chapter were the alien applying at a port of entry for admission to the United States. If a full set of Forms I–94 would not be so required and if the applicant is an alien not in possession of a permit to enter, or if the applicant is a citizen or a national of the United States, the immigration officer shall prepare a set of Forms I–94 for the applicant. The names and ages of children under 14 years of age may be included in the Forms I–94 prepared for an accompanying parent or guardian.

3. The first sentence of paragraph (c) Procedure when applicant is found to be admissible of § 238.11 Preexamination outside the United States is amended by deleting the reference to "I–94F".

PART 239—SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO AIRCRAFT: DESIGNATION OF PORTS OF ENTRY FOR ALIENS ARRIVING BY CIVIL AIRCRAFT

The first sentence of paragraph (a) Place of landing of § 239.2 Landing requirements is amended to read as follows: "Aircraft carrying passengers or crew required to be inspected under the act shall land at the international airports enumerated in the Statement of Organization of the Service unless permission to land elsewhere shall first be obtained from the Commissioner of Customs in the case of aircraft operated by scheduled airlines, and in all other cases from the Collector of Customs or other Customs Officer having jurisdiction over the airport of entry nearest the intended place of landing."

PART 242—PROCEEDINGS TO DETERMINE DEPORTABILITY OF ALIENS IN THE UNITED STATES: APPREHENSION, CUSTODY, HEARING, AND APPEAL

1. Paragraph (a) Commencement of § 242.1 Order to show cause and notice of hearing is amended by deleting the words ", or officers in charge of suboffices" appearing in the last sentence.

2. Paragraph (a) of § 242.2 Apprehension, custody, and detention is amended to read as follows:

(a) Warrant of arrest. At the commencement of any proceeding under this part, or at any time thereafter and up to the time the respondent becomes subject to supervision under the authority contained in section 242 (d) of the act, the respondent may be arrested and taken into custody under the authority of a warrant of arrest issued by a district director whenever, in his discretion, it appears that the arrest of the respondent is necessary or desirable. If, after the issuance of a warrant of arrest, a determination is made not to serve it, the district director who issued the warrant of arrest may authorize its cancellation.

3. Paragraph (b) Authorized officers of § 242.2 is amended by deleting the letter "s" from the word "officers" in the headnote and by deleting the words "or officer in charge of a suboffice" wherever they appear in the text.

4. Paragraphs (c) Revocation of bond or parole and (d) Supervision are amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge of a suboffice" wherever they appear.

5. Section 242.4 Fingerprints and photographs is amended by deleting the words "or the officer in charge of a suboffice".

6. Section 242.5 is amended to read as follows:

§ 242.5 Voluntary departure prior to commencement of hearing—(a) Authorized officers. The authority contained in section 242 (b) of the act to permit aliens to depart voluntarily from the United States may be exercised by district directors, district officers who are in charge of investigations, and officers in charge.

(b) Application. Any alien who believes himself to be eligible for voluntary departure under section 242 (b) of the act may apply therefor at an office of the Service any time prior to the commencement of his hearing under an order to show cause. The officers designated in paragraph (a) of this section may deny or grant the application and determine the conditions under which the alien's departure shall be effected. An appeal shall not lie from a denial of an application for voluntary departure under this section, but the denial shall be without prejudice to the alien's right to apply for relief from deportation under any provision of law.

(c) Revocation. If, subsequent to the granting of an application for voluntary departure under this section, it is ascertained that the application should not have been granted, that grant may be revoked without notice by any district director, district officer in charge of investigations, or officer in charge.

7. Section 242.7 is amended to read as follows:

§ 242.7 Cancellation of proceedings. If an order to show cause has been issued, a district director, deputy district director, or district officer who is in charge of investigations may cancel the order to show cause or, prior to the actual commencement of the hearing under a served order to show cause, terminate proceedings thereunder, if in either case he is satisfied that the respondent is actually a national of the United States, or is not deportable under the immigration laws, or is deceased, or is not in the United States. If an order to show cause has been cancelled or proceedings have been terminated pursuant to this section, any outstanding warrant of arrest shall also be cancelled.

8. Paragraph (b) Assignment of § 242.9 Examining officers is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge of a suboffice" wherever they appear.

9. Section 242.13 Postponement and adjournment of hearing is amended by deleting the words "or the officer in charge of a suboffice".

10. The first sentence of paragraph (e) Application for discretionary relief of § 242.16 Hearing is amended to read as follows: "The respondent may apply during the hearing for suspension of deportation on Form I–256A, voluntary departure under section 244 of the act, preexamination on Form I–63 under Part 235a of this chapter, or such other discretionary relief as may be appropriate to the case."

11. Section 242.22 is amended to read as follows:

§ 242.22 Proceedings under section 242 (f) of the act—(a) Applicable regulations. Except as hereafter provided in this section, all the provisions of §§ 242.8 to 242.21, inclusive, and § 242.23 shall apply to the case of a respondent within the purview of § 242.6.

(b) Deportability. In determining the deportability of an alien alleged to be within the purview of § 242.6, the issues shall be limited solely to a determination of the identity of the respondent, i. e., whether the respondent is in fact an alien who was previously deported, or who departed while an order of deportation was outstanding; whether the respondent was previously deported as a member of any of the classes described in paragraph (4), (5), (6), (7), (11), (12), (14), (15), (16), (17), or (18) of section 241 (a) of the act; and whether respondent unlawfully reentered the United States.

(c) Order. If deportability as charged pursuant to § 242.6 is established, the special inquiry officer shall order that the respondent be deported under the previous order of deportation in accordance with section 242 (f) of the act, or shall enter such other order as may be required for the appropriate disposition of the case.

(d) Examining officer; additional charges. When an examining officer is assigned to a proceeding under this section and additional charges are lodged against the respondent, the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section shall cease to apply.

12. Paragraph (a) Written decision of § 242.19 Notice of decision is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge of a suboffice".

PART 243—DEPORTATION OF ALIENS IN THE UNITED STATES

Paragraph (c) of § 243.3 Execution of warrants of deportation is amended to read as follows:

(c) Permission to depart when ordered deported. A district director may, in his discretion, permit an alien who has been ordered deported to depart himself from the United States at his own expense and to a destination of his own choice. Any alien who has so left the United States is considered to have been deported in pursuance of law.

PART 245a—ADJUSTMENT OF STATUS OF NONIMMIGRANT TO THAT OF A PERSON ADMITTED FOR PERMANENT RESIDENCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE REFUGEE RELIEF ACT OF 1953, AS AMENDED Paragraph (b) Application denied; further action of § 245a.11 Disposition of case is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

PART 280—IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION OF FINES

Sections 280.1 Notice of intention to fine; administrative proceedings not exclusive, 280.2 Special provisions relating to aircraft, 280.4 Data concerning cost of transportation, 280.11 Notice of intention to fine; procedure, and 280.12 Answer and request or order for interview are amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" wherever they appear.

PART 287—FIELD OFFICERS; POWERS AND DUTIES

1. Section 287.2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 287.2 Criminal violations: investigation and action. Whenever a district director has reason to believe that there has been a violation punishable under any criminal provision of the laws administered or enforced by the Service, he shall cause an investigation to be made immediately of all the pertinent facts and circumstances and shall take or cause to be taken such further action as the results of such investigation warrant.

2. Paragraph (a) Who may issue of § 287.4 Subpena is amended by deleting the words ", officer in charge," wherever they appear.

3. Paragraph (c) Service of § 287.4 is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

4. The last sentence in paragraph (d) Invoking aid of court of § 287.4 is amended to read as follows: "If the subpena was issued by a special inquiry officer, he shall request the district director having administrative jurisdiction over him to take the action referred to in the previous sentence in the event the witness neglects or refuses to appear and testify as directed by the subpena served upon him."

PART 292—ENROLLMENT AND DISBARMENT OF ATTORNEYS AND REPRESENTATIVES

1. Subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of § 292.1 Admission to practice required. is amended to read as follows:

(1) A regional commissioner, district director, officer in charge of a suboffice, the Commissioner, any other officer of the Central Office authorized by the Commissioner to do so, or the Board may permit an attorney or representative to file an appearance in behalf of a party in any case prior to the approval of his application for admission if such attorney or representative files the application concurrently with filing his appearance in the case. If the application is subsequently denied, such attorney or representative shall not thereafter be permitted to practice, in that or any other case, unless and until his admission to practice has been authorized by the Board and subject to such conditions as the Board shall direct.

2. Subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of § 292.1 is amended by deleting the words ", or officer in charge" and inserting the words ", or officer in charge of the suboffice".

3. Subparagraph (4) of paragraph (b) of § 292.1 is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge," and inserting the words "or officer in charge of a suboffice,".

4. The third sentence of paragraph (a) of § 292.3 Applications for admission to practice; decision is amended to read as follows: "An application by an attorney shall be supported by a current certificate from a judge or clerk of the court in which the applicant is licensed to practice, or by a written statement of the district director or officer in charge of a suboffice of the Service certifying that upon inquiry he has ascertained and has personal knowledge that the applicant is so licensed."

5. Paragraph (b) of § 292.3 is amended to read as follows:

(b) The application, in triplicate, shall be transmitted to the Board by either the regional commissioner, district director, or Commissioner.

6. Paragraphs (a) and (c) of § 292.61 Procedure for suspension or disbarment; effect are amended by deleting the word "Commissioner" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "regional commissioner".

7. Paragraph (b) of § 292.61 is amended to read as follows:

(b) The respondent, either with or without counsel, and the regional commissioner, by the Service officer within the purview of § 6.1 (c) of this chapter, shall have the privilege of appearing before the Board for oral argument at a time specified by the Board.

PART 331—SPECIAL CLASSES OF PERSONS WHO MAY BE NATURALIZED: ALIEN ENEMIES

Sections 331.11 Petition for naturalization pending; notice of and objection to final hearing on petition and 331.12 Waiver of 90-day notice are amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" wherever they appear.

PART 334—PETITION FOR NATURALIZATION

1. Sections 334.14 Investigation and report if applicant is sick or disabled, 334.16 Amendment of petition or application for naturalization, and 334.17 Transfer of petition for naturalization are amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" wherever they appear.

2. Section 334.18 is amended to read as follows:

§ 334.18 Withdrawal of petition and failure to prosecute. (a) A petitioner who desires to withdraw his petition for naturalization after the filing thereof shall make request for withdrawal on Form N-404, in duplicate. The original shall be filed with the clerk of court and the duplicate with the office of the Service exercising administrative jurisdiction over the district in which the court is located. At the final hearing upon the petition, the officer in attendance shall inform the court whether the district director consents to the withdrawal of the petition. In cases in which the district director does not consent to the withdrawal, the court shall determine the petition on its merits.

(b) At the final hearing upon a petition for naturalization which the petitioner has failed to prosecute, the officer in attendance shall inform the court whether the district director consents to dismissal of the petition for lack of prosecution. In cases in which the district director does not move that the petition be dismissed for lack of prosecution, the court shall determine the petition on its merits.

PART 334a—DECLARATION OF INTENTION

Section 334a.15 Disposition is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

PART 335—PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION ON PETITIONS FOR NATURALIZATION

Section 335.11 Preliminary examination pursuant to section 335 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" and "or the officer in charge" wherever they appear.

PART 335b—PROOF OF QUALIFICATIONS FOR NATURALIZATION: WITNESSES; DEPOSITIONS

1. Section 335b.11 Substitution of witnesses; procedure is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

2. Paragraph (a) In the United States of § 335b.12 Depositions; procedure is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" appearing in the third sentence and by amending the last sentence to read as follows: "Depositions taken under this section shall be sent to the district director having administrative supervision over the territory in which the petition is pending and by him forwarded to the clerk of the naturalization court prior to the final hearing, for filing with the petition."

PART 336—PROCEEDINGS BEFORE NATURALIZATION COURT

Sections 336.11 Notice to Service; personal representation of Government at naturalization proceedings, 336.15 Final hearing; sickness or disability of petitioner; investigation, and 336.16 Final hearing; waiver of 30-day period are amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

PART 337—OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

Section 337.11 Oath of renunciation and allegiance; sickness or disability of petitioner is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

PART 338—CERTIFICATE OF NATURALIZATION

Section 338.14 Delivery of certificates is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge".

PART 339—FUNCTIONS AND DUTIES OF CLERKS OF NATURALIZATION COURTS

1. Section 339.2 Monthly reports is amended by deleting the words ", or officer in charge," and "or officer in charge" appearing therein.

2. Section 339.3 Relinquishment of naturalization jurisdiction is amended by deleting the words "or officer in charge" wherever they appear.

PART 340—REVOCATION OF NATURALIZATION

The second sentence of § 340.11 Investigation and report is amended to read as follows: "If the district director is satisfied that a prima facie showing has been made that grounds for revocation exist, he shall cause an investigation to be made and report the facts in writing to the regional commissioner with a recommendation as to whether revocation proceedings should be instituted."

(Sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173; 8 U. S. C. 1103)

This order shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Compliance with the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) as to notice of proposed rule making and delayed effective date is unnecessary in this instance because the rules prescribed by the order, other than those which relieve restrictions and are clearly advantageous to persons affected thereby, relate to agency management and procedure.

Dated: April 30, 1956.

J. M. SWING,
Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 22]

PART 40—SCHEDULED INTERSTATE AIR CARRIER CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES

LANDING MINIMUMS; STRAIGHT-IN APPROACHES USING ILS OR PAR FACILITIES

The purpose of this supplement is to delete the footnote appearing in § 40.406–2 authorizing approval of ILS or PAR landing minimums of 200–½ without approach lights when the available runway length exceeds by 3,000 feet the landing distance required by the aircraft performance requirements of Part 40 of this subchapter, and high intensity runway lights are available.

Approval of such minimums in the future will require specific deviation in accordance with § 40.406–2 (a) of this part.

The following revision is hereby adopted:

Section 40.406–2 (c) (6) is revised by deleting the footnote and the reference thereto from subdivisions (i) (e) and (ii) (c).

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This supplement shall become effective May 5, 1956.

[Supp. 25]

PART 41—CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES FOR SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER OPERATIONS OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL LIMITS OF THE UNITED STATES

LANDING MINIMUMS; STRAIGHT-IN APPROACHES USING ILS OR GCA FACILITIES

The purpose of this supplement is to delete the footnote appearing in § 41.1–4 authorizing approval of ILS or GCA landing minimums of 200–½ without approach lights when the available runway length exceeds by 3,000 feet the landing distance required by the aircraft performance requirements of Part 41 of this subchapter, and high intensity runway lights are available.

Approval of such minimums will be handled in the future by a request to the Administrator for a deviation from § 41.1–4.

The following revision is hereby adopted:

Section 41.1–4 (c) (3) is revised by deleting the footnote and the reference thereto from subdivisions (i) (a) (5) and (ii) (c).

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This supplement shall become effective May 5, 1956.

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

[Amdt. 7]

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF CIVIL AIRWAYS

ALTERATIONS

The civil airway alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Panel, and are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest and therefore is not required.

Part 600 is amended as follows:

1. Section 600.18 Green civil airway No. 8 (Cold Bay, Alaska, to Northway, Alaska) is amended between Kenai, Alaska, radio range station and Gulkana, Alaska, radio range station to read: "Kenai, Alaska, radio range station; the intersection of the northeast course of the Kenai, Alaska, radio range and the west course of the Anchorage (Merrill), Alaska, radio range to the Anchorage (Merrill), Alaska, radio range station. From the Anchorage, Alaska, radio range station via the intersection of the north course of the Anchorage (Merrill), Alaska, radio range and the southeast course of the Skwentna, Alaska, radio range; the intersection of the southeast course of the Skwentna, Alaska, radio range and the northeast course of the Anchorage, Alaska, radio range; Gulkana, Alaska, radio range station;".

2. Section 600.241 is amended to read:

PART 608—RESTRICTED AREAS

ALTERATION

The restricted area alteration appearing hereinafter has been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Panel and is adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Since a military function of the United States is involved, compliance with the notice, procedure and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is not required.

Part 608 is amended as follows:

1. In § 608.48, a MCAAS Beaufort, South Carolina, area (R–499), is added to read:

| Name and location (chart) | Description by geographical coordinates | Designated altitudes | Time of designation | Controlling agency |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| MCAAS Beaufort, S. C. (R–499) (Savannah). | Within a 3 nautical mile radius of a point at latitude 32°31′50″, longitude 80°09′50″; excluding revised Warning Area W–132″. NOTE: To be used only during VFR weather conditions. | Surface to unlimited. | Daylight hours only. | MCAAS, Beaufort, S. C. |

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This amendment shall become effective on May 31, 1956.

PART 13—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

YARDLEY OF LONDON, INC.

Subpart—Discriminating in price under section 2, Clayton Act, as amended—Furnishing services or facilities for processing, handling, etc., under 2 (e): § 13.835 "Demonstrators".

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 2, 38 Stat. 730, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 13) [Cease and desist order, Yardley of London, Inc., Union City, N. J., Docket 6442, April 19, 1956]

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission—charging a corporate manufacturer of soaps, cosmetics, perfumes, etc., with principal place of business in Union City, N. J., with discriminating in price through furnishing demonstrator services to some customers when not according such services on proportionally equal terms to all their competitors—and an agreement between the parties providing for the entry of a consent order.

On this basis, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist, which became, on April 19, 1956, the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent, Yardley of London, Inc., a corporation, its officers, employees, agents and representatives, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the sale or offering for sale, of cosmetics, beauty aids, and toilet preparations in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act as amended, do forthwith cease and desist from:

Furnishing or contributing to the furnishing of demonstrator services to any purchaser of its products when such services are not accorded on proportionally equal terms to all other purchasers who resell such products in competition with purchasers who receive such demonstrator services.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 19, 1956.

AMERICAN HOSPITAL AND LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Subpart—Advertising falsely or misleadingly: § 13.155 Prices: Adequacy and additional charges unmentioned; § 13.260 Terms and conditions: Insurance coverage. Subpart—Misrepresenting oneself and goods—Goods: § 13.1760 Terms and conditions: Insurance coverage; [1] [Misrepresenting oneself and goods]—Prices: § 13.1778 Additional costs unmentioned.[1]

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, The American Hospital and Life Insurance Company, San Antonio, Tex., Docket 6237, April 24, 1956]

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission—charging that a corporation engaged in selling life, health, and accident insurance from its principal place of business in San Antonio, Texas, to purchasers in 14 States through its agents in the various States, represented falsely by statements in its brochures sent to its said agents and used by them as aids in selling the policies to which they referred (1) that certain policies provided indemnification for loss of time due to any and all sickness or illness and to all or any accidents; (2) that a certain policy provided indemnity up to a maximum sum of $150.00 for an operation; and (3) that maternity benefits under the policy were in addition to payments for room service and hospital expenses—respondent's answer and motion for dismissal which was denied, testimony and evidence, counsel's proposed findings and conclusions, and additional motions for dismissal filed by respondent.

On this basis, the hearing examiner filed his initial decision dismissing the complaint. From this, counsel in support of the complaint appealed, and the Commission in due course rendered its decision granting the appeal and vacating and setting aside the initial decision.

Thereafter, the Commission made its "Findings as to the Facts,[2] Conclusions [3] and Order", dated April 24, 1956, which, together with the decision on the appeal, were in lieu of the initial decision of the hearing examiner.

[2] Filed as part of the original document.

The order to cease and desist, including the order for compliance, is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent, The American Hospital and Life Insurance Company, a corporation, and its officers, agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of any accident, health, hospital or surgical insurance policy, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

1. That said policy provides for indemnification against losses due to sickness or accident, unless a statement of all the conditions, exceptions, restrictions and limitations affecting the indemnification actually provided are set forth conspicuously, prominently, and in sufficiently close conjunction with said representations as will fully relieve it of all capacity to deceive.

2. That said policy provides for payment in full or in any specified amount or for payment up to any specified amount for any medical, surgical or hospital service, unless the policy provides that the actual cost to the insured for that service will be paid in all cases up to the amount represented, or unless full disclosure of the schedule of payments for which the policy provides is made conspicuously, prominently, and in sufficiently close conjunction with said representation as will fully relieve it of all capacity to deceive.

3. That said policy provides for the payment of certain benefits in addition to other benefits when such is not the fact.

It is further ordered, That the respondents herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 24, 1956.

TITLE 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

Chapter I—Bureau of Customs, Department of the Treasury

[T. D. 54080]

PART 17—PROTESTS AND REAPPRAISEMENTS

POWER OF ATTORNEY TO FILE PROTEST

Under the present regulations, when a protest is filed by an agent or attorney for whom no power of attorney to act has been received by the collector, he is required to make an investigation to determine the authority of such person. If it is determined that the filing of the protest was unauthorized, the protest is not reviewed by the collector, but is forwarded to the court with a statement to this effect.

Since the final determination whether a protest has been validly filed is made by the court, much time and effort can be saved if protests of this type are reviewed by the collector and forwarded to the court in the usual manner and the Assistant Attorney General requested to move for a dismissal of the protest for lack of timely authority to file.

To put this procedure in effect, § 17.2 (a) of the Customs Regulations is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 17.2 Power of attorney to file protest. (a) Except as hereinafter provided in this paragraph, no protest signed by an agent or attorney shall be granted or denied by the collector unless there has been filed or is filed with the protest in the collector's office a power of attorney on customs Form 5295 or 5295–A or other form as explicit in its terms as is the prescribed customs form, authorizing such agent or attorney to make, sign, and file the protest. Such powers of attorney issued by a partnership shall be limited to a period not to exceed two years from the date of receipt thereof by the collector. All other powers of attorney may be granted for an unlimited period. Any power of attorney shall be subject to revocation at any time by written notice given to and received by the collector. When a protest is filed by an agent or attorney not named in a power of attorney as required by this section, it shall be numbered and stamped with the date of receipt in order to establish whether it was filed within the period prescribed by section 514, Tariff Act of 1930. All information customarily furnished to the United States Customs Court and the Assistant Attorney General in the case of a valid protest should be supplied in the usual manner in connection with the merits of the purported protest together with a request to the Assistant Attorney General to move the United States Customs Court to dismiss the purported protest because of the lack of timely authority of the agent or attorney to file the protest in behalf of the principal. The purported protest shall not be granted or denied by the collector but shall be transmitted, together with the entry and accompanying papers and all exhibits connected therewith, to the United States Customs Court, with a communication explaining to the court that the agent or attorney who filed the purported protest was not named in a power of attorney, and that the collector has not reviewed and modified or affirmed the protested decision as required by section 515, Tariff Act of 1930, for the reason that it has not been established that the protest was filed by a person authorized by section 514, Tariff Act of 1930.

[3] Majority opinion of the Commission, and joint dissenting opinion of Commissioners Gwynne and Mason, and additional views of Commissioner Mason are filed as part of the original document.

PART 120—TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

TOLERANCES FOR RESIDUES OF HEPTACHLOR

A petition was filed with the Food and Drug Administration requesting the establishment of tolerances for residues of heptachlor in or on carrots, peaches, and radishes. The petitioner subsequently withdrew from the petition the request for a tolerance on peaches.

The Secretary of Agriculture has certified that this pesticide chemical is useful for the purposes for which tolerances are being established.

After consideration of the data submitted in the petition and other relevant material which show that the tolerance established in this order will protect the public health, and by virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 408 (d) (2), 68 Stat. 512; 21 U. S. C. 346a (d) (2)) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (21 CFR 120.7 (g)), the regulations for tolerances for pesticide chemicals in or on raw agricultural commodities (21 CFR Part 120) are amended by adding to § 120.104 the raw agricultural commodities carrots and radishes, so that as amended the section reads as follows:

§ 120.104 Tolerances for residues of heptachlor (1,4,5,6,7,8,8-heptachloro-3a,4,7,7a-tetrahydro-4,7-methanoindene). The tolerance of 0.1 part per million for residues of heptachlor (see § 120.101 (e) (61)) is extended to include the following raw agricultural commodities: Alfalfa, clover, sweet clover; beets (including sugar beets); cabbage, carrots, brussels sprouts, kohlrabi, cauliflower; corn; cotton; pasture and range grass; onions; peanuts; radishes; sugarcane; sweetpotatoes; turnips with tops and rutabagas (yellow turnips) without tops.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may, at any time prior to the thirtieth day from the effective date thereof, file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington 25, D. C., written objections thereto. Objections shall show wherein the person filing will be adversely affected by this order, specify with particularity the provisions of the order deemed objectionable and reasonable grounds for the objections, and request a public hearing upon the objections. Objections may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof. All documents shall be filed in quintuplicate.

Effective date. This order shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Section 189.6 is amended to read as follows:

§ 189.6 Leases for minerals other than oil and gas. Leases for minerals other than oil and gas shall be advertised for bids as prescribed in § 189.4 unless the Commissioner grants to the Indian owners written permission to negotiate for a lease. Negotiated leases, accompanied by proper bond and other supporting papers, shall be filed with the Superintendent of the appropriate Indian Agency within 30 days after such permission shall have been granted by the Commissioner to negotiate the lease. The appropriate Area Director is authorized in proper cases to grant a reasonable extension of this period prior to its expiration. The right is reserved to the Secretary of the Interior to direct that negotiated leases be rejected and that they be advertised for bids. [Circular 1954]

PART 115—REVESTED OREGON AND CALIFORNIA AND RECONVEYED COOS BAY WAGON ROAD GRANT LANDS IN OREGON

PERMITS FOR RIGHTS-OF-WAY FOR LOGGING ROADS

1. Section 115.166 (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 115.166 Agreements and arbitration between permittee and licensee respecting compensation payable by licensee to permittee for use of road. (a) In the event the United States exercises the rights received from a permittee hereunder to license a person to remove forest products over any road, right-of-way, or lands of the permittee or of his successor in interest, to the extent that such matters are not covered by an agreement under § 115.165, such licensee will be required to pay the permittee or his successor in interest such compensation and to furnish him such security, and to carry such liability insurance as the permittee or his successor in interest and the licensee may agree upon. If the parties do not agree, then upon the written request of either party delivered to the other party, the matter shall be referred to and finally determined by arbitration in accordance with the procedures established by § 115.169. During the pendency of such arbitration proceedings, the licensee shall be entitled to use the road, right-of-way, or lands involved upon payment, or tender thereof validly maintained, to the permittee of an amount to be determined by the authorized officer and upon the furnishing to the permittee of a corporate surety bond in an amount equal to the difference between the amount fixed by the authorized officer and the amount sought by the permittee. The licensee shall also, as a condition of use in such circumstances, maintain such liability insurance in such amounts covering any additional hazard and risk which might accrue by reason of the licensee's use of the road, as the authorized officer may prescribe.

2. Section 115.171 (b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 115.171 Payment to the United States for road use. * * *

(b) In addition, where the permittee receives a right to use a road constructed or acquired by the United States, which is under the administrative jurisdiction of the Bureau of Land Management, he will be required to pay to the United States for the use thereof, except where he transports forest products purchased from the United States through the Bureau, a fee to be determined by the authorized officer who shall base his determination upon the amortization of the replacement costs for a road of the type involved, together with a reasonable interest allowance on such costs, plus costs of maintenance if furnished by the United States and any extraordinary costs peculiar to the construction or acquisition of the particular road. In arriving at the amortization item, the authorized officer shall take into account the probable period of time, past and present, during which such road may be in existence and the volume of timber which has been moved and the volume of timber, currently merchantable, which probably will be moved from all sources over such road. The authorized officer may fix the rate at which payments shall be made by the permittee during his use of the road: Provided, however, That this paragraph shall not apply where payment for such road use to another permittee is required under §§ 115.154 to 115.179: Provided further, That where the United States is entitled to charge a fee for the use of a road, the authorized officer may waive such fee if the permittee grants to the United States and its licenses the right to use, without charge, permittee's roads of approximately equal value as determined under the methods provided in this paragraph and paragraph (b) of § 115.166, as may be applicable.

3. Section 115.174 (a) is amended by adding at the end thereof two new subparagraphs (10) and (11) as follows:

§ 115.174 Terms and conditions of permit. (a) * * *

(10) Upon request of an authorized officer, to submit to the Bureau within 30 days with permission to publish, the detailed terms and conditions, including the fee which the permittee will ask as a condition of such licensee's use for the removal of forest products over any road or right-of-way which the United States and its licensees have acquired a right to use under § 115.162.

(11) To grant to the United States, upon request of an authorized officer, in lieu of the rights-of-way across legal subdivisions granted pursuant to § 115.162, such permanent easements on specifically described locations as may be necessary to permit the Bureau to construct roads on such legal subdivisions with appropriated funds: Provided, That at the time of the grant of such permanent easements the Bureau shall release, except for necessary connecting spur roads, the rights-of-way across such legal subdivisions previously granted: Provided further, That if the United States builds a road on such permanent easements it shall pay for any timber of the permittee which is cut, removed, or destroyed in accordance with § 115.167. The authorized officer shall waive the requirement under this paragraph, however, if the permittee makes a satisfactory showing to the authorized officer that he does not own a sufficient interest in the land to grant a permanent easement, and that he has negotiated therefor in good faith without success.

ALASKA

REVOKING EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 8789 OF JUNE 14, 1941, WHICH RESERVED CERTAIN LANDS IN ALASKA FOR USE OF WAR DEPARTMENT FOR MILITARY PURPOSES

By virtue of the authority vested in the President, and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

Executive Order No. 8789 of June 14, 1941, reserving certain lands in Alaska for use of the War Department for military purposes, which was partially revoked by Executive Order No. 9153-A of April 30, 1942, and Public Land Orders No. 917 of October 6, 1953, and No. 1245 of November 3, 1955, is hereby revoked in its entirety. The following lands are released from withdrawal by this order:

KODIAK ISLAND

LONG ISLAND

All of Long Island and the small islands and rocks adjacent thereto. United States Coast and Geodetic Survey Chart No. 8570, March 1910, shows Long Island situated between 57°44'30" and 57°47'30" N. latitudes and between 152°13' and 152°19' W. longitudes.

The area described, including both public and non-public lands, aggregates 1,320 acres.

KALSIN BAY AREA

Beginning at a point west of Isthmus Island on line of mean high tide on west shore of Kalsin Bay, 57°38'25" N. latitude, 152° 25'48" W. longitude, as shown on United States Coast and Geodetic Survey Chart No. 8570, March 1910.

Thence from said initial point,

West, 4 miles, across Kodiak Island, to a point;
North, 1¼ miles, more or less, to a point on the south boundary of the naval reserve described in Executive Order No. 8278, October 28, 1939;
East, along south boundary of the naval reserve to line of mean high tide on Middle Bay;
Thence along line of mean high tide with meanders of Middle Bay, Chiniak Bay and Kalsin Bay to the place of beginning.

The area described, including both public and non-public lands, aggregates 3,450 acres.

The lands released from withdrawal by this order shall not be subject to application, location, settlement, entry, or other forms of appropriation under the public-land laws until further order of an authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND GRADES

§ 52.1221 Product description. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice is the frozen product of concentrated, unfermented juice obtained from sound, mature grapefruit (Citrus paradisi) of the white fleshed varieties only. The fruit is prepared by sorting and by washing prior to extraction of the juice to assure a clean product. Upon extraction of such juice, it is concentrated; and single-strength grapefruit juice is admixed to the concentrate. The concentrated grapefruit juice is packed in accordance with good commercial practice and is frozen and maintained at temperatures necessary for the preservation of the product.

§ 52.1222 Styles of frozen concentrated grapefruit juice—(a) Style I; unsweetened. The Brix value of the finished concentrate is not less than 38 degrees nor more than 42 degrees.

(b) Style II; sweetened. The Brix value of the finished concentrate is not less than 38 degrees nor more than 48 degrees. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice of this style contains not less than 3.47 pounds of soluble grapefruit solids per gallon and additional nutritive sweetening ingredient(s).

§ 52.1223 Grades of frozen concentrated grapefruit juice. (a) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of frozen concentrated grapefruit juice which reconstitutes properly and of which the reconstituted juice possesses the appearance of fresh grapefruit juice; possesses a very good color; is practically free from defects; possesses a very good flavor; and scores not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(b) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Choice" is the quality of frozen concentrated grapefruit juice which reconstitutes properly and of which the reconstituted juice possesses a good color; is reasonably free from defects; possesses a good flavor; and scores not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(c) "Substandard" is the quality of frozen concentrated grapefruit juice that fails to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice.

FILL OF CONTAINER

§ 52.1224 Recommended fill of container. The recommended fill of container is not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. It is recommended that each container be as full of frozen concentrated grapefruit juice as practicable without impairment of quality.

FACTORS OF QUALITY

§ 52.1225 Ascertaining the grade. In addition to considering other requirements outlined in the standards the following quality factors are evaluated:

(a) Factors not rated by score points. (1) Faculty of reconstituting properly.

(2) Appearance of fresh juice.

(b) Factors rated by score points. The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

| Factors: | Points |
|---|---|
| Color | 40 |
| Defects | 20 |
| Flavor | 40 |
| Total score | 100 |

§ 52.1226 Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive. (For example, "17 to 20 points" means 17, 18, 19, or 20 points.)

§ 52.1227 Color—(a) (A) classification. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice of which the reconstituted juice possesses a very good color may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Very good color" means that the color is bright and typical of freshly extracted grapefruit juice and is free from any trace of browning.

(b) (B) classification. If the reconstituted juice possesses a "good color" a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule), "Good color" means that the color is typical of freshly extracted grapefruit juice which may be slightly dull or show traces of browning but is not off color for any reason.

(c) (SStd.) classification. If the reconstituted juice fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section, a score of 0 to 27 points may be given. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above Substandard regardless of the total score for the product, (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.1228 Defects—(a) General. The factor of defects refers to the degree of freedom from juice cells and pulp and from seeds or portions thereof, dark specks, and other defects in the reconstituted juice.

(b) (A) classification. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice of which the reconstituted juice is practically free from defects may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Practically free from defects" means that there may be present:

(1) Juice cells only in such amounts as do not materially detract from the appearance or drinking quality of the juice;

(2) Not more than 8 percent free and suspended pulp;

(3) Practically no seeds or portions thereof that could not pass readily through round perforations of ⅛ inch in diameter;

(4) Only such small seeds or portions thereof that could pass through round perforations of ⅛ inch in diameter as do not materially detract from the appearance or drinking quality of the juice; and

(5) Other defects that are not more than slightly objectionable.

(c) (B) classification. If the reconstituted juice is reasonably free from defects a score of 14 to 16 points may be given. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that there may be present:

(1) Juice cells only in such amounts as do not seriously detract from the appearance or drinking quality of the juice;

(2) Not more than 10 percent free and suspended pulp;

(3) Practically no seeds or portions thereof that could not pass readily through round perforations of ⅛ inch in diameter;

(4) Only such small seeds or portions thereof that could pass through round perforations of ⅛ inch in diameter as do not seriously detract from the appearance or drinking quality of the juice; and

(5) Other defects that are not materially objectionable.

(d) (SStd.) classification. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice that fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above Substandard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.1229 Flavor—(a) (A) classification. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice of which the reconstituted juice possesses a very good flavor may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Very good flavor" means that the flavor is fine, distinct, and substantially typical of freshly extracted grapefruit juice with not more than a trace of bitterness. To score in this classification frozen concentrated grapefruit juice shall meet the following requirements for the respective style:

(1) Style I; unsweetened. The ratio of Brix value to acid is not less than 9 to 1 nor more than 14 to 1 and the recoverable oil content is not less than 0.010 ml. nor more than 0.050 ml. per 100 grams.

(2) Style II; sweetened. The ratio of Brix value to acid is not less than 10 to 1 nor more than 13 to 1 and the recoverable oil content is not less than 0.010 ml. nor more than 0.050 ml. per 100 grams.

(b) (B) classification. If the reconstituted juice possesses a good flavor a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Good flavor" means that the flavor is fairly typical of freshly extracted grapefruit juice and is free from abnormal flavors and off flavors of any kind. To score in this classification frozen concentrated grapefruit juice shall meet the following requirements for the respective style:

(1) Style I; unsweetened. The ratio of Brix value to acid is not less than 7 to 1 nor more than 16 to 1 and the recoverable oil content is not more than 0.050 ml. per 100 grams.

(2) Style II; sweetened. The ratio of Brix value to acid is not less than 8 to 1 nor more than 13 to 1 and the recoverable oil content is not more than 0.050 ml. per 100 grams.

(c) (SStd.) classification. If the frozen concentrated grapefruit juice fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section a score of 0 to 27 points may be given. Frozen concentrated grapefruit juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above Substandard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

EXPLANATIONS AND METHODS OF ANALYSES

§ 52.1230 Definitions of terms as used in these standards, and methods of analyses—(a) Reconstituted Juice. "Reconstituted juice" means the product obtained by mixing thoroughly 3 parts by volume of distilled water and one part by volume of frozen concentrated grapefruit juice.

(b) Reconstitutes properly. "Reconstitutes properly" means that the concentrate goes into solution readily; and that in approximately 250 ml. of the reconstituted juice, after standing four (4) hours at a temperature of not less than 68 degrees Fahrenheit in a clear glass cylinder (approximately 1¼ inches in diameter), there may be a noticeable separation of suspended matter but any resulting zone of greater clarity shall be definitely turbid and not clear or transparent.

(c) Acid. "Acid" means the percent by weight of total acidity, calculated as anhydrous citric acid. Total acidity is determined by titration with standard sodium hydroxide solution, using phenolphthalein as indicator.

(d) Brix value. "Brix value" is the refractometric sucrose value determined on the thawed concentrate in accordance with the refractometric method for sugars and sugar products, outlined in the "Official Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists" and to which the applicable correction for acid is added:

TABLE I—CORRECTIONS FOR OBTAINING BRIX VALUE[1]

| Citric acid, anhydrous (percent by weight) | Correction to be added to refractometer sucrose value to obtain degrees Brix value |
|---|---|
| 2.0 | 0.39 |
| 2.2 | .43 |
| 2.4 | .47 |
| 2.6 | .51 |
| 2.8 | .54 |
| 3.0 | .58 |
| 3.2 | .62 |
| 3.4 | .66 |
| 3.6 | .70 |
| 3.8 | .74 |
| 4.0 | .78 |
| 4.2 | .81 |
| 4.4 | .85 |
| 4.6 | .89 |
| 4.8 | .93 |
| 5.0 | .97 |

(e) Recoverable oil. "Recoverable oil" is determined by the following method:

(1) Equipment. Oil separatory trap similar to either of those illustrated in Figure 1 or Figure 2.[1]

Gas burner or hot plate.
Ringstand and clamps.
Rubber tubing.
Three-liter narrow-neck flask.

(2) Procedure. (i) Place exactly 400 grams of the thawed concentrate, mixed with water to approximately two-liters, in a three-liter flask and insert in the separatory trap. Close the stopcock, place distilled water in the graduated tube, run cold water through the condenser from the bottom to top, and bring the solution to a boil. Continue boiling for one hour at the rate of approximately 50 drops per minute.

(ii) By means of the stopcock, lower the oil into the graduated portion of the separatory trap, remove the trap from the flask, allow it to cool, and record the amount of oil recovered.

(iii) The number of milliliters of oil recovered divided by 4 equals the volume of recoverable oil per 100 grams of concentrate.

(f) Free and suspended pulp. "Free and suspended pulp" means particles of membrane, core, peel and other similar extraneous material that settle out on centrifuging by the following method:

(1) Skim floating fruit cells and pulp from the sample of reconstituted juice, and

(2) Fill graduated centrifuge tubes, of a capacity of 50 ml. with the skimmed reconstituted grapefruit juice and place in a suitable centrifuge. Adjust the speed according to diameter, as indicated in Table II, and centrifuge for exactly 10 minutes. As used herein, "diameter" means the overall distance between the bottoms of opposing centrifuge tubes in operating position. After centrifuging, the milliliter reading at the top of the layer of pulp in the tube is multiplied by 2 to give the percentage of pulp.

TABLE II

| Diameter | Approximate revolutions per minute |
|---|---|
| 10 inches | 1,609 |
| 10¼ inches | 1,570 |
| 11 inches | 1,534 |

LOT CERTIFICATION - TOLERANCES

§ 52.1231 Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (a) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of frozen concentrated grapefruit juice the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if, (1) such containers meet all of the applicable grade requirements of the factors of quality that are not rated by score points; (2) all containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification; and (3) with respect to those factors which are rated by score points:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers fails to meet the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(ii) None of the containers falls more than four points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(iii) None of the containers falls more than one grade below the grade indicated by the average of such total scores; and

(iv) The average score of all containers for any factor subject to a limiting rule is within the score range of that factor for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores of the containers comprising the sample.

SHELL EGGS

GRADING AND INSPECTION AND UNITED STATES STANDARDS, GRADES AND WEIGHT CLASSES

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance of an amendment to the regulations governing the grading and inspection of shell eggs and United States standards, grades and weight classes for shell eggs (7 CFR, Part 56), issued pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.).

The proposed amendment changes the form of application for grading service by incorporating most of the provisions, including the fees and charges which are currently set forth in the application form, into the main portion of the regulations. There are no substantive changes in the proposed amendment with the exception that the hourly charge for making initial surveys in connection with inauguration of service would be raised from $4.00 to $5.00 per hour.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments in connection with this amendment should file the same, in triplicate, with the Chief of the Standardization and Marketing Practices Branch, Poultry Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 2095, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days following publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed amendment is as follows:

1. Delete the word "contract" in the definition of "Grading" or "grading service" in § 56.2 Terms defined, and substitute in lieu thereof the word "resident".

2. Change paragraph (b) of § 56.21 How application may be made, to read as follows:

(b) On a resident grading basis. An application for continuous grading service on a resident grading basis to be rendered in an official plant must be made in writing on forms approved by the Administrator and filed with the Administrator.

3. Change § 56.47 Fees for appeal grading, to read as follows:

§ 56.47 Fees for appeal grading. The fees to be charged for any appeal grading shall be double the fee specified in the grading certificate from which the appeal is taken: Provided, That, the fee for any appeal grading requested by the United States, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, shall be the same as set forth in the grading certificate from which the appeal is taken. If the fee on the certificate from which the appeal is taken is based on the provisions of § 56.52, then the fee for such appeal grading shall be double the amount specified in § 56.60 for the applicable volume of product appeal graded. If the result of any appeal grading discloses that a material error was made in the grading appealed from, no fee shall be required.

4. Change § 56.52 On a contract basis to read as follows:

§ 56.52 On a resident grading basis—(a) Charges. The charges for grading of shell eggs shall be paid by the applicant for the service and shall include such of the items listed in this section as are applicable. Payment for the full cost of the grading service rendered to the applicant shall be made by the applicant to the Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture (hereinafter referred to as "AMS") not later than fifteen (15) days from the date of billing. Such full costs shall comprise such of the items listed in this section as may be due and may be included, from time to time, in the bill or bills covered the period or periods during which the grading service may be rendered. A charge will be made by AMS in the amount of one (1) percent per month or fraction thereof of any amounts remaining unpaid after thirty (30) days from the date of bill.

(1) A charge of $5.00 per hour plus a charge to cover travel and per diem costs incurred by AMS in making the initial survey of the designated plant and its premises prior to the performance, by AMS, of the grading service;

(2) A charge of $100 for the final survey and inauguration of the grading service including the assignment of one grader and one alternate grader, provided they are installed at the same time;

(3) A charge of $50 for each additional grader or replacement of a previously assigned grader to the designated plant; Provided, That, in the sole discretion of the Service no such charge will be made for a replacement when such replacement is made by the use of a regular employee of the Service, or when the replacement is made necessary by the transfer of an employee of the Service for the sole benefit of the Service;

(4) A charge equal to the salary cost paid to each grader assigned to the applicant's plant by AMS including an amount for annual leave and sick leave; Provided, That, no charge is to be made for salary cost of any assigned grader of the designated plant while temporarily reassigned by AMS to perform grading service for other than the applicant, except when the assigned grader is performing service for the Department of Defense on products accepted for delivery by the applicant to the Department of Defense, in which case the applicant will be given credit for the service rendered based on a formula concurred in jointly by the Departments of Defense and Agriculture;

(5) A charge equal to the salary cost, travel expenses and per diem paid by AMS to any grader whose services are required for relief purposes when regular graders are on annual leave or sick leave;

(6) A charge for the actual cost to AMS of any travel or per diem incurred by each grader assigned to the plant while in the performance of grading service rendered the applicant;

(7) A charge, at the sole discretion of AMS of an amount not in excess of the actual cost to AMS of the travel (including the cost of movement of household goods and dependents) and per diem with respect to each grader or inspector who is transferred from an official station to the designated plant;

(8) A charge, included in salary cost, equal to the Employer's tax imposed under the United States Internal Revenue Code (26 U. S. C.) for Old Age and Survivors Benefits under the Social Security System, and an amount equal to the cost to AMS for insurance as provided in the Federal Employees' Group Life Insurance Act of 1954.

(9) An administrative service charge based upon the aggregate number of thirty dozen cases of shell eggs handled in the plant per month and computed in accordance with the following table:

COMPUTATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICE CHARGES

|---|---|
| 0 to 500 cases | $25.00 |
| 501 to 1,750 cases | 33.25 |
| 1,751 to 2,750 cases | 38.00 |
| 2,751 to 3,750 cases | 42.75 |
| 3,751 to 5,000 cases | 47.50 |
| 5,001 to 6,000 cases | 52.25 |
| 6,001 to 7,000 cases | 57.00 |
| 7,001 to 8,000 cases | 61.75 |
| 8,001 to 9,000 cases | 66.50 |
| 9,001 to 10,000 cases | 71.25 |
| 10,001 to 11,000 cases | 76.00 |
| 11,001 to 12,000 cases | 80.75 |
| 12,001 to 13,000 cases | 85.50 |
| 13,001 to 14,000 cases | 90.25 |
| 14,001 and over | 95.00 |

(10) A charge of $5 per hour plus actual cost to AMS for per diem and travel cost incurred in rendering service not specifically covered in this section such as surveys in addition to the initial and final.

(11) A charge equal to 7 percent of the salary paid by AMS to each grader exclusive of one regular grader whose salary is paid by AMS.

(b) Other provisions. (1) The applicant shall designate in writing the employees of the applicant who will be required and authorized to furnish each grader with such information as may be necessary for the performance of the grading service.

(2) AMS will provide as available an adequate number of graders to perform the grading service.

(3) At the sole discretion of AMS, graders may be either Federal or State employees or licensed employees of the applicant.

(4) The grading service shall be provided at the designated plant and shall be continued until the service is suspended, withdrawn, or terminated by:

(i) Mutual consent;

(ii) Thirty (30) days' written notice, by either the applicant or AMS specifying the date of suspension, withdrawal, or termination;

(iii) One (1) day's written notice by AMS to the applicant if the applicant fails to honor any invoice within thirty (30) days after date of invoice covering the cost of the grading service; or

(iv) Termination of the services pursuant to the provisions of the following subparagraph (v) of this paragraph;

(v) Grading service shall be terminated by AMS at any time AMS, acting pursuant to any applicable laws, rules and regulations, debars the applicant from receiving any further benefits of the service.

(5) Federally employed graders will be required to confine their activities to those duties necessary in the rendering of grading service and such closely related activities as may be approved by AMS; Provided, That, in no instance will the Federally employed grader assume the duties of management.

5. Delete the word "contract" in § 56.56 Grading certificate issuance, and substitute in lieu thereof the word "resident".

6. Delete the words "or contract" in the last sentence of § 56.75.

7. Change § 56.100 to read as follows:

§ 56.100 Application for grading service with respect to shell eggs.

Application is hereby made, in accordance with the applicable provisions of the regulations (7 CFR Part 56) governing the grading and inspection of shell eggs and United States standards, grades and weight classes for shell eggs, for shell egg grading service at the following designated plant:

Name of plant _____
Street address _____
City and State _____

In making this application the applicant agrees to comply with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid regulations (including but not being limited to such instructions governing grading of products as may be issued, from time to time, by the Administrator). This application is made for grading service to be performed on a resident grading basis pursuant to § 56.52 and such other provisions of the aforesaid regulations which are applicable.

POULTRY AND EDIBLE PRODUCTS THEREOF

GRADING AND INSPECTION AND UNITED STATES CLASSES, STANDARDS, AND GRADES

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance of an amendment to the regulations governing the grading and inspection of poultry and edible products thereof and United States classes, standards, and grades with respect thereto (7 CFR Part 70), issued pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.).

The proposed amendment would change the identification mark permitted to be used on bulk packages of dressed poultry processed under the sanitation program; make certain limitations pertaining to the use of grade terminology on packages bearing the inspection mark in instances where the product has not been officially graded; and change the application form for grading service by incorporating most of the provisions now contained in the application into Subpart A of the regulations under the general heading of fees and charges. The amendment would also establish as a prerequisite to using the inspection mark, a minimum meat content of poultry pies. A similar proposal was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 27, 1955 (20 F. R. 2799), but final action thereon was delayed for further consideration. The industry has recently requested further action on the matter and the proposal is included herein in essentially the same form as originally presented.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this amendment should file the same, in triplicate, with the Chief of the Standardization and Marketing Practices Branch, Poultry Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 2095, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days following publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed amendment is as follows:

1. Delete the word "contract" in the definition of "Grading or grading service" in § 70.1 Definitions, and substitute in lieu thereof the word "resident".

2. Change the definition of "Potable water" in § 70.1 Definitions, to read as follows:

"Potable water" means water that has been approved by the State health authority as safe for drinking and suitable for food processing.

3. Add a new definition in § 70.1 Definitions, which reads as follows:

"Rock cornish game hen" or "cornish game hen" means a young immature chicken (usually 5 to 8 weeks of age) weighing not more than 2 pounds ready-to-cook weight, which was prepared from a Cornish chicken or a Cornish chicken crossed with other breeds of chickens.

4. Add a new § 70.19 which reads as follows:

§ 70.19 Processing poultry for export. With respect to processed poultry that will be exported, the Administrator is authorized to waive any particular provision of the regulations that conflicts with the contract specifications of the foreign importer. Any poultry which was prepared for export on the basis of waived provisions pursuant to this section and which for some reason is not exported shall have all official marks removed therefrom and from the containers thereof prior to sale for domestic consumption.

5. Change paragraph (b) of § 70.48 Suspension of plant approval, to read as follows:

(b) During such period of suspension, inspection and grading service shall not be rendered. However, the other provisions of the regulations pertaining to providing service on a resident basis will remain in effect unless such service is terminated in accordance with the provisions of this part. If the plant facilities or methods of operation are not brought into compliance within a reasonable period of time, to be specified by the Administrator, the service shall be terminated. Upon termination of inspection or grading service in an official plant pursuant to the regulations in this part, the plant approval shall also become terminated, and all labels, seals, tags or packaging material bearing official identification shall, under the supervision of a person designated by the Service, either be destroyed, or the official identification completely obliterated, or sealed in a manner acceptable to the Service.

6. Add the following sentence to § 70.90 Approval of official identification "A label which bears the inspection mark shall not bear any quality designation in terms used in this part, such as, 'Grade A', unless the product packed thereunder has been graded pursuant to this part and found to be of the grade indicated on the label. Officially graded products which are to be individually marked with a grade designation, shall be marked in accordance with the provisions of this part."

7. Change the introductory statement of paragraph (b) Wording on labels, of § 70.93 Marking inspected products, to read as follows:

(b) Wording on labels. Each trade label approved for use on an immediate container pursuant to § 70.90 to § 70.94 with respect to any graded or inspected and certified edible product shall bear the following information:

* * * * *

7a. Change paragraph (b) (6) of § 70.93 Marking inspected products, to read as follows:

(6) A statement of ingredients, if the edible product is made up of two or more ingredients; such ingredients shall be listed by their common or usual names in the order of descending proportion. For the purpose of this paragraph, the term "chicken meat" is construed to mean deboned white and dark meat; whereas, the term "chicken" includes other edible parts such as skin and giblets not in excess of their natural proportions; in addition to the chicken meat. If the term "chicken meat" is listed and the product also contains skin, giblets, or fat, it is necessary to also list them in the ingredient statement. This terminology shall apply to edible products prepared from other kinds of poultry where applicable.

b. Redesignate paragraphs (d), (e), and (f) of § 70.93, as paragraphs (e), (f), and (g), respectively.

c. Add a new paragraph (d) in § 70.93 which reads as follows:

(d) Meat content of poultry pies. In order to bear the inspection mark poultry pies or pot pies prepared from cooked meat shall contain a minimum of 14 percent (1⅛ ounces per 8 ounce pie) of cooked deboned poultry meat. Poultry pies or pot pies prepared with raw meat shall contain a minimum of 25 percent (2 ounces per 8 ounce pie) of raw deboned poultry meat. Both percentages shall be exclusive of any skin, giblets or fat which may be included in the product.

8. Delete § 70.138 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 70.138 Grading performed on a resident grading basis. Fees to be charged and collected for any grading service, other than for an appeal grading, on a resident grading basis, shall be those provided for in this section. The fees to be charged for any appeal grading shall be as provided in § 70.132.

(a) Charges. The charges for grading of poultry and edible products thereof shall be paid by the applicant for the service and shall include such of the items listed in this section as are applicable. Payment for the full cost of the grading service rendered to the applicant shall be made by the applicant to the Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture (hereinafter referred to as "AMS") not later than fifteen (15) days from the date of billing. Such full costs shall comprise such of the items listed in this section as may be due and may be included, from time to time, in the bill or bills covering the period or periods during which the grading service may be rendered. A charge will be made by AMS in the amount of one (1) percent per month or fraction thereof of any amounts remaining unpaid after thirty (30) days from the date of bill.

(1) A charge of $75 for the initial survey and examination of blue prints of the designated plant and its premises prior to the performance by AMS of grading service provided that when the plant is approved for inspection of dressed poultry the charge shall be as provided in subparagraph (10) of this paragraph;

(2) A charge of $100 for the final survey and inauguration of the grading service including the assignment of one grader and one alternate grader provided they are installed at the same time;

(3) A charge of $50 for each additional grader or replacement of a previously assigned grader to the designated plant provided that at the sole discretion of the Service no such charge will be made for a replacement when such replacement is made by the use of a regular employee of the Service or when the replacement is made necessary by the transfer of an employee of the Service for the sole benefit of the Service;

(4) A charge equal to the salary costs paid to each grader assigned to the applicant's plant by AMS including an amount for annual leave and sick leave: Provided, That, no charge is to be made for salary costs of any assigned grader of the designated plant while temporarily reassigned by AMS to perform grading service for other than the applicant except when the assigned grader is performing service for the Department of Defense on products for delivery by the applicant to the Department of Defense, in which case the applicant will be given credit for the service rendered, based on a formula concurred in jointly by the Departments of Defense and Agriculture.

(5) A charge equal to the salary costs, travel expenses, and per diem paid by AMS to any grader whose services are required for relief purposes when regular graders are on annual or sick leave;

(6) A charge for the actual cost to AMS of any travel and per diem incurred by each grader assigned to the plant while in the performance of grading service for the applicant;

(7) A charge, at the sole discretion of AMS, of an amount not in excess of the actual cost to AMS of the travel (including the cost of movement of household goods and dependents) and per diem with respect to each grader who is transferred from an official station to the designated plant;

(8) A charge included in salary costs equal to the Employer's tax imposed under the United States Internal Revenue Code (26 U. S. C.) for Old Age and Survivor's benefits under the Social Security System and an amount equal to the cost to AMS for insurance as provided in the Federal Employees Group Life Insurance Act of 1954.

(9) An administrative service charge based upon the aggregate weight of the total monthly volume of all poultry handled in the plant, and computed in accordance with the following table:

|---|---|
| 0 to 20,000 pounds | $25.00 |
| 20,001 to 100,000 pounds | 38.00 |
| 100,001 to 150,000 pounds | 42.75 |
| 150,001 to 200,000 pounds | 47.50 |
| 200,001 to 250,000 pounds | 52.25 |
| 250,001 to 300,000 pounds | 57.00 |
| 300,001 to 400,000 pounds | 61.75 |
| 400,001 to 500,000 pounds | 66.50 |
| 500,001 to 600,000 pounds | 71.25 |
| 600,001 to 700,000 pounds | 76.00 |
| 700,001 to 800,000 pounds | 80.75 |
| 800,001 to 900,000 pounds | 85.50 |
| 900,001 to 1,000,000 pounds | 90.25 |
| 1,000,001 pounds or more | 95.00 |

(10) A charge of $5 per hour plus actual costs to AMS for per diem and travel costs incurred in rendering service not specifically covered in this section; such as, surveys in addition to the initial and final.

(11) A charge equal to 7 percent of the salary paid by AMS to each grader exclusive of one regular grader whose salary is paid by AMS.

(b) Other provisions. (1) The applicant shall designate in writing the employees of the applicant who will be required and authorized to furnish each grader with such information as may be necessary for the performance of the grading service.

(2) AMS will provide as available an adequate number of graders to perform the grading service.

(3) At the sole discretion of AMS graders may be either Federal or State employees or licensed employees of the applicant.

(4) The grading service shall be provided at the designated plant and shall be continued until the service is suspended, withdrawn, or terminated by

(i) Mutual consent;

(ii) Thirty (30) days written notice, by either the applicant or AMS specifying the date of suspension, withdrawal, or termination;

(iii) One (1) day's written notice by AMS to the applicant, if the applicant fails to honor any invoice within thirty (30) days after date of invoice covering the cost of the grading service; or

(iv) Termination of the services pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (v) of this subparagraph;

(v) Grading service shall be terminated by AMS at any time AMS, acting pursuant to any applicable laws, rules, and regulations, debars the applicant from receiving any further benefits of the service.

(5) Federally employed graders will be required to confine their activities to those duties necessary in the rendering of grading service and such closely related activities as may be approved by AMS: Provided, That, in no instance will the Federally employed grader assume the duties of management.

9. Change § 70.132 Fees for appeal grading, to read as follows:

§ 70.132 Fees for appeal grading. The fees to be charged for any appeal grading shall be double the fee specified in the grading certificate from which the appeal is taken: Provided, That, the fee for any appeal grading requested by the United States, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, shall be not more than that set forth in the grading certificate from which the appeal is taken. If the fee on the certificate from which the appeal is taken is based on the provisions of § 70.138, then the fee for such appeal grading shall be double the amount specified in § 70.133 for the applicable volume of product appeal graded.

10. Change paragraph (a) of § 70.201 Issuance and disposition, to read as follows:

(a) Each grader shall issue a grading certificate covering each product graded, except that with respect to products graded on a resident grading basis, certificates will be issued upon a request therefor by the applicant or the Service.

11. Change the first sentence of § 70.384 Identification of dressed poultry processed under sanitary standards only, to read as follows: "With respect to dressed poultry which has been graded or inspected for condition pursuant to § 70.16, the form of identification approved for use shall contain the wording 'Dressed Poultry—Eligible for Further Processing in U. S. Department of Agriculture Official Plants'."

12. Change the illustration in Figure 5 of § 70.384 as follows:

GYPSY MOTH AND BROWN-TAIL MOTH

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that the Administrator, Agricultural Research Service, pursuant to sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161, 162) and section 3 of the Insect Pest Act (7 U. S. C. 143), is considering amending notice of quarantine No. 45 relating to the gypsy moth and brown-tail moth and the regulations supplemental to said quarantine (7 CFR, and 1954 Supp., 301.45, 301.45–1 et seq.) to read as follows:

Sec.

301.45 Notice of quarantine.
301.45–1 Definitions.
301.45–2 Designation of regulated areas.
301.45–3 Regulated articles.
301.45–4 Conditions governing the movement of regulated articles.
301.45–5 Certificates, limited permits and certificates of exemption.
301.45–6 Marking.
301.45–7 Relieving restrictions of regulations.
301.45–8 Assembly of regulated articles.
301.45–9 Inspection and disposition.
301.45–10 Treatment of means of conveyence and containers.
301.45–11 Nonliability of Department.
301.45–12 Shipments for scientific purposes.

§ 301.45. Notice of quarantine. Under the authority conferred by section 8 of the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161), and after public hearing required thereby, the States of Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Rhode Island, and Vermont have been and hereby are continued to be quarantined to prevent the further spread of the gypsy moth (Porthetria dispar L.) and the brown-tail moth (Nygmia phaeorrhoea Donov.), dangerous insects of foreign origin notoriously injurious to forest and shade trees and not heretofore widely prevalent or distributed within and throughout the United States, and under the authority conferred by the Plant Quarantine Act and the Insect Pest Act of March 3, 1905 (7 U. S. C. 141 et seq.), supplemental regulations are hereinafter prescribed §§ 301.45–1 to 301.45–12 governing the movement of gypsy and brown-tail moths and carriers thereof. Hereafter (a) live gypsy moths and brown-tail moths in any stage of development; (b) timber and timber products; (c) plants having persistent woody stems (including deciduous trees and shrubs and Christmas trees), and parts thereof; (d) stone and quarry products; and (e) any aircraft, trucks, wagons, railway cars, boats, and other means of conveyance, containers and products and articles of any character whatsoever which by reason of infestation or exposure constitute a hazard of spreading the gypsy moth or the brown-tail moth as determined in accordance with the supplemental regulations §§ 301.45–1 to 301.45–12, shall not be shipped, offered for shipment to a common carrier, received for transportation or transported by a common carrier, or carried, transported, moved, or allowed to be moved from any of said quarantined States into or through any other State, Territory, or District of the United States, in manner or method or under conditions other than those prescribed in the supplemental regulations, as from time to time amended; Provided, That the requirements of this quarantine and of the supplemental regulations, except as otherwise provided in the regulations, are hereby limited to the areas in any quarantined State which may be designated as within the gypsy moth regulated area or the brown-tail moth regulated area as provided in the regulations, as long as, in the judgment of the Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service, the enforcement of the regulations as to such regulated areas will be adequate to prevent the spread of the gypsy and brown-tail moths, except that such limitation is further conditioned upon the affected State's providing for and enforcing control of the movement within such State of the regulated articles under the same conditions as those which apply to their interstate movement under the provisions of currently existing Federal quarantine regulations, and upon the State's enforcing such control and sanitation measures with respect to such areas or portions thereof as, in the judgment of said Administrator, shall be deemed adequate to prevent the spread therefrom within such State of the infestations of said insects: Provided, further, That whenever the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch shall find that facts exist as to the pest risk involved in the movement of one or more of the articles to which the supplemental regulations apply, except live gypsy or brown-tail moths in any stage of development, making it safe to modify, by making less stringent, the requirements contained in the regulations, he shall set forth and publish such finding in administrative instructions, specifying the manner in which the applicable regulations should be made less stringent, whereupon such modification shall become effective, for such period and for such regulated area or portion thereof and for such article or articles as shall be specified in said administrative instructions, and every reasonable effort shall be made to give publicity to such administrative instructions throughout the affected areas.

§ 301.45–1 Definitions. For the purpose of the regulations in this subpart the following terms shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

(a) Gypsy moth. The insect known as the gypsy moth, Porthetria dispar L., in any stage of development.

(b) Brown-tail moth. The insect known as the brown-tail moth, Nygmia phaeorrhoea Donov. (formerly referred to as Euproctis chrysorrhoea), in any stage of development.

(c) Infestation. The presence of either the gypsy moth or the brown-tail moth.

(d) Regulated area. The counties, cities, townships, towns, plantations, villages, and other minor civil divisions, or parts thereof, in any quarantined State, designated in administrative instructions under § 301.45–2 as coming within the area regulated because of the gypsy moth or within the area regulated because of the brown-tail moth.

(e) Regulated articles. Articles the movement of which is controlled under the regulations in this subpart as provided in § 301.45–3.

(f) Suppressive area. That part of a regulated area in which suppressive measures are cooperatively carried out with the objective of eradicating infestations in this area, as designated in administrative instructions under § 301.45–2.

(g) Generally infested area. All of a regulated area, exclusive of the suppressive area, as designated in administrative instructions under § 301.45–2.

(h) Inspector. An inspector of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(i) "Moved" ("movement," "move"). Shipped, offered for shipment to a common carrier, received for transportation or transported by a common carrier, or carried, transported, moved, or allowed to be moved, interstate, directly or indirectly, from or within a regulated area. "Movement" and "move" shall be construed accordingly.

(j) Interstate. From one State, Territory, or District of the United States into or through another.

(k) Certificate. A valid document issued by an inspector authorizing the movement of regulated articles.

(l) Certificate of exemption. A valid document issued by an inspector certifying to the eligibility for movement of regulated articles from specified inspected or treated premises in accordance with the provisions of administrative instructions under § 301.45–7.

(m) Limited permit. A valid document issued by an inspector to allow controlled movement of noncertified regulated articles to a designated and authorized destination for processing, utilization, or other regulated safe handling.

(n) Dealer-carrier agreement. A document constituting an agreement to comply with stipulated quarantine conditions, executed by persons or firms engaged in purchasing, handling, processing, utilizing, or moving regulated articles.

§ 301.45–2 Designation of regulated areas. The Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch shall, from time to time, in administrative instructions promulgated by him, list the counties, cities, townships, towns, plantations, villages, and other minor civil divisions, or parts thereof, in the quarantined States, in which infestation of the gypsy moth or brown-tail moth has been determined to exist, or in which it has been determined such infestation is likely to exist, or which it is deemed necessary to regulate because of their proximity to infestation or their inseparability for quarantine enforcement purposes from infested localities, and shall designate the counties, cities, and other civil divisions, or parts thereof, listed because of the gypsy moth, as constituting the gypsy moth regulated area and shall designate the counties, cities, and other civil divisions, or parts thereof, listed because of the brown-tail moth, as constituting the brown-tail moth regulated area. Civil divisions, or parts thereof, so designated shall continue in a regulated status until the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch shall have determined that adequate eradication measures have been practiced for a sufficient length of time to eradicate the gypsy moth or brown-tail moth therein, as the case may be, and that regulation of such civil divisions, or parts thereof, is not otherwise necessary under this section, and shall have issued administrative instructions revoking the designation of such civil divisions, or parts thereof, as coming within the gypsy moth regulated area or the brown-tail moth regulated area, as the case may be. The Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch may, in said administrative instructions promulgated by him, divide a regulated area into a suppressive area and a generally infested area.

§ 301.45–3 Regulated articles—(a) Articles the removal of which is prohibited. The removal of live gypsy moths or brown-tail moths from any State or Territory into any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or from said District into any State or Territory, except for scientific purposes, is prohibited. Provisions for such removal of live gypsy moths or brown-tail moths, for scientific purposes, are set forth in § 301.45–12.

(b) Articles the movement of which is regulated. The movement of the following articles from or within the respective regulated area indicated below is regulated as provided in this subpart.

(1) Gypsy moth regulated area. (i) Timber and timber products, including but not limited to lumber, planks, poles, logs, cordwood, and pulpwood;

(ii) Plants having persistent woody stems (including deciduous trees and shrubs and Christmas trees) and parts thereof;

(iii) Stone and quarry products;

(iv) Any aircraft, trucks, wagons, railway cars, boats, and other means of conveyance, containers and products and articles of any character whatsoever which by reason of infestation or exposure are determined by an inspector to constitute a hazard of spreading the gypsy moth.

(2) Brown-tail moth regulated area. (i) Deciduous trees and shrubs, and branches and other parts thereof, with leaves attached;

(ii) Any aircraft, trucks, wagons, railway cars, boats, and other means of conveyance, containers and products and articles of any character whatsoever which by reason of infestation or exposure are determined by an inspector to constitute a hazard of spreading the brown-tail moth.

§ 301.45–4 Conditions governing the movement of regulated articles— (a) Movement from either regulated area. Except as exempted by administrative instructions of the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, or as provided in § 301.45–12, regulated articles designated in § 301.45–3 (b) shall not be moved from the respective regulated area into or through any point outside thereof unless accompanied by a certificate or limited permit.

(b) Movement from the generally infested area into the suppressive area. Except as exempted by administrative instructions of the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, or as provided in § 301.45–12, regulated articles designated in § 301.45–3 (b) shall not be moved from the generally infested area into or through the suppressive area, within the respective regulated area, unless accompanied by a certificate or limited permit.

(c) Articles originating outside the regulated area. No certificates or limited permits are required under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section for the movement of regulated articles designated in § 301.45–3 (b) (1) or (2) originating outside of the respective regulated area and moving within or through such regulated area when the point of origin is clearly indicated, when their identity has been maintained, and when the articles have been protected against infestation while in such regulated area, in a manner satisfactory to the inspector.

§ 301.45–5 Certificates, limited permits and certificates of exemption—(a) Certification of regulated articles. Certificates may be issued for the movement of the regulated articles designated in § 301.45–3 (b) under any one of the following conditions:

(1) When, in the judgment of the inspector, they have not been exposed to infestation.

(2) When they have been examined by an inspector and found to be free of infestation.

(3) When they have been treated under the observation of an inspector and in accordance with methods selected by him from administratively authorized procedures known to be effective under the conditions applied.

(4) When they have been grown, produced, processed, manufactured, stored or handled in such a manner that, in the judgment of the inspector, no infestation could be transmitted thereby.

(b) Safeguards against reinfestation. Subsequent to certification, as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, the regulated articles may be moved under this subpart only if they are loaded, handled, and shipped under such protection and safeguards against reinfestation as are required by the inspector.

(c) Limited permits. Limited permits may be issued by the inspector for the movement of noncertified regulated articles designated in § 301.45–3 (b) to specified destinations for limited handling, utilization, or processing. Persons shipping, transporting, or receiving such articles may be required by the inspector to enter into written agreements with the Plant Pest Control Branch to maintain such safeguards against the establishment and spread of infestation and to comply with such conditions as to the maintenance of identity, handling, or subsequent movement of such articles and to the cleaning or treatment of aircraft, trucks, wagons, railway cars, boats, and other means of conveyance and containers used in the transportation of such articles as may be required by the inspector.

(d) Cancellation of certificates, limited permits, and certificates of exemption. Certificates, limited permits, and certificates of exemption issued under the regulations in this subpart may be withdrawn or canceled by the inspector and further certificates, limited permits, or certificates of exemption refused whenever, in his judgment, the further use thereof might result in the dissemination of infestation.

§ 301.45–6 Marking. Except as exempted by administrative instructions of the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, or as provided in § 301.45–12, and except for means of conveyance, every container of articles designated in § 301.45–3 (b) the movement of which is subject to the regulations in this subpart, or if there is no container, the articles themselves, shall be plainly marked with the name and address of the consignor and the name and address of the consignee, when offered for shipment, and shall have securely attached to the outside thereof a certificate or limited permit as required by § 301.45–4; Provided, That (a) in the case of less-than-carlot freight or express shipments a certificate or limited permit attached to one of the containers or articles and another certificate attached to the waybill will be sufficient, and in the case of carlot freight or express shipments, either in containers or in bulk, only a certificate or limited permit attached to the waybill is required and (b) in the case of shipments by road vehicle, the certificate or limited permit shall accompany the shipment and shall be surrendered to the consignee upon delivery of the shipment.

§ 301.45–7 Relieving restrictions of regulations. (a) In relieving restrictions of the regulations in this subpart pursuant to the second proviso in § 301.45, the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch may, in administrative instructions, provide for the issuance of certificates of exemption covering premises in the regulated areas which have been inspected or treated in accordance with procedures approved by said Chief as adequate to assure that the movement of regulated articles from such premises will not disseminate infestation and permit the movement of regulated articles designated in § 301.45–3 (b) (1) (i) through (iii) or (2) (i) directly from such premises without restriction under §§ 301.45–4, 301.45–6, and 301.45–8.

(b) Said Chief from time to time will notify the persons concerned as to the premises for which certificates of exemption are in effect under this section. The Chief may also, in administrative instructions, relieve restrictions of the regulations in such other manner and under such other conditions as he shall deem proper in accordance with § 301.45.

§ 301.45–8 Assembly of regulated articles. Except as exempted by administrative instructions of the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, or as provided in § 301.45–12, persons intending to move any of the regulated articles designated in § 301.45–3 (b) shall make application for inspection as far in advance as possible and may be required to prepare and assemble materials at such points and times and in such manner as the inspector shall designate, so that thorough inspection may be made or approved treatments may be applied as required under the regulations in this subpart.

§ 301.45–9 Inspection and disposition. Any aircraft, truck, wagon, railway car, boat, or other means of conveyance, or container, which is moving (interstate) and which an inspector has probable cause to believe carries or contains any gypsy moth or brown-tail moth or other regulated article the movement of which is prohibited or restricted under this subpart, may be inspected by the inspector at any time or place. When regulated articles are found to be moving or to have been moved in violation of the provisions in this subpart, the inspector may seize, destroy, or otherwise dispose of such articles as he deems necessary to eliminate the danger of dissemination of the gypsy moth and the brown-tail moth. If found to be infested, such articles must be freed of infestation.

§ 301.45–10 Treatment of means of conveyance and containers. When in the judgment of the inspector a hazard of spread of the gypsy moth or brown-tail moth is presented, thorough cleaning or other treatment of aircraft, railway cars, trucks, wagons, boats, and other means of conveyance, and containers, may be required by the inspector before movement thereof from a regulated area, or from a generally infested area into or through a suppressive area.

§ 301.45–11 Nonliability of Department. The United States Department of Agriculture disclaims liability for any cost incident to inspection or treatment required under the regulations in this subpart, other than for the services of the inspector.

§ 301.45–12 Shipments for scientific purposes. Live gypsy moths and brown-tail moths in any stage of development may be removed from any State or Territory into any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia or from said District into any State or Territory, and other articles subject to the requirements of the regulations in this subpart may be moved from a regulated area into or through any point outside thereof or from a generally infested area into or through a suppressive area, for experimental or other scientific purposes, on such conditions and under such safeguards as may be required by the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch. The container of articles so moved shall bear, securely attached to the outside thereof, an identifying tag from the Plant Pest Control Branch.

This amendment would authorize the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch to publish, from time to time, in administrative instructions a list of the minor civil divisions or parts thereof, in quarantined States, in which infestation of either the gypsy moth or brown-tail moth has been determined to exist, or in which it has been determined such infestation is likely to exist, or which it is deemed necessary to regulate because of their proximity to infestation or their inseparability for quarantine enforcement purposes from infested districts, and to designate such civil divisions or parts thereof as a regulated area. Civil divisions or parts thereof so designated would, under the proposed amendment, continue in a regulated status until the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch has determined that adequate eradication measures had been practiced for a sufficient length of time to eradicate the infestation therein or that regulation of such area is not otherwise necessary for quarantine enforcement purposes, and has issued administrative instructions revoking the designation of such civil divisions or parts thereof as a regulated area. The amendment would also authorize the Chief to divide the regulated areas into a generally infested area and a suppressive area wherein measures to eradicate infestation are being conducted. The amendment would further authorize the Chief to provide for the issuance of certificates of exemption for premises which have been inspected or treated in accordance with approved procedures and permit the movement of regulated articles from such premises without compliance with restrictions otherwise applicable.

Other amendments would make the provisions of these regulations conform as closely as possible in phraseology with similar domestic plant quarantine regulations and make numerous clarifying changes.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this matter should file the same with the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, Agricultural Research Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after the date of the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

GYPSY MOTH AND BROWN-TAIL MOTH

PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS EXEMPTING CERTAIN ARTICLES FROM REQUIREMENTS OF REGULATIONS SUPPLEMENTAL TO GYPSY MOTH AND BROWN-TAIL MOTH QUARANTINE NO. 45

Notice is hereby given under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, pursuant to the authority to be conferred by a proposed amendment of the Gypsy Moth and Brown-Tail Moth Quarantine No. 45 (7 CFR 301.45, supra), under sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161, 162), is considering amending the administrative instructions exempting certain articles from requirements of the regulations supplemental to said quarantine (7 CFR, 1954 Supp., 301.45a) to read as follows:

§ 301.45a Administrative instructions exempting certain articles from requirements of regulations. (a) The Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch has found that facts exist as to the pest risk involved in the movement of the following regulated articles making it safe to modify, by making less stringent, the requirements of the regulations supplemental to the gypsy moth and brown-tail moth quarantine as follows. The movement of the following articles, when meeting the conditions specified, is hereby exempted from the requirements of §§ 301.45–4, 301.45–6 and 301.45–8 of the regulations supplemental to the gypsy moth and brown-tail moth quarantine with respect to both the gypsy moth regulated area and the brown-tail moth regulated area, insofar as such requirements apply to such areas.

(1) Timber products. (i) Manufactured wood products such as box shooks, shingles, laths, flooring, furniture, containers, crates, handles, dowels, staves, and new industrial shoring and blocking, if they have not been exposed to infestation.

(ii) Lumber that has been (a) dressed four sides with ends clipped, or (b) square edged sawed four sides with ends clipped, and freed from surface bark, or (c) kiln dried; when such lumber is shipped direct after processing from planer, log saw or kiln; and when waybills or other transportation papers are marked to show that the lumber was so processed and is being so shipped: Provided, however, That this exemption does not apply to piled or stuck lumber.

(iii) Shavings, sawdust, wood flour, excelsior, and cedar bedding.

(iv) Wood and bark novelties, when waxed, polished or otherwise treated.

(2) Woody plants and plant parts. (i) Plants of the following kinds (and parts thereof):

Clubmoss ("ground pine") (Lycopodium spp.).
Partridgeberry (Mitchella repens).
Trailing arbutus (Epigaea repens).
Wintergreen (Gaultheria procumbens, Pyrola spp.).

(ii) Plants and parts thereof that have been grown in the greenhouse throughout the year, when so labeled on the outside of each container.

(iii) Herbarium specimens, when dried and pressed, and when so labeled on outside of each container.

(iv) Leaves of deciduous or evergreen trees that have been treated or dyed, when so labeled on outside of each container.

(v) Seeds, fruits, and cones.

(vi) Cuttings:

Acacia (Acacia spp.).
Boxwood (Buxus sempervirens).
California pepper tree (Schinus molle).
Eucalyptus (Eucalyptus globulus).
Evergreen smilax (Smilax lanceolata).
Galax (Galax aphylla).
Heather (Erica spp., Calluna spp.).
Mistletoe (Phoradendron flavescens, Viscum album, etc.).
Western red cedar (Thuja plicata).
Oregon holly (Ilex aquifolium).
Oregon huckleberry (Vaccinium ovatum).
Salal (known to the trade as lemon cuttings) (Gaultheria shallon).

(vii) Scions.

(viii) Tip cuttings of deciduous plants without leaves or blossoms, or tip cuttings of evergreen plants, when not more than 12 inches in length, and articles constructed of such tip cuttings, such as wreaths, sprays, and roping.

(3) Stone and quarry products. (i) Stone and quarry products when processed by crushing, grinding, or pulverizing.

(ii) Feldspar, granite, marble, quartz, or slate moving from premises covered by a certificate of exemption issued under paragraph (b) of this section and originating on premises covered by such a certificate or from other sources approved in advance by an inspector.

(4) Pulpwood. Pulpwood moving from a regulated area to a nearby pulp mill in a contiguous nonregulated area, or from a generally infested area to a nearby pulp mill in a contiguous suppressive area, if such mill has entered into a written agreement with the Plant Pest Control Branch to apply such treatments and to maintain such sanitation safeguards as will, in the judgment of the inspector, prevent the establishment of gypsy moth infestation on or surrounding the mill premises; and if such mill has been approved by the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch to receive such pulpwood.

(b) A certificate of exemption will be issued by an inspector for any premises in the gypsy moth regulated area which have been inspected or treated in accordance with procedures approved by the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch as adequate to assure that movement from such premises of regulated articles will not disseminate infestation, if the person in possession of such premises agrees in writing (1) that he will move regulated articles under the certificate of exemption pursuant to paragraph (a) (3) (ii) of this section only from such premises and only if the articles originate on premises certified under this paragraph or from other sources approved in advance by the inspector and (2) that no regulated articles of the kinds specified in paragraph (a) (3) (ii) of this section will be brought to his certified premises except from other premises certified under this paragraph or from such other sources as are approved in advance by the inspector.

The proposed amendment of the administrative instructions would exempt the movement of pulpwood, under specified conditions, from certain requirements of the regulations supplemental to the gypsy moth and brown-tail moth quarantine and make various modifications in the exemptions now provided for various articles by changing some of the conditions of exemption and more specifically identifying certain exempted articles. Exemption would be provided for treated or dyed leaves of evergreen trees, when properly labeled, and the exemptions for excelsior waste and mica would be eliminated.

Provision would be made for the issuance of certificates of exemption for inspected or treated premises and for the movement of certain stone and quarry products from such premises without compliance with restrictions otherwise applicable.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this matter should file the same with the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after the date of the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

GYPSY MOTH AND BROWN-TAIL MOTH

PROPOSED ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS DESIGNATING REGULATED AREAS UNDER REGULATIONS SUPPLEMENTAL TO GYPSY MOTH AND BROWN-TAIL MOTH QUARANTINE

Notice is hereby given under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, contingent upon authority being delegated to him in conformity with § 301.45–2 of the proposed amendment of the gypsy moth and brown-tail moth regulations (7 CFR 301.45–2, supra), under sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161, 162), is considering issuing the following administrative instructions, to appear in 7 CFR Supp. 301.45–2a, listing counties, cities, townships, towns, and plantations, and parts thereof, in the quarantined States, in which infestation of either the gypsy moth or the brown-tail moth has been determined to exist, or in which it has been determined such infestation is likely to exist, or which it is deemed necessary to regulate because of their proximity to infestation or their inseparability for quarantine enforcement purposes from infested localities, thereby designating such counties, cities, townships, towns, and plantations, and parts thereof, respectively, as gypsy moth and brown-tail moth regulated areas within the meaning of the provisions in this subpart:

§ 301.45–2a Administrative instructions designating regulated areas under the gypsy moth and brown-tail moth quarantine and regulations. Infestations of either the gypsy moth or the brown-tail moth have been determined to exist, in the quarantined States, in the respective counties, cities, towns, plantations, and other civil divisions, and parts thereof, listed below, or it has been determined that such infestation is likely to exist therein, or it is deemed necessary to regulate such civil divisions and parts thereof because of their proximity to infestation or their inseparability for quarantine enforcement purposes from infested localities. Accordingly, such civil divisions and parts thereof are hereby designated, as follows, respectively, as a single, continuous gypsy moth regulated area and a single, continuous brown-tail moth regulated area within the meaning of the provisions in this subpart:

GYPSY MOTH REGULATED AREA

Connecticut. All counties in the State.

Maine. Counties of Androscoggin, Cumberland, Kennebec, Knox, Lincoln, Sagadahoc, Waldo, and York; towns of Avon, Berlin, Carthage, Chesterville, Crockertown, Dallas Plantation, Farmington, Freeman, Greenvale, Industry, Jay, Jerusalem, Kingfield, Madrid, Mount Abraham, New Sharon, New Vineyard, Perkins, Phillips, Rangeley Plantation, Redington, Salem, Sandy River Plantation, Strong, Temple, Washington, Weld, and Wilton, and Townships D and E, in Franklin County; all of Hancock County except Plantations 3, 4, 35, and 41; all that part of Oxford County south and southeast of, and including, the towns of Magalloway and Richardsontown; towns of Alton, Argyle, Bradford, Bradley, Carmel, Charleston, Clifton, Corinna, Corinth, Dexter, Dixmont, Eddington, Etna, Exeter, Garland, Glenburn, Grand Falls Plantation, Greenbush, Greenfield, Hampden, Hermon, Holden, Hudson, Kenduskeag, LaGrange, Levant, Milford, Newburgh, Newport, Orono, Orrington, Plymouth, Stetson, Summit, and Veazie, and cities of Bangor, Brewer, and Old Town, in Penobscot County; towns of Abbott, Atkinson, Dover-Foxcroft, Guilford, Kingsbury Plantation, Medford, Milo, Orneville, Parkman, Sangerville, Sebec, and Wellington, in Piscataquis County; all that part of Somerset County south and southeast of, and including, Highland and Pleasant Ridge Plantations, town of Moscow, and Mayfield Plantation; towns of Beddington, Cherryfield, Columbia, Deblois, Harrington, Millbridge, and Steuben, and Plantations 18 and 24, in Washington County.

Massachusetts. All counties in the State.

New Hampshire. Counties of Belknap, Carroll, Cheshire, Grafton, Hillsboro, Merrimack, Rockingham, Strafford, and Sullivan; all that part of Coos County lying south of, and including, the towns of Stratford, Odell, Dummer, and Cambridge.

New York. Counties of Albany, Clinton, Columbia, Delaware, Dutchess, Fulton, Greene, Montgomery, Nassau, Orange, Otsego, Putnam, Rensselaer, Rockland, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Suffolk, Sullivan, Ulster, Warren, Washington, and Westchester; towns of Chesterfield, Crown Point, Elizabethtown, Essex, Jay, Keene, Lewis, Moriah, North Hudson, Schroon, Ticonderoga, Westport, Willsboro, and Wilmington, in Essex County; towns of Benson, Hope, and Wells in Hamilton County; all of Herkimer County except the towns of Ohio, Russia, and Webb; town of Brookfield in Madison County; towns of Bridgewater, Deerfield, Kirkland, Marcy, Marshall, New Hartford, Paris, Sangerfield, Utica, Westmoreland, and Whitestown, in Oneida County.

Rhode Island. All counties in the State.

Vermont. Counties of Addison, Bennington, Chittenden, Grand Isle, Orange, Rutland, Washington, Windham, and Windsor; towns of Barnet, Danville, Groton, Kirby, Peacham, Ryegate, St. Johnsbury, and Waterford, in Caledonia County; towns of Concord, Granby, Guildhall, Lunenburg, Maidstone, and Victory, in Essex County; all of Franklin County except the towns of Bakersfield, Berkshire, Enosburg, Montgomery, and Richford; and the town of Elmore in Lamoille County.

BROWN-TAIL MOTH REGULATED AREA

All of the above described gypsy moth regulated area, exclusive of that in the State of New York, constitutes the brown-tail moth regulated area.

These administrative instructions list the localities that are proposed for regulation under a revision of the gypsy moth and brown-tail moth notice of quarantine and supplemental regulations now being concurrently considered for issuance. It is proposed that the present gypsy moth generally infested area and the gypsy moth suppressive area be combined into a single, continuous regulated area. The instructions would also add to the regulated area for the first time the following civil divisions among other specified areas:

Connecticut. Fairfield County, 2 towns in Litchfield County, and 3 towns in New Haven County, constituting all presently nonregulated area in the State.

Maine. One town in Penobscot County, and 4 towns in Piscataquis County.

New York. Counties of Clinton, Delaware, Nassau, Orange, Otsego, Putnam, Rockland, Schoharie, Suffolk, Sullivan, Ulster, and Westchester; 1 town in Albany County, 4 towns and one city in Columbia County, 17 towns and 2 cities in Dutchess County, 7 towns in Essex County, 5 towns in Fulton County, 12 towns in Greene County, 3 towns in Hamilton County, 16 towns and 1 city in Herkimer County, 1 town in Madison County, and 11 towns in Oneida County.

Vermont. Grande Isle County, 3 towns in Chittenden County, and 9 towns in Franklin County.

Further, the administrative instructions would redefine and enlarge the area regulated because of the brown-tail moth.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this matter should file the same with the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after the date of the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Fish and Wildlife Service

McNARY NATIONAL WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT AREA, WASHINGTON

DESIGNATION OF AREA AND NOTICE OF APPLICABILITY OF REGULATIONS

The United States Department of the Interior, by and through the Fish and Wildlife Service, has acquired control for wildlife management purposes pursuant to the act of August 14, 1946 (60 Stat. 1080), over 2,849.14 acres of land, more or less, in Franklin and Walla Walla Counties, Washington, under the terms of a cooperative agreement with the Department of the Army dated December 29, 1955, which lands were acquired by the Department of the Army in connection with the McNary Lock and Dam Project on the Columbia River and are described as follows:

A portion of the McNary Reservoir area being the land and water area lying in a part of Townships 8 and 9 North, Ranges 30, 31 and 32 East of the Willamette Meridian, Walla Walla County, Washington, said area consisting of 3 parcels being more particularly described as follows:

(a) Beginning at a point on the McNary Reservoir area taking line, said point being the intersection of the south line of the north half of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 2 of said Township 8 North, Range 30 East of the Willamette Meridian, and the east right-of-way line of the abandoned State Highway No. 3; thence north along said right-of-way line to the north line of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter; thence east along the said north line to the east line of said Section 2; thence continuing east along the north line of Tract 24 of the Pasco Power and Water Co's. Irrigated Lands (according to the plat thereof recorded in Volume "D" Page 8, Plat Records) in Section 1 in said Township 8 North, Range 30 East of the Willamette Meridian, to the east line of the right-of-way of the connecting road (County Road No. 849); thence northeasterly along said right-of-way line to the point of intersection with the said McNary Reservoir area Taking Line in said Section 1; thence southeasterly along said reservoir taking line across said Section 1 to a point on the west line of Section 6 in said Township 8 North, Range 31 East of the Willamette Meridian; thence in a easterly direction along said reservoir taking line across Sections 5 and 6 to a point on the west line of Section 4; thence in a easterly and southeasterly direction along said reservoir taking line across Sections 4, 9, and 16 to a point on the north line of Section 21 in said Township and Range; thence in a southerly and southeasterly direction along said reservoir taking line across Sections 21 and 28 to the point of intersection with the north line of the Townsite of Two Rivers (according to the plat thereof recorded in Volume "D", Page 14, Plat Records) (also known as the east-west center line of said Section 28) in said Section 28; thence west along said north line to the point of intersection with the easterly line of the right-of-way of State Highway No. 3 (U. S. No. 395 and 410); thence northerly along said easterly right-of-way line across Sections 17, 21 and 28 of said Township and Range to the point of intersection of the said reservoir taking line in said Section 17; thence east and northerly along said reservoir taking line across Sections 16 and 17 to the intersection of the south line of Section 9 in said Township and Range; thence northerly and westerly along said reservoir taking line across Sections 5, 6 and 9 in said Township and Range, to the intersection of the east line of Section 1 in said Township 8 North, Range 30 East of the Willamette Meridian; thence north and westerly along said reservoir taking line to the east line of Section 2 in said Township and Range; thence north along said east line to the south line of the north half of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of said Section 2; thence west along said south line to the point of beginning.

(b) Beginning at the point of intersection of the McNary Reservoir area taking line and the west line of Section 30, Township 9 North, Range 31 East of the Willamette Meridian on the left (south) bank of the Snake River; thence northeasterly along said reservoir taking line across Sections 30, 29, 28, 27, 22, 23 and 24; thence continuing northeasterly along said reservoir area taking line across Sections 19, 18, 17, Township 9 North, Range 32 East, of the Willamette Meridian to the north line of said Section 17; thence west along said north line to the normal pool elevation (340.0 feet M. S. L.) on the left (south) bank of the Snake River of the McNary Reservoir; thence southwesterly along said pool elevation to the west line of said Section 30; thence south along said west line to the point of beginning.

(c) Also Government Lot 6, Section 36; Government Lots 5 and 6, Section 25, all in Township 9 North, Range 30 East of the Willamette Meridian and Government Lot 8, Section 30 in Township 9 North, Range 31 East of the Willamette Meridian, all in Franklin County, Washington. Also known as Strawberry Island.

There is excepted from Parcel (a) the east half of Tract 55 of said Pasco Power and Water Company's Irrigated Lands, all that portion lying within the right-of-way of State Highway No. 3 (U. S. 395 and 410) and also the right-of-way of the County Road, known as Humorist Road, lying over and across the north line of Section 9 in Township 8 North, Range 31 East of the Willamette Meridian.

There is excepted from Parcel (b) all that portion lying within the west 400 feet of Government Lot 5 and the east 200 feet of Government Lot 6 of Section 30, Township 9 North, Range 31 East of the Willamette Meridian.

The above-described 2,849.14 acres of land are hereby designated as the McNary National Wildlife Management Area, and notice is hereby given that 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER entry thereon or use thereof for any purpose will be subject to regulations contained in Part 22, Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, and such other regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may adopt from time to time.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of April 1956.

Federal Maritime Board

[Docket No. 792]

AGREEMENT AND PRACTICES PERTAINING TO LIMITATION ON MEMBERSHIP; PACIFIC COAST EUROPEAN CONFERENCE (AGREEMENT 5200)

NOTICE OF ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

At a session of the Federal Maritime Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., this 5th day of April 1956, a certain order was entered in the above entitled cause which reads as follows:

Whereas on November 20, 1955, the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., filed an application for membership in the Pacific Coast European Conference; and

Whereas on December 16, 1955, the aforesaid Conference notified Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., that the member lines had agreed to admit Mitsui to membership effective February 1, 1956, on condition that Mitsui withdraw from pending litigation in which its position is opposed to that of the Conference; and

Whereas on December 21, 1955, Mitsui notified the Board that it had been advised by the Conference of the imposition of this condition and accordingly withdrew from various litigation in which its position is opposed to that of the Conference; and

Whereas on December 28, 1955, the Regulation Office informed the Conference and Mitsui that it considered that the agreement among the member lines adopting the condition on Mitsui's admission to the Conference and Mitsui's acceptance of such condition to a new agreement, or amendment to an agreement within the purview of section 15, Shipping Act, 1916, and that such agreement should be approved by the Board before being made effective; and

Whereas on January 7, 1956, the Conference informed the Regulation Office and Mitsui that it was unable to concur in the view that the agreement is within the purview of section 15, and that since Mitsui had met the qualifications and placed itself on equal terms with present Conference members it was admitted to membership effective February 1, 1956; and

Whereas the Board on March 5, 1956, wrote to the Conference stating,

At this time, and without a hearing, the Board is of the view that the condition may not be a "just and reasonable cause" within the meaning of Section 10 of your basic Conference Agreement for denial of membership, and that it further may be unjustly discriminatory or unfair as between carriers, and operate to the detriment of the commerce of the United States.

You are, therefore, notified that unless you withdraw the above mentioned condition on Mitsui's membership in your Conference within twenty days of receipt of this letter, the Board will institute a proceeding on its own motion to determine, after opportunity for hearing, whether such condition to membership is within your basic agreement and is unjustly discriminatory or unfair as between carriers or operates to the detriment of the commerce of the United States, or will take such other action as may be available to it.

and

Whereas on March 23, 1956, within the time-limit prescribed by the Board's letter of March 5, 1956, the Conference replied to the Board that it felt that the admission of Mitsui was proper in all respects and that it disagreed with the position stated in the Board's letter; and

Whereas the Conference has not complied with the Board's request to withdraw the condition to Mitsui's membership in the Conference, within the designated twenty-day period; and

Whereas it appears that the agreement among the member lines to attach this condition to Mitsui's admission to the Conference may be in violation of section 15, Shipping Act, 1916, and may be unjustly discriminatory and unfair as between carriers or detrimental to the commerce of the United States within the meaning of said section 15; and

Now therefore, pursuant to sections 15, 22, and 25 of the Shipping Act, 1916, and section 9 of the Administrative Procedure Act,

It is ordered, That the Pacific Coast European Conference, its regular member lines and associate member lines, as individually identified below in Appendix A, be, and they hereby are made Respondents in this proceeding; and

It is further ordered, That said Respondents show cause, at a hearing before an Examiner of the Board, at a time and place to be fixed by notice to be issued by the Chief Examiner why the Board should not

(1) Find that the carrying out of the agreement to impose this condition on Mitsui's admission to the Conference without Board approval, is in violation of section 15, Shipping Act, 1916; and

(2) Find that the agreement to impose this condition should not be approved since it is unjustly discriminatory and unfair as between carriers or detrimental to the commerce of the United States within the meaning of section 15, Shipping Act, 1916; and

(3) Order the condition to be canceled by the Conference; and

It is further ordered, That pursuant to Rule 5 (g) of the Board's rules of practice and procedure (46 CFR 201.67) Respondents shall file an answer herein on or before twenty days from April 16, 1956; and

It is further ordered, That a copy of the order shall be served upon all persons named as Respondents herein, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

Dated: April 5, 1956.

Office of the Secretary

[Dept. Order 153, amended]

BUREAU OF FOREIGN COMMERCE

ORGANIZATION, FUNCTIONS AND AUTHORITIES

The material appearing in 18 F. R. 6789 is superseded by the following:

SECTION 1. Purpose. The purpose of this order is to prescribe the organization, functions, and authorities of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

SEC. 2. Organization. .01 The Bureau of Foreign Commerce was established by the Secretary of Commerce by Department Order 153 of October 12, 1953, as a primary organization unit of the Department of Commerce. It is headed by a Director, appointed by the Secretary of Commerce. The Director reports and is responsible to the Assistant Secretary for International Affairs.

.02 The Bureau of Foreign Commerce consists of the following organization units:

1. Office of the Director, which includes:
(1) Director.
(2) International Resources Staff.
(3) Administrative Management Staff.
(4) Legal Staff.
(5) Export Control Investigation Staff.

2. Office of Trade Promotion:
(1) Business Relations Division.
(2) Trade Development Division.
(3) Investment Development Division.
(4) Travel Division.
(5) Trade Missions Division.
(6) Foreign Service Operations Division.
(7) Foreign Trade Zones Division.
(8) Publications Division.

3. The Office of Economic Affairs:
(1) American Republics Division.
(2) British Commonwealth Division.
(3) European Division.
(4) Far Eastern Division.
(5) Near Eastern and African Division.
(6) Transportation and Utilities Division.
(7) International Economic Analysis Division.
(8) Commercial Intelligence Division.
(9) Insurance Staff.

4. Office of Export Supply:
(1) Agricultural and Chemical Products Division.
(2) Finished Products Division.
(3) Materials Division.
(4) Producers Equipment Division.
(5) Operations Division.
(6) Strategic Controls Division.

SEC. 3. Delegations of authority. .01 Subject to such policies and directions as the Secretary of Commerce may prescribe, the Director, Bureau of Foreign Commerce shall perform the functions and exercise the power and authorities vested in the Secretary of Commerce relating to (1) foreign commerce and trade of the United States under the Act of February 14, 1903 (32 Stat. 826), as amended; (2) foreign travel and foreign investment under sections 104 (a) and 104 (b) of Executive Order No. 10575 of November 6, 1954 as amended; (3) exports from the United States under the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended (63 Stat. 7; 50 U. S. C. App. 2021-2032). In addition, the Director, Bureau of Foreign Commerce shall be responsible for the administration of the Department's functions under the China Trade Act, 1922 (42 Stat. 849, 15 U. S. C. 141 et seq.), the Foreign Trade Zones Act as amended, as provided herein (48 Stat. 998, 19 U. S. C. 81a-81u), the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U. S. C. 1354), and Reciprocal Trade Agreements thereunder, and other legislative acts relating to the foreign trade and commerce of the United States.

.02 The Director, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, is authorized to redelegate the authority conferred herein to any officer of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce and to impose such conditions and limitations as he deems appropriate.

.03 In carrying out the functions and authorities assigned by this order, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce will cooperate and collaborate with the Business and Defense Services Administration wherever the commodity and industrial interests of the latter organization are applicable.

SEC. 4. General functions and responsibilities. .01 The objective of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce shall be to foster and promote the foreign commerce of the United States in exports, imports, capital investment, travel and other significant component elements in international business transactions. To this end the bureau shall:

1. Stimulate the development and expansion of United States foreign trade, travel and private investment by providing information and advisory services to American business concerns in the conduct of their foreign trade and investment operations; and provide facilities by means of which the experience of American business concerns may be brought to bear in the development of Government policies and programs in the field of foreign commerce;

2. Cooperate with representatives of other nations in the consideration and solution of international economic, trade and exchange problems through participation in international organizations and conferences, through liaison with foreign embassies and foreign private organizations in the United States, through cooperation with the Department of State and other agencies of the United States Government, and with private American organizations concerned with international economic and business matters, and through other suitable means;

3. Provide staff and operational support for the Assistant Secretary for International Affairs in the development of policies and programs relating to the foreign trade and commerce of the United States, foreign economic development and international commodity arrangements or arrangements with respect to the utilization of other international resources which affect the foreign economic interests of the United States;

4. Administer the responsibilities vested in the Secretary of Commerce with respect to the control of exports from the United States;

5. Initiate such actions as may be considered appropriate for the protection of American business interests abroad and for the protection of United States treaty rights through the facilities of the United States Foreign Service; and

6. Conduct the Department's activities in connection with the China Trade Act, the Foreign Trade Zones Act, and other legislative acts similarly affecting specific aspects of the foreign trade and commerce of the United States.

SEC. 5. Functions of organization units. .01 The Office of the Director shall be responsible for formulating the policies, developing and coordinating the programs and directing all operations of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

1. The International Resources Staff shall be responsible for coordinating the Department's activities relating to commodities and materials subjected to "escape clause" actions under the Trade Agreements Extension Act and section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act; develop the Department's position with respect to legislation affecting international trade in commodities and materials; and performs staff work for the President's Committee on Foreign Economic Policy.

2. The Administrative Management Staff shall be under the direction of the Executive Officer who shall be the chief administrative officer of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce. He shall report and be responsible to the Director, but shall be governed by general administrative policies, standards and procedures established or approved by the Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Administration. The Executive Officer shall assist the Director in fulfilling his responsibilities for administrative efficiency and economy in the operation of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce. He shall secure required administrative services for the bureau through the offices reporting to the Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Administration.

3. The Legal Staff, headed by the Assistant General Counsel for International Affairs as a division of the Office of the General Counsel, shall provide legal advice and other necessary legal services to the bureau.

4. Export Control Investigation Staff shall be responsible for detecting possible violations through examination of suspect export license applications and supplementary documents and other documents available to the Department of Commerce and shall conduct all full-scale investigations of alleged violations here and abroad. It shall review, summarize, and prepare reports of such investigations for appropriate legal and administrative action.

.02 The Office of Trade Promotion shall:

1. Develop and maintain methods and channels for providing a wider knowledge of Bureau of Foreign Commerce resources to the business community;

2. Integrate the services of the Bureau more closely with the actual needs of present and potential foreign traders and investors;

3. Give broad publicity to trade opportunities arising from all sources and provide information to the business community on marketing techniques, trade channels and other ancillary services used in international trade;

4. Develop information on specific investment opportunities abroad; prepare analyses for use of American businessmen; and assist interested businessmen in developing additional information as may be necessary in particular situations;

5. Stimulate travel to and from the United States and within foreign countries by sponsoring the reduction or removal of barriers to foreign travel in this and other countries and by active participation in the work of international travel organizations;

6. Organize and service trade missions to international trade fairs and selected countries independently of trade fair operations for developing trade and investment opportunities;

7. Be responsible for that portion of the Foreign Service of the United States which is concerned with the functions and activities of the Department of Commerce; planning, developing, coordinating and recommending policies and programs to be carried out by the Foreign Service for the Department; the establishment of Foreign Service post complements for the performance of economic and commercial functions; recruitment, examination, selection, appointment, assignment and transfer of Foreign Service personnel engaged in work of the Department; programming of all reporting performed by the Foreign Service for the Department; the evaluation of individuals and appraisal of post performance; the provisions of training programs to prepare officers of the Foreign Service to carry out their duties for the Department; and the maintenance of liaison with the Foreign Service;

8. Perform staff work for the Foreign Trade Zones Board in carrying out its responsibilities for supervising and regulating foreign trade zones; and

9. Coordinate the publications programs of the Bureau; and schedule the development and issuance of publications based upon current needs of American businessmen.

.03 The Office of Economic Affairs shall:

1. Assemble, maintain, analyze and disseminate to American businessmen data on foreign economies, economic conditions, laws and regulations needed by American firms in connection with the planning and conduct of their international trade and investment activity. The Office will disseminate these data by publications, correspondence, direct contact and business group meetings and shall also make such material available for use by other agencies of the government and other interested private parties. The material in question shall consist of foreign economic and financial data and laws, policies, and regulations affecting U. S. foreign trade and commerce, including tariffs, resources, financial developments, economic conditions, trade controls, customs procedures, taxation, transport, insurance, utilities and individual foreign commercial and industrial enterprises;

2. Initiate, through the Office of Trade Promotion, and the Foreign Service of the United States, representations on behalf of American business interests for the maintenance of their rights and privileges abroad under the terms of treaties and international agreements of the United States;

3. Maintain liaison with foreign embassies and legations in the United States and, as appropriate, in conjunction with the Office of Trade Promotion, with the Foreign Service of the United States in respect to the responsibilities of the Office of Economic Affairs;

4. Administer the British Token Import Plan and the China Trade Act, within the overall delegation accorded by the Secretary of Commerce through the Director of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce;

5. Maintain continuous review of United States foreign trade and finance, and trade and financial relations among foreign countries as a basis for judgments concerning the effect of international economic developments upon United States business interests, and develop and recommend, as appropriate, policies for the Department in connection with such matters;

6. Develop and recommend policies for the Department, and coordinate within the Department by consultation with the Business and Defense Services Administration and other primary organization units, the action of the Department on all matters relating to the responsibilities of the Department under the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U. S. C. 1354) and other legislation affecting import policies and procedures and international financial operations of the United States and foreign governments. In this connection the Office will furnish staff support to the Office of the Secretary and the Assistant Secretary for International Affairs in connection with their participation in high level committees dealing with these matters, and as directed by the Bureau Director, furnish Bureau of Foreign Commerce representation and, as appropriate, representation on behalf of the Department, on subordinate interdepartmental committees and working groups concerned with such activities.

7. As necessary, review broad export control policies and specific export control actions which raise special economic policy problems;

8. Furnish, as directed by the Bureau Director, representation for the Bureau and on behalf of the Department on the Interdepartmental United Nations Economic Committee, and subsidiary committees and working groups of the UNEC, and shall also furnish the Department's representation on other interdepartmental staff-level committees and the working groups established to deal with individual foreign countries or foreign regions.

.04 The Office of Export Supply shall:

1. Administer and enforce the export control programs of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, including the initiation and development of policies and measures for the control of United States exports;

2. Formulate and recommend measures to meet the security, foreign policy and short supply objectives in the control of exports from the United States;

3. Determine standards and procedures governing applications for export licenses and carry out the operations involved in the issuance of export licenses, including the maintenance of appropriate operational relationships with the Bureau of Customs and other agencies of the Government directly involved; and

4. Participate, as appropriate, in the development and conduct of United States policies relating to the control of trade and other economic relationships between the United States and other countries of the free world and the European Soviet bloc and communist countries of the Far East.

SEC. 6. Field programs. The Bureau of Foreign Commerce shall have the authority and responsibility for the determination of all programs and policies governing field activities pertaining to the foreign commerce of the United States through the Office of Field Services, Business and Defense Services Administration.

Effective date: April 17, 1956.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-3471]

UTAH POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED BANK LOANS

APRIL 27, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that Utah Power & Light Company ("Company"), a registered holding company which is also an operating utility company, has filed with this Commission a declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), designating sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are sumarized as follows:

Pursuant to a Credit Agreement to be executed by the Company and seventeen lending banks, the Company proposes to borrow, during the period beginning June 1, 1956, and ending July 15, 1957, not to exceed $25,000,000, as follows:

| Name of lending bank | Amount of commitment |
|---|---|
| First Security Bank of Utah National Association | $1,750,000 |
| Bank of Utah | 75,000 |
| Cache Valley Banking Co | 60,000 |
| Carbon Emery Bank | 60,000 |
| Commercial Security Bank | 175,000 |
| The Continental Bank & Trust Co | 400,000 |
| First National Bank of Salt Lake City | 225,000 |
| Union Bank & Trust Co | 60,000 |
| Utah Savings & Trust Co | 150,000 |
| Valley State Bank | 60,000 |
| Walker Bank & Trust Co | 750,000 |
| Zion's Savings Bank & Trust Co | 450,000 |
| The Chase Manhattan Bank | 9,450,000 |
| Guaranty Trust Co. of New York | 2,700,000 |
| Harris Trust & Savings Bank | 935,000 |
| Mellon National Bank & Trust Co | 7,200,000 |
| United States National Bank, of Denver | 500,000 |
| Total | 25,000,000 |

Under the terms of the Credit Agreement, the loans will be made from time to time during said period as the Company's construction program requires, and will be evidenced by notes payable on October 15, 1957, which may be paid in whole or in part at any time prior thereto. Each note will bear interest at the prime commercial rate of The Chase Manhattan Bank, New York City, prevailing on the fifth business day prior to the date of such note.

The proceeds from such loans, together with other available cash, will be used to carry forward the system's construction program, estimated to cost approximately $41,000,000 for the years 1956-57 inclusive. It is the Company's present intention to issue and sell, during the second half of 1957, such additional securities as may be required to discharge the aforesaid bank loans and to finance in part the remainder of the 1957 construction program and carry it forward into 1958, maintaining approximately the present debt-equity ratios.

The Company estimates that its expenses to be incurred in connection herewith will not exceed $1,000.

It is stated that this Commission and the Idaho Public Utilities Commission are the only regulatory agencies having jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

The Company requests that the order of the Commission herein be made effective not later than May 21, 1956.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 17, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100, or take such other action as it may deem appropriate.

By the Commission.

SQUARE D CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR UNLISTED TRADING PRIVILEGES, AND OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

APRIL 30, 1956.

In the matter of application by the Midwest Stock Exchange for unlisted trading privileges in Square D Company, common stock, File No. 7-1792.

The above named stock exchange, pursuant to section 12 (f) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12F-1 promulgated thereunder, has made application for unlisted trading privileges in the specified security, which is listed and registered on the New York Stock Exchange.

Upon receipt of a request, on or before May 16, 1956, from any interested person, the Commission will determine whether to set the matter down for hearing. Such request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person making the request and the position he proposes to take at the hearing. In addition, any interested person may submit his views or any additional facts bearing on this application by means of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. If no one requests a hearing on this matter, this application will be determined by order of the Commission on the basis of the facts stated in the application and other information contained in the official file of the Commission pertaining to the matter.

[File No. 812-1003]

ADAMS EXPRESS CO. AND AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR ORDER EXEMPTING ACQUISITION OF SECURITIES OF AN INVESTMENT COMPANY

APRIL 30, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that The Adams Express Company ("Adams") and its majority-owned subsidiary, American International Corporation ("American"), both closed-end, diversified investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, have filed an application pursuant to section 6 (c) of the act for an order exempting them from the provisions of section 12 (d) (1) of the act with respect to a proposed acquisition of certain shares of common stock of National Aviation Corporation ("Aviation"), a registered, closed-end, non-diversified investment company.

The investment policy of Aviation is stated to be the concentration of investments in common stock and in senior securities convertible into common stock of air transport companies and in companies either in, or connected with, or serving and/or supplying the aviation industry. Adams and American presently own together an aggregate of 4.69 percent (26,200 shares) of the common stock of Aviation. On April 17, 1956, Aviation informed its stockholders that it proposes to offer them transferable Rights, represented by Warrants, to subscribe for 139,523 additional shares of its common stock on the basis of one additional share for each four shares held. In addition, each holder of a Warrant is entitled to the privilege of subscribing for additional shares of the Aviation stock, subject to allotment, out of any shares not subscribed for pursuant to the exercise of the primary subscription Rights. Such stock offering by Aviation will not be underwritten and is expected to expire on or about May 22, 1956.

Adams and American desire and intend, subject to the granting of the instant application by the Commission, to exercise their Rights as stockholders to purchase shares of Aviation together with subscription rights under any additional subscription privileges which may be available.

If all stockholders of Aviation, including both applicants, exercise their full rights pursuant to such stock offering the percentage of total outstanding stock of Aviation owned by the applicants will remain the same 4.69 percent. If subscription Rights of others are not exercised, however, the additional stock of Aviation to be acquired by applicants, pursuant to their Rights and additional subscription privileges which may be available, could result in the ownership by Adams and American of more than 5 percent of the outstanding stock of Aviation.

Section 12 (d) (1) of the act, among other things, makes it unlawful for any registered investment company and any company controlled by it to purchase or otherwise acquire any security issued by any other investment company if such registered investment company and any company controlled by it own in the aggregate, or as a result of such purchase will own, more than 5 percent of the total outstanding stock of such other investment company if the policy of such other investment company is the concentration of investments in a particular industry or group of industries.

Adams and American have agreed that they will take immediate steps to divest themselves of such shares of Aviation which, combined, may be in excess of 5 percent of the common stock of Aviation to be outstanding following the aforesaid Rights offering.

Section 6 (c) of the act provides, among other things, that the Commission, by order upon application, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any person from any provision or provisions of the act or of any rule or regulation thereunder, if and to the extent that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 15, 1956, submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application may be granted as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 14, as amended (7 CFR Part 914), regulating the handling of navel oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective September 22, 1953, under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Navel Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such navel oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The Navel Orange Administrative Committee held an open meeting on May 3, 1956, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for navel oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such navel oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of navel oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 6, 1956, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 13, 1956, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 138,600 cartons;

(ii) District 2: 785,400 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement;

(iv) District 4: Unlimited movement.

(2) Navel oranges handled pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to any size restrictions applicable thereto which have heretofore been issued on the handling of such oranges and which are effective during the period specified herein.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "District 4," have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; and "carton" means the standard one-half orange, grapefruit or lemon box set forth as standard container number 58 in section 828.83, as amended, of the Agricultural Code of California.

[Valencia Orange Reg. 67]

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

§ 922.367 Valencia Orange Regulation 67—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to Order No. 22 (7 CFR Part 922), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective March 31, 1954, under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The Valencia Orange Administrative Committee held an open meeting on May 3, 1956, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 6, 1956, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 13, 1956, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 148,874 cartons;

(ii) District 2: 91,250 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) Valencia oranges handled pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to any size restrictions applicable thereto which have heretofore been issued on the handling of such oranges and which are effective during the period specified herein.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," have the same meaning as when used in said order; and "carton" means the standard one-half orange, grapefruit or lemon box set forth as standard container number 58 in section 828.83, as amended, of the Agricultural Code of California.

PART 924—MILK IN DETROIT, MICH., MARKETING AREA

ORDER SUSPENDING CERTAIN PROVISIONS

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act", and of the order, as amended (7 CFR Part 924), regulating the handling of milk in the Detroit, Michigan, marketing area, hereinafter referred to as the "order", it is hereby found and determined that:

(a) The phrase in § 924.46 (b) which reads, "in series beginning with the lowest-priced utilization," together with the comma preceding such phrase; paragraph (b) of § 924.60; and all of § 924.65 do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act for the period March 1, 1956, through April 30, 1956.

These provisions relate to the allocation of and payments on other source milk. During the last few days of March and the first week of April 1956, a strike seriously curtailed the shipment of producer milk from country sources to the distributing plants serving the Detroit market. In order to obtain urgently needed supplies, these plants purchased substantial quantities of other source milk as replacement for usual receipts of producer milk.

The allocation provisions cited above are designed to give priority to supplies of producer milk which, in normal circumstances, constitute the regular and most efficient source of supply for the market. The payment provisions cited above are designed to provide assurance that handlers utilizing such milk for Class I purposes will not thereby gain a competitive advantage as compared with the utilization of producer milk. Since producer milk was not, in fact, readily available during the strike period, other source milk should be allocated proportionately with producer milk to Class I and Class II instead of to the lowest-priced utilization. Also, it is clear that handlers did not seek to purchase the other source milk during this period as a means of obtaining any price advantage.

The provisions need to be suspended for the entire months of March and April 1956, since handlers did not take inventory or otherwise maintain their records in such fashion as to account separately for receipts and utilization during the period of the strike. The retroactive application of this suspension order is necessary because there was no advance notice of the strike, nor means of determining the duration of its effects until after the event. Also, the retroactivity is an appropriate means for maximizing the use of producer milk during those portions of March and April which were not affected by the strike. If it had been possible to announce the suspension in advance, handlers might have had some limited incentive to seek out such supplies of other source milk as might be in seasonal surplus in other markets.

(b) Notice of proposed rule making, public procedure thereon, and 30 days notice of the effective date hereof, are found to be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest for reasons stated under (a) above and in that:

1. The information upon which this action is based did not become available in time sufficient for such compliance;

2. This suspension order would remove substantial monetary obligations which would otherwise be incurred by those handlers who found it necessary to purchase the other source milk; and

3. This suspension order does not require of persons affected substantial or extensive preparation prior to its effective date.

It is therefore ordered, That the phrase in § 924.46 (b) which reads, "in series beginning with the lowest-priced utilization," together with the comma preceding such phrase; paragraph (b) of § 924.60; and all of § 924.65 be and hereby are suspended during the months of March and April 1956.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 1st day of May 1956, to be effective for the months of March and April 1956.

Assistant Secretary.

PART 945—TOMATOES GROWN IN FLORIDA

TRUCK SHIPMENTS

A notice of proposed rule making regarding an amendment to the existing general rules and regulations (21 F. R. 353) issued pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 125 and Order No. 45, regulating the handling of tomatoes grown in Florida, effective pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 21, 1956 (21 F. R. 2604). Such notice stated that consideration would be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto, which are filed with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than five days following publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. None was filed.

After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposal set forth in the aforesaid notice, which was adopted and submitted for approval by the Florida Tomato Committee, established pursuant to said Marketing Agreement and Order, the existing rules and regulations (21 F. R. 353) are hereby amended by adding the following new main heading and new section at the end thereof (i. e., immediately after present § 945.135):

INSPECTION

§ 945.140 Truck shipments. In case of the transportation by truck outside of the production area of any tomatoes which are required to be inspected and certified as complying with any applicable requirements under this part, such tomatoes shall be accompanied by, and made available for examination at any time upon request, a copy of the appropriate inspection certificate or a copy of the appropriate transfer clearance receipt (Form FV-418) issued by the Federal-State Inspection Service, the official inspection agency for this program, showing that such tomatoes have been so inspected and certified.

It is hereby found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the making of this amendatory order effective later than the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER because: (1) Shipments of Florida tomatoes are now being made in large volume; (2) these amendments are designed to make enforcement of the applicable tomato regulations more effective, and such amendments should be put into effect as soon as practicable, and (3) notice that these requirements will be put into effect has heretofore been given all interested persons and no advance notice is necessary for compliance therewith.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 2d day of May 1956, to become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Deputy Administrator.

[Lemon Reg. 640]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.747 Lemon Regulation 640—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 20 F. R. 8451), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on May 2, 1956, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 6, 1956, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 13, 1956, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 395,250 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) As used in this section, "handled," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3" have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order; and "carton" means the standard one-half orange, grapefruit or lemon box set forth as standard container number 58 in section 828.83, as amended, of the Agricultural Code of California.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: May 3, 1956.

[Grapefruit Reg. 109]

PART 955—GRAPEFRUIT GROWN IN ARIZONA; IN IMPERIAL COUNTY, CALIFORNIA; AND IN THAT PART OF RIVERSIDE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SITUATED SOUTH AND EAST OF THE SAN GORGONIO PASS

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 955.370 Grapefruit Regulation 109—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 55, as amended (7 CFR Part 955), regulating the handling of grapefruit grown in the State of Arizona; in Imperial County, California; and in that part of Riverside County, California, situated south and east of the San Gorgonio Pass, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Administrative Committee (established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order), and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of grapefruit, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than May 6, 1956. Shipments of grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, have been subject to regulation by grades and sizes, pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order, since October 9, 1955, and will so continue until May 6, 1956; the recommendation and supporting information for continued regulation subsequent to May 5, 1956, were promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Administrative Committee on April 26, 1956; such meeting was held to consider recommendations for regulation, after giving due notice of such meeting, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including the effective time thereof, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such grapefruit; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter set forth so as to provide for the continued regulation of the handling of grapefruit, and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 6, 1956, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 31, 1956, no handler shall ship:

(i) Any grapefruit of any variety grown in the State of Arizona; in Imperial County, California; or in that part of Riverside County, California, situated south and east of the San Gorgonio Pass unless such grapefruit grade at least U. S. No. 2; or

(ii) From the State of California or the State of Arizona (a) to any point outside thereof in the United States, any grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, which are of a size smaller than 3$^{1}/_{16}$ inches in diameter, or (b) to any point in Canada, any grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, which are of a size smaller than 3$^{3}/_{16}$ inches in diameter ("diameter" in each case to be measured midway at a right angle to a straight line running from the stem to the blossom end of the fruit), except that a tolerance of 5 percent, by count, of grapefruit smaller than the foregoing minimum sizes shall be permitted which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances, specified in the revised United States Standards for Grapefruit (California and Arizona), §§ 51.925 to 51.955 of this title: Provided, That, in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than 3$^{3}/_{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are of a size 3$^{13}/_{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller; and in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than 3$^{3}/_{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are of a size 3$^{10}/_{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller.

(2) As used in this section, "handler," "variety," "grapefruit," and "ship" shall have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; and the term "U. S. No. 2" shall have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Grapefruit (California and Arizona), §§ 51.925 to 51.955 of this title.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: May 1, 1956.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 23]

PART 3—AIRPLANE AIRWORTHINESS: NORMAL, UTILITY, AND ACROBATIC CATEGORIES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Section 3.359–3 specifies an acceptable location of the landing gear position indicator switches.

Section 3.688–1 contains new policies concerning load circuit connections with respect to the master switch and § 3.688–2 contains policies concerning connection of electric stall warning indicators.

The material contained in § 3.690–2 states the position of the CAA that circuit protective devices should not be bypassed by an overriding type of control.

1. A new § 3.359–3 is added to read as follows:

§ 3.359–3 Landing gear position indicator switches (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.359). The phrase "means shall be provided for indicating to the pilot" includes a landing gear position indicator as well as the switches necessary to actuate such indicator. The switches must be so located and coupled to the landing gear mechanical system as to preclude the possibility of an erroneous indication of "down and locked" if the landing gear is not in a fully extended position, or "up and locked" if the landing gear is not in the completely retracted position. Location of the switches so that they are operated by the actual landing gear locking latch or device is an acceptable method of compliance with the requirements of this section.

2. Section 3.688–1 is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.688–1 Load circuit connections with respect to master switch (CAA policies which apply to § 3.688). All load circuits should be connected to electric power sources in such manner that the master switch can interrupt service, unless such interruption of service[1] would result in the inability to maintain controlled flight or to effective a safe landing.

3. A new § 3.688–2 is added to read as follows:

§ 3.688–2 Electric stall warning indicator circuit (CAA policies which apply to § 3.688). Electric stall warning indicator circuits, when installed, should be connected to the electric power system in such manner that the master switch can interrupt service. If the indicator is required for type certification as a result of the particular stall characteristics of the airplane, the CAA approved Airplane Flight Manual should contain the information that the stall warning system is inoperative with the master switch open. When such a manual is not required, this information should be displayed on a placard or contained in the manual furnished by the manufacturer as required by § 3.777 (b).

4. A new § 3.690–2 is added to read as follows:

§ 3.690–2 Circuit breakers (CAA policies which apply to § 3.690). All resettable type circuit protective devices should be so designed that, when an overload or circuit fault exists, they will open the circuit irrespective of the position of the operating control.[2]

(Sec. 205. 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007; 49 U. S. C.)

This supplement shall become effective May 25, 1956.

[SEAL] S. A. KEMP,
Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

[F. R. Doc. 56–3566; Filed, May 4, 1956; 8:51 a. m.]

[1] Interruption of service due to master switch operation may be only temporary. After the master switch is opened (in the event of electrical fire or smoke), service may be restored to a circuit which is essential to safety by first opening all circuit protective devices, then reclosing the master switch and finally reclosing the circuit protective device in the circuit desired.

[2] Circuit protective devices which conform to the above description are known commercially as "trip-free," that is, the tripping mechanism cannot be overridden by the operating control. Such circuit protective devices can be reset on an overload or circuit fault, but will trip subsequently in accordance with their current-time characteristics.

[Amdt. 1]

PART 610—MINIMUM EN ROUTE IFR ALTITUDES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The minimum en route IFR altitudes appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with interested members of the industry in the regions concerned insofar as practicable. The altitudes are adopted without delay in order to provide for safety in air commerce. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required. Part 610 is amended as follows: (Listed items to be placed in appropriate sequence in the sections indicated).

Section 610.18 Green civil airway 8 is amended by adding:

From Anchorage (Merrill), Alaska, LFR; to *Willow INT, Alaska; MEA 2,500. *6,400—MCA Willow INT, eastbound.
From Willow INT, Alaska; to Wasilla INT, Alaska; MEA 7,000.
From Wasilla INT, Alaska; to Gulkana, Alaska, LFR; MEA 10,500.
From Gulkana, Alaska LFR; to Northway, Alaska, LFR; MEA 10,500.

Section 610.101 Amber civil airway 1 is amended to read in part:

From Yakutat, Alaska, LFR; to Cape Suckling INT, Alaska; MEA 1,500.
From Cape Suckling INT, Alaska; to East Cordova INT, Alaska; MEA 5,000.
From East Cordova INT, Alaska; to *Hinchinbrook, Alaska, LFR; MEA 2,000. *3,000—MCA Hinchinbrook LFR, westbound.

Section 610.209 Red civil airway 9 is amended to read in part:

From *San Diego, Calif., LFR; to El Centro, Calif., LFR; MEA 8,000. *3,000—MCA San Diego LFR, eastbound. 4,000—MCA El Centro LFR, westbound.
From Barrett Lake, Calif., FM; to Jamul, Calif., LF/RBN, westbound only; MEA 6,000.
From Jamul, Calif., LF/RBN; to San Diego, Calif., LFR, westbound only; MEA 4,500.

Section 610.211 Red civil airway 11 is amended to read in part:

From Claremore INT, Okla.; to Springfield, Mo., LFR; MEA 2,500.

CHANGES IN AREAS QUARANTINED

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 1 and 3 of the act of March 3, 1905, as amended (21 U. S. C. 123, 125), sections 1 and 2 of the act of February 2, 1903, as amended (21 U. S. C. 111–113, 120) and section 7 of the act of May 29, 1884, as amended (21 U. S. C. 117), § 76.27, as amended, Subpart B, Part 76, Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations (21 F. R. 3, 417, 786, 1165, 1461, 1743, 2230, 2611), which contains a notice with respect to the States in which swine are affected with vesicular exanthema, a contagious, infectious, and communicable disease, and which quarantines certain areas in such States because of said disease, is hereby further amended in the following respects:

1. A new subdivision (lxxv) is added to subparagraph (5) of paragraph (d), relating to Gloucester County in New Jersey, to read:

(lxxv) Lot 15, Block 407, in Deptford Township, owned by George Kersey and operated by Joseph Scanlon.

2. A new subdivision (xxi) is added to subparagraph (9) of paragraph (d), relating to Monmouth County in New Jersey, to read:

(xxi) That part of Howell Township lying east of Howell Road, north of County Road No. 524, west of Fairfield Road, and south of Bennett Road.

Effective date. The foregoing amendment shall become effective upon issuance.

The amendment excludes certain areas in New Jersey from the areas heretofore quarantined because of vesicular exanthema. Hereafter, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine, and carcasses, parts and offal of swine, from or through quarantined areas, contained in 9 CFR, 1955 Supp., Part 76, Subpart B, as amended, will not apply to such areas. However, the restrictions pertaining to such movement from non-quarantined areas, contained in said Subpart B, as amended, will apply thereto.

The amendment relieves certain restrictions presently imposed, and must be made effective immediately to be of maximum benefit to persons subject to the restrictions which are relieved. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the amendment may be made effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE, 1954

Chapter I—Internal Revenue Service, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter E—Alcohol, Tobacco, and Other Excise Taxes

[T. D. 6173]

PART 225—WAREHOUSING OF DISTILLED SPIRITS

CONSOLIDATION OF PACKAGES

On January 19, 1956, a notice of proposed rule making with respect to Part 225 of Title 26 (1954) of the Code of Federal Regulations was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (21 F. R. 399). The purpose of this proposal was to provide for the consolidation of packages of spirits distilled at 190 degrees of proof or more from the same class of materials by the same distiller at the same distillery and stored in the same kind of cooperage under approximately the same conditions and which are otherwise homogeneous. After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented by interested persons regarding the rules proposed, the following amendments to 26 CFR (1954) Part 225 are hereby adopted.

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 225.400 is amended by changing the semicolon at the end of paragraph (c) to a comma and adding the following, "or in consolidated packages filled in accordance with §§ 225.417a to 225.417g;".

PAR. 2. Section 225.409a is amended by inserting "225.417f," immediately after the reference to "225.417".

PAR. 3. By inserting, immediately after § 225.417, the following new undesignated center head and sections:

CONSOLIDATION OF PACKAGES

§ 225.417a Authorized consolidation. Spirits distilled at 190 degrees of proof or more, whether or not such proof is subsequently reduced, from the same class of materials, by the same distiller at the same distillery, and differing in periods of storage (a) not more than 6 months in the case of spirits stored in bond more than 2 years, (b) not more than 60 days in the case of spirits stored in bond more than 1 year and not more than 2 years, or (c) not more than 30 days in the case of spirits stored in bond 1 year or less, and stored in the same kind of cooperage under approximately the same conditions will be presumed to be homogeneous, and may, with the prior approval of the storekeeper-gauger in charge, be consolidated or combined in accordance with the provisions of this subpart. Such spirits may be repackaged in as many of the same packages or other packages of the same kind of cooperage as may be necessary.

§ 225.417b Equipment for consolidation of packages. The proprietor of an internal revenue bonded warehouse who desires to consolidate spirits must provide suitable space for the dumping of the packages containing the spirits to be consolidated, repackaging of such spirits, and the gauging of the consolidated packages. Tanks of adequate capacity, constructed in accordance with the provisions of § 225.111, shall be provided. If bulk gauging tanks or storage tanks have been provided, such tanks may be utilized in lieu of installing separate consolidation tanks. The facilities to be used must be so arranged and the work so performed that supervision by storekeeper-gaugers can be performed readily and expeditiously and unnecessary loss or wastage of spirits or unauthorized mingling will be presented.

§ 225.417c Application for consolidation of spirits. When it is desired to consolidate spirits contained in packages, application for such consolidation must be made to the storekeeper-gauger in charge by the proprietor of the warehouse. The application must be submitted, in triplicate, and shall identify the serial numbers of the packages, the total original tax gallons for all such packages (when spirits of more than one season's production are listed, the total original tax gallons for each season shall be shown), kind of original cooperage, class of materials from which produced, name of the producing distiller, and registry number and location (city or town, and State) of the distillery, the dates on which it is desired to conduct such operations, and the purpose therefor. Each application shall be given a serial number, beginning with "1" for the first day of January of each year and running consecutively thereafter to December 31, inclusive. In addition, where the warehouseman desires to subsequently withdraw the spirits on the original gauge of the consolidated packages he shall note on all copies of the application, "Withdraw on original gauge". Storekeeper-gaugers in charge will approve the application only where suitable space and equipment is available and internal revenue officers are available for necessary supervision. If the storekeeper-gauger approves the application he will return one copy marked "Approved" to the proprietor, and retain the remaining two copies.

§ 225.417d Dumping and gauging. Upon removal of the packages, authorized by the approved application, to that portion of the warehouse where the spirits are to be consolidated, the storekeeper-gauger will examine the packages. Any package bearing evidence of unusual loss that cannot be satisfactorily explained, or of tampering, shall be detained pending further investigation in accordance with the applicable provisions of §§ 225.480 to 225.495. The storekeeper-gauger will satisfy himself that each package which does not bear such evidence has been dumped into the tank. All packages must be thoroughly drained and if any of the packages are not to be refilled as consolidated packages such packages must be thoroughly rinsed. Rinse water not used in reducing the proof of the spirits must be destroyed, or collected in locked tanks for transfer by pipeline to a distillery on or contiguous to the warehouse premises for redistillation as provided in § 225.417h. Immediately upon being emptied all marks and brands must be obliterated from the packages and the packages removed from the warehouse: Provided, That, if any such packages are to be used for containers for consolidated spirits, so many as are required for that purpose may be retained and the name, location, and registry number of the producing distiller; the designation of the kind of cooperage; the proof of distillation; the kind of spirits; and the date of original filing, if all the spirits mingled were entered for deposit on the same date, may be left intact thereon. Spirits in the consolidation tank shall be thoroughly agitated and adjusted to a whole degree of proof by the proprietor. The storekeeper-gauger shall then verify the proof, see that all openings in the tank are locked, determine (volume or weight) the quantity of spirits in the tank and report the details of the gauge on all copies of the application.

§ 225.417e Filling and gauging consolidated packages. When the spirits are to be drawn from the tank the storekeeper-gauger shall see that all valves and openings other than the necessary outlet valves are closed and locked. All spirits drawn into packages will be carefully gauged by the warehouseman, under the general supervision of the storekeeper-gauger, and the details thereof will be entered by the warehouseman on Form 1520, in triplicate: Provided, That where the warehouseman has indicated on his application that the consolidated packages are to be withdrawn on the original gauge, the storekeeper-gauger shall, unless the packages are to be withdrawn without payment of tax for use in wine production, make such gauge and report the details thereof on Form 1520, noting on Form 1520, "Withdraw on original gauge". There shall be noted on Form 1520 the date of the original entry for deposit of the oldest spirits mingled in the tank. The composite proof determined in the tank shall be used for the consolidated packages. Weights shall be determined in pounds and one-half pounds. Where the gauge of the packages is performed and reported by the warehouseman the storekeeper-gauger shall, from time to time, verify the tares, gross weights, and tax gallonages. Where the storekeeper-gauger finds significant discrepancies in the warehouseman's report of gauge, or the marks and brands required to be placed on any container, the warehouseman shall make such corrections as may be required by the storekeeper-gauger. Tanks must be completely emptied before the inlets thereto may be unlocked. Where a remnant package results because of insufficient spirits remaining in the tank to fill the last package, such package shall be gauged and marked in the same manner as the other consolidated packages. Remnant packages may be consolidated in accordance with the provisions of § 225.417a. Losses of spirits resulting from the repackaging operation shall be reported by the storekeeper-gauger on the application by indicating the difference between the total quantity dumped in the tank and the total quantity repackaged. Upon completion of the gauging of the packages and the preparation of the gauge forms, one copy of the approved application and one copy of the Form 1520 covering the details of the repackaging will be forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner by the storekeeper-gauger, one copy of each will be retained by the proprietor, and one copy of each will be placed in the appropriate file in the Government office.

§ 225.417f Numbering, marking and branding of consolidated packages. All consolidated packages shall be serially numbered, separately from packages filled at the distillery, from storage tanks in the bonded warehouse, or from brandy-blending tanks in the bonded warehouse, beginning with the number "1," preceded by the letters "CP" (Consolidated Package) and the registry number and State identifying the warehouse, as CP–12–Ind.–1, etc. The symbol "CP" together with the registry number and State shall be considered a part of the serial number and must be shown on all official forms and records. The consolidated packages shall be marked and branded in accordance with the applicable provisions of § 225.409. The date of filling of the consolidated packages should be abbreviated, as "Con. 7–20–55". Where distilled spirits with different dates of original entry are consolidated, the date of the oldest spirits so mingled shall govern the entire lot and such date shall be marked on packages to indicate the date of original entry of the spirits for deposit.

§ 225.417g Withdrawal of consolidated spirits. When the proprietor desires to withdraw spirits which have been consolidated, application therefor will be prepared in the same manner as for the withdrawal of any other spirits, and the withdrawal will be made in accordance with the applicable provisions of this part. The date of consolidation will be noted on Form 1520, or, in the case of transfer in bond, on Form 1619.

§ 225.417h Collection and transfer of rinse water for redistillation. Rinse water collected for redistillation shall be held in closed, locked tanks until transferred by pipeline to a distillery on or contiguous to the warehouse premises. Rinse water obtained from spirits which are not homogeneous under the provisions of this part may not be mingled. Where rinse water is accumulated in a tank, an extra copy of Form 1520, prepared in accordance with §§ 225.417e, 225.601, 225.630, 225.810, 225.952, or 225.953, will be prepared and attached to the tank to identify the class and type of spirits. When the rinse water is to be transferred to a distillery for redistillation, it will be gauged by the proprietor (by weight or by volume). The proprietor will prepare a report of the gauge on Form 1520, in quintuplicate. The rinse water shall be given the same designation as the spirits contained in the packages from which it was obtained, preceded by the word "Diluted," as, for example, "Diluted Neutral Spirits-Grain." On completion of the transfer, three copies of the Form 1520 will be given to the storekeeper-gauger at the distillery, one copy will be filed in a special file by the storekeeper-gauger at the warehouse, and the remaining copy will be retained in the files of the proprietor. The receipt and redistillation of the rinse water at the distillery shall be in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 220 or Part 221 of this chapter, as the case may be, relating to receipt and redistillation of distilled spirits.

(68A Stat. 634; 26 U. S. C. 5194)

PAR. 4. Section 225.602 is amended by striking the seventh sentence, which begins, "Where the proprietor" and inserting in lieu thereof the following new sentence, "Rinse water which is not added to the spirits must be destroyed in the presence of the storekeper-gauger, or collected in locked tanks for transfer by pipeline to a distillery for redistillation as provided in § 225.417h."

PAR. 5. Section 225.632 is amended by striking from the sixth sentence, which begins, "The rinsings" the phrase "poured on the ground or into a sewer in the presence of the storekeeper-gauger." and inserting in lieu thereof the phrase "destroyed in the presence of the storekeeper-gauger, or collected in locked tanks for transfer by pipeline to a distillery for redistillation as provided in § 225.417h."

PAR. 6. Section 225.731 is amended by striking from the second sentence the word "Spirits" and inserting in lieu thereof the phrase "Except as provided in §§ 225.417a to 225.417g, spirits".

PAR. 7. Section 225.754 is amended by inserting in the first sentence, immediately after the phrase "or in packages filled from warehouse storage tanks," the phrase "or in consolidated packages,".

PAR. 8. Section 225.811 is amended by striking the period at the end of the second sentence and adding thereto the phrase ", or collected in locked tanks for transfer by pipeline to a distillery for redistillation as provided in § 225.417h."

PAR. 9. Section 225.962 is amended by striking the third sentence, which begins, "Any rinse water", and inserting in lieu thereof the following new sentence, "Any rinse water remaining after such reduction must be destroyed in the presence of the storekeeper-gauger, or collected in locked tanks for transfer by pipeline to a distillery for redistillation as provided in § 225.417h; it may not be mixed with spirits dumped from other packages."

PAR. 10. Section 225.1102 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting in the first sentence, immediately after the phrase "Forms 1520 covering packages filled from brandy-blending tanks,", the phrase "Forms 1520 covering consolidated packages,".

(B) By inserting at the end of the sixth sentence, which begins "Separate files", the words "and for consolidated packages".

PAR. 11. Section 225.1103 is amended by inserting in the first sentence, immediately after the words "brandy-blending department", the words "or spirits contained in consolidated packages".

PAR. 12. Section 225.1104 is amended by inserting in the third sentence, which begins "The binders", immediately after the phrase "packages of blended brandy filled in the brandy-blending department,", the phrase "consolidated packages,".

PAR. 13. Section 225.1106 is amended by inserting immediately after the first sentence a new sentence reading, "Copies of applications for the consolidation of packages will be filed separately in numerical order."

PAR. 14. Section 225.1111 is amended by inserting, immediately after the second sentence, which begins "All information", the following two new sentences: "The total original tax gallon content of packages dumped for consolidation shall be included as withdrawn in Form 1513 and the tax gallons of spirits drawn from consolidation tanks into packages will be included as 'deposited'. The quantity of spirits lost during repackaging will not be shown in the account on Form 1513."

PAR. 15. Section 225.1140 is amended by inserting, immediately after the third sentence, which begins "In the case", the following new sentence: "In the case of consolidated packages (where spirits with different dates of original entry were mingled) the season and year of the oldest spirits mingled shall be considered the season and year of the entire lot."

This Treasury decision shall become effective on the 31st day following the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[Docket No. 3666; Order 25]

PARTS 71–78—EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1956.

The matter of revision of certain regulations governing the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles, formulated and published by the Commission, being under consideration, and

It appearing, that Notice No. 25, dated February 17, 1956, setting forth certain proposed amendments to the said regulations, and the reasons therefor, and stating that consideration was to be given thereto, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 4, 1956 (21 F. R. 2145), pursuant to the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act; that pursuant to said notice interested parties were given an opportunity to be heard with respect to said proposed amendments; that written views or arguments were submitted to the Commission with respect to proposed amendments §§ 73.432, 74.560, and 77.823 (d);

And it further appearing, that said views and arguments with respect to proposed amendments §§ 73.432, 74.560, and 77.823 (d) are such as to warrant further consideration of said amendments, and that in all other respects the proposed amendments set forth in the above-referred to Notice No. 25 are deemed justified and necessary:

It is ordered, That the aforesaid regulations governing the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles be, and they are hereby, amended in the manner and to the extent set forth in Notice No. 25, dated February 17, 1956, except for the specific deletions and modifications set forth as follows:

1. In § 73.377 paragraphs (b) (1) and (2), delete (d) in the last sentence of both paragraphs so that the last sentence of paragraph (b) (1) reads, "Inside containers and the completed package must be capable of withstanding the tests prescribed in paragraphs (c) and (e) of this section.", and the last sentence of paragraph (b) (2) reads, "Inside containers must be capable of withstanding the tests prescribed in paragraph (c) of this section."

2. Delete the entire proposed amendments to § 73.432 which are the introductory text of paragraph (b); paragraph (c); and Note 3 following paragraph (e).

3. Delete the entire proposed amendments to § 74.560 which are the introductory text of paragraph (b); paragraph (b) (2); and Note 3 following paragraph (b) (2).

4. Delete the proposed amendment to paragraph (d) in § 77.823 and reword the amendatory text to § 77.823 as follows: In § 77.823 amend the heading and introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8364, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 77.823, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective July 23, 1956, and shall remain in effect until further order of the Commission;

It is further ordered, That compliance with the herein prescribed and amended regulations is hereby authorized on and after the date of service of this order;

And it is further ordered, That copies of this order be served upon all parties of record herein, and that notice shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing a copy thereof with the Director, Division of Federal Register.

(Sec. 204, 49 Stat. 546, as amended, sec. 835, 62 Stat. 739; 49 U. S. C. 304, 18 U. S. C. 835)

By the Commission, Division 3.

[SEAL] HAROLD D. McCOY, Secretary.

PART 73—SHIPPERS

1. Add paragraph (c) to § 73.9 (15 F. R. 8276, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.9, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.9 Import and export shipments. * * *

(c) Outside shipping containers for export shipments offered for transportation by carriers subject to Parts 71–78 of this chapter may have specification markings prescribed for containers plainly and legibly shown on labels or tags securely fastened thereto in lieu of marking requirements as prescribed for containers by Part 78 of this chapter.

SUBPART A—PREPARATION OF ARTICLES FOR TRANSPORTATION BY CARRIERS BY RAIL FREIGHT, RAIL EXPRESS, HIGHWAY, OR WATER

2. In § 73.22, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8276, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.22, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.22 Specification containers prescribed. (a) Shipping containers, unless otherwise provided in this part (see § 73.9 (c)), used hereafter in shipping explosives or other dangerous articles must have been made and marked in compliance with specifications prescribed in Part 78 of this chapter or with specifications of the Commission in effect at date of manufacture of container.

* * * * *

3. Amend § 73.24 paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8277, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.24, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.24 Design of containers. (a) In addition to standing the tests prescribed, the design and construction of inside and outside containers must be such as to prevent the occurrence in individual packages of defects that permit leakage of their contents under ordinary conditions incident to transportation.

* * * * *

4. In § 73.31, cancel Note 2 to paragraph (g) (20 F. R. 4413, June 23, 1955) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.31)

§ 73.31 Qualification, maintenance, and use of tank cars. * * *

(g) * * *

NOTE 2: [Canceled].

* * * * *

5. In § 73.33, amend paragraph (k) (11) only to the extent of changing the reference § 78.324, within the parentheses, to § 78.325 (21 F. R. 670, Jan. 31, 1956) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.33)

SUBPART B—EXPLOSIVES; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

6. Amend § 73.53 paragraphs (g) (1), and (t) (15 F. R. 8285, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.53, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.53 Definition of class A explosives. * * *

(g) * * *

(1) Detonating primers are devices for commercial use which contain a detonator and an additional charge of explosives, all assembled in a suitable envelope.

* * * * *

(t) Jet thrust units (jato), explosive, (class A), or igniters, jet thrust (jato), explosive, (class A). (a) Jet thrust units (jato), explosive, (class A), are metal cylinders containing a mixture of chemicals capable of burning rapidly and producing considerable pressure. Under certain conditions the chemical fuel with which the unit is loaded may explode. Jet thrust units are designed to be ignited by an electric igniter. They are used to assist aeroplanes to take off, to propel large missiles and to drive moving targets for practice firing.

(1) Igniters, jet thrust (jato), explosive, (class A), are devices consisting of an electrically operated or remotely controlled igniting element and a fast-burning composition assembled in a unit for use in igniting the propelling charge of jet thrust units. Under certain conditions the burning composition may explode.

* * * * *

7. Add paragraph (d) (3) to § 73.63 (15 F. R. 8288, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.63, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.63 High explosive with liquid explosive ingredient. * * *

(d) * * *

(3) High explosives (gelatin dynamite or blasting gelatin) may be shipped in a package consisting of not more than 6 cartridges of such explosives, each not exceeding 32 inches in length or 5 inches in diameter, cartridged with heavy paper in such manner as to have the approximate strength of a spec. 23G (§ 78.218 of this chapter) container, which cartridges shall in turn be placed in a 10-ply paper tube not exceeding 11 feet in length. The outer paper tube must be equipped with a metal cone or equally efficient device on one end which shall serve to close that end of the tube and to the metal cone shall be affixed a wire threaded through fiber tubes running through the center of each of the 6 cartridges; or as an alternative to the single wire running through the cartridges in the outer tube at the center, two wires may be applied, one on each side of the cartridges and between the outside of the cartridges and the inside of the outer tube. In either event, cartridges and the outer tube shall be securely closed so as to prevent spilling of any loose explosive under any conditions normally incident to transportation and cartridges shall be so loaded and stayed within the car or motor vehicle as to prevent damage to individual containers. The total gross weight of each completed package shall not exceed 125 pounds. Shipments are authorized in carload or truckload lots only without transfer of packages other than such transfers as may be necessary in the event of mechanical failure of the car or vehicle in which originally loaded.

* * * * *

8. Amend entire § 73.79 (18 F. R. 6777, Oct. 27, 1953) (18 F. R. 5271, Sept. 1, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.79) to read as follows:

§ 73.79 Jet thrust units (jato), explosive, class A or igniters jet thrust (jato), explosive, class A. (a) Jet thrust units (jato), explosive, must not be shipped with igniters assembled therein unless shipped by, for, or to the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force of the United States Government. Jet thrust units (jato) or igniters jet thrust (jato) must be packed in outside containers complying with the following specifications:

(1) Spec. 14, 15A, 15E, or 16A (§§ 78.165, 78.168, 78.172 and 78.185 of this chapter), wooden boxes or wooden boxes, fiberboard lined.

(b) Jet thrust units (jato), class A, or igniters jet thrust (jato), class A, packed in any other manner must be in containers of a type approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

(c) Each outside package must be plainly marked "Jet Thrust Units, Explosive" or "Igniters Jet Thrust, Explosive".

(d) Jet thrust units, class A, or igniters, jet thrust, class A, must not be offered for transportation by rail express, except as provided in § 73.86 or § 75.675 of this chapter.

9. In § 73.86, amend the introductory text of paragraph (d); amend paragraph (d) (4) (15 F. R. 8293, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.86, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.86 Samples of explosives and explosive articles. * * *

(d) Samples of explosives and explosive articles for transportation by rail freight, rail express, or highway. Samples of explosives (except liquid nitroglycerin), including fireworks and explosive devices for examination in a laboratory only and not intended for use or demonstration, may be offered for transportation by rail freight, rail express, or highway provided they fulfill the following requirements:

* * * * *

(4) Not more than 20 half-pound samples of explosives for laboratory examination may be packed in one outside package or transported in a single car or vehicle at one time.

* * * * *

10. Amend § 73.88 paragraph (e) (1) (19 F. R. 1277, Mar. 6, 1954) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.88) to read as follows:

§ 73.88 Definition of class B explosives. * * *

(e) * * *

(1) Igniters, jet thrust (jato), class B, are devices consisting of an electrically operated or remotely controlled igniting element and a fastburning composition assembled in a unit for use in igniting the propelling charge of jet thrust units.

* * * * *

11. Amend entire § 73.92 (21 F. R. 670, Jan. 31, 1956) (20 F. R. 8100, Oct. 28, 1955) (18 F. R. 6777, Oct. 27, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.92) to read as follows:

§ 73.92 Jet thrust units (jato), class B, or igniters, jet thrust (jato), class B. (a) Jet thrust units (jato), class B must not be shipped with igniters assembled therein unless shipped by, for, or to the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force of the United States Government. Jet thrust units (jato), class B, or igniters, jet thrust (jato) class B, must be packed in outside containers complying with the following specifications:

(1) Spec. 14, 15A, 15E, or 16A (§§ 78.165, 78.168, 78.172 and 78.185 of this chapter), wooden boxes or wooden boxes, fiberboard lined.

(2) Spec. 15B (§ 78.169 of this chapter), wooden boxes. Authorized only for igniters, jet thrust (jato), class B.

(3) Spec. 23F (§ 78.214 of this chapter), fiberboard boxes. Authorized only for igniters, jet thrust (jato), class B, which must be in tightly closed metal containers.

(b) Jet thrust units (jato), class B or igniters, jet thrust (jato), class B, packed in any other manner must be in containers of a type approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

(c) Each outside package must be plainly marked "Jet Thrust Units, Class B" or "Igniters, Jet Thrust, Class B".

(d) Jet thrust units must not be offered for transportation by rail express, except as provided in §§ 73.86 and 75.675 of this chapter.

SUBPART C—FLAMMABLE LIQUIDS; DEFINITIONS AND PREPARATION

12. In § 73.118, amend the introductory text of paragraph (c), and add paragraph (c) (26) through (34) (15 F. R. 8298, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.118, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.118 Exemptions for flammable liquids. * * *

(c) The following articles in any quantity are not exempt under the provisions of paragraph (a) or (b) of this section:

* * * * *

(26) Acrolein, inhibited.
(27) Aluminum triethyl.
(28) Aluminum trimethyl.
(29) Dimethyldichlorosilane.
(30) Ethyldichlorosilane.
(31) Methyltrichlorosilane.
(32) Methyl vinyl ketone, inhibited.
(33) Peroxides, organic, liquids, n. o. s.
(34) Trimethylchlorosilane.

13. Amend entire § 73.134 (15 F. R. 8302, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.134, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.134 Aluminum triethyl, aluminum trimethyl, or zinc ethyl. (a) Aluminum triethyl, aluminum trimethyl, or zinc ethyl must be shipped in cylinders as prescribed for any compressed gas, except acetylene.

(b) Aluminum triethyl, aluminum trimethyl, or zinc ethyl must not be offered for transportation by rail express.

14. Amend § 73.142 paragraph (a) (2) and (3) (17 F. R. 7281, Aug. 9, 1952) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.142) to read as follows:

§ 73.142 Pressurized flammable liquids. (a) * * *

(2) Spec. 15A, 15B, 15C, 16A, or 19A (§§ 78.168, 78.169, 78.170, 78.185, or 78.190 of this chapter), wooden boxes with inside metal containers not over 31.83 cubic inches (17.6 fluid ounces) capacity each. Inside metal containers charged as for shipment must be capable of having contents heated to 130° F. without leakage or permanent distortion of the container.

(3) Spec. 12B (§ 78 205 of this chapter), fiberboard boxes with inside metal containers not over 31.83 cubic inches (17.6 fluid ounces) capacity each. Inside metal containers charged as for shipment must be capable of having contents heated to 130° F. without leakage or permanent distortion of the container.

15. Add § 73.147 (15 F. R. 8302, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.147, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.147 Methyl vinyl ketone, inhibited. (a) Methyl vinyl ketone must be inhibited and must be packed in specification containers as follows:

(1) As prescribed in § 73.119 (a) or (b).

(b) Methyl vinyl ketone, inhibited, in glass or metal inside containers having not over 4 fluid ounces each and not more than one inside container securely and efficiently cushioned in strong outside fiberboard or wooden boxes, is exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements except that marking name of contents on outside container is required for shipments via carrier by water. Shipments for transportation by highway carriers are exempt also from Part 77 of this chapter, except § 77.817, and Part 197 of this chapter.

SUBPART D—FLAMMABLE SOLIDS AND OXIDIZING MATERIALS; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

16. In § 73.153, amend the introductory text of paragraph (c) (15 F. R. 8303, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.153, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.153 Exemptions for flammable solids and oxidizing materials. • • •

(c) The following articles in any quantity are not exempt under the provisions of paragraph (a) or (b) of this section:

• • • • •

17. Amend § 73.154 paragraph (a) (2) (20 F. R. 4414, June 23, 1955) (49 CFR 73.154, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.154 Flammable solids and oxidizing materials not specifically provided for. (a) • • •

(2) Spec. 17C, 17E, 17H, 37A, or 37B (§§ 78.115, 78.116, 78.118, 78.131, or 78.132 of this chapter), metal drums (single-trip).

• • • • •

18. Amend § 73.190 paragraph (b) (4) (18 F. R. 6777, 6778, Oct. 27, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.190) to read as follows:

§ 73.190 Phosphorus, white or yellow. • • •

(b) • • •

(4) Spec. MC 310 or MC 311 (§ 78.330 or § 78.331 of this chapter), tank motor vehicles, without bottom outlet and with insulation at least 4 inches in thickness, except that 2 inches of insulation is authorized for tanks equipped with an exterior heating jacket. Interior heating coils are not authorized. The material must be immersed in water and must be loaded at a temperature not exceeding 140° F. and then cooled until the water has a temperature not exceeding 105° F. before being offered for transportation. After unloading, the tank must be filled to its entire capacity with water having a temperature not less than 105° F. and not over 140° F.

• • • • •

19. Amend § 73.202 paragraph (a) (2) (21 F. R. 671, Jan. 31, 1956) (49 CFR 73.202, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.202 Sodium and potassium, metallic liquid alloy. (a) • • •

(2) Spec. 5A (§ 78.81 of this chapter), metal barrels or drums not exceeding 400 pounds capacity each, having protruding valves protected by a 12-gauge steel dome securely attached to the head of the drum. Shipments are authorized by rail freight in carload lots only and by motor vehicle in truckload lots only.

20. Add paragraph (a) (5) to § 73.206 (15 F. R. 8310, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.206, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.206 Sodium or potassium, metallic, sodium amide, sodium potassium alloys, lithium metal, lithium silicon, lithium hydride, and lithium aluminum hydride. (a) • • •

(5) Spec. 17C (§ 78.115 of this chapter), metal drums (single-trip). Not authorized for lithium aluminum hydride.

• • • • •

21. In § 73.221, amend the heading and introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8311, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.221, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.221 Liquid peroxides other than acetyl peroxide solution, acetyl benzoyl peroxide solution, cumene hydroperoxide, dicumyl peroxide, hydrogen peroxide, peracetic acid, and tertiary butylisopropyl benzene hydroperoxide. (a) Liquid peroxides other than acetyl peroxide solution, acetyl benzoyl peroxide solution, cumene hydroperoxide, dicumyl peroxide, hydrogen peroxide, peracetic acid, and tertiary butylisopropyl benzene hydroperoxide must be packed in specification containers as follows:

• • • • •

SUBPART E—ACIDS AND OTHER CORROSIVE LIQUIDS; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

22. Add paragraph (c) to § 73.242 (15 F. R. 8313, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.242, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.242 Bottles containing acid or other corrosive liquids. • • •

(c) Acid or corrosive liquid solutions in securely closed bottles, in quantity necessary for preparing a single photographic processing mixture and efficiently cushioned, may be packed in the same outside shipping container with required amount of packaged dry chemicals not classed as dangerous articles by these regulations, provided no dangerous reaction occurs should the contents of bottles and dry chemicals be mixed. Marking prescribed in § 73.401 (c) shall not be required.

23. In § 73.244, amend the introductory text of paragraph (c), and add paragraph (c) (50) (15 F. R. 8313, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.244, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.244 Exemptions for acids and other corrosive liquids. • • •

(c) The following articles in any quantity are not exempt under the provisions of paragraph (a) or (b) of this section:

• • • • •

(50) Iodine monochloride.

24. Add paragraph (a) (17) to § 73.245 (15 F. R. 8313, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.245, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.245 Acids or other corrosive liquids not specifically provided for. (a) • • •

(17) Spec. 17H, 37A, or 37B (§§ 78.118, 78.131, or 78.132 of this chapter), metal drums (single-trip), with welded side seams, not over 5 gallons capacity each. Drums must be lined throughout with a pliable plastic material impervious to the lading. Spec. 37A and 37B metal drums must be at least 24 gauge steel.

25. Add paragraph (a) (17) to § 73.247 (15 F. R. 8314, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.247, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.247 Acetyl chloride, antimony pentachloride, benzoyl chloride, benzyl chloride, chromyl chloride, pyro sulfuryl chloride, silicon chloride, sulfur chloride (mono and di), sulfuryl chloride, thionyl chloride, tin tetrachloride (anhydrous), and titanium tetrachloride. (a) • • •

(17) Spec. 103–W (§ 78.280 of this chapter), tank cars authorized for titanium tetrachloride, anhydrous only. Tank cars shall have no bottom outlets and shall have safety valves of approved type with start-to-discharge pressure of 35 pounds per square inch and of sufficient relieving capacity to prevent pressure build-up in excess of 45 pounds per square inch.

26. In § 73.249, amend the heading and introductory text of paragraph (a), and add paragraph (a) (10); amend the introductory text of paragraph (b) (15 F. R. 8314, Dec. 2, 1950) (18 F. R. 803, Feb. 7, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.249) to read as follows:

§ 73.249 Alkaline corrosive liquids, n. o. s., alkaline caustic liquids, n. o. s., alkaline battery fluids, and sodium aluminate, liquid. (a) Alkaline corrosive liquids, n. o. s., alkaline caustic liquids, n. o. s., alkaline battery fluids, and sodium aluminate, liquid, when offered for transportation by carriers by rail freight, highway, or water, must be packed in specification containers as follows:

• • • • •

(10) Spec. 12B (§ 78.205 of this chapter), fiberboard boxes, with not more than one glass inside container not over 5 pints capacity containing sodium hydroxide solution not over 25 percent strength and packed in a strong fiberboard box. Dry chemicals for photographic development process not classed as dangerous articles, contained in suitable inside packages, may be packed in the same outside box. Cushioning of inside container must be sufficient to prevent breakage of bottle under conditions normally incident to transportation. The marking requirements of § 73.401 (c) shall not apply.

• • • • •

(b) Alkaline corrosive liquids, n. o. s., alkaline caustic liquids, n. o. s., alkaline battery fluids, and sodium aluminate, liquid, when offered for transportation by rail express, must be packed in specification containers as follows:

• • • • •

27. In § 73.260, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a) (20 F. R. 4417, June 23, 1955) (49 CFR 73.260, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.260 Electric storage batteries, wet. (a) Electric storage batteries, containing electrolyte acid or alkaline corrosive battery fluid, must be completely protected so that short circuits will be prevented; they must not be packed with other articles except as provided in §§ 73.250 and 73.258, portable searchlights properly cushioned, battery parts, or hydrometers, securely packed in a separate container. The batteries either with or without other articles must be packed in specification containers as follows:

• • • • •

28. In § 73.263, amend the heading and introductory text of paragraph (a) (18 F. R. 6778, 6779, Oct. 27, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.263) to read as follows:

§ 73.263 Hydrochloric (muriatic) acid, hydrochloric (muriatic) acid mixtures, hydrochloric (muriatic) acid solution, inhibited, sodium chlorite solution, and cleaning compounds, liquid, containing hydrochloric (muriatic) acid. (a) Hydrochloric (muriatic) acid, hydrochloric (muriatic) acid mixtures, hydrochloric (muriatic) acid solution, inhibited, sodium chlorite solution not exceeding 40 percent sodium chlorite, and cleaning compounds, liquid, containing hydrochloric (muriatic) acid must be packed in specification containers as follows:

• • • • •

29. In § 73.264, cancel paragraph (a) (15) (16 F. R. 9375, Sept. 15, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.264)

§ 73.264 Hydrofluoric acid. (a) • • •

(15) [Canceled.]

• • • • •

30. Add paragraph (c) to § 73.271 (15 F. R. 8321, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.271, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.271 Phosphorus oxychloride, phosphorus trichloride, and thiophosphoryl chloride. • • •

(c) Spec. 5C (§ 78.83 of this chapter), metal barrels or drums. Authorized for phosphorus trichloride only.

31. Amend § 73.285 paragraph (a) (1) and (2) (16 F. R. 9376, Sept. 15, 1951) (21 F. R. 672, Jan. 31, 1956) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.285) to read as follows:

§ 73.285 Chlorine trifluoride. (a) • • •

(1) Spec. 3A150, 3AA150, 3E1800, 3B240, 4B240, or 4BA240 (§§ 78.36, 78.37, 78.42, 78.38, 78.50, or 78.51 of this chapter), cylinders.

(2) Not more than 10 pounds of chlorine trifluoride may, in addition to the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, be packed in cylinders equal to or of greater efficiency than those prescribed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph when approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

32. Amend § 73.289 paragraph (a) (2) (20 F. R. 8102, Oct. 28, 1955) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.289) to read as follows:

§ 73.289 Formic acid and formic acid solutions. (a) • • •

(2) Spec. 103A–W or 103C–W (§§ 78.281 or 78.283 of this chapter), tank cars. Spec. 103A–W tanks must be of type 316 stainless steel and must be stenciled "For Formic Acid Only."

• • • • •

SUBPART F—COMPRESSED GASES; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

33. Amend § 73.301 paragraph (f) (1), (2), (3), (4); add paragraph (f) (5) (15 F. R. 8324, Dec. 2, 1950) (16 F. R. 5325, June 6, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.301) to read as follows:

§ 73.301 General requirements. • • •

(f) Manifolding containers in transportation. • • •

(1) Manifolding is authorized for containers of the following gases, provided, that each container is individually equipped with approved safety devices as required by § 73.34 (f) or § 73.315 (i): Air; Argon; Carbon Dioxide; Helium; Nitrogen; Nitrous Oxide; Oxygen.

(2) Manifolding is authorized for containers of the following gases, provided individual containers are equipped with approved safety devices as required by § 73.34 (f) or § 73.315 (i) and further provided that each container is equipped with individual shut-off valve, or valves, which shall be tightly closed while in transit. Manifold branch lines to these individual shut-off valves shall be sufficiently flexible to prevent injury to the valves which otherwise might result from the use of rigid branch lines. When a temperature measuring device is used on a cylinder the manifold shut-off valve shall be deemed the equivalent of the individual shut-off valve: boron trifluoride; ethylene (nonliquefied); hydrogen; hydrocarbon gases (nonliquefied); methane.

(3) Manifolding is authorized for containers of the following gases, provided individual containers are equipped with approved safety devices as required by § 73.34 (f) or § 73.315 (i), and further provided that each container is equipped with individual shut-off valve, or valves, which shall be tightly closed while in transit, and that each such container must be separately charged and means shall be provided to insure that no interchange of container contents can occur during transportation. Manifold branch lines to individual shut-off valves shall be sufficiently flexible to prevent injury to the valves which otherwise might result from the use of rigid branch lines: Ethane; ethylene; propylene; liquefied petroleum gases; liquefied hydrocarbon gases.

(4) Manifolding is authorized for containers of acetylene, provided that each container is individually equipped with approved safety devices as required by § 73.34 (f) or § 73.315 (i), and further provided that each container is equipped with an individual shut-off valve, or valves, which shall be tightly closed while in transit. Manifold branch lines to these individual shut-off valves shall be sufficiently flexible to prevent injury to the valves which otherwise might result from the use of rigid branch lines. All manifolded containers shall be transported in a vertical position. For the checking of tare weights or for replacement of solvent the container shall be removed from the manifold. This subparagraph is not intended to prohibit the charging of the acetylene cylinders while manifolded.

(5) Manifolding is authorized for cargo tanks of the following gas provided individual cargo tanks are equipped with the safety relief valves and gaging devices, as required by § 73.315 (h) and (i); and further provided, that each cargo tank is equipped with individual valve, or valves, which shall be tightly closed while in transit and that each such container must be separately charged: anhydrous ammonia.

• • • • •

34. In § 73.302, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a) (21 F. R. 673, Jan. 31, 1956) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.302) to read as follows:

§ 73.302 Exemptions for compressed gases. (a) Compressed gases, except poisonous gases as defined by § 73.326 (a), when in accordance with either subparagraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), or (8) of this paragraph, are exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements, except that marking name of contents on outside container is required for shipments via carrier by water. Shipments for transportation by highway carriers are exempt also from Part 77 of this chapter, except § 77.817, and Part 197 of this chapter.

• • • • •

35. Amend § 73.304 paragraph (d) (5) (15 F. R. 8325, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.304, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.304 Filling limits. • • •

(d) • • •

(5) That a plus sign (+) be added following the test date marking on the cylinder to indicate compliance with subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4) of this paragraph.

• • • • •

36. Add paragraph (b) (2) to § 73.306 (15 F. R. 8326, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.306, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.306 Liquefied gases, except acetylene in solution. • • •

(b) • • •

(2) Spec. 2P (§ 78.33 of this chapter), inside metal containers equipped with safety devices of a type approved by the Bureau of Explosives and packed in strong wooden or fiber boxes of such design as to protect valves from injury or accidental functioning under conditions incident to transportation. Pressure in the container must not exceed 85 pounds per square inch absolute at 70° F. Each completed metal container filled for shipment must be heated until content reaches a minimum temperature of 130° F., without evidence of leakage, distortion or other defect. Each outside shipping container must be plainly marked "Inside containers comply with prescribed specifications."

• • • • •

37. In § 73.308 paragraph (a) table, amend the entries Cyclopropane and Methyl mercaptan; add the entry Ethylene (19 F. R. 8527, Dec. 14, 1954) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.308) to read as follows:

§ 73.308 Compressed gases in cylinders. (a) • • •

| Kind of gas | Maximum permitted filling density (see Note 12) (percent) | Cylinders (see Note 11) marked as shown in this column must be used except as provided in Note 1 and § 73.34 (a) to (e) |
|---|---|---|
| Cyclopropane | 55 | ICC–3A225; ICC–3A480X; ICC–3AA225; ICC–3B225; ICC–4A225; ICC–4AA480; ICC–4B225; ICC–4BA225; ICC–4B240ET; ICC–7–300; ICC–3; ICC–3E1800. |
| Ethylene | 35.5 | ICC–3AA2400; ICC–3AA2400. |
| Methyl mercaptan | 80 | ICC–3A240; ICC–3AA240; ICC–3B240; ICC–4B240; ICC–4BA240; ICC–4B240ET. |

• • • • •

38. Amend § 73.311 paragraph (a) (16 F. R. 9376, Sept. 15, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.311) to read as follows:

§ 73.311 Fluorine. (a) Fluorine must be shipped in metal cylinders complying with Spec. 3A1000, 3AA1000, or 3BN400 (§§ 78.36, 78.37, or 78.39 of this chapter), equipped with valve protection caps and subject to § 73.34 (f) (4); cylinders must not be charged to over 400 pounds per square inch gauge, at 70° F.; cylinders must not contain over 6 pounds of gas.

39. In § 73.315 amend the entries Dichlorodifluoromethane, and Dichlorodifluoromethane-monofluorotrichloromethane mixture in paragraph (a) (1) table; amend paragraph (h) table; amend paragraph (i) (1) and (2); add paragraph (k) (18 F. R. 6780, Oct. 27, 1953) (18 F. R. 3137, June 2, 1953) (19 F. R. 1280, Mar. 6, 1954) (19 F. R. 3261, June 3, 1954) (20 F. R. 8103, Oct. 28, 1955) (15 F. R. 8331, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.315) to read as follows:

§ 73.315 Compressed gases in cargo tanks and portable tank containers. (a) • • •

(i) • • •

(1) Safety relief valves on any tank shall be set to start-to-discharge at a pressure not in excess of 110 percent of the design working pressure of the tank and shall have a total relieving capacity sufficient to prevent a maximum pressure in the tank of more than 120 percent of the design working pressure, using the heat input as determined by Fetterly's formula.[1] The required relieving capacity of safety relief valves for lagged tanks shall be based upon the heat input to a bare tank, unless insulation is covered by a sheet metal jacket of not less than 16 gauge nominal thickness.

(2) The start-to-discharge pressure of safety relief valves shall be not less than the values given in the following table:

| Kind of gas | Minimum start-to-discharge pressure (p. s. i. g.) |
|---|---|
| Anhydrous ammonia | 265. |
| Anhydrous dimethylamine | 150. |
| Anhydrous monomethylamine. | 150. |
| Anhydrous trimethylamine | 150. |
| Carbon dioxide, liquefied | Not specified. |
| Chlorine | 225. |
| Dichlorodifluoromethane | 150. |
| Dichlorodifluoromethane-monofluorotrichloromethane mixture. | 150. |
| Liquefied petroleum gases | 90 percent of the design working pressure of tank. |
| Methyl chloride | 150. |
| Monochlorodifluoromethane | 250. |
| Nitrous oxide | Not specified. |
| Sulfur dioxide: | |
| Up to 1,200 gallons water capacity tank. | 120. |
| Over 1,200 gallons water capacity tank. | 110. |

• • • • •

(k) For manifolding of cargo tank containers see § 73.301 (f).

[1] Copies of Fetterly's formula may be obtained from the Bureau of Explosives.

(b) The following articles in any quantity are not exempt under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section:

• • • • •

41. Amend § 73.358 paragraph (a) (2) (17 F. R. 4295, May 10, 1952) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.358) to read as follows:

§ 73.358 Hexaethyl tetraphosphate, methyl parathion, parathion, tetraethyl dithio pyrophosphate, and tetraethyl pyrophosphate, liquid. (a) • • •

(2) Spec. 17C or 17E (§§ 78.115 or 78.116 of this chapter), metal drums (single-trip), with openings not exceeding 2.3 inches in diameter. Spec. 17E (§ 78.116 of this chapter) drums authorized for not over 5 gallons capacity each.

• • • • •

42. Amend § 73.371 paragraph (a) (1) (15 F. R. 8338, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.371, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.371 Dinitrobenzol. (a) • • •

(1) As prescribed in § 73.346 or § 73.365.

• • • • •

43. Amend entire § 73.377 (18 F. R. 5273, Sept. 1, 1953) (21 F. R. 367, Jan. 19, 1956) (19 F. R. 1281, Mar. 6, 1954) (16 F. R. 11780, Nov. 21, 1951) (20 F. R. 4418, June 23, 1955) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.377) to read as follows:

§ 73.377 Hexaethyl tetraphosphate mixtures, methyl parathion mixtures, parathion mixtures, tetraethyl dithio pyrophosphate mixtures, and tetraethyl pyrophosphate mixtures, dry. (a) Hexaethyl tetraphosphate mixtures, methyl parathion mixtures, parathion mixtures, tetraethyl dithio pyrophosphate mixtures, and tetraethyl pyrophosphate mixtures, in which the liquid is absorbed in concentrations greater than 2 percent but not exceeding 27 percent in an inert dry material so as to form a dry mixture, must be packed in specification containers as follows:

(1) Spec. 12B or 12C (§§ 78.205 or 78.206 of this chapter), fiberboard boxes, with inside containers which must be metal or fiber cans not over 12 pounds capacity each, or paper bags, spec. 2D (§ 78.23 of this chapter), not over 12 pounds capacity each. Inside containers and the completed package must be capable of withstanding the tests prescribed in paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of this section.

(2) Spec. 15A or 15B (§§ 78.168 or 78.169 of this chapter), wooden boxes, with inside containers which must be metal or fiber cans not over 12 pounds capacity each, or paper bags, spec. 2D (§ 78.23 of this chapter), not over 12 pounds capacity each. Inside containers must be capable of withstanding the tests prescribed in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section.

(3) Spec. 5, 5B, 6A or 6C (§§ 78.80, 78.82, 78.97, or 78.99 of this chapter), metal barrels or drums.

(4) Spec. 17C, 17H or 37A (§§ 78.115, 78.118, or 78.131 of this chapter), metal drums (single-trip). Spec. 37A (§ 78.131 of this chapter) metal drums authorized for not over 100 pounds net weight.

(5) Spec. 21A or 21B (§§ 78.222 or 78.223 of this chapter), fiber drums.

SUBPART G—POISONOUS ARTICLES; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

40. In § 73.345, amend the introductory text of paragraph (b) (15 F. R. 8334, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.345, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.345 Exemptions for poisonous liquids, class B. • • •

(b) Hexaethyl tetraphosphate mixtures, methyl parathion mixtures, parathion mixtures, tetraethyl dithio pyrophosphate mixtures, and tetraethyl pyrophosphate mixtures in which the liquid is absorbed in concentrations greater than 27 percent in an inert dry material so as to form a dry mixture, must be packed in specification containers as follows:

(1) Spec. 12B or 12C (§§ 78.205 or 78.206 of this chapter), fiberboard boxes, with inside containers which must be metal cans not over 12 pounds capacity each. Inside containers and the completed package must be capable of withstanding the tests prescribed in paragraphs (c), and (e) of this section.

(2) Spec. 15A or 15B (§§ 78.168 or 78.169 of this chapter), wooden boxes, with inside containers which must be metal cans not over 12 pounds capacity each. Inside containers must be capable of withstanding the tests prescribed in paragraph (c) of this section.

(3) Spec. 5, 5B, 6A, or 6C (§§ 78.80, 78.82, 78.97, or 78.99 of this chapter), metal barrels or drums.

(4) Spec. 17C, 17H, or 37A (§§ 78.115, 78.118, or 78.131 of this chapter), metal drums (single-trip). Spec. 37A (§ 78.131 of this chapter) metal drums authorized for not over 100 pounds net weight.

(c) Inside metal or fiber cans when closed as for shipment must be capable of withstanding two four-foot drops onto solid concrete without breakage of the container or any sifting of the contents. One drop must be on side of can and the other diagonally on the top rim or chime.

(d) Inside paper bags when closed as for shipment must be capable of withstanding two four-foot drops onto solid concrete without breakage of the container or any sifting of the contents. One drop must be made on bottom of bag and the other on either large face.

(e) Completed packages when closed as for shipment must be capable of withstanding two four-foot drops onto solid concrete without breakage of the container or any sifting of the contents. One drop must be made on bottom of package and the other drop on the smallest adjacent side area.

(f) Dry mixtures containing not more than 2 percent by weight of hexaethyl-tetraphosphate, methyl parathion, parathion, tetraethyl dithio pyrophosphate, or tetraethyl pyrophosphate, and in which the liquid is absorbed in an inert material, are exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements. Shipments for transportation by highway carriers are exempt also from Part 77 of this chapter, except § 77.817, and Part 197 of this chapter.

SUBPART H—MARKING AND LABELING EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

44. Amend § 73.401 paragraph (c) (18 F. R. 6780, Oct. 27, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 73.401) to read as follows:

§ 73.401 Dangerous articles. • • •

(c) Packages containing flammable liquids in inside containers of 1 quart capacity or larger, or corrosive liquids, acids, alkaline caustic liquids, liquid oxidizing materials and poisonous liquids in inside containers regardless of capacity, unless specifically exempted or otherwise provided in this part, must be packed with filling holes up, and except for carboys not completely boxed, the outside container must be plainly marked "This Side Up" or "This End Up" on the cover or top to indicate the position of the inside containers. This requirement does not apply to materials in inside metal cans of the nonrefillable type with spun-in head and base and having no replaceable cap or other closing device.

• • • • •

PART 74—CARRIERS BY RAIL FREIGHT

SUBPART B—LOADING AND STORAGE CHART OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

1. In § 74.538, paragraph (a) Chart, amend item f, and item 2 vertical and horizontal columns (15 F. R. 8349, Dec. 2, 1950) (19 F. R. 3261, June 3, 1954) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 74.538) to read as follows:

§ 74.538 Loading and storage chart of explosives and other dangerous articles. (a) • • •

"f" Explosive projectiles, bombs, torpedoes, or mines, rifle or hand grenades (explosive), jet thrust units (jato), explosive, class A, or igniters, jet thrust (jato), explosive, class A.[c]

• • • • •

"2" Propellant explosives or jet thrust units (jato), class B, or igniters, jet thrust (jato), class B

• • • • •

SUBPART D—UNLOADING FROM CARS

2. Amend § 74.589 paragraphs (e) and (g) (7) in (15 F. R. 8356, Dec. 2, 1950) (16 F. R. 5327, June 6, 1951) redesignated as (f), and (h) (7) respectively, in (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 74.589) to read as follows:

§ 74.589 Handling cars. • • •

(f) Notice to crews of cars containing explosives in freight trains or mixed trains. At all terminals or other places where trains are made up by crews other than road crew accompanying the outbound movement of cars, the railroad shall execute a consecutively numbered notice showing the location in the freight train or mixed train of every car placarded "Explosives." A copy of such notice shall be delivered to the train and engine crew and a copy thereof showing delivery to the train and engine crew shall be kept on file by the railroad at each point where such notice is given. At points where train or engine crews are changed, the notice shall be transferred from crew to crew.

• • • • •

(h) • • •

(7) Loaded flat car, except that cars carrying trailers or containers placarded "Explosives" as authorized by the regulations in this chapter may be coupled to each other.

NOTE: Flat cars equipped with permanently attached ends of rigid construction shall be considered as open-top cars. See subparagraph (8) of this paragraph.

• • • • •

PART 75—CARRIERS BY RAIL EXPRESS

Amend § 75.655 paragraph (j) (7) (15 F. R. 8360, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 75.655) to read as follows:

§ 75.655 Protection of packages. • • •

(j) • • •

(7) In case of fire, wreck, breakage or unusual delay involving any shipment of radioactive material, the package or material should be segregated as far as possible from human contact. The shipper and the Bureau of Explosives should be immediately notified. In case of breakage of a package containing radioactive material and when it appears likely that the inside container may have been damaged, great care must be exercised to prevent contact with, inhalation, or any other means of the radioactive material entering the body. Cars, buildings, areas, or equipment in which class D poisons have been spilled must not be again placed in service or occupied until decontaminated by qualified persons.

PART 77—SHIPMENTS MADE BY WAY OF COMMON, CONTRACT, OR PRIVATE CARRIERS BY PUBLIC HIGHWAY

SUBPART A—GENERAL INFORMATION AND REGULATIONS

1. In § 77.823, amend the heading and introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8364, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 77.823, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 77.823 Marking on motor vehicles and trailers. (a) Every motor vehicle, other than tank motor vehicles, transporting any quantity of explosives, class A, poison gas, class A, or radioactive material, poison class D requiring red radioactive materials label; and every motor vehicle transporting 2,500 pounds gross weight or more of explosives, class B, flammable liquids, flammable solids or oxidizing materials, corrosive liquids, compressed gas, class B poisons, and tear gas, or 5,000 pounds gross weight or more of two or more articles of these groups shall be marked or placarded on each side and rear with a placard or lettering in letters not less than 3 inches high on a contrasting background as follows:

• • • • •

SUBPART C—LOADING AND STORAGE CHART OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

2. In § 77.848, paragraph (a) Chart, amend item f, and item 2 vertical and horizontal columns (15 F. R. 8368, Dec. 2, 1950) (19 F. R. 3262, June 3, 1954) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 77.848) to read as follows:

§ 77.848 Loading and storage chart of explosives and other dangerous articles. (a) • • •

"f" Explosive projectiles, bombs, torpedoes, or mines, rifle or hand grenades (explosive), jet thrust units (jato), explosive, class A, or igniters, jet thrust (jato), explosive, class A.[c]

• • • • •

"2" Propellant explosives or jet thrust units (jato), class B, or igniters, jet thrust (jato), class B.

• • • • •

PART 78—SHIPPING CONTAINER SPECIFICATIONS

SUBPART B—SPECIFICATIONS FOR INSIDE CONTAINERS, AND LININGS

1. Amend § 78.33–2 paragraph (b) (15 F. R. 8381, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.33–2, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.33 Specification 2P; inside metal containers.

§ 78.33–2 Type and size. • • •

(b) The maximum capacity of containers in this class shall not exceed 31.83 cubic inches (17.6 fluid ounces). The maximum inside diameter shall not exceed 3 inches.

SUBPART C—SPECIFICATIONS FOR CYLINDERS

2. In § 78.37–5, amend Note 1 to paragraph (a); in § 78.37–11, amend paragraph (a) (4) (15 F. R. 8384, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.37–5, 78.37–11, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.37 Specification 3AA; seamless steel cylinders made of definitely prescribed steels.

§ 78.37–5 Authorized steel. (a) • • •

NOTE 1: A heat of steel made under any of the above specifications, chemical analysis of which is slightly out of the specified range, is acceptable, if satisfactory in all other respects, provided the standard permissible variations from specified chemical ranges and limits published in the American Iron and Steel Institute Products Manual, "Alloy Steel: Semifinished; Hot Rolled and Cold Finished Bars", dated July 1955, are not exceeded or are approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

• • • • • •

§ 78.37–11 Heat treatment. (a) • • •

(4) The minimum tempering temperature shall be not less than 1000° F. except as noted in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph.

• • • • •

3. In § 78.50–10, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8403, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.50–10, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.50 Specification 4B; welded and brazed steel cylinders.

§ 78.50–10 Wall thickness. (a) For outside diameters over 6" the minimum wall thickness shall be 0.090 inch. In any case the minimum wall thickness shall be such that calculated wall stress at minimum test pressure (§ 78.50–14 (d)) shall not exceed the following values:

• • • • •

4. In § 78.51–8, amend the introductory text of paragraph (c); in § 78.51–10, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a); in § 78.51–20, amend Note 1 to paragraph (a) table (15 F. R. 8405, 8406, Dec. 2, 1950) (16 F. R. 9380, Sept. 15, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 78.51–8, 78.51–10, 78.51–20) to read as follows:

§ 78.51 Specification 4BA; welded or brazed steel cylinders made of definitely prescribed steels.

§ 78.51–8 Manufacture. • • •

(c) Longitudinal seams in shells: By copper brazing, copper alloy brazing, or by silver alloy brazing. Copper alloy composition must be: Copper 95 percent minimum, Silicon 1.5 percent to 3.85 percent, Manganese 0.25 percent to 1.10 percent. The melting point of the silver alloy brazing material must be in excess of 1,000° F. The plate edge must be lapped at least eight times the thickness of plate, laps being held in position, substantially metal to metal, by riveting or by electric spot-welding. Brazing must be done by using a suitable flux and by placing brazing material on one side of seam and applying heat until this material shows uniformly along the seam of the other side.

• • • • •

§ 78.51–10 Wall thickness. (a) For outside diameters over 6" the minimum wall thickness shall be 0.078". In any case the minimum wall thickness shall be such that the calculated wall stress at minimum test pressure (§ 78.51–14) shall not exceed the lesser value of any of the following:

• • • • • •

§ 78.51–20 Authorized steel. (a) • • •

[2] A heat of steel made under any of the above specifications, chemical analysis of which is slightly out of the specified range, is acceptable, if satisfactory in all other respects, provided the standard permissible variations from specified chemical ranges and limits published in the American Iron and Steel Institute Products Manual, "Alloy Steel: Semifinished; Hot Rolled and Cold Finished Bars", dated July 1955, are not exceeded or are approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

• • • • •

5. Amend the heading of § 78.55; in § 78.55–2, amend paragraph (d) and footnote 1 thereto; in § 78.55–20, amend paragraph (a) (1) (15 F. R. 8417, 8418, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.55–2, 78.55–20, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.55 Specification 4B240ET; welded and brazed cylinders made from electric resistance welded tubing.

§ 78.55–2 Type, spinning process, size and service pressure. • • •

(d) Service pressure.[1] Must be 240 pounds per square inch.

[1] The "service pressure" limits the use of the cylinder. It is shown by marks on cylinder; for example, ICC–4B240ET indicates the service pressure as 240 pounds per square inch.

§ 78.55–20 Marking. (a) • • •

(1) ICC–4B240ET.

• • • • •

6. In § 78.56–20, amend Note 1 to paragraph (a) table (19 F. R. 1283, Mar. 6, 1954) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 78.56–20) to read as follows:

§ 78.56 Specification 4AA480; welded steel cylinders made of definitely prescribed steels.

§ 78.56–20 Authorized steel. (a) • • •

[3] A heat of steel made under any of the above specifications, chemical analysis of which is slightly out of the specified range, is acceptable, if satisfactory in all other respects, provided the standard permissible variations from specified chemical ranges and limits published in the American Iron and Steel Institute Products Manual, "Alloy Steel: Semifinished; Hot Rolled and Cold Finished Bars", dated July 1955, are not exceeded or are approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

• • • • •

7. In § 78.60–4, amend Note 1 to paragraph (a) table (16 F. R. 9381, Sept. 15, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 78.60–4) to read as follows:

§ 78.60 Specification 8AL; steel cylinders with approved porous filling for acetylene.

§ 78.60–4 Authorized steel. (a) • • •

[1] A heat of steel made under any of the above specifications, chemical analysis of which is slightly out of the specified range, is acceptable, if satisfactory in all other respects, provided the standard permissible variations from specified chemical rangea and limits published in the American Iron and Steel Institute Products Manual, "Alloy Steel: Semifinished; Hot Rolled and Cold Finished Bars", dated July 1955, are not exceeded or are approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

• • • • •

8. In § 78.67–2, amend paragraph (a); in § 78.67–9, amend paragraph (a); in § 78.67–17, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a), and paragraph (a) (1) (18 F. R. 3140, 3141, June 2, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 78.67–2, 78.67–9, 78.67–17) to read as follows:

§ 78.67 Specification 41; inside containers, non-refillable seamless or welded or brazed steel cylinders.

§ 78.67–2 Type, size, and service pressure—(a) Type and size. Must be seamless, welded, or brazed (brazing material must have a melting point of not less than 1,000° F.). The maximum water capacity of cylinders in this class shall not exceed 2 pounds or 55 cubic inches. Longitudinal seams are prohibited, except that containers constructed from longitudinally welded steel tubing are authorized provided that certification is made by the tubing manufacturer that the tubing has been pressure tested to a fiber stress of 24,000 pounds per square inch as calculated by the formula:

$$P=\frac{24{,}000(D^2-d^2)}{(1.3D^2+0.4d^2)}$$

where

$P$ is the pressure required for pressure testing of tubing by the tubing manufacturer.

• • • • •

§ 78.67–9 Wall thickness. (a) The wall stress at 720 pounds per square inch shall not exceed 24,000 pounds per square inch, except that for longitudinally welded steel tubing the stress shall not exceed 20,400 pounds per square inch. The minimum wall for any cylinder not exceeding 40 cubic inches capacity shall be 0.032 inch and for any cylinder exceeding 40 cubic inches capacity shall be 0.042 inch. For the container authorized in § 78.67–8 (a) (2) the wall thickness of the cylinder shall be taken as the sum of the thicknesses of the two skirts (without allowance for the brazing material between).

§ 78.67–17 Marking. (a) Marking on each cylinder by embossing plainly and permanently on the valve end of cylinder before heat-treatment, the marks ICC–41 and registered symbol of the manufacturer, except that stamping of all prescribed marks on the valve end of all cylinders having wall thickness of 0.042 inch or greater is authorized provided no stamping shall exceed 0.015 inch in depth.

(1) On cylinders having wall thickness less than 0.042 inch, other marks as prescribed in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph must be shown on a permanently attached name plate or by printing or decalcomania, provided that such markings are waterproofed and adherent and not easily impaired when subject to water immersion and weathering under service conditions, or are coated over with a water-insoluble transparent lacquer; except that cylinders having brazed lapped circumferential seam may, after having been tested in accordance with §§ 78.67–13 and 78.67–14 of this specification, have marks permanently stamped into metal of this seam, provided that such marks do not exceed 0.015 inch in depth.

SUBPART E—SPECIFICATIONS FOR WOODEN BARRELS, KEGS, BOXES, KITS, AND DRUMS

9. In § 78.172–8, amend Note 1 to paragraph (a) table (18 F. R. 5275, Sept. 1, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 78.172–8) to read as follows:

§ 78.172 Specification 15E; wooden boxes, fiberboard lined.

§ 78.172–8 Thickness of wood parts. (a) • • •

NOTE 1: Plywood or paper covered wood veneer board of equal thickness and efficiency is permitted. Paper covered veneer board shall be of good quality Douglas fir core of at least 3/16 inch thickness, or lumber of equal quality, and free of breaks, gaps, holes, or knots. Paper covering shall be at least Kraft untreated linerboard having a basis weight of 42 pounds per 1,000 square feet and shall be secured to veneer core by adhesive in such manner as to form a satisfactorily laminated board.

• • • • •

10. In § 78.197–10, amend paragraph (a); in § 78.197–11, amend paragraph (a) (15 F. R. 8474, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.197–10, 78.197–11, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.197–10 Head liners. (a) Required inside and outside for full circumference of heads. To be securely fastened by staples or nails, clinched. Inside head liners not required when close fitting inside metal drum or strong container is used.

§ 78.197–11 Bung or other openings in head. (a) Bung and bung hole authorized provided head lining paper is glued around hole. Holes are permitted in heads to provide for closing devices of inside metal drums or other strong inside containers when plywood drum is so equipped.

SUBPART F—SPECIFICATIONS FOR FIBERBOARD BOXES, DRUMS, AND MAILING TUBES

11. In § 78.219–12, amend paragraph (b) (20 F. R. 955, Feb. 15, 1955) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 78.219–12) to read as follows:

§ 78.219 Specification 23H; fiberboard boxes.

§ 78.219–12 Closing for shipment. • • •

(b) Or, the container may be closed by using tape as specified in § 78.219–5 (a) for vertical application. When closed by this method, the cover of the container shall be secured to the bottom by application of strips of tape, not less than ½ inch wide, to the sides and in a vertical manner. The taping shall start within 1 inch of the topside score and extend to within 1 inch of the side-bottom score, and in no case shall the strips be less than 4 inches in length. Full depth cover 2-piece telescope boxes shall be closed by application of strips of tape, not less than 4 inches in length, disposed equally on side and bottom. Either type box requires two strips of tape, one on each side, minimum for containers 18 inches in length or under; four strips of tape, two on each side, minimum for containers over 18 inches in length.

• • • • •

12. In § 78.222–2, amend paragraph (a) and table, and add Note 8 to paragraph (a) table; in § 78.222–3, amend paragraph (a); in § 78.222–4, amend paragraph (a) (2) and (3) (19 F. R. 8530, Dec. 14, 1954) (19 F. R. 6275, Sept. 29, 1954) (15 F. R. 8481, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 78.222–2, 78.222–3, 78.222–4) to read as follows:

§ 78.222 Specification 21A; fiber drums.

§ 78.222–2 Parts and dimensions. (a) Parts and dimensions (minimum) as follows:

| Authorized net weight (pounds)[8] | Side wall calculated strength[1] | Fiber heads[4][7] Wooden heads[5][7] thickness (inch)[3] | Fiber heads[4] Thickness (inch) | Fiber heads[4] Strength[1] | Maximum gallon capacity | Maximum inside diameter (inches) |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 56 | 680 | 13/16 | 0.120 | 590 | 7½ | 9 |
| 56 | 680 | 13/16 | .120 | 650 | 15 | 14 |
| 56 | 680 | 13/16 | .170 | 800 | 20 | 18¼ |
| 115 | 850 | 13/16 | .170 | 800 | 30 | 18½ |

| 225 | 1,100 | 13/16 | .220 | 900 | 55 | 18¾ |
| 225 | 1,100 | 13/16 | .260 | 1,000 | 55 | 23 |

• • • • • •

(No change in Notes 1 through 7.)

[8] Authorized net weight exceeding 225 pounds permitted under conditions prescribed in Part 73 of this chapter.

§ 78.222–3 Sidewalls. (a) To be solid or consist of outer shell with liner, each piece to be made of a continuous fiber sheet convolutely wound, at least 0.012 inch thick, the plies being secured together by adhesive.

§ 78.222–4 Type tests. (a) • • •

(2) Compression test by applying weight or pressure not less than 1,000 pounds on the top (cover) of drum; or drum must be able to withstand end to end pressure of 1,500 pounds, speed of compression tester to be ½ inch plus or minus ¼ inch per minute. Drum shall withstand either test without buckling of the sidewalls sufficient to cause damage to their expected contents or affect the stackability of the drums.

(3) The test described above must be made by any company starting production, for each plant location of manufacture, on samples taken at random of each type and diameter of container and must be repeated every 4 months or less during production. Samples last tested must be retained until further tests are made. The tests and procedure described may be conducted at one central laboratory when testing facilities are not available at all plants, in which case the Bureau of Explosives shall be advised of the location where the tests are conducted.

13. In § 78.223–2, amend paragraph (a); in § 78.223–4, amend paragraphs (a) (3) and (b) (15 F. R. 8481, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.223–2, 78.223–4, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.223 Specification 21B; fiber drums.

§ 78.223–2 Sidewalls and ends. (a) Sidewalls to be convolutely wound of fiber sheets at least 0.012 inch thick, the plies being secured together with adhesive.

• • • • • •

§ 78.223–4 Type tests. (a) • • •

(3) End compressions. Drum must be able to withstand end to end pressure of 1,500 pounds, speed of compression tester to be ½ inch plus or minus ¼ inch per minute; or drum must be able to withstand compression test by applying weight or pressure not less than 1,000 pounds on the top (cover) of drum. Drums shall withstand either test without buckling of sidewalls sufficient to cause damage to their expected contents or affect the stackability of the drums.

(b) The tests prescribed above must be made by any company starting production, for each plant location of manufacture, on samples taken at random of each type and diameter of container and must be repeated every 4 months or less during production. Samples last tested must be retained until further tests are made. The tests and procedure described may be conducted at one central laboratory when testing facilities are not available at all plants, in which case the Bureau of Explosives shall be advised of the location where the tests are conducted.

SUBPART I—SPECIFICATIONS FOR TANK CARS

14. In § 78.291, amend paragraph AAR–2 (a); amend paragraph AAR–6 (f–3) (18 F. R. 5278, Sept. 1, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1954 Supp., 78.291) to read as follows:

§ 78.291 Specification for tank cars having fusion-welded aluminum tanks Class ICC–103–AL–W. • • •

AAR–2. Thickness of plates. (a) The wall thickness in the cylindrical portion of the tank must be calculated by the following formula but in no case shall the wall thickness be less than that specified in paragraph ICC–4.

$$t=\frac{Pd}{2SE}$$

where

$t$ = thickness in inches of thinnest plate.
$P$ = specified minimum bursting pressure pounds per square inch.
$d$ = inside diameter in inches.
$S$ = minimum ultimate tensile strength in pounds per square inch in zone adjacent to welds as given below.
$E$ = efficiency of longitudinal welded joint 90 percent.

Alloy 996A = 9,500 p. s. i.
Alloy 990A = 11,000 p. s. i.
Alloy M1A = 14,000 p. s. i.

Alloy GR20A = 25,000 p. s. i.
Alloy GS11A = 24,000 p. s. i.
Alloy GR40A = 30,000 p. s. i.

• • • • •

AAR–6. (f–3) The tension-test specimen of the weld metal shall be taken entirely from the deposited weld metal and shall meet the following requirements:—

Tensile strength = At least that of the minimum ultimate tensile strength in zone adjacent to welds. (See paragraph AAR–2 (a).)

Elongation, minimum in 2", or 4*D* (D = diameter) for each aluminum alloy must be as follows:

| | Percent |
|---|---|
| Alloy 996A | 25 |
| Alloy 990A | 28 |
| Alloy M1A | 23 |
| Alloy GR20A | 18 |
| Alloy GS11A | 5 |
| Alloy GR40A | 18 |

For plate thicknesses less than ⅝ inch, the all-weld-metal tension test may be omitted.

SUBPART J—SPECIFICATIONS FOR CONTAINERS FOR MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORTATION

15. In § 78.325–8, amend the introductory text of paragraph (d), and amend the text following the second table and preceding the last table in paragraph (d) (20 F. R. 8113, Oct. 28, 1955) (49 CFR 78.325–8, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.325 Specification MC 304 for cargo tanks for the transportation of flammable liquids and poisonous liquids class B having Reid (ASTM D–323) vapor pressures of 18 pounds per square inch absolute at 100°F.

§ 78.325–8 Minimum thickness of material. • • •

(d) Minimum thicknesses of mild steel tank sheets in U. S. standard gauges, subject to the foregoing requirements in this section. (These thicknesses are to be multiplied by 1.44 for aluminum.):

(NOTE: Tables remain the same.)

• • • • •

Minimum thicknesses of high-tensile steel tank sheets, in U. S. standard gauges, subject to the foregoing requirements in this section:

(NOTE: Table remains the same.)

TITLE 15—COMMERCE AND FOREIGN TRADE

Chapter III—Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce

Subchapter A—Miscellaneous Regulations

PART 361—BRITISH TOKEN IMPORT PLAN

PROCEDURE FOR DISTRIBUTION OF QUOTA BALANCES NOT ISSUED BY JUNE 30

A notice was published on January 7, 1956 in the FEDERAL REGISTER (21 F. R. 161) of amendments proposed by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce, to the regulations governing the operation of the British Token Import Plan for the Plan year 1956 (15 CFR Part 361; 21 F. R. 131). A notice dated January 9, 1956, concerning the 1956 Plan year and the proposed amendments was also sent by mail to the firms certified to participate in the Plan. In substance, it was proposed to advance or move up by one month, i. e., to August 31, from September 30, the date by which applications for token quota vouchers to share in the initial distribution of the quota balances would have to be received by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce's British Token Import Plan Unit. In connection therewith, it was also proposed to provide that later applications to share in any quota balances still available after the initial distribution could be submitted between the period September 1 and December 31 instead of between October 1 and December 31. After further consideration, in the light of the views submitted by the trade, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce has adopted the proposals. Accordingly, § 361.7 of the British Token Import Plan regulations for the Plan year 1956 is amended as set forth below:

Section 361.7 Procedure for distribution of quota balances not issued by June 30 is amended in the following particulars:

1. Paragraph (c) Application for quota balance, token quota vouchers subparagraph (1) Time and manner is amended, so that the first three sentences will read as follows:

(1) Time and manner. To share in the initial distribution of quota balances, application for Token Quota Vouchers may be made by the eligible firms described in paragraph (b) of this section. Such applications together with any supporting documents required by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce must be received in the British Token Import Plan Unit not later than August 31; no applications will be considered after that date unless with respect to a specific commodity group, an announcement is published in the Foreign Commerce Weekly extending the time limit for that commodity group. Applications received after August 31 but not later than December 31 will be considered to the extent indicated in paragraph (d) (1) of this section. • • •

2. Paragraph (d) Apportionment of quota balances by Bureau of Foreign Commerce, subparagraph (1) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Apportionment of quota balances by Bureau of Foreign Commerce. (1) The balance of quota available for initial distribution in any specified commodity group after June 30 will be distributed, as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, among eligible applicants who have submitted, prior to September 1 (except where time limit is extended as provided in paragraph (c) (1) of this section), their "Application for a Token Quota Voucher (Form B.—Share in Distribution of Quota Balances)", Form FC–928. However, if any quota is still available after such initial distribution is made, consideration will also be given to applications received between September 1 and December 31, in the order of their receipt, insofar as practicable.

(R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22)

This amendment shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

LORING K. MACY,
Director,
Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

PART 370—SCOPE OF EXPORT CONTROL BY DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

PART 371—GENERAL LICENSES

PART 372—PROVISIONS FOR INDIVIDUAL AND OTHER VALIDATED LICENSES

PART 373—LICENSING POLICIES AND RELATED SPECIAL PROVISIONS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 370.6 In-transit shipments without unloading is amended by deleting Note 2 following the section.

2. Section 370.7 Shipments entering foreign trade zones, paragraph (a) General provisions is amended to read as follows:

(a) General provisions. Commodities identified on the Positive List of Commodities (§ 399.1 of this subchapter) by the symbol "C" in the column headed "Commodity Lists" may not be exported from a foreign trade zone without an export license from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce. Other commodities wholly of foreign origin for which no customs entry has been made with a Collector of Customs may be exported from a foreign trade zone without an export license to:

(1) Any destination other than Hong Kong, Macao, and Subgroup A, and

(2) Hong Kong, Macao, and Subgroup A destinations only if the same exportation may be made directly from the United States under the provisions of a general license.

3. Section 371.4 Reexportation from country of destination, paragraph (b) Permissive reexportations is amended to read as follows:

(b) Permissive reexportations. Any commodity which has been exported from the United States may be reexported from any destination to any other destination; provided that at the time of reexportation, the commodities to be reexported may be exported directly from the United States to the new country of destination either under General License GO, GRO, GHS, GHK, or GLSA or where the value of the reexportation does not exceed the GLV dollar value limit shown on the Positive List with reference to the country of destination.

4. Section 371.9 General license GIT; in-transit shipments, paragraph (a) General provisions, subparagraph (1) Scope is amended to read as follows:

(1) Scope. (i) A general license designated GIT is hereby established, authorizing, subject to the other provisions of this Section, the exportation from the United States of commodities which originate in and are destined to any foreign country; provided that such commodities are moving in transit through the United States under a Transportation and Exportation (T. & E.) customs entry or an Immediate Exportation (I. E.) customs entry made at a United States customhouse.

(ii) Commodities which originate in a foreign country include commodities which were originally grown, produced, or manufactured in the United States but which have been so altered by further processing, manufacture, or assembly in the foreign country that such commodities have either thereby been substantially enhanced in value, or have lost their original identity with respect to form.

(iii) Only those exportations of foreign origin which, if of United States origin, could be made respectively to Hong Kong, Macao, or a Subgroup A country, under the provisions of a general license, may be exported to Hong Kong, Macao, or a Subgroup A country, respectively, under General License GIT.

5. Part 371 General Licenses is amended by adding a new § 371.24 General license GLSA; shipments of certain commodities to specified Subgroup A destinations to read as follows:

§ 371.24 General license GLSA; Shipments of certain commodities to specified Subgroup A destinations. A general license designated GLSA is hereby established authorizing the exportation of the commodities listed below to the following destinations: Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany (Soviet Zone of Germany and the Soviet Sector of Berlin), Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Outer Mongolia, Poland and Danzig, Rumania, and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics except the maritime province of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.[2]

[1] This amendment was published in Current Export Bulletin No. 763, dated April 26, 1956.

[2] Shipments under General License GLSA are not permitted to move in transit via any Subgroup A destination other than those listed in this section.

| 999910 | General merchandise valued at less than $25: only those commodities which are exportable in quantities valued at $25 or over under their own individual Schedule B numbers within the provisions of this General License. |

6. Section 372.12 Reexportation from country of destination, paragraph (c) Reexportations is amended to read as follows:

(c) Reexportations. Any commodity which has been exported from the United States may be reexported from any destination to any other destination; provided that at the time of reexportation, the commodities to be reexported may be exported directly from the United States to the new country of destination either under General License GO, GRO, GHS, GHK, or GLSA or where the value of the reexportation does not exceed the GLV dollar-value limit shown on the Positive List with reference to the country of destination.

7. Section 373.41 Nonferrous commodities, including ores, concentrates, or unrefined products is amended in the following particulars:

a. Paragraph (c) Nickel alloy and nickel-bearing cobalt scrap is amended to read as follows:

(c) Nickel alloy and nickel-bearing cobalt scrap—(1) Nickel alloy scrap, including nickel-bearing stainless steel scrap, Schedule B No. 654502. Evidence of commercial unsalability in the domestic market, as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph shall be submitted in support of applications to export (i) clean nickel alloy scrap, containing less than 50 percent nickel, (ii) contaminated nickel alloy scrap, and (iii) contaminated nickel-chromium-iron alloy scrap (nickel-bearing stainless steel scrap) containing up to 36 percent nickel with a minimum chromium content of 10 percent.

(2) Nickel-bearing cobalt scrap, Schedule B No. 664526. Applications for licenses to export clean cobalt scrap containing less than 50 percent nickel, and contaminated cobalt scrap shall be supported by evidence of commercial unsalability in the domestic market as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

NOTE: For purposes of this section, material is considered to be contaminated when the contaminant cannot be readily sorted from the balance of the material.

(3) Evidence of commercial unsalability. As required in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, the exporter must submit evidence of commercial unsalability in the domestic market. This evidence may be in the form of a letter or other statement from the applicant, supplier, or persons to whom the scrap was offered for sale. Such evidence must be adequate to demonstrate that the scrap has been offered for sale without success in the normal domestic market at reasonable and competitive prices. It shall include, as a minimum, the names and addresses of the potential users to whom the scrap has been offered, the terms at which it has been offered, the reason(s) for rejection of offers to sell.

(4) Commodities not licensed. Pure nickel scrap, clean nickel alloy scrap containing 50 percent or more nickel, clean nickel-chromium-iron alloy scrap (nickel-bearing stainless steel) containing up to 36 percent nickel with a minimum chromium content of 10 percent, clean cobalt containing 50 percent or more nickel, and nickel-copper alloy scrap (including monel) will not be considered for licensing.

b. Paragraph (d) Copper ores, concentrates, unrefined copper, refined copper, copper scrap, copper-base alloy scrap, and copper-base alloy ingots and other crude forms including remelt ingots is amended in the following particulars:

Subparagraph (2) Refined copper, Schedule B No. 641200, subdivision (ii) Availability for export is amended to read as follows:

(ii) Availability for export. Applications for licenses to export these copper commodities shall contain one of the certifications listed below. Applications will be considered only where the date of availability of the commodities for export is shown to be within 90 days from the date the application is filed with the Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

(a) Where materials are in possession of applicant, the applicant shall execute and submit to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce the following certification:

I (we) certify that the copper materials described in this license application are in my (our) possession and will be available for export not later than ---------- or

(b) Where materials are not in possession of applicant, the applicant shall submit to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce the following certification executed by the producer of the materials:

I (we) certify that not later than ---------- I (we) shall supply to (Date)
----------
(Name of applicant)
---------- short tons of (Quantity in short tons)
---------- in accordance (Type of copper material) with the terms of contract sale number ---------- dated ---------- (Contract number) (Date of contract)

All documents evidencing commitment of sale must be kept available for inspection, upon demand, by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for three years from the date of receipt of the application, as shown on the Acknowledgment Card, Form IT– or FC–116. Applications not accompanied by the evidence of availability required by the provisions of this subparagraph, will not be approved and should not be submitted.

Subparagraph (4) Copper scrap, copper-base alloy scrap, and copper-base alloy ingots and other crude forms including remelt ingots is amended to read as follows:

(4) Copper scrap, copper-base alloy scrap, and copper-base alloy ingots and other crude forms including remelt ingots. (i) In order that the Bureau of Foreign Commerce may provide an equitable basis for distributing available export quotas for copper scrap (new and old) containing 40 percent or more copper, Schedule B No. 641300; copper-base alloy scrap (new and old) containing 40 percent or more copper, excluding copper-nickel alloy scrap containing 40 percent or more copper and 5 percent or more nickel, Schedule B No. 644000, and copper-base alloy ingots and other crude forms including remelt ingots, Schedule B No. 644100, applicants are required to submit to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce a Statement of Past Participation in Exports of these commodities on Form IT– or FC–821 in accordance with procedure set forth in § 373.4 of this subchapter. A separate report on Form IT– or FC–821 shall be filed for each Schedule B number, broken down by countries of destination, and shall cover the quantity in Schedule B units of exports from the United States made during the fourth calendar quarter of 1953 and the calendar year 1954, where the total for such exports to all countries for each Schedule B number was $5,000 or over for the five quarters. In preparing Form IT– or FC–821, the heading above items (c) and (d) shall be changed to read "4th quarter 1953" and the heading above items (e) and (f) shall read "calendar year 1954."

(ii) License applications covering copper scrap (new and old) containing less than 40 percent copper, Schedule B No. 641300, or copper-base alloy scrap (new and old) containing any percentage of copper, Schedule B No. 644000, shall include information as to the copper and nickel content of the material.

(iii) License applications to export copper-nickel alloy scrap, containing 40 percent or more copper and 5 percent or more nickel will not be considered for licensing.

Subparagraph (7) Time for submission of applications is amended to read as follows:

(7) Time for submission of applications. Applications for licenses to export copper scrap (new and old) containing 40 percent or more copper, Schedule B No. 641300, copper-base alloy scrap (new and old) containing 40 percent or more copper, excluding copper-nickel alloy scrap containing 40 percent or more copper and 5 percent or more nickel, Schedule B No. 644000, and copper-base alloy ingots and other crude forms including remelt ingots, Schedule B No. 644100, shall be submitted in accordance with the time schedules set forth in § 373.71.

NOTES

1. Return of unused quotas. As soon as a licensee determines that he will not export the entire licensed amount of a commodity subject to a quantitative quota he shall promptly submit to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce a request for an amendment reducing the quantity covered by the license to the amount he actually intends to export (see § 373.6). If none of the commodities covered by the license is to be exported, the license shall be returned to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for cancellation.

2. Where no filing dates are announced. Applications for licenses to export commodities for which no specified filing dates are announced may be submitted at any time (see § 372.5 (c) of this subchapter).

3. Intransit shipment. Export applications for commodities requiring a validated license when moving in transit through the United States may be submitted at any time and are not subject to specified filing dates (see Note following § 372.6 (d) of this subchapter).

This amendment shall become effective as of April 26, 1956.

TITLE 24—HOUSING AND HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter II—Federal Housing Administration, Housing and Home Finance Agency

Subchapter D—Multifamily and Group Housing Insurance

PART 232—MULTIFAMILY HOUSING INSURANCE; ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS OF MORTGAGE COVERING MULTIFAMILY HOUSING

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 232.17 (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 232.17 Classification. • • •

(a) Private mortgagors. A private corporation, associaton, or trust entity (referred to in this subchapter as "mortgagor"), formed or created with the approval of the Commissioner for the purpose of providing housing for rent or sale, and possessing powers necessary therefor and incidental thereto, which is regulated or restricted by the Commissioner as to rents, sales, charges, capital structure, rate of return, and methods of operation, as set out in the contractual documents prescribed and approved by the Commissioner, which regulations or restrictions shall remain in effect until such time as the mortgage insurance contract terminates without obligation upon the Commissioner to issue debentures as a result of such termination; or

• • • • •

2. Section 232.18 (c) is amended to read as follows:

§ 232.18 In general. • • •

(c) In the case of a private corporation, the Commissioner's regulations or restrictions will be set forth in its certificate of incorporation or charter under which such mortgagor is created, and will be made effective through the issuance of certain shares of special stock, which stock will acquire majority voting rights in the event of default under the mortgage or violation of a provision of the charter, or until such time as the Commissioner is assured against future violations of a similar nature. Such special stock or interest issued to the Commissioner, his nominee or nominees and/or the Federal Housing Administration shall be in sufficient amount to constitute under the laws of the particular state a valid special class of stock or interest and shall be issued in consideration of the payment by the Commissioner of not exceeding in the aggregate $100. Such stock shall be represented by a certificate or certificates issued in the name of the Commissioner, and/or in the name of his nominee or nominees, and/or in the name of the Federal Housing Administration, as the Commissioner shall require. In the case of a private association or trust entity, or whenever, for any reason satisfactory to the Commissioner, such regulations or restrictions are not feasible as to a particular mortgagor through the issuance of shares of special stock, such regulations or restrictions shall be effected by means of a regulatory agreement and/or other contractual documents between the Commissioner and the mortgagor in such form and in such manner as shall be satisfactory to the Commissioner. Upon the termination of all obligations of the Commissioner under his contract of mortgage insurance, or any succeeding contract or agreement covering the mortgage obligation, all regulations and restrictions of the mortgagor shall cease, the shares of special stock shall be surrendered by the Commissioner upon reimbursement of his payments therefor, plus accrued dividends, if any, thereon, and any regulatory agreement or contract shall terminate.

3. In § 232.19, paragraphs (a), (b), and (e) are amended in their entirety to read as follows and paragraph (f) is amended as set forth below:

§ 232.19 Required supervision of private mortgagors. • • •

(a) Capital structure. (1) The number of shares of capital stock, in the case of a corporation, may be issued in such amounts and form as may be agreed upon by the sponsors and the Commissioner prior to the endorsement of the mortgage for insurance; and such stock shall not be redeemed, purchased, or paid off by the mortgagor during the period in which the mortgage insurance is in force, except with the prior written approval of the Commissioner; and

(2) In the case of a trust entity beneficial certificates of interest may be issued in such amounts and form as may be agreed upon by the mortgagor and the Commissioner; and such certificates shall not be redeemed, purchased, or paid off by the mortgagor during the period in which the mortgage insurance is in force, except with the prior written approval of the Commissioner.

(b) Rate of return. Dividends upon the stock of the corporation or other distributions of income in the case of a trust entity may be declared only as at and after the end of an annual fiscal period. No dividends or other distributions of income shall be declared or authorized except out of earned income legally available for that purpose. No dividends shall be paid, nor shall other distribution be made except out of funds legally available and remaining after (1) the payment of all amounts due or required to be paid under the terms of the insured mortgage up to the end of the applicable dividend period; (2) all amounts due to the Reserve for Replacements Fund; (3) the segregation of funds for the payment of all operating expenses, security deposits held, taxes, assessments, fixed charges, whether due or accrued; and (4) similar provision for any liabilities currently due and arising as a result of necessary expenditures incident to the normal operations of the project.

• • • • •

(e) Rents and charges. No charge shall be made by the mortgagor for the accommodations, facilities or services offered by the project in excess of those approved by the Commissioner in writing prior to the opening of the project for rental. In approving such charges and in passing upon applications for changes, consideration will be given to the following and similar factors:

(1) Rental income necessary to maintain the economic soundness of the project.

(2) Rental income necessary to provide reasonable return on the investment consistent with providing reasonable rentals to tenants.

(f) Methods of operation. (1) The mortgagor shall not, without the prior approval of the Commissioner, incur liabilities (other than the insured mortgage) in excess of the amount agreed upon and specified in the corporate charter or trust agreement.

(2) The mortgagor shall maintain its project, the grounds, buildings, and equipment appurtenant thereto, in good repair and will promptly complete necessary repairs and maintenance as required by the Commissioner.

(3) A Fund for Replacements shall be accumulated and maintained with the mortgagee so long as the mortgage insurance is in force, and the amount and type of such Fund and the conditions under which it shall be accumulated, replenished and used, shall be specified in the charter or trust agreement.

(4) The mortgagor, its property, equipment, buildings, plans, offices, apparatus, devices, books, contracts, records, documents, and papers shall be subject to inspection and examination by the Commissioner or his duly authorized agent at all reasonable times.

(5) The mortgagor shall execute and deliver to the Commissioner a certificate that the books and accounts of the mortgagor will be established and maintained in a manner satisfactory to the Commissioner on the date the certificate is executed. Such certificate shall be to the effect that so long as the mortgage is insured by the Commissioner the mortgagor's books and accounts will be kept in accordance with the requirements of the Commissioner; will be in such form as to permit a speedy and effective audit and as may otherwise be prescribed by the Commissioner; will be maintained for such periods of time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner; and will be available to him for such examination and audits which he may desire to make. The mortgagor shall file with the Commissioner and mortgagee the following reports verified by the signature of such officers of the mortgagor as the Commissioner may designate and in such form as prescribed by the Commissioner:

• • • • •

(ii) Notice of any payment of any dividend or other distribution and a semiannual financial statement within 60 days after the declaration of any semiannual dividends or other distribution to stockholders, shareholders, or beneficiaries;

• • • • •

(v) Properly certified copies of minutes of meetings of directors, officers, stockholders, shareholders, or beneficiaries.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[ 7 CFR Part 922 ]

[Docket No. AO–250–A1]

VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO MARKETING ORDER

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Los Angeles, California, on January 15, 1956, after notice thereof published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 9972), on proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to Order No. 22 (7 CFR Part 922), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, to be made effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047).

On the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing, and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, on April 6, 1956, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision in this proceeding. The notice of the filing of such recommended decision, affording opportunity to file written exceptions thereto, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (F. R. Doc. 56–2798; 21 F. R. 2384). No exception to said recommended decision was filed.

The material issues, findings and conclusions, and the general findings of the recommended decision set forth in the FEDERAL REGISTER (F. R. Doc. 56–2798; 21 F. R. 2384) are hereby approved and adopted as the material issues, findings and conclusions, and the general findings of this decision as if set forth in full herein.

Marketing agreement and amendments to the marketing order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Marketing Agreement Regulating The Handling of Valencia Oranges Grown in Arizona and Designated Part of California" and "Order Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Valencia Oranges Grown in Arizona and Designated Part of California," which have been decided upon as the appropriate and detailed means of effecting the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the aforesaid rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders have been met.

Determination of representative period. The period beginning February 1, 1955, and ending January 31, 1956, is hereby determined to be a representative period for ascertaining whether the issuance of the order amending Order No. 22 regulating the handling of Valencia Oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, is approved or favored by producers who, during such period, have been engaged in the said production area, in the production of Valencia oranges for market.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the annexed marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of the said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in Order No. 22 as proposed to be amended by the annexed order which will be published with this decision.

Dated: May 2, 1956.

[SEAL] EARL L. BUTZ,
Assistant Secretary.

Order[1] Amending Order Regulating Handling of Valencia Oranges Grown in Arizona and Designated Part of California

§ 922.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations made in connection with the issuance of this order; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure effective thereunder (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Los Angeles, California, on January 25, 1956, upon proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to Order No. 22 (7 CFR Part 922) regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, including the establishment and maintenance of such orderly marketing conditions for Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California as will provide, in the interests of producers and consumers, an orderly flow thereof to market throughout its normal marketing season to avoid unreasonable fluctuations in supplies and prices;

(2) The said order, as hereby amended regulates the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held;

(3) The said order as hereby amended is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act; and the issuance of several orders applicable to subdivisions of such production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) The said order as hereby amended prescribes, so far as practicable, such different terms, applicable to different parts of the production area, as are necessary to give due recognition to differences in the production and marketing of the Valencia oranges covered thereby; and

(5) All handling of Valencia oranges, as defined in the order as hereby amended, is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or effects such commerce.

It is, therefore, ordered, That, on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as hereby amended as follows:

1. Delete the provisions of § 922.16 and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

§ 922.16 Carton. "Carton" means the standard container number 58 as defined in section 828.83 of the Agricultural Code of California, as amended, of a capacity of approximately 38½ pounds of oranges, or such other container and capacity as may be established by the committee with the approval of the Secretary, or the equivalent thereof.

2. Delete the provisions of § 922.18 and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

§ 922.18 Carload. "Carload" means a quantity of oranges equivalent to 924 cartons of oranges, or such other quantity of oranges as may be established by the committee with the approval of the Secretary.

3. Amend the provisions of § 922.31 by adding at the end of the section the following sentence: "Whenever specifically authorized or approved by the committee, an alternate member shall be reimbursed for reasonable expenses necessarily incurred by him in attending committee meetings and shall receive compensation at the rate provided in this section, notwithstanding that the committee member for whom he serves as alternate also attends such meetings."

4. Amend the provisions of § 922.32 as follows:

a. Delete the first sentence thereof and substitute in lieu thereof the following: "The committee shall, as soon as practicable after the marketing of the crop is completed, prepare and mail an annual report to the Secretary and to each handler and grower of record."

b. Delete therefrom the words following (d) and substitute in lieu thereof the following: "notice of the time and place of an open meeting, to be held as soon as practicable after the mailing of the annual report, to review the whole record of the operations of this part."

5. Amend the provisions of paragraph (e) of § 922.53 Prorate bases by inserting the following as part of the last sentence in such paragraph: "; and, in the event the change in control of oranges is occasioned by a bona fide transfer of the ownership of the real property on which such oranges were produced, the person gaining the control of such oranges shall have his quantity of oranges available for current shipment adjusted by adding thereto a quantity of oranges equal to that which is so deducted."

6. Amend the provisions of § 922.55 by deleting therefrom the first sentence and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "During any week for which the Secretary has fixed the total quantity of oranges which may be handled, any person who has received an allotment for such week, and whose total allotment is not loaned, or is not required for the repayment of an allotment loan or as a deduction for a prior overshipment, may handle in addition to his allotment an amount of such oranges equivalent to 10 percent of his allotment, or one carload, whichever is the greater."

7. Amend the provisions of § 922.57 by adding a new paragraph (e) as follows:

(e) No allotment may be loaned from one handler to another when such loan is brought about by the payment of a consideration.

8. Amend the provisions of § 922.64 by inserting the following immediately after the first sentence of such section: "When any such size regulation restricts the handling of a portion of a specified size, the quantity of such size that may be handled by a handler during a particular week shall be established as a percentage of (a) the weekly allotment issued to such handler when volume regulation is in effect, and (b) the total weekly volume handled by such handler when volume regulation is not in effect."

9. Insert the following new sentence immediately preceding the last sentence of § 922.52 Issuance of volume regulations: "Such regulation may be made effective, as authorized by the act, irrespective of whether the season average price for Valencia oranges is in excess of the parity price specified therefor in the act."

10. Amend the provisions of § 922.71 by deleting therefrom the word "box" and substituting in lieu thereof the word "carton."

11. Immediately preceding the closing of the parenthesis at the end of § 922.2 Act insert the following: "; 68 Stat. 906, 1047."

12. Amend the provisions of § 922.83 (c) (3) by deleting therefrom the date "December 15" wherever it appears and substituting in lieu thereof the date "October 15."

[F. R. Doc. 56–3599; Filed, May 4, 1956; 8:56 a. m.]

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

[ 7 CFR Part 942 ]

[Docket No. AO–103–A14]

MILK IN NEW ORLEANS, LA., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF TENTATIVE DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at New Orleans, Louisiana, on April 12–20, inclusive, 1955, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on March 23, 1955 (20 F. R. 1848).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing, and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, on February 8, 1956, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision. This decision and notice of opportunity to file written exceptions thereto was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 18, 1956 (21 F. R. 1128).

On the basis of the exceptions filed by interested parties, and a reconsideration of the evidence with respect thereto, a change has been made in the provisions concerning the marketing area. This change would extend the marketing area further to include the parishes of St. Charles, Lafourche, Terrebonne, and St. Tammany.

In order to afford all interested persons an opportunity to file written exceptions which they may not have filed on the basis of the recommended decision, the issuance of a tentative decision has been decided upon as the means of affording such opportunity. Any person wishing to file exceptions to this tentative decision and any findings and conclusions contained therein with respect to the issues discussed may do so by filing the same, in quadruplicate, with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 10 days after the publication of this tentative decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The material issues, findings and conclusions, and general findings of the aforesaid recommended decision are hereby adopted as the issues, findings and conclusions, and general findings of this decision as if set forth in full herein, subject to the following modifications described with reference to Federal Register Doc. 56–1236, 21 F. R. 1128:

1. At the end of the sentence in the fifth full paragraph appearing in column 1, page 1129, delete the phrase "and St. Bernard, Louisiana" and substitute the following: "St. Bernard, St. Charles, Terrebonne, St. Tammany, and Lafourche, Louisiana".

2. At the end of the sixth full paragraph appearing in column 1, page 1129, insert a new paragraph as follows:

The extension of the marketing area to include St. Tammany Parish will bring under regulation only two additional plants. During 1954, approximately half of the milk distributed by regulated handlers (in the parishes north of the Lake) was distributed in St. Tammany Parish. Based on average per capita consumption of normal urban areas, the volume of deliveries by regulated handlers would represent about 50 percent of the total Class I sales in St. Tammany Parish.

3. Delete the seventh full paragraph appearing in column 1, page 1129, and substitute the following:

It is concluded that the inclusion of the entire parishes of Jefferson, Orleans, Plaquemines, St. Bernard, and St. Tammany is an appropriate extension of the marketing area.

4. Delete the first sentence in the first full paragraph appearing in column 2, page 1129, and substitute the following: "The marketing area should not be extended to include Tangipahoa and Washington parishes."

5. Delete the word "ten" appearing in line 18 of the first full paragraph, column 2, page 1129, and substitute the word "eight".

6. Delete the second, third and fourth full paragraphs appearing in column 2, page 1129, and substitute the following:

The marketing area should not be extended to include the parishes of St. John the Baptist and St. James. Testimony in the record indicates that during the two-year period 1953–1954, handlers, regulated under the New Orleans order supplied 59.9 percent of the Class I sales disposed of in the parishes of St. Charles, Lafourche, and Terrebonne. This consisted of regular route sales to consumers, and sales of bulk milk to unregulated handlers in these parishes. The unregulated handlers packaged the bulk milk and distributed it to consumers in the area. Producer receipts of unregulated handlers in this area have been less than half the volume of Class I sales. Consumers in this area are dependent upon supplemental supplies which are furnished, to a large extent, from plants in the New Orleans marketing area. Producers who have been primarily associated with the New Orleans market for many years are currently supplying about half of the milk to unregulated handlers in this area. Such milk has normally been considered as a reserve supply in the New Orleans market, although in recent years the market has generally had more than ample supplies for its needs without falling back on these reserves. It is concluded that the marketing area should include the parishes of St. Charles, Lafourche, and Terrebonne.

In St. John the Baptist Parish, local distributors supply approximately 74 percent of the Class I sales in that parish while about five handlers regulated by the New Orleans order supply the remaining Class I sales. This testimony was neither challenged nor refuted. There was no evidence presented to indicate the extent to which New Orleans handlers must compete, if at all, with unregulated handlers in St. James Parish.

It is concluded that the parishes of St. John the Baptist and St. James should not be included in the marketing area.

Marketing agreement and order, as amended. The following order, as amended, is tentatively approved as the appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The marketing agreement is not included in this tentative decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be identical with those contained in the order.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 2d day of May 1956.

[SEAL] EARL L. BUTZ,
Assistant Secretary.

§ 942.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed tentative marketing agreement and order, as amended, and hereby further amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing, and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to Section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to, persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

The provisions of §§ 942.1 to 942.111, both inclusive, of the order contained in the recommended decision issued by the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service (21 F. R. 1128; Doc. 56–1236) shall be and are the terms and conditions of this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, as if set forth in full herein, subject to the following revisions described with reference to Federal Register Doc. 56–1236, 21 F. R. 1128:

Delete § 942.4 and substitute the following:

§ 942.4 New Orleans marketing area. "New Orleans marketing area" hereinafter called the "marketing area" means all territory included within the boundaries of the parishes of Jefferson, Lafourche, Orleans, Plaquemines, St. Bernard, St. Charles, St. Tammany, and Terrebonne, all in the State of Louisiana.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[ 14 CFR Part 234 ]

[Economic Regs. Draft Release 80A]

FLIGHT SCHEDULES OF CERTIFICATED AIR CARRIERS; REALISTIC SCHEDULING AND ON-TIME PERFORMANCE REQUIRED

SUPPLEMENTAL NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

MAY 2, 1956.

In the notice of proposed rule making on this matter, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 18, 1956 (21 F. R. 2533), it was stated that the Board would consider all relevant matter in communications received on or before May 16, 1956. The Air Transport Association of America, acting on behalf of itself and its members, has requested the Board to extend the date by which comments must be filed for a minimum additional period of 45 days. This request was predicated upon the need for careful study of the subject proposal and a desire for mutual consultation between the managements of various interested airlines.

The draft release proposed to require that the published flight schedules of all certificated air carriers engaged in interstate and overseas air transportation realistically reflect actual arrival and departure times on at least 75 percent of scheduled flights (other than all cargo flights) performed over each segment during a calendar month. Since this proposal is a matter of substantial import and concern to the industry, the Board finds that the date previously set for return of comment should be extended to June 15, 1956.

Accordingly, the third and fourth sentences of the third paragraph of the aforementioned notice is amended to read as follows: "All communications received on or before June 15, 1956 will be considered by the Board before taking action upon the proposed rule. Copies of such communications will be available on or after June 19, 1956, for examination by interested persons in the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C."

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[ 49 CFR Parts 72–75, 77, 78 ]

[Docket No. 3666; Notice 26]

EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

APRIL 18,1956.

In the matter of regulations for transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles.

The Commission is in receipt of applications for early amendment of the above-entitled regulations insofar as they apply to shippers in the preparation of articles for transportation, and to all carriers by rail and highway. The proposed amendments are set forth below and the reasons therefor are listed in the appendix hereto.

Application for these amendments ordinarily would be considered at our next hearing in this docket. It appears however, that the proposed amendments have been the subject of exchanges and study by interested parties, in which substantial agreement has been reached. In view thereof no oral hearing is contemplated at this time.

Any party desiring to make representations in favor of or against the proposed amendments may do so through the submission of written data, views, or arguments. The original and five copies of such submission may be filed with the Commission on or before May 23, 1956. The proposed amendments are subject to change or changes that may be made as a result of such submissions.

Notice to the general public will be given by depositing a copy of this notice in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission for public inspection, and by filing a copy of the notice with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

By the Commission, Division 3.

HAROLD D. McCOY,
Secretary.

PART 72—COMMODITY LIST OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES CONTAINING THE SHIPPING NAME OR DESCRIPTION OF ALL ARTICLES SUBJECT TO PARTS 71–78 OF THIS CHAPTER

1. Amend § 72.5 Commodity List (20 F. R. 4413, June 23, 1955) (15 F. R. 8266, 8267, 8268, 8271, Dec. 2, 1950) (19 F. R. 8524, Dec. 14, 1954) (17 F. R. 7279, Aug. 9, 1952) (21 F. R. 2145, Apr. 4, 1956) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp. 72.5) as follows:

§ 72.5 List of explosives and other dangerous articles. (a) • • •

| Article | Classed as— | Exemptions and packing (see sec.) | Label required if not exempt | Maximum quantity in 1 outside container by rail express |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Change | | | | |
| Detonating fuzes, class A explosives | Expl. A | No exemption, 73.69 | | Not accepted. |
| Detonating fuzes, class A explosives, radioactive. | Expl. A | No exemption, 73.69 | | Do. |
| Detonating fuzes, class C explosives | Expl. C | No exemption, 73.113 | | 150 pounds. |
| Dispersant gas, n. o. s. | Nonf. G | 73.302, 73.306, 73.314 | Green | 300 pounds. |
| Explosive compositions | Expl. A or B | No exemption, 73.53, 73.61 to 73.93. | | 10 pounds. |
| Fuzes, detonating class A explosives | Expl. A | No exemption, 73.69 | | Not accepted. |
| Fuzes, detonating, class A explosives, radioactive. | Expl. A | No exemption, 73.69 | | Do. |
| Fuzes, detonating, class C explosives | Expl. C | No exemption, 73.113 | | 150 pounds. |
| Hydrogen bromide | Nonf. G | 73.302, 73.306 | Green | 300 pounds. |
| Jet thrust unit (jato), class A explosives | Expl. A | No exemption, 73.79 | | Not accepted. |
| Jet thrust unit (jato), class B explosives | Expl. B | No exemption, 73.92 | | Do. |
| Pressurized flammable liquid, n. o. s. | F. L. | 73.118, 73.142 | Red | 10 gallons. |
| Propellant explosives, class A explosives | Expl. A | No exemption, 73.64 (d). | | See § 73.86. |
| Propellant explosives, class B explosives | Expl. B | No exemption, 73.93 | Red 8 | 10 pounds. |
| Add | | | | |
| Gold 198 | Pois. D | 73.392, 73.393 | Poison. Radioactive materials. Red. | See § 73.89! (e). |
| Refrigerant gas, n. o. s. | Nonf. G | 73.302, 73.306, 73.314 | Green | 300 pounds. |

PART 73—SHIPPERS

SUBPART A—PREPARATION OF ARTICLES FOR TRANSPORTATION BY CARRIERS BY RAIL FREIGHT, RAIL EXPRESS, HIGHWAY, OR WATER

1. In § 73.22, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a) (21 F. R. 2145, Apr. 4, 1956) (49 CFR 73.22, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.22 Specification containers prescribed. (a) Shipping containers, unless otherwise provided in this part (see § 73.9 (c)), used hereafter in shipping explosives or other dangerous articles, must have been made, assembled with all parts or fittings in their proper place, and marked in compliance with specifications prescribed in Part 78 of this chapter or with specifications of the Commission in effect at date of manufacture of container.

• • • • • •

SUBPART C—FLAMMABLE LIQUIDS; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

2. In § 73.118, amend paragraphs (a) and (b); cancel paragraph (c) (22); add paragraph (d) (21 F. R. 363, Jan. 19, 1956) (17 F. R. 7280, Aug. 9, 1952) (15 F. R. 8298, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.118) to read as follow:

§ 73.118 Exemptions for flammable liquids. (a) Flammable liquids, except pressurized flammable liquids and those enumerated in paragraph (c) of this section, in inside metal containers not over 1 quart capacity each, packed in strong outside containers, except as otherwise provided, are exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements, except that marking name of contents on outside container is required for shipments via carrier by water. Shipments for transportation by highway carriers are exempt also from Part 77 of this chapter, except § 77.817, and Part 197 of this chapter. These exemptions do not apply to shipments offered for transportation by rail express.

(b) Flammable liquids, except pressurized flammable liquids and those enumerated in paragraph (c) of this section, in inside containers having a capacity not over 1 pint or 16 ounces by weight each, packed in strong outside containers, are exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements, except that marking name of contents on outside container is required for shipments via carrier by water. Shipments for transportation by highway carriers are exempt also from Part 77 of this chapter, except § 77.817, and Part 197 of this chapter.

(22) [Canceled.]

• • • • • •

(d) Pressurized flammable liquids in inside containers having a capacity not exceeding ½ pint or 8 ounces by weight each, capable of withstanding a 4-foot drop onto solid concrete without shattering, packed in strong outside containers, are exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements, except that marking name of contents on outside container is required for shipments via carrier by water. Shipments for transportation by highway carriers are exempt also from Part 77 of this chapter, except § 77.817, and Part 197 of this chapter.

3. In § 73.119, amend paragraph (b) (3) (15 F. R. 8299, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 73.119, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.119 Flammable liquids not specifically provided for. • • •

(b) • • •

(3) Spec. 10B (§ 78.156 of this chapter), wooden barrels or kegs.

NOTE 1: Because of the present emergency and until further order of the Commission, wooden whiskey barrels, properly recoopered, which comply with all the provisions of spec. 10B (§ 78.156 of this chapter), are also authorized. Marking is required on the head of each container, by the reconditioner, by hot branding or legible stenciling, as follows: ICC–10B.

Name or symbol (letters) of reconditioner; this must be registered with the Bureau of Explosives and located just above, below, or following the mark ICC–10B.

Size of marking (minimum) ¾ inch high.

• • • • • •

4. In § 73.145, amend paragraph (a) (4) (21 F. R. 671, Jan. 31, 1956) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 73.145) to read as follows:

§ 73.145 Methylhydrazine and unsymmetrical dimethylhydrazine. (a) • • •

(4) Spec. 17C (§ 78.115 of this chapter), metal barrels or drums (single-trip) with openings not exceeding 2.3 inches in diameter. Authorized only for unsymmetrical dimethylhydrazine.

• • • • • •

SUBPART D—FLAMMABLE SOLIDS AND OXIDIZING MATERIALS; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

5. In § 73.182, amend paragraph (b) (1), (2) and (4); add paragraph (b) (5) (19 F. R. 8526, Dec. 14, 1954) (20 F. R. 4415, June 23, 1955) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.182) to read as follows:

§ 73.182 Nitrates. • • •

(b) • • •

(1) In bulk in tight closed freight cars. (See § 74.532 (k) of this chapter for loading requirements.)

(2) In bulk in sift proof closed or open type motor vehicles. (See § 77.838 (f) of this chapter for loading requirements.)

• • • • • •

(4) In burlap bags not exceeding 200 pounds net weight, water-resistant made tight against sifting, and made of not less than 8-ounce burlap. Ammonium nitrate-carbonate mixtures, calcium nitrate, sodium nitrate, nitrate of soda and potash, or strontium nitrate when so packed are exempt from labeling requirements and § 77.823 of this chapter. For water shipments see Regulations for Explosives or Other Dangerous Articles on Board Vessels prescribed by the Commandant United States Coast Guard (46 CFR Part 146). (See §§ 74.532 and 77.838 of this chapter for loading requirements.)

(5) In multi-wall paper bags not exceeding 110 pounds net weight, of at least 4-ply construction including moisture-barrier ply, and made tight against sifting. Completed package, filled to weight with product and closed for shipment, must be capable of withstanding three 4-foot drops on face or back onto solid concrete without rupture. Ammonium nitrate-carbonate mixtures, calcium nitrate, sodium nitrate, nitrate of soda and potash, or strontium nitrate when so packed are exempt from labeling requirements and § 77.823 of this chapter. For water shipments see Regulations for Explosives or Other Dangerous Articles on Board Vessels prescribed by the Commandant United States Coast Guard (46 CFR Part 146). (See §§ 74.532 and 77.838 of this chapter for loading requirements.)

SUBPART E—ACIDS AND OTHER CORROSIVE LIQUIDS; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

6. In § 73.249, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a); amend paragraph (a) (6) and (7) (21 F. R. 2147, Apr. 4, 1956) (18 F. R. 6778, Oct. 27. 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.249) to read as follows:

§ 73.249 Alkaline corrosive liquids, n. o. s., alkaline caustic liquids, n. o. s., alkaline battery fluids, and sodium aluminate, liquid. (a) Alkaline corrosive liquids, n. o. s., alkaline caustic liquids, n. o. s., alkaline battery fluids, and sodium aluminate, liquid, when offered for transportation by carriers by rail freight, highway, or water must be packed in specification containers of a design and constructed of materials that will not react dangerously with or be decomposed by the chemical packed therein as follows:

• • • • • •

(6) Spec. MC 310 or MC 311 (§ 78.330 or § 78.331 of this chapter), tank motor vehicles.

(7) Spec. 60 (§ 78.255 of this chapter), portable tanks.

• • • • • •

7. In § 73.257, amend paragraph (a) (6) (20 F. R. 4416, 4417, June 23, 1955) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.257) to read as follows:

§ 73.257 Electrolyte (acid) or corrosive battery fluid. (a) • • •

(6) Spec. 12B (§ 78.205 of this chapter), fiberboard boxes with inside containers of polyethylene or other electrolyte acid resistant plastic having secure closures capable of withstanding conditions incident to transportation without leakage and unless containers are rigid or semi-rigid in nature they must be contained in other strong inside containers; minimum thickness of polyethylene or other plastic material shall be not less than 0.003 inch for any film sheet for multi-wall containers or not less than 0.006 inch for single wall containers; not more than 12 such inside containers shall be packed in one outside box and the marking prescribed in § 73.401 (c) shall not be required. Inside containers shall be packed to prevent movement within the box. Dry storage batteries or battery charger device may be packed in the same outside box when adequately separated from other inside containers; gross weight of completed package shall not exceed 65 pounds. Complete package, closed as for shipment, with inside polyethylene containers filled with liquid of same specific gravity as commodity to be shipped, must be capable of withstanding at least 2 drops from a height of 4 feet onto solid concrete without leakage from or rupture of inside containers.

• • • • • •

8. In § 73.260, amend paragraph (e) (18 F. R. 3135, June 2, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.260) to read as follows:

§ 73.260 Electric storage batteries, wet. • • •

(e) Shipments of electric storage batteries containing electrolyte or battery fluid, loaded or braced to prevent damage in transit and short circuits, are exempt from Parts 71–78 and 197 of this chapter: Provided, however, That storage batteries (either wet or dry) constitute the only commodity being transported in the railroad car or motor vehicle body.

• • • • • •

9. In § 73.266, amend paragraph (c) (5) (21 F. R. 672, Jan. 31, 1956) (49 CFR 73.266, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.266 Hydrogen peroxide solution in water. • • •

(c) • • •

(5) Spec. 1F, 1G, or 1H (§ 78.10, § 78.11, or § 78.13 of this chapter), polyethylene carboys in wooden boxes, plywood drums, or metal crates. The carboy closures must be vented so as to prevent accumulation of internal pressure.

• • • • • •

SUBPART F—COMPRESSED GASES; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

10. In § 73.302, amend paragraph (a) (5) and (7) (19 F. R. 1279, Mar. 6, 1954) (21 F. R. 673, Jan. 31, 1956) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.302) to read as follows:

§ 73.302 Exemptions for compressed gases. (a) • • •

(5) Foodstuffs or soaps in metal cans with soluble or emulsified compressed gas, provided the pressure in the container does not exceed 115 pounds per square inch absolute at 70° F. or 150 pounds per square inch absolute at 130° F. The metal container must be capable of withstanding without bursting a pressure of two times the pressure of contents at 70° F. or one and one-half times the pressure of the contents at 130° F., whichever is greater.

• • • • • •

(7) Inside nonrefillable metal containers charged with a solution containing biological products or a medical preparation which will be deteriorated by heat and compressed gas or gases, which is nonpoisonous and nonflammable, and of capacity not to exceed 31.83 cubic inches (17.6 fluid ounces). Pressure in the container not to exceed 55 pounds per square inch absolute at 70° F., and the liquid content of the product and gas must not completely fill the container at 130° F. One completed container out of each lot of 500 or less, filled for shipment, must have been heated until content reached a minimum temperature of 130° F., without evidence of leakage, distortion, or other defect.

• • • • • •

11. In § 73.306, amend paragraph (d) (1) (19 F. R. 1279, Mar. 6, 1954) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.306) to read as follows:

§ 73.306 Liquefied gases, except acetylene in solution. • • •

(d) • • •

(1) Spec. 12B (§ 78.205 of this chapter) fiberboard boxes or spec. 15A, 15B, 15C, 16A, or 19A (§§ 78.168, 78.169, 78.170, 78.185, or 78.190 of this chapter) wooden boxes with inside metal containers not over 31.83 cubic inches (17.6 fluid ounces) capacity each. Pressure in inside containers shall not exceed 55 pounds per square inch absolute at 70° F. and the liquid content of the mixture must not completely fill the container at 130° F. Each completed container filled for shipment must have been heated until contents reached a minimum temperature of 130° F., without evidence of leakage, distortion, or other defect.

• • • • • •

12. In § 73.310, amend the introductory text of paragraph (a) (21 F. R. 367, Jan. 19, 1956) (49 CFR 73.310, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 73.310 Fire extinguishers and component parts thereof. (a) Fire extinguishers and component parts thereof containing compressed gas for the purpose of expelling fire extinguishing contents, which must be nonliquefied gas when in containers exceeding 30 cubic inches capacity, when shipped under the following conditions are exempt from specification packaging, marking, and labeling requirements, except that marking name of contents on outside container is required for shipments via carrier by water. Shipments for transportation by highway carriers are exempt also from Part 77 of this chapter, except § 77.817, and Part 197 of this chapter.

• • • • • •

SUBPART G—POISONOUS ARTICLES; DEFINITION AND PREPARATION

13. In § 73.370, amend paragraphs (a) (5) and (c) (1); add paragraph (c) (3) (20 F. R. 4418, June 23, 1955) (18 F. R. 804, Feb. 7, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.370) to read as follows:

§ 73.370 Cyanides, or cyanide mixtures, except cyanide of calcium and mixtures thereof. (a) • • •

(5) Spec. 37A or 37B (§ 78.131 or § 78.132 of this chapter), metal drums (single-trip containers).

• • • • • •

(c) • • •

(1) As prescribed in paragraph (a) (2), (3), (4), (6), (8), (9), (10), or (11) of this section.

• • • • • •

(3) Spec. 37A or 37B (§ 78.131 or § 78.132 of this chapter), metal drums (single-trip containers); welded side seams required for Spec. 37B drums and all seams and closures must be watertight and hermetically sealed.

• • • • • •

14. In § 73.391, amend paragraph (c) (20 F. R. 952, Feb. 15, 1955) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 73.391) to read as follows:

§ 73.391 Radioactive materials Class D poison; definition. • • •

(c) Not more than 300 curies of solid cesium 137, cobalt 60, gold 198, or iridium 192 may be packed in one outside container for shipment by rail freight, rail express, or highway, except by special arrangements and under conditions approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

15. In § 73.393, amend paragraph (f) (5) (20 F. R. 952, Feb. 15, 1955) (49 CFR 1950 Rev. 1955 Supp., 73.393) to read as follows:

§ 73.393 Packing and shielding. • • •

(f) • • •

(5) Spec. 55 (§ 78.250 of this chapter), metal-encased, lead or uranium metal-shielded containers. Authorized for not more than 300 curies (see § 73.391). Containers must be equipped with a seal.

• • • • • •

PART 74—CARRIERS BY RAIL FREIGHT

SUBPART A—LOADING, UNLOADING, PLACARDING AND HANDLING CARS; LOADING PACKAGES INTO CARS

1. In § 74.532, amend paragraph (k) (19 F. R. 1281, Mar. 6, 1954) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 74.532) to read as follows:

§ 74.532 Loading other dangerous articles. • • •

(k) Nitrates listed in § 73.182 (b) of this chapter must be loaded in clean closed cars which shall be free of loose boards, cracks, holes, or exposed decayed spots. Interior of cars must be swept clean and be free of any projections capable of injuring bags when so packaged. Doors of cars must have tight closures. Journals and boxes must be in good condition. Ammonium nitrate, ammonium nitrate (organic coating), ammonium nitrate fertilizer, containing 90 percent or more ammonium nitrate with no organic coating, and guanidine nitrate must be loaded in all wood box cars, or wooden box cars with steel roofs, or steel box cars with wooden floors and must not be loaded in all metal cars (see also § 74.541 (a) (1)).

• • • • • •

SUBPART E—HANDLING BY CARRIERS BY RAIL FREIGHT

2. In § 74.584, paragraph (a) table, amend the first item in the first column, now reading, "For high explosives, initiating explosives and low explosives, class A." to read as follows: "For high explosives, initiating explosives, low explosives, and blasting caps or electric blasting caps more than 1,000 in quantity, class A" (17 F. R. 4296, May 10, 1952) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 74.584).

3. In § 74.589, amend paragraph (g) (1) and (2), and paragraph (k) in (15 F. R. 8356, Dec. 2, 1950) redesignated as (h) (1) and (2), and paragraph (l) respectively, in (49 CFR 74.589, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 74.589 Handling cars. • • •

(h) • • •

(1) Occupied passenger car; except as provided in paragraph (l) of this section.

(2) Occupied combination car; except as provided in paragraph (l) of this section.

• • • • • •

(l) Position in freight train or mixed train of cars placarded "Explosives" or "Poison Gas", or both, when accompanied by cars carrying guards or gas handling crews. A car requiring "Explosives" or "Poison Gas" placards, or both, shall be next to and ahead of the car occupied by the guards or gas handling crews accompanying such car; except that when the car occupied by guards or gas handling crews is equipped with a lighted heater or stove it shall be the fourth car behind a car or cars requiring "Explosives" placards.

(1) [Canceled.]

PART 75—CARRIERS BY RAIL EXPRESS

SUBPART A—TRANSPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES BY THE RAILWAY EXPRESS AGENCY, INCORPORATED, IN PASSENGER OR EXPRESS TRAIN SERVICE

1. In § 75.675, amend Exception No. 1 following paragraph (a) (16 F. R. 9380, Sept. 15, 1951) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 75.675) to read as follows:

§ 75.675 Explosives via Railway Express Agency, Inc. (a) • • •

Exception No. 1: Samples of explosives for laboratory examination, fireworks, or other similar authorized explosives may continue to be transported in passenger or express train service, subject to the published regulations. (See §§ 72.5 and 73.86 (d) of this chapter.)

• • • • • •

PART 77—SHIPMENTS MADE BY WAY OF COMMON, CONTRACT, OR PRIVATE CARRIERS BY PUBLIC HIGHWAY

SUBPART A—GENERAL INFORMATION AND REGULATIONS

1. In § 77.817, amend paragraph (a) (1) (18 F. R. 5273, Sept. 1, 1953) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 77.817) to read as follows:

§ 77.817 Shipping papers. (a) • • •

(1) Every motor carrier offering for rail transportation any loaded motor vehicle or any loaded motor vehicle trailer, semi-trailer, or container containing any shipment of an explosive or other dangerous article shall show on the bill of lading, shipping order, shipping paper, or other billing issued in lieu thereof, in addition to the description of the vehicle or container, the proper and definite name of the commodity as shown in § 72.5 of this chapter and the color of label or kind of placards applied.

SUBPART B—LOADING AND UNLOADING

2. In § 77.835, amend paragraphs (g) and (h) (18 F. R. 5273, Sept. 1, 1953) (15 F. R. 8365, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 1950 Rev., 1955 Supp., 77.835) to read as follows:

§ 77.835 Explosives. • • •

(g) Blasting caps and/or electric blasting caps in same vehicle with other explosives. Blasting caps and/or electric blasting caps, without limitation as to quantity except as limited in paragraph (m) of this section, may be transported in the same motor vehicle with high explosives (dynamites and similar explosives) when the net weight of the high explosives (dynamites and similar explosives) does not exceed 5,000 pounds, as follows: The blasting caps and electric blasting caps must be packed in authorized I. C. C. specification outside shipping containers, or in prescribed inside I. C. C. packages in an outside box made of 1 inch lumber lined with suitable padding material not less than ½ inch thick or a box made of not less than 12 gauge sheet metal lined with plywood or other suitable material not less than ⅜ inch thick so that no metal is exposed. Hinged cover and fastening device are required on boxes. These boxes must be loaded in motor vehicle so that contents or box will be immediately accessible for removal and so that other containers in the motor vehicle will not fall on them or otherwise damage them during transit. Blasting caps or electric blasting caps when not packed in containers referred to above in this paragraph must be transported in containers as prescribed in spec. MC–201. See paragraph (m) of this section for shipment of blasting caps with liquid nitroglycerin, desensitized liquid nitroglycerin or diethylene glycol dinitrate. Explosive projectiles with detonating fuzes assembled in place must not be transported unless shipped by, for, or to the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force of the United States Government, or unless of a type approved by the Bureau of Explosives.

(h) Lading within body or covered, tailgate closed. Except as provided in paragraphs (g), (k), and (m) of this section, dealing with the transportation of liquid nitroglycerin, desensitized liquid nitroglycerin or diethylene glycol dinitrate, other than as defined in § 73.53 (e) of this chapter, all of that portion of the lading of any motor vehicle which consists of explosives shall be contained entirely within the body of the motor vehicle or within the horizontal outline thereof, without overhang or projection of any part of the load, and if such motor vehicle has a tailboard or tailgate, it shall be closed and secured in place during such transportation. Every motor vehicle transporting explosives must either have a closed body or have the body thereof covered with a tarpaulin, and in either event care must be taken to protect the load from moisture and sparks, except that subject to other provisions of these regulations, explosives other than black powder may be transported on flat-bed vehicles if the explosive portion of the load on each vehicle is packed in fire and water resistant containers or covered with a fire and water resistant tarpaulin.

3. In § 77.838, amend paragraph (f) (15 F. R. 8366, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 77.838, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 77.838 Flammable solids and oxidizing materials. • • •

(f) Nitrates listed in § 73.182 (b) of this chapter must be loaded in closed or open type motor vehicles which must be swept clean and be free of any projections capable of injuring bags when so packaged. When shipped in open type motor vehicles the lading must be suitably covered. Ammonium nitrate, ammonium nitrate (organic coating), ammonium nitrate fertilizer, containing 90 percent or more ammonium nitrate with no organic coating, and guanidine nitrate must not be loaded in all metal

PART 78—SHIPPING CONTAINER SPECIFICATIONS

SUBPART E—SPECIFICATIONS FOR WOODEN BARRELS, KEGS, BOXES, KITS, AND DRUMS

Amend heading of § 78.185; amend entire § 78.185-2; add paragraph (b) to § 78.185-8; amend § 78.185-9 (a); amend entire § 78.185-12 (15 F. R. 8470, 8471, Dec. 2, 1950) (49 CFR 78.185, 78.185-2, 78.185-8, 78.185-9, 78.185-12, 1950 Rev.) to read as follows:

§ 78.185 Specification 16A; plywood or wooden boxes, wirebound.

* * * * *

§ 78.185-2 Lumber or plywood. (a) Lumber shall be well seasoned and commercially dry; free from decay, objectionable knots, slanting shakes, sharp cross grain, and other defects that materially lessen the strength. Grain of wood in cleats and battens must not cross piece within its length.

(b) Plywood shall be made from veneer which has been rotary cut, sliced, or sawed. Plywood shall be good commercial box or sheathing grade and shall be moisture-resistant; free from decay, objectionable knots that interfere with nailing, splits, gaps, and other defects that materially lessen the strength.

(1) Moisture-resistant plywood shall be fabricated with either synthetic or protein type glue. Specimens for testing shall be not less than 5 in number, measuring 6" x 6", and shall withstand 10 cycles of 4 hours immersion in water at room temperature and drying for 20 hours at a temperature not over 100° F. After 10 cycles, 4 of the 5 samples are to show not more than a sum total of 2-inch delamination on the edges, with depth delamination no greater than ½ inch.

§ 78.185-8 Cleats. * * *

(b) Cleats for plywood boxes shall be Group 4 woods.

§ 78.185-9 Ends. (a) Battened when prescribed. Wired ends authorized provided wires run cross grain and terminate in loops with ends of wire driven through end board and clinched. Grain of wood and outside ply of plywood shall be perpendicular to sides except for wired ends.

§ 78.185-12 Thickness of boards or plywood (sides, tops, bottoms, and ends.)

(a) Thickness as follows except that, for thicknesses prescribed as 5/16" or less, resawn boards must be 1/64" thicker for each resawn surface:

| Group of wood | Minimum thickness of boards (inch) | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 4/16 (0.125) | 5/16 (0.143) | 6/16 (0.167) | 7/16 (0.185) | 8/16 (0.219) | 9/16 (0.250) | 10/16 (0.313) |
| | Authorized gross weight, box and contents, not over (pounds) | | | | | | |
| 1 | 25 | 35 | 50 | 75 | 100 | 150 | 200 |
| 2 | 35 | 50 | 75 | 100 | 150 | 200 | 315 |
| 3 | 50 | 75 | 100 | 150 | 200 | 315 | 400 |
| 4 | 75 | 100 | 150 | 200 | 315 | 400 | |

(1) For boxes with 3 or more rows of cleats, boards of the next lower thickness prescribed in the table are acceptable.

(b)

| Group of wood | Minimum thickness of plywood (inch) [1] | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| | 4/16 (0.125) | 5/16 (0.150) | 6/16 (0.188) |
| | Authorized gross weight, box and contents, not over (pounds) | | |
| 1, 2, 3 | 150 | 300 | 400 |
| 4 | | | |

[1] Minimum tolerance of 5% permitted for specified thicknesses.

[Docket No. 7927]

BRANIFF AIRWAYS, INC.

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the alteration, amendment and modification of the certificate of public convenience and necessity for route No. 26 of Braniff Airways, Inc., under section 401 (h) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly section 401 (h) of said act, that a public hearing will be held on May 15, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., in Room 4817, Department of Commerce Building, Fourteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner Leslie G. Donahue.

Without limiting the scope of the issues presented in said proceeding, particular attention will be directed to the following matter:

Does the public convenience and necessity require that Braniff's certificate of public convenience and necessity for route No. 26 be altered, amended or modified, to authorize and require Braniff to continue to provide service to Mitchell and Yankton, South Dakota, Norfolk, Nebraska, and Worthington, Minnesota, and to provide service beyond Sioux Falls, South Dakota, to the terminal point Fargo, North Dakota, via the intermediate points Watertown and Brookings, South Dakota, until a date sixty days after the date of the Board's final decision in the Seven States Area Investigation with respect to the service?

Notice is further given that any interested person may file with the Board a protest or memorandum in support of or in opposition to the alteration, amendment or modification of the said Braniff certificate. Further notice is given that any person other than the parties and intervenors of record desiring to be heard in support of or in opposition to the questions involved in this proceeding may file with the Board on or before May 15, 1956, a statement setting forth the issues of fact and of law which he desires to advance. Any person filing such a statement may appear at the hearing in accordance with the provisions of section 302.14 of the Board's rules of practice in economic proceedings.

Dated at Washington, D. C., May 2, 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket No. 10285 etc.; FCC 56-348]

PORT ARTHUR COLLEGE ET AL.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Port Arthur College, Port Arthur, Texas, Docket No. 10285, File No. BPCT-839; Joe B. Carrigan, Trustee and James K. Smith, a partnership d/b as Smith Radio Company, Port Arthur, Texas, Docket No. 10352, File No. BPCT-1013; Jefferson Amusement Company, Port Arthur, Texas, Docket No. 10779, File No. BPCT-1440; for construction permits for new television broadcast stations.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1956;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application of Jefferson Amusement Company, filed on November 24, 1952, requesting a construction permit for a new television broadcast station to operate on Channel 4 in Port Arthur, Texas; and

It appearing that the application of Port Arthur College and the application of Lufkin Amusement Company, which was subsequently dismissed, each [redacted] questing a construction permit for [redacted] television broadcast station to op[erate] on Channel 4 in Port Arthur, Texas, were designated for hearing on specified issues by order of the Commission of July 11, 1952 and that by order of November 26, 1952 the application of Smith Radio Company was consolidated in the proceeding; and

It further appearing that the Commission by Memorandum Opinion and Order of April 22, 1953, dismissed the application of Jefferson Amusement Company pursuant to the provisions of § 1.363 (a) of the Commission's rules; and

It further appearing that hearing on the application of Port Arthur College and Smith Radio Company commenced on May 6, 1953, but that further comparative hearing was indefinitely continued pending Commission action on the Jefferson Amusement Company petition for rehearing filed on May 22, 1953, on the dismissal of its application; and

It further appearing that following further proceedings and reconsideration, the Commission on October 4, 1954, released a decision reaffirming its dismissal of the Jefferson Amusement Company application pursuant to the provisions of § 1.363 (a) of the rules, but that the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit on September 8, 1955, reversed said decision and remanded the case to the Commission for further proceedings; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the Jefferson Amusement Company was advised by letters dated November 29, 1955, and February 2, 1956, of the fact that its application is mutually exclusive with the above-entitled applications, of the necessity for a hearing thereon, and was given an opportunity to reply; and

It further appearing that upon due consideration of the Jefferson Amusement Company application, the amendments filed thereto, and the replies to the above letters, the Commission finds that under section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, a hearing is mandatory; and that the public interest would be served by the inclusion of hearing issues which would require that Jefferson Amusement Company meet a burden of proof equivalent to that which has been imposed upon Port Arthur College and Smith Radio Company:

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled application of Jefferson Amusement Company is designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding with the other above-entitled applications, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the legal, technical, financial and other qualifications of the applicants to construct and operate the proposed stations.

2. To determine the type and character of the program services proposed to be rendered and whether they would meet the needs of the communities and areas within the Grade A and Grade B field intensity contours.

3. To determine whether the construction and operation of the proposed stations would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and regulations governing television broadcast stations.

4. To determine on a comparative basis which, if any, of the above-entitled applications should be granted.

Released: May 1, 1956.

[Docket No. 11446 etc.; FCC 56-346]

CERRITOS BROADCASTING CO. ET AL.

ORDER AMENDING ISSUES

In re applications of Raymond B. Torian, John W. Doran, and Foster Earl Rutledge, a partnership, d/b as The Cerritos Broadcasting Co., Signal Hill, California, Docket No. 11446, File No. BP-8734; Albert John Williams, Inglewood, California, Docket No. 11448, File No. BP-9509; Neil W. Owen and Julia C. Owen, a partnership, d/b as Palomar Broadcasting Co., Escondido, California, Docket No. 11449, File No. BP-9676; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1956;

The Commission having under consideration (1) a petition for enlargement of issues filed, October 17, 1955, by Albert John Williams; (2) comments of Chief of the Commission's Broadcast Bureau filed on October 19, 1955, (3) a reply to subject petition and requests for alternate relief filed, October 27, 1955, by The Cerritos Broadcasting Company; and (4) a response and opposition filed, November 4, 1955, by Albert John Williams;

It appearing that said petition of Albert John Williams states that the proposed operation of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company would cause objectionable interference to Station XESS, Ensenada, Baja California, Mexico, and requests an enlargement of hearing issues to inquire into said interference; that said petition was not timely filed; and that the Broadcast Bureau does not oppose the petition;

It further appearing that in its reply, The Cerritos Broadcasting Company states that the interference it would cause to Station XESS, Ensenada, Baja California, Mexico, falls in an area which is already subjected to interference by Station KVEN, Ventura, California, and if the Commission should grant the petition of Albert John Williams, it requests an enlargement of issues to inquire whether the proposal of Albert John Williams would comply with § 3.28 (c) of the Commission's rules because of interference it would receive from Station XEAU, Tijuana, Baja California, Mexico, in addition to that from Station KWIZ, Santa Ana, California;

It further appearing, that in its response and opposition to the alternative relief requested by The Cerritos Broadcasting Company, Albert John Williams shows that the population residing within the said interference areas would be 0.46 percent of the population residing within its normally protected contour;

It further appearing that the proposed operation of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company may cause interference to a foreign station, which would result in violation of § 3.28 (b) of the Commission's rules, and that the issues should be enlarged to inquire into the interference to Station XESS;

It further appearing that the interference to the proposed service of Albert John Williams from existing stations would not be of such magnitude that the proposal would violate the provisions of § 3.28 (c) of the Commission's rules; and that the inquiry as to the interference from Station XEAU, Tijuana, Baja California, Mexico, may be properly adduced by Issue No. 3 as it is now promulgated;

It further appearing that good cause has not been shown by Albert John Williams for not filing the petition for enlargement of issues within 15 days after publication of the issues in the FEDERAL REGISTER as prescribed by § 1.389 of the Commission's rules; and

It further appearing that in view of the seriousness of the problem, the Commission, on its own motion, should enlarge the issues to ascertain whether the operation proposed by The Cerritos Broadcasting Company would comply with the provisions of § 3.28 (b) of the Commission's rules;

It is ordered, That the petition of Albert John Williams for enlargement of issues and the petition of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company for alternate relief are denied; and

It is further ordered, On The Commission's Own Motion, that the hearing issues Nos. 5 and 6 in the above-entitled proceeding are renumbered Nos. 6 and 7, and the hearing issues are enlarged to include as Issue No. 5 the following:

5. To determine whether the proposed operation of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company would protect the co-channel operation of Station XESS, Ensenada, Baja California, Mexico, in accordance with the provisions of § 3.28 (b) of the Commission's rules.

Released: April 30, 1956.

[Docket No. 11446 etc.; FCC 56-347]

CERRITOS BROADCASTING CO. ET AL.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER AMENDING ISSUES

In re applications of Raymond B. Torian, John W. Doran, and Foster Earl Rutledge, a partnership, d/b as The Cerritos Broadcasting Co., Signal Hill, California, Docket No. 11446, File No. BP-8734; Albert John Williams, Inglewood, California, Docket No. 11448, File No. BP-9509; Neil W. Owen and Julia O. Owen, a partnership, d/b as Palomar Broadcasting Co., Escondido, California, Docket No. 11449, File No. BP-9676; for construction permits.

1. The Commission has before it (1) a petition filed November 14, 1955, by Albert John Williams for enlargement of issues; (2) supplement to subject petition filed November 16, 1955, by Albert John Williams; (3) statement by the Commission's Broadcast Bureau filed November 23, 1955; and (4) reply to subject petition filed November 23, 1955, by The Cerritos Broadcasting Company.

2. On November 14, 1955, Albert John Williams filed a petition for enlargement of issues in the above-entitled proceeding to include the following issue: "To determine whether the 25 mv/m contour of the proposed station of The Cerritos Broadcasting Co. would overlap the 2 mv/m contour of Station KALI, Pasadena, California, and thus be in violation of § 3.37 of the Commission's rules and regulations."

In support, petitioner states that the application of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company proposes the construction of a new standard broadcast station at Signal Hill, California, to be operated on 1450 kc with a power of 100 watts, unlimited time, and that Station KALI operates on 1430 kc with a power of 5 kw at Pasadena, California; that, based upon measurements made on Station KALI along the radial from KALI toward the proposed Signal Hill site, which are on file with the license application of Station KALI, and the value of conductivity from the Commission's ground conductivity map for the remainder of the path, Station KALI places a signal in excess of 2 mv/m in and beyond Signal Hill; and that, since the proposed station of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company would have a signal in excess of 25 mv/m in Signal Hill, there would thus result an overlap of these two contours. Such an overlap would be in violation of the provisions of § 3.37 of the Commission's rules which provide, among other things, that a license will not be granted for the operation of a station on a frequency ±20 kc from the frequency of another station if the area enclosed by the 25 mv/m groundwave contour of either one overlaps the area enclosed by the 2 mv/m groundwave contour of the other.

3. In reply, The Cerritos Broadcasting Company contends that the Commission considered the problem of overlap when it granted the application of Station KALI for increase in daytime power from 1 kw to 5 kw in July 1953; that, based upon measurements, the determination was made that there would be no overlap of the above-described contours; and that its application was co-pending with the application of KALI to increase power which was granted in July 1953. It states that, in the event the above-entitled petition is granted, it will request a show cause order to be issued against Station KALI as to why its grant of July 1953, should not be revoked and said application be designated in this consolidated proceeding.

4. It must be observed initially in disposing of Williams' petition that it was not filed within the time allowed by § 1.389 of the rules. Moreover, petitioner has failed to establish good cause for the tardiness in filing his petition, and for this reason the request to enlarge the issues must be denied. However, the question of overlap between Cerritos proposed operation and the existing operation of Station KALI must be resolved before a proper disposition of this ease is possible which makes it necessary, therefore, for the Commission to consider the matter further on its own motion.

5. When the Commission considered this matter earlier and granted Station KALI's application, the said application to increase power to 5 kilowatts was co-pending with the application of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company under consideration here. At that time it was determined that said overlap would not occur. However, as recited above, the petitioner has shown that based upon measurements, more particularly the measurements submitted with the proof-of-performance of the KALI 5 kw operation the 2 mv/m contour of Station KALI would fall beyond Signal Hill and that said contour would overlap the 25 mv/m contour of the proposed Signal Hill station, which would be in violation of § 3.37 of the Commission's rules. Hence, the hearing issues should be enlarged to inquire into the overlap of the 2 mv/m and 25 mv/m contours. Additionally, it is necessary to issue an order to Station KALI to show cause why its license should not be modified to eliminate the overlap which would occur between its operation and that proposed by Cerritos. The authority under which Station KALI now operates was granted on the basis of an application which was co-pending with Williams' application and would not have been granted as it was but for the apparently incorrect conclusion that there would be no overlap of the two contours. It would be manifestly improper to deny Cerritos' application after hearing because of the existence of overlap with Station KALI which had it been known would have precluded the grant without hearing to Station KALI. Thus, it is appropriate to add the show cause issue at this stage of the proceeding:

6. It is ordered, This 25th day of April 1956, that Consolidated Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KALI, Pasadena, California, is directed to show cause why its license should not be modified to eliminate the overlap between its operation and the operation proposed by Cerritos Broadcasting Company; and that Consolidated Broadcasting Company is made party to the proceeding;

7. It is further ordered, That the petition of Albert John Williams to enlarge the issues is denied; and

8. It is further ordered, On the Commission's own motion, that the hearing issues in the above-entitled proceeding are enlarged and modified as follows:

1. To determine the areas and populations which would receive primary service from the proposed operations, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the proposal of the Palomar Broadcasting Co. would cause interference to the operation proposed by The Cerritos Broadcasting Company, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the operation of each of the subject proposed stations would involve interference with Stations KPAL, KVEN, KPRO and KWIZ, Palm Springs, Ventura, Riverside and Santa Ana, California, respectively, or any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

4. To determine whether the proposal of the Palomar Broadcasting Co. complies with the provisions of § 3.28 (c) of the Commission's rules.

5. To determine whether the proposed operation of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company would protect the co-channel operation of Station XESS, Ensenada, Baja California, Mexico, in accordance with the provisions of § 3.28 (b) of the Commission's rules.[1]

6. To determine whether the 25 mv/m contour of The Cerritos Broadcasting Company would overlap the 2 mv/m contour of Station KALI, Pasadena, California, and thus be in violation of § 3.37 of the Commission's rules.

7. To determine, in light of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which of the proposals, if granted, would best provide a fair, efficient, and equitable distribution of radio service.

8. To determine, in light of the evidence adduced under the foregoing issues which, if any, of the applications should be granted.

CHARLES W. STONE

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of Charles W. Stone, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Docket No. 11567, File No. BP-9626; for construction permit.

The Hearing Examiner having under consideration the "Petition for Continuance" filed April 25, 1956, by the applicant, Charles W. Stone, requesting that the hearing now scheduled for April 27, 1956, be continued until May 27, 1956 (Sunday);

It appearing that good and sufficient reason exists why a continuance of the hearing should be granted;

It further appearing that counsel for Stations WWPB and WAHR, parties to the proceeding, and counsel for the Broadcast Bureau have consented to a continuance herein and, likewise, have consented to a waiver of § 1.745 of the Commission's rules;

It is therefore ordered, This 27th day of April 1956, that the hearing herein be, and the same is hereby, continued to May 25, 1956, in the Commission's offices in Washington, D. C. at 10:00 a. m.

LINCOLN COUNTY BROADCASTING CO. (WLON)

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Lincoln County Broadcasting Company (WLON), Lincolnton, North Carolina, Docket No. 11684, File No. BP-10171; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1956;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned application of the Lincoln County Broadcasting Company for a construction permit to increase the power of Station WLON, Lincolnton, North Carolina, from 500 watts to one kilowatt to operate on 1050 kilocycles, daytime only;

It appearing that the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified, except as may appear from the issues specified below, to operate its station as proposed, but that the proposed operation may involve interference with Station WWGP, Sanford, North Carolina (1050 kc, 1 kw, Day); and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the subject applicant was advised by letter dated February 13, 1956, of the aforementioned deficiency and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of the application would be in the public interest; and

It further appearing that Station WWGP requested by letter dated November 14, 1955, that the Commission consider the matter of interference to its operation, and, in a letter dated March 7, 1956, addressed to the applicant, WWGP indicated its objection to a grant of the subject application; and

It further appearing that a timely reply was filed by the applicant; and

It further appearing that the Commission, after consideration of the above, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said application is designated for hearing, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of Station WLON as proposed, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether Station WLON operating as proposed would cause interference to Station WWGP, Lincolnton, North Carolina, or any other existing standard broadcast station, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether in the light of the evidence adduced under the foregoing issues, a grant of the subject application would serve the public interest.

It is further ordered, That the Sandhills Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of Station WWGP, Lincolnton, North Carolina, is made a party to the proceeding.

Released: May 1, 1956.

POLK RADIO, INC., AND DUANE F. MCCONNELL

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Polk Radio, Incorporated, Lakeland, Florida, Docket No. 11685, File No. BP-10136; Duane F. McConnell, Winter Haven, Florida, Docket No. 11686, File No. BP-10400; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1956;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned applications of Polk Radio, Incorporated, for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1310 kilocycles with a power of one kilowatt, daytime only, at Lakeland, Florida; and Duane F. McConnell for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1320 kilocycles with a power of 500 watts, daytime only, at Winter Haven, Florida;

It appearing that each of the applicants is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified, except as may appear from the issues specified below, to operate its proposed station, but that operation of both proposals would result in mutually destructive interference; and

It further appearing that, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the subject applicants were advised by letter dated March 23, 1956, of the aforementioned deficiency and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of either application would serve the public interest; and

It further appearing that a timely reply was filed by each of the applicants; and

It further appearing that the Commission, after consideration of the replies, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which would receive primary service from each of the proposed operations, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine in the light of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which of the operations proposed in the above-captioned applications would better provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service.

3. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, which, if either, of the applications should be granted.

ROBERT A. MENSEL ET AL.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Robert A. Mensel, Willimantic, Connecticut, Dooket No. 11687, File No. BP-10074; Conant Broadcasting Company, Inc. (WHIL) Medford, Massachusetts, Docket No. 11688, File No. BP-10147; The Windham Broadcasting Company, Willimantic, Connecticut, Docket No. 11689, File No. BP-10194; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1956;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications of Robert A. Mensel for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1430 kilocycles with a power of 500 watts, daytime only, at Willimantic, Connecticut; Conant Broadcasting Company Inc., for a construction permit to increase the power of Station WHIL, Medford, Massachusetts, from 1 kilowatt to 5 kilowatts on 1430 kilocycles, daytime only; and The Windham Broadcasting Company for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1400 kilocycles with a power of 250 watts, unlimited time, at Willimantic, Connecticut;

It appearing that each of the applicants is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified, except as may appear from the issues specified below to operate as proposed, but that the proposed operations of Robert A. Mensel and Conant Broadcasting Company Inc., are mutually exclusive; that the proposed operations of Robert A. Mensel and The Windham Broadcasting Company are mutually exclusive; that the proposed operation of the Conant Broadcasting Company, Inc., would cause interference to Station WAAB, Worcester, Massachusetts (1440 kc, 5 kw, DA-2, Unl.); that the proposed operation of The Windham Broadcasting Company would cause interference to Stations WALE, Fall River, Massachusetts (1400 kc, 250 w, Unl.) and WHMP, Northampton, Massachusetts (1440 kc, 250 w, Unl.); and would receive interference from Station WALE and WHMP to the extent that compliance with § 3.28 (c) of the Commission's rules may not be achieved; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the subject applicants were advised by letter dated February 8, 1956, of the aforementioned deficiencies and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of any of the applications would be in the public interest; and

It further appearing that Robert A. Mensel in a reply dated February 13, 1956, expressed an intention of appearing at a hearing; and

It further appearing that the Conant Broadcasting Company, Inc., replied by letter dated March 6, 1956, and stated that any interference that would be caused to Station WAAB by its proposal would be insignificant; and

It further appearing that in a letter dated March 5, 1956, The Windham Broadcasting Company requested an extension of time in which to make field intensity measurements in an attempt to prove compliance with § 3.28 (c) of the Commission's rules and to reply to the Commission's letter but that the Commission is of the opinion that it would be expeditious to deny the request for extension, as leave to amend may be granted for good cause shown after designation for hearing; and

It further appearing that Station WAAB, in letters dated November 1, 1955, and January 3, 1956, opposed the grant of the application of the Conant Broadcasting Company, Inc.; and

It further appearing that, in letters dated February 14 and March 1, 1956, Stations WHMP and WALE, respectively, opposed the grant of the application of The Windham Broadcasting Company; and

It further appearing that the Commission, after consideration of the above, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary:

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which would receive primary service from the proposed operations of Robert A. Mensel and The Windham Broadcasting Company and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine areas and populations that would gain or lose primary service from the proposed operation of Station WHIL, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the proposed operation of the Conant Broadcasting Company, Inc., would cause interference to Station WAAB, Worcester, Massachusetts, or any other existing standard broadcast station, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

4. To determine whether the proposed operation of The Windham Broadcasting Company would cause interference to Stations WALE, Fall River, Massachusetts, and WHMP, Northampton, Massachusetts, or any other existing standard broadcast station, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation proposed by The Windham Broadcasting Company would comply with § 3.28 (c) of the Commission's rules; and if compliance with § 3.28 (c) is not achieved, whether circumstances exist which would warrant a waiver of said section of the rules.

6. To determine in the light of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which of the operations proposed in the above-entitled applications would better provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service.

7. To determine which of the operations proposed by Robert A. Mensel and The Windham Broadcasting Company would better serve the public interest in the light of the evidence adduced under the foregoing issues and the record made with respect to the significant differences between the two applicants as to:

(a) The background and experience of each of the two above-named applicants to own and operate their proposed stations.

(b) The proposals of each of the two above-named applicants with respect to the management and operation of their proposed stations.

(c) The programming service proposed in each of the two above-mentioned applications.

8. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, which, if any, of the applications should be granted.

It is further ordered, That Wilson Broadcasting Corporation, Narragansett Broadcasting Company and Pioneer Valley Broadcasting Co., licensees of Stations WAAB, WALE and WHMP, respectively, are made parties to the proceeding.

It is further ordered, That the request of The Windham Broadcasting Company for additional time to reply to the Commission's letter is denied.

SAFETY AND SPECIAL RADIO SERVICES BUREAU

COMMISSION INQUIRY ON ADEQUACY AND SUITABILITY OF FORMS

In the matter of forms used by the Safety and Special Radio Services Bureau, Docket No. 11692.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of April 1956;

The Commission having under consideration the matter of forms used by the Safety and Special Radio Services Bureau; and

It appearing that a revision of FCC Form 400, "Application for Radio Station Authorization in the Safety and Special Radio Services", dated July 1955, and Instructions for Completion of this Form, dated December 1955, were put into use in January 1956 for the purpose of simplifying application procedures in the Public Safety, Industrial, and Land Transportation Radio Services; and

It appearing that further revision of Form 400, as well as other forms employed in the Safety and Special Radio Services will be made from time to time both for the benefit of the Commission and the general public and the Commission desiring to have the views and suggestions of the public in respect thereto;

Now, therefore, The Commission hereby institutes an inquiry concerning all forms used in the Safety and Special Radio Services Bureau, particularly in regard to the most widely used Form 400 and related Instruction Sheet, and invites submission of suggestions as to how these forms may be improved. Such suggestions may be submitted in letter form at any time prior to a date to be later announced, which will not be sooner than September 4, 1956.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. E-6676]

WASHINGTON WATER POWER CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

MAY 1, 1956.

Take notice that on April 26, 1956, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission, pursuant to section 203 of the Federal Power Act, by The Washington Water Power Company ("Washington"), a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Washington and doing business in the States of Washington, Idaho and Montana, with its principal business office at Spokane, Washington, seeking an order authorizing and approving the purchase of the electric transmission and distribution properties, more fully described below, which are located in the Counties of Stevens, Spokane and Pend Oreille, State of Washington, owned by Citizens Utilities Company ("Citizens"), a Delaware corporation, with its principal business office at Stamford, Connecticut. Washington proposes to purchase the electric facilities of Citizens which serve the incorporated towns of Deer Park and Springdale, the communities of Valley, Loon Lake and Clayton, and the rural territories in the southeastern portion of Stevens County, the northern portion of Spokane County, and a small portion of Pend Oreille County, with approximately 2,500 customers and approximately 210 miles of line. The purchase price to be paid by Washington is stated in the application to be $950,000 for the property as of December 31, 1955, subject to certain adjustments. After the sale of said facilities, all customers presently served by Citizens will be served by Washington at the latter's rates. The proposed purchase and sale includes all the operating electrical facilities of Citizens in the State of Washington and does not affect any of its other operating properties.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 17th day of May 1956, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. The application is on file and available for public inspection.

[Docket No. G–9442]

COLORADO-WYOMING GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 30, 1956.

Take notice that Colorado-Wyoming Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Denver, Colorado, filed an application on October 6, 1955, as supplemented on November 16, 1955, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing construction and operation of natural gas facilities as hereinafter described.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate a 3½-inch, 2⅞-inch, and 2⅜-inch lateral line and meter facilities to sell and deliver firm gas to its existing customer, Greeley Gas Company (Greeley), for the initiation of retail service by Greeley in the Towns of Hudson and Keenesburg, Colorado.

Applicant states that the towns have no gas service at present.

Applicant also states that it purchases natural gas from Colorado Interstate Gas Company (Colorado) at a point near Applicant's Mesa Compressor Station in Adams County, Colorado, part of said gas being sold by Applicant to Greeley for resale in the City of Greeley, Weld County, Colorado.

Applicant further states that Greeley has received franchises to serve Hudson and Keenesburg and has applied to the Public Utilities Commission of Colorado for permission to extend its service area to cover these two towns.

Applicant alleges that the proposed lateral line will tap Applicant's 8-inch Mesa-Cheyenne line near Fort Lupton, Colorado. The lateral will consist of 32,000 feet of 3½-inch pipeline extending to the Town of Hudson, and 38,800 feet of 2⅞-inch and 2⅜-inch pipeline between Hudson and Keenesburg, and that Greeley will receive the gas at the city gates of the two towns.

Applicant further alleges that the estimated third year requirements of the Towns of Hudson and Keenesburg are as follows:

| | Hudson | Keenesburg |
|---|---|---|
| | Mcf | Mcf |
| Annual | 35,400 | 85,055 |
| Peak day | 251 | 320 |

Applicant also alleges that the main line capacity required to serve the towns is too small to have any adverse effect on Applicant's existing service, and that the estimated cost of the proposed facilities listed herein is $92,000, which will be financed from Applicant's cash on hand.

Applicant finally alleges that Greeley will construct and operate distribution facilities needed to serve both towns. The facilities are estimated to cost initially $50,510. Greeley's estimated incremental net annual operating income and capital cost involved in its proposed service in Hudson and Keenesburg during the period from 1956 to 1958 are shown below:

| | Hudson | | | Keenesburg | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1956 | 1957 | 1958 | 1956 | 1957 | 1958 |
| Operating income | $1,384 | $1,498 | $1,562 | $1,749 | $1,840 | $1,949 |
| Capital costs | 23,120 | 23,920 | 25,020 | 27,390 | 28,590 | 29,790 |

Applicant states that it will sell gas to Greeley for the proposed service in the two towns under rates on file with the Commission.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on May 24, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 18, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[Docket No. G–9967]

COLORADO-WYOMING GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 30, 1956.

Take notice that Colorado-Wyoming Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with principal place of business at 421 Continental Oil Building, Denver 2, Colorado, filed on February 14, 1956, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to subsections (b) and (c) of section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Applicant to render service as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant proposes (1) to construct and operate, as integral parts of its existing natural gas system, certain natural gas facilities as hereinafter described which are necessary to the delivery and sale of natural gas in interstate commerce by Applicant for the purpose of improving its service and increasing its system capacity to meet increasing demands of its existing customers and (2) to abandon certain existing natural gas facilities as hereinafter described through sale and retirement in connection with the proposed system expansion.

No discontinuance of service will result from Applicant's proposals, as the new facilities will supply the same customers and general areas as are supplied under present operations.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate the following natural gas facilities:

1. Approximately 59,000 feet of 16-inch loop line northwesterly from the Mesa Meter Station on the Mesa-Boulder, Colorado, line to the Westminster lateral.

2. Approximately 11,000 feet of 12-inch loop line westerly from a point on the West 88th Avenue lateral at Denver to the Arvada-Boulder, Colorado, line.

3. Approximately 10,000 feet of 8-inch transmission line on the Golden, Colorado, lateral to replace approximately 9,000 feet of the existing 4-inch lateral.

4. Approximately 2,600 feet of 8-inch line to loop a portion of the existing South Cheyenne, Wyoming, tie line.

5. A new metering station at West 32d and Youngfield in the suburban area west of Denver, Colorado.

6. A new metering station at West 88th and Huron Streets, Denver area.

7. Relocate the existing North Westminster Metering Station, Denver area.

Applicant requests authority to abandon the following natural gas facilities:

1. Approximately 7,600 feet of the 4-inch Golden, Colorado, lateral through sale to the Public Service Company of Colorado, and to retire from service approximately 1,400 feet of this lateral (in connection with foregoing Item 3).

2. Approximately 15,100 feet of 6-inch line constituting the North Westminster lateral through sale to the Public Service Company of Colorado (in connection with foregoing Item 2 and facilities authorized at Docket No. G–8690).

3. Approximately 6,100 feet of 6-inch line and 326 feet of 3½-inch line of the Cheyenne lateral line through sale to the Cheyenne Light, Fuel and Power Company (in connection with foregoing Item 4).

4. The Cheyenne Town Border Number One Meter Station, The Laramie, Wyoming Road Group Meter Station, and the Maple Grove, Colorado, Farm Tap.

The total cost of construction of the facilities proposed at this docket are estimated at $567,210. Total credits to capital due to retirements are given at $71,307 and net capital additions will amount to $495,903.

Applicant's sales to the Public Service Company of Colorado (Public Service Company), its parent and principal resale customer, amounted to over 8,500,000 Mcf in 1955. Estimated annual requirements of Public Service for the next three years are approximately 10,544,000 Mcf in 1956, 12,446,000 Mcf in 1957, and 13,736,000 Mcf in 1958. Applicant's other resale customers also show increased gas requirements for the same periods, and Applicant has tabulated its total actual and estimated system requirements in Mcf at 14.73 psia as follows:

| | 1955 | 1956 | 1957 | 1958 |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Annual | 19,256,359 | 22,541,400 | 24,840,085 | 26,211,920 |
| Peak day | 84,755 | 105,900 | 123,400 | 137,600 |

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Wednesday, June 6, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, that the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 17, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[Docket No. G–10105]

MANUFACTURERS LIGHT AND HEAT CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 30, 1956.

Take notice that The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, Applicant, a Pennsylvania corporation and a subsidiary of The Columbia Gas System, Inc., having its principal place of business located at 800 Union Trust Bldg.,

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, filed on March 15, 1956, an application for a disclaimer of jurisdiction, or in the alternative, a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas facilities, as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate:

(1) Approximately 208 feet of 4-inch gas service line and appurtenant metering and regulating equipment to serve the Marcus Ruth Jerome Company in Neville Township, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, near Pittsburgh.

(2) Approximately 90 feet of 4-inch gas service line and appurtenant metering and regulating equipment to serve Imperial Ceramics Corporation in Menallen Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, about 10 miles north of Gettysburg.

(3) Approximately 395 feet of 4-inch gas service line and appurtenant metering and regulating equipment to serve Littlestown Hardware and Foundry Company, Borough of Littlestown, Adams County Pennsylvania, about 10 miles southeast of Gettysburg.

Applicant proposes to serve an estimated 68 Mcf on a winter peak day and 20,000 Mcf annually to the Marcus Ruth Jerome Company for use in the processing of animal fat derivatives. Service will be supplied from Applicant's 8-inch transmission Line No. 1011 serving Neville Island (Neville Township). This proposed customer is presently using equipment which can be fired with either gas or oil and can convert to gas on very short notice.

Manufacturers propose to serve an estimated 30 Mcf on a winter peak day and 10,800 Mcf annually to Imperial Ceramics Corporation to be used in a kiln for firing ceramic floor tile. Service will be supplied from Applicant's 4-inch transmission Line No. 8710 serving the Biglerville-Bendersville area in Adams County, Pennsylvania.

Applicant proposes to serve an estimated 20 Mcf on a winter peak day and 5,000 Mcf annually to Littlestown Hardware and Foundry Company to be used in an aluminum smelter in manufacturing aluminum castings. Service will be supplied from Applicant's 4-inch transmission Line No. 8732 serving the Littlestown area in Adams County, Pennsylvania.

The estimated cost of Applicant's proposed construction is $10,150, which Applicant will finance from funds on hand.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Tuesday, June 5, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street, Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of section 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 23, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made. Under the procedure herein provided for unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-3468]

NEW ENGLAND ELECTRIC SYSTEM

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE REGARDING PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO AGREEMENT AND DECLARATION OF TRUST INCREASING TOTAL AUTHORIZED COMMON SHARES AND SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

MAY 1, 1956.

New England Electric System ("NEES"), a registered holding company, has filed with this Commission a declaration and an amendment thereto pursuant to the requirements of sections 6 (a) (2), 7 and 12 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rule U–62 promulgated thereunder with respect to the following proposed transactions:

NEES proposes to submit to the vote of its shareholders at the regular annual meeting of such shareholders to be held on May 29, 1956, a proposal to increase the authorized number of shares from 11,500,000 to 15,000,000 and to amend the Agreement and Declaration of Trust to reflect such increase and in connection therewith to solicit proxies. Copies of solicitation material to be sent to share holders have been included in the instant filing. It is stated in the declaration that the proposed increase in authorized shares and proposed amendment to the Agreement and Declaration of Trust require the affirmative vote of a majority of the common shares present or represented at a shareholders meeting held for such purposes.

Of the 11,500,000 shares presently authorized, NEES now has 1,480,293 unissued shares, which will be reduced to 645,317 upon the issuance of 834,976 shares currently being offered to the shareholders. The filing states that the amendment is being proposed at the present time in order to provide additional authorized common shares to be issued by NEES to enable it to assist in the financing of the construction program of the subsidiaries and for such other purposes, including the acquisition of publicly held shares of common stock of subsidiaries, as the directors may determine.

The declaration sets forth an estimate of fees and expenses totaling $25,500 in connection with the proposed transactions, including $17,500 as the cost of preparation and mailing of the solicitation material and $2,500 for services performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company. It is stated that no State commission and no Federal commission other than this Commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Declarant requests that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Due notice of the filing of said declaration having been given in the manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated under said act, and no hearing having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, and that the declaration, as amended, should be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act that said declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

[File No. 70-3466]

NATIONAL FUEL GAS CO. ET AL.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF COMMON SHARES PURSUANT TO RIGHTS OFFERING AND BANK BORROWINGS

MAY 1, 1956.

In the matter of National Fuel Gas Company, Iroquois Gas Corporation, Republic Light, Heat and Power Company, Inc., United Natural Gas Company, Pennsylvania Gas Company (File No. 70–3466).

National Fuel Gas Company ("National"), a registered holding company, and its four gas utility subsidiaries have filed with this Commission a joint application-declaration and amendments thereto, pursuant to sections 6, 7, 9 (a), 10, 12 (b) and 12 (f) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rules U-43 and U-45 promulgated thereunder regarding seven proposed transactions, including, inter alia, the following:

Transaction No. 1: National will issue and offer to the holders of its outstanding shares of Common Stock of record at the close of business on May 8, 1956, the right to subscribe for and purchase, at a subscription price of $17.75 per share, not to exceed 447,797 shares of Common Stock at the rate of one share of additional Common Stock for each ten shares of outstanding Common Stock held of record on the record date. This offering, which will not be underwritten, is to be made in accordance with the preemptive rights of stockholders, and is to be called the "Basic Subscription Right".

The right to subscribe to the additional Common Stock will be evidenced by transferable warrants expressed in terms of "rights", one right to be issued with respect to each share of presently outstanding Common Stock, and ten rights being necessary to exercise the Basic Subscription Right for one full share of additional Common Stock.

No fractional shares will be issued. However, subject to allotment, any holder of a warrant or warrants evidencing a number of rights in excess of ten but not divisible by ten may subscribe for one more full share than he would be entitled to under the Basic Subscription Right, and any holder of warrants evidencing less than ten rights may subscribe for one full share. This proposal is referred to as the "Primary Additional Subscription Privilege". No subscriber shall have or exercise more than one such Primary Additional Subscription Privilege.

Further, subject to allotment, any holder of a warrant or warrants who exercises either the Basic Subscription Right or the Primary Additional Subscription Privilege, or both, may subscribe for such additional number of shares as he may elect. This proposal is referred to as the "Secondary Additional Subscription Privilege".

The warrants will be issued on or about May 8, 1956 and the Subscription Offer will expire on May 25, 1956.

Transaction No. 2: National has entered into an agreement with The Chase Manhattan Bank under which National will borrow an aggregate amount not exceeding $4,000,000 from September 1, 1956 to and including December 31, 1956, each loan to be evidenced by a promissory note payable on July 15, 1957, with interest at the bank's prime commercial rate currently in force on the issue date of each such note. National may prepay any note in whole at any time, or in part from time to time, without penalty, but with the payment of the interest accrued to the date of such prepayment on the principal sum so prepaid: Provided, That, if any such prepayment results directly or indirectly from the proceeds of, or in anticipation of any bank borrowing, National will pay at the same time a premium of ½ of 1 percent on the principal sum so prepaid.

National proposes to add the net proceeds from the sale of Common Stock outlined in Transaction No. 1 and the borrowings outlined in Transaction No. 2 to its general funds (including the net proceeds of its recent sale of the common stock and promissory notes of Provincial Gas Company, Limited), and then subject to further orders of this Commission, to purchase common stock of or to make loans to its operating subsidiaries, and to apply the residue to other corporate purposes.

National's fees and expenses in connection with transactions Nos. 1 and 2 are stated to aggregate $85,330, including counsel fees of $6,000 and accountants' fees of $3,080.

It is requested that the Commission's order herein become effective upon issuance.

Due notice of the filing of said joint application-declaration having been given in the manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated under the act, and no hearing having been requested of or ordered by the Commission, and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and of the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied as to Transactions Nos. 1 and 2 aforesaid, and that National's declaration as amended with respect thereto should be permitted to become effective forthwith, and that jurisdiction should be reserved with respect to Transactions Nos. 3 to 7, inclusive, as proposed in said joint application-declaration:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that National's declaration, as amended, with respect to Transactions Nos. 1 and 2 aforesaid be, and hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and hereby is, reserved with respect to Transactions Nos. 3 to 7, inclusive, as proposed in said joint application declaration.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

NATIONAL CLASSIFICATION COMMITTEE

APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL OF AGREEMENT

MAY 2, 1956.

The Commission is in receipt of the above-entitled and numbered application for approval of an agreement under the provisions of section 5a of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Filed April 25, 1956, by: F. G. Freund, Attorney-in-Fact, 1424 16th Street NW., Washington 6, D. C.

Agreement involved: An agreement between and among common carriers by motor vehicle relating to classification ratings, rules and regulations, governing the transportation of property by motor common carriers between points in the United States, and procedures for the joint consideration, initiation, or establishment thereof.

The complete application may be inspected at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

Any interested person desiring the Commission to hold a hearing upon such application shall request the Commission in writing so to do within 20 days from the date of this notice. As provided by the general rules of practice of the Commission, persons other than applicants should fairly disclose their interest, and the position they intend to take at the hearing with respect to the application. Otherwise the Commission, in its discretion, may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in such application without further or formal hearing.

By the Commission, Division 2.

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

Subchapter B—Trade Practice Conference Rules

[File No. 21-442]

PART 26—REFRIGERATION AND/OR AIR-CONDITIONING CONTRACTING INDUSTRIES

PROMULGATION OF TRADE PRACTICE RULES

Due proceedings having been held under the trade practice conference procedure in pursuance of the act of Congress approved September 26, 1914, as amended (Federal Trade Commission Act), and other provisions of law administered by the Commission:

It is now ordered, That the Group I trade practice rules as hereinafter set forth, which have been approved by the Commission in this proceeding, be promulgated as of May 8, 1956.

Statement by the Commission. Trade practice rules, as hereinafter set forth, are promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission under its trade practice conference procedure. Such rules have application to persons, firms, corporations, and organizations engaged in the sale and installation of:

(1) Mechanical refrigeration units or systems for commercial or industrial use; or

(2) Mechanical air-conditioning units or systems for commercial, industrial, or home use.

As above used, the word "installation" makes reference to services the performance of which requires engineering knowledge and skill. Thus, window air-conditioning units and mechanical refrigeration units which are of such size and type as to require but a "plug in" to an established electric power system are not to be considered as products to which these rules have application. The words "air-conditioning units or systems" make reference to units or systems which are either capable of lowering, or of both lowering and raising, the temperature of the air within an enclosure and simultaneously effecting a substantial degree of control of the humidity and circulation of the air in such enclosure. Units or systems which are designed to raise, but not lower, the temperature of air within an enclosure are not products to which these rules have application. The above is to be construed as definement of the nature of activities to which the rules have application and is not intended as definement of the kind of products which may be designated "air-conditioners" or "refrigeration units or systems."

Manufacturers, wholesalers, and others engaged in the sale of air-conditioning or refrigeration equipment or systems are not to be considered as members of the industry except to the extent that they install (as hereinbefore explained) such equipment or systems.

According to available information, the aggregate annual sale of industry products is between four and five billion dollars.

Primary objectives of the rules are the maintenance of free and fair competition and the elimination and prevention of unfair methods of competition, unfair acts or practices, and other trade abuses. They are to be applied to such end and to the exclusion of any acts or practices which suppress competition or otherwise restrain trade.

Proceedings for the establishment of rules were instituted pursuant to industry application. A general industry conference was held in Chicago on May 20, 1955, at which proposals for rules were submitted for consideration of the Commission. Thereafter, a draft of proposed rules was published by the Commission and made available to all industry members and other interested or affected parties upon public notice whereby they were afforded opportunity to present their views, including such pertinent information, suggestions, amendments, or objections, as they desired to offer, and to be heard in the premises. Pursuant to such notice public hearings were held in Detroit, Michigan, on January 6, 1956, and in Washington, D. C., on January 20, 1956, and all matters presented at said meetings, or otherwise received in the proceeding, were duly considered.

Thereafter, and upon full consideration of the entire matter, final action was taken by the Commission whereby it approved the Group I rules as hereinafter set forth.

Such rules become operative thirty (30) days from the date of promulgation.

The rules. These rules promulgated by the Commission are designed to foster and promote the maintenance of fair competitive conditions in the interest of protecting industry, trade, and the public. It is to this end, and to the exclusion of any act or practice which fixes or controls prices through combination or agreement, or which unreasonably restrains trade or suppresses competition, or otherwise unlawfully injures, destroys, or prevents competition, that the rules are to be applied.

General statement. The unfair trade practices embraced in the rules herein are considered to be unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, or other illegal practices, prohibited under laws administered by the Federal Trade Commission; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use, by any person, partnership, corporation, or other organization subject to its jurisdiction, of such unlawful practices in commerce.

GROUP I

Sec.
- 26.0 Applicability of the rules.
- 26.1 Deception (general).
- 26.2 Guarantees, warranties, etc.
- 26.3 Prohibited discrimination.
- 26.4 Substitution of products.
- 26.5 Misrepresenting products as conforming to standard.
- 26.6 Deceptive Prices.
- 26.7 Misrepresentation as to character of business.
- 26.8 Inducing breach of contract.
- 26.9 Prohibited sales below cost.
- 26.10 Commercial bribery.
- 26.11 Enticing away employees of competitors.
- 26.12 Deception as to used or rebuilt products.
- 26.13 Defamation of competitors or false disparagement of their products.
- 26.14 Exclusive deals.
- 26.15 Prohibited forms of trade restraints (unlawful price fixing, etc.).

AUTHORITY: §§ 26.0 to 26.15 issued under sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45.

§ 26.0 Applicability of the rules in this part. The rules in this part have application to persons, firms, corporations, and organizations engaged in the sale and installation of:

(1) Mechanical refrigeration units or systems for commercial or industrial use; or

(2) Mechanical air-conditioning units or systems for commercial, industrial, or home use.

NOTE 1. As above used, the word "installation" makes reference to services the performance of which requires engineering knowledge and skill. Thus, window air-conditioning units and mechanical refrigeration units which are of such size and type as to require but a "plug in" to an established electric power system are not to be considered as products to which these rules have application.

NOTE 2. As above used, the words "air-conditioning units or systems" make reference to units or systems which are either capable of lowering, or of both lowering and raising, the temperature of the air within an enclosure and simultaneously effecting a substantial degree of control of the humidity and circulation of the air in such enclosure. Units or systems which are designed to raise, but not lower, the temperature of air within an enclosure are not products to which these rules have application.

NOTE 3. The above is to be construed as definement of the nature of activities to which the rules have application and is not intended as definement of the kind of products which may be designated "air conditioners" or "refrigeration units or systems."

§ 26.1 Deception (general). In connection with the sale and installation of industry products, it is an unfair trade practice to use, or cause or promote the use of, any trade promotional literature, advertising matter, mark, brand, label, or device, or any other type of oral or written representation, which has the capacity and tendency or effect of deceiving purchasers, or prospective purchasers as to the construction, design, model, origin, manufacture, quality, absence of noise in operation, strength, durability, life expectancy, utility, cost of operation, or safety of such products, or of their capacity to cool or refrigerate, or in any other material respect; or to mislead purchasers or prospective purchasers with respect to the need for repair, maintenance, or replacement of parts of such products after their purchase and use, or with respect to any services offered concerning maintenance of the products. [Rule 1]

§ 26.2 Guarantees, warranties, etc. In the sale, offering for sale, or installation of industry products, it is an unfair trade practice to use, or cause to be used, any guarantee or warranty which is false, misleading, deceptive, or unfair to the purchasing or consuming public, whether in respect to quality, construction, serviceability, or performance of any industry product.

(a) The foregoing inhibitions of this section are to be considered as applicable with respect to any guarantee or warranty in which the terms and conditions relating to the obligation of the guarantor or warrantor are impractical of fulfillment.

(b) It is also an unfair trade practice to make or offer any guarantee or warranty respecting an industry product unless the nature and extent of the undertaking, and any and all material conditions and limitations applicable thereto, are clearly and conspicuously stated in immediate conjunction therewith, and unless the obligations of the guarantor or warrantor with respect to the guarantee or warranty are scrupulously fulfilled. [Rule 2]

§ 26.3 Prohibited discrimination[1]—(a) Prohibited discriminatory prices, or rebates, refunds, discounts, credits, etc., which effect unlawful price discrimination. It is an unfair trade practice for any industry member engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, to grant or allow, secretly or openly, directly or indirectly, any rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential where such rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential, effects a discrimination in price between different purchasers of goods of like grade and quality, where either or any of the purchases involved therein are in commerce, and where the effect thereof may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce, or to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any person who either grants or knowingly receives the benefit of such discrimination, or with the customers of either of them: Provided, however:

(1) That the goods involved in any such transaction are sold for use, consumption, or resale within any place under the jurisdiction of the United States;

(2) That nothing contained in this paragraph shall prevent differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such commodities are to such purchasers sold or delivered;

NOTE: This proviso shall not be construed as permitting an industry member to allow a price differential to a customer, whether in the form of a quantity price discount, rebate, or other form, through billing as a single order an aggregate of the amount of two or more orders of such customer on which the industry member makes separate deliveries, when the price differential allowed is not based on a net savings in cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery of the products to said customer resulting from the different method and quantity in which the products are sold and delivered to said customer, or is more than due allowance for such net savings; nor is this proviso to be construed as permitting an industry member to allow a price differential to a customer, whether in the form of a quantity price discount, rebate, or other form, when, pursuant to agreement or understanding by the industry member and the customer, delivery of the products purchased is to be delayed or made in installments so as to involve storage cost to the industry member, and when as a result of such cost or otherwise, the price differential allowed is not based on a net savings in cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery of the products to said customer resulting from the different method and quantity in which the products are sold and delivered to said customer, or is more than due allowance for such net savings.

[1] As used in this section, the word "commerce" means "trade or commerce among the several States and with foreign nations, or between the District of Columbia or any Territory of the United States and any State, Territory, or foreign nation, or between any insular possessions or other places under the jurisdiction of the United States, or between any such possession or place and any State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia or any foreign nation, or within the District of Columbia or any Territory or any insular possession or other place under the jurisdiction of the United States."

(3) That nothing contained in this section shall prevent persons engaged in selling goods, wares, or merchandise in commerce from selecting their own customers in bona fide transactions and not in restraint of trade;

(4) That nothing contained in this paragraph shall prevent price changes from time to time where made in response to changing conditions affecting the market for or the marketability of the goods concerned, such as but not limited to obsolescence of seasonal goods, distress sales under court process, or sales in good faith in discontinuance of business in the goods concerned.

(b) Prohibited brokerage and commissions. It is an unfair trade practice for any industry member engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, to pay or grant, or to receive or accept, anything of value as a commission, brokerage, or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof, except for services rendered in connection with the sale or purchase of goods, wares, or merchandise, either to the other party to such transaction or to an agent, representative, or other intermediary therein where such intermediary is acting in fact for or in behalf, or is subject to the direct or indirect control, of any party to such transaction other than the person by whom such compensation is so granted or paid.

(c) Prohibited advertising or promotional allowances, etc. It is an unfair trade practice for any industry member engaged in commerce to pay or contract for the payment of advertising or promotional allowances or any other thing of value to or for the benefit of a customer of such member in the course of such commerce as compensation or in consideration for any services or facilities furnished by or through such customer in connection with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of any products or commodities manufactured, sold, or offered for sale by such member, unless such payment or consideration is available on proportionally equal terms to all other customers competing in the distribution of such products or commodities.

(d) Prohibited discriminatory services or facilities. It is an unfair trade practice for any industry member engaged in commerce to discriminate in favor of one purchaser against another purchaser or purchasers of a commodity bought for resale, with or without processing, by contracting to furnish or furnishing, or by contributing to the furnishing of, any services or facilities connected with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of such commodity so purchased upon terms not accorded to all competing purchasers on proportionally equal terms.

(e) Inducing or receiving an illegal discrimination in price. It is an unfair trade practice for any industry member engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, knowingly to induce or receive a discrimination in price which is prohibited by the foregoing provisions of this section.

(f) Exemptions. The inhibitions of this section shall not apply to purchases of their supplies for their own use by schools, colleges, universities, public libraries, churches, hospitals, and charitable institutions not operated for profit.

NOTE: In complaint proceedings charging discrimination in price or services or facilities furnished, and upon proof having been made of such discrimination, the burden of rebutting the prima facie case thus made by showing justification shall be upon the person charged; and unless justification shall be affirmatively shown, the Commission is authorized to issue an order terminating the discrimination: Provided, however, That nothing contained in this section shall prevent a seller rebutting the prima facie case thus made by showing that his lower price or the furnishing of services or facilities to any purchaser or purchasers was made in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor, or the services or facilities furnished by a competitor. See section 2-b, Clayton Act.

[Rule 3]

§ 26.4 Substitution of products. It is an unfair trade practice to make an unauthorized substitution of products, where such a substitution has the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public, by:

(a) Shipping, delivering, or installing industry products which do not conform to samples submitted, to specifications upon which the sale is consummated, or to representations made prior to securing the order, without advising the purchaser of the substitution and obtaining his consent thereto prior to making shipment or delivery; or

(b) Falsely representing the reason for making a substitution. [Rule 4]

§ 26.5 Misrepresenting products as conforming to standard. In connection with the sale or offering for sale of industry products, it is an unfair trade practice to represent, through advertising or otherwise, that such products conform to any standards recognized in or applicable to the industry when such is not the fact.

NOTE: Illustrative of the type of misrepresentation inhibited by this section is the practice of an industry member advertising or otherwise claiming that a product has been approved by a governmental authority or private agency, or meets certain specifications or standards, when in fact the product has not been so approved or does not meet the certain specifications or standards.

[Rule 5]

§ 26.6 Deceptive prices. (a) The publishing or circulating of false or misleading price quotations, price lists, or terms or conditions of sale, with the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers, is an unfair trade practice.

(b) It is also an unfair trade practice to make or publish, directly or indirectly, any false, misleading, or deceptive statements or representations, through advertising or otherwise, concerning installment sales contracts used or their terms and conditions, including down payments, interest, carrying charges, etc., or respecting any other matters relative to such contracts or their terms and conditions. [Rule 6]

§ 26.7 Misrepresentation as to character of business. It is an unfair trade practice for any industry member, in the course of or in connection with the sale and installation of industry products, to represent, directly or indirectly, that he is an air-conditioning or refrigeration contractor when such is not the fact; or in any other manner to misrepresent the character, extent, or type of his business. [Rule 7]

§ 26.8 Inducing breach of contract. (a) Knowingly inducing or attempting to induce the breach of existing lawful contracts between competitors and their customers or their suppliers, or interfering with or obstructing the performance of any such contractual duties or services, under any circumstance having the capacity and tendency or effect of substantially injuring or lessening present or potential competition, is an unfair trade practice.

(b) Nothing in this section is intended to imply that it is improper to solicit the business of a customer of a competing industry member; nor is the section to be construed as in anywise authorizing any agreement, understanding, or planned common course of action by two or more industry members not to solicit business from the customers of either of them, or from customers of any other industry member. [Rule 8]

§ 26.9 Prohibited sales below cost. (a) The practice of selling products of the industry at a price less than the cost thereof to the seller, with the purpose or intent, and where the effect is, or where there is a reasonable probability that the effect will be, to substantially injure, suppress, or stifle competition or tend to create a monopoly, is an unfair trade practice.

(b) This section is not to be construed as prohibiting all sales below cost, but only such selling below the seller's cost as is resorted to and pursued with the wrongful intent or purpose referred to and where the effect is, or where there is reasonable probability that the effect will be, to substantially injure, suppress, or stifle competition or to create a monopoly. Among the situations in which the requisite purpose or intent would ordinarily be lacking are cases in which such sales were: (1) Of seasonal goods near the conclusion of the season; (2) of perishable goods in respect to which deterioration is imminent; (3) of obsolescent goods; (4) made under judicial process; or (5) made in bona fide discontinuance of business in the goods concerned.

(c) As used in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the term "cost" means the respective seller's cost and not an average cost in the industry whether such average cost be determined by an industry cost survey or some other method. It consists of the total outlay or expenditure by the seller in the acquisition, production, and distribution of the products involved, and comprises all elements of cost such as labor, material, depreciation, taxes (except taxes on net income and such other taxes as are not properly applicable to cost), and general overhead expenses, incurred by the seller in the acquisition, manufacture, processing, preparation for marketing, sale, delivery, and installation of the products. Not to be included are dividends or interest on borrowed or invested capital, or nonoperating losses, such as fire losses and losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets. Operating cost should not be reduced by items of nonoperating income, such as income from investments, and gain on the sale of capital assets.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed as relieving an industry member from compliance with any of the requirements of the Robinson-Patman Act. [Rule 9]

§ 26.10 Commercial bribery. It is an unfair trade practice for a member of the industry, directly or indirectly, to give, or offer to give, or permit or cause to be given, money or anything of value to agents, employees, or representatives of customers or prospective customers, or to agents, employees, or representatives of competitors' customers or prospective customers, without the knowledge of their employers or principals, as an inducement to influence their employers or principals to purchase or contract to purchase products sold and installed by such industry member or the maker of such gift or offer, or to influence such employers or principals to refrain from dealing in the products of competitors or from dealing or contracting to deal with competitors. [Rule 10]

§ 26.11 Enticing away employees of competitors. It is an unfair trade practice wilfully to entice away employees or sales representatives of competitors with the intent and effect of thereby unduly hampering or injuring competitors in their business and destroying or substantially lessening competition: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting employees from seeking more favorable employment, or as prohibiting employers from hiring or offering employment to employees of competitors in good faith and not for the purpose of injuring, destroying, or preventing competition. [Rule 11]

§ 26.12 Deception as to used or rebuilt products. (a) It is an unfair trade practice to represent, directly or indirectly, that any industry product or part thereof is new, unused, or rebuilt, when such is not the fact.

(b) In the marketing of industry products which are second-hand or rebuilt, or which contain second-hand or rebuilt parts, it is an unfair trade practice to fail to make full and nondeceptive disclosure, by a conspicuous tag or label firmly attached to the products, and in all advertising and promotional literature relating thereto, of the fact:

(1) That such products are second-hand, rebuilt, or contain second-hand or rebuilt parts, as the case may be, when such products have the appearance of being new; or

(2) That the rebuilding of rebuilt products was done by other than the original manufacturer, when such is the case. [Rule 12]

§ 26.13 Defamation of competitors or false disparagement of their products. The defamation of competitors by falsely imputing to them dishonorable conduct, inability to perform contracts, questionable credit standing, or by other false representations, or the false disparagement of competitors' products in any respect, or of their business methods, selling prices, values, credit terms, policies, or services, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 13]

§ 26.14 Exclusive deals. It is an unfair trade practice to contract to sell or sell any industry product, or fix a price charged therefor, or discount from, or rebate upon, such price, on the condition, agreement, or understanding that the purchaser thereof shall not use or deal in the products of a competitor or competitors of such industry member, where the effect of such sale or contract for sale, or of such condition, agreement, or understanding, may be to substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce. [Rule 14]

§ 26.15 Prohibited forms of trade restraints (unlawful price fixing, etc.).[1] It is an unfair trade practice, either directly or indirectly, to engage in any planned common course of action, or to enter into or take part in any understanding, agreement, combination, or conspiracy, with one or more industry members, or with any other person or persons, to fix or maintain the price of any goods or otherwise unlawfully to restrain trade; or to use any form of threat, intimidation, or coercion to induce any member of the industry or other person or persons to engage in any such planned common course of action, or to become a party to any such understanding, agreement, combination, or conspiracy. [Rule 15]

Issued: May 3, 1956.

Promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission May 8, 1956.

[SEAL] ROBERT M. PARRISH, Secretary.

[F. R. Doc. 56-3608; Filed, May 7, 1956; 8:45 a. m.]

[1] The inhibitions of this section are subject to Public Law 542, approved July 14, 1952, 66 Stat. 632 (the McGuire Act) which provides that with respect to a commodity which bears, or the label or container of which bears, the trade-mark, brand, or name of the producer or distributor of such commodity and which is in free and open competition with commodities of the same general class produced or distributed by others, a seller of such a commodity may enter into a contract or agreement with a petition with each other.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

[Amdt. 193]

PART 609—STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

PROCEDURE ALTERATIONS

The standard instrument approach procedure alterations appearing hereinafter are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 609 is amended as follows:

NOTE: Where the general classification (LFR, VAR, ADF, ILS, GCA, or VOR), location, and procedure number (if any) of any procedure in the amendments which follow, are identical with an existing procedure, that procedure is to be substituted for the existing procedure; where a procedure is cancelled, the existing procedure is revoked; new procedures are to be placed in appropriate alphabetical sequence within the section amended.

1. The low frequency range procedures prescribed in § 609.6 are amended to read in part:

LFR STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURE

Bearings, headings, and courses are magnetic. Distances are in statute miles unless otherwise indicated. Elevations and altitudes are in feet, MSL. Ceilings are in feet above airport elevation. If an LFR instrument approach is conducted at the below named airport, it shall be in accordance with the following instrument approach procedure, unless an approach is conducted in accordance with a different procedure for such airport authorized by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. Initial approaches shall be made over specified routes. Minimum altitude(s) shall correspond with those established for en route operation in the particular area or as set forth below.

| City and State; airport name, elevation; facility; class and identification; procedure No.; effective date | Initial approach to facility from— | Course and distance | Minimum altitude (ft.) | Procedure turn (—) side of final approach course (outbound and inbound); minimum altitudes; limiting distances | Ceiling and visibility minimums | | |

VOR/DME STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURE

Bearings, headings, courses, and radials are magnetic. Elevations and altitude are in feet MSL.

If a VOR/DME instrument approach is conducted at the below named airport, it shall be in accordance with the following instrument approach procedure, unless an approach is conducted in accordance with a different procedure for such airport authorized by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. Initial approaches shall be made over specific routes. Minimum altitude(s) shall correspond with those established for en route operation in the particular area or as set forth below.

NOTE: Distances are in nautical miles unless otherwise indicated except visibilities, which are in statute miles.

6. The instrument landing system procedures prescribed in § 609.11 are amended to read in part:

ILS STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURE

Bearings, headings, and courses are magnetic. Distances are in statute miles unless otherwise indicated. Elevations and altitudes are in feet, MSL. Ceilings are in feet above airport elevation.
If an ILS instrument approach is conducted at the below named airport, it shall be in accordance with the following instrument approach procedure, unless an approach is conducted in accordance with a different procedure for such airport authorized by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. Initial approaches shall be made over specified routes. Minimum altitude(s) shall correspond with those established for en route operation in the particular area or as set forth below.

GCA STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURE

Bearings, headings, and courses are magnetic. NOTE: Distances are in nautical miles unless otherwise indicated, except visibilities which are in statute miles. Elevations and altitudes are in feet, MSL. Ceilings are in feet above airport elevation.

If a GCA instrument approach is conducted at the below named airport, it shall be in accordance with the following instrument procedure, unless an approach is conducted in accordance with a different procedure for such airport authorized by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. Initial approaches shall be made over specified routes. Minimum altitude(s) shall correspond with those established for en route operation in the particular area or as set forth below. Positive identification must be established with the radar controller. From initial contact with GCA to final authorized landing minimums, the instructions of the radar controller are mandatory except when (A) visual contact is established on final approach at or before descent to the authorized landing minimums, or (B) at pilot's discretion if it appears desirable to discontinue the approach, except when the radar controller may direct otherwise prior to final approach, a missed approach shall be executed as provided below when (A) communication on final approach is lost for more than 5 seconds during a PAR approach, or for more than 30 seconds during an ASR approach; (B) directed by radar controller; (C) visual contact is not established upon descent to authorized landing minimums; or (D) if landing is not accomplished.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[FCC 56-392; Rules Amdt. 4-3]

PART 4—EXPERIMENTAL AND AUXILIARY BROADCAST SERVICES

FREQUENCY ASSIGNMENT

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 2d day of May 1956;

The Commission has under consideration amendment of §§ 4.103, 4.202, and 4.302 of its rules and regulations, which relate to the frequencies available for assignment to experimental television, experimental facsimile and developmental broadcast stations.

Since many of the frequencies listed in the above sections are not consistent with § 2.104 Frequency allocations, the Commission is amending Part 4 of its rules and regulations to conform this part with Part 2 and the Commission's current policy of assigning frequencies in the experimental and developmental broadcast services.

The amendments set forth below merely implement § 2.104 (a) of the rules and do not affect the operation of any licensee in these services. Notice of proposed rule making in accordance with section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary.

Public interest, convenience and necessity will be served by the amendments herein ordered, the authority for which is contained in sections 4 (i) and 303 (c), (f) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended:

It is ordered, That effective June 4, 1956, Part 4 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 1954. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Released: May 3, 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] WM. P. MASSING,
Acting Secretary.

1. Sections 4.103, 4.202, and 4.302 are amended to read as follows:

§ 4.103 Frequency assignment. (a) Frequencies allocated to television broadcasting and the various categories of television auxiliary stations, in the Commission's Table of Frequency Allocations (Part 2 of this chapter), may be assigned respectively to experimental television broadcast and experimental television auxiliary stations.

(b) More than one frequency may be assigned upon a satisfactory showing of the need therefor.

(c) Frequencies best suited to the purpose of the experimentation and on which there appears to be the least likelihood of interference to established stations, shall be selected.

(d) In a case of important experimentation which canot be feasibly conducted on frequencies allocated to television broadcasting or the various categories of television auxiliary stations, the Commission may authorize an experimental television station of any class to operate on other frequencies upon a satisfactory showing of the need therefor and a showing that the proposed operation can be conducted without causing harmful interference to established services: Provided, however, That experimental operation which looks toward the development of radio transmitting apparatus or the rendition of any type of regular service using such frequencies, will not be authorized prior to a determination by the Commission that the development of such apparatus or the rendition of such service would serve the public interest.

§ 4.202 Frequency assignment. (a) Frequencies allocated to broadcasting and the various categories of broadcast auxiliary stations, in the Commission's Table of Frequency Allocations (Part 2 of this chapter), may be assigned respectively to experimental facsimile broadcast or experimental facsimile broadcast auxiliary stations.

(b) More than one frequency may be assigned upon a satisfactory showing of the need therefor.

(c) Frequencies best suited to the purpose of the experimentation and on which there appears to be the least likelihood of interference to established stations, shall be selected.

(d) In a case of important experimentation which cannot be feasibly conducted on frequencies allocated to broadcasting or the various categories of broadcast auxiliary stations, the Commission may authorize an experimental facsimile broadcast station of any class to operate on other frequencies upon a satisfactory showing of the need therefor and a showing that the proposed operation can be conducted without causing harmful interference to established services: Provided, however, That experimental operation which looks toward the development of radio transmitting apparatus or the rendition of any type of regular service using such frequencies, will not be authorized prior to a determination by the Commission that the development of such apparatus or the rendition of such service would serve the public interest.

§ 4.302 Frequency assignment. (a) Frequencies allocated to the various classes of aural broadcasting stations and broadcast auxiliary stations, in the Commission's Table of Frequency Allocations (Part 2 of this chapter), may be assigned to developmental broadcast stations.

(b) More than one frequency may be assigned upon a satisfactory showing of the need therefor.

(c) Frequencies best suited to the purpose of the experimentation and on which there appears to be the least likelihood of interference to established stations, shall be selected.

(d) In a case of important experimentation which cannot be feasibly conducted on frequencies allocated to the various classes of aural broadcasting stations and broadcast auxiliary stations, the Commission may authorize a developmental broadcast station to operate on other frequencies upon a satisfactory showing of the need therefor and a showing that the proposed operation can be conducted without causing harmful interference to established services: Provided, however, That experimental operation which looks toward the development of radio transmitting apparatus or the rendition of any type of regular service using such frequencies, will not be authorized prior to a determination by the Commission that the development of such apparatus or the rendition of such service would serve the public interest.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[ 7 CFR Part 916 ]

[Docket No. AO-247-A3]

HANDLING OF MILK IN UPSTATE MICHIGAN MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT, AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C., 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held at the Park Place Hotel, Traverse City, Michigan, beginning at 10:00 a. m. local time, May 24, 1956. The public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to emergency and other economic conditions which relate to the proposed amendments hereinafter set forth, or appropriate modification thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement as heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Upstate Michigan marketing area (7 CFR 916.0 et seq.). The amendments proposed have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The proposals relating to the enlargement of the Upstate Michigan marketing area raise the issue as to whether the provisions of the present order would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act if applied to the marketing area as proposed to be extended and, if not, what modifications of the provisions of the order, as amended, should be made to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Proposed by Michigan Milk Producers' Association:

1. In § 916.51 delete $1.15 and substitute therein $1.30.

2. Delete § 916.54 in its entirety and substitute the following:

§ 916.54 Handler location adjustments. For milk which is received from producers at a fluid milk plant located more than 90 miles, but not more than 100 miles, by shortest highway distance, as determined by the market administrator, from the court house at either Grayling or Manistee, whichever is closer, and utilized in Class I, (prorating of such milk the utilization of all producer milk received at the plant). The price shall be the price effective pursuant to § 916.51 less 8 cents, and less 1 cent additional for each 20 miles or fraction thereof over 100 miles.

By Gabier Dairy, Nelson's Cloverdale Dairy, Lakeside Dairy, and Ideal Dairy (of Traverse City):

3. Extend marketing area for inclusion of all townships in Wexford County not stated in § 916.5 as defined and all of Missaukee and all of Roscommon Counties.

By Inverness Dairy, Gabier Dairy, Nelson's Cloverdale Dairy, and Ideal Dairy (of Traverse City):

4. Consider changes in Class II prices.

By the Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service:

5. Make such changes as may be required to make the entire order conform with any amendments thereto which may result from this hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing, and the order now in effect, may be procured from the Market Administrator, 916 East Front Street, Traverse City, Michigan, or the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Administration Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Filed at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of May 1956.

NOTICE OF EXTENSION OF TIME TO SUBMIT EXCEPTIONS

On April 6, 1956 notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (21 F. R. 2249) of the proposed determination of prevailing minimum wages in the electric lamp industry. The notice provided that within thirty days from the date of its publication interested persons could submit to the Secretary of Labor, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C., their written exceptions to the actions therein described.

Notice is hereby given, upon good cause shown, that the time for filing such written exceptions with the Secretary of Labor is extended to May 14, 1956.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of May 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[ 47 CFR Part 4 ]

[Docket No. 11696; FCC 56-391]

EXPERIMENTAL AND AUXILIARY BROADCAST SERVICES; REMOTE PICKUP BROADCAST STATIONS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. The preparation and production of broadcast programs frequently requires the transmission of cues and instructions to performers and production personnel. The conventional way of doing this is through the use of telephonic apparatus and cumbersome extension cords, carried or worn by such personnel. The broadcasting industry has developed a low-powered radio transmitter which may be installed in a studio or on a set and used to cue, prompt, and direct participants who wear compact, battery powered receivers and inconspicuous hearing-aid ear pieces, thus providing greater freedom of movement.

3. The Commission's rules and regulations at present do not provide for the licensing of such cueing transmitters. To be effective these transmitters must operate at a power in excess of that which would qualify them as low power radio frequency electrical devices exempt under Part 15 of the Commission's rules and regulations from licensing requirements. Because of industry interest, special temporary authorizations have been issued for use of cueing transmitters in several instances. The Commission believes it would serve the public interest if its rules were amended to provide for licensing of these transmitters on a regular basis.

4. Since cueing transmitters serve a comparable function, it is proposed to license them under the provisions for remote pickup broadcast base stations.

5. In view of the foregoing, the Commission proposes to amend its rules as follows:

Add a paragraph (f) to § 4.432 of the rules to read as follows:

(f) Remote pickup broadcast stations will be licensed for the purpose of providing one-way communication within studios of broadcast stations for cueing production personnel and participants in broadcast programs, and preparation therefor, provided that transmitters employed for this purpose will not be authorized to operate at a power output in excess of 1 watt. Such cueing transmitters shall comply in all respects with the rules governing remote pickup base stations.

6. Authority for the issuance of the proposed amendment is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (a), (b), (c), (e), (g), (h) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

7. Any interested party who is of the opinion that the proposed amendment should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein, may file with the Commission on or before June 4, 1956, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. Comments in support of the proposed amendment may also be filed on or before the same date. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments may be filed within 10 days from the last date for filing said original comments or briefs. No additional comments may be filed unless (1) specifically requested by the Commission or (2) good cause for the filing of such additional comments is established. The Commission will consider such comments before taking final action in this matter, and if any comments appear to warrant the holding of a hearing or oral argument, notice of the time and place of such hearing or oral argument will be given.

8. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: May 2, 1956.

Released: May 3, 1956.

MEMBER LINES OF WEST COAST OF ITALY, SICILIAN AND ADRIATIC PORTS/NORTH ATLANTIC RANGE CONFERENCE

NOTICE OF AGREEMENT FILED WITH BOARD FOR APPROVAL

Notice is hereby given that the following described agreement has been filed with the Board for approval pursuant to Section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended; 39 Stat. 733, 46 U. S. C. 814.

Agreement No. 2846-9, between the member lines of the West Coast of Italy, Sicilian and Adriatic Ports/North Atlantic Range Conference (W. I. N. A. C.), modifies the basic agreement of that conference (No. 2846), to provide for the extension of the agreement to include within its scope Sardinian Island Ports. Agreement 2846 presently covers the trade from West Coast of Italy ports (between Ventimiglia and Reggio Calabria, inclusive, on the mainland and Sicilian ports) and ports on the Adriatic Sea to North Atlantic ports of the United States (Hampton Roads/Portland range).

Interested parties may inspect this agreement and obtain copies thereof at the Regulation Office, Federal Maritime Board, Washington, D. C., and may submit, within 20 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, written statements with reference to the agreement and their position as to approval, disapproval, or modification, together with request for hearing should such hearing be desired.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

Dated: May 2, 1956.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. 6584, 6585; FCC 56M-410]

ALBUQUERQUE BROADCASTING CO. (KOB)

ORDER SCHEDULING PREHEARING CONFERENCE

In re applications of Albuquerque Broadcasting Company (KOB), Albuquerque, New Mexico, Docket No. 6584, File No. BMP-1738; for modification of construction permit; Albuquerque Broadcasting Company (KOB), Albuquerque, New Mexico, Docket No. 6585, File No. BL-1799, BZ-1583; for license to cover construction permit as modified and authority to determine operating power by direct measurment.

The Hearing Examiner having under consideration the record of the hearing conference in the above-entitled proceeding, which was held in the offices of this Commission, Washington, D. C., on April 10, 1956, and attended by counsel for all of the parties thereto; and

It appearing that a report was given at this conference by an engineering expert, concerning the results of his investigation of the availability of sites which would be feasible for the possible directional operation of Station WBZ, Boston, Massachusetts, on the frequency 1030 kc, as specified by the Commission in Issues Nos. 11 and 12, in its Memorandum Opinion and Order adopted May 26, 1955; and

It further appearing from this report that a site for this purpose has been found by the said expert in the Boston area which would be available for the possible directional operation of Station WBZ as set forth in Issues Nos. 11 and 12, supra; which would be in substantial compliance with the Commission's Rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice for such possible operation; and which would afford adequate protection to the service of Station KOB operating simultaneously on the same frequency; and would permit WBZ to provide optimum service from its directional operation on this frequency; and

It further appearing that the study and report made by the said engineering expert constitutes substantial compliance with the requirements of the Hearing Examiner's Order and Ruling of January 3, 1956, in this matter, as modified on January 9, 1956, and affirmed on January 13, 1956, and that all of the parties to the proceeding have agreed to attempt to effectuate stipulations of evidence to be adduced under Issues Nos. 11 and 12, supra, based upon the assumed operation of Station WBZ from this prospective site (except that Westinghouse Broadcasting Company, Inc., does not concede the relevance of such evidence and preserves its legal position in this matter as set forth in its Petition for Review of the above ruling of the Hearing Examiner, which is still pending before the Commission); and

It further appearing that all of the parties to the proceeding have agreed to attempt, through mutual effort, to effectuate stipulations (in addition to those already entered into) of the evidence to be adduced under all of the issues in this proceeding, including programming, as enlarged, modified and defined by the Commission in its Memorandum Opinion and Order adopted March 21, 1956, and released March 23, 1956; and

It further appearing that additional time will be needed by the parties within which to prepare the evidence to be presented under the said issues in this proceeding and to attempt to effectuate stipulations thereon, that it was estimated that approximately three months would be required for this purpose and, in view thereof, it was agreed by all of the parties, with the exception of counsel for the Baptist General Convention of Texas (KWBU), that the date of July 16, 1956, should be scheduled for the commencement of the hearing in the said proceeding; [1] and

It further appearing that it was agreed that another hearing conference should be held prior to the hearing in order that the Hearing Examiner may obtain from the parties a report concerning their progress in the effectuation of stipulations and to afford the said parties and opportunity to present to the Hearing Examiner any problems which may arise in connection therewith, and that the date of May 14, 1956, was scheduled with the consent of the parties for the said conference; and

It further appearing that subsequent to the hearing conference of April 10, 1956, the Hearing Examiner in the instant proceeding has been assigned to preside in other hearings which will require his absence from the city of Washington, D. C., on May 14, 1956, and which therefore necessitates the postponement of the next hearing conference until a later date; and

It further appearing that all of the parties to the proceeding have consented to the postponement of the said hearing conference until May 24, 1956;

It is ordered, This 30th day of April 1956, that the next hearing conference in the above-entitled proceeding be, and it is hereby, postponed until 2:00 o'clock p. m., on Thursday, May 24, 1956, in the offices of this Commission, Washington, D. C.

It is further ordered, That the date now scheduled for the hearing in the said proceeding, namely, on Monday, July 16, 1956, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., in the offices of this Commission, Washington, D. C., is hereby retained.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,

[Docket Nos. 11004, 11691; FCC 56-363]

OHIO VALLEY BROADCASTING CORP. ET AL.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation, Clarksburg, West Virginia, Docket No. 11004, File No. BFCT-849; for television construction permit; News Publishing Company, Wheeling, West Virginia (Transferor) and WSTV, Inc., Steubenville, Ohio, (Transferee), Docket No. 11691, File No. BTC-2048; for commission consent to transfer of control of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration (a) the above-entitled application for transfer of control (BTC-2048); (b) letters and pleadings relating to said application filed by Clarksburg Publishing Company; (c) letters relating to said application filed with the Commission on behalf of the parties thereto; and (d) the Commission's letters of November 9, 1955 and February 16, 1956 raising questions concerning said application.

2. The above-entitled application for transfer of control requests Commission approval of a transaction whereby News Publishing Company, owner of 100 percent of the stock of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation, would sell its entire 100 percent stock interest to WSTV, Inc., the licensee of Station WSTV-TV, Steubenville, Ohio. The application is opposed by Clarksburg Publishing Company, publisher of the Clarksburg Exponent, the Clarksburg Telegram and the Sunday Exponent-Telegram, all of which are newspapers published in Clarksburg, West Virginia. Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation is the licensee of Radio Stations WPAR and WPAR-FM, Parkersburg, West Virginia, the licensee of Radio Station WBLK, Clarksburg, West Virginia, and permittee of Station WBLK-TV, Clarksburg, West Virginia (subject to a pending protest more fully described below).

3. On February 17, 1954 the Commission granted the application of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation for a construction permit for a new television station in Clarksburg, West Virginia. The call letters WBLK-TV were assigned to the new station. Subsequently, a protest was filed against said grant by Clarksburg Publishing Company pursuant to Section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended. In said protest, Clarksburg Publishing Company asserted that the Commission's action granting the application was contrary to the public interest because the grant was made within one day after the mutually exclusive application of the Clarksburg Broadcasting Corporation was withdrawn; and that the grant was inconsistent with (a) § 3.636 of the Commission's rules and regulations prohibiting common ownership of more than one television station serving the same area and prohibiting undue concentration of control of television broadcasting, and (b) the Commission's policy with respect to diversification of the ownership of the media of mass communication. The protest also questioned the propriety of a payment of $14,390 by Ohio Valley to Clarksburg Broadcasting Corporation at the time it withdrew. The protestant requested that the application be designated for hearing on five issues relating to the foregoing matters. The Commission found the protestant to be a party in interest entitled to file a protest under the statute and designated the application for an oral hearing on four of the identical issues specified by the protestant. With respect to the protestant's issue number 3, which related to the "negotiations, understandings, and agreements" pursuant to which the application of Clarksburg Broadcasting Corporation was withdrawn, the Commission specified the issue for hearing in a modified form. After the oral hearing the Commission denied the protest and the protestant appealed.

4. On June 9, 1955, the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit reversed the Commission's decision and remanded the case for proceedings in conformity with the Court's opinion.[1] In its opinion, the Court stated, inter alia, that the Commission erred in not affording the protestant an evidentiary hearing; that the Commission, in applying its duopoly rule,[2] erred in refusing to consider the effect of overlap of the Grade B contours of Station WBLK-TV with the Grade B contours of Station WTRF-TV, Wheeling, West Virginia (News Publishing Company owns a 34 percent interest in Station WTRF-TV); that the Commission erred in refusing to consider the effect on the overlap problem of service from WTRF-TV provided to Clarksburg by privately owned community antenna systems; and that the Commission gave inadequate consideration to the question of whether a grant of the application would lead to undue concentration of control of television broadcasting and the media of mass communication and to the payment made by Ohio Valley to Clarksburg Broadcasting Corporation at the time of the withdrawal of Clarksburg Broadcasting's competing application. In addition, the Court raised questions concerning the procedure followed by the Commission in granting the application after the withdrawal of Clarksburg Broadcasting. On July 6, 1955, the Commission reopened the record and designated the application for an evidentiary hearing on the issues originally requested by the protestant.

5. In its pleadings and correspondence relating to the instant application for transfer of control, Clarksburg Publishing Company asserts that it is a party in interest under section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended; that a problem exists as to whether "transfer of a television permit to new parties may be authorized in view of the serious questions concerning the validity of the original grant, upon which the Court of Appeals has ordered an evidentiary hearing"; that WSTV, Inc., the transferee, operates Station WSTV-TV at Steubenville, Ohio; that there is a 1,006 square mile area of overlap of the Grade B contours of Station WSTV-TV with the proposed Grade B contour of Station WBLK-TV; that the area of overlap would be increased and would involve Grade A overlap if WBLK-TV were to operate at maximum power; that if the coverage of the WBLK-TV signal is to be limited to avoid such overlap, ownership of WBLK-TV by WSTV, Inc., would preclude the more efficient utilization of the channel which would be possible if the channel were licensed to other parties; and that Station WSTV-TV already serves Clarksburg through the medium of a community antenna system. In view of these facts, the Publishing Company charges that a grant of the application would violate the Commission's Rule against duopoly (§ 3.636 (a) (1) of the Commission's rules).[1] Further, the complainant argues that the transfer application does not purport to indicate the portion of the purchase price which will be paid for rights to the Clarksburg television permit; that the price exceeds the value of the tangible assets of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation by $160,000; and that the applicants may be proposing a sale of rights to the permit for an excessive amount, in violation of the Commission's policy against trafficking in licenses and construction permits.

6. In their correspondence and in amendments to the application, the applicants state that the area of Grade B overlap between WSTV-TV and WBLK-TV would comprise 1,006 square miles, which constitutes 8.58 percent and 24.25 percent of the total areas within the Grade B contours of Stations WSTV-TV and WBLK-TV, respectively; that the Commission has made grants in other instances where the degree of overlap involved was equal to or more serious than the overlap involved here; that in determining the price to be paid to the transferor the transferee relied upon a balance sheet of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation as of June 30, 1955, and on its own appraisal of the value of the stations acquired; and that no specific value was placed on the rights to the television permit, except as shown on the balance sheet, which shows an item of $14,567.28 for construction in progress (TV), and $10,000 for the real estate to be used for the television site. In response to an inquiry from the Commission, the applicants state that they have no agreements or contracts with any operators of community antenna systems; that there is some legal authority for the proposition that a television station may compel a community antenna system to discontinue retransmission of the station's signal; and that the applicants have knowledge of 16 community antenna systems, located in various places, which are retransmitting the signal of Station WSTV-TV. At the request of the Commission, the applicants have furnished detailed information concerning these 16 systems. In addition, the applicants state that in the event of a Commission ruling that transmissions of the WSTV-TV signal by community antenna systems contravene Commission rule or policy, WSTV, Inc., will seek the authority of the courts to prevent further retransmission of its signal. In the absence of any Commission ruling on this subject, WSTV, Inc., promises to notify the community antenna systems that they may not continue retransmission of the WSTV-TV signal in the Clarksburg area when service is available from WBLK-TV. Moreover, applicants have submitted a statement from Clarksburg Television Cable Corporation, which operates the community antenna system serving Clarksburg, indicating that when WBLK-TV commences operation, the system will discontinue retransmission of the WSTV-TV signal upon request from WSTV, Inc.

7. As indicated above, Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation holds licenses for Stations WPAR and WPAR-FM, Parkersburg, West Virginia, and WBLK, Clarksburg, West Virginia, in addition to the television authorization now the subject of hearing. No objecton appears to have been raised to the acquisition of control over the AM and FM stations by WSTV, Inc., and the Commission would have no objection to granting consent to the proposed transfer of control if these were the only stations involved. However, since a transfer of control of Ohio Valley would also affect the control of the television authorization, and since serious questions concerning the television authorization are now in issue in the protest hearing referred to above, the Commission is of the opinion that consent must be withheld until the issues in the protest hearing are resolved.

8. In light of all of the foregoing, the opinion of the Court of Appeals, and the questions which have been raised as to whether a grant of the application would be consistent with § 3.636 of the Commission's rules and the Commission's policy against trafficking in licenses, the Commission is unable at this time to determine that a grant of the above-entitled transfer application would serve the public interest. Accordingly, a hearing is necessary, and the Commission is of the view that such hearing can be expedited by consolidating it with the hearing on the protest in Docket No. 11004.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled application of News Publishing Company and WSTV, Inc., for the consent of the Commission to transfer control of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation (BTC-2048) is designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding with the application of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation (BPCT-849, Docket No. 11004), at a time and place to be specified by the Examiner in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

(1) To determine whether a grant of the above-entitled transfer application (BTC-2048) would be consistent with the provisions of § 3.636 of the Commission's rules and regulations and the Commission's policies promulgated thereunder;

(2) To determine whether, in light of the consideration to be received by News Publishing Company for its stock in Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation, the above-entitled application involves trafficking in construction permits, contrary to Commission policies and the public interest;

(3) To determine, in light of the evidence adduced on the above issues and the issues specified in the Commission's Order of July 6, 1955, whether a grant of the application (BTC-2048) for Commission consent to the transfer of control of Ohio Valley Broadcasting Corporation would be in the public interest.

It is further ordered, That Clarksburg Publishing Company is made a party to the proceedings ordered herein.

Adopted: April 25, 1956.

Released: May 1, 1956.

site from a location 0.4 mile from Charleston to a location 11 miles from Charleston, to increase the height above average terrain from 670 feet to 1,236 feet, to decrease visual effective radiated power from 316 kw to 158 kw, and to change transmitter and antenna; (2) oppositions to the above application filed by Greater Huntington Radio Corporation, permittee of Television Station WHTN–TV, Channel 13, Huntington, West Virginia, Zanesville Publishing Company, permittee of Television Station WTAP, Channel 15, Parkersburg, West Virginia, and Capital Television, Inc., 40 percent stockholder in the applicant corporation; and (3) the reply of the applicant to the above oppositions; and

It appearing that the Commission considered the application and the above-listed pleadings and was unable to determine that a grant of the application would be in the public interest; and that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, a letter, dated February 1, 1956, was sent to the applicant advising it of all objections to its application and affording the applicant an opportunity to reply; and

It further appearing that upon due consideration of the application, the above letter to the applicant, and the applicant's reply thereto of March 2, 1956, the Commission is unable to determine that a grant of the application would be in the public interest; that a hearing thereon is required; and that, except with respect to the matters raised in the issues set forth below, the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to construct and operate the station as proposed in its application; and

It further appearing that Greater Huntington Radio Corporation and Zanesville Publishing Company have made their interest in the above-captioned application known to the Commission; and that Capital Television, Inc. is a minority stockholder in the applicant and is, therefore, already a party to the proceeding;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-captioned application is designated for hearing at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order upon the following issues:

(1) To determine, in the light of the proposed move of transmitter site from a point 0.4 of a mile outside of Charleston to a location 11 miles from Charleston and the proposed decrease in visual effective radiated power, whether the proposed operation would serve the particular needs of Charleston, West Virginia and its surrounding area;

(2) To determine whether a grant of the application would be consistent with the provisions of § 3.685 (b) of the rules; and

(3) To determine whether, on the basis of the evidence adduced with respect to the foregoing issues, a grant of the above-captioned application would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

It is further ordered, That Greater Huntington Radio Corporation and Zanesville Publishing Company are made parties herein.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G–9807]

COLORADO-WYOMING GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

MAY 1, 1956.

Take notice that Colorado-Wyoming Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with principal place of business at 421 Continental Oil Building, Denver 2, Colorado, filed on December 22, 1955 an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Applicant to render service as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate, as integral parts of its existing natural gas system, certain natural gas facilities as hereinafter described which are necessary to the delivery and sale of natural gas in interstate commerce by Applicant, and to sell and deliver natural gas in interstate commerce on a firm basis (1) to Public Service Company of Colorado (Public Service) for resale by said Company to groups of farmers and a cement plant, and (2) to Greeley Gas Company (Greeley) for resale.

The facilities proposed to be constructed and operated by Applicant consist of:

(1) Five new farm taps to be located on Applicant's existing transmission lines near Loveland, Henderson, Boulder, Denver and Golden, Colorado, to supply Public Service.

(2) Two new farm taps to be located on Applicant's existing transmission lines near Lucerne and Greeley, Colorado, to supply Greeley.

The estimated cost of construction of the proposed facilities is $1,700, which will be financed from funds on hand.

The estimated firm gas requirements of the foregoing projects in Mcf at 14.73 p. s. i. a. are as follows:

| | Peak day | Annual |
|---|---|---|
| Public service | 28 | 2,765 |
| Greeley | 19 | 1,700 |
| Total | 47 | 4,465 |

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations, and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Tuesday, June 5, 1956 at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 16, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[P. P. C. 612, 2d Rev., Supp. 4]

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

SUBPART—KHAPRA BEETLE

ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS DESIGNATING PREMISES AS REGULATED AREAS

Pursuant to § 301.76-2 of the regulations supplemental to the Khapra Beetle Quarantine (7 CFR Supp. 301.76-2, 20 F. R. 1012) under sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161, 162), revised administrative instructions issued as 7 CFR Supp. 301.76-2a (20 F. R. 9899), effective December 23, 1955, as amended effective January 26, 1956, March 14, 1956, and April 17, 1956 (21 F. R. 573, 1575, 2463), are hereby amended in the following respects:

(a) The designation as regulated areas of the following premises, included in the list contained in such instructions, is hereby revoked, and the reference to such premises in the list is hereby deleted, it having been determined by the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch that adequate sanitation measures have been practiced for a sufficient length of time to eradicate the khapra beetle in and upon such premises:

ARIZONA

J. W. Roberts Ranch, located at Ash Canal, Gate 160, intersection of East J and Road 18, Route 2, Box 57, Holtville.

Harold B. Ross Ranch, Route 1, Box 78, Holtville.

Southwest Flaxseed Association property, East Q and one-quarter mile north of Road 22, Holtville. Mail address Imperial.

K. W. Taylor Feed Lot, located at intersection of West H and Road 9, Route 2, Box 45A, El Centro.

Twin Cities Seeds & Feed Store, 207 Imperial Avenue, Calexico.

(b) The following premises are added to the list, contained in such instructions, of warehouses, mills, and other premises in which infestations of the khapra beetle have been determined to exist. Such premises are thereby designated as regulated areas within the meaning of said quarantine and regulations;

ARIZONA

Allen Ranch, Route 5, Box 528, Tucson.

Tom Jones Farm, P. O. Box 531, Mesa.

Shamrock Hill Farm, P. O. Box 5524, Tucson.

under the khapra beetle quarantine and regulations.

This amendment in part imposes restrictions supplementing khapra beetle quarantine regulations already effective. It also relieves restrictions insofar as it revokes the designation of presently regulated areas. It must be made effective promptly in order to carry out the purposes of the regulations and to permit unrestricted movement of regulated products from the premises being removed from designation as regulated areas. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making the effective date thereof less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter A—Marketing Orders

[945.301 Amdt. 7]

PART 945—TOMATOES GROWN IN FLORIDA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. (a) Pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 125 and Order No. 45 (7 CFR Part 945; 20 F. R. 7357), regulating the handling of tomatoes grown in Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Florida Tomato Committee, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the amendment to the limitation of shipments, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(b) It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (i) the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, (ii) more orderly marketing in the public interest, than would otherwise prevail, will be promoted by regulating the shipment of tomatoes, in the manner set forth below, on and after the effective date of this amendment, (iii) compliance with the this amendment will not require any special preparation on the part of handlers which cannot be completed by the effective date, (iv) reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for such preparation, (v) information regarding the committee's recommendations has been made available to producers and handlers in the production area, and (vi) this amendment relieves restrictions on the handling of tomatoes grown in the production area.

Order, as amended. The provisions of § 945.301 (b) (1) and (2), as amended (21 F. R. 1981, 2408) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

(1) During the period from May 9, 1956, to May 31, 1956, both dates inclusive, no person shall handle tomatoes of any variety grown in the production area unless such tomatoes are of a size not smaller than 1⅞ inches minimum diameter and meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 or better grade except for growth cracks, catfaces, and scars. For purposes of these exceptions: (i) Growth cracks shall be well healed and no individual crack shall exceed 1 inch in length or ¼ inch in depth and the aggregate length of all cracks shall not exceed 2 inches; (ii) catfaces shall not have channels extending into the locules, and the aggregate area of fairly smooth catfaces shall not exceed that of a circle 1 inch in diameter on a tomato 2½ inches in diameter (smaller tomatoes shall have proportionately lesser areas and larger tomatoes may have proportionately greater areas); and (iii) scars (other than catfaces) shall not have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle 1 inch in diameter on a tomato 2½ inches in diameter (smaller tomatoes shall have proportionately lesser areas of scars and larger tomatoes may have proportionately greater areas of scars). Not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the tomatoes in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 grade as modified by the preceding sentence of this subparagraph. Not more than 5 percent, by count, of the tomatoes in any lot may be smaller than the specified minimum diameter.

(2) Any lot of tomatoes containing more than ten (10) percent of mature green tomatoes shall be classified as mature green tomatoes for purpose of limitation of shipments pursuant to this subparagraph. Subject to the requirements of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, no person shall handle for shipment outside the production area any such mature green tomatoes unless they are packed within one of the following ranges of diameters (expressed in terms of minimum and maximum):

| Size arrangements | Diameter (inches) |
|---|---|
| 7 x 8 | 1⅞ to 2⅛, inclusive. |
| 7 x 7 | Over 2⅛ to 2²⁹⁄₃₂, inclusive. |
| 6 x 7 | Over 2²⁹⁄₃₂ to 2¹⁵⁄₃₂, inclusive. |
| 6 x 6 and larger | Over 2¹⁵⁄₃₂. |

Such mature green tomatoes shall be packed separately for each size range. To allow for variations incident to proper sizing, not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the mature green tomatoes in any lot may be smaller than the specified minimum diameter, or larger than the specified maximum diameter, except that not more than 5 percent, by count, of such tomatoes may be smaller than 1⅞ inches in diameter. The requirements of this subparagraph shall be applicable only to mature green tomatoes: Deemed to be tomatoes generally showing a slight break in the ground color to a whitish green color over the shoulders; the contents of the seed cavities will be slightly moist and of a jelly or glue-like consistency; the seeds will be well developed, slightly hard, and in slicing the fruit with a sharp knife will usually be pushed aside rather than cut; and the contents of two or more locules must have a jelly-like consistency and well developed seeds. The requirements of this subparagraph shall not be applicable to "pink" tomatoes (deemed to be tomatoes usually hard or firm to feel; which are turning in color, with most of the surface of the fruit ranging from green to yellow, but showing some pink or yellow at the blossom end) and tomatoes having a greater degree of maturity.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 7th days of May 1956, to become effective May 9, 1956.

Subchapter B—Prohibition of Imported Commodities

[Tomato Reg., Amdt. 4]

PART 1065—TOMATOES

IMPORT RESTRICTIONS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me under section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), paragraph (b) of § 1065.1 Tomato Regulation No. 1, as amended (20 F. R. 9817, 21 F. R. 832, 987, 2509), is hereby further amended to read as follows:

(b) (1) During the period from April 30, 1956, to May 4, 1956, 3 p. m., e. d. t., and subject to the general regulations (Part 1060 of this chapter; 19 F. R. 7707, 8012) applicable to the importation of listed commodities and the requirements of this section, no person shall import any tomatoes of any variety unless such tomatoes are of a size not smaller than 2⅛ inches minimum diameter (size 7 x 7 and larger) and meet the requirements of 85 percent U. S. No. 1 or better grade, except that tomatoes which meet the minimum requirements of 2$^{9}/_{32}$ inches minimum diameter (size 6 x 7 and larger) may be imported if they meet the requirements of U. S. No. 2, or better grade, except for growth cracks, catfaces, and scars. For purposes of these exceptions: (i) Growth cracks shall be well healed and no individual crack shall exceed 1 inch in length or ¼ inch in depth and the aggregate length of all cracks shall not exceed 2 inches; (ii) catfaces shall not have channels extending into the locules, and the aggregate area of fairly smooth catfaces shall not exceed that of a circle 1 inch in diameter on a tomato 2½ inches in diameter (smaller tomatoes shall have proportionately lesser areas and larger tomatoes may have proportionately greater areas); and (iii) scars (other than catfaces) shall not have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle 1 inch in diameter on a tomato 2½ inches in diameter (smaller tomatoes shall have proportionately lesser areas of scars and larger tomatoes may have proportionately greater areas of scars). Not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the tomatoes in any lot may fail to meet the applicable grade requirements for the lot as modified by the preceding sentence of this subparagraph. Not more than 5 percent, by count, of the tomatoes in any lot may be smaller than the specified minimum diameter.

(2) During the period from May 4, 1956, 3:01 p. m., e. d. t., through May 13, 1956, and subject to the general regulations (Part 1060 of this chapter; 19 F. R. 7707, 8012) applicable to the importation of listed commodities and the requirements of this section, no person shall import any tomatoes of any variety unless such tomatoes are of a size not smaller than 1⅞ inches minimum diameter and meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 or better grade except for growth cracks, catfaces, and scars. For purposes of these exceptions: (i) Growth cracks shall be well healed and no individual crack shall exceed 1 inch in length or ¼ inch in depth and the aggregate length of all cracks shall not exceed 2 inches; (ii) catfaces shall not have channels extending into the locules, and the aggregate area of fairly smooth catfaces shall not exceed that of a circle, 1 inch in diameter on a tomato 2½ inches in diameter (smaller tomatoes shall have proportionately lesser areas and larger tomatoes may have proportionately greater areas); and (iii) scars (other than catfaces) shall not have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle 1 inch in diameter on a tomato 2½ inches in diameter (smaller tomatoes shall have proportionately lesser areas of scars and larger tomatoes may have proportionately greater areas of scars). Not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the tomatoes in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 grade as modified by the preceding sentence of this subparagraph. Not more than 5 percent, by count, of the tomatoes in any lot may be smaller than the specified minimum diameter.

(3) During the period from May 14, 1956, to May 31, 1956, both dates inclusive, and subject to the general regulations (Part 1060 of this chapter; 19 F. R. 7707, 8012), applicable to the importation of listed commodities and the requirements of this section, no person shall import any tomatoes of any variety unless such tomatoes are of a size not smaller than 2⅛ inches minimum diameter (size 7 x 7 and larger) and meet the requirements of 85 percent U. S. No. 1 or better grade, except that tomatoes which meet the minimum requirements of 2$^{9}/_{32}$ inches minimum diameter (size 6 x 7 and larger) may be imported if they meet the requirements of U. S. No. 2, or better grade, except for growth cracks, catfaces, and scars. For purposes of these exceptions: (i) Growth cracks shall be well healed and no individual crack shall exceed 1 inch in length or ¼ inch in depth and the aggregate length of all cracks shall not exceed 2 inches; (ii) catfaces shall have channels extending into the locules, and the aggregate area of fairly smooth catfaces shall not exceed that of a circle 1 inch in diameter on a tomato 2½ inches in diameter (smaller tomatoes shall have proportionately lesser areas and larger tomatoes may have proportionately greater areas); and (iii) scars (other than catfaces) shall not have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle 1 inch in diameter on a tomato 2½ inches in diameter (smaller tomatoes shall have proportionately lesser areas of scars and larger tomatoes may have proportionately greater areas of scars). Not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the tomatoes in any lot may fail to meet the applicable grade requirements for the lot as modified by the preceding sentence of this subparagraph. Not more than 5 percent, by count, of the tomatoes in any lot may be smaller than the specified minimum diameter.

Findings. It is hereby found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment later than 3 p. m., e. d. t., May 4, 1956 (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.), in that: (a) The existing grade and size regulations which were made effective on and after April 30, 1956, have been found, on the basis of experience, not to have provided sufficient time to enable tomato importers to adjust their operations from the basis of the previous less stringent grade and size regulations; (b) the imposition of the existing restrictions has, therefore, resulted in undue hardship on tomato importers; (c) in order to afford further time for such adjustment, insofar as is now practicable, the previous less stringent regulations are (pursuant to subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of § 1065.1) now being prescribed for the period from 3:01 p. m., e. d. t., May 4 through May 13, 1956, it being anticipated that tomato importers will be able to adjust to the presently existent more restrictive regulations on and after May 14, 1956; (d) information as to the need for this temporary relaxation of the regulations was not received by the Secretary of Agriculture until May 4, 1956, and the circumstances are such that it is imperative that such relaxation be put into effect immediately; and (e) as indicated, the effect of this amendment action is to suspend the presently effective stringent regulations for the period 3:01 p. m., e. d. t., May 4 through May 13, 1956, and to reinstate, for that period, the less stringent regulations which were in effect previously, the purpose of such action being to afford importers more time in which to adjust their operations to the more stringent requirements.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended, 7 U. S. C. 608c. Interprets or applies Sec. 401, 68 Stat. 907; 7 U. S. C. 608)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of May 1956.

PART 609—STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

PROCEDURE ALTERATIONS

The standard instrument approach procedure alterations appearing hereinafter are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 609 is amended as follows:

NOTE: Where the general classification (LFR, VAR, ADF, ILS, GCA, or VOR), location, and procedure number (if any) of any procedure in the amendments which follow, are identical with an existing procedure, that procedure is to be substituted for the existing one, as of the effective date given, to the extent that it differs from the existing procedure; where a procedure is canceled, the existing procedure is revoked; new procedures are to be placed in appropriate alphabetical sequence within the section amended.

1. The automatic direction finding procedures prescribed in § 609.8 are amended to read in part:

ADF STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

Bearings, headings, and courses are magnetic. Distances are in nautical miles unless otherwise indicated, except visibilities which are in statute miles. Elevations and latitudes are in feet, MSL. Ceilings are in feet above airport elevation.

If an ADF instrument approach is conducted at the below named airport, it shall be in accordance with the following instrument approach procedure, unless an approach is conducted in accordance with a different procedure for such airport authorized by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. Initial approaches shall be made over specified routes. Minimum altitude(s) shall correspond with those established for en route operation in the particular area or as set forth below.

| City and State; airport name, elevation; facility; class and identification; procedure No.; effective date | Initial approach to facility from— | Course and distance | Minimum altitude (ft.) | Procedure turn (—) side of final approach course (outbound and inbound); altitudes; limiting distances | Minimum altitude over facility on final approach course (ft.) | Ceiling and visibility minimums: Condition | 2 engines or less: 65 knots or less | 2 engines or less: More than 65 knots | More than 2 engines (more than 65 knots) | If visual contact not established at authorized landing minimums after passing facility, within distances specified, or if landing not accomplished |

TITLE 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter I—Civil Service Commission

PART 24—FORMAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS FOR APPOINTMENT TO CERTAIN SCIENTIFIC, TECHNICAL, AND PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS

TEACHER-ADVISER

Section 24.14 (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

§ 24.14 Teacher and substitute (temporary) teacher, GS-1710-5-7-8, in Indian Schools—(a) Educational requirement. * * *

(3) Teacher-adviser. Completion of a full four-year course, leading to a degree from an accredited college or university, including or supplemented by 24 semester hours of credit in education and/or guidance in which is included 6 semester hours of credit in a combination of two or more of the following: child psychology; educational psychology; educational, vocational or child guidance; clinical psychology; mental hygiene; health education; or educational tests and measurements.

NOTE: For temporary appointment of substitute teacher-advisers, this educational requirement may be modified to require only two full years of study in an accredited college or university with one-half of the semester hours of credit required in the fields listed above.

PART 24—FORMAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS FOR APPOINTMENT TO CERTAIN SCIENTIFIC, TECHNICAL, AND PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS

GEOPHYSICIST

Section 24.35 is revoked and § 24.132 is added to read as follows:

§ 24.132 Geophysicist (exploration), GS-5 through GS-15—(a) Educational requirement. (1) Applicants must have successfully completed one of the following:

(i) A full 4-year curriculum in an accredited college or university leading to a bachelor's degree, including or supplemented by courses in geology and physics (inclusive of geophysics) totaling at least 30 semester hours.

(ii) Courses in geology and physics in an accredited college or university totaling at least 30 semester hours, plus additional appropriate experience or education which when combined with the 30 semester hours will total 4 years of education and experience and give the applicant a technical and professional knowledge comparable to that which would be acquired through the successful completion of the 4-year college course described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph.

In either subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph, the required 30 semester hours of study must have included a minimum of 12 hours in geology and 12 hours in physics. Courses in geology must have included at least two among the following: Structural geology, regional geology, stratigraphy, economic geology (metals, nonmetals, mining, fuels, ground water (engineering)), field geology. Courses must be those accepted by departments of geology or physics as fully meeting the requirements for a major or concentration in geology or physics.

(2) For those positions involving highly complicated or fundamental scientific research or similar difficult duties, selection may be restricted to those eligibles who show the successful completion of a full college education in an accredited college or university including or supplemented by 30 semester hours as described above.

(b) Duties. Geophysicists (Exploration) plan, direct, conduct or assist in scientific research, investigative, or developmental work involving gravimetric, magnetic, electrical, seismic, and similar physical methods to determine the nature and location of subsurface geologic formations and to locate and ascertain the extent of mineral deposits and ground water supplies. The work requires the application of physical principles and techniques to the solution of geologic problems. Duties include making observations in the field or in the laboratory, compiling data and performing related computations, analyzing and interpreting observations in terms of geologic phenomena, designing apparatus and equipment for obtaining observations, and preparing reports and papers for reference or publication.

(c) Knowledge and training requisite for performance of duties. The duties of these positions cannot be performed without a sound basic knowledge of geology and physics and broad training in related scientific fields. These duties require exacting knowledge and training. Appointees must have the ability to apply scientific knowledges to the work in order to solve specific problems, interpret and apply the results of research in geophysics and related sciences, and to perform research in geophysics. The knowledge and training required can only be acquired through a planned and directed course of study in an accredited college or university where there are adequate scientific libraries and well-equipped laboratories, where competent instruction and guidance are available, where courses are arranged in a systematic, progressive schedule, and where progress in the acquisition of professional and scientific knowledge is competently evaluated.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Internal Revenue Service

[ 26 CFR (1954) Part 1 ]

INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

SALE OR EXCHANGE OF PATENTS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing, in duplicate, to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Attention: T:P, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U. S. C. 7805).

[SEAL] RUSSELL C. HARRINGTON,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The following regulations are hereby prescribed under section 1235 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and are effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954:

§ 1.1235 Statutory provisions; sale or exchange of patents.

SEC. 1235. Sale or exchange of patents—(a) General. A transfer (other than by gift, inheritance, or devise) of property consisting of all substantial rights to a patent, or an undivided interest therein which includes a part of all such rights, by any holder shall be considered the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than 6 months, regardless of whether or not payments in consideration of such transfer are:

(1) Payable periodically over a period generally coterminous with the transferee's use of the patent, or

(2) Contingent on the productivity, use, or disposition of the property transferred.

(b) "Holder" defined. For purposes of this section, the term "holder" means—

(1) Any individual whose efforts created such property, or

(2) Any other individual who has acquired his interest in such property in exchange for consideration in money or money's worth paid to such creator prior to actual reduction to practice of the invention covered by the patent, if such individual is neither—

(A) The employer of such creator, nor

(B) Related to such creator (within the meaning of subsection (d)).

(c) Effective date. This section shall be applicable with regard to any amounts received or payments made, pursuant to a transfer described in subsection (a) in any taxable year to which this subtitle applies, regardless of the taxable year in which such transfer occurred.

(d) Related persons. Subsection (a) shall not apply to any sale or exchange between an individual and any other related person (as defined in section 267 (b)), except brothers and sisters, whether by the whole or half blood.

(e) Cross reference. For special rule relating to non-resident aliens, see section 871 (a).

§ 1.1235-1 Sale or exchange of patents—(a) General rule. Section 1235 provides that a transfer for value of all substantial rights to a patent, or of an undivided interest in all such rights to a patent, by a holder to a person other than a related person constitutes the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than six months, whether or not payments therefor are:

(1) Made periodically during the transferee's use of the patent, or

(2) Contingent on the productivity, use, or disposition of the transferee's rights in the patent.

(b) Scope of section 1235. If a transfer is not one described in paragraph (a) of this section, section 1235 shall be disregarded in determining whether or not such transfer is the sale or exchange of a capital asset. For example, a transfer by a person other than a holder or a transfer by a holder to a related person is not governed by section 1235. The tax consequences of such transfers shall be determined under other provisions of the internal revenue laws.

(c) Special rules—(1) Payments for infringement. If section 1235 applies to a transfer, compensatory payments to the transferor as proceeds from the settlement of or as damages in a suit for infringement of the patent transferred for the period after the transfer will be payments attributable to a transfer to which section 1235 applies. See section 1304 and the regulations thereunder for treatment of compensatory damages for patent infringement.

(2) Payments to an employee. Payments received by an employee as compensation under an employment contract requiring the employee to transfer to the employer all or a part of the rights to any invention by such employee are not attributable to a transfer to which section 1235 applies.

(3) Successive transfers. The applicability of section 1235 to transfers of undivided interest in patents, or to successive transfers of such rights, shall be determined separately with respect to each transfer. For example, X, who is a holder, and Y, who is not a holder, transfer their respective two-thirds and one-third undivided interests in a patent to Z. Assume the transfer by X qualifies under section 1235 and that X in a later transfer acquires all the rights with respect to Y's interest, including the rights to payments from Z. One-third of all the payments thereafter received by X from Z are not attributable to a transfer to which section 1235 applies.

(d) Payor's treatment of payments in a transfer under section 1235. Payments made by the transferee of patent rights pursuant to a transfer satisfying the requirements of section 1235 are payments of the purchase price for the patent rights and are not the payment of royalties.

(e) Effective date. Amounts received or accrued, and payments made or accrued, during any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1953 and ending after August 16, 1954, pursuant to a transfer satisfying the requirements of section 1235, whether such transfer occurred in a taxable year to which the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 applies, or in a year prior thereto, are subject to the provisions of section 1235.

(f) Nonresident aliens. For the special rule relating to nonresident aliens who have gains arising from a transfer to which section 1235 applies, see section 871 and the regulations thereunder. For withholding of tax from income of nonresident aliens, see section 1441 and the regulations thereunder.

§ 1.1235-2 Definition of terms. For the purposes of section 1235 and § 1.1235-1:

(a) Patent. The term "patent" means a patent granted under the provisions of section 101 or 161 of title 35 of the United States Code, or any foreign patent granting to the inventor an exclusive right for a limited period to make and sell his invention. The term "patent" does not include a design patent. It is not necessary that the patent or patent application for the invention be in existence at the time of the transfer.

(b) All substantial rights to a patent. (1) The term "all substantial rights to a patent" means all rights which are clearly of value when any rights in a patent are transferred. The circumstances of the whole transaction, rather than the particular terminology used in the instrument of transfer, shall be considered in determining whether or not all substantial rights to a patent are transferred in a transaction. A transfer limited in duration by the terms of the instrument to a period less than the remaining life of the patent is not a transfer of all substantial rights to a patent.

(2) Rights which are not considered substantial for purposes of section 1235 may be retained by the holder. Examples of such rights are:

(i) The retention by the transferor of legal title for the purpose of securing performance or payment by the transferee in a transaction involving transfer of an exclusive license to manufacture, use, and sell for the life of the patent;

(ii) The retention by the transferor of rights in the property which are not in the nature of rights evidenced by the patent and which are not inconsistent with the passage of ownership, such as the retention of a security interest (such as a vendor's lien), or a reservation in the nature of a condition subsequent (such as a provision for forfeiture on account of nonperformance).

(3) Examples of rights which may or may not be substantial, depending upon the circumstances of the whole transaction in which rights in the patent are transferred, are:

(i) The retention by the transferor of an absolute right to prohibit sublicensing or subassignment by the transferee;

(ii) The failure to convey to the transferee the right to use or to sell the patent property.

(4) The retention of a right to terminate the transfer at will is the retention of a substantial right for the purposes of section 1235.

(c) Undivided interest in a patent. A person owns an "undivided interest" in a patent when he owns only a fraction of the whole patent and owns a share in each of the substantial rights under the patent equal to that fraction. It does not include, for example, a right to the income from a patent, or a license limited geographically, or a license which covers some, but not all, of the valuable claims or uses covered by the patent. A transfer limited in duration by the terms of the instrument to a period less than the remaining life of the patent is not a transfer of an undivided interest in all substantial rights to a patent.

(d) Holder. (1) The term "holder" means any individual:

(i) Whose efforts created the patent property and who would qualify as the "original and first" inventor, or joint inventor, within the meaning of title 35 of the United States Code, or

(ii) Who has acquired his interest in the patent property in exchange for a consideration paid to the inventor in money or money's worth prior to the actual reduction of the invention to practice (see paragraph (e) of this section), provided that such individual was neither the employer of the inventor nor related to him (see paragraph (f) of this section), either at the time of paying the consideration or at the time of acquiring the inventor's interest.

(2) Although a partnership cannot be a holder, each member of a partnership who is an individual may qualify as a holder as to his share of a patent owned by the partnership. For example, if an inventor who is a member of a partnership composed solely of individuals uses partnership property in the development of his invention with the understanding that the patent when issued will become partnership property, each of the inventor's partners during this period would qualify as a holder. If, in this example, the partnership were not composed solely of individuals, nevertheless, each of the individual partners' distributive shares of income attributable to the transfer of all substantial rights to the patent or an undivided interest therein, would be considered proceeds from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than six months.

(3) An individual may qualify as a holder whether or not he is in the business of making inventions or in the business of buying and selling patents.

(e) Actual reduction to practice. For the purposes of determining whether an individual is a holder under paragraph (d) of this section, the term "actual reduction to practice" has the same meaning as it does under section 102 (g) of title 35 of the United States Code. Generally, an invention is reduced to actual practice when it has been tested and operated successfully under operating conditions. This may occur either before or after application for a patent but must occur at some time before commercial exploitation of the invention.

(f) Related person. The term "related person" means one whose relationship to another person at the time in question is described in section 267 (b), except that the term does not include a brother or sister, whether of the whole or the half blood. Thus, if a holder transfers all his substantial rights in a patent to a corporation in which he owns more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock, he is considered as transferring such rights to a related person for the purposes of section 1235. If a holder transfers all such rights to his brother or sister, or both, such transfer is not to a related person. However, in determining constructive ownership of stock under section 267 (c), the brother-sister relationship is not disregarded for the purposes of section 1235. Thus, if a holder transfers all his substantial rights in a patent to a corporation in which he and his brothers or sisters together own more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock (but in which the holder alone owns 50 percent or less), such transfer is made to a related person for the purposes of section 1235.

[Docket No. AO-227-A7]

MILK IN NEOSHO VALLEY MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held at Hotel Besse, Pittsburg, Kansas, beginning at 10:00 a. m., c. s. t., May 15, 1956, for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to the proposed amendments hereinafter set forth, or appropriate modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Neosho Valley marketing area.

Proposal number 1 refers to such changes in other provisions of the order as may be required to effectuate the operation of an individual handler pool. Other sections of the order which might be involved include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Need for the producer-settlement fund provided in § 928.92 and for the payments to and from such fund pursuant to §§ 928.93 and 928.94.

(2) Whether all provisions of § 928.7 are appropriate.

(3) Whether § 928.62 is appropriate.

These proposed amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Amendments to the order have been proposed as follows:

By the K. M. O. Milk Producers Association:

1. Amend § 928.71 Computation of uniform price and § 928.72 Computation of uniform price for base milk and excess milk in order to provide for the computation of the uniform price and the uniform base and excess price for each handler on an individual handler pool basis rather than the present market-wide pool basis. Make such changes in other provisions of the order as may be required to effectuate the operation of an individual handler pool.

2. Amend §§ 928.72, 928.80, 928.81, 928.93, and 928.94 to change the months for the base utilization period from the months of March through August to the months of February through July.

3. Amend Order No. 28 so as to provide during the base utilization period for the payment by a handler to a qualified cooperative producers association, which has members delivering to that handler's approved plant an amount of money equal to the difference between the base price and the Class II price on all member milk with a base established at that approved plant which the handler does not accept and which milk is received by the qualified cooperative producers association as a handler.

By Frank Pilley & Sons:

4. I recommend that all provisions of §§ 928.61 and 928.62 that deal with the payment in the producer settlement fund by handlers which are regulated by other Federal Milk Orders, be removed.

By the Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service:

5. Make such changes as may be required to make the entire order conform with any amendments thereto which may result from this hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing, and the order now in effect, may be procured from the Market Administrator, 523½ North Broadway, Pittsburg, Kansas, or the Hearing Clerk, Room 112 Administration Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Filed at Washington, D. C., this 3d day of May 1956.

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 121, as amended, and Order No. 69, as amended (7 CFR Part 969; 20 F. R. 4177), and the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), notice was given in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 22, 1956 (21 F. R. 1780), that there would be conducted a referendum of the producers of avocados covered under such marketing agreement and order who, during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1956, were engaged in producing such avocados for market, and a poll of the handlers of such avocados, during such fiscal year, for the purpose of determining whether said producers and handlers favor continuance of the said amended marketing agreement and order.

Upon the basis of the results of the aforesaid referendum and poll, which were conducted during the period April 2 to 14, 1956, both dates inclusive, it is hereby found and determined that the continuance of the said amended marketing agreement and order is favored by the requisite majority of such producers and handlers.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of May 1956.

LYKES BROS. STEAMSHIP CO., INC.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON APPLICATION TO BAREBOAT CHARTER FIVE DRY-CARGO VESSELS

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on May 28, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. t., in Room 4519, New General Accounting Office Building, Fifth and G Streets NW., Washington, D. C., upon the application of Lykes Bros. Steamship Co., Inc., to bareboat charter, pursuant to section 5 (e) of the Merchant Ship Sales Act, 1946, as amended (Pub. Law 591, 81st Congress) (50 U. S. C. App. 1738), five (5) Victory type dry cargo vessels for operation for a minimum period of six (6) months on Trade Route No. 21, Service 2, between United States Gulf ports (west of but not including Gulfport, Mississippi) and ports on the east coast of United Kingdom and in Continental Europe north of Portugal, including Baltic and Scandinavian ports, with the privilege of calling at Tampa, Port Tampa, Boca Grande, and at ports in the West Indies and east coast of Mexico, and on Trade Route No. 13, between United States Gulf ports (Key West-Mexican border) and ports in Portugal and Spain south of Portugal, and ports in the Mediterranean and Adriatic Sea, and Atlantic ports of Spanish and French Morocco, with the privilege of calling at Black Sea ports, United States Atlantic ports south of the Virginia-North Carolina border, and at ports in the West Indies and east coast of Mexico.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence with respect to whether the service for which such vessels are proposed to be chartered is required in the public interest and is not adequately served, and with respect to the availability of privately owned American-flag vessels for charter on reasonable conditions and at reasonable rates for use in such service. Evidence also will be received with respect to any restrictions or conditions that may be necessary or appropriate to protect the public interest in respect of such charter as may be granted and to protect privately owned vessels against vessels chartered as a result of this proceeding.

All persons having an interest in the application will be given an opportunity to be heard if present.

An Examiner of the Hearing Examiner's Office will preside at the hearing. The parties may have oral argument before the Examiner immediately after the receipt of evidence in lieu of briefs, and an initial decision will be issued. The time for filing Exceptions thereto is restricted to seven (7) days and no replies to Exceptions will be received.

Dated: May 4, 1956.

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

[Docket No. 3]

CONSOLIDATED EDISON CO. OF NEW YORK, INC.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF CONSTRUCTION PERMIT

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission has issued the construction permit set forth below to the Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc. In accordance with the procedures set forth in the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR Part 2), the Commission will direct the holding of a formal hearing upon timely receipt of a request therefor from the applicant or an intervenor.

Construction permit (No. CPPR-1). Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc., (hereinafter "Consolidated") on March 22, 1955, filed its application for license under section 104b of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (hereinafter "the act") to construct and operate a nuclear reactor (hereinafter "the reactor"). Amendments to the application were filed on August 1, 1955, November 22, 1955, and December 19, 1955. The original application together with said amendments are hereinafter referred to as "the application."

The Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter the "Commission") has found that:

A. The reactor will be a utilization facility as defined in the Commission's regulations contained in 10 CFR Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities."

B. Consolidated proposes to utilize the reactor in the conduct of research and development activities leading to the demonstration of the practical value of that type of reactor for industrial or commercial purposes.

C. Consolidated is financially qualified to assume responsibility for the payment of Commission charges for the special nuclear material to be furnished by the Commission, to undertake and carry out the proposed use of the material for a reasonable period of time and to construct and operate the reactor in accordance with the regulations contained in 10 CFR Chapter I.

D. Consolidated and the Babcock & Wilcox Company, the contractor selected by Consolidated to design and construct said reactor, are technically qualified to design and construct the reactor.

E. Consolidated has submitted sufficient information to provide reasonable assurance that a utilization facility of the general type proposed by Consolidated can be constructed and operated at the proposed location without undue risk to the health and safety of the public and that additional information required to complete its application will be supplied.

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 and 10 CFR Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities," the Commission hereby issues a construction permit to Consolidated to construct the reactor as a utilization facility. This permit shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in §§ 50.54 and 50.55 of said regulations; is subject to all applicable provisions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 and rules, regulations and orders of the Atomic Energy Commission now or hereafter in effect; and is subject to any additional conditions specified or incorporated below.

(1) The earliest date for the completion of the reactor is October 1, 1959. The latest date for completion of the reactor is October 1, 1960. The term "completion date" as used herein means the date on which construction of the reactor is completed except for the introduction of the fuel material.

(2) The site proposed for the location of the reactor is the location at Indian Point, Village of Buchanan, Westchester County, New York, specified in exhibit H-3 of the application.

(3) The general type of facility authorized for construction is a pressurized water converter type nuclear reactor designed to furnish energy equivalent to approximately 140,000 kilowatts of electricity, and which will use uranium enriched in the isotope uranium 235 as fuel and thorium as a fertile material.

(4) This permit is subject to submittal by Consolidated to the Commission (by proposed amendment of the application) of the complete, final Hazards Summary Report (portions of which may be submitted and evaluated from time to time) and a finding by the Commission that the final design provides reasonable assurance that the health and safety of the public will not be endangered by operation of the reactor in accordance with the specified procedures.

(5) From time to time Consolidated may submit to the Commission, in writing, reports upon the progress being made in experimental and developmental work. Following the submission of each such report the Commission will review the data included therein to determine whether the results of such work can be incorporated as technical specifications by appropriate amendment to this permit.

(6) Upon completion (as defined in Paragraph "1" above) of the construction of the facility in accordance with the terms and conditions of this permit, upon the filing of any additional information needed to bring the original application up to date, and upon finding that the facility authorized has been constructed in conformity with the application as amended and in conformity with the provisions of the act and of the rules and regulations of the Commission, and in the absence of any good cause being shown to the Commission why the granting of a license would not be in accordance with the provisions of the act, the Commission will issue a Class 104 license to Consolidated pursuant to section 104b of the act, which license shall expire forty (40) years after the date of this construction permit.

Pursuant to § 50.60 of the regulations in 10 CFR Part 50, the Commission has allocated to Consolidated, for use in connection with the operation of the reactor, 5,699 kilograms of uranium-235 contained in uranium at the isotopic ratios specified in Consolidated's application for license. Shipments by the Commission to Consolidated in accordance with Schedule 1 of Appendix A set forth below will be conditioned upon Consolidated's return to the Commission of material substantially in accordance with Schedule 2 of the Appendix, set forth below.

Date of issuance: May 3, 1956.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of May 1956.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

R. W. COOK,
Deputy General Manager.

[Docket No. 10]

COMMONWEALTH EDISON CO.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF CONSTRUCTION PERMIT

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission has issued the construction permit set forth below to the Commonwealth Edison Company. In accordance with the procedures set forth in the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR, Part 2), the Commission will direct the holding of a formal hearing upon timely receipt of a request therefor from the applicant or an intervenor.

Construction permit (No. CPPR-2). Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago, Illinois, (hereinafter "Commonwealth") on March 31, 1955, filed its application for license under section 104b of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (hereinafter "the act") to construct and operate a nuclear reactor (hereinafter "the reactor"). Amendments to the application were filed on June 24, 1955, February 1, 1956, March 9 and March 15, 1956. The original application together with said amendments are hereinafter referred to as "the application."

The Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter the "Commission") has found that:

(A) The reactor will be a utilization facility as defined in the Commission's regulations contained in 10 CFR Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities."

(B) Commonwealth proposes to utilize the reactor in the conduct and research and development activities leading to the demonstration of the practical value of that type of reactor for industrial or commercial purposes.

(C) Commonwealth is financially qualified to assume responsibility for the payment of Commission charges for the special nuclear material to be furnished by the Commission, to undertake and carry out the proposed use of the material for a reasonable period of time and to construct and operate the reactor in accordance with the regulations contained in 10 CFR Chapter I.

(D) Commonwealth and General Electric Company, the contractor selected by Commonwealth to design and construct said reactor, are technically qualified to design and construct the reactor.

(E) Commonwealth has submitted sufficient information to provide reasonable assurance that a utilization facility of the general type proposed by Commonwealth can be constructed and operated at the proposed location without undue risk to the health and safety of the public and that additional information required to complete its application will be supplied.

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 and 10 CFR Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities," the Commission hereby issues a construction permit to Commonwealth to construct the reactor as a utilization facility. This permit shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in §§ 50.54 and 50.55 of said regulations; is subject to all applicable provisions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 and rules, regulations and orders of the Atomic Energy Commission now or hereafter in effect; and is subject to any additional conditions specified or incorporated below.

(1) The earliest date for the completion of the reactor is March 1, 1959. The latest date for completion of the reactor is September 30, 1960. The term "completion date" as used herein means the date on which construction of the reactor is completed except for the introduction of the fuel material.

(2) The site proposed for the location of the reactor is the location known as Dresden Station, Grundy County, Illinois, specified in report NPG–126.

(3) The general type of facility authorized for construction is a dual-cycle boiling water type nuclear reactor designed to furnish energy equivalent to approximately 180,000 kilowatts of electricity, and which will use uranium enriched in the isotope uranium 235 as fuel.

(4) This permit is subject to submittal by Commonwealth to the Commission (by proposed amendment of the application) of the complete, final Hazards Summary Report (portions of which may be submitted and evaluated from time to time) and a finding by the Commission that the final design provides reasonable assurance that the health and safety of the public will not be endangered by operation of the reactor in accordance with the specified procedures.

(5) From time to time Commonwealth may submit to the Commission, in writing, reports upon the progress being made in experimental and developmental work. Following the submission of each such report the Commission will review the data included therein to determine whether the results of such work can be incorporated as technical specifications by appropriate amendment to this permit.

(6) Upon completion (as defined in Paragraph "1" above) of the construction of the facility in accordance with the terms and conditions of this permit, upon the filing of any additional information needed to bring the original application up to date, and upon finding that the facility authorized has been constructed in conformity with the application as amended and in conformity with the provisions of the act and of the rules and regulations of the Commission, and in the absence of any good cause being shown to the Commission why the granting of a license would not be in accordance with the provisions of the act, the Commission will issue a Class 104 license to Commonwealth pursuant to section 104b of the act, which license shall expire forty (40) years after the date of this construction permit.

Pursuant to § 50.60 of the regulations in 10 CFR Part 50, the Commission has allocated to Commonwealth, for use in connection with the operation of the reactor, 8,323 kilograms of uranium-235 contained in uranium at the isotopic ratios specified in Commonwealth's application for license. Shipments by the Commission to Commonwealth in accordance with Schedule 1 of Appendix A set forth below will be conditioned upon Commonwealth's return to the Commission of material substantially in accordance with Schedule 2 of the Appendix, set forth below.

Date of issuance: May 3, 1956.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of May 1956.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

R. W. Cook,
Deputy General Manager.

[Docket Nos. G–9572, G–9573]

United Carbon Co. and Columbian Fuel Corp.

ORDER GRANTING REQUESTS FOR RECONSIDERATION AND POSTPONING HEARING

On April 10 and 13, 1956, United Carbon Company (United) and Columbian Fuel Corporation (Columbian), respectively, filed motions for postponement of the hearing scheduled to commence on May 8, 1956, in these consolidated proceedings.

By notice issued April 13, 1956, the Secretary of the Commission denied the motions.

On April 17, United and Columbian filed requests for reconsideration of the motions filed on April 10 and 13, 1956, respectively, for postponement of the hearing.

The Commission finds: Good cause has been shown for postponing the hearing in these proceedings, but not for the period of time requested by United and Columbian.

The Commission orders: The hearing in these proceedings now scheduled to commence on May 8, 1956, be and it is hereby postponed to June 12, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington 25, D. C.

Issued: April 26, 1956.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G–6349 etc.]

Continental Oil Co.

ORDER FIXING DATE FOR ORAL ARGUMENT

In the matters of Continental Oil Company, Docket Nos. G–6349, G–6350, G–6351, G–6352.

On March 8, 1956, the Presiding Examiner filed his initial decision in these proceedings, which decision was served on all parties.

Thereafter, exceptions to the Presiding Examiner's decision were duly filed pursuant to § 1.31 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.31) by Continental Oil Company and by Commission Staff Counsel. Request for oral argument was filed by Continental Oil Company.

The Commission finds: It is appropriate for carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that oral argument be had before the Commission concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by the exceptions to the Presiding Examiner's decision.

The Commission orders:

(A) Oral argument be had before the Commmission on June 14, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by the exceptions to the Presiding Examiner's decision.

(B) Parties to these proceedings who intend to participate in the oral argument shall notify the Secretary of the Commission on or before June 4, 1956, of such intention and of the time requested for presentation of their arguments.

Issued: May 3, 1956.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G–10161]

Central Kentucky Natural Gas Co.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

May 3, 1956.

Take notice that Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company, Applicant, a Kentucky corporation and a subsidiary of The Columbia Gas System, Inc., having its principal place of business at 1033 Quarrier Street, Charleston, West Virginia, filed on March 27, 1956, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing it to construct and operate certain proposed natural gas facilities and for authority to abandon certain other facilities as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant proposes to abandon in place approximately two (2) miles of existing 10-inch Line KA extending in a westerly direction from Menifee Compressor Station, Menifee County, Kentucky.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate approximately three-tenths (0.3) mile of 12¾-inch gas transmission pipe line extending in a southwesterly direction from a point of interconnection with Applicant's existing facilities near South Means, Montgomery County, Kentucky, by-passing Applicant's Menifee Compressor Station, to a point of interconnection with Applicant's 10-inch Line KA and 12-inch Line G in Menifee County, Kentucky, extending to Lexington, together with a twenty (20) foot crossover between Lines KA and G. This will provide a second interconnection facility between the systems of Applicant and Tennessee Gas Transmission Company and Gulf Interstate Gas Company, the principal suppliers of the Columbia System.

The estimated cost of construction is $22,000, which will be financed by The Columbia Gas System, Inc.

The proposed project does not involve any new sales or service.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Thursday, June 7, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such applications: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before May 24, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made. Under the procedure herein provided for unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[File Nos. 59-32, 70-3050]

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP. ET AL.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER REGARDING AMENDMENT TO DECLARATION AND RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER FEES AND EXPENSES AND ISSUANCE OF ADDITIONAL COMMON STOCK

MAY 3, 1956.

In the matter of General Public Utilities Corporation, File No. 59-32; General Public Utilities Corporation, Associated Electric Company, Pennsylvania Electric Company, and Northern Pennsylvania Power Company, File No. 70-3050.

The Commission having by its findings opinion and order of March 2, 1956 (Holding Company Act Release No. 13116), approved, among other things, the merger of Northern Pennsylvania Power Company ("North Penn") into Pennsylvania Electric Company ("Penelec"), both of which companies are subsidiaries of General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, and modified a previous divestment order of the Commission, under section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, dated December 28, 1951 (Holding Company Act Release No. 10982), requiring, among other things, divestment by GPU of its interest, direct or indirect, in North Penn and in North Penn's subsidiary The Waverly Electric Light & Power Company, but the Commission having reserved jurisdiction over all fees and expenses in connection with the proposed transactions and over the issuance by Penelec, in order to effectuate the merger of shares of common stock in excess of the number of 312,750 shares pending authorization of such excess shares by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; and

An amendment now having been filed to the application-declaration which recites that the issuance of an additional 140,000 shares of Penelec common stock has been authorized by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, and estimates the fees and expenses of the various applicants-declarants in connection with the merger to be as follows:

|---|---|
| General Public Utilities Corp.: | |
| Federal transfer tax | $1,106.50 |
| New York State transfer tax | 442.50 |
| Counsel fees—Berlack, Israels & Liberman | 1,000.00 |

Said amendment further containing consents by certain commercial banks to the modification of credit agreements to which Penelec is a party dated May 31, 1946, and February 26, 1953, so as to permit the assumption by Penelec of certain liabilities of North Penn; and

It appearing to the Commission that said amendment to said application-declaration should be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith and that the jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to the issuance of shares of Penelec in excess of 312,750 and with respect to fees and expenses in connection with said merger, which fees and expenses the Commission finds to be not unreasonable, should be released.

It is ordered, That the amendment to said application-declaration be and the same hereby is granted and permitted to become effective forthwith and that the jurisdiction heretofore reserved over the issuance by Penelec of additional shares of common stock and over fees and expenses in connection with the merger be and the same hereby is released.

[File No. 70-3462]

STANDARD SHARES, INC.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ACQUISITION OF COMMON STOCK OF SUBSIDIARY

MAY 3, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that Standard Shares, Inc. ("Standard Shares"), a registered holding company which was formerly named Standard Power and Light Corporation and which is in process of transformation into an investment company, has filed an application-declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. Standard Shares has designated sections 9, 10 and 12 of the act and Rules U-43 and U-46 as applicable to the proposed transactions which are summarized as follows:

Standard Shares owns 986,000 shares (45.59 percent) of the outstanding common stock of Standard Gas and Electric Company ("Standard Gas") which in turn owns all of the outstanding common stock of Philadelphia Company ("Philadelphia") which in turn owns 547,678 shares (50.9 percent) of the outstanding common stock of Pittsburgh Railways Company ("Pittsburgh"). Standard Gas and Philadelphia are also registered holding companies and have heretofore been ordered by this Commission to liquidate and dissolve. Pittsburgh is a non-utility subsidiary company engaged in the public transportation service in the City of Pittsburgh and its environs.

There is presently pending before the Commission an application filed by Standard Gas under section 11 (e) of the act which proposes certain amendments to Step IV of its plan previously filed with the Commission under said section. (See the Commission's Notice of Filing and Order for Hearing, Holding Company Act Release No. 13163.) Under said Step IV, as amended, it is proposed that Philadelphia, in partial liquidation, will distribute to Standard Gas the 547,678 shares of common stock of Pittsburgh and Standard Gas will distribute to its stockholders warrants to purchase 540,651.75 shares of such stock through a rights offering. One of the issues in said Step IV of the Standard Gas plan and to be considered at the hearing set for May 23, 1956, is whether the proposed sale of the common stock of Pittsburgh is fair and equitable to all persons affected thereby.

According to said Step IV and the instant filing, the subscription price for the Pittsburgh common stock is expected to be about 6 per share. Standard Shares has agreed to exercise the subscription rights to which it will be entitled under said Step IV and to purchase from Standard Gas at the subscription price any shares not subscribed for or purchased by others during the subscription period. In addition, Standard Shares proposes to purchase at the subscription price the 7,026.25 remaining common shares of Pittsburgh not covered by the subscription offer. Standard Shares further proposes to make such additional purchases of common shares of Pittsburgh, through the purchase and exercise of warrants or otherwise, as may be necessary to increase its holdings thereof to an amount not exceeding approximately 51 percent of the outstanding common stock of Pittsburgh.

Standard Shares represents in the instant filing that it will be necessary for it to expend approximately $1,521,157 in order to exercise the warrants it will receive on account of its holdings of Standard Gas stock and to acquire from Standard Gas the shares of Pittsburgh common stock not covered by the subscription offer. In addition, Standard Shares' obligation under its agreement to purchase at the subscription price all unsubscribed shares of Pittsburgh stock may require an expenditure of up to $1,764,910. Furthermore, if it becomes necessary for Standard Shares to acquire and exercise warrants or to purchase Pittsburgh stock on the market, a larger sum may have to be expended. Details regarding the method of raising the cash as may be necessary for Standard Shares to purchase the shares of Pittsburgh common stock as proposed will be supplied by amendment. It is contemplated that the cash will be derived from the sale of common stock of Duquesne Light Company held by Standard Shares, or possibly other portfolio securities, or bank borrowings.

According to the instant filing no State commission or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the transactions proposed by Standard Shares and the miscellaneous expenses, including printing, postage, telephone and traveling, in connection with the proposed transactions are estimated not to exceed $1,000. It is stated that counsel fees in connection with the instant filing will be included in any fee application to the Commisison in connection with section 11 matters.

It is requested that the Commission's order herein become effective upon issuance thereof.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 18, 1956, request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason or reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

[File No. 70-3464]

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTRIC CO. ET AL.

ORDER GRANTING AND PERMITTING EFFECTIVENESS TO A JOINT APPLICATION-DECLARATION REGARDING INCREASE IN AUTHORIZED COMMON STOCK AND ISSUANCE AND SALE FROM TIME TO TIME OF CERTAIN SHARES OF ADDITIONAL COMMON STOCK

MAY 3, 1956.

In the matter of Pennsylvania Electric Company, Associated Electric Company and General Public Utilities Corporation; File No. 70-3464.

Pennsylvania Electric Company ("Penelec"), Associated Electric Company ("Aelec") and General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU") have filed a joint application-declaration and an amendment thereto with this Commission pursuant to sections 6 (a) (2), 6 (b), 7, 9 (a), 10, and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rule U-45 promulgated thereunder. Penelec is a direct public-utility subsidiary of Aelec which in turn is a registered holding company and direct subsidiary of GPU, a registered holding company. The joint application-declaration is concerned with the following proposed transactions:

Penelec proposes to issue and sell to its parent, Aelec, an aggregate of 300,000 additional shares of $20 par value common stock for a total cash consideration of $6,000,000, representing the aggregate par value thereof. These shares are to be issued and sold from time to time during 1956 but not later than the issuance and sale by Penelec of additional first mortgage bonds, an application in respect of which is now pending with this Commission (File No. 70-3469). The proceeds from the sale of the shares of additional common stock are to be applied by Penelec to the cost of construction of property additions or to repay bank loans, the proceeds of which have been used for construction, or to reimburse its treasury for construction expenditures.

This Commission has heretofore authorized the dissolution of Aelec and the acquisition by GPU of all the assets of Aelec, including all the then outstanding common stock of Penelec, subject to the liabilities of Aelec. Consummation of the dissolution of Aelec has not yet been effectuated and the date of such consummation cannot at the present time be accurately determined. It is proposed in the instant application that until Aelec's dissolution has been consummated it will purchase as many of the 300,000 shares of Penelec's common stock as shall have theretofore been issued; and after Aelec's dissolution the balance, if any, of such shares will be purchased by GPU.

In order that Aelec may have sufficient funds with which to acquire the common stock of Penelec, GPU proposes to make cash capital contributions to Aelec from time to time in amounts equal to the purchase price from Penelec of its new stock. These contributions are to be credited by Aelec to its capital surplus account.

This Commission has also heretofore authorized the proposed merger of Northern Pennsylvania Power Company ("North Penn"), a direct public utility subsidiary of GPU, into Penelec. This merger, which has not yet been consummated, will require the issuance (as at December 31, 1955), of 452,750 shares of Penelec's common stock. Penelec's presently authorized common stock totals 3,250,000 shares of which 2,711,750 are now outstanding. Said 452,750 shares of Penelec's common stock together with the 300,000 additional shares proposed to be issued and sold pursuant to the present filing would exceed Penelec's presently authorized but unissued shares of common stock. Accordingly, Penelec is proposing, in the instant filing, to increase its authorized common stock to 3,500,000 shares.

The amended filing contains a copy of an order of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission expressly permitting Penelec to increase its authorized common stock and to issue and sell the proposed 300,000 shares of additional common stock. The fees and expenses applicable to the proposed undertakings are estimated not to exceed $750 for GPU, of which amount not in excess of $500 is estimated as being applicable to legal fees, and not to exceed $19,150 for Penelec. Of this latter amount $2,500 is estimated for legal fees, the balance comprising filing fees and Federal and State taxes.

Notice of said filing having been duly given in the manner prescribed by Rule U-23 and no hearing having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and of the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, that the fees and expenses as estimated are not unreasonable, and that the application-declaration as amended should be granted and permitted to become effective:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, that said amended application-declaration be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

METROPOLITAN EDISON CO. AND GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ISSUE AND SALE OF ADDITIONAL COMMON STOCK BY SUBSIDIARY TO PARENT; INCREASE IN AUTHORIZED SHARES OF COMMON AND PREFERRED STOCK AND SOLICITATION OF VOTE OF STOCKHOLDERS

MAY 3, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that Metropolitan Edison Company ("Meted"), a subsidiary electric utility company of General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, and said GPU have filed an application-declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and have designated sections 6 (a) (2), 6 (b), 7, 9 (a), 10 and 12 (e) of said act and Rules U-62 and U-65 promulgated under said Act as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

Meted proposes to issue and sell to GPU and GPU proposes to purchase from Meted an aggregate of 45,000 additional shares of common stock at a price per share of $100, or an aggregate sale price of $4,500,000. Such shares are to be issued and sold by Meted from time to time during 1956, but not later than the issue and sale by Meted of additional first mortgage bonds. Of the proceeds realized by Meted from the sale of such shares, $1,900,000 will be applied by it to the cost of construction of property additions subsequent to December 31, 1955, or to repay bank loans the proceeds of which have been applied to such purpose, and $2,600,000 will be applied by it to reimburse its treasury for expenditures for such purpose prior to January 1, 1956.

Meted proposes to increase its authorized common stock by 150,000 shares, that is to say, from 500,000 shares without par value and its preferred stock by 105,000 shares, that is to say, from 295,000 shares of the par value of $100 per share to 400,000 shares of the par value of $100 per share. Of Meted's presently authorized common stock 484,500 shares are now outstanding and of its presently authorized preferred stock 255,000 shares are now outstanding.

Meted proposes to solicit the holders of its outstanding preferred stock to seek their consent to the increase in its authorized preferred stock and their consent to the increase in its authorized common stock, to be obtained at a special meeting of stockholders to be held on June 27, 1956. It is stated that paragraph 8 (B) (2) of the terms of Meted's capital stock provides, in effect, that Meted will not, without the consent of the holders of a majority of the total number of all shares of its preferred stock of all series then outstanding, increase the total authorized amount of its preferred stock. It is further stated that the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania provides that the stock of a corporation shall not be increased without the consent of the persons holding the larger amount in value of its stock. Accordingly, Meted is filing herein copies of solicitation material pursuant to section 12 (e) and Rule U-62.

The application-declaration states that the issuance of additional shares of Meted's common stock is subject to the express authorization of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and that no other State or Federal Commission, other than said Pennsylvania Commission and this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, on or before May 18, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on this matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason or reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by such application-declaration which he proposes to controvert, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission orders a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application-declaration as filed or as it may hereafter be amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 or take such other action as it may deem appropriate.

By the Commission.

PENNSYLVANIA POWER CO.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ISSUANCE OF PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS FOR SINKING FUND PURPOSES

MAY 3, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that Pennsylvania Power Company ("Company"), an electric utility subsidiary of Ohio Edison Company, a registered holding company, has filed with this Commission an application pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), designating section 6 (b) of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

In connection with satisfying the sinking fund requirements of its indenture, the Company will issue $397,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, 3¼ percent Series due 1982, under its Mortgage Indenture dated November 1, 1945, to The First National Bank of the City of New York (now The First National City Bank of New York), as amended and supplemented. Said bonds will be authenticated by the Trustee and delivered to the Company in two installments, on the basis of unfunded net property additions aggregating $661,667, and they will forthwith be surrendered to the Trustee for cancellation in consideration of the return by the Trustee to the Company from the mortgage sinking fund of a like amount of cash, as follows: $197,000 of the bonds will be issued and surrendered in May 1956 (to recover cash deposited in the sinking fund on December 1, 1955), and $200,000 of the bonds will be issued and surrendered within six months after December 1, 1956 (to recover cash to be deposited in the sinking fund on December 1, 1956).

It is stated that the bonds will never constitute an obligation for the payment of money and therefore they will not be reflected on the Company's books or published statements as a liability.

The Company proposes to include the released cash in its general funds, in partial reimbursement for moneys expended for new construction and property betterments during the years 1951–1955 inclusive.

The expenses of the Company to be incurred in connection herewith are estimated as follows:

|---|---|
| Charges of trustee (including compensation to its counsel in the amount of $1,500) | $2,250 |
| Fee of Company counsel (Swaney & Whitmire) | 1,500 |
| Fee for services of Commonwealth Services Inc | 600 |
| Miscellaneous | 200 |
| Total | 4,550 |

The Company requests that the Commission's order herein be made effective upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 17, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided by Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100, or take such other action as it may deem appropriate.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS, Secretary.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Notice 111]

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS

MAY 4, 1956.

Protests consisting of an original and two copies to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER and a copy of such protest served on the applicant. Each protest must clearly state the name and street number, city and state address of each protestant on behalf of whom the protest is filed (49 CFR 1.240 and 1.241). Failure to seasonably file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding unless an oral hearing is held. In addition to other requirements of Rule 40 of the general rules of practice of the Commission (49 CFR 1.40), protests shall include a request for a public hearing, if one is desired, and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests containing general allegations may be rejected. Requests for an oral hearing must be supported by an explanation as to why the evidence cannot be submitted in forms of affidavits. Any interested person, not a protestant, desiring to receive notice of the time and place of any hearing, prehearing conference, taking of depositions, or other proceeding shall notify the Commission by letter or telegram within 30 days of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Except when circumstances require immediate action, an application for approval, under section 210a (b) of the act, of the temporary operations of Motor Carrier properties sought to be acquired in an application under section 5 (2) will not be disposed of sooner than 10 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. If a protest is received prior to action being taken, it will be considered.
